Proposal goes to Board

Great Teacher being sought

Noon Tuesday is the new deadline for nominations for LCC's "Great Teacher" award. Nomination forms are available at the President's Office and should be returned there when completed.

The previous deadline (today) was extended to give students more time to make nominations.

President BOB HAMILL is chairing a selection committee composed of English Prof SHEILA JUBA and Intramurals Director MEL KRAUSE representing the transfer division and Dental Prof MURIEL PETERSON and English Prof EASY ALFORD from the occupational division. Student members on the committee include: RAY SMITH, JERI CONNERS, DAN BARLOW and JACK WHISENHUNT.

The committee is expected to make its selection Tuesday afternoon.

"We're not trying to find LCC's 'best' teacher," said President Hamill, "but rather a representative of excellent teaching."

Auditions held for second production

Auditions began March 5 for LCC's second theatrical production; JB, a modern drama in verse which is based on the "Book of Job."

Written by Archibald MacLeish, the original play opened first at Yale University in 1958. Six months later Elia Kazan produced another interpretation of the play at the Anita Theatre in New York.

At Lane the play will combine portions of both interpretations with the added touch of Ed Ragozzino.

The new production is constructed closely within the framework of the "Book of Job," moved into a contemporary setting.

The story takes place as a play within a play which takes place in a circus tent.

Ragozzino said, "Before anyone jumps to the conclusion that I have an obsession about circus plays, I'd like to say that the aspect is so minor in this play that it didn't bother me until someone else mentioned it."

The play is scheduled to open at Lane May 1, 2, 3 and May 7-10.

News Briefs

A possible reorganization of the College's business services will be considered by the Board of Education at its March 19 meeting. The Administration has proposed that a Business Manager be hired.

The new person would have time to look at the long-range picture in finance and would supervise the Controller, Superintendent of College Facilities, Bookstore Manager, Director of Data Processing, and the Food Services Manager.

Also proposed is the hiring of a third Associate Dean who would head a new Instructional Services Division. He would supervise the Directors of the LRC and SSC and a new Director of Instructional Materials Production.

In the President's Suite, the new post of Director of Development would be added.

The Board gave an informal go-ahead for these changes last Wednesday.

The 1969-70 Budget Document, now being put together by the Finance and Planning Committee, will have a new organizational pattern.

In the interest of budgeting flexibility, the formal document will have more fund consolidations and fewer line items. A separate administrative budget document will contain the specific breakdowns as to how the money will be spent.

The change will make it possible to transfer money between funds in a department and thus make the budget more responsive to needs.

Staff growth could be dramatic again this year. Early projections of personnel needs starting July 1 indicate the possibility of 57 new classified people and 65 new contracted people being hired.

The Roundup is prepared by the Office of Information and Publications at Lane Community College, 4000 E. 30th Ave. Eugene, Ore. 97405. KATHY DAVE editor, ext. 340

Average raises of 17 percent for classified staff are being sought for 1969-70 by the Staff Personnel Policies Committee.

Chairman "EASY" ALFORD presented the request to the Board of Education Wednesday night. The Board asked the Administration to bring a recommendation and a study of dollar costs of the proposal to its meeting on March 19.

Prof Alford won quick approval of a suggestion that the College buy state unemployment compensation insurance for the classified staff. Cost next year would be about $1,000.

In other business, the Board:

--Approved the extending of contracts for 1969-70 to 159 people.

Decisions about salaries and continuing contracts will be made later.

--Approved hiring Custodian Foreman HARRY ROBERTS and Industrial Technology Prof ADRIAN VAALER for 1969-70. Employees over 65 are hired on a one-year basis.

--Approved travel for RUTH THYGESEN to a property management seminar in Salt Lake City from March 23-29 for $375, and for MEL KRAUSE to the National Intramural Association conference at Los Angeles March 23-27 at a cost of $175.

--Paid operating expense claims of $64,360. The total included $6,500 for auditing and $3,685 for snow removal.

--Paid construction claims of $145,228. Included were $20,000 for architect fees, $107,568 for payments on The Center and lesser amounts for landscaping and drapes.

Screening Committee weeds out applicants

Ninety percent of the applicants for the permanent presidency of the College have been weeded out by the Presidential Screening Committee. Scuttlebutt has it that about 25 candidates are still on the list.

Don Davidson of Mapleton's Davidson's Industries reported the committee's progress to the Board of Education Wednesday night. The committee's work has been cloaked in secrecy to avoid any influence on members. Though his title has not been announced, Davidson apparently is chairman.

