The Board approved the contract at its last meeting. While voting to accept the contract, the faculty also decided to receive its retroactive pay in one lump sum (retroactive to July 1) in the Nov. 29 paycheck.

Some highlights of the contract, which features an overall 11.3 percent salary and fringe benefit increase, include:

- * increasing beginning teacher pay from $7,070 to $8,367
- * addition of an eleventh step in the salary schedule
- * reducing the percentage gap between annual steps from about five percent to four percent for the top four steps and three percent for the remaining steps
- * a no-strike, no-lockout" clause. The contract is good until June 30 and will automatically be renewed unless one side or the other wants to modify it.

HANSEN ELECTED TO POST---Creswell banker LeRoy Hansen, an original trustee of the Lane Community College Development Fund, has been elected president of the Board of Trustees of the 35-member non-profit corporation. He replaces Edward Rubey, a Eugene certified public accountant.

Hansen, president of the Community Bank of Creswell, will hold office for a year. He is one of the original members of the Development Fund, joining when it was formed in 1971, and has served as first vice president of the group for the past two years.

AFT MEETING TODAY---Nominations of officers and a progress report are on the agenda today during a special meeting of the American Federation of Teachers Local #2417. In addition to the nominations, Local president Mike Rose will also make a progress report on union activities. Time: 5 p.m., Adm. 202.

$$$$$ AVAILABLE---Support money to the tune of $4,000 (an increase of $1,000 over last year) has been released by trustees of the Development Fund and is available to whomever comes up with a good idea of how to spend it. Staff members may apply for up to $1,000 of the grant money for support of college programs by submitting idea papers to Lyle Swetland by Dec. 13. Proposals will be evaluated by a subcommittee of the trustees and awards announced before the new year.

INSURANCE REP---Archie Zarewski will be on campus today at 3 p.m. Call Carol Beckley or Marge McGill for an appointment.

PARKING LOT RULES TO BE CLARIFIED---Confusion about who can and who cannot park in the new Community Education parking lot should end soon when Security posts a new sign at the lot's entrance. The new sign will tell you that parking is by permit only, that you can only stay for two hours, and that permits are available in the Community Education office. Violators, the sign also says, will be cited. In the meantime, anyone who has received a ticket for parking in that area recently should take the ticket to Security and it will be cleared.

NANCY BELK SAYS THANKS---Nancy Belk, who is still recovering from surgery in Portland, thanks "everybody at Lane for all their prayers and thoughts and many cards" she has received during her stay. Although she is doing better, she will remain in the hospital for a while longer. She is in Room 259 of Emanuel Hospital.

STUDENT ELECTIONS TOMORROW, WEDNESDAY---Some 40 positions on the student senate and five spots on the OSPIRG Board of Directors will be up for grabs Tuesday and Wednesday during the ASLCC fall elections. Students will be voting for departmental senators (two for each department, 20 departments) and for one senator-at-large, as well as choosing among six candidates for the five OSPIRG positions. Instructors may want to remind their students to vote.

SPEAKING OF STUDENT GOVERNMENT---The position of second vice president is open and will be filled by appointment. Interested students can pick up an application from Connie Hood, the ASLCC secretary, anytime between now and Nov. 12. A screening committee will make the final selection.

About 200 of the nation's top junior and community college runners will begin arriving in Eugene Thursday for Saturday's meet, scheduled to begin at 11 a.m. over the five mile figure-eight course.

Lane is expected to be one of the favorites; it finished fifth last year and was the national champion in 1972. A Friday evening banquet--featuring Steve Prefontaine as the main speaker--will be held at 6 p.m. in the cafeteria. Price is $3.75 a plate. Tickets for the race are on sale at the health and PE office, Meier and Frank, and at Rosenblatts. Admission is $1 for adults, with children and senior citizens admitted free.

WEDNESDAY
November 6, 1974

STRAUB, PACKWOOD, WEAVER WIN---Bob Straub will be the next governor of Oregon; Bob Packwood will continue as Oregon's junior U.S. senator; Jim Weaver will be Oregon's congressman from the Fourth District. And Bob Wood squeaked by Archie Weinstein in the late hours and will be the newest county commissioner.

