

ROUNDUP

'Round the campus

Testing Coordinator JOHN BERNHAM reports new testing hours for the General Education Development tests (GED). The tests are given Monday through Thursday from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Friday 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. No appointment is necessary; however, an evening test should be started by 6 p.m. to allow adequate time for completion. The charge for administering the test is $5 and a $5 fee is required by the Oregon State Department of Education for the certificate.

The Board of Education adopted a resolution opposing the 1 1/2 per cent tax limitation recently. The resolution, No. 44, states the reasons for the opposition, including the nullification of the tax base, the partial closing of the doors at LCC and other steps that would be taken should the measure pass.

Students who drive two different vehicles to school should come in and get parking stickers for both cars. It was stated earlier that if students were going to drive a second car infrequently, it could be parked in the visitors parking area. This has become impossible because there are not enough parking spaces for visitors. Those who will be driving a second car on occasion should come in and register it and pick up a second parking sticker.

A committee consisting of BILL COX dean of college services, EVAN ALFORD, English prof, JIM SNOW, institutional research director and FLOYD WILKES, data processing director was appointed by Acting President BOB HAMILL to review the use of college cars. The group will try and decide who should have them, student use, servicing, etc. The group will report their findings in the Nov. 12 cabinet meeting.

KEITH HARKER, LRC director, reports that the library has been having trouble enforcing the reserve book rules. Says Keith, "Many students borrow 'two-hour' books and keep them for days, thereby keeping other students from doing required course reading." As a result of the problem the library has decided to administer a fine on overdue reserve books. A charge of 25¢ will be placed on all overdue books in the reserve system.

Roundup can be mailed

Now that Fall Term is well underway the Roundup is no longer being mailed to the homes of staff members. The reason for this is because we do not have a full mailing stencil list that includes all of the part-time instructors and employees. The part-time list would be changing weekly and this could become very expensive and timely. However, we do have funds allocated for mailing so if you would prefer to have the Roundup mailed, please contact the office of Information and Publications and they will mail it to your home. Thank you for your cooperation.

Enrollment Up

A report from BUD HAKANSON, dean of students, on enrollment shows an increase in every division over the 1967-68 headcount figures. The total headcount figures for 68-69 are 6042 as compared to 4465 last year. This figure includes all divisions including Study Skills enrollment and Adult Basic Education. The comparative figures for regular credit programs are 4188 for this year and 2877 for last fall. The adult vocational programs are running just about the same however.

Who's Bob Hamill?

NILE WILLIAMS, Adult Education director, reports telling a Torch reporter that BOB HAMILL would speak at the Oct. 29 convocation. Not long after the interview was terminated, the Adult Education Department got a follow-up telephone call from the reporter. The fledgling news-person asked: "Who's Bob Hamill?"

The same day, the president sought some information from a secretary in an office not far from his own. "What's your name?" she asked.

Said Bob, philosophically: "It all helps a guy to keep things in perspective."

"Goodguys" steal show

The Goodguy Ballet Company was the featured attraction at the opening convocation Oct. 29. Just getting started in the ballet profession, the group was accompanied by their choreographer NICKI CRAFTS of Lane Community College. The group went through their routine warmups and then they danced the "Dance of The Swan". The performers included: DICK NEWELL, BERT DOTSON, LARRY ROMINE, CAROL de BROEKERT, JORIS JOHNSON, JIM SNOW, BUCK BAILEY, JACK CARTER, DEAN HAKANSON, and DEAN COX. The main characters were prince Sigfried--Buck Bailey and the princess Odette--Dick Newell. The story is about a prince who falls in love with a princess, but she is under a spell and is a swan. He shoots the swan and finds that it is a princess and breaks the spell with a kiss. However, when Buck bent to wake the princess (Dick), Dick whispered "Kiss me and I'll hit you with my purse, Buck."

Also speaking at the convocation was Acting president BOB HAMILL. He offered a challenge to the students to be inventive.

ED RAGOZZINO, performing arts chairman, introduced his dance chorus from "Stop the World" and they went through their warmups to give the audience an idea of what was necessary to get in shape for the active dances involved.