The Board of Education is expected to begin examining credentials of the finalists in coming weeks. A president could be named within two months.

Can this be True?

Many well-meaning people think that the world Communist movement has shifted its strategy and tactics in recent years. If you think so, then we invite you to read the following, which are excerpts from the "Communist Rules for Revolution," a document which was captured by allied forces in Dusseldorf, in May, 1919, nearly 50 years ago. Read this and see if you don't find many parallels in today's events:

A. Corrupt the young, get them away from religion. Get them interested in sex. Make them superficial, destroy their ruggedness.

B. Get control of all means of publicity and thereby: 1) Get people's minds off their government by focusing their attention on athletics, sexy books and plays, and other trivialities. 2) Divide the people into hostile groups by constantly harping on controversial matters of no importance.

3) Destroy the people's faith in their natural leaders by holding the latter up to contempt, ridicule and obloquy. 4) Always preach true democracy but seize power as fast and as ruthlessly as possible. 5) By encouraging government extravagance, destroy its credit, produce fear of inflation with rising prices and general discontent. 6) Forment unnecessary strikes in vital industries, encourage civil disorders and foster lenient and soft attitude on the part of government toward such disorders. 7) By specious argument cause the breakdown of the old moral virtues: honesty, sobriety, continence, faith in the pledged work, ruggedness.

C. Cause the registration of all firearms on some pretext, with view of confiscation of them and leaving the population helpless.

Attention Faculty

Attention Faculty: OCCA nominees for delegates to the convention must be appointed by March 14. Please get your nominations in to department secretaries as balloting must be completed by March 21.

Nomination forms can be picked up in department offices or through campus mail.

Dr. JOHN DICKSON, chairman of the Parental Department, and one of the Dental Hygiene students, Shirley Kirk, participated in a Health Occupations Career day at Sacred Heart Hospital last weekend. Both Dr. John and his student gave a presentation describing the programs at LCC.

DICK EYMANN, funding specialist-on-leave, promised to try and relieve the taxpayers of Oregon if elected to the legislature and he is trying. Dick is co-sponsoring a bill to "outlaw one of the giants of the free enterprise system, that of pay toilets." The bill was introduced to the House last Friday by State Senator Ed Fadeley. The bill is concerned with those restrooms that are in public use, such as rail, bus, airline depots etc.

Acquisitions Librarian DON OWNBEY attended the latest session of the Library Mechanization Institute during February at the Sweetbrier Inn at Portland. This was the second follow-up session the Institute held at the University last summer.

Industrial Tech Prof ADRIAN VAALER spoke to the Eugene Council of Consulting Engineers and Surveyors at a luncheon meeting Thursday at the Thunderbird Inn. Vaaler spoke to the group about the results of an information survey regarding the need for engineering technicians in southwestern Oregon.

The survey was conducted by the Industrial Technology department in conjunction with the Office of Institutional Research at LCC.

Round the Campus

The monthly meeting of the Refrigeration Services Engineers Society (RSES) was hosted by the Electronics department Thursday, Feb. 27. Twenty-five members of the Society and LCC students attended the meeting. Two speakers, one from a Portland Appliance firm and another from Eugene Planing Mill spoke on the problems of the commercial refrigeration industry and some of the new products now on the market.

The meeting of all secondary Science teachers with LCC Science Profs held Saturday was well attended by representatives from high schools within the LCC district. The instructors heard talks from the different LCC profs about each of the programs and their goals. The Math department also had representatives on hand to explain the summer workshop on Computer mathematics.

"Great Teacher"

Registration moved to LRC

Registration for Spring Term classes will be held in the new Learning Resource Building on the upper floor. Students registering for the first time will still have to get clearance through the Admissions Office, but returning students need not even go to the old Admissions Office. The south entrance (across from Forum Building) is the open door this Term.

Administrators attend meetings

Dean of Students BUD HAKANSON attended a meeting of the editorial committee for "Mapping Your Education" in Portland Monday. Bud is the Oregon representative for community colleges. The group discussed the makeup and editorial policies for the book, which is to be published in 1970.

The book will serve as a counseling tool for high school and community college counselors to use in directing students with their education.

Bud is presently working on a chart of all vocational occupations available in Oregon. This will be a portion of the book.

Facilities Planner MARSTEN MORGAN, Plant Supervisor WALT VAN ORDEN, and Institutional Research Director JIM SNOW attended a conference on facilities planning for secondary schools and colleges. The conference, sponsored by the United States Office of Education and the American Institute of Architects, was held in Portland March 10 and 11. Dr. Don Leu of the Education Office at San Jose State College was the keynote speaker.

