BOARD OF EDUCATION

As a result of the 1971 legislation which embodies a new Community College Code, the official name of the College was changed from an "Area Education District" to "Lane Community College District". Also the governing board is to be identified as the "Board of Education". Your attention is called to the fact that in correspondence and memos from various staff members there is reference sometimes to the "Board of Directors", which is incorrect. Let's be consistent and follow the directives to ensure that any reference to the Board uses the correct title: BOARD OF EDUCATION.

WHEATFIELD ROCK N' ROLL band is appearing today in Forum 301 at noon. The concert, sponsored by the Student Senate, is free and open to the public.

Speaker-Elect Dick Eymann will introduce his colleague. Mr. Gwinn will address the meeting on, "Perspective Financing Adult/Community Education in Oregon."

Dr. Amo DeBernardis, President of Portland CC, will be the speaker on Saturday. He will close the conference with an address on "A Perspective to the Community Colleges' Responsibility in its Role of Non Credit Community Service Activities." Panel discussion slated for Saturday morning will be on "What a State Organization Can Mean to Us." Participants include: Terry Page, Salem Parks and Recreation; Larry Horynea, Community Schools, UofO; Isabella McQuestion, Coordinator of Adult Education, OSU; Harold Hoyt, Div. Continuing Education; and Tom Grigsby, Community Education, Portland CC.

Nile Williams is president of OACCE. Conference chairman is Helen Loomis, assistant coordinator of Adult Basic Education.

THE AMERICAN COLLEGE Public Relations Association Washington (DC) office has asked permission to send copies of the November 1972 issue of The Relator to a number of community colleges around the nation. Its content, consisting largely of "how-to-do-it" articles on public relations at community colleges, is of special interest in educational circles at present; and the interest evinced in this issue is a compliment to LCC's Larry Romine, as Editor.

Editing of The Relator is done on a rotating basis among the membership of ACPRA; but this is the first time a community college man has been asked to do it.

EVELYN TENNIS offers the following. . .sent to her office, she says, by Jack Kreitz:

How do you rate as a chauvinist?

The importance of secretary satisfaction is deemed valuable enough that at least one company has embarked on a "consciousness raising" program for its executives. Here are some of the questions it prepared. More than three "No" answers qualifies you as a bona fide male chauvinist:

- Do you prefer to call your secretary by name, as opposed to such terms as "the girl" or "my girl"?
- Do you recognize any of her capabilities beyond typing and shorthand?
- Are you willing to offer her the basic courtesy that you demand of her?
- Do you allow her the opportunity for more responsibility?
- Can you tolerate her objecting to going for coffee or running personal errands?
- Do you ever give her a hand on busy days by answering your own phone or making your own calls?
- Do you work as a team, or do you treat your secretary in a condescending manner?
- Do you ever ask for her opinion?

O.K., Sara. How does he rate?

Please give some thought to the selection of a representative for your area before coming to the meeting; the Section feels it is important that this idea be activated, in order to make the meetings actually representative of all the membership and to improve communications within the Section.

Doughnuts and coffee will be served as a "wake-up."

A CHRISTMAS CRAFT FAIRE will be held Tuesday, December 5, in the Erb Memorial Union Ballroom at UofO. Craftsmen wishing to display their crafts should register in Room 301 EMU; fee, $1.

BETTYJO WOLKLANIEWSKI, a student in the Paradental Department, had an interesting experience last Thursday: she made her first sky jump. Bettyjo became interested in sky-diving because of her roommate's enthusiasm; and she made her first jump after only 9 hours of lessons, instead of the usual 12. She says their apartment is handy, because it's near the Springfield Airport. Now that's real enthusiasm!

Bettyjo worked for a year as a Dental Assistant and decided to advance in her field to Dental Hygienist. She is taking classes and hoping to enter the Dental Hygienist program in the Spring term. Meanwhile, she is doing work-study in Ken Hills' department.

THE LCC BASKETBALL team will meet Oregon College of Education J.V.s tomorrow evening at 7:30 p.m. here on campus. And today, the LCC Stage Band will play for us in the Cafeteria between 1 and 2.

Mr. Tom Hornsby, Asst. Pharmacy Manager of Hiron's 18th Avenue store (and the husband of Dorothy Hornsby, instructor in the Business Department) called last Thursday afternoon to apologize. You may recall an item in The Daily of Nov. 29 quoting a letter from Mr. Hornsby in which Hiron's offered discount cards to "all LCC instructors and their families." Well, one member of the LCC family was quick to point out to Mr. Hornsby that he might gain the business of the instructors and their families, but he was almost certain to alienate 260 classified employees and their families. . .not to mention the 30 part-time classified employees and their families.

