"STAGE DOOR" REPLACES "THE TIME OF YOUR LIFE"---"Stage Door", the Edna Ferber and George S. Kaufman comedy set in the 1930's, will replace "The Time of Your Life" as the fourth and final Lane Community College stage production for 1975. It will be directed by former student Wayne Ballantyne and is scheduled to open May 23 in the performing arts theatre. Ballantyne is also a graduate of the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York and is now a University of Oregon theatre major.

He has appeared in many LCC productions, including "Celebration", "Hotel Paradiso", and is currently cast as Cardinal Wolsey in the April production of "A Man for All Seasons". His experience as a director at the Pentacle Theatre in Salem includes "The Women", "Design for Living", "A Delicate Balance" and "Cabaret".

LAYOFFS NOT EXPECTED SAYS SCHAFER---"We've never had to lay anyone off before and we are absolutely not going to do it unless things get critical," said President Schafer yesterday. The President was responding in Cabinet to rumors heard by some classified employees that some staff members would be layed off this summer should LCC shorten or eliminate summer session. AFT President Evelyn Tennis told President Schafer that a few classified staff members had heard they would have unexpected "vacations" at the end of the summer if the 12-week session is shortened to eight weeks. An eight-week session has been discussed as many faculty members and administrators agree that the final four weeks of summer school are often "lax".

Dr. Schafer stressed that no layoffs are anticipated, although nothing can be completely certain until the serial and operating budget levy elections have been completed. Should one or both fail, alternatives would then be looked at, he said, adding that "we're going to keep on all staff members possible. We've never had to do it before (lay staff off) and I hope we won't have to now." The President agreed with a suggestion from Jim Snow and Sallie Torres that a regular, periodic message to the staff on the college's status would help put a lid on rumors and keep employees up to date on the situation.

Also in Cabinet, it was announced that a citizens' committee, similar to PASS which worked on the District 4-J election last year, has been formed to help Lane pass its serial and operating budget elections (May 6 and June 17), and that the state legislature is considering a reimbursement figure of a little over 7,000 FTE next year for LCC. This year's, which is causing much of the financial problems LCC is facing in coping with an overload of students, is 6,100.

RECRUITER ON CAMPUS--A Washington State University representative will be on campus today from 1-3 p.m. to talk to prospective students. Place: the cafeteria foyer.

BOOTH TAKES SECOND, REXIUS SEVENTH---Heavyweight wrestler Mark Booth took second place in the national wrestling tournament last weekend, despite being ill. Coach Bob Creed said Booth awakened the morning of his championship match with a touch of the flu, but did a good job of holding his own against an opponent 100 pounds heavier. Arlen Rexius placed seventh in the tournament, held in Minnesota, and LCC as a team finished 16th.

PRE-BARGAINING GROUP TO MEET---The AFT pre-bargaining committee will meet today at 5 p.m. in the Mezzanine Conference Room.

BAKE SALE TODAY---The LCC student nurses will have a bake sale today to raise money to send one of their number to the National Student Nurses' Convention in Philadelphia next month. The sale is from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the foyer of the Center Bldg., second floor.

BOARD TO MEET TONIGHT---The LCC Board of Education will meet in a special session tonight to consider the Goldmark proposal. The Board must decide whether Lane will join the consortium of some 18 colleges in the project by March 15. It may do so tonight. The meeting begins at 7:30 in Adm. 202.

GOLDMARK: 4 YES, 1 NO, 1 ABSTENTION --- Citing a need for additional technology which could enable the college to reach more students, the LCC Board of Education last night committed the institution to participate in the Goldmark project of the League for Innovation. Some $150,000 will be allocated in the next few years for instructional sound-slide video tapes. They will be used to supplement traditional classroom teaching methods in some courses--one estimate was 10 percent--in the next few years. It may take a couple of years before the first tapes are ready for use, with LCC faculty expected to get involved in their creation. Technical production will be done in Hollywood.

