

ROUNDUP

LCC's President "people-centered"

Dr. Robert L. Pickering, LCC's new president, is planning to visit the campus during the OCCA Convention today and tomorrow.

Dr. Pickering was on campus for a short visit and tour during the final week of the presidential search, on April 18. His appointment as president of LCC was made by Board Chairman Dr. ALBERT J. BRAUER during a special Board meeting last Tuesday.

A people-centered man with a keen interest in vocation education, Dr. Pickering has 18 years experience in educational administration, teaching and counseling.

Presently residing in Phoenix, Arizona, he is the current Director of "Designing Education for the Future." Pickering heads an eight-state effort in the rocky mountain region to anticipate changes in American society and relate them to education.

He also has a private psychology practice and is president of the Arizona College Foundation, a new-college planning group.

Contacted by telephone, Dr. Pickering said of LCC, "There's no question in my mind but that this is a unique, inspiring and exciting institution. It captivates the the imagination and shows what can be done at an educational institution designed for people."

During Dr. Pickering's educational experiences, he was dean of students at Indiana Institute of Technology from 1962-64, assistant to the director of student relations at General Motors Institute in 1961-62, director of registration at the University of Michigan from 1958-61, dean of men at Kings College in New York from 1956-58 and before that was a teacher-coach at Northwestern College for several years.

He received a doctorate in student personnel administration and higher education from Columbia University in 1960 and earned bachelors and masters degrees at the University of Minnesota.

The Freedoms Foundation cited him in 1966 for work on a guide for encouraging patriotism in the Arizona public schools. Dr. Pickering has been active in many activities including: the Phoenix Mayor's Task Force, YMCA, Kiwanis and the Govenor's Prayer Breakfast Committee.

Mrs. Pickering, Marlys, is a registered nurse. The family includes Robert, Timothy, Dennis, and Bretten.

The Roundup is prepared by the Office of Information and Publications at Lane Community College, 4000 E. 30th Ave. Eugene, Ore. 97405. KATHY DAVE editor, ext. 340

Arlene says:

LET'S CALL HIM 'LANE'

For a little while Tuesday, the sign outside the Nursing Department could aptly have read "Nursery Department."

Assisted by six heroines, one of LCC's students (who asked for anonymity) gave birth to what Prof ARLENE UNDERHILL called "a good looking little boy who cried well."

It all began about 4:30 p.m. when the student, waiting for a ride near the flag poles at the west parking lot, asked for help. CAROLE CUMMINGS, secretary in the Student Health Services office, was alerted and subsequently contacted Nursing Department secretary NORMA EVERS.

Norma contacted Mrs. Underhill, who gathered four associate degree nursing students and proceeded to bring the prospective momma to the nursing lab via wheel chair and put her in bed. By coincidence, two of the four students--Deanna and Deanna--had just completed their labor and delivery rotation at Sacred Heart Hospital. CAROLE ROBY and MARY RHOLL (her husband GARY is LCC's business prof) pitched in to help too.

Meanwhile, an ambulance summoned by Norma arrived, but it was decided that it wasn't safe at that point to move the patient. At 5:04 p.m., a very calm mother, without anesthesia, delivered a 6 pound 15 1/2 ounce youngster. Arlene reports that it was the student's (she is in her mid-twenties) fourth delivery and second living child.

The ambulance then whisked mother and child away to Sacred Heart, leaving a thrilled prof ("It was my very first delivery," exclaimed Arlene.) and a quartet of excited student nurses who now know better than ever what their profession is all about.

To top it off, Staff Association President BUCK BAILEY proposed Thursday (as the Roundup went to press) that the youngster's future first term LCC tuition be paid by staff members. Said Buck urgently: "Let's get some action on this before Fall 1988!"

Budget fails

The voters in the Linn-Benton Community College district defeated a proposed college levy for the second time this year. The budget was defeated Monday, April 28 by a margin of 5,497 over 4,467, total votes.

Friday, May 9, 1969

ACKERMAN RE-ELECTED

LCC Board Member Robert Ackerman, a Springfield attorney, was elected to his second four-year term at LCC, representing the Springfield, Marchola, and McKenzie School Districts.

Running unopposed, Mr. Ackerman received 5,251 votes, according to an unofficial tally turned in Tuesday noon.

He was first elected to serve on the Board in 1965. Besides his work on the Board, Mr. Ackerman serves on the Springfield City Council and is active in several community organizations including Jaycees, Elks, Kiwanis and Toastmasters.

