A MEMORIAL TO Bob Johnson has been in the planning stage for some time with the Evening College Advisory Committee. We have word now that they plan to have a tree planted in memory of the popular campus personality and Business instructor who died last year. Donations will be used to purchase a plaque to mark the tree. If you wish to contribute, it will be appreciated. Send to Jack Kreitz, Chairman, Business Department.

OREGON NURSES ASSOCIATION Special Interest Group on College Health Nursing will be holding a workshop this Saturday, March 3, at the University of Oregon Health Service. Forty to fifty College Health Nurses are expected to participate; and Laura Oswalt, Chairperson for the group, announces a program to include such timely topics as:

. . . School Nurse Certification in Oregon: "Where It's At!" by Georgia Cross, R.N. from School District 4-J

. . . The voice of the consumer in Student Health Services: "You mean that student is going to have something to say about my Health Service?" to be presented by John Loeber, Student Health Coordinator of LCC Student Health Services, and Russ Ooms

. . . The Nurse Practitioner, "from an R.N. who is and the role she plays in a Student Health Service" by Bev Gosch, R.N.

. . . All about V.D. - or almost all; by Lynn Olmstead and Bill Leslie

LEONARD JOHNSON OF College Facilities is listed in the Staff Directory as having telephone number 747-8080. Please note: This is a mistake. That number is an unlisted one belonging to a very nice but exasperated lady who would like never to receive another call intended for Leonard.

Leonard's correct number, by the way, is also unlisted - his request.

PAUL NELSON OF NFA will be on campus again today from 10 to 1 p.m. - same place, northeast corner of the cafeteria. Any interested staff members are invited to come and talk with him.

JOE SEARL WAS a participant in the January 27, 1973 meeting of the Association of American Geographers, speaking to the body on facilitating inter-institutional relations.

LCC'S ANNUAL PUBLICATION of the Benefactors' List, which acknowledges all gifts of any kind (scholarships, instructional materials, machinery, books and periodicals - whatever) made to the college in 1972, either directly to an individual or department, or through the Development Fund, will go to the printer on Friday, March 2. If you have a doubt as to whether the donor of a gift to your department is included in the list, or if you recollect any gift which was not reported to the Development Office, please call Lyle Swetland, X-335, immediately.

ANOTHER OF THOSE wonderful letters from Karen Lansdowne, this one written most patriotically on Washington's Birthday (the real one). She reports that no Dailies were received for a month, and then they came sea-mail; and, although she confesses

AT TONIGHT'S MEETING the Evening Program to missing the news, she applauds our thrift.

Advisory Committee will discuss, among other items, membership in the United State Association of Evening Students, Spring Class Schedule proposals, the memorial to Bob Johnson, and preparations for the Skills Faire.

Karen, the Office of Community Services considers keeping LCC members overseas up-to-date re campus happenings one of the best investments of postage it could make. The sea-mail was simply an error, which we trust will not be repeated.

Karen writes:

LCC HAS AGAIN been chosen as an examination center for Certified Professional Secretary Examination. The examination will be administered on May 4 and 5 by Maurine Bayes.

What an exciting school LCC is! It's more difficult to appreciate when we're right there in its midst, worried about lack of appropriated federal funding and all that. A couple of items remind me of the frequency with which LCC spearheads recognition for all community colleges in Oregon; the LCC Choir and Band at the legislature, Larry R's editing of ACPRA. . . and Fran Thomas's collection of materials for consumer health, as an example of imaginative teaching.

FLORENCE HEDDEN RETURNED from her vacation trip to Greece with a portfolio of sun-drenched prints of antiquities (Ed takes the slides in the Hedden family) and accounts of her stay in one of the luxury hotels in Athens where the amenities of living are still observed in the grand manner. Among the mementos Florence brought back were strings of "worry beads" for Helen Haynie and Marie Patz. Both acknowledged it was exactly what they needed.

The British, she says, are in the midst of intensive introspection concerning all phases of their educational system. "Who," she asks, "is David Butler, and could you save all issues of Feathers for me? Could you send me by sea mail some samples of the fliers about instructional programs Larry R. did that caught the attention of ACPRA? If no one is able to attend the symposium on Large Group Instruction at De Anza College, Cupertino, would it be possible for LCC to get a copy of any reports they put out?"

O.K., Karen, we've buzzed David and he is sending you copies of the two issues of Feathers which have appeared so far; and he'll add a note to make your acquaintance. In case he's too modest to mention it, let the Daily be the one to tell you: David has two articles appearing in current issues of the regional edition of Sports Digest. We'll pass your inquiry on to Larry Romine; and we'll buzz around campus and see what we can find out about the symposium in Cupertino.

