'Round the campus

Any instructional staff members or classified personnel who have moved since April 1, please notify the Personnel Office of your new address.

The part-time staff is now eligible to receive the benefits of the Health Insurance program offered by the college; however, they have to pay for it themselves. More information can be obtained from the Office of the Dean of College Services in the Administration Building.

WELSH, Oct. 1, 1968

Dr. JOHN DICKSON, director of the Paradental & Paramedical Departments, and MARY FIORENTINO, director of Nursing, were guests on the KORE radio program, LISTEN AND TALK, Sept. 11. They discussed the medical and dental programs being offered at LCC.

CARROL deBROEKERT, chairman of the Social Science department, was on the program Sept. 18. He discussed the relationship of the social sciences to the instructional division, the law enforcement program, and the fire prevention course.

How Shall We Spend Our Dues?

Several staff members have asked what the Staff Association does with the $4 dues it collects from its members each year. This year, the Association is taking suggestions from the staff members to see what the group would like to do with the money that is collected.

PAT GRANT, purchasing agent, and treasurer of the group said, "The Staff association is an organization made up of all staff members at LCC. Members pay dues of $4 per year on a voluntary basis. We have asked that dues be paid by Oct. 10, either by cash or by payroll deduction." Deduction slips can be picked up in the Business Office.

Suggestions for the way to use the money collected should be given to any one of the Staff Association officers: BUCK BAILEY, president; JED MERILL, vice-president; MARGARET KNUTSON, secretary; and PAT GRANT, treasurer.

NAMES IN THE NEWS

RICHARD MOSLEY, courier, was in an auto accident in the school's panel truck Sept. 16 at the intersection of 24th and Monroe St. Rich was hospitalized overnight with lacerations and a broken vertebrae.

CAROLE SISLER is the new department secretary for the Health and Physical Education department. Carole replaces DONNA WILCOX, who is returning to Lane as a full-time student.

Spc. 5 Brian D. Parent, son of IRENE PARENT, counselor, has been awarded the Army Commendation Medal for meritorious service in Vietnam. Brian is now stationed at Ft. Hood, Texas. When his tour of duty is completed he will return to the University of Oregon where he will be a senior.

BUD HAKANSON, dean of students, and BILL WRIGHT, counselor-instructor, recently completed a project for the State Department of Education. Together they wrote more than 120 vocational program descriptions for a Counselor's Handbook on Community Colleges for Secondary counselors for the State Department of Education.

KEITH HARKER, director of the Learning Resource Center, and DON OWNBEY, acquisitions librarian, attended sessions of the Library Mechanization Institute at the University of Oregon this summer. They studied the mechanization of circulation and other library processes.

ART SCHAEFER, counselor-instructor, spoke to the local chapter of the Help Elderly Locate Positions (HELP), in Eugene on Sept. 12. Art spoke to the group about the employment opportunities for people 55 years and older.

Dr. LEW CASE, dean of instruction is finally a "grandpa". His daughter MARGARET and son-in-law CHARLES are the parents of a baby boy, CHARLES GRANT LAW III. Charles was born on Sept. 22 and weighed 6 lbs. 11 ozs. Margaret & Charles II are living in West Virginia where he is studying English at the University of West Virginia. Mrs. Case has been visiting with her daughter for three weeks, awaiting the arrival of Charles.

NANCY BELK, library clerk, is recovering from back surgery at Sacred Heart Hospital. She recently had a spinal fusion and also a nerve severed in her upper back. She will be in the hospital for at least another week and then she will be in a full body cast for four months. Gradually she will be placed in a partial cast until her back has fully recovered.

FLOYD WILKES, director of Data Processing, CHUCK LAMB and JERRY NEHRING, Data Processing instructors, attended an IBM FORIM (that's the way they spell it) on the University of Oregon campus. The FORIM was a week long seminar for managers of Data Processing installations.

'Round the campus

The "red" telephones located throughout the various departments in the school are emergency phones. These phones have no dials; however when there is an emergency, the switchboard can be reached by simply lifting the receiver. Each time the receiver is lifted, either by accident or curiosity, it goes to the switchboard on an emergency circuit. Please do not play with these phones in any way as the lines should be open for emergency calls at all times.

The Learning Resource Center is now operating from the Apprenticeship Building. Reference and study areas are located on the second floor and the books will be charged out on the first floor where the book stacks form the library.

New staff members include: HOWARD LINDSTROM, audiovisual coordinator; DEL MATHESON, cataloging and reference librarian; LINDA CADWELL, graphics productionist; and DIANA WALKER, acquisitions clerk.

BARBARA BOWERS is the new department secretary for Electronics. She replaces CAROLYN SMITH, who joined her husband in Germany. Barbara was formerly a work study girl and LCC student.

The Roundup is prepared by the Office of Information and Publications at Lane Community College, 4000 E. 30th Ave., Eugene, Ore. 97405. Kathy Dave, editor. Ext. 340.