Eddie's wife home

MARGARET BAILES, wife of Custodian EDDIE BAILES, has been the center of attention all week. Margaret, gold-medal winner in the 1968 Olympics for her effort in the 400 meter relay, arrived home Monday evening and has been on the go all week. Tuesday was officially declared "Margaret Bailes Day" and a parade down the streets of Eugene honored Margaret and Eddie. There was an assembly in her honor at her home high school, Churchill on Tuesday, and there is a dance scheduled for tomorrow night to further congratulate her.

The Roundup is prepared by the Office of Information and Publications at Lane Community College, 4000 E. 30th Ave., Eugene, Ore. 97405. Kathy Dave, editor. Ext. 340

NAMES IN THE NEWS

MARY FIORENTINO, director of nursing, attended the Western Council on Higher Education for Nursing Conference Oct. 24 and 25 in Billings, Montana.

More than 200 delegates from the 11 western states participated in seminars related to Associate Degree Nursing Education, Baccalaureate and higher nursing education and continuing education.

Bookstore manager ADA ZINSER, attended a regional meeting of the National Association of College Stores in Portland Oct. 15 and 16. Tuesday was used for exhibits by several college store suppliers and also demonstrations of various materials. Wednesday, the representatives attended meetings which were planned and presented by a three man team including, the customer relations representative from McGraw Hill Publishers, and two well experienced bookstore managers, one from Iowa and one from Vermont. They discussed communications, book orderings and book return methods.

DICK EYMANN, funding specialist, has been busy speaking to several groups and organizations on the 1 1/2 per cent tax limitation. He has been speaking in opposition to the measure.

ROUNDUP

OCCA deans meet at OSU

Dean of Students BUD HAKANSON, who is chairman of the Oregon Community College Association Deans' Meeting, reports they will meet today & tomorrow (Nov. 8-9) on the Oregon State University campus at Corvallis. Guest speaker at the Friday evening banquet will be RON DAUGHERTY, LCC's administrative intern. He will speak on "Experiences of an Administrative Intern at the Community College Level."

Saturday morning Dr. Keith Goldhammer of OSU and Stoddard Malarkey of the University of Oregon will speak on "Teacher Training Programs." The group will also discuss a legislative program proposed by the OCCA.

Those attending from LCC will include: DEAN COX, DEAN HAKANSON, Associate Deans of Instruction GERRY RASMUSSEN and Dr. LaGRANDEUR, RON DAUGHERTY, administrative intern and acting President Dr. HAMILL.

Staff members attend confabs

JOHN PHILIPS, forestry prof, attended the annual Pacific Logging Congress in Portland, Oct. 28-30. The theme this year was "The Changing Forest" and there were several panels discussing the new methods of logging, perserving etc. The congress is one way in which the total forest industry is united and informed of the changing forest. John's main purpose for attending the congress was to get information and keep up on the changing methods for his Spring Term Forest Planning course. He can now teach the latest methods in forest planning. The congress is for loggers and forestry technicians and only a few there, were in the educational field as such.

John said that in the spring the district conference will be held in Eugene and he will take his forestry classes to observe.

Associate Dean of Instruction RAY LaGRANDEUR, Director of Special Training Programs LARRY MURRAY and Director of Adult Education NILE WILLIAMS attended the Northwest Conference of the National Association of Public Schools Adult Education in Seattle, Tuesday through today.

BOB JOHNSON, DICK ENO, GARY RHOLL, and HUGH COWLEY, business profs, attended the Northwest Universities Business Association Conference in Spokane last week. The group was the only representative from a community college. LCC is now well-known in schools of business administration throughout the northwest as a result of the group's representation at the conference.

Acting President BOB HAMILL and Paradental Chairman JOHN DICKSON will travel to San Francisco this weekend to join Dean of Instruction LEW CASE at the American Association of Junior Colleges Regional Conference. The trio will return to Lane early the 15th (next Friday).

HAYDEN HODGES, physics prof, attended the Pacific Northwest Physics Association Conference Oct. 22 and 23. The conference was held on the University of Washington campus in Seattle.