LCC'S COURSE SCHEDULES for Spring Term will be printed in the March 5 issue of the Eugene Register-Guard. Students planning to enroll for Spring classes are urged to get and save copies of that issue of the newspaper to refer to during the registration process. Both daytime and evening credit and non-credit (adult education) courses will be listed in the schedule, which will be printed in a handy tabloid pull-out section of the paper.

The new distribution procedure will put the schedule into 58,000 homes. Fewer than half that number of schedules had been distributed through the system of printing separate schedules for credit and non-credit classes and handing them out on campus or mailing them. If the course listings can be contained in an 8-page tabloid section, there will be a saving of about 1/3 over the old method; if it is necessary to go to 12 pages, cost will be about the same.

Publication of future course schedules in the newspaper will depend on the reception and effectiveness of the March 5 trial issue.

LCC EMPLOYEES FEDERATION (AFT) meeting which was cancelled for last night has been re-scheduled for Wednesday, March 7, at 7:30 p.m. in Room 103, AAD.

JOHN LOEBER, STUDENT Health Coordinator of LCC, has been selected by Dean Lovett, M.D., of Pacific Coast College Health Association to serve on PCCHA in a test to ascertain the effectiveness of increased student participation. John, you may remember, was instrumental in promoting two resolutions at the PCCHA November meeting, which were ultimately adopted. He is the first student from any 2- or 4-year college, nationally or regionally, to be so honored.

WORK IS CONTEMPORARY, says the Entertainment Editor of The San Diego Union of The New Shakespeare Company, which is making a one-night stand on LCC campus with tonight's performance of "As You Like It."

Margrit Roma, director, keeps her troupe of youthful performers on the road most of the year, touring the U.S. and Canada, sometimes performing free for sponsoring organizations such as schools, clubs, recreation programs, and the like. The company receives a token donation annually from the city of San Francisco for performing free

"MORE RELEVANT PATHWAYS" to graduation are now available to Florida students, according to Education U.S.A.-February 26:

. . .a "job"entry program"permits 16-year-olds with 10 high school credits to earn more credits for each 288 hours on an approved job

. . .a "performance program" allows a student to graduate upon "fulfilling previously outlined objectives, as measured by his performance, without regard to credits or length of time in school."

Florida students can also graduate early if they are admitted to an accredited college after completing 10 credits. And in Oregon, the NSPRA newsletter continues, the state board has adopted new requirements that are "goal and competency oriented." Implementation here is set for 1974-75, giving districts two years to identify "performance indicators they will accept as evidence that individual students are equipped to survive in the society in which they live."

"Oregon State Supt. Dale Parnell has suggested," the article concludes, "that graduates should have survival skills, including the ability to read a map, change a tire, and swim."

FEEDBACK: Wayte Kirchner, the LCC Choir, the Swing Choir, and the Stage Band took their show to Marist High yesterday to perform for the school assembly; and a staffer whose son is a student at Marist reports they got a great reception there. And Lyle Swetland tells us the ADC members who made a presentation on behalf of the program at yesterday's luncheon meeting of the Lions were well received and apparently made a great impression on the members.

AND THE DAILY wishes to close this week by sending best wishes from the LCC campus community to Dr. and Mrs. Albert Brauer. Their wedding will take place this Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the New Life Center in Florence.

AT LAST THURSDAY'S Instructional Council meeting, the Business Department, which is being transferred to Dean Piercey's TLC, presented Gerry Rasmussen, their Dean since 1967, with a citation reading, in part:

We are losing a genuine friend and co-worker. We realize the Business Department could not have grown and prospered from October of 1967 until March of 1973 without your dynamic leadership and belief in the personnel, goals and objectives of the department.

The transfer is an adjustment to equalize the responsibilities shared by the Associate Deans - some of our instructional departments are simply growing faster than others.

CAT'S WHISKERS ON SATURDAY: How's that for a title? It's the name of a book for children written by David Butler which has been accepted for publication by Carol Rhoda Books of Minneapolis.

Cat's Whiskers is about a cat named Flower who meets a lion; each profits by the meeting. The lion shows Flower how to roar, and Flower teaches the lion to catch mice.

THE EVENING PROGRAM at its meeting on March 1 accepted and passed a motion to become members of the United States Association of Evening Students, USAES is a national association of evening student governments dedicated to the improvement of all Continuing Education services. The primary objectives are to promote communication among schools, institute legislation benefiting students, and provide a forum to help solve some of the basic problems common to evening students and their representative bodies. LCC Evening Program will be a part of the Great Western Region of USAES, which is comprised of member colleges from the seven Western states.

This morning in my office we are having a little ceremony in recognition of the honor paid LCC's flight instructor, Ron Kluth, in being named by the Federal Aviation Administration as Flight Instructor of the Year for the Eugene Aviation District. The district encompasses all of southwestern Oregon and is bordered on the east by Burns and on the south by the California border.