IRENE PARENT, counselor, was program director for a two-week Dean's Workshop held at the University of Oregon July 22 through Aug. 2. The workshop was co-sponsored by the National Association of Women Deans and Counselors, the Oregon Association of Women Deans and Counselors, of which Irene is the president, and the University of Oregon. Its purpose was to familiarize counselors with the problems today's students face.

Fifty-five deans and counselors from 22 states and Canada attended, representing universities, community colleges, and high schools. Several LCC staff members participated in the program, including BILL WRIGHT, counselor, who spoke on the role of the counselor; BUD HAKANSON, dean of students who conducted a tour of the new campus; FRANCES HOWARD, counselor, who attended as a member; and Dr. DALE PARSELL, state superintendent of Public Instruction, and LCC president-on-leave, who spoke on vocational education.

JERRY SIROIS is LCC's new deliveryman. He is handling errands and courier duties for College Services and the Business Office.

GLENN HEISERMAN, science prof, and his wife BARBARA, part-time math instructor, are the proud parents of a new baby boy, STEVEN MARK RICHARD HEISERMAN. Steven was born Friday, Sept. 13. He weighed 9lbs. 9oz.

HELEN HAYNIE, secretary-on-leave, has a new grandson. ERIC JONATHAN VOSS, was born Sept. 26, to CHRISTINE and PHILLIP VOSS, of Eugene. Eric weighed 9 lbs. 1 oz.

MILLIE HARTSTROM, business prof, received her Masters' degree in business administration this summer at the University of Oregon. She and two other students were the first to receive a Masters in the major area of business, because this is the first time it has been offered by the University.

Following her schooling this summer, Millie took a two-week vacation to British Columbia and along the Oregon coast.

IRIS PATTLE is the new secretary for the Performing Arts and Mass Communications Departments. She has worked with Ed in dramatic productions in recent years.

BILL WRIGHT, counselor-instructor, will be attending a Counselor-Guidance Institute at California State College Oct. 21 through Nov. 8.

ROUNDUP

Door could close

LCC's open door could partially close if the 1 1/2 percent property tax limitation (Measure 7) passes at the Nov. 5 election.

Passage of the measure would abolish the college's $1.5 million tax base and thereby necessitate one or more of the following:

1. Higher tuition
2. Limitation of enrollment
3. Elimination of costlier occupational training
4. Enlargement of classes.

The Board of Education went on record Oct. 2 in opposition to Measure 7 and agreed to put before voters Nov. 5 a precautionary two-year serial tax levy. It would go into effect only if Measure 7 passes and would raise about $1.625 million annually, to be applied toward college operating costs. The levy would cost property tax payers about 98-cents per thousand true cash value.

WHERE DOES IT HURT ?

About 500 low income people with tooth aches will have their pain eased this year through LCC's dental treatment facilities.

A $20,000 grant from the Oregon State Board of Health will make it possible to hire area dentists part-time to use the dental classrooms, when they're not in use by classes, to treat children and adults whose teeth problems would otherwise be ignored.

It is estimated that 8,000 Lane County families, half of them in Eugene-Springfield, have incomes below $3,000 per year. Lane Human Resources will work with the college in selecting those few whom the program will be able to help.

LCC students in the dental assistant program will have the opportunity to get on-the-job experience on campus by helping the dentists to be hired.

Para-Dental Department Chairman JOHN DICKSON is in charge of the activity.

Dr. LEONARD W. RICE, president of Oregon College of Education, will speak at the annual Oregon Association for childhood Education Fall Study Conference at Joseph Lane Junior High in Roseburg, Oct. 11. LCC staff members are invited.

FRIDAY, Oct. 11, 1968

Bar-B-Q set

The annual ASB Barbeque is slated for Friday, Oct. 18 from 6 to 10 p.m. in the Health Building. Both students and staff are invited. The cost is 99¢ for adults and 49¢ for children under 12. Beginning at 7 p.m. there will be a soc hop in the gym, with badminton, volleyball, table tennis and basketball also on the agenda.

Handbook out soon

The 1968-69 Staff Handbook is ready to go to press after being revised by a committee consisting of GERRY RASMUSSEN, associate dean of instruction; CAROL BECKLEY, secretary to Dr. HAMILL; Dr. KEN HILLS, director of counseling; JEANNE SPECHT, secretary to KEITH HARKER; KEITH HARKER, director of the LRC; BILL COX, dean of college services; FLOYD WILKES, director of Data Processing; EDNA CLEMENT, graphic artist for Information & Publications, and LARRY ROMINE, director of Information & Publications.

The Handbook was typed and set by MARJORIE HAUNHORST, publications secretary, and MILLIE HARTSTROM, business prof. The delay in production is due to the pile-up of higher priority material in the workroom.

Snow attends Seattle confab

JIM SNOW, acting director of Institutional Research, attended a special conference Sept. 9-13 for Institutional Research representatives from community colleges in the Northwest. The conference was held in Seattle at the University of Washington. It was sponsored by the Cen-

What traffic jam?

That traffic snarl on the opening day of classes made believers out of State Highway Department personnel. For two years, administrators urged planning for LCC traffic, but nothing seemed to happen. "Now they believe us," says President BOB HAMILL.

