Furniture display

Suggested furniture for the new campus will be displayed for inspection by staff members at the Thunderbird Motel on Wednesday evening, March 6, and all day Thursday, March 7.

Dean of Administration BILL COX says he will be receptive to staff members' reactions to the furniture. The display was arranged by the campus architects. Wednesday hours are 6:30 to 10 p.m. No special hours were scheduled for Thursday; go anytime.

LBJ donates book

President Lyndon Johnson has donated an autographed copy of his book, My Hope For America, to the LCC library in memory of a former student killed in Vietnam.

Family and friends of Michael Lannie Wilson, 18, initiated a memorial book fund at LCC soon after Wilson's death Jan. 7 with the Fifth Marines in Thua Thien Province. He entered the Marine Corp in March of 1967 and arrived in Vietnam Dec. 21, just 17 days before losing his life.

Wilson enrolled in liberal arts courses at LCC during Fall Term of 1965 and Winter and Spring Terms in 1966.

Nurse due July 1

Miss Mary Catherine Fiorentino, 35, will become director of the Nursing Department on July. She will direct the associate degree nursing program, which is to begin next fall.

She presently is an instructor-intern in the Portland Community College ADN program. She has a master of nursing degree from the University of Washington, a bachelor of science degree in nursing from Seattle University, and a nursing diploma from the University of British Columbia.

Miss Fiorentino spent three years as a nurse in the Canadian Reserve Army, a year as a teaching assistant in the University of Washington School of Nursing, 2 1/2 years as a hospital nurse, and 4 1/2 years as an instructor in diploma nursing schools.

Personnel at the University of Washington and Portland Community College strongly recommended her for the LCC directorship.

Four become citizens

By HOWARD BIRD

With their American schooling experiences beginning in the Adult Basic Education program and with sincere and motivated desires, four former students of this program obtained their American citizenships on Wednesday, Feb. 21 at the Lane County Court House in Eugene.

Charmayne Anderson from Formosa began working in the ABE program in 1967, receiving assistance from SHELBY LETTENMAIER and MILDRED WILSON. JAMES E. ELLISON of the Study Skills Center further supplemented her work.

Choi Little from Korea attended JO TOPE's class, beginning in 1966.

Effie Shay from Greece began attending SHELBY LETTENMAIER's class during the summer of 1967. She attributed her success in her citizenship test to the aid she received from this class.

Shizu Clark from Okinawa attended for a short time in ADA ORCUTT's class and said she benefited from the class in preparing for her test.

MR. ELLISON and EVA ASHENHURST from the SSC attended the Naturalization Exercises at the request of Charmayne Anderson.

Brauer files; Webb expected to run

Directors for Zones 1 and 4 on the LCC Board of Education will be chosen by voters at the Monday, May 6 election. Incumbents are expected to seek both positions.

Albert Brauer, Florence physician, has filed for the four-year term as representative from Zone 1. That area includes Fern Ridge, Crow-Applegate, Triangle Lake, Mableton and Siuslaw school district.

Dean Webb, Cottage Grove dentist, is expected to file for re-election as Zone 4's representative. In Zone 4 are Creswell, Lowell, Pleasant Hill, Oakridge and South Lane school districts.

Dr. Webb, Oregon's General Dentist of the Year in 1967, is presently chairman of the LCC Board. Dr. Brauer, recently named Florence's First Citizen, is LCC Board vice chairman. Both have served on the Board since the college's organization three years ago.

Petitions for prospective candidates are available at the office of LCC Clerk-Controller WILLIAM MANSELL. Candidates must reside in the zone they seek to represent and their petitions must be signed by at least 25 qualified electors who reside within their zone.

Petitions must be returned to Mansell by 5 p.m. on April 5, which is 30 days prior to the election. Though the directors will represent specific zones within the college district, voters from the entire district will participate in the balloting.

Class exciting

Social Science Division Chairman CAROL DE BROEKERT offers this report on Political Science 203:

"Winter Term Paul Malm, assistant professor of political science, has offered a stimulating class in State and Local Government in his home. The class has had excellent student responses, enough that Paul has consented to offer a similar class Spring Term.