The FAA credits Ron with organizing a flight and ground training program that in less than 8 months led to LCC being named as sole pilot examining authority among the state's colleges. He is also among the nominees for Regional Instructor of the Year, an award to be made later this Spring.

You earned the award, Ron - but congratulations, anyway!

In an effort to implement LCC's Affirmative Action plan, Dr. Schafer formed a committee to prepare suggested guidelines regarding screening committees, the operation of which are significant in the hiring of faculty. Since hiring (if any) must begin shortly, immediate input regarding the guidelines is needed.

. . . Proposal to modify grading policy (information item):

This is follow-up to the recommendation at the Academic Council meeting of February 19 to eliminate the "F" grade.

FOOD SERVICES WILL be suspended effective March 12, due to reduced demand during finals week, and will resume March 26, the first day of the Spring Quarter. RICHARD MARSHALL, who is on the Executive Committee of Phi Theta Kappa, stopped by to report on the success of the Spaghetti Feed which PTK sponsored a week ago last Friday. About 160 persons came for the dinner, including 50 senior citizens from the Celeste Campbell Center. Phi Theta Kappa wishes particularly to thank those staff members (16 altogether) who, although unable to come themselves, purchased tickets and turned them over for use by senior citizens.

TELEPHONE CREDIT CARD users are urged not to miss today's meeting at 2 p.m. in the Board Room. Bill Cox, Director of College Facilities, will chair the meeting, which is called for the purpose of discussing telephone usage.

SPPC/BOARD NEGOTIATIONS: Chairman Daggett refused to make any statement following last Wednesday's negotiating session; therefore, for those who may have missed Mr. Lloyd Paseman's report in Saturday's Register-Guard, we excerpt the major points:

... difference over a board proposal to reduce part-time and summer pay rates for faculty remain unresolved, as do opposing plans for replacing the college's traditional salary schedule for faculty and administrators

... SPPC asked the Board to allocate $5,250 for the hiring of consultants to develop job descriptions and pay levels for each classified job at LCC. The Board made a four-part counterproposal and said if SPPC would accept it, the Board would agree to accept the results of the proposed survey as "binding." The counterproposal, which was accepted with the proviso that the committee be appointed and the consultant(s) hired before April 1, was:

The committee that would work with the consultants would consist of three SPPC members and two LCC administrators, with SPPC Chairman Delpha Daggett serving as chairman of the ad hoc committee

The new committee would "evaluate, screen, and recommend" the consultant or consultants to do the survey, the Board and SPPC would mutually agree on the selection, and the Board would pay for the survey.

The committee would "determine its own purposes, guidelines and goals," and would submit them to the Board and SPPC for joint approval

Classified wage levels would be frozen until the survey is implemented, and classified employees would be limited to cost-of-living increases until then. Raises dictated by the survey, however, would be paid retroactive to July 1, 1973.

SPPC members, Mr. Paseman's article continues, objected only to the inclusion of administrators on the committee that would work with the consultants preparing the job survey... Board members argued that the committee's role would really be only advisory. Dr. Albert Brauer of Florence said "the administration won't be sitting there making any decisions on any classified person's salary."

THE MEDICAL ASSISTANTS of Lane County, at a luncheon held yesterday in the President's Dining Room, announced that the Diana Moon Memorial Scholarship for this year has been awarded to Karen Edmonds. Presentation of the scholarship will be made at the meeting of the Association to be held later this month at the Eugene Hotel.

In addition to a good number of Karen's classmates, the luncheon was attended by nine members of the Lane County Medical Assistants Association, which sponsors the scholarship.

AT YESTERDAY'S CABINET President Schafer reported on his trip to Anaheim last week and, in particular, the initial meetings with the Board of Directors of the League for Innovation in Community Colleges. It was especially pleasing to discover, he said, that when LCC received the invitation to join it was the culmination of an investigation of community colleges of both the mid- and northwest, rather than just the northwest as we had supposed.

The President has already committed LCC to participation in a summer seminar at Batelle Institute, in which a team composed of an Instructor, an Associate Dean, and a Department Chairman will spend a week in the East reviewing a model system of educational management and, on their return, put the experience to use with LCC's in-service.

Among other things the President saw, heard, and discussed at the meetings:

...reports of a six-month study of the "open university" system in England. Although participants run better than 80% from segments of the population who would ordinarily not enroll in the conventional style institution, the long range effect seems to be to increase college enrollment - the explanation being that the desire for learning is either instilled or revived by exposure to media education

...a pilot project, "Increasing the Effectiveness of Educational Management in Community Colleges," is now in effect in three League member colleges in the East and the President has entered into correspondence with these colleges to determine what benefit might be available to LCC

...a League representative must be appointed for LCC, to act as communication link between the League, the member institutions, and the college. Dean Rasmussen suggested obtaining and possibly disseminating some type of "job description" for the position before undertaking selection of any staff person(s) who might fill it. His suggestion will be acted upon.