They put up signs which urge college motorists to use the "north entrance." Both access roads start at the north.

Another sign designates the campus as "Lane C. College." Bob has been heard to mutter that they should put up a sign outside their building, reading "State H. Department."

BILL COX, dean of college services, has opened the student parking lots to staff members who may find them more convenient to use than parking in the staff lot behind the Mechanics building. The staff lot will remain open for those who still want to park there.

Senate meeting in Lincoln City

The student senate left today for their Fall Retreat at the coast. The students are staying at the Surf Tide in Lincoln City today and Saturday. This year the retreat will be a student oriented group with the counselors involved in the workshop being the only staff members. Today will be spent in a communications workshop and tomorrow there will be group discussions and Dr. HAMILL, president, will address the senate at a noon luncheon.

ter for Development of Community Colleges and was funded by the W.K. Kellogg Foundation.

Jim said that fewer than 50 percent of the community colleges represented at the conference have an institutional research office. Only Mt. Hood and LCC have the office among the Oregon schools.

At the conference it was suggested, after one of the representatives had been reading LCC's Self Study Report, that the section on the Office of Institutional Research be reproduced and given to the other colleges at the conference as an example of a good program in institutional research. The section was written by an institutional research committee headed by Dr. HAMILL, acting president, when he was the director of that office.

'Round the campus

Some people out there really want education. Dean BUD HAKANSON knows about a student who walked during the first week from 18th and Lincoln Streets in Eugene. It took him two hours each way. Bud has since found the lad a ride.

The life science lab which is located in the Science building is now housing a few lizards and about 50 frogs. The students will be studying frogs next week, according to Science Chairman, JOHN JACOBS. We aren't completely set up to house too many animals because several of the cages are still unfinished.

A nine-hour class in the Principles of Air Traffic Control will begin Oct. 28 through Oct. 30 at LCC in room 112 of the Air Technology Building. The class is designed for instrument pilots. It will be offered over a period of three evenings from 7 to 10 p.m. It is sponsored by the Federal Aviation Administration's Eugene combined station/tower and Seattle Air Route Traffic Control. The course, known as operation "Rain Check" will be offered again Nov. 4 through 6. The course is free, however you must have conformation to attend. Applications can be picked up in the Mechanics Department office and all certified flying schools in the area.

English Department Chairman JOHN HOWARD reports that 1,000 students are enrolled in 45 sections of English composition. Together, they could turn out five million words this term for teachers to read.

The LCC Faculty wives are still looking for help with the "Parnell for State superintendent" campaign. Anyone who can help in any way; time, talent, donations, contact MRS. LORA DICKINSON, president of LCC Faculty Wives, at 689-2490; MRS. PAT LEONARD, telephone chairman for Parnell Campaign Committee of Lane County, at 345-7933; or CARROL de BROEKERT, LCC Staff Ass'n. for Parnell Committee.

JOB OF INTEREST:

Help wanted, Women, Hold a Pennyrich Bra Bosom Buddy hour in your home. Call 688-1396 or 343-4448 for more information.

ED RAGOZZINO, chairman of Performing Arts department, began the casting for the first fall production "Stop the World I Want to Get Off", Thursday night in room 101 of the Music Building, at 7:30 p.m. The department needs singers, actors and dancers for the play. Orchestra tryouts were also held Thursday night. Anyone interested in trying out for either the play or the orchestra should contact Mr. Ragozzino, ext. 394 or Mr. CAMMACK, ext. 393. immediately.

About that acoustics problem in the Apprenticeship Building: Psychology Prof. JOAN COHEN asked her class a question. There was a brief silence; then a student in another class on the other side of the room divider answered the question.

Board member ROBERT ACKERMAN is LCC's representative on the Lane Human Resources board of directors. Staff assistance is to be given by LARRY MURRAY, Special Manpower Training Programs director.

A student asked Dean BILL COX for 20 parking stickers to use during October. He explained that he works in a used car lot and drives a different car to school each day. Bill gave him one permit.

Staff members who wish to have a key to their building room and office should contact WALT VAN ORDEN, Coordinator of Construction as soon as possible. Only a certain number of keys were made so it may take some time before the room and building keys can be made.

DR. DALE PARNELL, president-on-leave, opened his campaign headquarters in Eugene Sept. 28. Dr. Parnell, who is acting State Superintendent of Public Instruction, was in Eugene Saturday to discuss his views on school issues.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

The Food Services Building announced its official opening to students and staff last Thursday. The building will be open Monday through Friday; coffee and doughnuts will be served from 7 a.m., with the regular luncheon menu beginning at 10:30 to 4 p.m.

President ROBERT HAMILL has a thank you letter from a former MDTA clerk-steno student who calls her training here a "chance in a lifetime." Grace Bakke of Myrtle Creek is a widow who is still supporting four of her eight children. "I would never have been able to receive this education," had LCC not made it possible, she says.