The LCC Science Department hosted a meeting of the Oregon Community Colleges science teachers, in the Science Building Nov. 2. Representatives from all of the community colleges in Oregon with the exception of Clatsop, discussed similar problems that come up in teaching, and also exchanged ideas and teaching techniques. There were also representatives from Oregon State University, University of Oregon and Oregon College of Education. The discussions were mainly concerned with the subject areas of biology, physics, chemistry and geology.

Dick, Dale, Bob win elections

DICK EYMANN, governmental affairs and funding specialist, Dr. DALE PARNELL, former LCC president, and ROBERT ACKERMAN, board member, were all victorious in their various political races.

Dick was successful in gaining a seat in the Oregon House of Representatives over his republican opponent, Ed Bennett, while Dr. Parnell was chosen over his opponent Ed Blake for State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Bob Ackerman was re-elected to serve on the Springfield city council in Ward # 4 over Tom Johnson.

Both Dr. Parnell and Bob Ackerman took their races by a two to one margin. Parnell leading Blake by more than 100,000 votes and Ackerman defeating Johnson

Dick won his seat in the Oregon House by a substantial margin. He took 54% of the total votes (52% is considered safe). Dick will serve as a representative in district 13 for a two-year term. He will remain a member of the LCC staff, but during the legislative session which usually runs from January to April, he will spend most of his time in Salem, coming to Lane on weekends and evenings.

The enthusiasm of Dick's victory was clearly expressed by one of the secretaries when she asked, "Now when do you leave for Washington?"

Dick is not a newcomer to the legislature, having served previously in 1957, 1961 and 1963, each a two-year term. He has held the position of Executive Secretary to the Oregon State Tax Commission; and during his 1963 term he was elected majority leader of the House Tax Committee.

Dr. Parnell has been a part of Oregon's education system for many years. First as an instructor; principal; superintendent for Lane County Schools; the first president of LCC and in June of 1968 he was appointed to finish out Minear's term as State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Also of concern to LCC staff members, the 1 1/2 per cent tax limitation went down to defeat, retaining LCC's $1.5 million tax base. Had the measure passed, the doors of LCC would have been forced to close partially.

The Roundup is prepared by the Office of Information and Publications at Lane Community College, 4000 E. 30th Ave. Eugene, Ore. 97405. KATHY DAVE editor, ext. 340

The President's cabinet meeting has been canceled for this week (Nov. 12) because several of the administrators are attending conferences.

NAMES IN THE NEWS

Health Chairman CECIL HODGES was recently re-elected to a three-year term on the board of directors of the Home Health Service Agency for Lane County. Cecil has been on the board since the agency began. In addition, he will serve as treasurer for the coming year. The HHSA is the approved agency that implements the Home Health Service under the Social Security Amendment of 1965 (medicare).

NANCY BELK, library clerk-on-leave, visited staff members Monday and she is doing much better. Nancy had surgery on her back last month and has been unable to be up-and-around. She said it might be only two weeks before she could come back to work.

Dean of Students, BUD HAKANSON, will be on vacation next week. He plans to stay at home and work on the dissertation for his doctorate.

The new face in the Business Office is EDDIE (Edistina) MILLER. Eddie replaces PENNY MILLER as the accounts payable bookkeeper, and Penny is replacing THELMA KITTERMAN, who has been promoted to head cashier. Gale Tyner vacated that position last month.

CARL BLOOD, industrial tech chairman, reports that he is riding in a very distinguished carpool. Others in the group include; MARGARET KNUTSON, secretary to DEAN COX; CAROL BECKLEY, secretary to BOB HAMILL; and MABEL KENNEDY, student records clerk. It's not everyone who rides to work with such nobility.

MEL GASKILL, mechanics chairman, reports the arrival of the Airframe and Powerplant's new general precision-link trainer. This is a miniature aircraft which is used in flight training.

Happy birthday to PEGGY WAKEFIELD, secretary to counselors JACK CARTER, and JOHN BERNHAM, Nov. 6; ROBERT MARSHALL, director of admissions, 7; JOHN BERNHAM, testing coordinator, and TERRY STRONG, dental instructor, 9.