"Speakers have been given an opportunity to express their positions and be questioned by the students in the class. They have included State Senators Glen Stadler and Ed Fadeley, Representatives Don Wilson and Joe Richards, and County Commissioner Jess Hill.

"Other local government officials included Claude Malone, Springfield city manager; Ken Omlid, county assessor; and George Zellick, Springfield superintendent of schools.

"In addition to the outstanding array of speakers, Paul provided several films and numerous background handouts for the student's use.

"State and Local Government is an exciting class, which discusses issues vital to the individual. Such topics as taxation, legislation, and administration are seen in their perspective in a unique and fascinating manner."

THE NEWS

Happy Birthday: Barouch Ben-Zion, economics prof, March 8.

Miss MARY FIORENTINO, next year's Nursing Department chairman, met Feb. 24 on campus with Deans LEWIS CASE and RAY LAGRANDEUR to discuss the new associate degree nursing program.

During spring vacation, Nursing Prof ELLENE GOLDSMITH plans to visit her daughter in southern California and to tour several college student health centers. Ellene will head LCC's new student health center next year.

FLORENCE HEDDEN, secretary to the dean of instruction, celebrated her birthday Feb. 23 by listening to a tape recording of "Happy Birthday To You," prepared especially for her. It featured the golden voices of Deans LEW CASE, RAY LAGRANDEUR and JERRY RASMUSSEN, and HELENE STADLER, adult education coordinator.

'Round the campus

Chalk up another win for the Study Skills Center. Mrs. Peggy Chancellor started at the third grade level in basic education classes more than two years ago. She learned to read and write and now is enrolled in the high school completion program and is doing ok. She's done all this while working six days in a nursing home.

After earning her high school diploma, she says she will tackle at least one year of the LCC credit program. Mrs. Chancellor is a youthful 56.

The administration is looking into the possibility of cancelling classes May 10 so that faculty members may attend the Oregon Community College Association convention that day at the Portland Hilton.

The college bookstore has a new NCR cash register, Manager ADA ZINSER proudly reports. It cost $1,188, was purchased with bookstore profits, and replaces a "loaner" used at the Springfield store for the past two years.

The bookstore now has two cash registers. Says Ada: "We're looking toward self service and check-out stands at the new campus, just like the U. of O. Co-op."

Eugene School District 4 is being offered $46,739 for instructional equipment formerly used at Eugene Technical-Vocational School and which is now at LCC's Eugene campus. Most of it is mechanics equipment, but there also is some equipment for electronics, broadcasting and drafting.

President DALE PARNELL is scheduled to attend a meeting of the State Educational Coordinating Council in Salem on Thursday, March 7.

ARLENE UNDERHILL, Nursing Division chairman, has been elected vice chairman of the EACT section of the Oregon Nurses Association.

CAROLYN HUNTER, nursing prof, terminated employment Friday. She is accompanying her husband to Yakima, where he has been transferred. Nursing Division Chairman ARLENE UNDERHILL, in a jestful last ditch attempt to keep Carolyn on the staff, suggested divorce.

Succeeding Carolyn is MRS. NANCY SMITH, Sacred Heart Hospital employee who has taught in the LCC Home Health Aide program. She and Carolyn were classmates at the University of Washington School of Nursing. Both graduated in 1957. The Smiths are parents of sons, 10 and 1.

