POST NO BILLS---Starting today, all posters, signs and advertisements are banned from windows and glass doors at LCC. In a memorandum circulated Friday, Jay Jones said the new policy, aimed at cleaning the clutter off all windows but particularly in the Center, Administration and Health and PE buildings, would apply to all handbills except campaign posters during student elections. Those posters may be displayed no earlier than two weeks before elections and should not exceed 22" x 28".

A priority system has been designed for allocating space on the remaining bulletin boards, with instructional posters given first consideration, followed by those for student activities and finally, outside activities. Other guidelines for the new policy are available from the office of student activities.

MAXWELL ASSISTS IN TEXTBOOK WRITING---LCC auto mechanics teacher Robert Maxwell is one of seven automotive instructors in the U.S. picked to develop a new innovative automotive textbook for John Wiley and Sons Publishers in New York. Bob left Eugene last week for Chicago where he met for three days with the other six teachers and representatives of the publishing company to lay groundwork for the project. The majority of the work on the text will take place next summer.

Last summer machine technology teachers Roland Meyer and John Neely were selected by the same publishers to help develop a series of manuals for students in machine shop. That project is still in the initial stages.

CABINET IS CANCELED TOMORROW---Due to the all-faculty meeting scheduled for 3:15 p.m. in Forum 302. The next Cabinet meeting will be Feb. 11.

EPAC TO MEET TUESDAY---On the agenda will be discussion of a membership drive, the U.S. Association of Evening Students spring conference, class schedule blocks, and a purchasing agents program. The meetings begins at 9 p.m. in Adm. 202.

BUSINESS OFFICE HOURS---The counter in the business office will be open from 8:45 a.m. to 6 p.m. until the end of the month, then it will be open from 8:45 a.m. to 4 p.m. beginning March 3. All other business office functions will continue at the same working schedule.

NEW COURSES CONSIDERED TOMORROW---New courses proposed for spring term will be reviewed by the office of instruction tomorrow at 8:30 a.m. in the LRC conference room. Proposals to be considered are Dosage Computation Math 5.606; Coordination for Patient Care 5.623; Coordination for Patient Care Lab 5.625; Geography of Europe, Geog. 201; Geography of Oregon, Geog. 207; and a seminar for Cooperative Work Experience. No other new courses will be considered for spring term.

JAZZ CONCERT/FESTIVAL SCHEDULED---Jazz bands and choral groups from LCC, Western Washington State College and Pleasant Hill High School will appear together Feb. 21 in the LCC Winter Jazz Concert/Festival. The concert will feature the first and second LCC lab bands, the LCC Swing Choir, the Tuesday/Thursday band from Western Washington State College, and The Ascensions, a choral group from Pleasant Hill High School. It is free and begins at 7:30 p.m. in the performing arts theatre.

Among the selections that will be performed are Count Basie's "Cottonmouth", "Spiritual" by Dave Zoller, "Jumpin' at the Broadside" by Pete Myers, "Down the Field" by Bill Holman, "Everybody's Boppin'" by Lambert, Hendricks and Ross, "Bill Bailey" by Mike Heathman, "Spain" by Chick Corea, "My Crew" by Rita Coolidge, and "McArthur Park", arranged by Bert Williams.

DEADLINES APPROACH---If you are planning on applying for a grant from the Bicentennial Commission or are seeking one of 12 fellowships to the National Endowment for the Humanities summer seminars, you only have ten more days to apply. The deadline for application for both programs (although there will be another opportunity for the Bicentennial grants in the fall) is Feb. 15.

RECRUITERS HERE TODAY---Recruiters from 19 private colleges and universities will be on campus today from 9-11 a.m. in the northeast corner of the cafeteria.

NURSING WORKSHOPS SCHEDULED THIS MONTH, AND APRIL---Two workshops aimed at showing medical supervisors and registered nurses how to train adult health workers will be held this month and in April by the LCC nursing department. Open to all RNs or anyone who helps train new medical employees, the workshops are scheduled for Feb. 16-18 and April 13-15. Tuition for the sequence is $40 per session or $75 for both workshops.

NEW COURSES CONSIDERED TODAY---New courses considered for spring term will be considered today beginning at 8:30 a.m. in the LRC conference room. Among the proposed courses are Dosage Computation Math, Coordination for Patient Care plus a laboratory class, and Geography of Europe and of Oregon. The office of instruction will also consider a seminar for Cooperative Work Experience.

IS THIS YOUR BOOK?---The library has received a booklet that it did not order called "Personnel Evaluation in Vocational and Technical Education". Anyone who ordered the book can claim it by calling Don Ownbey at ext. 211.