News Briefs

A "steering" committee chaired by Associate Dean RAY LAGRANDEUR, has been appointed by the Instructional Council to study the possibility of developing a criterion to use as guidelines for the evaluation of proposals submitted to the Curriculum Committee.

In a discussion of curricula at Instructional Council Dean Case said, "There is a need to give serious consideration to the development of curricula in the college. Both new ones and those already in existence." "We need a criteria for evaluating proposals submitted to the Curriculum Committee. The criteria should be developed by the Instructional Council for guidelines to the Curriculum Committee," said Dean Case.

Other members asked to serve on the committee are Performing Arts Chairman ED RAGOZZINO, Art Chairman ROSCO WRIGHT, Special Training Programs Director LARRY MURRAY, Industrial Technology Chairman CARL BLOOD, and Director of Developmental Education HOWARD BIRD.

The committee is encouraging department heads to submit any criteria they feel should be in the policy to the steering committee.

According to a progress report by BERT DOTSON, administrative assistant, the Finance and Planning committee has completed an overall study of budget requests and is now in the process of meeting with department chairman to discuss any possible reductions of original budget requests.

Because of the time involved in discussing and re-discussing with departments, the Committee has recommended to cabinet that the first budget committee be set back two weeks to April 16. The first meeting was to have been April 2. This is only tentative as any change must go through the Board meeting March 19.

Two weeks ago a screening committee comprised of staff and students was selected to find what President BOB HAMILL describes as "a representative of excellent teaching." The person would be LCC's nomination for a Great Teacher Seminar taking place this summer in Portland, Maine.

Wednesday, staff members learned that JIM ELLISON, a reading prof in the Study Skills Center, was LCC's nomination, and that he had been selected with 99 other teachers to attend the seminar, sponsored by the American Association of Junior Colleges.

The deadline for the screening committees nomination was originally set for last Friday, but President Hamill felt that the committee should have more time to study nominees. LCC's was among nine hundred community and junior colleges invited to nominate Great Teachers.

The 100 Great Teachers will assemble Aug. 17-27 at Westbrook Junior College in Maine, to explore possible solutions to pressing problems of instruction.

The college will pay Jim's tuition and travel expenses which will be about $600.

Jim was one of nine nominees considered by the committee on campus, the others included: MARVIN JAEGER, history; KAREN LANSDOWNE, English; PAUL MALM, political science; ROBERT MAXWELL, mechanics; RONALD MITCHELL, psychology; JED MERRILL, industrial technology; MARY MERRILL, business; and FLOYD WEITZEL, biology.

Jim has B.S. and M.S. degrees from OSU in Corvallis. He and his wife, DONNA, have a daughter, Deborah, 11.

'Round the Campus

LCC will be hosting a statewide Health Conference April 12, according to Conference Chairman JOHN DICKSON. John, chairman of LCC's Parental Department, said that more information would be available later as all plans must come from the State Agency.

English Chairman JOHN HOWARD has been appointed to the Steering Committee for the Pacific Northwest Region for English, after LCC hosted the Regional English conference Feb. 28. One hundred ninety-seven delegates attended the conference including Alaska.

Home Economics instructors from area high schools and community colleges met last Friday at OSU to discuss the Home Economics Careers Day conducted on LCC's campus Feb. 22 for high school students.

NAMES IN THE NEWS

Several members of LCC's staff attended the seventh annual Industrial Education Conference at Oregon State University Saturday, March 8. Those attending included Industrial Technology Chairman CARL BLOOD, Drafting Prof JED MERRILL, Associate Dean RAY LAGRANDEUR, Director of Special Training programs LARRY MURRAY, Mechanics Chairman MEL GASKILL, and Mechanics Profs LARRY DAVIS, DON DICKINSON, CHUCK ELLSWORTH and HERB PRUETT.

Herb also attended an executive committee meeting of the Oregon Industrial Education Association (OIEA) following the conference. He is LCC's representative on the executive council.

Happy March birthday to: Business Prof BOB JOHNSON, 16; Financial Aids Secretary BARBARA HARMON, 18; and Nursing Prof ALICE MCCARTHY, 19.

Letter of praise

Editor's note: The following is a letter of appreciation from traffic officer JOHN MILES to those service clubs who helped man the campus last weekend.

I would like to thank personally the ASCUS Club, the Forestry Club, the Electronics section and the many other members of our staff and student body for the excellent and outstanding assistance and cooperation in maintaining the security of the campus during the Battle of the Bands program March 6, 7, and 8.