Voters turned out in moderate numbers and elected a largely Democratic slate of candidates (with some Republican surprises and hold-ons), rejected almost all money measures, and saved the steelhead trout as a game fish. A total of 82,960 voters, or 68 percent of the registered electorate, showed up at the polls in Lane County to join a little less than a million voters statewide in yesterday's vote. Here are some of the tallies:

Straub....422,590	Packwood....391,308	Weaver.....93,000
Atiyeh....300,210	Roberts.....318,519	Dellenback..80,659

Other results of interest: Jason Lee appears to have won his spot on the Court of Appeals despite a heavy write-in effort for Jacob Tanzer; Eric Haws, the attorney retained by the students for their legal services program was elected to the Eugene City Council; Bill Rogers upset Dick Eymann by about 1,000 votes; Jesse Fasold lost to Verne Duncan for state superintendent of public instruction; Fern Ridge finally passed its school budget on the fourth try by 12 votes; The Emerald PUD proposal was defeated; the anti-obscenity measure was voted down in Lane County but passed statewide; and the District 4-J recall attempt failed.

SPOT PAINTING JOBS NEEDED---The auto painting class needs spot or panel jobs to complete its training. No complete jobs or body work will be accepted. If you need a touch-up bring your car to the Machine Tech building between 2-3:30 p.m. any Tuesday or Thursday and ask for John Haurigan.

AFT NOMINATIONS---At its meeting Monday, AFT members nominated Evelyn Tennis for president, Jean Shaffer for classified vice president, Jane Foust for secretary, Dorothy Ziebert for treasurer, and Chet Wolf for delegate to the Labor Council. Elections will be held in about a week. There were no nominations for faculty vice president.

PAINTINGS IN LIBRARY---Approximately 15 oil paintings--mostly land and seascapes--will be on display until the middle of the month in the LCC library. The paintings are by several artists of Gallery 30, a group of 30 local artists who show and sell their work collectively. The paintings will be on display until Nov. 15 in the main reading area.

XEROX READINGS DUE---Call Carol Beckley.

PROPOSED FTE FORMULA APPROVED---The state's community college presidents and the state Board of Education have approved a proposed 1975-77 FTE reimbursement formula that would give $713 per FTE to Lane if it sails through the legislature untouched. The formula projects an FTE total of 14,770 for LCC in the next biennium, making it second only to Portland Community College which has a projected 22,522. Now the legislature must approve or ammend the proposal.

KOCHER IN CONFERENCE---John Kocher (law enforcement) will participate in a Business Security Conference at the Eugene Hotel today. He and assistant District Attorney Darryl Larson will discuss Employee Theft and Embezzlements.

BITS AND PIECES ON TGIF EVE---

...A basic bid of $400,000 by R.A. Chambers and Associates of Eugene was the lowest of five bids opened last night for construction of the Siuslaw Skills Center in Florence. While it was the lowest of the bids opened, it was also much higher than college officials had hoped and they will now have to meet with the building's architects to see if the budget can be adjusted to accommodate the bid. The college had hoped to build the Center for about $316,600. No construction can begin on the building until the bid has been approved by educational development fund administrators from the federal government which is a partner in the project.

...Steve Prefontaine will speak at a banquet tomorrow for competitors running in the National Junior College Athletic Association cross country championship at Shadow Hills Country Club. Prefontaine, the former University of Oregon star and holder of several American records, will share the speaker's rostrum with Eugene foot specialist Dr. Stanley James, who will speak on the types of problems that many distance runners face. The banquet begins at 6 p.m. in the cafeteria. Price: $3.75.

...Veterans Day is on Monday. Stay home.

...The United Way Drive, which has only a week or two to go, is beginning to sputter. A total of $1,796, or 69.8 percent of the goal of $2,578, has been collected so far by the Development Office. If every LCC staff member contributed about $3.65 the goal could be reached easily. All donations are tax and payroll deductible.

..."Godspell" tickets are still available at the information desk.

LCCEA, BOARD NEGOTIATOR REACH AGREEMENT---Department chairmen, and most other supervisory employees, will be excluded from the faculty bargaining unit in all collective bargaining activities and will be considered first line supervisors says an agreement reached yesterday by the LCC Education Association and Lon Mills, the Board's negotiator. The agreement, which excludes only a couple of coordinators in the Learning Resource Center, ended several months of discussion and hearings by the Public Employee Relations Board, and in fact, brought an end to the last PERB session before it even began. The two groups agreed on the list of supervisory and confidential employees early in the day, making the hearing that was scheduled unnecessary. Members of the newly-designated group of supervisors will now make their own salary and fringe benefit package and present it to the president and the Board. If you would like to see a copy of the list of supervisors, see Marie Reid.

SCULPTURES, DRAWINGS TO GO ON DISPLAY---Abstract sculptures by a California artist and an award-winning traveling drawing exhibit will go on display Nov. 12 in the main gallery of the art department. The four large sculptures are by Los Angeles artist Michael Doran. Doran, 29, has studied at Southwestern College in Chula Vista, Calif., San Diego State College, the Chouinard Art Institute in Los Angeles, and has a bachelor of fine arts degree from the California Institute of the Arts. He also lives in a pyramid that he built inside an abandoned warehouse.