BREATHMOBILE COMING TO LCC---The Christmas Seal Breathmobile will be on campus to give free breathing tests Feb. 28 from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1-3:30 p.m. Its appearance is sponsored by the Oregon Lung Association.

THEFTS MINIMAL ON CAMPUS---Despite a rising crime rate throughout most of the U.S., including Eugene, the incidence of theft at LCC has remained low, so low in fact that in the past two months security has received only two reports of stolen goods from cars in the parking lot and about 15 reports of theft elsewhere on campus. Mark Rocchio said that while that is good news, staff members and students should still keep their cars locked and keep wallets and purses under constant watch. Most of the 15 "opportunity" thefts involved the taking of wallets and purses from the cafeteria and locker room areas.

INSURANCE REP---Archie Zarewski will be on campus tomorrow at 3 p.m. Call Marge McGill for an appointment.

BITS AND PIECES ON TGIF...

...Les Martin, an authority on the Buckley Amendment and one of the major developers of guidelines for doing what it says we should be doing, will be here to explain the amendment today from 1-3 p.m. in the Board Room. The Buckley Amendment (Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act) deals with student records and circumstances under which they can be seen or made public by others. Anyone dealing with student records or release of information about students is urged to attend.

...Archie Zarewski, the insurance company representative, will be on campus today at 3 p.m. Call Marge McGill for an appointment.

...Women intending to attend the Oregon Women's Political Caucus convention tomorrow in Salem who need a ride should call Mabel Armstrong or Evelyn Tennis. They may still have room in one of the several autos making the trip.

...The annual LCC wheelchair basketball game, with proceeds going to next year's Wheelchair Olympics scheduled for Lane, will be held Valentines Day at 8 p.m. in the main gym. Tickets are $1.50 for adults or $1 for students or senior citizens and are available at the Student Resource Center or at the door.

..."Iguana Outside" will provide the music tonight during a benefit dance for the student government and the March of Dimes. The dance begins at 8 in the cafeteria; admission is $1.50, with proceeds divided between ASLCC (75 percent) and the March of Dimes.

...Two home sports events are scheduled today, beginning with the women's basketball team playing Clark College at 6 p.m. They will be followed by the wrestling team in a match with Umpqua Community College at 7:30 p.m. Both events are in the gym.

Any contracted person in the unit is eligible to apply for the leaves, which are funded by $15,000 negotiated in the 1974-75 LCCEA/Board contract. Faculty members on leave receive 75 percent of their regular salary plus fringe benefits. Further guidelines and the application form can be picked up from Shirley Pearson in the administration building.

CABINET TO MEET TOMORROW---On the agenda: a review of Wednesday's Board meeting, discussion on recognition of vocational education and pending legislation on post-secondary education, and reports on CETA and the latest in budget development and resource estimates. The meeting begins at 3 p.m. in the Board Room.

FEBRUARY PAYROLL SCHEDULE---Here it is: On Feb. 14 departmental representatives pick up mid-month payroll advance worksheet at 2 p.m. in the business office; on Feb. 17 the mid-month payroll worksheets are turned in and the checks picked up; on Feb. 20 the monthly worksheet is picked up and returned to the payroll section by 5 p.m. Feb. 21; on Feb. 28, payday.

DEADLINES THIS WEEK---Proposals for funding from the Bicentennial commission and for fellowships from the National Endowment for the Humanities are due by Feb. 15. For details, see Lisl Fenner.

THANKS FROM THE TORCH EDITOR---New Torch editor Rick Bella sends the following message to all departments: "I want to thank everyone for the cooperation given to our reporters. A free dissemination of news depends on this, and I encourage everyone to send us leads and announcements of events in each department, club, and activity area. Thank you."

CONVENTION SCHEDULED---A convention on community education, sponsored by the Oregon Community Education Association, is scheduled for March 6-8 at the Eugene Hotel. Some of the sessions planned include "community education and the handicapped", "community college cooperation", "adult education" and "alternative schools". For details write the Coburn Community School, Rt. 2, Box 421 C, Eugene, 97401.

TIMBER FILM WEDNESDAY---"Natural Timber Country", a 57-minute color film that chronicles the early days of logging in Oregon, will be shown Wednesday at 10 a.m. in For. 302. The film, made by Eugene film-maker Ron Finne, is sponsored by the mass communication department and is primarily for mass comm's class in Introduction to Mass Communication. Everyone, however, is invited. Price: 50 cents, to help defray costs.

FULL AGENDA FOR TOMORROW'S BOARD MEETING---The Board of Education will have a lengthy shopping list of discussion and information items to cover during its meeting Wednesday, including an update on the status of the KVDO proposal, discussion on the proposed serial levy, appointments to advisory committees and so forth. The Board will also talk about the Rapid Transmission & Storage System (Goldmark proposal), Board Policy deletions (concerning matters made obsolete by negotiations), labor relations, and commencement. The meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. in Adm. 202.