Mr. Ackerman was the recipient of Springfield's Distinguished Service Award in 1967 and was also chosen Springfield's Junior First Citizen.

News briefs

Petitions for nominations for Staff Personnel Policies Committee members are available from department chairmen for all full-time staff members, according to procedures described in Article SIII of the LCC Staff Association Constitution in the Staff Association Handbook. Further reference is made in Article XV of the Constitution.

MISSING -- a Lloyd Casette tape recorder and five tapes of personal interviews taped by Social Science Prof PAUL MALM during his visit to Israel last summer. These tapes are irreplaceable and very important and valuable to Paul. Anyone having any information concerning the recorder and tapes, please call Paul Malm immediately at ext. 293.

The Campus Bookstore is now in its new location on the third floor of the LRC Building. Manager ADA ZINSER reports that the new telephone extensions for the store are 244 and 245. If you cannot reach the Bookstore at these numbers, please call the switchboard for assistance.

Rev. Kingsolving here next week

"The Sexual Revolution and the New Morality" is the topic of a presentation to be given by Rev. Lester Kingsolving at a May 15 student Convocation sponsored by LCC through the College Association of Public Events and Services (CAPES).

Rev. Kingsolving will speak at 11 a.m. in room 301 of the Forum Building, and again at 8 p.m. in the same room.

Kingsolving is a columnist and reporter for the San Francisco Chronicle and also has a weekly radio show on KCBS, besides his duties as chaplain to Episcopal Bishop James A. Pike.

Born in New York City, Kingsolving, 42, attended the University of Pennsylvania, John Hopkins University, Church Divinity School of the Pacific and graduated from the theological seminary in 1955. He has since served as Rector of several Episcopal churches in California.

He is active on many church advisory committees on both State and local levels. He has served on the Governor's Population Study Commission and is also a member of the Monterey County Democratic Central Committee.

He has published articles in "Newsweek," "The Nation," and "Playboy"; and has been the subject of several articles appearing in "Times," "Look," and others.

Rev. Kingsolving is concerned and active in the legislation on abortion which is "sweeping the nation."

NAMES IN THE NEWS

MEL GASKILL, mechanics chairman, traveled to Salem last Monday to participate in the swearing-in ceremonies of the Governor's Manpower Coordinating Committee. Mel will be serving on the state advisory council, whose purpose is to help provide an effective manpower planning system in Oregon.

A former secretary in the President's Office, WILDA CONRAD announces her engagement and approaching marriage to DOUGLAS TROUTHAM. Wilda and Doug are attending the Open Bible Standard College in Eugene, where Doug will graduate this June.

BUD HAKANSON, dean of students, was recently re-elected to represent Oregon community colleges on the Oregon High School College Relations Council at the annual conference.

The group met on campus, April 25, in the new LRC Building.

Staffers attend ad hoc confabs

LEW CASE, dean of instruction, and RAY LAGRANDEUR, associate dean, attended a meeting of all Oregon community college deans April 24 and 25 at Umpqua Community College in Roseburg. The group held open discussions on the various problems that plague all community colleges. They discussed such areas as staff workloads, evaluation procedures, curriculum, and staff development.

Several of the deans agreed that cooperation between schools in methods of staff development might provide more staff enthusiasm. Some of the deans are planning to meet and discuss this area more thoroughly.

The next meeting will be held at Southwest Oregon Community College on July 31 and Aug. 1.

LRC Director KEITH HARKER and Visual Aids Coordinator HOWARD LINDSTROM attended a meeting of the Oregon Community College Library Association in Portland last Tuesday afternoon at the Thunderbird Motel. While in Portland they also attended the international convention of the Division of Audio-visual Instruction, Department of National Education Association. This convention is the largest media convention in the world. Keith reports that there were about 500 exhibitors attending, with all types of audio-visual aids and communication exhibits.

JUDY EASLEY, secretary to Business Chairman JOHN KREITZ, has been notified that she was a finalist in a "Secretary of the Year" contest sponsored by KUGN Radio during National Secretary's Week April 20-26.

MARIE DEMING, dental hygiene prof, has been named candidate for the Cascade District of Business and Professional Women's Club, for the Young Career Women program. Marie is also a dental hygienist in Springfield.

She will now compete in state competition; if she wins at the state level, she will be eligible to attend the national convention in St. Louis, Mo.