Faculty Council chairer Jim Snow told the Board that the faculty "overwhelmingly" opposed the plan. Both unions and some students--particularly the veterans group--also opposed it. Snow cited media experts who have expressed reservations about mediated instruction.

President Schafer suggested that the use of technology must be maximized to hold down costs, and that this will be one in a variety of teaching methods. He called it one alternative to such things as holding down salaries.

Board member Bob Mention said the turning away of prospective students makes the need for technology "self-evident". Catherine Lauris and Al Brauer said the system may help to reduce costs and make it possible in future years to reduce the tax burden. Mrs. Lauris repeated her desire that a way be sought to pay royalties to faculty members involved in producing the courses.

Voting Yes were Brauer, Mention, Lauris, and Steve Reid. Jim Martin voted No, John Barber abstained, and Richard Freeman was out of town.

Other business: Bob Mention said he won't run for reelection May 6. John Barber said he probably won't run either, but he hasn't made a firm decision yet.

A community committee is being organized to run the May 6 and June 17 election campaigns. Mass communication chairer John Elliott has been named by President Schafer to spearhead the campus effort.

The college budget committee will hold a series of meetings starting April 9 and ending May 7. They'll review and shape the Administration's budget proposal for the fiscal year, which begins July 1.

INFLATION-BEATING DEMONSTRATION TODAY---The second of six free demonstrations on stretching your dollar will be held today in Springfield. Called "Snacks and Sugar Savers", the session will be held from 1-3 p.m. at the Far West Federal Savings office at 1570 Mohawk Blvd. Far West Federal and LCC are co-sponsoring the workshops. Others on shopping and sewing will be held through March 20 in Eugene and Springfield. They are led by home economists Betty Johnson, Dyna Besse, and Vivian Day.

RETIREMENT TAX REMINDER---Internal Revenue Service forms for persons intending to file claims to exclude PERS contributions for 1969-71 can pick up the forms in the business office. For details on eligibility call Gail Eckhoff at ext. 411.

WOMEN AND FRIENDS TO MEET---The committee once called the Women's Advisory Committee will meet today at 11:30 a.m. to discuss job and educational opportunities for women. All interested men and women are invited to attend the meeting, scheduled for Adm. 202.

KOCHER REPLACES DAY---John Kocher, social science, will replace Vivian Day, home economics, as faculty representative to the Instructional Council.

CONCERT SET---Musicians Tom and Theresa will appear in a concert and coffee tomorrow from 8-11 p.m. in the cafeteria. LCC cardholders will be admitted free. All others must pay $1. The sponsor is the student government.

BOARD ELECTION---Nominating petitions for candidates for the LCC Board of Education are available at the Lane County Elections Department. They must be returned to the Elections Department by 5 p.m. Tuesday, April 1. Victors at the May 6 school election will win four-year terms without pay, starting July 1. Two seats are up for election:

At-Large--Represents Lane County, the Harrisburg Union High School District in Linn County, the Monroe Elementary District in Benton County, and those portions of the South Lane School District and the Siuslaw School District in Douglas County. Applicants must be registered voters, residents of the district, and secure 50 signatures of registered voters residing in the district.

Zone 2--Represents Junction City, Bethel, Harrisburg, Harris, Wyatt and Monroe Elementary School Districts. Applicants must be registered voters, residents of the zone, and must secure signatures on their petitions of 25 registered voters residing in the zone.

Bob Mention says he won't seek reelection to the At-Large position. John Barber hasn't decided yet if he will seek another term as Zone 2 representative.

CONTRACT TIME---Letters are going out from President Schafer to staff members on one-year contracts to notify them that they will be re-hired for next year, subject to the level of funding provided through local elections. Employees have until April 1 to accept; after that time the offers will be considered withdrawn. The Board of Education on Wednesday night approved rehiring all present contracted staff except one.