PHI THETA KAPPA has received a thank-you letter from Mrs. Carl H. Rutherford, of Senior Citizens, so gracious we thought you might like to share it:

I wish to express my deep appreciation for your consideration of the Senior Citizens. I was one who partook of your hospitality at the Spaghetti dinner. It was delicious and we enjoyed the movies.

We were so royally greeted at the bus and looked after all evening by the Reception Committee - we also thoroughly enjoyed the singing by the young lady. . .

Mrs. Rutherford closes by saying she expects to see "As You Like It" that evening. Sounds as though she's not missing many golden moments of the Golden Years.

IT'S THAT TIME again - Budget Time, that is - and Jack Kreitz had the kindly thought to supply a little solace. His memorandum to Dean Carter reads:

Re: Aspirins

John Hiron heard about your sever budget restrictions on aspirins for departments. As such, he has donated a thousand aspirins to the business department from the good guys of Hiron Drugs with a statement, "May all your headaches be little ones."

Chairman Kreitz generously offers to share his aspirins; and we hear Hank Doua is having a battered tin cup delivered to his office.

LCC HAS TWO finalists in the Miss Lane County Scholarship Pageant to be held in Eugene on March 17: Angela Kaufman, whom we have already congratulated; and Judy Ann Perkins, whom we somehow overlooked in scanning the R-G account. (Well, let's be honest; we looked for Angela because we took French together under Ginny Nelson, and we knew she had entered the contest.)

LCC is well represented in the pageant; besides the two finalists (both Performing Arts majors) another of the "regulars" familiar to fans of LCC theatre productions, John Coombs, will be one of the entertainers. Do you suppose John will scoop Burt Parks with that "Lovely" number he does every year?

they'll be on campus, at the North end of Food Services area, at approximately 4 o'clock.

They will be taking Monday off, so Sid wonders if we would all help out by picking up our own mail for that day only.

We are sure all of their co-workers join with the Daily in wishing Sid and Dee a happy life together.

THE LIONS TALE: Lyle Swetland, a long-time Lion, turned over to us the most recent newsletter, in which their "Fourth Estate Lion" gives an account of the presentation made by the ADC Association of Lane County at their February 28 meeting:

Shirley Caffing spoke to us representing the ADC Association of Lane County and told about their self-help scholarship program. Shirley had with her three other girls on the program and they all told that same basic story: Divorce or illness found them long out of school with a family to support and they didn't want to stay on the welfare rolls. Under a federal OEO program, which is ending 1/74, the government matches their funds on a 1:3 ratio, which pays for their tuition, books, incidental expenses within pre-set limits, so that they can get the education they need to enable them to seek gainful employment.

Their living allowance from the ADC program (welfare) is minimal and their medical coverage doesn't cover eyes or teeth. Consequently they are dependent upon the Elks for teeth and Lions for glasses, but even with that, it is far from easy..

They raise funds by selling $5 "nothing" tickets, speaking, and anything else they can legitimately do to raise money. The scholarships are awarded by a board which is made up of a cross-section of the business-professional and academic community. Since funds are limited, not all applicants are recipients.

He closes with a plea to the membership for support of "the only working program in the U.S." "Since OEO is being eliminated by Administration fiat and in theory is to be replaced by 'revenue sharing'" Fourth Estate Lion suggests they may wish to write their Congressmen.

Thank you, King of the Jungle. You gave a good account of a self-help program and a group of courageous, hard-working women that all of us on LCC campus feel a great admiration for.

THE DANFORTH FOUNDATION has selected LCC as one of 20 colleges in the nation to participate in the Foundation's second annual Community College Institute. Six LCC representatives will go to Stephens College, Columbia, Missouri, next August 8-18 to work under the guidance of a faculty skilled in the organizing of educational programs for diverse student bodies. The study will be to identify and meet local post-high school training needs.

In a letter to the Foundation in January, President Schafer said that answers will be sought to questions such as these:

...is continued enrollment growth essential to the economic existence and philosophy of LCC?

...who and where are the students in the college district that LCC has not yet served?

...how can contact be made with potential students who are not aware of the training available?

...what kinds of educational activities will best reach these students?

...how can LCC coordinate and cooperate with the 16 local school districts, the two 4-year institutions of higher education, the proprietary schools, the park and recreation districts, social service agencies, and community school organizations?

The Danforth Foundation will pay tuition, transportation, lodging, and meals for the LCC contingent, which is expected to include a Board member and representatives from administration and faculty, in addition to President Schafer.

DOTSON ANTIQUES, CALLIGRAPHY by Florence Hedden, and David Butler's poetizing were combined in the wedding gift presented Sid and Dee Austin by the Second Floor Gang. A gift certificate good for purchase at Dotson Antiques was devised, reading:

If you received a redemption at the reception,
Remember it was an office collection to start your marriage at its conception with this $ --- and our affection.