My highest praise to you people, I don't know what we would have done without your help.

John W. Miles
Campus Security Officer

Two Lane Community College staff members and a member of LCC's Board of Education will be on the program for a journalism conference at the U of O in late March, sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi, and the U of O Office of Continuing Education.

Board member RICHARD WILLIAMS, who is also associate administrator of Sacred Heart Hospital will be a moderator for a response hour at 10 a.m. Mr. Williams was formerly director of Development at the University.

The staff members are BARRIE HARTMAN, part-time journalism instructor and news editor of the Eugene Register-Guard, and LARRY ROMINE, director of Information & Publications at LCC.

Barrie will be a panelist for the panel "What Is News?" Larry will be one of two education moderators for the 11 a.m. discussion groups.

The conference is scheduled to begin at 8:30 a.m. March 27, and registration is $6 including lunch.

Registrar BOB MARSHALL enjoys an occasional night out with his family. As a matter of fact, he and his family spent Tuesday evening together making signs for registration. They also visited into the wee hours of Wednesday stuffing student packets. Pre-registration began Wednesday for returning students.

LRC announces new filing system

The Library Learning Resource Center is revamping its magazine selection in order to provide a more useful collection for staff and students. Presently only one third of the magazines on the LRC's subscription list are indexed (110 titles). More than 200 titles are unindexed. Beginning next year, the serials librarian will subscribe to indexed titles (with exceptions) and the individual departments will order any unindexed titles which they consider essential for staff use.

A report discussing the proposed magazine list, the titles to be discontinued, and a list of periodicals indexes and their titles was given to all department chairman for study.

"I've decided to live and I plan to return to work on a part-time basis beginning Monday," reports Secretary EVELYN TENNIS. "I want to thank everyone for your cards and letters, they were a big help to me in arriving at my decision to live after all."

Evelyn has been ill for several weeks, during which time MARGE BLOOD, former secretary to BERT DOTSON, administrative assistant, has been taking over her duties as secretary to Associate Dean GERRY RASMUSSEN.

Industrial Technology Chairman CARL BLOOD attended a seminar on Inter-disciplinary Occupations at Mapleton High School last Friday. The purpose was to study the possibilities of cluster curricula.

FOR SALE: House for sale or lease $165 a month. Three bedrooms, den, living room, dining room and electric kitchen, fireplace. 1090 E. Potter. Call 345-0709 days and 342-4655 evenings.

The flag is being flown at half mast in observance of the death of former Oregon Governor Charles Sprague. Sprague, governor of Oregon from 1939 to 1943 died Thursday of cancer. He was 81.

ROUNDUP

Round the campus

The Federal Communications Commission has authorized the construction of the "studio-to-transmitter link" which will carry KLCC programs to the transmitter on Blanton Heights, south of Eugene. The transmitter and receiver have already been purchased and now the only other piece of equipment necessary is a "passive reflector." The cost for the reflector is about $6,000.

The present system for transmitting is the use of leased telephone lines, however, this does not permit the transmitting of a stereo signal.

A committee chaired by Associate Dean GERRY RASMUSSEN has been appointed by President HAMILL to consider a policy for Food Services. Consideration is being given to the University of Oregon policy presently used.

Three personnel men from Tektronix Corporation in Beaverton visited the Electronics Department March 13 to discuss employment opportunities with graduating electronics students. The men administered qualifying exams and then scheduled personal interviews with those students who were interested.

Several high school students from Newberg, Ore. visited the forestry section of Industrial Technology last week. They visited classes and discussed forestry with the instructors.

Student activities Studied by Cabinet

A committee was appointed at a recent cabinet meeting to study student activities and bring back a philosophy on what constitutes a student activity and alternatives for policy concerning departmental activities. Members of the committee include: ED RAGOZZINO, JACK CARTER, GERRY RASMUSSEN, MARSTON MORGAN, JACK POWELL and JED MERRILL. Two student members were appointed by Jack Carter.

Free subscription available in LRC

Interested in some free Magazine subscriptions?? The LRC has a book which lists hundreds of free magazines that can be obtained by qualified persons. Department heads or their secretaries are invited to come in and jot down pertinent titles. A letter then would be sent from department chairman to the publisher requesting the free subscription be sent directly to the department.

The subscriptions are listed in Ulrich's International Periodicals Directory.

Land Acceptance Scheduled

Recommendations for plans to formally accept the 20 acres of land donated by the Siuslaw School District and City of Florence, jointly, were recommended to the Board of Education Wednesday night by administrators.