CONCERT SCHEDULED SUNDAY---Free Sousa, free Tchaikovsky and free popcorn will highlight the annual Pops Concert March 9 at LCC. The concert, performed by the LCC Wind Symphony, begins at 2 p.m. in the performing arts theatre. On the program is the "George Washington Bicentennial March" by John Philip Sousa; "Symphonic Essay" by Elliot Del Borgo, "Polka" by William Walton, "Scaramouch" by K.M. Snoech, "Gamelan Gong" by Neil McKay, "Suite for Trumpet and Band" by Al Cobine and featuring former LCC student Brad Allison in a trumpet solo, "Finale from Symphony #4" by P.I. Tchaikovsky, and "Stars and Stripes" by Sousa. The Wind Symphony is directed by Gene Aitken.

MONDAY

SPRING TERM CLASS SCHEDULE---Will be published in today's Register-Guard, rather than Tuesday's as announced earlier. Registrar Bob Marshall, not to mention Jean Shaffer, would appreciate it if faculty members could mention the change in today's classes. Jean says hundreds of students would be grateful.

NEITHER INCUMBENT RUNNING---We mentioned last week that John Barber hadn't yet decided whether to seek reelection to the Zone 2 Board of Education seat. The word now is that he won't run. Bob Mention said earlier that he won't try again for his At-Large position.

FIRST TO FILE---The county Elections Department says that John C. Hart, Jr., 32, 1224 Mill St., Eugene, occupation--student, has filed a nominating petition for the At-Large position on the LCC Board of Education. Jack is a former LCC student who is completing a bachelor's degree in CSPA at the U of O.

APPRECIATION---Some people from the Sheriff's Office were on campus recently, and when they started to leave, found they had a problem. Sgt. D.N. Brieger wrote a letter about it.

"For some strange, mysterious, unknown reason, our 1973 Ford refused to start. Being on campus, I immediately thought of the auto shop and I contacted Mr. Paul Welborn, who not only sympathized with my problem, but immediately dispatched Jim Whitfield and Norm Dahlquist to analyze and correct the problem.

"Not only did I find Jim and Norm delightful young men to converse with, but I found them highly competent, extremely professional in their manner, and never since I have been looking under the hoods of automobiles, have I seen two young men more thorough or knowledgeable in their work. Far too often this type of action, particularly with young men, either go unnoticed or unheralded. I would like to take this opportunity to thank personally the mechanical department at Lane, Mr. Welborn for his assistance, but particularly Jim Whitfield and Norm Dahlquist who diagnosed the problem, and with the ingenuity inherent in an innovative mind, corrected the problem of faulty switch in the ignition system with a paper clip and some tape. Needless to say, there were not parts available at their disposal.

"I cannot honestly say that the demeanor and courtesy shown to me and the rest of the Sheriff's Office personnel was a result of mechanical training received at LCC, but I certainly feel that somewhere along the line, these young men have picked up this remarkable attribute not found too often in today's society. Congratulations to you and your staff and a sincere thank you."

CONTRACT INFO---So as not to leave anyone out, those persons not yet on, but eligible for, a continuing contract should have received a notice of intent to rehire on a one-year contract.

Because we want to take the list of continuing contracts to the Board at their regular April meeting, this is a reminder to all department chairpersons that their evaluations and recommendations must be in to the personnel office no later than 5 p.m. April 1 -- no fooling.

100% Recycled
Paper

TUESDAY
March 11, 1975

PAPER CONSERVATION REPORT RELEASED---Six major recommendations for the most efficient and economical use of paper at LCC are outlined in the final report of the ad hoc committee on paper conservation. Copies of the report are available from Printing & Graphics.

In addition to the thirteen original suggestions released last December, the six new recommendations include: (1) use of the multilith in Printing & Graphics, which produces copies at a cost of 25-30 percent less than ditto or mimeograph machines; (2) eliminate data processing over-run cards in registration. Drop/Add forms, says the committee, serve the same purpose and are preferred by many departments; (3) use The Daily more extensively, particularly as a means of distributing information about meetings, activities and progress reports that are often covered currently in individual memos; (4) use The Daily for a continuing series of paper-saving tips; (5) print the final exam schedule in the quarterly schedule of classes, eliminating the end-of-term handout; and (6), encourage the use of photo typesetting, which can cut paper needs by as much as 50 percent.