Dr. Dale Parnell, acting State Superintendent of Public Instruction, has received endorsement from the executive board of Oregon School Board Association. This is the first time that the association has openly backed a candidate running for a political position; however the board feels that Parnell's views on school issues parallel with their views.

The first day enrollment at Linn Benton Community College was 775. Of these, 353 are full-time students and 422 are part-time. The vocational programs enrolled 330 and 445 are in the lower division transfer program.

A campaign on behalf of the precautionary levy will be conducted by a group of private citizens in the college district. Administrative Intern RON DAUGHERTY is lending them assistance.

Voters in the Benton and Linn counties voted Sept. 24 on a $6 million bond issue to finance the first phase of construction on the Linn-Benton Community College.

The issue went down by a margin of 5818 no to 3599 yes. The breakdown was as follows: Corvallis, Lebanon, and Philomath voted against it; Sweethome and Albany voted in favor of the bond.

LEW CASE, dean of instruction, and LARRY MURRAY, director of Special Training Programs were in Albany Wednesday to attend a meeting of the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development. The ASCD is an organization for those concerned with improving education through better instruction and supervision.

"What should I wear today, black socks to match my black suit or brown socks to match my brown sandals?" This is a question that CARL BLOOD, chairman of Industrial Tech says he will have to ask every morning for the next 93 days. Carl injured his foot while doing some repair work on a drafting bench last week, and his doctor says it will be 99 days before his new toe nail (he lost the other one) will be developed. He remarked to Dr. HAMILL, "I'm becoming a hippie--from the bottom up." It will be some time before Carl can give up his sandals for some shoes.

The Maude Kerns Art Center held a reception Friday, Oct. 4 in connection with the opening of an art show featuring the work of TOM BLODGETT, art prof. Tom is active in all kinds of art and is currently working in films and literature along with painting and printing.

Other LCC staff members attending included PEGGY WAKEFIELD, secretary to JOHN BERNHAM, JACK CARTER, counselors and ELLEN GOLDSMITH, student nurse, served the punch; PAT GRANT, purchasing agent, and his wife, ROSEMARY, business prof. were also guests.

Larry is attending LCC full-time.

One of LCC's first employees, GALE (Ty) TYCER, has resigned as head cashier in the Business Office. She worked two years for Dean BILL COX, at Eugene Technical-Vocational School prior to the establishment of LCC in 1965. Gale plans to spend a few months with her children and then maybe return to work. Ty says: "I enjoyed working with many wonderful people at LCC and I hope I will not lose contact with them."

MARTY RAVELLETT, LCC custodian, was honored at a luncheon Oct. 1 sponsored by the Lane County Mayors' Employ the Handicapped committee. Marty, armless since birth, was recently chosen Oregon's Outstanding Handicapped Employee for 1968. He will now represent the state on the national level. Marty has been at LCC for two years.

JOHN JACOBS, chairman of the Science department and HOWARD ZINK, chairman of the Math department were guests on the KORE radio "Listen and Talk" show Oct. 3. They discussed the relationship of their respective departments to the college as one complete unit.

MAURINE BAYES, MARY MERRILL, ROSEMARY GRANT and JACK KREITZ, all business profs. are attending the Oregon Business Education Association Conference at Gearhart, Ore. today and tomorrow. RON DAUGHERTY, administrative intern is also attending the conference.

JOAN EVEREST has joined the teaching staff of the Nursing Department.

ED RAGOZZINO, chairman of Performing Arts, will be the speaker at the Oregon Theatre Arts Association at North Eugene High School tonight (Oct. 11) and Saturday (Oct. 12). He will speak on "Is There Another Way to Direct?"

Political Science Prof. PAUL MALM calls his summer visit to Hebrew University in Israel "the finest learning experience of my life." The Roundup hopes to report on that trip in detail in the near future.

JORIS JOHNSON, Occupational Education Coordinator, recently hosted a luncheon for the Oregon Inventors Council and local dignitaries. Acting President ROBERT HAMILL, Associate Dean of Instruction RAY LaGRANDEUR, Dean of Instruction LEW CASE and Johnson were those attending from LCC. They heard a speaker from Washington D.C.

BUCK BAILEY, director of student placement, recently completed another play at the Very Little Theater. Buck portrayed a young lawyer, Robert Wolfe in "Dear Me the Sky is Falling".

FRANCES HOWARD, financial aids counselor, participated in a panel discussion, "Tell It Like It Is", at the Fall Convention of the Oregon Association of Women Deans and Counselors at Lincoln City last weekend, Oct. 4, 5, 6. IRENE PARENT, counselor and president of the association, presided over the business meeting Saturday morning. Other counselors attending from LCC were; PAULINE DIXON, HELENE STADLER, and ELLENE GOLDSMITH. Speakers at the convention included Dr. Sterling Ellsworth, clinical Psychologist, speaking on "Love Makes The World Go 'Round"; Dr. Richard Franklin, director of Maternal and Infant Care Center at Emanuel Hospital, speaking on "The Unwed Mother--Her Readjustment and Counseling" and Dr. Harry Cloyd, psychiatrist and clinical director of Dammasch Hospital, who spoke on "Corrections and Counseling".