PERSONNEL SERVICES MOVES TO NEW LOCATION---The new office of personnel services is now located in its permanent home, but it still has a temporary phone number. To call Hank Douda, Dorothy Kellogg, Marge McGill or Gail Eckhoff, dial ext. 329; new number(s) should be installed within a week or two. Personnel services includes the director (Hank Douda), personnel records clerk (Dorothy Kellogg), insurance and sick leave clerk (Marge McGill), and payroll clerk (Gail Eckhoff). In the new administrative reassignments, Verne Whittaker has also moved from the business office to Hank Douda's old office in the administration building, second floor. Verne is the budget director.

DANCE CONCERT FRIDAY---A concert featuring the Portland Dance Theatre will be held at LCC Friday as the final event of the University of Oregon's Festival of the Arts. The 8 p.m. concert is free, but you need tickets to get in. They are available from the performing arts department office. The concert is in the performing arts theatre.

VETS SHOULD REPORT ALL ENROLLMENT CHANGES---Some veterans are dropping hours and/or classes without notifying the LCC Veterans office, with the result that they are being charged over-payments on their GI Bill checks. Would you please announce in your classes that veterans who have changed their class load downward should call Barbara Harmon's staff as soon as possible.

CABINET TO MEET TODAY---On the agenda is a preview of tomorrow's Board agenda, the latest in budget development and resource estimates, and a discussion of the pending legislation on post-secondary education. The meeting begins at 3 p.m. in Adm. 202.

OLD-TIME LOGGING RECOUNTED---The early days of the logging industry in Oregon are told in a 57-minute color film called "Natural Timber Country", to be shown Wednesday at 10 a.m. in Forum 302. The film, brought to LCC by the mass communication department, is by a local film-maker Ron Finne. Admission is 50 cents.

WEDNESDAY

SPRING TERM CUTBACK---Hopes for a supplemental state appropriation to fund LCC's overenrollment this year are dimming. That necessitates spring term cutbacks to bring the budget into balance. President Schafer told the Cabinet yesterday that Dean Jack Carter is writing about 1,600 applicants for admission spring term to tell them that they may not find classes available to them.

These are students who are not enrolled winter term; some are new to LCC and others attended in the past. The total does not include new out-of-district, out-of-state and foreign applicants, who won't be permitted to even try to find classes to take spring term. Dean Carter says the 1,600 will be accommodated on a first-come, first-served basis after presently-enrolled students have picked over the class offerings. He thinks that 20 percent or so may be able to find classes they want.

BOARD TO MEET TONIGHT---On the agenda: review and discussion of SPAF guidelines, labor relations in general and a classified staff request that insurance rate increases be covered by the college (a Lon Mills memo says "no"), KVDO, the proposed serial levy, Board Policy deletions, Goldmark, commencement, and advisory committee appointments. The meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. in Adm. 202.

TIMBER FILM TODAY---"Natural Timber Country", by local film-maker Ron Finne, will be shown today at 10 a.m. in Forum 302. Admission is free, although earlier it had been expected that 50 cents would be charged.

CLASSIFIED STAFF TO REVIEW PACKAGE---The classified staff pre-negotiation committee will meet at 5 p.m. tomorrow to go over the preliminary bargaining package that has been drawn from last week's questionnaire. Any interested staff member is invited to attend the meeting in Cen. 124.

COX PICKED FOR EVALUATION COMMITTEE---Superintendent of college facilities Bill Cox will be a member of the evaluation team that will review South Seattle Community College at the end of April; Bill will evaluate SSCC's aero tech, aircraft mechanics, landscape and horticulture programs. Educators representing the same Commission evaluated LCC earlier this year.

BADMINTON TOURNAMENT PLANNED---If enough players can be found, an intramural badminton tournament will be held later this term, sponsored by the PE department. Players are needed in the following categories: men's and women's doubles, singles and mixed doubles. Sign up by Feb. 19.

WHEELCHAIR BASKETBALL FRIDAY---A wheelchair basketball game that will benefit a future "Wheelchair Olympics" in Eugene is scheduled Friday at LCC. The Portland Wheelblazers and a team of local players called the Ironsides will meet beginning at 8 p.m. in the LCC gymnasium. Admission is $1.50 for adults and $1 for students. Proceeds will go into an LCC Handicapped Students Association fund to organize an "Olympics" for handicapped persons sometime next year. The game is sponsored by the Association.

Tickets are on sale at Meier & Frank and J.C. Penney in Valley River Center, at the Student Resource Center, from counselor Gene Sorenson, and at the door.