Doran will hold a free public workshop on sculpture at 10 a.m. Nov. 15 in the art department. The workshop will be followed at 8 p.m. by a reception in the gallery. The other show is a collection of drawings by Oregon artist Rene Rickabaugh. Rickabaugh's work, which consists of about 20 small drawings in watercolor, crayon, pencil and mixed media, is a traveling show sponsored by Statewide Services, a division of the UofO Museum of Art.

BANQUET TONIGHT---The national cross country championship meet banquet, featuring Steve Prefontaine as the main speaker, will be held today beginning at 6 p.m. in the cafeteria.

AND TOMORROW, THE MAIN EVENT---A total of 243 runners, representing more than 50 schools, will take off down the first fairway tomorrow morning at 11 on the first leg of the five-mile national junior and community college championship race at Shadow Hills Country Club. The race, the first ever held in the west, is expected to be a fight between last year's co-champions (Allegheny CC and Southwestern Michigan) and LCC, Golden Valley Lutheran College, and perhaps Lake City CC (Fla.). Rod Cooper is LCC's best hope for individual honors. The Drain All-American is the current state and Region 18 champion. Tickets are $1, with children under 6 and senior citizens admitted free.

DON'T CALL US, ASKS PAINTING CLASS---If you are planning on taking advantage of the auto painting class's offer for spot and panel painting jobs on your car, please don't try to telephone for arrangements. Just take your car to Machine Tech any Tuesday or Thursday between 2-3:30 p.m. and ask for John Haurigan. Remember: painting only. No body work.

TRAVEL POLICY TO BE DISCUSSED BY BOARD---Authorization and reimbursement procedures for travel expenses while on college business will be discussed tomorrow as the first of several Board policy items that will be reviewed and perhaps modified over the next few months. One of the major changes in current policy that the Board will be discussing is removing any reference to dollar amounts entirely and placing reimbursement figures under administrative rule.

The purpose for that is to allow flexibility in the rapidly-changing price ranges for gas, food and lodging. The Board will also talk about the possibility of seeking a three-year serial levy in May to help provide cash for replacement of equipment, capital, library materials and supplies, and accumulation of funds to finance a secondary sewage treatment plant. The facility is required under the college's discharge permit granted by the DEQ. The meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. in Adm. 202.

STUDENT ELECTION RESULTS---New student senators are Arthur Smith and Marcella Rawlinson, art and applied design; David S. Nelson, William Biser, electronics; Manuel Vasquez and Steve Sharp, flight technology; Roger N. Rohr and Gloria Tomashek, health and PE; Cyril Tobiasson, mathematics; Glen D. Babcock, nursing; Carol Phillips, performing arts; George Bohannon and George L. Bryson, science; Clinton E. Chase and Mark Perez, social science; Jay Andrews, special training; Len Wassom, study skills. Shirley Short was elected as senator-at-large, and OSPIRG Board winners were Victoria Payton, Chris Tegge, Monty King, Patty Blondo, and Steve Pruitt.

PAYROLL DEPT. BUSY, PLEASE HELP---Because of the November holidays, the November pay recomputation requirement, and the early payday on Nov. 27, anyone with payroll changes should have them in to the business office by Nov. 15. FUND DRIVE ENDS SOON---With nearly 30 percent of the goal still to be collected, the LCC United Way fund drive enters its final week. A total of $1,811, or 70.2 percent of the goal of $2,578, has been collected since the drive began earlier in the fall. Contributions can be made anytime this week through departmental offices or through the Development Office. All donations are tax and payroll deductible, with payroll deductions not starting until after the holidays.

THE STAFF DIRECTORY---Will be out soon.

INSURANCE REP---Archie Zarewski will be on campus today at 2 p.m. Call Marge McGill or Carol Beckley for an appointment.

FRIDAY PAYROLL DEADLINE---Friday is the deadline for changes on the November payroll. This November-only shortened payroll date does not apply to changes for termination after the fifteenth or for new staff members starting on or after that date.

BOARD TO MEET TONIGHT---Travel reimbursement policy, an athletic funding report and discussion on a proposed May serial levy will be covered tonight during a meeting of the Board of Education. The meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. in Adm. 202.