KEITH HARKER, LRC director, is supervising the painting of a new LDS Stake house on Harlow Road. Keith and several other men of the LDS Stake are painting the chapel inside and out as a contribution.

'Round the campus

Stop signs are now placed at both the north and south ends of the road at the east entrance to the campus. This changes the traffic pattern coming to and leaving the campus through this entrance. The signs were posted last Tuesday morning.

A new method for ordering textbooks through the bookstore, via computer, has been developed by Business Education Chairman JOHN KREITZ. The new method is much faster and more organized for department chairmen.

HOWARD LINDSTROM, audio-visual aids coordinator reports that some $15,000 worth of audio-visual equipment is missing from the LRC. Security in this area will be tightened while the situation is being studied and a checking-out procedure can be developed.

Writing 113, the third term of English composition will be dropped from LCC's curriculum after the 1969-70 school year. JOHN HOWARD, English Chairman reports that after next year, students will be taking it on the upper division level.

A group of about 85 students from Medford High School toured the campus April 18, to visit the various departments and hear about programs available to them at LCC.

ATTENTION FACULTY: Several fellowships and summer grants are available to instructors who are interested in further study and research. The Office of Instruction receives detailed information on available grants and this information is posted in the staff lounge in the Administration Building. Any interested instructor is welcome to apply for these fellowships if they meet the necessary requirements.

Faculty wives elect Bernice Allen Pres.

New officers were elected for the Faculty Wives Association at a noon luncheon, Saturday, April 25 at the Captain's Table. Those elected are BERNICE ALLEN, wife of Drafting Prof BOB ALLEN, president; SIGRID RASMUSSEN, wife of Associate Dean GERRY RASMUSSEN, vice-president; BARBARA CARTER, wife of Student Activities Coordinator JACK CARTER, secretary; and ALICE DICKSON, wife of Paradental Chairman JOHN DICKSON, treasurer.

The new officers would like to encourage all faculty wives to join the association and enjoy the activities.

NAMES IN THE NEWS

5/19/69

Taken from the May 1, 1969
Eugene Register-Guard

Science Chairman JOHN JACOBS reports that five Science Profs have accepted summer appointments to attend Institutes sponsored by the National Science Foundation.

Biology Prof FREEMAN ROWE received a grant to attend an Institute on "Special Topics in Biology" at Western Washington State College.

Physics Prof HAYDEN HODGES received two grants. The first is at the University of Illinois, "Computer Logic Systems," and the second is for a Physics in an Elementary Particle Workshop at Western Washington State College.

Biology Prof GLENN HEISERMAN received an appointment to the NSF Biology Summer Institute at Oregon State University in Ecology and Radiation Biology.

Anatomy Prof BOB BOETTCHER will attend an NSF Summer Institute in Radiation Biology at the University of California at Berkeley.

Biology Prof JAY MARSTON accepted an appointment to the staff at the U of O, here in Eugene, to work in their summer biology program.

Each of the appointments include a stipend for schooling, travel and living expenses.

Happy May Birthday to: EASY ALFORD, English prof, 3; JUDY EASLEY, secretary to JOHN KREITZ, 7; MARGE DAVIS, secretary, Adult Education, 8; GARY RHOLL, business prof, 9; LEW CASE, dean of instruction, MICHAEL MITCHELL, science prof, and IRVIN ROTH, physical education prof, 11; HELENE STADLER, counselor, 12; JOANNA COHEN, social science prof, and LUCILLE LAMOREAUX, 13; PAULA CRANOR, science, THELMA KITTERMAN, cashier, and DEL MATHESON, catalog librarian, 14; BILL BEALS, social science chairman, 15; and BUCK BAILEY, director of placement, 17.

Dean of Instruction LEW CASE spoke to members of the Eugene Rotary Club recently concerning the challenges of the "open door" for staff members as well as students. During the discussion, Dean Case said that the great differentials in educational levels represented at LCC offer the staff a challenging job of how best to provide instruction to all.

Industrial Technology Prof ADRIAN VAALER represented LCC at the Northwest Regional Meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineers April 18, at Union, Washington.

Adrian reports that one of the more interesting discussion points was the planning of the Evergreen State University for a proposed 12,000 students in a four year school. It would be comparable to the University of Washington or Washington State, with about 75 per cent being commuters.