HAPPY BIRTHDAY to ROSE WRIGHT, chairman--Fine & Applied Arts, Oct. 1; EVELYN TENNIS, secretary to Dean RASMUSSEN Oct. 4; KENNETH JOHNSON, custodian, Oct. 6; PHYLLIS BRAUN, secretary to Dr. HILLS, Oct. 11; GLENN HEISERMAN, science prof. and JOHN CARL LEMKE, mechanics prof. Oct. 13; JORIS JOHNSON, Adult Ed coordinator and DEBBIE DAGGETT, P.E. prof. Oct. 14; and GREGORY DELF, history prof. Oct. 15.

GEORGE LUCK, instructor in the auto body and fender program needs spot-painting jobs. Parts of fenders, doors, etc. If you need a touch-up paint job see George in the Mechanics building. He could also use some metal work. If you need spot painting or metal work done on your car check with the Mechanics department.

NATHAN CAMMACK, music director, is looking for instruments for his orchestra. He needs stringed, winds or brass, and also some people to play them. If you would like to play contact Nathan at ext. 393 in the music 101 building.

Evaluators Arrive Monday

By Jim Snow

Round the campus

The first student on-campus convocation will be held Tuesday, Oct. 29 beginning at 11:30 a.m. according to Director of Adult Education, Nile Williams, who is in charge of the event, the entertainment will be supplied by ED RAGOZZINO and his students, GERRY RASMUSSEN, who will play his guitar and sing, and President HAMILL who will present a short talk to the students. Nile said "All students should be able to attend as there is not supposed to be any classes scheduled between 11:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays. This time period is supposed to be used for convocations and activity meetings." The meeting will be held in the main gym.

CHRIS NEFF, manager of Fine Papers Division, in the San Francisco office of Blake, Moffit & Towne Papers, conducted an in-service session with the Informations and Publications Department Monday, Oct. 7. Neff discussed the different kinds of printing papers and explained the guidelines used to select the right paper for the right printing job.

LEW CASE, dean of Instruction, received notification from the State Department of Education, approving the course--Orientation to College. The course will be two-hours LCC non-transferrable credits. The final arrangements have not yet been completed, but the class will begin as soon as possible. It is designed for those people who have been out of school for awhile and need a readjusting period.

LCC now has two counseling interns on assignment from the University of Oregon. They are ART BROWNELL and URSULA DELWORTH. Both are working toward their doctorate in Counseling Psychology.

Note of thanks

Acting President BOB HAMILL received a letter of thanks from Register-Guard Reporter LLOYD PASEMAN, for the cooperation shown him by the staff at LCC while he was doing his series on the college. He expressed his appreciation to the people he interviewed for their time and patience.

PARNELL RECEIVES SECOND ENDORSEMENT

Dr. DALE PARNELL, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, has received his second endorsement for election from a group who normally does not interfere in educational races. The Lane County Democratic Central Committee announced that they would back Parnell even though it is not the tradition of the committee to back a non-partisan candidate.

According to Tom Hovet, county chairman, "The members evidently felt this was a vital election and that they should urge all democrats to support Parnell."

The Roundup is prepared by the Office of Information and Publications at Lane Community College, 4000 E. 30th Ave., Eugene, Ore. 97405. Kathy Dave, editor. Ext. 340

Grants available for summer seminars

Summer teaching grants are available this year for college instructors and assistant profs to attend a seminar abroad during the summer of 1969. Teaching positions will be open in several European countries, the Middle East, Far East and Africa. Some of these positions will work on a foreign exchange system, where an instructor from the United States will trade with one from a foreign country.

Application forms and detailed information may be obtained by writing to

Teacher Exchange Branch
Division of International Studies
U.S. Office of Education
Washington D. C. 20202

There are some descriptive brochures in the library telling places, dates, and regulations for the seminars.

This coming Monday, Oct. 21, the three-day visitation by the evaluation team of the Northwest Association will begin. The fifteen evaluators will be on our campus for the express purpose of analyzing Lane Community College as to the quality of its performance, the effectiveness of its purpose, and the adequacy of its resources for continuing and improving its performance. It is the stated function of the evaluation team to help the college identify its significant strengths and to assist in solving its most critical problems.

The team of evaluators whose chairman is Dr. Frederic T. Giles of the University of Washington, will use the Board Room as their central headquarters during their visit. However, each team member will also be provided with workspace in the department that he has been assigned to evaluate. It is expected that the members of the team will be visiting a few classes. However, it is more likely that they will conduct the major part of their evaluation by means of small group or individual discussions with faculty, administrators, and classified personnel. They will, of course, be comparing what they see and hear on campus with what they have read in our Self Study Report. Therefore it is most important that all who might have contact with a team member be well informed as to the contents of the Self Study. We are all aware that many changes have taken place since the report was printed and these should be stated in complete honesty to the evaluators.