The gift was presented to the College some time ago, and the Board asked administrators to make plans to formally accept the land.

According to BERT DOTSON, administrative assistant, the College hopes to have a program in Florence at which they will accept the land. Hopefully the program will have a two-fold purpose, to accept the land, and to provide an opportunity for Florence residents to see what's happening at LCC.

Possible demonstrations and interest discussions could be held, and the people can come to know what Lane has to offer them. "We want to develop an on-the-spot communication with the people," said Dotson. "We would like them to participate by requesting their needs."

The land will serve as a potential to provide expansion for the campus in the future. As it was given on the agreement that we have a plan of development within seven years.

The date for the proposed program is tentative.

"J.B." opens May 1

"J.B.," a modern re-telling of the Old Testament book of Job, will be the second production by LCC's Performing Arts students according to Director ED RAGOZZINO. The play will open in the Forum Theatre May first, and run the 2,3,7, 8,9, and 10.

Written by Archibald MacLeish, "J.B." won the Pulitzer Prize for plays in 1959.

Final casting for the play was completed last week, with the lead parts going to Wayne Miller of Springfield, --J.B.; Cindi Sloan, Eugene, --Sarah; Joel Morello, Eugene, --Zuss; and Kelly Ray, Eugene, --Nickles.

The stage is set within the boundaries of a circus tent. Zuss and Nickles, two has-been actors reduced to peddling popcorn during shows, enter the deserted tent and don masks of God and the Devil and begin to enact the events surrounding their wager.

The intensity with which the two perform their "make-believe" parts deepens and carries the audience into the actual scene.

J.B. is a successful business man with a wife, home and family. Deaths and catastrophes befall his family with no cause or meaning. However, as Job did not curse God, neither does J.B., even though he and Sarah lose everything, but each other and their devotion to God.

The cast, which numbers about 21, will rehearse in small groups and also as one. Some cast members will be attending seminars at Mt. Angel Abbey to gain an insight to the deeper aspects of the story.

Tickets will go on sale in April.

Titles microfilmed for quick reference

The Learning Resource Center now has 85 magazine titles on microfilm, with many more to be indexed soon. Most of these titles comprise issues back to 1965, indexed for quick reference.

Other acquisitions last week include: periodical indexes from 1965 to the present, in Education, Applied Science and Technology, Social Science and Humanities and Business Periodicals.

A table in the reference area has been set aside as an "Index Table" and besides the above mentioned indexes, this table houses Reader's Guide to Periodical Literature, Cumulative Index to Nursing Literature, Dental Literature, Editorial Research Reports, Facts on File, and Book Review Digest. Two others soon to be added are Biological and Agricultural Index, and Art Index.

Board Approves Salary Recommendations

Average pay raises of 17 percent for 150 FTE classified staff and a 4.7 percent hike for 260 FTE contracted personnel were approved by the Board of Education Wednesday night. The changes will add about $209,000 to the 1969-70 payroll.

The Board reserved judgment, however, on proposed adjustments beyond normal level and step changes. They will review each proposal later.

Unemployment compensation insurance was approved for classified staff at a cost of $1,000 a year.

Adult Education teachers will get a 50-cent an hour hike to $7 for beginning teachers and $7.50 for those who have taught at least 270 hours. The added cost will be about $15,000.

Lab instructors and substitute teachers will be raised a dollar to $7.50 an hour. Part-time lab assistants will go up 50-cents to $3.50 and $4.50 an hour. Added cost will be $4,900.

In other business, the Board:

--Set April 28 as the date for formally accepting 10 acres of land donated to LCC at Florence by the city and school district.

--Decided to delay Budget Committee meetings to April 16 and May 3 and 17. The schedule was set ahead two weeks to allow more time for preparing the initial proposal.

--Postponed a decision on whether to hire a business manager, third associate dean, director of instructional materials production and director of development. Board member DICK WILLIAMS was absent and the other Board members wanted his opinion on the proposal before voting.

--Set May 5 as the day for an election to choose a Board member to represent Zone 3 (Springfield, Marcola, McKenzie). Board member BOB ACKERMAN'S term expires June 30.

Staff members Attend meetings

Forestry profs JOHN PHILLIPS and GERALD MEIER attended the Society of American Foresters meeting in Portland recently and participated in a Forum on Technical Forestry Training in Community Colleges. The meeting had representatives from 18 schools.

Intramurals Director MEL KRAUSE, is attending the National Intramural Association Conference in Los Angeles March 23-27. Mel will also be visiting other colleges in Southern California to study the various programs.