Dean of Instruction LEW CASE attended a meeting on Occupational Education at Harris Hall last Thursday night (May 1). Guest speaker for the meeting was Dr. George Champion, director of the Center of Technological Education at San Francisco State College. Dr. Champion has been visiting several Occupational Education Committee members to discuss plans for a summer workshop scheduled for Lane County July 14 through Aug. 8.

Marvin Rasmussen, State Department of Education, also spoke to the group, on the idea the master plan approach to occupational education.

Electronics Chairman ROGER HOUGLUM and Electronics Profs JIM HUNTINGTON, and RICHARD ROMANEK attended the Electronics Instructors In-Service Institute at OSU April 25 and 26. The group from LCC were among 50 instructors from Oregon high schools and community colleges.

THANK YOU

I would personally like to thank the staff members who held session meetings on business education at the Career Institute last week. Those helping with the clerical, secretarial and keypunch areas of business were: BETTY JAMES, MILLIE HARTSTROM, LAURA GAUDERMAN, CHARLENE EDMONDS, THELMA KITTERMAN, ROSEMARY GRANT, MARILYN, GARY RHOLL, JERRY NEHRING, and WILMA LUCKEY. Thanks again.

Mary Merrill
Business Education

Lane's New Man

From all reports, Robert Lance Pickering is an energetic and ambitious young (38) man. That is a good thing. For in July, Pickering will become president of a most energetic and ambitious young college.

Lane Community College really had a foreshortened childhood. It developed from an idea to physical presence of 14 new buildings and 4,000 students in half a decade. Too big to be a child and too young to be mature, the college is in an exciting and awkward phase of institutional adolescence.

If he likes the college and the college likes him, Pickering can be expected to be around for the next five years or so. His hardest task will be to keep Lane true to the quietly radical philosophy that is its most important asset.

That philosophy, put simply, is to mold an institution to fit the needs of people, rather than to require people to mold themselves to fit a pre-cast institution.

Easy to admire, that idea is hard to put into practice.

Pickering brings to his first college presidency an interesting background that is more than adequate on paper. He has worked with colleges and businesses and most recently with state departments of education. And he impressed the college's board when measured against other candidates rounded up in a nationwide search.

But one of the important ways in which Lane implements its philosophy is to accord each applicant a presumption of ability and to pass judgment only after the student has had every chance to perform. That is a fair way to approach even a new president. Pickering's performance should be watched with acute interest. His arrival should be welcomed with enthusiasm.

ROUNDUP

Tuition hike recommended

Foreign students at LCC may be asked to attend on a self-sufficient basis beginning next fall, according to IRENE PARENT, counselor for the foreign student program at Lane.

The College does not receive any state, federal or local reimbursement for foreign students, yet these students require much time and attention for adjustment and orientation. The students must overcome several problems which local students don't encounter.

A recent report on the foreign student program gave the following statistics. There are 51 foreign students attending LCC Spring Term, and of those 51, 19 are returning students finishing their second year of study.

There is a total of 19 countries represented with the largest number of students coming from the small Middle-East country of Kuwait. They have 13 LCC students.

Thirty-one students are enrolled in college transfer courses and 20 in vocational programs.

Two of the countries with students attending Lane, support their students with government funds, Kuwait and Saudi Arabia. The others are either self-supporting or sponsored by groups.

Several recommendations are being considered for ways to trim costs of the foreign program. Among these are higher tuition, so that foreign students "pay their own way," and limiting the number of foreign students to one percent of the FTE student body. No solutions have been reached, however.

OCCA has new section

The "Classified Section" was voted into existence as the fifth section of the Oregon Community College Association at the annual OCCA Convention on campus, May 9-10.

MARGARET KNUTSON, secretary to BILL COX, and SELMER LOONEY, custodian, will represent the new section at coordinating committee meetings.

Many other resolutions were made at the convention, and staff members will be receiving reports from the various section delegates who attended the meetings and assembly.

Friday, May 23, 1969

News briefs

Petitions for nominations for LCC Staff Association Officers are available from department chairman for all full-time staff members. The nominations will be handled according to procedures described in the Staff Association Handbook.

Peter Carlson, correctional counselor from the Oregon State Penitentiary in Salem, and an inmate serving a sentence on a drug conviction, will be on campus next Thursday (May 29) to give their views on the perspectives of the Oregon Penal System. A representative from the Eugene Police Department will also be available for questions.

The group will hold two discussions in Forum 301, the first at 10 a.m. and the second at 11:30 a.m. All students are invited to attend.

The group is being sponsored by LLOYD KLEMKE's sociology classes.