At the conclusion of the visit, the team prepares a report encompassing their findings and their recommendations. This is submitted to the Commission on Higher Schools of the Northwest Association which uses it as the basis for assigning accreditation status to the college. Final action is taken by the Association in early December.

The members of the team are staying at the Eugene Hotel, and on Monday evening a dinner is planned with the Board of Education.

GEORGE GYORGYFALVY, P.E. instructor, is attending the Olympic Games in Mexico City. After 11 years of marriage he and his wife are honeymooning for two weeks to see the games.

NAMES IN THE NEWS

JOHN MCCULLOCH, police science prof; GERRY RASMUSSEN and RAY LAGRANDEUR, associate deans of instruction; BUD HAKANSON, dean of students and LARRY MURRAY, director of special training Programs, will be in Salem Saturday (tomorrow) to attend the conference on Education, Law and the Community, Co-partners in Crime Prevention. The group was invited to attend by Governor TOM MCCALL and Superintendent of Public Instruction DALE PARNELL.

SHIRLEY PEARSON is the new secretary for BILL MANSELL, clerk-controller in the Business Office. Shirley replaces JAN JOHN, who is now secretary to JIM SNOW, acting director of Institutional Research and DICK EYMANN, funding specialist.

DEBBIE DAGGETT and DICK NEWELL, Health and P.E. profs, attended the Conference of the Oregon Association Health, Physical Education and Recreation in Medford, Oct. 10, 11 and 12. ## Director Ken Hills keeps busy with meetings

Dr. KEN HILLS, director of counseling, attended the Fall Conference of the Oregon Personnel Guidance Association last Thursday and Friday (Oct. 10 & 11) at the Country Squire on Interstate 5. The first evening consisted of a Film Festival, exhibits, demonstrations and a conversation hour. Friday began with a breakfast and then group discussions were held at Churchill High School. Dr. MARTIN ACKER, of Federal City College in Washington D.C. was the guest speaker at the noon meal. The afternoon was spent in a panel discussion and the conference closed with a banquet Friday night at which DR. DALE PARNELL, president-on-leave, presently Superintendent of Public Instruction, was the speaker.

Director of Counseling KEN HILLS spent two days in Las Vegas, Nev. attending the Western Regional Mental Health Association Conference Sept. 16 and 17. Ken is president of Lane County's MHA and was one of five representatives to attend from Oregon.

Counseling Director KEN HILLS is teaching two courses at the University in addition to his regular duties at Lane. Ken teaches a Community College Counseling Seminar and Community College Counseling Practicum.

KEN HILLS, director of counseling reports that there are counselors on duty at Lane from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday-Thursday and 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Friday & Saturday mornings from 8 to 12 noon. There are at least two counselors here in the evenings.

ED RAGOZZINO, Performing Arts chairman, reports that the casting for LCC's first production, "Stop the World I Want to Get Off" is now complete. Ed commented, "We have a good company and I'm very pleased with the casting." The play will begin Dec. 5 and run the 5, 6, 7, 11, 12, 13 and 14th. The lead parts were cast as follows: LITTLECHAP—Scott van Fossen; EVIE—Nicola Crafts; SUSAN—Judy Piquet; and JANE—Wendy Henke. There is also a large chorus.

Ed said, "Now I need people to work on the production. I need people to work in the areas of props, costumes, makeup, properties, programs, the box office, and general work crew. Anyone who is interested please let us know." Staff members, students, families-- all are welcome to work on the production whenever they have time. Contact Ed Ragozzino at ext. 393.

Applications for fellowship grants in the areas of basic and applied sciences, social science, and the history and philosophy of science are being taken by the National Research Council. These fellowships can be used for either graduate or postdoctoral studies. If you are interested and would like more information, contact Dean of Instruction LEW CASE. Closing date for applications is December 6, 1968.

Director of Study Skills, HOWARD BIRD, was a guest on the KORE radio "Listen and Talk Show" Oct. 10. He discussed the relationship of the Study Skills Center to the rest of the college.

If you have any news or information that you would like printed in the Roundup, contact the Office of Information and Publications, Ext. 349 or 340. This includes Classified Ads, baby showers, new born puppies, hang nails, you name it...we print it. (If it is reasonable).

ROUNDUP

'Round the campus

FRIDAY, OCT. 25, 1968

KGW-TV (Channel 8) out of Portland will present two repeat telecasts of a KGW News special on the 1 1/2 per cent tax limitation measure (No. 7) on Sunday at 9:30 a.m. and Tuesday during "Telescope" at 9 a.m. Oct. 27 and 29.

Two new Adult Education classes will begin Oct. 29 and they will be Home Economics oriented. They are "Basic Nutrition for Meal Managers" and "Working With Young Children." Both classes are three term sequences.

There was a special Instructional Council meeting yesterday in the Board Room. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss long-range planning in terms of the Campus. A report of their findings and suggestions will be submitted to the Board in the near future.

The Oregon Community College Association is sponsoring a meeting of the Oregon Business Managers in the Board Room in the Administration Building today from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The chairmen of the Home Economics Departments of the various community colleges met here in the Health Building Oct. 12. PAULINE GOODWIN, of the State Department of Education and ISABELLA McQUESTEN from Oregon State University were the speakers.