Paul Armstrong, eat your heart out!

DEBBIE DAGGETT, CHAIRMAN of SPPC, sends a note of clarification on the Classified increment and cost-of-living, pertaining to the Classified study:

Cost-of-living increase will become effective July 1, 1973, regardless of whether the study has been completed or not. This is only a precautionary clause. It is the desire of the SPPC with the cooperation of the Classified staff to complete the Classified study by July 1, 1973.

Del Matheson says he doesn't know what they're all about, but they show evidence of a lot of dedicated effort. They can be seen taped to the windows of the Library Office and the Xerox room.

AT YESTERDAY'S CABINET President Schafer:

...spoke of the need to give prompt attention to the Staff Attitude Survey, to let Larry Romine know what they would suggest to improve it in any future surveys. One suggestion was that a survey of the total staff would be very little more work than the random sampling of some 200 staff members represented in this year's survey.

...reminded the Deans of the need to develop a consistent salary schedule for the growing ranks of the para-professionals.

...requested assistance in choosing the "team" to attend the Danforth Community College Institute in August. Six persons comprise the team; and of these, two are designated as a Board member and the President. Dr. Schafer is seeking nominations for the other four positions. Recommendations should be in by March 22. Dr. Schafer noted that for persons not working on contract at the time, a stipend of $500 would be written into the budget.

. . .spoke of the meeting of Community College Presidents in Salem Friday and Saturday of this week, at which such topics as ABE, FTE, and PERB will be discussed; and on Sunday evening and Monday, the meeting of all college Presidents in the state - public, private, 2-year and 4-year.

He mentioned as a case in point the decision by the President of Wellesley to discontinue co-education and return to its original intent.

The balance of the meeting was given over chiefly to a discussion of a memorandum written by Social Science Chairman Bill Beals advancing the idea that LCC drop its posture of developing statistics and giving them to the reader without conclusions or editorializing in favor of what he called "hard sell." We quote some of the points Mr. Beals made in his memorandum:

I would suggest that we disentangle ourselves from the graduate school syndrome; i.e., Lane is not a graduate school and its students are not employed. . . . I refer you to the study. . .which shows that the liberal arts graduates who did not go on to a four-year institution. . .are employed at a higher rate than those who graduate from vocational schools. I believe it is time that we use this information to our advantage.

I would suggest very strongly that we use the information we have. . .in any and every way possible to show that it is not bad to be educated, that it can be both good for citizenship and for the employment picture. I would further urge that the administration and Board move away from the vocational fetish and show the consumers of our products, both tax payer and student, that regardless of what field a student enters into here they have a better than normal chance of employment.

MARCH 15

MUCH OF LAST night's Board meeting was occupied with a discussion of the report on goals, priorities, resource requirements, and recommendations for the Siuslaw Education Center prepared by Marston Morgan, Larry Murray, and Al Owens in consultation with Dean Case.

Marston Morgan and Otto Poticha spoke first on the physical requirements for the Center. Mr. Poticha strongly recommended that every effort be made to retain and continue the rapport which has been established between the college and the community, building only those facilities needed to supplement the present working arrangement aimed at developing round-the-clock use of schools, churches, gyms, etc. Supplementary facilities needed now and for the foreseeable future he believed need add up to a total of no more than 5,000 sq. ft., not necessarily all at the same location. They would offer space for offices, conference rooms, and, most needed of the three, storage facilities.

Larry Murray and Al Owens presented the report, which details objectives and recommendations through 1975. The budget, in addition to the $65,000 which would maintain the present program, is estimated at $101,000. The recommendation is divided into curriculum development activities, which would absorb most of the estimated cost; community services; support services (a half-time counsellor was the chief item here); and facilities.

Mrs. Huntington of the Pioneer Museum Association of Florence, appeared to speak on behalf of a cooperative arrangement between the college and the community in developing a museum. The Association has a site chosen which, if the college were to indicate its intention to work cooperatively, they would purchase with a grant of $5,000 made to it by the Jaycees.

In conclusion, the Board indicated its interest and appreciation; they asked that some further study be made of the human needs which might develop from a further extension of LCC instructional programs in the West Lane area - such things as transportation, housing, and child care.

DON'T FORGET: MONDAY'S Daily will be the last until Spring Term begins on March 26. Any notices which should be given campuswide circulation in Spring Vacation week must be on our desk by noon Friday.

Physical Examinations

Any student enrolling at Lane Community College shall be required to fill out a self-reporting form as a part of his entrance requirements during the admissions procedure. This form will report any chronic condition or physical impairment and indicate the person or persons to call in the event of an emergency medical problem. The exceptions to the above wherein a full physical examination shall be required will be for students involved in programs requiring physicals for certification or employment by outside agencies, and participation in intercollegiate athletics.