The results of the Staff Personnel Policies Committee elections will be available to staff on Monday, May 26. The final tally will be given to all officers of the Staff Association. If you are interested call: BUCK BAILEY, president, ext. 256; JED MERRILL, vice-president, ext. 372; MARGARET KNUTSON, secretary, ext. 301; or PAT GRANT, purchasing, ext. 305.

The Xerox Education Division is presenting a three-part series on the "generation gap" on the CBS television network on May 20, 27, and June 3. The specials will all begin at 7 p.m.

The first part, "A Question of Values," will be followed by "A Profile of Dissent," and "The Youth International." Don't miss this chance to see why adults and their children are generations apart.

The Roundup is prepared by the Office of Information and Publications at Lane Community College, 4006 E. 39th Ave., Eugene, Ore. 97405. KATHY DAVE editor, ext. 340

Committee asks for budget cut

It was Uptight Night for the Budget Committee and staff Wednesday as the former insisted that the latter find about $150,000 "fat" in the proposed $4.7 million operating (general) fund.

The $150,000 would be used to offset about $85,000 in state contributions which now are not expected to materialize, and to fund a Day Care Center and perhaps other currently unbudgeted projects favored by the Budget Committee.

Instead of approving the general fund, the Committee voted to meet again Wednesday, May 28, at 8 p.m. in the Board Room to have another look at it.

Both the President's Cabinet and the Instructional Council met Thursday to attempt to find means to slice away the $150,000 from current proposals.

A system of priorities and perhaps some optional suggestions are expected to be completed by Monday for submission at Wednesday's session. Administrators and department chairmen were taking hard looks at their budgets as The Roundup went to press, since $2 million already had been pared from original requests to get the general fund down to the $4.7 million figure.

Board frowns on increase

If faced with no other choice, Board of Education members might hike tuition effective next college year. But most of them made it clear Wednesday night that they don't like the prospect.

The Administration had proposed elevating per-term in-district tuition from $65 to $75, in-state but out-of-district from $110 to $130, out-of-state from $200 to $330 and out-of-country to $400.

The increase would raise about $120,000 to offset reduced state contributions and to fund miscellaneous programs previously postponed due to lack of resources.

Higher costs might exclude low income people, argued Board Member ROBERT ACKERMAN. Member RICHARD WILLIAMS said he'd like first to see if the tuition hike could be avoided by eliminating "fat" from the proposed $4.7 million general fund. (See story elsewhere this issue.)

Action was postponed until perhaps the June 4 meeting.

In other business, the Board:

* Was advised by Dean of College Services BILL COX that the College should be completed and equiped by Fall Term, with the cost totaling about $17.7 million.

* Bought $3,717 worth of physics equipment for the Science Department and $9,032 worth of vocational equipment for the Mechanics and Industrial Technology Departments.

continued on Page 2

Board frowns... con'd.

* Approved the Inhalation Therapy Program and these new courses: Eng 210 The Negro in American Literature, Hst 210 Black Man in American History, Psy 210 Complexity & Change in American Racial Patterns: A Social Psychological View, Salesmanship, Business Communications, Introduction to Management of Information Systems, Voice and Articulation, Communication Process and Theory.

* Was advised that the water pipe break in the tunnel under the Health and P.E. Buildings May 14 flooded the tunnel with 41 inches of water, but did minimal damage. Insurance will cover the loss. A seeping pipe under the Apprenticeship Building, discovered May 16, will be replaced by the contractor.

'Round the campus

San Diego State College is sponsoring the third annual Junior College Workshop June 23 through July 3 at San Diego. The Workshop is for community college and junior college instructors and it provides an opportunity to explore ways and means to improve instruction and curriculum in the community college.

Applications are available by writing to the College. An application sheet is posted in the staff lounge for interested faculty.

Tuition for the two-hour credit course is $45.

Charles Warfield from the U of O will be on campus Tuesday, May 27, at 11:30 a.m. to give his views of "The Black Student on the Community College Campus."

Warfield, currently coordinator of HEP (High School Education Program) will speak in Forum-309. He was recently named Director of the Upward Bound Program for 1969-70. He is a doctoral candidate at the University of Oregon.

George Mast Day

Tuesday, May 27, the staff is sponsoring a no-host reception in honor of Mechanics Prof GEORGE MAST. George is retiring after 29 years in the field of vocational teaching. The reception will begin at 2-4 p.m. in the food services area of the Center Building. Everyone is invited to attend and extend best wishes to George as he begins his retirement.