Burglars foiled

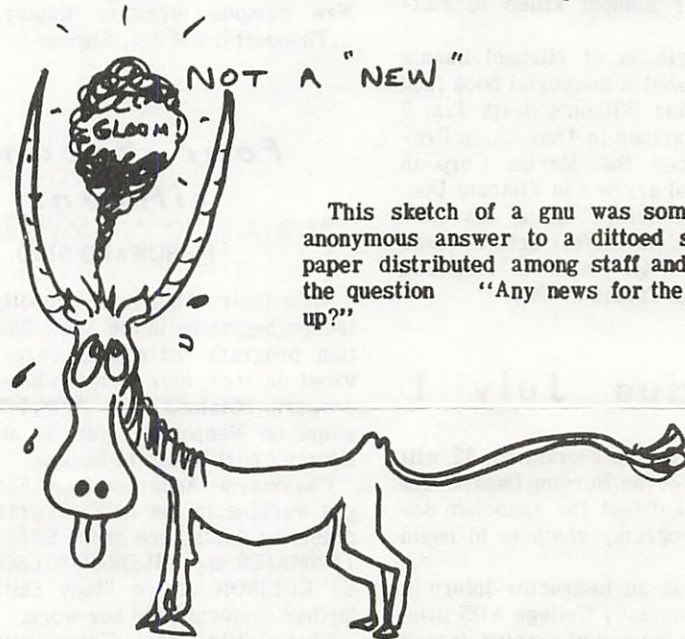

Placement Officer BUCK BAILEY and wife JANE left Friday for 10 days in Hawaii, confident that their home in their absence will be well protected by the Eugene Police Department. Their house was burglarized Feb. 21, allegedly by three Eugene teenagers--two boys 15 and 17 and a girl, 15--and their property returned by the police almost before the Baileys discovered their loss.

Buck says that the unauthorized guests apparently saw his family pile into the car, and leave, thus decided to explore the empty house. They took coins, food, two bars of Dial soap and a hair clipper, the latter items proving to Buck's satisfaction (he's sensitive about this kind of thing) that they weren't hippies.

To get to some cookies, the burglars reached over, but didn't notice, a zipper bag marked "U.S. National Bank" and containing 12 pounds of wrapped coins. It's what the Baileys have saved for several years to pay the babysitters during their Hawaii trip.

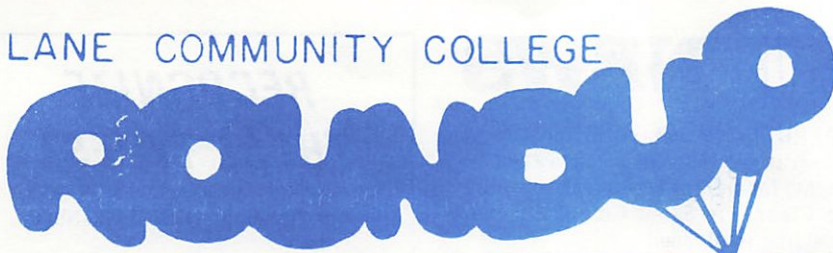

Police picked up the teenagers as run-aways shortly after their adventure at the Baileys. The next day Jane discovered the burglary and called police, who had found the stolen items in the kids' stolen car.

Buck said he wrote a "well done" letter to the police department.

This sketch of a gnu was somebody's anonymous answer to a dittoed sheet of paper distributed among staff and asking the question "Any news for the Round-up?"

The Roundup is prepared by the Office of Information Services at Lane Community College, 200 N. Monroe, Eugene, Ore. 97402.

SATURDAY, MARCH 9, 1968

Dr. Webb files

DEAN WEBB, Cottage Grove dentist who is chairman of the Board of Education, filed Thursday for election to a second four-year term on the Board. He represents Zone 4, which includes the Creswell, Lowell, Pleasant Hill, Oakridge and South Lane school districts.

ALBERT BRAUER, Florence physician filed earlier for re-election to the Board as Zone 1 representative. His area includes the Fern Ridge, Crow-Applegate, Triangle Lake, Mapleton and Siuslaw school districts.

The election will be Monday, May 6.

Nominations open

Staff members who want to be voting delegates at the Oregon Community College Association convention in May are asked to give their names to BOB NORMAN at the Bethel campus. He's chairman of the nominating committee.

The following already have been nominated:

Faculty Section: WILLIAM BEALS, WILLIAM MANLEY, JAMES HUNTINGTON, CARROL DE BROEKERT, RON MITCHELL, HELENE STADLER and CECIL HODGES.

Administration Section: WILLIAM COX, I.S. HAKANSON, DALE PARNELL, GERALD RASMUSSEN.

Notify BOB NORMAN by Friday, March 15. Delegate elections will be Tuesday, April 9.