Dr. HAMILL, acting president, and GERRY RASMUSSEN, associate dean of instruction, met with Walter Leth, state director of agriculture in Salem, Nov. 1, to discuss the possibility of offering a program in food processing. The men also discussed areas related with agriculture.

According to BOB HAMILL, acting president, LCC is over budgeted by $16,000 in state reimbursements. This means that we budgeted for an expected $16,000 worth of state monies that we are not going to receive. This is good proof that the overall college budget is getting tighter.

BILL BEALS, social science prof, has been appointed to the Pleasant Hill School District Budget Committee.

NILE WILLIAMS, director of Adult Education, was elected to the regional board of directors of the Community College Association for Public Events and Services for the coming year. The election was held at the first regional meeting of the CCAPES in Seattle, last week. The organization was formerly a state association for California community colleges only.

Round the campus

The reflecting pool located outside the west entrance to the Administration Building has been turned over to the Science Department to use as a teaching station. FREEMAN ROWE and RICK FRAGA, science profs, have volunteered to supply the pool with fish & plant life native to the Oregon climate. The inhabitants will include fish and plant life that are native to the climate in this area. These will include water lilies, algae, bass, croppie, blue gill etc.

The Parental Department, headed by Dr. JOHN DICKSON, reports that the dental hygiene students will begin performing oral prophylaxis (cleaning and scaling of teeth) around Jan. 13. Those persons wishing to take advantage of this service should contact the department secretary, SANDY HOFFMAN, ext. 266 for an appointment to be screened. The patients will be screened on Thursday mornings from now until the 13th.

A class designed to train basketball officials will begin this coming Tuesday evening in the Health Building. It will be offered through the Adult Ed Department in conjunction with the Lane County Basketball Officials Association. Anyone interested in learning to officiate games is welcome to come. The trainees will be qualified to officiate in games for boys clubs, etc. This is another way in which LCC is offering public service assistance.

The LCBOA will begin having meetings on the campus every Monday night. The location is better for all of the persons involved.

The Parental Department, directed by Dr. JOHN DICKSON, has been awarded a $21,000 grant by the State Department of Health, to finance a one-year dental treatment program for the poor. The program is scheduled to begin as soon as the department can find a dentist for the program. The authorization was made last Monday and the patients will be screened through the Lane Human Resources Agency.

P.S. The program's new dentist is Dr. JACĀK DUNHAM from Cottage Grove. Jack will begin today.

The OCCA Business Managers Association met in the Board Room Oct. 25 to discuss the 1 1/2 per cent tax limitation, bookstore operations, insurance, teachers contracts, and the role of business managers in community colleges.

Electricity (for heat and lights) this fiscal year will probably run close to $60,000 instead of the budgeted $30,000, according to Dr. Hamill.

ODDS & ENDS

WANTED: 30 issues of the Oct. 19th issue of the "Saturday Evening Post." This issue of the Post is needed for a class in Business Advertising. If you have one please contact HUGH COWLEY, business prof, at ext. 291. The course will be offered Winter Term.

Would you like to "Firm up" your plans to get in shape? You can do it with only 30 minutes of continuous exercises followed by a sauna or volleyball. Men and women are welcome to join the staff exercise group on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 4:15 p.m. or 5:15. For further information call CAROLE SISLER in the Health and P.E. Department, ext. 277.

LINDA CADWELL, LRC graphic artist, and her assistant, SUSAN WATKINS are available to the instructional staff for production of overhead transparencies, charts, graphs, 35mm slides, layouts and designs, and several other types of visual productions. Instructors may contact Linda and Susan Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on the second floor in the southwest corner of the Apprenticeship Building.

A reminder to faculty members who have been leaving valuables laying in their individual office modules. Students have been reported climbing over the walls and taking personal belongings. Please keep your belongings in a safe place when you are not in your office.

Last week there was a story in the Round-up concerning fines on reserve books. The article stated that a fine of 25¢ would be charged on overdue books. The library would like to clarify this statement. The 25¢ charge is per hour for the books; not a straight charge of 25¢ per book.