THURSDAY
February 13, 1975

BOARD: "WE NEED THAT EQUIPMENT", VOTES FOR SERIAL LEVY---Lane Community College, which has been without a serial levy for capital outlay and replacement of equipment for four years, will ask voters to establish a three-year serial levy at the general election May 6. At its Wednesday meeting, the Board of Education decided six-to-one to request the levy for a maximum of $2.4 million, or about $800,000 annually for the three years. This would be a levy of about 32 cents per thousand of assessed valuation. The Board and the college staff have discussed the possibility of seeking a serial levy for several months, deciding Wednesday that further delays in attempting to fund outlay and equipment replacement would jeopardize many programs.

A serial levy is separate from LCC's operating budget in that it collects funds for capital outlay, the replacement of material and equipment and supplies. For the past several years, at each successive budget election for funds in excess of the six percent limitation, capital outlay items have been the most vulnerable and are often the first to be cut. Consequently much of LCC's machinery and equipment needs to be replaced, and new equipment purchased to update vocational programs.

If passed, the serial levy would also ease the budget-drawing process and would significantly reduce the amount needed by LCC in an operating budget election. An operating budget election is scheduled for Sept. 16. LCC operated with a serial levy during its first five years of operation but has been without one since it expired in 1970. Since then capital outlay and equipment expenditure items have been included in the general operating budget. All Board members were in favor of separating outlay/equipment from the operating budget except for Robert Mention. Mention was the only "no" voter, citing the poor economy and a desire to hold a single, annual election as his reasons.

VOCATIONAL INSTRUCTORS OF THE YEAR ANNOUNCED---Ten current and former LCC vocational instructors have been selected by a committee of their peers as the college's Outstanding Vocational Educators of the Year. Their selection was announced last night as part of a National Vocational Education Week observance at the Board meeting. They are Carl Lemke and Bob Maxwell, mechanics; Jack Kreitz and Betty James, business; Muriel Peterson, paradenal; Sue Thompson, health and physical education; Edward Seabloom, mathematics; Rick Romenek, electronics;

INSTRUCTORS OF THE YEAR (CONT.)---Ken Brownell, home economics; and Bill Mobley, MDTA. All are current LCC teachers except Mobley, who was a welding instructor for the Manpower Development Training Act until the federal program was phased out last year. About 70 teachers were nominated by their colleagues, with the 10 finalists being selected by a committee of instructors and administrators.

OEPBS IN, GOLDMARK ON HOLD---The Oregon Educational and Public Broadcasting Service (OEPBS) appears now to be the primary agent in the transfer of Salem TV station KVDO from the private to the public sector. LCC, which will receive help from Eugene Television (KVAL), is still involved as a partner, but is no longer considered the lead institution in the proposed consortium and has no financial commitment, real or implied. As for the Goldmark proposal, the Board discussed the issue again last night and should make a decision on whether LCC will become involved in it by Mar. 15.

EXHIBIT IDEAS, ANYBODY---The college has been offered free booth space at the Home and Garden Show March 20-23 at the Fairgrounds. Exhibits should tie to the home-garden theme while at the same time promoting LCC. If you have a suggestion, call I&P, ext. 340. Thanks.

PICK UP SOME WORKSHEETS TOMORROW---Departmental representatives should pick up payroll advance worksheets for staff members receiving mid-month checks tomorrow at 2 p.m. in the business office. Return them when you get the checks Feb. 17.

OSPIRG MEETS---Every Friday at noon in the Student Resource Center. All are welcome.

Happy Birthday, Oregon

WHEELCHAIR BASKETBALL TONIGHT---It's the Wheelblazers vs. the Ironsides tonight in a wheelchair basketball game that will benefit a future "Wheelchair Olympics" in Eugene. The game begins at 8 p.m. in the gymnasium. Admission is $1.50 for adults and $1 for students, with proceeds going toward sponsoring an "Olympics" for handicapped persons sometime next year. The game is sponsored by the Handicapped Students Association.

Tickets are on sale at Meier & Frank and J.C. Penney in Valley River Center, at the Student Resource Center, from counselor Gene Sorenson, and at the door.

WORKSHOP APPROVAL SESSION SCHEDULED---Three proposed workshops will be reviewed Tuesday for possible addition to the spring term schedule. Workshops to be considered are Quantity Bakery Training Wk 1.203, Sociology of Marriage and the Family Wk 203, and Program Development and Evaluation in Mental Health and Human Services Wk 203. That workshop is part of the New Careers in Mental Health program offered jointly by LCC and the University of Oregon's school of Community Service and Public Affairs. Anyone interested in the workshops can get more details from Jim Piercey or Joyce Hops or by attending the review session at 10:30 a.m. Monday in the LRC Conference Room.