PRICE TAG: $30,636

Last week The Roundup reported that LCC is offering to buy various items of Eugene Technical-Vocational School instructional equipment from Eugene School District 4. The dollar offer was incorrect. It should have read: $30,636.

The Roundup is prepared by the Office of Information Services at Lane Community College, 200 N. Monroe, Eugene, Ore. 97402.

PROFS TEACH SCOUTS

Two science profs are conducting natural history projects for Boy Scouts on the conservation of the western Blue Bird. Biologist FREEMAN ROWE spoke to Toshnick District Scouts at the Eugene Methodist Church Thursday. On March 14 JOHN JACOBS, science chairman, will speak to Three Sisters District Scouts at Springfield.

HELEN WINS CHAIRMANSHIP

JORIS JOHNSON, Adult Education coordinator, HELEN LOOMIS, supervisor of Adult Basic Education, and FERN MUNDALL, former ABE instructor, attended the organizational meeting of the Oregon Association for Continuing Community Education at McMinnville on March 2. Helen was appointed state membership chairman.

The OACCE will include representatives of sponsors of adult education programs at all levels. McMinnville School District hosted the organizational session.

AAJC meet stirs mixed feelings

LCC's six representatives at the American Association of Junior Colleges annual meeting in Boston last week brought back a flock of impressions and ideas. Along the way, going and coming, they interviewed 40 to 50 faculty applicants from 12 states.

They seemed in agreement that the AAJC meeting amounted to a "presidents' club" which paid scant attention to occupational education. Several hundred eastern, private junior colleges apparently geared the sessions to their own interests.

Anecdotes abound. MEL GASKILL, Staff Association president, and LEON LINDSAY, ASB president, got lost in the Boston subways for six hours. And the hotel changed their room assignment in the middle of one night.

Board of Education Chairman DEAN WEBB, and President DALE PARNELL got lost trying to find the Detroit airport and ended up out in the country at a one-horse dirt landing strip without an airplane.

Board Vice Chairman ALBERT BRAUER and dean of Students BUD HAKANSON landed at one airport five minutes before time to catch an outgoing plane. Lugging suitcases, they had to sprint a half-mile to catch the plane just as its door was being closed.

The group expected to prepare a formal report. We'll try to include some of it in next week's Roundup.

TV show retaped

TV stars PAUL PATRICK, mechanics prof, and students Harvey Kelm and Mike Brown have retaped their half-hour show about LCC's farm mechanics program. Channel 2 in Portland used much of the original film taken by Channel 7 of Corvallis and then had the trio re-do the narration.

The program will be shown on Channel 2 on Saturday, March 16 at 1:30 p.m. and on Tuesday, March 19 at 8 a.m. It was shown March 6 on Channel 4 at Seattle.

The publicity-conscious farm mechanics crew was taking still photos of their instructional activities this week. They will have a pictorial exhibit at the Future Farmers of America convention March 13-14-15 at Corvallis.

HERSHEY MELTS A LITTLE

Local draft boards may defer students who are enrolled full-time in schools, whether or not they are candidates for degrees. "College and University Reports" in the March 4 issue attributes this ruling to draft director Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey.

Until this statement, there was some doubt about draft status for community college students.

NAMES IN THE NEWS

Happy Birthday to: MARJE BLOOD, secretary to the administrative assistant, March 10; MARY MERRILL, business prof, March 13; JEAN SPECHT, secretary to the library director, March 15.

SHARON HINDERLEE, cashier in the business office at Eugene, resigned as of Tuesday.

ED CHURCHWARD, part-time delivery man for the Office of Administrative Services, has earned his third class license to broadcast. He's a student in the Electronics Division.

Gerald L. Hanson, general manager of radio station KDAC, Fort Bragg, Calif., visited the Electronics Division Feb. 28. He is a graduate of the radio broadcasting program of the Eugene Technical-Vocational School and a former staff member of educational radio station KRVM. Hanson said that he expects to have at least two vacancies on his announcing staff this summer. He wants to hire graduate of this year's LCC radio class.

RAY LAGRANDEUR, associate dean of instruction, discussed LCC's occupational education programs and next year's budget with the West Eugene Civitan Club on Tuesday.