The President's Cabinet Meetings, held each Tuesday morning at 9:30 a.m. are open to all staff members who wish to come. The cabinet meets in the board room on the second floor of the Administration Building.

A state-wide radiological exam utilizing the x-ray facilities on our campus was given at LCC Nov. 2. Those who passed the exam now become licensed to take dental x-rays. All persons who take dental x-rays must be licensed.

Enrollment report says LCC growing

JIM SNOW, director of institutional research, released a report on the estimated enrollment projections of LCC for the next several years, to the various department chairmen and directors. Interested instructors may see a copy of the report in their department offices.

Jim compiled the report using data provided by the Education Coordinating Council in a report for the state and Lane County.

The report consists of four tables, the first being the estimated per cent of increase for all community colleges in Oregon on a yearly basis. All of the tables are figured on Fall Term Headcount, with the exception of Table IV. All programs are included. The one important assumption made was that LCC will grow at the same rate as the state average. LCC could grow faster.

Table II is the projection for LCC only, for Fall Term headcount. The estimation for 1968 was 5948, which is very close to the actual figure.

Table III divides the Fall Term projections into programs. Vocational credits, lower division credit programs and special programs.

Table IV is the projected enrollment for LCC of Full-time Equivalent Students. This table is perhaps the most important since it projects the number of students that will use the facilities in a full-time cap-

STUDY SKILLS SETS NEW HOURS

Effective last Friday, Nov. 8, the Study Skills Center will have new hours. The new schedule is as follows:

Monday-Thursday 8 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Friday-9 a.m. to 12 noon (Language lab only)

The reason for the cutback in hours according to Director HOWARD BIRD, is because the students are not using the facilities enough on Friday evenings and Saturdays to warrant the additional availability of instructors.

FRIDAY, NOV. 15, 1968

Round the campus

Tickets to "Stop the World", LCC's first production went on sale to staff and students, Tuesday in the Forum. Prices are $1.50. The box office ext. is 359. The price for off-campus tickets is $2. The dates are Dec. 5, 6, 7, 11, 12, 13, and 14. There are no reserved seats. The production will be held in the Forum and all 370 seats are excellent.

A workshop for LCC secretaries on "Good Telephone Manners" will take place Nov. 22 at 1:30 p.m. in room 202 in the Administration Building. A representative from the Bell Telephone Co. will speak on the subject of telephone manners. Any LCC employee who answers the telephone as a part of her job is invited to attend.

The Roundup is prepared by the Office of Information and Publications at Lane Community College, 4000 E. 30th Ave. Eugene, Ore. 97405. KATHY DAVE editor, ext. 340

The college car committee, appointed by Acting President BOB HAMILL, to review the use of college vehicles as to who should use them, student use, etc. has proposed that a motor pool be established for use of college cars for college events. If the pool is established in January, only the president of the college will have a personal car.

A group of school officials from Phenix, Ore. toured the campus Wednesday afternoon looking for ideas for a community college in that southern Oregon area. The group was the third from Jackson County, others have visited from Medford and Ashland.

Faculty identification cards are now available from the Office of Instruction. Several of the faculty members requested these for identification for using the University of Oregon Library facilities.

Search begins for new president

During the next several months, LCC's Board of Directors will be searching for a permanent president. The quest for the new president will be conducted nationwide; with the final decision not coming until the latter part of March, 1969.

An appointment of this kind, which must be considered for a period of two to four months is sure to cause rumors, confusion and disagreements. For these reasons the Board, in an attempt to keep confusion at a minimum and be fair to all concerned, has taken a few steps to inform and hear the people.

First, the Board has asked two administrators to act as "middlemen" for questions staff members and applicants may have.

Second, the Board has scheduled a public meeting, Nov. 20 from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Board Room. This meeting will be open to all persons who want to give their opinions and views as to what direction the college should take in the future. The future goals of the college will affect the kind of person the Board hires.

There have been some misunderstandings and disagreements among the staff concerning the proposed screening committee, as to how many should be on the committee, which areas should be represented, and how many from each area of representation. The Board encourages those wanting to air their feelings on this proposed committee to attend the meeting Wednesday night along with any person interested in the selection.