A monthly calendar of events is being published by the Student Body as a service to students and staff. To insure that an activity is placed on this calendar, the dates will have to be arranged four work-days before the end of the preceding month. JACK CARTER, coordinator of student activities has the master calendar, so anyone wanting to place a date must contact him at ext. 268 or 269, in the Health Building.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction, DALE PARNELL, has received the endorsement of the Oregonian Newspaper.

The Oregon Community College Faculty Association headed by History prof BILL BEALS, met Oct. 19 in Portland. The main point of concern was the affect of the tax limitation measure, No. 7, on community colleges should it pass in November. Along with several other important instructional losses, some of the schools could face the loss of accreditation. Without accreditation the students would be unable to transfer their community college credits to a four-year school and therefore the time spent in community college would be lost to the students. The OCCFA feels it is very important that all staff and anyone associated with education know how important it is that Measure No. 7 be voted down.

Fellowships Open

Staff members interested in applying for doctoral or postdoctoral fellowships through the Midwest Community College Leadership Council can do so until March 1, 1969. The eligibility requirements state that to apply for doctoral fellowships they must have a Master's degree and applicants for the postdoctoral grants must hold an earned doctorate. More information and applications can be obtained by writing to,

Dean Case Leaves For Ohio

Dean of Instruction LEW CASE will leave tomorrow (Oct. 26) for Berea, Ohio, where he will attend an institute on Understanding Underachievement in the College Years. While he is gone Lew is planning to do some instructor recruiting for the 1969-70 academic year in Pennsylvania, Missouri, Indiana, West Virginia, Michigan and Ohio. He is also going to observe several dial-retrieval systems in colleges. The dial-retrieval system is one in which there is a central location on campus where all types of audio-visual aids, tapes, records, speeches, TV tapes, etc. are kept and an individual student can sit at a study carouel and dial a tape or record and

Tax Base Lost If No. 7 Passes

A summary on the affect of the 1 1/2 per cent tax limitation (Measure 7) on LCC was presented by Funding specialist DICK EYMANN at a staff association meeting Oct. 18. The passage of this measure could wipe out LCC's $1.5 million tax base. It could cause an enrollment cutback, an enlargement of classes from an average of 20 to 30 or 40 per class, or the loss of any proposed salary increase for staff members. There have been several News Specials on TV and radio concerning the tax limitation and Dick encouraged the staff to get interested and become familiar with information on the subject.

Other business discussed at the meeting included: a short plea by Dr. HAMILL, acting president, to please "help keep Dr. Parnell out of jail", by observing the law concerning his campaign. The staff have been asked not to wear campaign buttons while on-the-job in an attempt to influence students. The proposed constitutional revision was discussed. The SPPC presented the proposed salary increase for the coming year, and association President BUCK BAILEY reported that the committee assignments were made, but could not be released until the confirmation letters had been sent.

The meeting was held in the gym.

THIS MESSAGE IS FOR THE MEN ON THE STAFF AT LCC. The Roundup is no longer being mailed to the home; therefore the wives of staff members must depend completely upon their husbands' never failing memories to bring it home for them to read. Men, why not show your wives how kind and considerate you can be. This Roundup has a message for them. Please remember to take it home tonight.

hear it at his own booth. There are many different setups which can be used and this is what Dean Case will be observing. He will visit several colleges and Universities including: Bucknell University, the University of Tulsa, Oral Roberts University, and Oklahoma Christian. The Board has proposed that a summer workshop be set up for the purpose of developing materials for such a system.

On his return trip he will go by way of San Francisco where he will join Acting President BOB HAMILL, and Paramedical-Paramedical Chairman Dr. JOHN DICKSON, for the American Association of Junior Colleges' Western Regional Conference on Occupational Education, Nov. 10-13.

NAMES IN THE NEWS

The midyear conference of the Dental Hygiene Association was held Oct. 12 and 13 at the Village Green in Cottage Grove. Dr. William Alexander, president of the State Dental Association, spoke on "Dentistry in the Future," followed by Dr. JOHN DICKSON, chairman of the parodontal program, who spoke on the philosophy of LCC. Dr. Dickson also outlined the dental program here at Lane.

After lunch, the group toured the dental facilities here and the hygienists were quite impressed since LCC is the first school to have a dental Hygiene program in Oregon outside of the University of Oregon Dental School in Portland.

MURIEL PETERSON, dental instructor, made all of the arrangements for the conference. Other staff members attending from LCC were: SANDY HOFFMAN, parodontal secretary; TERRY STRONG, dental instructor, and two dental hygiene students, PAT ELLISON and BETTY SHERMAN. Mrs. DEAN WEBB, wife of board member DR. WEBB, a Cottage Grove dentist, was also present.

ED RAGOZZINO, performing arts chairman, has been nominated for the Oregon Teacher of the Year award by the Oregon Theatre Arts Association. Each division of the Oregon Education Association can nominate a candidate before Oct. 25. The Oregon winner will be announced in November and then will compete on the national level for the "Teacher of the Year" award sponsored by LOOK magazine.