NOTICE OF INTENT to renew went out to all contracted personnel yesterday. Contracts will be forthcoming, as usual, when the budget for the coming school year is finalized.

A FIRST READING was given Wednesday night to a proposal for Board policy change in health services for the students. Dean Carter addressed the Board on the subject of the proposed policy revision which would bring it into line with practices which have developed as a consequence of the financial support given to Student Health Services this year by the Student Senate. John Loeber spoke to the need for expanded health services for the students. The Board expressed sympathy with the objectives and, with the proviso that any health service requiring extensive treatment would be inappropriate, asked that a summary of costs be developed. The second presentation will be made at the April 11 Board meeting.

A LETTER WAS sent yesterday from President Schafer's office to various representatives in the federal government opposing a section of the proposed new federal regulation which would reduce the amount of federal aid to ADC students on campus. Under the proposed regulation, it would no longer be possible to use private funds to make up the required local match money (the federal government puts up three parts to every one part matched locally in what is popularly known as "3 to 1" funding"). Since its inception, the ADC Association of Lane County has sponsored more than 700 students at LCC.

NEWCOMERS INFORMATION KIT: A supply of the Newcomers Information Kit prepared by Citizens Bank of Oregon has been made available to LCC staff by the bank. If you have any newcomer in your neighborhood, you might like to stop by the Development Office for a kit to present to them. . . and be the first family on the block to make their "good guys" list.

A REPORT ON the status of various bills of interest to educators, as reported in Speaker Dick Eymann's House Hotline:

KEEPING UP WITH THE COMMITTEE ACTION:

The EDUCATION COMMITTEE, having before it five bills relating to the Teacher Standards and Practices Commission (TSPC), agreed that in addition to responsibility for recommending policy, the TSPC should certify and decertify teachers and approve teacher education programs. On a tie vote, the Committee refused to allow appeal of TSPC actions to the Board of Education. All of these proposed statutory changes constitute a transfer of power from the State Board of Education to the 16-member board of professional educators. A bill to modify the composition of the board is yet to be discussed.

HB 2147, placing three students on the Board of Education, was the subject of opposing testimony at a recent hearing. The Committee was impressed by the competent and extensive testimony of student leaders emphasizing the role of students in revitalizing higher education. No action has been taken at this time. Upcoming business includes discussion of extending veterans' benefits to conscientious objectors who have done alternative service (HB 2540) and several bills dealing with the relationship of employees to their school district board.

Favorable action was taken by the ENVIRONMENT AND LAND USE COMMITTEE on three bills to make public buildings more accessible to wheel chair citizens. Two have subsequently been adopted by the House. HB 2308 brings non-governmental public buildings within the State Fire Marshal's standards for ramps, properly designed bathrooms and convenient drinking fountains. HB 2310 specifies use of the international symbol of access to mark facilities that have been made available. HB 2301 - pending before the Revenue Committee - would give a property tax advantage to businesses which remodel buildings for the convenience of wheel chair users.

The Committee also began consideration of HB 2497, a revision of current law creating a Willamette River Park System. More than 200 citizens attended a night hearing, March 1. L.B. Day has appeared in support of HB 2152, a bill to prevent storage or disposal in Oregon of radioactive wastes produced outside the State, but asked the Committee to consider including all environmentally hazardous wastes. On March 22 there will be a hearing on HJR 53 directing state agencies to recycle wastes and use recovered products.

The HUMAN RESOURCES COMMITTEE reported out HB 2193 which brings Oregon into line with Federal law by providing medical assistance for four months after removal from the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program and extends benefits to certain other classifications as well. During the week of March 12th the Committee will decide the fate of three measures designed to reinstitute the death penalty in Oregon.

MAYNARD FERGUSON will be making a rare appearance in the Eugene-Springfield area on March 25.

He will appear at Thurston High, giving a concert in the evening and conducting a workshop for students in the afternoon. Tickets are available at several music shops in Eugene and Springfield.

These guidelines will not have the effect of rules and have been developed in compliance with law. One objective is to assure a measure of consistency in personnel relations while retaining flexibility to meet local needs.
- ..the Board is asked to approve a plan for a series of public meetings to review Board goals. A meeting is to be held at each community college with participants nominated by the college and by each local school district in the area. UMPQUA COMMUNITY COLLEGE were hosts to the Spring Workshop of the Classified Section of OCCA this past Friday and Saturday; and your Editor begs to report:

. . .this is one of the most breathtakingly beautiful locations for a campus that we have ever seen

. . .Mel Phel, who has been Director of Food Services at UCC since leaving our campus two years ago, puts out a delish meal

. . .and our neighbors to the south are marvellous hosts

The Spring meeting was a productive one. Dr. Shelton appeared to introduce his amendment to HB2263 which sets forth specific procedures for the collective bargaining process. A printout of the amendment will be in your mailbox shortly. This is an extremely important piece of legislation, and Dr. Shelton has requested input from all the community colleges. Your criticisms, suggestions, etc., will be appreciated and will receive serious consideration. They should be in Dr. Shelton's office by April 12.