If you as a staff member have any questions concerning the appointment, please see either Bert Dotson or Bud Hakanson on the second floor of the Administration Building. --KATHY DAVE, editor.

Teachers who wish Certificates of Appreciation prepared for guest lecturers in their classes should contact Associate Dean of Instruction JERRY RASMUSSEN. Certificates have been printed along design and content lines suggested by Social Science Prof, PAUL MALM.

The Information and Publications department is printing Christmas cards for purchase by the various departments to give to tradesmen. EDNA CLEMENT, graphic artist is designing the college oriented cards.

In last week's Roundup we congratulated the LCC political winners. This week we honor DON WILSON, part-time instructor in the Business Department, for his victory over Larry Perry in a race for a seat in the Oregon House of Representatives from District 14. Don is a Republican representative.

Letter of appreciation

The following letter of appreciation was received by BERT DOTSON, administrative assistant, from Mrs. CLARENCE (JEAN) CROCKER, wife of one of LCC's former mechanics instructors, who died during the 1967-68 school year.

Dear Mr. Dotson,

Thank you very much indeed for sending to me the 1967-68 issue of the Titan. It is difficult to put into words, how much these books mean to me; and how proud I am of the beautiful tribute paid to Clarence. Thank you all very much.

Most Sincerely,
Jean Crocker.

The tribute to Clarence is on page 8 of the Titan. The author is PAUL ARMSTRONG, English prof.

NAMES

VERN SCHWIN, math prof, returned Sunday from Grant County with a 475 lbs. bull elk in tow. Vern killed the large six-point near Murderers Creek. He was not ashamed to admit he shot at it four times and it still got away, because he caught up with it and discovered the elk had been hit four times. Vern also had his picture in the Register-Guard Sunday with a nice write-up.

Dr. LELAND CUMMINSKY, a representative from the American Association of Junior Colleges in Washington D.C., was on campus Friday, Nov. 8, to speak with BERT DOTSON and RON DAUGHTERTY about the ways in which LCC serves the college community with public community service. Ron, administrative intern, will be writing a position paper on the way in which LCC serves as a community service within the campus, as a part of his internship. Dr. Cumminsky will make a report to his colleagues in Washington on the community services LCC and other community colleges offer their surrounding areas. The three also went on a tour of the campus and to lunch with CHARLENE EDMUNDS, secretary to Bert Dotson; JIM SNOW, director of institutional research, LARRY ROMINE, director of information and publications; and LEE HALBURG, math prof.

The Social Committee, headed by CAROL BECKLEY, secretary to BOB HAMIL, met yesterday and began planning for the Staff Christmas Party. Others attending the meeting include: NORMA EVERS, adult ed bookkeeper; RAY NOTT, electronics prof; JESSIE McCormick, custodian and SANDY HOFFMAN, paradenal secretary.

MARV HOVLAND, flight instructor, taped an interview on the use of the airframe and powerplants new precision - link-trainer for a broadcast on KUGN RADIO. The first of a two-part series was on the air Wednesday and the conclusion was broadcast yesterday.

JOHN LOUGHLIN, PAT GORE and ROGER JAY, mathematics profs, and JIM COX, business prof, traveled to Oregon State University, Nov. 1, to visit the Computer Center and discuss an advanced programming course which they are taking via a teletype terminal in the data processing department.

Director of Nursing, MARY FIORENTINO, reports that twenty school nurses, representing Dist. #4, visited the campus Nov. 4. The women toured the new health facilities and also visited the LRC building and Study Skills Center.

The Food Services Department better known as the "Snack Shack", is now serving full dinners. It seems that the food must be pretty inviting, MERLIN AMES, food supervisor reports "We've had as many as 780 and our lowest total for one day is 560. If we ever get ahead we may print a menu in the Roundup."

Hours incorrect for Study Skills Center

The Study Skills Center has set up the following schedule of hours.

Monday-Thursday 8 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Friday- 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Saturday-9 a.m. to 12 noon (language lab only)

The schedule was printed incorrectly in the Nov. 15 issue of the Roundup. According to Director HOWARD BIRD the above hours should give sufficient instructor availability to students wishing help.