ROGER HOUGLUM, Electronics Division chairman, attended a meeting of the Educational Television and Radio Committee of the state Educational Coordinating Council in Salem March 1.

PAT PARKER, secretary in the Office of Administrative Services, is engaged to Eric Wright, former LCC student now employed at Clear Fir Sales Co. in Eugene. A June wedding is planned.

GENE PARRO, Industrial Technology prof, says the Woodshop has kindling wood for staff members who wish to come and get it. There is no charge.

LARRY DAVIS, A & P prof, will be attending the FAA maintenance, safety meeting for authorized inspectors in Portland March 15.

SUNNY HILL, part-time secretary in the Office of Instruction, is one of 10 finalists in the Miss Springfield contest.

IRENE PARENT, counselor-instructor, is attending a National Association of Foreign Student Affairs Field Service Workshop today, March 9, at Portland State College. The workshop topic is "Admission of Foreign Students."

Services were conducted Wednesday at Reedsport for the father of ED SEABLOOM, math prof. Ed's father succumbed to cancer.

2,745 expected

Spring Term registration for credit programs got underway this week. About 2,745 full-time equivalent students are expected Research Director BOB HAMILL reports.

Returning students registered this week; new students will register next week. Spring enrollment is expected to be about 42 FTE students less than Winter Term and 162 less than Fall Term.

Film list available

DONALD OWNBEY, librarian, announces the acquisition of several publications of interest to staff members. Two books by the National Information Center for Educational Media attempt to list all films and filmstrips available for instructional purposes. One is Index to 16mm Educational Films and the other is Index to 35mm Educational Filmstrips.

Also available are the 1967 Educators Guide of Free Films and the 1967 Guide to Social Studies Material. Anyone interested in using these source books should contact PAM HOBBS in the Eugene Library.

The library is now receiving the Occupational Education Bulletin from the American Association of Junior Colleges. It is kept on file at the Springfield library.

A DATE IS A DATE IS A...

A data processing card used in a Winter Term LCC student survey included this question: "How many times each month, on the average, do you: go bowling—, go dancing—, go to a movie—, date—." Somebody answered the first three parts of the question with numbers, then for the last part wrote: "12/15/67."

Suburbia Affluence

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn (AP)—The public address system at Robbinsdale High School told, in nonchalant tones, of affluent suburbia.

A car in the pupil's parking lot had its lights on, the school office announced. The vehicle was described as a white 1968 Cadillac.

How's the Self Study coming?

By JIM SNOW

In a couple of words, the Report is coming along very well. Three sections, Institutional Objectives, Administration and Institutional Research have been edited and are essentially in final form. Four other sections are nearly ready for the editorial committee. These are: Educational Program, Instructional Staff, Special Services and Bookstore.

At this writing (March 12), the Library LRC section still has just a little work to

BOARD MEMBERS, SPPC COMMENDED

The Board of Education and Staff Personnel Policies Committee won commendations this week from President DALE PARNELL, in the wake of Board approval of SPPC-recommended salaries.

"The Board and SPPC have certainly done yeoman's work," he said. "Many, many hours have been spent by members of both groups studying salaries during the past 10 months.

SPPC Chairman Karen Lansdowne must be singled out for special commendation. I really fear asking how many hours she devoted to SPPC work during the past year.

Dr. Parnell praised Board members for their progressive spirit. "They certainly demonstrated a farsighted approach in their salary package," he said.

Sports cost low

Costs of LCC's intercollegiate athletic program in the next five years will be relatively modest, according to projections developed by Physical Education and Health Division Chairman CECIL HODGES.

The college will meet costs of capital outlay and coaching (about two-thirds of the bill) and the Associated Student Body will pay operating costs.

The 1968-69 budget: $19,485, including $13,961 from LCC and $5,525 from the ASB; 1969-70, $27,674 including $18,635 from LCC and $9,039 from ASB;

1970-71, $29,720 including $20,079 from LCC and $9,641 from ASB;

1971-72, $32,087 including $20,791 from LCC and $11,296 from ASB;

1972-73, $36,022 including $23,796 from LCC and $12,226 from ASB.