The committee rejected as unworkable at this time suggestions that involved major, campus-wide recycling, reprinting on used paper, and the use of newsprint. Its reasons are detailed in the report.

Incidentally, The Daily will be printed for at least the next month on 100 percent Recycle Bond paper. P&G has a limited supply on a trial basis. Cost figures are not in yet, but Don Johnson says that recycled paper costs a little more than so-called "new" paper. He also points out that all paper contains recycled material, sometimes as much as 50 percent.

LEVEL CHANGE WORKSHOP TOMORROW---Anyone planning on applying for a level change should attend a workshop especially designed for such things tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. in Cen. 124. Hank Doua and Rick Romanek will be on hand to help with the process, hand out forms, and answer questions. The workshop is required for any staff member wishing a level change.

CABINET TO MEET TODAY---On the agenda: a progress report on budget development, discussion on elections, pay policy, legislative activity, a report on the college presidents' meeting, and a review of Monday's administrative council meeting. Time: 3 p.m. Place: Adm. 202.

"MORGENMUSIK" TO RETURN TO KLCC---"Morgenmusic", the highly-popular morning program of classical music that disappeared from KLCC in September, has returned to the station's programming log. Tom Lichty says that classical music from the baroque, romantic and early classical music periods will go out over the air from 6-9 a.m. daily.

CLASSIFIED TO VOTE ON FAIR SHARE---Whether all classified staff members included in the bargaining unit will be required to join the American Federation of Teachers, and therefore become dues-paying members, could take its first step forward Thursday when the classified staff votes on the issue. If approved by a majority of all classified employees, not just those already AFT members, then it will automatically become a negotiable item at the bargaining table this year.

Under Oregon law, a Fair Share system is allowable if requested by a majority of the bargaining unit and negotiated between labor and management. Results from an earlier AFT survey showed that a large number of classified employees wanted a Fair Share election. If approved by all concerned, then every classified staff member represented by AFT would be required to pay the $5 monthly dues to the union--with one exception. Those who can document religious objections to union membership can pay an equivalent amount to a non-religious, non-profit charitable organization.

The election is scheduled for Thursday in the cafeteria. Voting times are 7-8 a.m., 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., and 5 p.m. to 6 p.m. Absentee ballots are available from Jane Foust in the social science department.

CAN'T REMEMBER PERSONNEL SERVICES' PHONE NUMBER?---It is ext. 411 or 412. At either extension you will find personnel, insurance, payroll, and director Hank Doua.

ADMISSIONS TO BE CLOSED---The admissions and student records offices will be closed March 17 to prepare for registration. Returning students will sign-up for classes March 18-20, while the few new students who will be admitted will register Mar. 26. A second registration for new students with entry permits is scheduled for April 2-3. At that time they will simply pick over the bones and, if there is anything left to take, they will be allowed to take it.

BERG, KELLEY, MARSTON NAMED FOR PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT LEAVES---Lane Community College's first leaves given for professional development have been awarded to Jerry Berg, Fred Kelley, and Jay Marston. All three will take spring term off to work on projects approved by the professional development committee, and all will receive 75 percent of their contracted rate of pay while they are gone.

Jerry Berg, who teaches reading, spelling and effective learning in the Study Skills Learning Center, will use the term to continue his research and writing of a series of eight readers for students from junior high school to community college level. Tentatively called "Men and Automobiles", the series will cover transportation from the discovery of the wheel to the present and will be illustrated with photographs. Jerry has already completed a reading series called "Fast Wheels".

Completion of a dissertation on mass media and political communication in Lane County is the goal of Fred Kelley, who will take spring term away from his job as a speech and TV broadcasting instructor in the mass communication department. Fred's study is a comprehensive view of attitudes, uses of sources of information for the development of those attitudes, and general communication patterns of a selected group of county residents. He will be completing his PhD work at the University of Oregon.