NURSING DEPT. DISPUTES THEFT RECORD IS "GOOD"---Nursing department chairer Estelle Singleton disputes a statement in last week's Daily that, because only two thefts have been reported in the past several months at LCC, the crime record here was commendable. Estelle says that she had a $70 piece of jewelry stolen from her last spring, and that a $400 camera and case were taken from the nursing lab last month.

WORKSHEETS AVAILABLE TODAY---Payroll worksheets for classified staff members who will be receiving mid-month paychecks should be picked up today at 2 p.m. the business office, and should be returned Monday when checks are issued.

EXHIBIT IDEAS, ANYBODY?---The college has been offered free booth space at the Home and Garden Show March 20-23. Anyone with ideas on what to do with it (must tie to home/garden theme and at least remotely promote LCC) should call the I&P office, ext. 340.

MONDAY

FEMINIST THEATRE SCHEDULED---The Co-Respondents, a three-member feminist readers' theatre from Olympia, Wash., will perform two programs in Eugene Feb. 21--one at LCC, the other at the University of Oregon. The LCC performance, called "Fun and Games", deals with women and marriage and begins at 1 p.m. in Forum 309, while the UofO program, "Here She Comes", concerns women and power and begins at 8 p.m. in the Arena Theatre at Villard Hall. Both performances are free.

The Co-Respondents is comprised of actresses Patricia Branch Larson and Sandra Lewis Nisbet and singer-guitarist Denise Livingston. They began touring the eleven western states in 1972 presenting feminist concerns in the form of drama and music. Performances have been given at colleges, women's groups, libraries, military bases, and in 1974, at the national conference of the National Organization for Women.

WORKSHOPS TO BE REVIEWED TODAY---Three proposed workshops will be looked over today for consideration as additions to the spring term schedule. The deans will review Quantity Bakery Training, Sociology of Marriage and the Family and Program Development and Evaluation in Mental Health and Human Services, a joint project between LCC and the Uof O's School of Community Service and Public Affairs. The session begins at 10:30 a.m. today in the LRC Conference Room. Friday's Daily was in error when it announced that the session would be held tomorrow.

STUDENT ART SHOW SLATED---About 50 examples of work by LCC art students will go on display for three weeks beginning Feb. 24 in the main gallery. All artwork will be for sale and will include drawing, painting, ceramics, sculpture, jewelry and so forth. A reception for the student-artists is scheduled for 2 p.m. opening day.

INSURANCE REP---Archie Zarewski will be on campus tomorrow at 2 p.m. Call Marge McGill for an appointment.

RECYCLE PAPER---Bob Hoffman, who works in the business office and is also on the Board of Directors for BRING, asks that everyone save scrap paper and give it to him. He will collect it, sort it and deliver it to BRING for you. Call ext. 311 for details.

BILLS AVAILABLE---All Bills currently before the state legislature are available for inspection from Lisl Fenner in the administration building.

TUESDAY

February 18, 1975

TODAY AT CABINET, 3:30 to 4 p.m.---First in a series of 3 open discussions on a rapid transmission and storage system. LRC Director Keith Harker will present a brief summary with implications for LCC, followed by a question and answer period. All staff members are encouraged to attend. Sessions 2 and 3 are tentatively set for Friday, Feb. 21 at 12:30 and Wednesday, Feb. 26 at 3 p.m. All sessions will be held in the Board Room.

ALSO, today from 3 to 3:30, the Cabinet will discuss the serial levy election, Ways and Means funding alternatives, and the budget development calendar.

INSURANCE---Archie Zarewski is due on campus at 2 p.m. Call Marge McGill at ext. 329 for an appointment.

BRRR & SQUINT SAVE DOUGH---Lowering thermostats and flicking off lights are turning out to be more than energy conservation measures. They're helping the college stay within its tight budget. Electrical cost increases of 12% are being countered by a 9% cut since June in consumption.

You doubtless have noticed the shutoff of hot water in rest rooms (scrubbing up is like reaching into an icy mountain stream); bulbsnatching from hundreds of outlets in classrooms, offices and halls; and lowering of thermostats from 70 to 68 degrees. Reducing demand on the college's electric furnace has produced the bulk of the savings. Already-heated air also is being recirculated and less fresh, cold air is being brought inside.

Largest percentage savings happened during December-January. Power use was trimmed 27 percent over the same two months a year ago. Continued conservation is expected to keep LCC within its $222,000 electricity budget for the fiscal year.

ON CAMPUS---Dr. Ruth Burns, University of Oregon financial aids administrator, will be available to discuss financial aid applications for Fall 1975 in the Board Room tomorrow at 3 p.m. Please announce to your students.