Men's sports next year will include: cross country, tennis, track, wrestling, basketball, gymnastics and soccer. Baseball, golf, and swimming will be added in 1969-70.

Women will play extramural sports until 1971-72 when intercollege hockey, tennis, track and basketball will begin. Gymnastics will be added in 1972-73.

NAMES IN THE NEWS

Happy Birthday to: ROBERT JOHNSON, business prof, March 16; HOWARD ZINK, math chairman, March 26; MAURINE BAYES, business prof, March 27.

BUCK BAILEY, placement officer, returned this week from a Hawaii vacation. He brought back some severe sunburn.

Seven LCC staff members attended the regional conference of the National Association of Educational Secretaries at the Portland Sheraton March 8 and 9. Nearly 400 people from 18 states participated in sessions designed to upgrade the level of educational secretaries.

Our representatives were: MARJE BLOOD, EVELYN TENNIS, LAURA GAUDERMAN, MARGARET KNUTSON, VERA TONNING, LUANA PLEW and HELEN HAYNIE.

JOHN PHILLIPS, forestry prof, attended the Society of American Foresters meeting at the Multnomah Building in Portland March 8 and 9. He was a member of a panel describing the Ottawa meeting of men in Forest Technician training and also reported on LCC's forestry program.

HERB PRUETT, mechanics prof, attended a meeting of the Oregon Vocational Association executive board at Salem March 2.

Accomplishments of the past year were discussed, including legislative lobbying, the convention and the coordination between various associations. Plans are being introduced toward building a program for the coming year. All members are urged to offer suggestions as to objectives of the organization for the future to Herb so that he may present them to the board at the next meeting in April.

MURIEL PETERSON, dental prof, was elected secretary of the Willamette Valley Dental Hygienist Association on March 6.

LISL FENNER, research and funding secretary who has been in Massachusetts on a leave of absence, writes to question the story about MEL GASKILL and LEON LINDSAY getting lost in the Boston subway for six hours. It's "impossible," she says. "The Boston subway has only two speeds--forward and back."

Lisl is due back at her desk April 1.

ADA ZINSER, bookstore manager, attended a booksellers' course in Berkeley March 7-10. The National Association of College Stores sponsored the session.

Nurse ARLENE GOLDSMITH has assumed the coordinator role for the newly organized Student Health Services. She is in Room 11-D, Eugene campus, and is available for consultation regarding health problems. She will teach health classes along with the new job.

FLOYD WILKES, Data Processing director, spoke Monday to the Eugene chapter of the Data Processing Management Association. He described the use of data processing at LCC for instruction and administration.

CAROL MILLER has succeeded Carol Gay as machine operator in the Eugene campus workroom. Our new Carol is a graduate of LCC's MDTA program and the mother of Connie, 5, and Roger, 3. She's a musician, playing the woodwinds, French horn and piano.

Dr. JOHN DICKSON, director of Parental Programs:

1) has been reappointed to the Related Organizations Council for the Oregon State Dental Association for 1968-69;

2) will be speaking to the Umpqua District Dental Society April 2 regarding LCC parental programs and the subject of "Four-Handed Dentistry;"

3) will be attending the March 24-25 American Association of Dental Schools meeting in San Francisco on dental hygiene education.

MARJE BLOOD, secretary to the administrative assistant, has resigned. "I'm going to have fun for a while," she says. "Maybe I'll go back to school full-time next fall." Her date of departure is dependent on the finding of a replacement.

MARJORIE SMITH, adult basic education teacher at the Labor Temple, has been nominated for Eugene Jaycette Junior Woman of the Year. She is prominent in community activities.

MILLIE HARTSTROM, business prof, plans a San Francisco trip during spring vacation.

JACK SCALES, math prof, spent his birthday Thursday at Sacred Heart Hospital recovering from major surgery. He entered Wednesday for an expected stay of 4 to 5 days.

LELAND HALBERG and ED SEABLOOM have been named to participate in a Summer Institute for College Math Teachers at the University of Oregon. It will be eight weeks long.

Another day older and deeper in debt.

You pay your dues to this and that

Then for 24 days your billfold is flat.