The University of South Carolina offers a noncredit course in "Love Making," taught by a local gynecologist. With 386 students enrolled in it, the course has proved even more popular than "Bartending," which has 384 students.

NAMES IN THE NEWS

Secretaries EVELYN TENNIS, LUANA PLEW, MARGARET KNUTSON, LAURA GAUDERMAN, and VERA TONNING attended a Records Systems Workshop at Oregon State University in Corvallis, Wednesday. The workshop was sponsored by the Business Education and Secretarial Science departments at OSU.

Associate Dean RAY LaGRANDEUR was elected secretary of the Administrator's Section of the OCCA, at the convention on campus. As a section officer, this also makes him a member of the OCCA coordinating committee. Earlier this month, Ray was selected to serve on the OCCA Articulation Commission, and has since been named chairman of the Commission.

Mechanics Chairman MEL GASKILL, and Mechanics Profs LARRY DAVIS, CHUCK ELLSWORTH, and CARL LEMKE accompanied some 48 students from the airframe and powerplant program to Everett, Washington last week where they toured the manufacturing facilities, the painting hangar, and flight line of the Boeing 747 jet.

DEL MATHESON, catalog librarian, is attending an IBM School on Computers and Libraries this week in San Francisco, Calif. Del is representing the Library-LRC in order to update his knowledge on the latest developments and applications of computers in conjunction with libraries.

LAURA GAUDERMAN, secretary to Dean HAKANSON, was installed this week on the executive committee of the Lane County Educational Secretary's Association. Laura is the College Representative.

Business Prof DICK ENO and wife ESTHER, are the proud parents of a new baby girl. DANA MARIE was born Sunday, May 18, and weighs seven pounds, six ounces. She joins a brother, GREG and a sister, DEBBIE.

BUD HAKANSON, dean of students, and HOWARD BIRD, director of developmental education, were guests on a one-hour program on PL-3, the U of O's educational television station. They discussed the community service aspect of LCC.

Wedding bells will ring tomorrow evening in Vancouver B.C. for Information and Publications Director LARRY ROMINE and MOLLY CONLIN. Congratulations and best wishes. Nursing Director MARY FIORENTINO will be maid of honor for her roommate.

Mechanics Profs GEORGE MAST, DARYL JOSSART, BOB MAXWELL, DON GREENLUND and Engineering Prof ADRIAN VAALER attended a fluid power Seminar in Portland May 7.

The meeting was arranged by the State Board of Education, because of the interest shown in this area by the educators of the colleges in Oregon.

The main portion of the seminar centered on a panel discussion by industrialists and educators. Adrian represented LCC on the panel.

PAULINE DIXSON, counselor-instructor, left last week for a two-month visit with her daughter in Louisiana, and some gardening at home. Pauline is on a nine-month contract, and will report back to work July 15. KAREN LANSDOWNE, English prof, will become acting chairman for Media Board for the remainder of the school year.

Mechanics Profs MARV WINGER and HERB PRUETT accompanied a team of LCC mechanics' students, JOHN NELSON and DAVID COOLEY, to Tacoma, Washington recently where the students competed in a Plymouth Troubleshooting Contest.

The boys, who had been coached only in general mechanics, placed second on the written test and fourth in the troubleshooting. They overlooked only one minor "bug," which cost them first place.

The team was sponsored by Barker Motors of Eugene, who furnished the practice car and also paid $50 toward expenses.

Farm Mechanics Prof PAUL PATRICK attended the Linn-Benton Future Farmers of America Fair last Thursday and judged the machinery exhibits. He reports that there were several pieces of good student-fabricated farm equipment.

Nursing Prof ALICE McCARTHY attended a workshop on "Utilization by the Graduates of the Various Programs in Nursing Education" at Lincoln City, May 8-9.

Birthdays

Happy May Birthday to: WILMA LUCKEY, data processing, and LARRY MURRAY director of Special Training Programs, 18; MARGARET MILNE, nursing prof, 20; MARCIA HODGES, English prof, and JERRY SIROIS, deliveryman, 23; CHUCK ELLSWORTH, mechanics prof, 24; LAURA GAUDERMAN, secretary to BUD HAKANSON and DIANA WALKER, clerk typist in LRC, 28; and JERRY BERG, study skills prof, 31.

ROUNDUP

STP offers new program

A Special Training Program for engineering aides is being offered at LCC through the cooperation of three instructional departments.