AND BESIDES THAT, YOUR MOTHER WEARS COMBAT BOOTS---Students who swear at a computer at the University of Akron (Ohio) are now required to apologize to it. If they don't the computer switches itself off and refuses to work with them, so says a story in Education USA. The computer, it seems, has been programmed with every swear word its operators could think of. If a student gets annoyed and calls the computer or anyone a bastard, for instance, the computer replies, "Let us not discuss your family at this time. We have more important things to do." After three such offenses, the computer says, "Now I've had enough. You apologize or shall we just quit working?" If the student doesn't apologize the computer shuts off.

THURSDAY

November 14, 1974

The LCC Board of Education, faced with a bid of about $84,000 more than it expected on the Siuslaw Skills Center, took a wait and see position last night before awarding a $400,000 construction contract to R.A. Chambers of Eugene. LCC officials will now appeal to federal administrators of the Educational Development Administration for $56,000 in additional funds to help bail out the Florence project.

The EDA has been a partner in the Center all along and has matched $195,000 in construction funds with LCC up to this point. Late yesterday EDA officials in Seattle tentatively denied a request by the college for the extra money--which LCC will match with $36,000 in current construction funds--but Lane will ask the administration to review its request next week. If denied the project may have to be re-bid in total or in part. Architects say the main reason for the high bid was an unexpected overrun in the mechanical and electrical portions of the whole bid.

In other business, the Board discussed the possibility of a three to five year serial levy sometime this year--possibly in the spring--to help in replacement of library materials, instructional equipment, and financing of a secondary sewage treatment facility that is required by the Department of Environmental Quality by 1977. The Board gave the administration the go-ahead to research what would be needed for such a levy. The last five-year serial levy ended in 1970.

UFW OFFICIAL TO SPEAK---United Farm Workers second vice-president Phillip Vera Cruz will speak here today at 1:30 p.m. in the cafeteria. Vera Cruz, a union organizer since 1950, joined Cesar Chavez and the UFWA (AFL/CIO) during the Delano grape strike in 1965. His visit is sponsored by the Chicano Student Union, Self Help Oriented People (SHOP), and the Eugene Friends of the United Farm Workers.

Additionally, time sheets will be available Nov. 20 at 2 p.m. and will be due no later than noon Nov. 21 if checks are to be ready by Nov. 27.

WORKSHOP, RECEPTION TOMORROW---A sculpture workshop and a reception for sculptor Mike Doran are scheduled tomorrow at 10 a.m. (for the workshop) and at 8 p.m. (reception) in the art department. MATH STUDENTS WANTED---There are immediate openings in math department open entry/open exit courses elementary and intermediate algebra and occupational math I, II, and III. Interested students can get details from the math department.

COLG FAMILY LUCKS OUT, FAMILY TREE NOT FULL OF ROTTEN APPLES---The following (excerpted) letter was received by the library recently from a hard working computer in Ohio. It is addressed to Lane Comty Colg, Eugene: "Good News for the Colg Family! Did you know that the family name Colg has an exclusive and particularly beautiful Coat of Arms? I thought you might be interested, so we've had a heraldic (!) artist recreate the Colg Coat of Arms in color exactly as the heralds of medieval times (must have been the Bethel campus) did it for the knights and noblemen. The Colg Coat of Arms in full color will be set against the regal red flocking and mounted...it's a most welcome and appreciated gift for relatives named Colg (including Uncle Clackamas). Since we have already researched your family name and have the Colg Coat of Arms on hand, we can offer it to you in full color for only $19.95. If you are not completely satisfied, just return the plaque and receive a full and prompt refund, or credit."

Yes, but is it tasteful?

Though the drive officially ended last week, the Development office will be more than happy to take contributions from staff members who forgot to donate last week. Tax and payroll deductible donations can be made to Lyle Swetland or Beverly Johnson.

GOT A BEEF?---The refrigerator handle ever come off in your hand and you don't know who to yell at besides your wife? Do you think the odometer was turned back on that heap you bought for "transportation", but you don't know who to complain to? Well, if you're a consumer and you have a consumer complaint, the library has a list of people who are willing to listen and able to do something about it. The list is provided by the Consumer Services Division of Oregon and is useful for persons with specific complaints about faulty goods or services.

It is called the "Tram Express" and is the first newspaper Cascade Locks has ever had. Hood journalism students earning five credit hours through Cooperative Work Experience.

YOU MAY HAVE NOTICED THERE WAS NO DAILY YESTERDAY---The press broke.

POETRY READING SCHEDULED---Portland poet Walt Curtis, author of "Roses of Portland", will give a free public reading of his work tomorrow at noon in the art gallery. His appearance is sponsored by the departments of art and interdisciplinary studies. Curtis has written two books of poetry, including "Roses..." and "The Erotic Flying Maching". He has also written a novel called "Mad Bomber's Notebook", about to be released, and has been published in Harpers, Evergreen Review and Atlantic.