TOP 10 TAXPAYERS---Lane County's largest companies are contributing about 18% of the $3.3 million in local property taxes which LCC is receiving this year. The college is getting about $612,000 from Weyerhaeuser, Pacific Northwest Bell, Pope & Talbot, Southern Pacific, Georgia Pacific, International Paper, Pacific Power & Light, Rosboro Lumber, Giustina Lumber and U.S. Plywood. The estimate was developed by I&P in cooperation with the County Department of Assessment & Taxation. It is believed that businesses, compared to owners of private homes, pay a heavy chunk of our property tax income, but it's almost impossible to get a handle on specific figures.

ANOTHER 'FIRST'---Dollar-short LCC, with the announcement that Spring Term classes must be curtailed, becomes Oregon's first community college to refuse admission to applicants. Out-of-district, out-of-state and foreign applicants won't even be considered. Some 1,600 Lane County people who never attended LCC before or aren't attending this term must wait until present students have registered and then attempt to find open classes. About 80% are expected to be shut out.

TRIVIA THAT'S NOT SO TRIVIAL---Helen Haynie says The Candy Man, who fills our vending machines daily, told her that the dispenser in the gym foyer shells out 200 bars a day. And the cigarette machine near the cafeteria tables puts out 30 cartons of smokes a day.

WEDNESDAY

THE CONTINUING GOLDMARK---The second of three open sessions on the Goldmark proposal and what it would mean to LCC if the college participated will be held Friday at 12:30 p.m. in Adm. 202. The third session is scheduled for Feb. 26. LRC director Keith Harker will lead the discussion.

COMMENCEMENT---"Why should LCC hold a commencement?" asks President Schafer. "Is it worthwhile? Is there sufficient interest among students and staff?" Student Activities director Jay Jones is looking for answers to these questions and others such as: Should caps and gowns be worn? Should faculty members be required to attend? Should the ceremony be held in the evening or daytime? A sample of both staff and student body will soon be receiving questionnaires. Should one come to your desk, please fill it out at your earliest convenience and return it to Jay.

MID-MONTH DRAW---Dean of Business Operations Tony Birch reports that only 23 percent of the classified staff has chosen to take the optional mid-month pay draw. Some 62 out of 260 eligible employees are getting from 10 to 30 percent of their pay earlier than usual.

BROWNELL ON STATE GROUP---Ken Brownell, the LCC food services coordinator, has been named to the state Education Committee of the Restaurants of Oregon Association. Brownell was picked for the committee by officials of the ROA, which is headquartered in Portland. He will serve one year. The committee is comprised of members from both the food service industry and from food service educational programs, serving as a liaison between the two groups. It also holds in-service training for ROA members.

WORKSHOPS REVIEWED TODAY---The workshop review session scheduled for Monday, and canceled, will be held today at 1 p.m. in the LRC Conference Room. Workshops that will be considered for addition to the spring term schedule are Quantity Bakery Training, Sociology of Marriage and the Family, and Program Development and Evaluation in Mental Health and Human Services.

GRANT APPLICATIONS AVAILABLE, DEADLINE ONLY TWO WEEKS AWAY---Application forms and guidelines for funding under the Education Professions Development Act are now available from Lisl Fenner in the administration building. Types of programs that will be funded are fellowships for graduate level study, short term training programs and institutes of graduate level quality, combined fellowship and institute or short-term training program. For details see Lisl.

THURSDAY
February 20, 1975

CONCERT TOMORROW---Jazz bands and choral groups from LCC, Western Washington State College and Pleasant Hill High School will appear together tomorrow in the LCC Winter Jazz Concert/Festival. The concert will feature the first and second LCC Lab bands, the LCC Swing Choir, the Tuesday/Thursday band from Western Washington State, and the Ascensions, a choral group from Pleasant Hill High School. It is free and begins at 7:30 p.m. in the performing arts theatre.

STUDENT RECORDS PRIVATE---Grace Cameron reminds that the only information Student Records (or any college office, for that matter) is allowed legally to give out is a student's name and whether he/she is currently enrolled. Student Records can also deliver messages only in cases of emergency.

MOVIE ON VD EPIDEMIC SCHEDULED MONDAY---"Love Carefully", a movie concerning what many public health officials are calling an epidemic of gonorrhea, will be shown Monday in Adm. 202. Following the free 11:30 a.m. movie, Bill Leslie of the Lane County Health Department VD Clinic will talk about the county's VD problems.

RECORDS MANAGEMENT MEETING SET---The local records management group will meet at LCC Monday to discuss "educational opportunities and resources in records management" and to tour the college records facilities with archivist Randy Mafit. The meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. in the Mezzanine Conference Room.