A "life center" displaying several local species of game fish has been set up in the main entrance of the Science building. Four aquaria containing bass, bluegill, croppie, trout and catfish are included, along with a marine aquarium stocked with many intertidal species. RICHARD FRAGA and FREEMAN ROWE, science profs, engineered the display. The next addition to the Center will be a reptile terrarium.

Foreign Students Counselor IRENE PARENT reports that plans for the annual International Dinner are underway. The date is tentatively set for Dec. 5. "We are just making plans so we aren't definitely sure about the arrangements yet."

LCC to host conference

Language Arts Chairman JOHN HOWARD and English Prof KAREN LANSLOWNE traveled to Portland, Nov. 16 to meet with members of the regional committee of the National Council of Teachers of English to begin plans for the Pacific Northwest Regional Conference of the NCTE. The regional conference is scheduled to take place in Eugene, Feb. 28-March 1. LCC will host the event.

Committee members selected the theme "English in an Era of Protest" during the planning session. The Northwest Region is composed of Washington, Montana, Idaho, Wyoming and Oregon.

Open meeting begins search

The search for a permanent president to replace LCC's first president, Dale Parnell, now state superintendent of instruction, officially began at an open meeting of LCC's board of education Wednesday night.

Several plans were confirmed and dates set. These included the authorization by the Board to begin taking applications and the appointment of a nine-member screening committee.

Interested patrons were invited by the Board to come and express their views on the type of person the Board should seek to fill the vacancy. Any person who wanted to speak was allotted a time when he could give suggestions. Of the approximate 50 persons attending, 18 spoke. Most were staff members or students.

Of special concern to the staff was the final selection of the screening committee. There had been some discussion on this subject because at an earlier meeting, the Board, in an attempt to keep the committee as small as possible for more effective screening, had deleted the representation of classified staff from the original proposed committee.

After the discussion, and a review of representation areas, the Board expressed its apology for the apparent hurt feelings and decided in all fairness that they would substitute a classified representative for one of the two board positions on the committee.

The final committee is as follows: one board member, Dr. CLIFF MATSON, a Junction City dentist; one school superintendent, EDWARD BUCK, superintendent from the Florence School District; one representative of the advisory committee, DON DAVIDSON, owner and manager of Davidson Industries in Mapleton; two students, one a member of the 1968-69 senate, first Vice-president ROGER SHACKFORD, and an alumni, the first Student Body President of LCC CHARLES SOLOMON; and four staff members, two instructional, PAUL MALM, social science prof and MURIEL PETERSON, paraprofessional instructor, one administrator, GERRY RASMUSSEN, associate dean of instruction, and one classified, FLORENCE HEDDEN, secretary to Dean of Instruction LEW CASE. These people will review all of the applications and make recommendations of several candidates to the Board before the final interviews, visitations etc.

The deadline for applications is to be February 1, 1969 with the final announcement tentatively set for the last of March.

Round the campus

The Adult Education department is providing facilities and advertising for the current Family Life Discussion Series being offered in the Eugene-Springfield area. The series is sponsored by the Lane County Family Counseling Service in cooperation with LCC's Adult Ed department and the Junior League of Women. The Women's League is furnishing leaders for the discussion periods.

KLCC, LCC's educational FM broadcast station, went on the air Nov. 6, to begin the 1968-69 year of educational broadcasting, music and news, according to ROGER HOUGLUM, electronics department chairman. KLCC is located at 90.3 megacycles on the FM dial. It has a radiated power of 440 watts and preliminary listening reports indicate that KLCC is well received over a radius of 40 miles. Roger is manager of the station and ALAN REED is manager of the student staff.

Busy month

The Graphics section of the LRC department reports a busy schedule for October according to figures reported by LINDA CADWELL, graphic artist. The department has made 35 signs, 2 layouts, 6 mounts, over 1,000 laminations, 550 transparencies, 34 slides and 4 books. HOWARD LINDSTROM, audiovisual coordinator reports the film usage as follows: 26 loan films, 31 rental films and 55 IMC films. Those services are for instructional purposes.