With all the good will in the world, it seems Mr. Hornsby overlooked the fact that it takes a lot of supportive personnel to keep the instructors instructing. He asks, contritely, that you accept his letter, amended to read: "all members of the work community of LCC and their families. . . ." The Discount Cards, enabling you to purchase prescription drugs at 10% off regular price, can be picked up at either of the Hiron Drug Stores in Eugene.

We'll accept that, Mr. Hornsby. Now can we call you Tom?

LEGAL ASSISTANT PROGRAM, to be offered as an upgrading program for experienced legal secretaries, was the subject of lengthy discussion at the Curriculum Committee meeting of November 21. Dean Rasmussen was present to answer questions regarding the proposed addition. Among the points made:

. . . being a legal secretary would not be a prerequisite, but only those with legal secretary experience would be employable as legal assistants;

. . . this might be a short term need, and once the in-service need for the community had been met the courses might not be offered until there was a demand for them

. . . availability of jobs is difficult to determine because many of the Oregon attorneys are not receptive to the idea of legal assistants; however, the Oregon Bar Association does support the program.

ANNOUNCEMENT WILL BE made at a luncheon today (GEN124, 12noon) of a gift to the college of 127 acres of land adjacent to the campus. The rectangular-shaped tract lies to the south and east of the college, with its east border along the McVey frontage road on the west side of I-5.

In making formal announcement of the gift, which was negotiated through the Development Office, President Schafer noted that the size of LCC campus will be nearly doubled - a total of 285 acres, as opposed to the present 158-acre campus.

Lew Williams, owner of a number of car agencies (Lew Williams Cadillac in Portland, Lew Williams Chevrolet in Fresno, and Lew Williams Chevrolet in Sacramento) and Joe Romania, owner of Joe Romania Chevrolet, are the donors of the additional tract. Both Williams and Romania express long attachment to LCC and its vocational programs; in fact, a number of their employees received their training here. One stipulation of the gift is that, in the event the gifted property is ever sold by LCC, the proceeds are to be used for vocational scholarships.

DESPITE ALL THAT Old Man Winter could do, Anne Stewart reports, last Friday's Christmas party came off as planned, and appeared, from the happy faces of the children, to be a complete success. Some last-minute gift-switching had to be accomplished, when many of those planning to attend called to cancel and many more who had not planned to attend called and asked if they could come. . .since each gift must be suited to the age of the child. However, Anne and her team coped; Jay Bolton was a sweetie of a Santa, with a pillow under his belt to add girth; and feedback from the parents indicates great enthusiasm for the undertaking.

DALE PARNELL, State School Superintendent, speaking before the Portland Rotary Club last week, delivered a timely reminder:

"Year in, year out, fine, dedicated teachers are doing their work in the classrooms, mostly unheralded. The direction of the lives of many . . . students are positively influenced, and sometimes determined, by some especially gifted teacher. Sometimes a teacher is the only line of defense between society and a lot of social ills."

Dr. Parnell suggested Oregonians search their minds and hearts this season for memories of those special teachers "who made a difference."

"There could be no more appropriate Christmas greeting than a letter of appreciation or a note on a card to that teacher," he concluded.

"This year, even physicians and other medical personnel - the only category out of 16 in last year's poll to have the full confidence of more than half the public - had the confidence of just 48%."

DECEMBER PAYROLL CHECKS: Payroll forms will be ready for pickup at 2 this afternoon. Vern Whittaker sends the following notice:

A memo was given out to the department head or secretary when the November payroll checks were released on 11/30/72. This memo indicated that the December payday would be 12/22/72. Subsequently, it has been pointed out that some of the instructional staff may be out of town or otherwise unable to pick up their paychecks on 12/22/72.

In order to accommodate these individuals, the Business Office will either mail your check to your home address (as shown on your November check, unless an address correction was submitted) or mail it to your bank for deposit, IF you have given prior notice to your department that your check is to be mailed and if we are able to write the payroll checks on the 20th instead of the 22nd. For those that would like their check mailed to their bank, please leave a deposit slip and a pre-addressed envelope with your Department Secretary.

KIWANIANS WHO NEED to "make up" can do so by joining the Emerald Empire Kiwanis for lunch in the President's Dining Room at 12 noon today.

SCOTT LAY, the wheel chair student who is seeking a student to share his quarters during the Winter and Spring and give him needed assistance, phoned to give us the telephone number at which he can be reached during the Holidays. It's a Molalla number: 829-8645. He asks that any student interested in the job call there collect.