Jay Marston, a science instructor who teaches human genetics and wild foods of Oregon, will become a UofO graduate fellow in systematic botany, and will complete a photographic study of most of Oregon's useful wild flowers. Jay's project will take him throughout the state, including photographic forays into the Cascades, the Rogue River Valley, the Steens Mountains, the Eastern Oregon desert, and the Siskiyou.

Of the $15,000 set aside in the college budget as a result of last year's faculty-Board negotiations, about $11,000 will be used to finance the three professional development leaves. Director of personnel services Hank Douba said that the amount could creep closer to the $15,000 should substitutes hired by the departments involved require salaries in excess of the amount already being paid Marston, Berg and Kelley.

BOARD TO MEET TONIGHT---On the agenda, discussion of Board Policies, pay policies, and advisory committee appointments. Presumably, the Board will also discuss the serial levy and operating budget elections. Time and Place: 7:30 in Adm. 202.

WORKSHOP TODAY---Persons interested in seeking a level change should attend a drop-in workshop scheduled from 10 a.m. to quitting time today in Cen. 124. Hank Douda and Rick Romanek will be on hand to help with the process. The workshop is required for anyone who wants to change his or her level.

NEW STUDENTS STILL OKAY IN ADULT ED.---Although the credit programs are, for the first time ever, curtailing the enrollment of new students, Adult Education is still in business for all-comers. Registration for Adult Education classes is usually at the first class meeting, unless pre-registration is required.

MAINTENANCE BUILDING NEARS COMPLETION---Construction on the maintenance building is progressing on schedule and should be finished in time for occupancy by college facilities next month.

FAIR SHARE VOTE TOMORROW---All classified staff members have a chance Thursday to vote on whether a Fair Share system of dues-paying should be a negotiable item at the bargaining table this year. The polls, located in the cafeteria, will be open from 7-8 a.m., 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., and 5-6 p.m. If approved, the AFT bargaining committee will negotiate for Fair Share this year. Fair Share would require all staff members in the classified bargaining unit to either join the AFT (and pay dues), or contribute an equivalent amount each year to charity.

CONCERT SCHEDULED FRIDAY---Contemporary music based on the photographic exhibit and book "The Family of Man" will be performed by the LCC Concert Choir Friday in the performing arts theatre. The concert is free and begins at 8 p.m. Composed by Michael Hennagin, the music includes "The Creation", "People", "Alike and Ever Alike", "There is Only One Man", and "Flow, Flow, Flow". "The Family of Man" was created by photographer Edward Steichen for the Museum of Modern Art in New York City.

A color slide show will accompany the performance. Prior to the beginning of "The Family of Man", the Concert Choir will be joined by the Chamber Choir and Woodwind Ensemble in performing two double choruses by Orlando Di Lasso, the "Dance Alleluia" by Arnold Freed, and "Mass Dixit Maria" by Hans Leo Hassler.

SHORT MEETING---You should have been at last night's Board of Education meeting, if only because the regular session was wrapped up before 9 p.m. The Board paid $260,862 in construction claims and bought a $14,035 minicomputer for the science, electronics and mathematics departments (the National Science Foundation paid half the cost). There was a report that an attempt is being made to develop an exchange program for faculty with other League for Innovation colleges. And it was announced that two people on leave--instructional technologist Howard Bird and former research director Marston Morgan--are expected back next year. To top it off, the Board cancelled a scheduled March 26 meeting. Next session is April 9.

AND PAPER PLATES AND PLASTIC FORKS COST TOO MUCH---Attrition has brought food services to the critical point in its supply of plates, bowls and eating utensils. Ken Brownell asks that everyone scrounge through her or her desk and office area and please return any of the above to the cafeteria. Ken says food services is virtually out of spoons.