Three resolutions were approved for presentation at the OCCA annual convention in May: two from Linn-Benton regarding unemployment compensation and maternity leave; and one from Peter Graumann of Clackamas CC recommending that cost of living be adjusted quarterly for payroll purposes.

Judy Piercey reported on the evaluation of the OCCA newsletter as it nears the end of its first year. The Section appears to be overwhelmingly in favor of the newsletter, and prefer its continuance on a monthly basis. However, this is another of those volunteer services that makes considerable demands of time and energy and Judy will be looking for a successor in May.

AGENDA FOR TOMORROW'S CABINET will deal with the Board meetings of March 28 and April 11, and review of the '73-'74 budget.

THE GOVERNOR'S STATUS OF WOMEN COMMITTEE will sponsor a seminar at Linn-Benton CC Wednesday, March 28, 7:30-9:30pm. Keynote speaker will be Sue Gordon, Chairperson of the Governor's committee. Anyone on campus interested in going should call Peggy Wakefield, X-231. Registration fee is $1.

Fred O'Sullivan of the Oregon Federation of Public Employees will be present to discuss the 29 bills scheduled for presentation in this session of the Oregon Legislature. Meeting will begin at 5:30 p.m. If you have any question, you may call Mr. O'Sullivan at his office, 345-9802; or at home, 688-1192.

DR. PARNELL, Superintendent of Public Instruction, State Department of Education, has issued a statement in support of the school finance plan:

The 1973 Legislature must be commended for sending to the people an innovative school finance proposition that places the entire wealth of the state behind the basic education of each child and maintains local control by writing into law a bill of rights and responsibilities for local school districts.

All of us who want to improve and strengthen public education in Oregon should work for passage of this measure on May 1.

With little change in principles since its earliest form, Governor McCall's school finance plan still embodies the following objectives.

1. Equalize Oregon's education offerings and balance Oregon's taxation load.
2. Eliminate the local property tax as a method of financing operating expenses of primary and secondary education.
3. Eliminate homeowners property tax insofar as school operating costs are concerned.
4. Attempt to minimize the shift between income-producing (business) and nonincome-producing (residential) property.
5. Adopt, as much as possible, the ability-to-pay principle in financing education.
6. All districts will have at least their current level of resources and low spending districts educational offerings may increase up to a $900 level.
7. Maintain local control of public schools.

It is true that the Supreme Court's decision on the Rodriguez case may signify the retreat of the federal government from a historic commitment to equality of educational opportunity. Yet this landmark decision does not deter our Oregon effort to overhaul our 'bailing wire' school finance system. Our chief concern is to bring stability and fairness to the Oregon system.

Oregon should continue to legislatively carve out an exemplary school finance program of its own design and volition. The action of the 1973 Legislative Assembly is mute testimony to the fact that we have not been relying on a court decision to spur Oregon to action.

ANNE STEWART BEGS that you lend her your ears:

To make sure everybody knows what's going on in the Office of Community Services:

Lane Community College's second annual Skills Fair is scheduled for a two-day stint this year on Tuesday, May 2 and Wednesday, May 3. For those of you who weren't around last spring, the Skills Fair is a special time set aside for people from the community to see where their money is going and what opportunities are available to them through the College. It is estimated that last year's Fair, held in late April, attracted around 2,400 persons.

Starting at 6:30 a.m. with the first class of the day (Baking) visitors from the community will have a special chance to see just what happens at LCC every day and evening.

This year's schedule will be much like that printed last year, with listings hour by hour of classes, labs, or activities that might be fun or interesting for the curious visitor.

A complete list of activities will be compiled for publication during the next week and a half. Special events already on the calendar in addition to regular departmental activities include a spaghetti feed sponsored by Phi Theta Kappa, the Performing Arts Department production of "You Can't Take It With You," and an informal reception designed to arouse interest in evening offerings on campus. The reception will be hosted by the Evening Program Advisory Committee.

Each department/area/group on campus should have a representative notify me (X-340) no later than Wednesday, April 4, of any activities they wish to have included in the publicity for the event.

Persons interested in ideas for highlighting their area and reporting the details for publicity purposes should come to the Board Room tomorrow, Wednesday, March 28, at 12 noon for a briefing session.

CAREER ANALYSIS class for LCC employees: Jan Brandstrom will be on campus this evening between 7:30 and 9 for anyone who wishes to see her to discuss or sign up for the class.

HAVE YOU SEEN the handsome brochure the Office of Development just brought out as part of this year's fund-raising campaign? It leads off with: "Thank you. . . Alumni and Friends of LCC" and lists all those individuals and businesses that contributed to the first campaign last spring. May next year's "thank you" be thrice as long.