IN ADDITION TO those boxes for storing microfilm, Del Matheson is appealing for donations of road and city maps for cities of Europe and America, to be used in the Library during the Winter and Spring terms.

BOB AND FAYECREED became the proud parents of a baby boy yesterday morning at 8:20 a.m. Creed Jr. weighed in at 8 lbs. 13 ozs., height 22 inches, wrists powerful and reach phenomenal. It is rumored baby arrived complete with wrestling uniform, football helmet, and shoulder pads. No nose guard?

At last night's Board meeting:

. . .Recommendations for the acquiring of a video-tape recorder for Mass Communications and a type setting machine for Printing/Graphics were approved

. . .Recommendation to terminate the contract of Prof. Ben Kirk as of June 30, 1973 carried with one abstention. Mr. Ackerman asked that the minutes reflect that this action is a continuation of the personnel discussion which started last Spring, and that no new material had been introduced

The President's Christmas Tea Committee is busy in the Staff Lounge this morning, getting all in readiness for the holiday feast. . . what a bustle, what a stir, as Elizabeth Eliza slices the plum cake, and the little boys in the India rubber boots slyly nip a corner of the marchpane, and Mrs. Peterkin absent-mindedly stirs salt in her tea. . .

Well, maybe it's not going to be quite as Dickensian as that. . . but it will be a white Christmas Tea this year. Think jolly!

What will actually be happening in the Staff Lounge this morning? We'll tell you. . .

Until ten o'clock Helen Haynie will worry for fear there are not enough decorations to make the Lounge truly festive. By that time you will all have dropped by to leave armloads of holly and pine boughs, candle holders, sets of lights, etc.; and she will switch to worrying for fear there will not be enough goodies for all the guests. This will continue until everyone is replete with black walnut brittle, divinity, fruit cake, Spritz cookies, stollen, lebkuchen. . .

So bring your contributions to the Lounge, or leave them on Helen's desk. . .

Let's call this "Scarcely News" day, since these are items that have been in the file for some time:

BEV SAXON: LCC is bursting with pride in its lady flight instructor. We had the story: how her children dared her, and she came to LCC, took the course, was licensed six ways to Sunday, and now is a "first" for LCC and, we believe, for the Affirmative Action program on campus.

Bev was a last spring graduate. She holds both flight and ground instructor ratings, an instrument rating and commercial license for single engine land and sea planes.

But, like we say, it's scarcely news. . .you've seen Bev being interviewed on Northwest News; and you saw that spread in yesterday's Register-Guard. . .girl's a blinking celebrity!

LYLE SWETLAND: Sacred Heart General Hospital recently invited Lyle to serve on its Lay Advisory Board. The purpose of the Board is to consider and make recommendations to the Administrator on matters affecting the broad range of activities at the hospital. In addition, the guidelines state, "the Board shall communicate to the Administrator community and consumer concerns and attitudes of the Hospital; further the best interests of Sacred Heart to all levels of political activities and governmental bodies; keep abreast of the changing health care industry." Qualifications considered in making appointments to the Board are stated as:

- a. Knowledgeable in community affairs
- b. Community credibility
- c. Quality of perception
- d. Commitment of time commensurate with inherent responsibilities of the Board

STATE SUPERINTENDENT PARNELL has named Dave Curry secondary administration specialist for the State Department of Education, replacing John Herbert, who resigned to become principal of Walker Junior High in Salem. In his new post, Curry will serve as executive secretary of the Oregon Association of Secondary School Administrators.

INSTRUCTIONAL COUNCIL MEETING which was cancelled on December 7 - due to the Great Storm - will be held on Thursday, December 21, treating the same agenda.

THE OHIO DEPARTMENT of Education has just finished tabulating 12,500 written recommendations from a statewide "Search for Consensus" in education; and a recent issue of TRENDS comments on the results. Heading the list of the 10 top citizens' concerns was improving communication between the school and the community. Dick Grosenbaugh, administrative assistant for public information, concluded: "more emphasis should be placed on stressing to each individual in the school system the important role he or she plays in the overall relationship of the school to the community." If any employee can't, or won't, answer a question, a citizen may feel the entire school system has the same attitude. High on the priority list, he feels, must be "educating the entire staff about the entire system. . .so that they will be informed communicators when communicating."

TEACHERS "TRUTH SQUAD": TRENDS further notes the formation of a "truth squad" by a group of teachers in the St. Johns (Mich) Education Assn. Disturbed by apparent misconceptions in the public mind, the teachers formed a voluntary organization which operates year-round to "create some credibility with the public by countering the confusion about what a teacher does, and why."