WORKSHOP TODAY---A pre-registration workshop for persons scheduled to work in registration is scheduled today at 10 a.m. in Adm. 202. One of the topics to be covered is a change in procedures for new student registration.

S/HE PRONOUN NEEDED---What this country needs is a good, third person neuter pronoun that can be used in instances such as "everyone (should) scrounge through his or her desk and office area" without being awkward or silly. We're serious. Any ideas (some have started using s/he) will be gratefully received at the office of information and publications. Thanks.

COPY MACHINES TO BE MOVED---The Xerox 7000 copy machine, located in the mail room, will be moved in the near future to the Center Building, probably the bookstore. At the same time, the Xerox 4000, located at the library entrance, will be moved to the admin. bldg. Tony Birch said the move should help cut or delay cost increases, particularly if staff members cut down on their use of the machines and utilize Printing & Graphics more often. Incidentally, the Xerox 4000, once moved, will be limited to use by staff in the administration building. All other users should work with the larger Xerox 7000.

FAIR SHARE VOTE TODAY---Classified staff members will vote today on whether all members of the bargaining unit should be required to become dues-paying members of the American Federation of Teachers. If the vote is Yes, then AFT's bargaining team will negotiate the matter with the Board. The polls will be located in the cafeteria and will be open from 7-8 a.m., 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., and 5-6 p.m.

CLASSIFIED STAFF LIKES FAIR SHARE---In a vote that was not even close, a majority of the classified employees decided Thursday to seek a Fair Share system of dues-paying for all members of the bargaining unit. The American Federation of Teachers bargaining team will now negotiate the matter with the Board of Education.

Results of last week's election were 112 Yes votes and 31 No. A little over 200 classified employees are in the bargaining unit, which is represented by AFT. Since the AFT became the bargaining agent for the classified staff last year, membership (and dues-paying) has been optional, a point that has generally pleased non-members and irritated those who joined. Currently, about 170 persons are AFT members, but that figure also includes some of the faculty.

If okayed by the Board all in the bargaining unit would be required to pay union dues or donate an equivalent amount to charity. Dues now are $60 a year and AFT president Evelyn Tennis said that the union plans to keep it at that figure "for the time being".

AUDITIONS TODAY---Auditions begin today for the LCC production of "Stage Door", to be directed by former LCC student Wayne Ballantyne. A total of 28 roles will be cast, including 16 women between 18-28 years of age, eight men 21-30 years of age, and two each middle-aged men and women. Also needed are a tap dancer, singer and pianist. Auditions begin at 7:30 p.m. in the laboratory theatre.

JAZZ CLASS TO START---A new course, "Sounds of Jazz in Quadraphonic", will be offered here starting April 1 in Room 011 (AV Services) of the Center Bldg. Taught by Stan Fink, the course will cover jazz of the past three decades, and will meet Tuesdays at 7 p.m. For details call 343-5511.

LCCEA RESULTS---Rick Romanek and George Alvergue have been elected Lane's delegates to the Oregon Education Association Representative Assembly, scheduled for April 25-26 in Salem. Penny Schlueter will be an alternate.

PAYDAY TODAY---For some classified members, today is payday. Drawchecks can be picked up in the office of personnel services anytime.

CABINET MEETING CANCELED--Because President Schafer will be attending a meeting in Salem March 18, there will be no Cabinet meeting tomorrow.

MAFIT UP FOR LIBRARY OF CONGRESS INTERNSHIP---LCC archivist Randy Mafit is one of 30 persons across the U.S. selected as a finalist for a year-long internship at the Library of Congress. Randy will fly to Washington D.C. March 24 to be interviewed by the selection committee, which will make its decision in April.

If chosen, he will spend about four months rotating through several different assignments, then will spend the rest of the year at one job. Randy was one of two candidates nominated for the position by his alma mater, the University of Oregon School of Librarianship. More than 60 other library schools in the country also nominated two grads, and the Library of Congress added a few names from its own staff to the list.