JOHATHAN WEST'S PHONE NUMBER IS 380---Not 284, as is carried in the staff directory.

INTRAMURAL BADMINTON NEEDS PLAYERS---Any staff member interested in playing intramural badminton has until tomorrow to make his or her intentions known. If that is what you want to do, sign up at the intramural office or call Bob Radcliff, ext. 277.

KESEY TO SPEAK---Ken Kesey will speak on corrections and institutions March 1 in a benefit program aimed at raising money for Self Help Oriented People (SHOP), a group of some 40 LCC students who are ex-offenders. Admission is $1 and tickets are available at the information desk in the administration building or at the SHOP office in the cafeteria. Kesey begins speaking at 7:30 p.m. in the performing arts theatre.

CO-RESPONDENTS HERE TODAY---The feminist readers' theatre group, The Co-Respondents, will present a free one-hour performance on marriage today at 1 p.m. in Studio B, lower level of the Forum Building. Staff members may attend if arrangements can be made with their immediate supervisors so that normal work will not be disrupted.

Readings will include excerpts from the work of John Stuart Mill, Charlotte Perkins Gilman, Kate Chopin, Marietta Holley, Mary Manley, Agnew Smedley and so forth and will be performed by actresses Patricia Branch Larson and Sandra Lewis Nisbet and singer-guitarist Denise Livingston.

SPRING FORWARD, FALL BACK, OR IS IT, FALL FORWARD, SPRING BACK---Daylight Savings Time begins this Sunday (it's called New Time in certain rural areas of the South), requiring us to set clocks ahead one hour. Of less pressing importance is the news that there are only 36 more shopping days 'til Easter.

WORKSHEETS DUE---Payroll worksheets are due by 5 p.m. today in the personnel services office, located behind the mailroom in the administration building.

FOOD SERVICES PHONE NUMBER---Is ext. 202-203.

CONCERT TONIGHT---The Winter Jazz Concert, sans Western Washington State College, will be held tonight beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the performing arts theatre. Western Washington could not come. Appearing as scheduled will be the first and second LCC Lab bands, the Swing Choir, and the Ascensions, a choral group from Pleasant Hill High School. The concert is free and open to the public.

MONDAY EVENTS---The local records management group will meet at LCC, and a VD movie called "Love Carefully" will be shown at 11:30 a.m. in Adm. 202. Admission to the movie is free.

VOLUNTEERS SOUGHT FOR MUSEUM ADVISORY COMMITTEES---The newly-formed Cooperative Science Museum Commission, which eventually will try to place a major museum and planetarium complex somewhere in Lane County needs volunteers to serve on its four advisory committees. Dean of Academic and College Planning Lew Case says that the Commission needs persons to staff the education, planning, finance and public information advisory committees, with an eye toward helping establish a planetarium in the county as one of the group's first orders of business. LCC is a charter member of the Commission (along with Lane IED, the UofO, and Lane County) and Lew has been appointed Lane's representative to the Board by the County Commissioners.

WEDNESDAY, THE BOARD WILL MEET---The Board of Education will formally notify the county that LCC will seek a serial levy May 6 at a special meeting of the Board Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. The Board will also discuss contingency plans, should the Sept. 16 budget election fail, Goldmark, the latest KVDO utilization agreement, and will hear about the formation of the facilities planning committee, which develops remodeling and construction priorities on campus.

GOLDMARK TO BE DISCUSSED---The third of three information sessions on the Goldmark proposal is scheduled for Wednesday at 3 p.m. in Adm. 202. Keith Harker will lead the discussion.

GRADUATION QUESTIONNAIRE CIRCULATED---A survey designed to help decide the future of formal graduation ceremonies at LCC is being circulated on campus. If you receive one, please complete it and return it to Jay Jones or Jack Powell by Friday.

THURSDAY

NO RUSSIAN ROULETTE---LCC's Board of Education changed its mind last night and moved the operating budget election from Sept. 16 to Tuesday, June 17. The earlier date will still permit a second chance in September if the June vote is negative. Staff members such as George Alvergue, Social Science prof, asked for "a fighting chance" in June for teachers who otherwise would have to wait until fall to find out if they have jobs. Board member Al Brauer of Florence said he voted for the earlier date to help "reduce staff fear."

A serial levy to purchase tech-voc equipment will be placed before voters May 6. The Board voted to ask approval of $2,729,082 at the rate of $900,000⁺ a year over three years. That is expected to raise $800,000 per year because of uncollected taxes, etc. The levy would cost an estimated 31¢ per $1,000 true cash value or an estimated $7.75 per year in additional property taxes for the owner of a home assessed at $25,000.