EDDIE BAILES LEAVING

EDDIE BAILES, custodian, and his wife MARGARET, Olympic Gold Medal winner, are leaving Eugene at the end of November to live in Oakland California. Says Eddie of the move, "We are moving to Oakland, because I can work and go to school there and Margaret wants to enter the Loral Track club there. It isn't that we don't like Eugene or LCC, but we feel that we will have better opportunities in California right now."

NAMES

BILL WRIGHT, counselor-instructor, returned last Friday from a three-week Counselors' Institute in California. "They worked us pretty hard, but it was a meaningful institute and I gained some insight that I didn't have before," said Bill.

MEL KRAUSE, physical education prof and intramurals coordinator, was guest speaker at the Junction City High School Fall Sports Banquet, Nov. 19. Mel spoke on the topic "Self Discipline, the First Thing You Learn in Sports".

Home Economic Prof JEANNE ARMSTRONG is the author of an article recently published in the September edition of the Curriculum Bulletin No. 294. The article is "Socialization and Acculturation of Deprived Young Children in Schools." The Magazine is published by the School of Education at the University of Oregon. The price is 25¢.

The Campus Crusade Club needs an advisor. The policy for campus clubs states that all clubs must have advisors. Any one who is interested should see JACK CARTER, coordinator of student activities as soon as possible. Jack's office is in the Health building, ext. 268,269.

Home Ec Chairman GLADYS BELDEN attended a statewide meeting in Salem yesterday to consider the role of community colleges in Child Care Services in the different communities. The meeting was called at the suggestion of State Superintendent of Public Instruction DALE PARNELL, formerly of LCC. The state departments of Health, Education and Welfare will share in the leadership of the program.

HELEN LOOMIS, staff assistant for placement and records management in adult basic education, has been appointed first vice-president of the OCCA for continuing education.

The LCC Choir and orchestra, directed by BOB NORMAN and NATHAN CAMMACK, will present a midnight mass, "Messe de Minuit Pour Noel" at 8 p.m. Nov. 20. Check the Roundup next week for further information.

In a regular business meeting following the discussion time, the Board outlined a list of requirements to give the screening committee. The Board feels that the new president should have considerable knowledge in the area of occupational education, preferable a doctorate degree, no older than 55 years old, and not only a financial awareness, but also the ability to communicate with staff and students and understand people. The candidate should be experienced in organization management.

The search is just beginning and the hard and important aspects of the final selection are yet to come.

Committees corrected

The list of student-staff committee assignments was printed incorrectly in the Nov. 15 issue of the Roundup. The CURRICULUM COMMITTEE should have read: Lew Case, Buck Bailey, Ellene Goldsmith, Keith Harker, James Huntington, Ray LaGrande, Alice McCarthy, Delta Sander-son, Sharon Shorey, John Klobas and Howard Bird. Student members: Vicki Counts and Pat Lloyd.

The DATA PROCESSING COMMITTEE, which was entirely omitted, is as follows: Floyd Wilkes, Hugh Cowley, Bill Mansell, Bill Wright, Gerry Rasmussen, Pat Gore, James Cox, Dick Eno, Millie Hartstrom and Barbara Kneeland. Student: Sandy Curtis.

Also omitted was the INSTITUTIONAL RESEARCH COMMITTEE-- Jim Snow, Buck Bailey, Floyd Wilkes, Ralph Burns, Marv Hovland, Ray LaGrande, Art Schaefer, Jim Ellison, Del Matheson, Claire Johnson and Lloyd Klemke. Student members: Steve Farstad and Roy Newton.

News briefs

The executive council of the Staff Association would like to express their appreciation to the staff for their cooperation in selecting representatives to submit to the Board. Speaking for the council Jed Merrill said, "We want to thank the staff for their understanding and quick selection of representatives. We realize that many staff members didn't hear of the elections as soon as others and we apologize for this. We decided to go ahead and submit a list of classified people in hopes that the Board would reconsider." The Board did reconsider and decided that the classified section should be represented on the committee.