EDWIN HEDDEN, husband of FLORENCE HEDDEN, secretary to Dean of Instruction LEW CASE, has taken up his second career by way of Lane Community College. Florence says, "On Thursday, he quit his job at Sears and the next day he was enrolled in the Data Processing program. He's really enjoying it."

LCC Board member ROBERT AKERMAN is running for re-election to the Springfield city council. Akerman is a local attorney and has served on the Board since the college was founded.

Mechanics Chairman MEL GASKILL, and Mechanics profs MARV HOVIAND, CARL LEMKE, and DAN BELTRAMI, student instructor flew to Seattle Community College- Aircraft section for the Fall Conference of the Pacific Northwest Aerospace Educators. DON DICKINSON, mechanics prof, drove up with his family to visit friends and also attended the conference. The group discussed the procedures for adopting the new Federal Aviation Curriculum for approved mechanics schools.

The weather failed to cooperate on the return trip so Mel, Carl, and Dan returned by commercial airlines Saturday and Marv remained overnight to bring the plane home.

The LCC Faculty Wives Association will hold a meeting Nov. 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the Board room on the second floor of the Administration Building. There will be a short business discussion followed by a demonstration of Christmas holiday home decorations. A representative from the Four Seasons Gift Shop will make the decorations and three decorations will be raffled at 25¢ a chance. JANE BAILEY and HELEN HODGES are in charge of the meeting. All faculty wives are invited to attend and are encouraged to do so.

BETTY EKSTROM, counselor-on-leave, has a full schedule in the counseling program at New York University. She is taking 19 credit hours this semester and must spend 25 to 30 days during the semester in field work at area colleges. On completing the program next May, she'll receive an M.A. degree through the School of Education.

Her address is Fifth Avenue Hotel, 24 5th Ave., New York City, N.Y. 10011.

DICK EYMANN, governmental affairs and funding specialist, was a guest on the KORE radio "Listen and Talk Show" Oct. 15. Dick presented information about the 1 1/2 per cent tax limitation, and how it would affect the community colleges in Oregon.

Eight LCC counselors attended the Northwest College Personnel Association annual conference in Gearhart, Oct. 20, 21 and 22. The eight attending were: BUCK BAILEY, placement; ART SCHAEFER, alumni; JOHN BERNHAM, testing; JACK CARTER, student activities; RALPH BURNS; DAVE ROOF; BOB COOK; and KEN HILLS, director.

A panel entitled "The Disadvantaged Student" started the conference and it was agreed upon that there is actually no such person, because every student has his own particular advantage. Dr. Kratz, a Stanford professor, was the keynote speaker. He discussed the social issues faced by students. Also included in the meeting was a group sensitivity session, conducted by a member of the University of Oregon staff.

The Roundup is prepared by the Office of Information and Publications at Lane Community College, 4000 E. 30th Ave., Eugene, Ore. 97405. Kathy Dave, editor. Ext. 340

JIM BROCK, KEITH HARKER and HOWARD LINDSTROM have returned from visiting two colleges in California, where they inspected the installations of dial information retrieval systems. The IBM computer at Palo Alto was inspected and they saw a demonstration of dial access equipment at the University of California at Santa Barbara. San Jose City College was also visited.

During their stay, the men had RCA and Chester Electronics as hosts. Their goal is to evaluate these demonstrations in light of the proposals and requests made in the specifications of the LCC dial access system. They report the trip to be valuable because they saw the complete installations in operation. They were also able to use the equipment.

BUD HAKANSON, dean of students, attended a meeting of the Oregon High School College Relations Council in Corvallis, Oct. 18. The topic was high school contact by college representatives; and Bud, as chairman of the Students Contact Committee, prepared a paper advocating that representatives from the schools not visit or recruit outside their own community college districts.

GLADYS BELDEN, Home ec. department chairman spent Monday and Tuesday in Washington attending a committee meeting of the American Home Economics Association. The group made plans for a workshop for the training and Use of Auxiliary Workers in Home Economics.

LYLE SWETLAND, LCC board member, and State Senator GLEN STADLER, husband of LCC counselor HELENE STADLER, were named co-chairman of the Lane County committee of the Oregon campaign for Humphrey-Muskie national Democratic ticket.

PAULINE DIXON and JOHN BERNHAM, counselors, spent Wednesday in Newport, visiting the high school telling the story of LCC. Newport is not in a community college district so they requested that we send representatives to the school.

MARY MERRILL and ROSEMARY GRANT, MDTA business profs, attended a two-week workshop in Los Angeles for instructors in the Manpower Development Training programs from Sept. 23 - Oct. 7. Mary and Rosemary were the only delegates from Oregon, and the other participants were from Texas, Arizona, Nevada, and Hawaii. Some of the workshop was spent in classes and other days were used to tour several Skill Centers including the Community Skills Center in Watts. One day was spent on a research trip to Mexico to study teaching methods for Spanish speaking students.