An agreement making LCC a junior partner in the acquisition of KVDO-TV was approved. LCC's only fiscal obligation would be to accept $40,000 a year for 5 years from Eugene Television, Inc. (KVAL), and forward it on to OEPBS. The State Board of Higher Education this week nixed OEPBS's purchase of KVDO, but the word is that reconsideration is probable. The Elections Committee of the Legislature is recommending that money be allocated to buy the station from Liberty Television (KEZI) and turn it over to OEPBS.

The Goldmark proposal was discussed and scheduled for a vote at a meeting early in March, probably the 5th or 12th. Board member Catherine Lauris suggested that teachers should get royalties which might accrue to the college. Al Brauer said he'd "like to see us get in on the ground floor."

Summer term may be cut to 83 percent of last year's level, reported Associate Dean Jim Piercey. That's the equivalent of a tax base budget.

HAKANSON TO ASSUME UMPQUA PRESIDENCY---Former LCC dean of students Bud Hakanson has been hired as the new president of Umpqua Community College in Roseburg. He replaces Harry Jacoby, Umpqua's first and only president since it began in the mid-60s. Hakanson left Lane in 1970 after five years to assume the presidency of Clark College in Vancouver. His brother John is president of Clackamas Community College.

AVOID SPRING RUSH---Buck Bailey's pre-graduation job counseling service should be getting underway again soon, and teachers planning on having Buck speak to their classes can avoid the spring term rush by making arrangements now. In his visits Buck briefs students on how to write resumes, and helps them with other job-getting skills. For details, call him at the placement office.

PHI THETA KAPPA TO INITIATE NEW MEMBERS---The LCC honor society, Phi Theta Kappa, will initiate about 80 new members Friday at the Wayne Morse Ranch on Crest Drive. Keynote speaker for the 7 p.m. ceremony will be Dean of Instruction Gerald Rasmussen. Staff members interested in attending should call George Alvergue to arrange for seating.

INSURANCE REP---Archie Zarewski will be on campus Friday at 2 p.m. Call Marge McGill for an appointment.

CASE ELECTED TO AACJC POST---Dean of Academic and College Planning Lewis Case has been elected the Northwest Regional Representative to the Advisory Board of the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges. Lew joins other new members on the Board from Montpelier, Vermont and Dallas, Texas, and will serve two years.

FRIDAY

February 28, 1975

INFLATION-BEATING DEMONSTRATIONS SCHEDULED---How to stretch your dollar in shopping, cooking and sewing will be covered by Lane Community College home economists at six free demonstrations during March in Eugene and Springfield. The demonstrations, co-sponsored by LCC and Far West Federal Savings, will be held in the community rooms of Far West offices at 96 E. Broadway, Eugene, and 1570 Mohawk Blvd., Springfield. All sessions will be from 1-3 p.m.

They are "Painless Penny-Pinching/Delicious Meals for Less", March 3 in Eugene and March 13 in Springfield; "Snacks and Sugar Savers", March 6 in Springfield and March 10 in Eugene; "Welcome to Spring--Ways to Stretch Your Wardrobe", March 17 in Eugene and March 20 in Springfield. LCC home economists Betty Johnson, Dyna Besse, and Vivian Day will lead the sessions.

TICKETS ON SALE MONDAY---Tickets to "A Man for All Seasons" go on sale Monday in the box office at the performing arts theatre. Price: $2.50. All seats are reserved.

SECRETARIES TO MEET---Departmental secretaries will meet today to discuss grades and registration. Any secretary that cannot make the 3 p.m. meeting should send a representative. The meeting will be in Cen. 124.

BREATHMOBILE HERE TODAY---The Christmas Seal Breathmobile will be on campus today giving free breathing tests. It will be located on the parking strip in front of the health and PE building from 9 a.m. to noon, and 1-3:30 p.m.

KESEY TO SPEAK TOMORROW---Ken Kesey will speak on corrections and institutions in general tomorrow during a benefit appearance for SHOP. He will speak at 7:30 p.m. in the performing arts theatre. Tickets are $1 and are available at the SHOP office in the snack bar, the information desk, and at the door. SHOP is an acronym for Self Help Oriented People, and is comprised of about 40 LCC students who are ex-offenders.

THAT'S NOT WHAT SHE REALLY SAID---A portion of the Board meeting story was inadvertantly left out of yesterday's Daily, possibly changing its meaning. In referring to the Goldmark proposal, Catherine Lauris suggested that teachers should get royalties (this is the part that was left out) "for their contributions toward courses, and that LCC should try to get into the consortium on credit based on advance royalties" (that ends the part that was left out) which might accrue to the college. There was another mistake too, in a separate article. Lew Case is on the advisory board of the AACJC's National Council on Learning, not the AACJC Board...(sigh)...TGIF.