In New York City, citizens attending Board of Education meetings can ask questions of experts at special tables set up in the room adjoining the board room. Employees of various offices such as Instruction, Special Education, Planning & Research, man the tables to field whatever specialized questions are asked.

Another interesting experiment is being tried in Richmond, Va., where a telephone "Fact Center" has been established. Any citizen with a question about the schools may receive an answer by calling the "Fact Center" number. In line with conclusions noted in the Ohio Department of Education survey, the service has turned out to be a boon to school employees who did not know where else to turn for reliable information.

"THE PROSPECT FOR HUMANITY" will be the topic of a talk to be given by R. Buckminster Fuller in his appearance at SWOCC on Sunday, January 7. In his presentation, Fuller will illustrate how existing modern technology is capable of eliminating waste of manpower and human resources, and of solving problems of need on the one hand and oversupply on the other.

World Magazine describes Buckminster Fuller as "probably one of the most trusted and loved human beings now alive. He has a philosophy that human intelligence is equal to humankind's most complex needs. He is aware of all the dangers of unlimited growth and technological expansion, but he is even more aware that humankind has hardly even begun to direct its brainpower to its major challenges. Fuller sees our planet as a spaceship with infinite possibilities for creative human development, social justice, human betterment, and the full release of the joyous spirit."

Mr. Fuller's presentation will be at 2 p.m. Sunday, January 7, in Upper Prosper Hall, Southwestern Oregon Community College. Admission is $1 for adults, 50¢ for students; all sales at the door.

"CLUSTER CAREER PROGRAMS," a general course on career education, will be offered in the Eugene-Springfield metropolitan area during winter term. The course actually deals with considerably more than "cluster" programs; in fact, according to a memorandum from the office of Bill Manley, Coordinator of Career Education for Lane I.E.D., it should be beneficial to teachers and administrators in all subjects and on all levels. Topics and projects will include material for career awareness in the elementary grades, career exploration in the middle grades, occupational emphasis and specialization for grades 11-14, career guidance and counseling, and relating career education to all areas of the curriculum.

The course carries three hours of OSU graduate credit and will be offered on Monday evenings, 7-10 p.m., beginning January 12, 1973. Cost is $30 per participant; registration reservations (preregistration) must be made with the IED Career Education office, 342-5576, X-24.

THE SERIES OF Christmas parties sponsored by the Student Association and students of the LCC Early Childhood Education program ends today. It has been, say all, a complete success. . .and for Anne Stewart, who acted as coordinator for the group, an educational experience. Since the first two parties here on campus, the Santa Claus troupe has taken taken a party to Head Start Centers in Oakridge, Springfield, Eugene, Creswell, and Junction City; and the series ends with a party in Elmira this morning.

Says Anne, "the response has been heartwarming, everywhere we went. For some of the low-population, low income areas, our little party was the only celebration of Christmas these children would know, outside of what their families could do for them on Christmas Day. The Department Store Santas, or the Mall Santa, or things like the Bon Marché breakfast-and-Santa-visit. . .none of the color and excitement familiar to our Christmas has been available to these children. I've enjoyed every bit of it. . .even the seemingly endless wrapping of gifts!"

Every child attending the parties received a gift; and the special feature of each party (well, next to Santa himself) was the breaking of a candy-filled pinata. Students in the Early Childhood Education program planned and coordinated the party activities, and constructed the pinatas. Gifts and refreshments were paid for by the ASLCC budget, with some contributions from local groups. And Santa was impersonated alternatively by Jay Boulton or Chuck Packnett.

Children at the Oakridge party had prepared letters which they gave to Santa, and which Santa, after carefully noting the contents, left at LCC to be displayed on the bulletin board in the Administration building. As a sample, we offer the letter signed "Mike":

Dear Santa,

I want a motorcycle, a T.V., and a Johnny West and a horse. You can come to our house first, Santa. I will get up in the middle of the night to go to the bathroom. Hi to Rudolph.

Love,
Mike

Tarpenning has been coach at LCC for five seasons, and in his tenure LCC has won the Oregon Community College championship for the past two years, the Region 18 cross country title in 1969, 71, and 72, and (who can forget that?) the national title at Pensacola (Fla.) last fall.

Bill announces stud service available "to qualified bitches only." Let's get that straight, Bill. Is it a talent competition, or for beauty only? And who decides. . .you, or Snow Puffs Camee Paka?

As famous as Paka is becoming, he is being out-classed by a dog belonging to one of the pros. in Bill's department. Marv Jaegers' dog, Jonathan, is, according to Marv, a unique blend of German Short Hair and German Shepherd. And though his looks are strange, Marv admits, you have to acknowledge his talent.