KLCC APRIL PROGRAM GUIDE is ready for distribution; if you are not on their mailing list, you can pick up a copy from the Office of Community Services. KLCC announces a new program starting April 28 and continuing on the last Sunday of every month at 7 p.m., called Earscape. "It's really not unlike home movies," the program guide says, "only it's for your ears. You listen on stereo headphones and we take you to interesting places. You close your eyes, and you listen." Now where can we find a pair of headphones?

OUTSTANDING COLLEGE ATHLETES OF AMERICA has selected nine LCC students to appear in the 1973 annual biographical awards volume of the same name. In a letter dated March 21 Doug Blankenship, Chairman, writes: "The Outstanding College Athletes of America program strives to recognize those young men and women who have excelled not only on the playing field, but in academic and community service. Their superb achievements have brought honor and distinction to themselves, their schools, and their generation."

Named from LCC were: Beth Boehmer, Michael Convey, William Cram, Randy Griffith, Dale Hammitt, Lorraine Hein, Edwin Jaffarian, Steve Maryanski, and Suzan Mitchell. Nominations are made by athletic directors and coaches across the country. "This year," the news release continues, "participating athletes will be eligible for the Outstanding College Athletes of America Hall of Fame Awards Program. Those selected by the Board of Advisors will be honored at an awards banquet. The ceremony will be attended by prominent sports figures from across the nation. The Hall of Fame will be permanently established in Los Angeles under the auspices of the California Museum of Science and Industry, and will serve to honor each year's winning athletes."

ANY STAFF MEMBER OR STUDENT familiar with the program at San Fernando Valley State College in Northridge, California: Debbie Daggett would like to talk with you. Please call her at X-277.

MAY 7, 1973, IS THE NEXT cutoff date for proposals to be submitted to the National Endowment for the Humanities, Division of Research Grants. Proposals submitted by that date will be decided upon by November, 1973.

This funding is available for two basic programs: research grants and editing grants; however, the Endowment sets very specific limits on the actual areas of study they will consider. They cite as examples; the definitive biography of Thomas Jefferson, a complete edition of the letters and journals of Lord Byron, and an archaeological excavation of a pre-Columbian site at Chaco Canyon, New Mexico. In a recent release the Endowment states:

With the Bicentennial now approaching, the Division of Research Grants seeks even more to stimulate projects related to the Bicentennial observance and we hope to see an increase in the proportion of our funds available for such purposes. ...we have special interest in receiving projects which promise to deepen understanding of the history of our people.

And the guidelines are even more specific: "Eligibility for consideration in the Bicentennial program is established not merely by the contemporaneity of the subject with the Revolutionary period but by the extent to which the project deals with and reflects major themes of that era and adds to the understanding of the founding of the nation."

For further details, call Funding, X-339.

DIANA TAYLOR, STUDENT HEALTH NURSE, has received the good news: she has been chosen as one of ten nurses in the U.S. to attend an 11-week family planning course at the University of New Jersey this summer. This course is part of the program of Planned Parenthood-World Population, Inc., of New York. The full-tuition scholarship is valued at about $4,000; and Diana, who will be on unpaid leave for the duration of the study, will also receive a stipend of $250 per month to cover her personal expenses.

Presently only four nurses in the state have received family planning training. Laura Oswalt, director of Student Health Services, says Diana's training will fit guidelines currently being drawn in the state legislature to allow nurses extended responsibilities, including certain family planning duties now performed only by physicians. The addition of a trained family planning specialist on campus, she believes, will help shift some of the load from the county health department and open the door for more comprehensive health care for students.

The Educational Coordinating Council shall administer a program of grants or awards to encourage the development or implementation of alternative techniques or procedures, courses of study or parts of courses, designed to improve instructional effectiveness or efficiency or to finance extraordinary innovative projects. . .

The criteria for allocation of funds shall: a/ Designate certain sum of money for each campus based on a per capita ratio; b/ such ratio shall be based on the number of students on a campus relative to the total student population for schools within the council's funding jurisdiction and thereby provide the percentage of each school's allocation. . .

New to this writer is the priority stated in criteria for applications: "Priority should be given to lower division, high enrollment courses." For details, call X-339.

APRIL 30 IS THE DEADLINE for submitting Application Forms and Minor Revisions for review by the Curriculum Committee. If you have any question, call Judy Piercy, X-201.

From Education U.S.A.: The nation's independent schools, long regarded as an elitist group, are increasingly concerned about diversity. Their concern has taken at least three forms. . . 1/ increase minority enrollment; 2/ seek financial relief for middle-income families, on whom they have become dependent for support; 3/ expand the open classroom concept.

"Minority enrollment in the independent schools," the article continues, "totals only 5%, however, despite stepped-up scholarship and recruiting programs."