CHEMISTRY CLASS OPENED---Chemistry 101, one of the classes eliminated during the budget-cutting process this winter, will be, with the help of some CETA funds, offered spring term after all. Science department chairman John Jacobs said the first class in the chemistry sequence will be held from noon to 1 p.m. Monday-Wednesday-Friday in Room 124 of the science building, with a lab from 1-4 p.m. Monday in Room 122. When they learned that the chemistry course was to be canceled spring term, many students objected, stating that the course was required if they were to complete their vocational programs on schedule. John said that he hopes students will be able to complete the sequence of 102 and 103 during the summer session.

...A BIT AND A PIECE ON TGIF EVE

...Last week we said that there would be a few spaces available in Jack Kreitz's AMA class that is starting today. People interested were to submit their names, and a selection committee would choose those to fill the class. Fortunately, the people who requested entry exactly numbered the spaces available so no selection committee was necessary.

...Payroll worksheets should be picked up today in the personnel services office and returned by 5 p.m. tomorrow.

...It might be said that "As the World Turns" "All My Children" spend "The Days of Our Lives" watching daytime teevee while in line at registration. It might be said but lucky for you, it won't. Anyhow, to help relieve boredom and to cut down on the noise in the lines at the business office, a large black and white TV has been rolled in to the first floor of the administration building and flicked on for students' enjoyment.

...Carl Blood, technical drafting prof and former industrial technology chairman, will retire June 13, after 33 years in front of classes. He's choosing to retire a few years early because his benefits, he reports, will give him about $120 a month more in income than his present salary. The ol' goldpanner scores again.

...Registration for returning students concludes today, the second-to-the-last day of finals week. Next week is Spring Vacation, not only for the students but for the Daily as well.

March 31, 1975

SUMMER SCHOOL CUT FOUR WEEKS---Budgetary strains have created another casualty at LCC: the 12-week summer session. Summer school, which normally lasts until about the first week of September, will return this year to an eight-week session ending Aug. 15. It will begin June 23. Four-week sessions will be offered beginning June 23 and July 21, and a six-week session will be held from June 23 to Aug. 1.

The eight-week session should cause no problems for veterans attending on the GI Bill, said Veterans' Affairs director Barbara Harmon, because the session spans all three summer months, something that the VA requires. Current and prospective students who are veterans can be certified by the Veterans Administration for both summer and fall terms when they enroll for spring and summer classes. Certification will ensure that their benefit checks will not stop during the vacation periods before and after summer term.

DEVELOPMENT FUND DRIVE BEGINS---Funds to help replenish nearly-depleted LCC Development Fund accounts for scholarships and emergency student loans will be sought during the next two weeks during LCC's annual Community Support Campaign. The campaign, which will continue until April 14, begins today. Volunteers, led by honorary chairman Ed Cone, will be seeking about $10,000 in gifts during the campaign. All donations are tax-deductible and may be designated for a particular activity. Besides the scholarship and emergency loan accounts, other activities needing support are the LCC Library, which has been unable to purchase a satisfactory number of new books this year, the National Athletic Travel and Emergency Loan Fund, and virtually every instructional department.

WOMEN'S WORKSHOP SCHEDULED---The special problems facing women who attend community colleges will be discussed by northwest community college teachers and administrators in April during a two-day seminar at LCC. Representatives from colleges in Oregon, Washington, and Idaho will gather at Lane April 17-18 for the workshop called "Let's Put Woman in Her Place". It is sponsored by the home economics departments of LCC and the Oregon Board of Education.

The workshop, modeled after a similar conference held earlier this year in Arizona, will cover many of the problems facing women students, such as fear of the classroom, combining studies with family life, employment, and roles and attitudes. The keynote speaker will be Jan Newton, a University of Oregon economist who is researching the effects of long-term unemployment on working class families.

"SEASONS" TICKETS STILL AVAILABLE---Although weekend performances are sold out, some seats remain for the mid-week performances of "A Man for All Seasons", scheduled to open April 4.