The 24-week course began April 24 and will continue through the last week in September. The program involves six professors, including: BETTY JAMES, business prof; JOHN LOUGHLIN, math prof; ADRIAN VAALER, engineering prof; BOB GAULT and CARL BLOOD, drafting profs; and JED MERRILL, technical engineering techniques prof. LARRY MURRAY is directing the program.

The entire program was developed and coordinated by Jed Merrill, for students on federal programs who need training in the skills before they can seek jobs of this type.

'Round the campus

The Industrial Technology Department participated in a one-day "experimental" orientation program for high school students Monday, with students from Pleasant Hill High School.

The students attended four different classes, with 10 different professors. They went to a drafting class, welding, forestry, civil-structural engineering and construction Technology.

Wayne Aho, an internationally known lecturer on UFO's will speak at Harris Hall tonight, sponsored by the Adult Education department.

Aho believes strongly in saucers and their inhabitants, and has some unusual ideas on the subject.

A former U.S. Army intelligence officer, he claims to have seen a ship land on the Mohave Desert in 1957, and has since seen several ships other places.

Aho's lecture will begin at 8 p.m.

A reception honoring the retirement of Mechanics Prof GEORGE MAST and his wife, EDNA was sponsored by staff members, Tuesday afternoon. Dean of College Services BILL COX, former president of ETVS, awarded George with a plaque with LCC's College Seal.

Thursday, May 29, 1969

News Briefs

ATTENTION: All instructors who intend to use the test-scoring machine in the Study Skills Center for grading final exams must contact SHERRI LAWRENCE, ext. 378 for new answer sheets. There is a new test scorer and the answer sheets from Winter Term will not run through the new scorer correctly.

Petitions for nominations for LCC Staff Association officers are available for staff from department chairmen and supervisors. The nominations will be handled according to procedures outlined in the Staff Association Handbook.

Plan to attend the annual staff picnic at Benton Lane Park next Thursday evening from 6:30 p.m. until dark.

All staff members are invited to come. Please bring at least one of the following (more if you like) hot dish or meat; salad; or dessert.

There is something for everyone to do, including swimming, go-carts, skating, horse shoes, and rides for the kiddies.

The 1969-70 LCC catalogs have arrived on campus. If you have not had a chance to see one, check with your department supervisor.

According to a report by the Office of Instruction, there are some 206 new courses approved in the last two years at Lane. Eighty-five college transfer courses and 121 occupational courses.

Travel requests were approved at the latest Board of Education meeting for Associate Dean RAY LaGRANDEUR to attend an Occupational Education Program Development Institute in San Francisco, Calif., July 7-10. And for Mechanics Prof HERB PRUETT to attend a seminar on Automotive Technology for Teachers at Western Michigan University, June 23-Aug. 1.

Board meets with new pres.

LCC's President Robert Pickering was on campus this week to meet with staff members and Board of Education members.

While here he was involved in interviews for the new business manager, and he also met with the Board during a special work session Monday night.

He met with the cabinet Tuesday morning and the student senate, Tuesday afternoon. Before leaving Wednesday afternoon, Dr. Pickering held talk sessions with various staff members.

Mrs. Pickering (Marlys) and their son Tim were also in Eugene.

200 staffers vote on SPPC

About 50 percent of the full-time staff voted on the recent SPPC election according to a report by JED MERRILL, Staff Association vice president.

Elected to a one-year term were KITTY SEYMOUR, information secretary, and DICK ENO, business prof. Elected to two-year terms, WALT VAN ORDEN, plant supervisor, and PAUL MALM, social science prof. Other members of the committee are GARY RHOLL, business prof; BOB MAXWELL, mechanics prof; and RAY LAGRANDEUR, associate dean.

Birthdays

Happy June Birthday to: JOE SEARL, social science prof, 1; HANK DOUDA, federal accountant, 2; JED MERRILL, drafting prof, 3; CHERYL JACOBS, secretary to JOHN HOWARD, and HAROLD MOLENKAMP, psychology prof, 5; BERT DOTSON, administrative assistant, and JESSIE McCORMICK, custodian, 6; and JACK POWELL, English prof.

NAMES

DICK EYMANN, government affairs and funding specialist, is back with us again after participating in the Oregon legislative session this winter. Dick is a representative for Lane County.

Dean of Instruction LEW CASE will speak at the commencement exercises at Columbia Christian College tonight in Portland.