TORCH TO PUBLISH SUPPLEMENT---An educational supplement listing new classes and workshops for winter term will be published in the Torch Dec. 10. Instructors with new programs should call the Torch now so the information can be included in the supplement.

GALLERY SALE TOMORROW---Prints by famous artists will be on sale tomorrow from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the President's Dining Room. The sale, sponsored by the bookstore, is a traveling show presented by Roten Galleries of Baltimore.

ROMANEK AUTHORS TEXTBOOK---Electronics instructor Rick Romanek is the author of a new college textbook, "Introduction to Electronic Technology", that outlines the basic concepts of electricity used in electronics.

Romanek's book is being touted by its publisher, Prentice-Hall, Inc., of Englewood Cliffs, N.J., as the finest introductory electronics text on the market. He wrote the book in 1970 as a teaching aid. "I couldn't find a text to fit my particular students' needs," he said, "so I wrote one." It was multilithed for use by LCC students only, without thought of publication.

"A Prentice-Hall salesman visiting the college in 1971 noticed the manuscript on my desk and asked for a copy," he said. "Two weeks later I had a phone call from the company in New Jersey, asking if they could publish it." Because the book teaches students how to form abstract concepts before getting heavily into math, it is expected to find ready acceptance at colleges throughout the country.

UNITED WAY EXTENDS DEADLINE---Due to slow returns from throughout the county, the United Way of Lane County has extended the deadline for this year's fund drive to Dec. 6. Originally the drive had been scheduled to end Nov. 15, last Friday. That means LCC still has a chance---for the first time in several years---to meet its goal. College contributions are still about $570 short of the $2,578 goal. Donations can be made to the Development Office.

WORKSHEETS DUE TODAY---Payroll worksheets are due in the business office today at noon.

INSURANCE REP ON CAMPUS---Insurance Rep Archie Zarewski will be on campus today at 1 p.m. Phone Marge McGill or Carol Beckley for an appointment.

LCC NOTIFIED OF INSURANCE INCREASE---Greater Oregon Health Service Company has told the college that rates for employee and dependent medical insurance have gone up; if you are a classified staff member, that means it can cost you an extra $1.40 a month to keep your benefits in order. If you are a classified employee with dependents covered under the company insurance package, it could cost you up to $3.50 more each month. Faculty members covered under the LCCEA package will not face any increases unless they carry insurance for dependents, in which their maximum rate hike could be $4.15.

The rates were increased, said the company, because its income has not kept up with its claim payments. GOHS did, however, guarantee these new rates until June 30. In the matter of the classified package, LCC is committed to funding employee insurance to a maximum of $13.75 each month for the medical benefit, but the new rates per employee are $15.15. An employee with one dependent goes from $28.25 to $31.10 (for an increase to the employee of $2.85 per month), and an employee with a family goes from $36 to $39.50 (for an increase of $3.50). Dean of Business Operations Tony Birch has advised all classified employees that, because of "the timing of these matters and the need to reach certain clarifications" the rate increases will not be deducted from paychecks until the January or February check, thus, he said, "it may be necessary for the college to double or triple deduct the rate increase the first month the amount would be obtained from the employee's paycheck." Classified staff members who may want to change their insurance coverage should see Marge McGill between Jan. 10-15.

Faculty members, on the other hand, will not face deductions from their paychecks as long as they are only covering themselves under the medical package, but an employee and spouse will cost an extra $2.55 and an employee plus a family comes to $4.15 more. LCCEA negotiators bargained for an extra $7.15 monthly contribution from the college and that amount will cover the employee's portion of the GOHS hike. The faculty also directed that a little less than a dollar a month be invested to absorb future rate increases. The added spouse or family insurance costs for faculty members will be reflected in the December paycheck, so anyone wishing to change his or her coverage should see Marge McGill by Dec. 10.

THERE ARE STUDENTS, THEN THERE ARE STUDENTS---Yesterday's Daily announced that students with student body cards would be admitted to all LCC basketball games and wrestling matches for $1. That should have gone on to say that LCC students would be admitted free, and that students from other schools would be charged a dollar. On the same subject, staff members who want one can pick up a season family pass that will admit them and their families to all home games and matches except the Christmas Seal Classic and OCCAA tournaments.

BECAUSE OF THE SHORT WORK WEEK---Cabinet is cancelled today.

WORKSHOPS TO BE APPROVED TODAY---Workshop proposals for winter term will be approved or disapproved today at 1:30 p.m. in the LRC Conference Room. Anyone interested in the future of these proposed workshops are welcome to attend.
