"BUCKAWATT" MARATHON STARTS TODAY ON KLCC---The goal: $10,000. The Reason: To purchase a new 10,000 watt transmitter. Beginning at noon today, all regular programming at KLCC will be dropped as the station's staff and a public radio marathon expert from New York launch the 24-hour-a-day Buckawatt Marathon to replace KLCC's 440 watt transmitter. Tom Lichty says that about 30 local musical groups have donated time to the station, and will play live in the studios during the marathon, and about $2,000 worth of items donated by community merchants will be offered for sale. Helping organize the marathon, and serving as one of Tom's chief on-the-air fund raisers is Steve Post, author of "Playing in the FM Band" and chief announcer at WBAI, a listener-supported station in New York. He directed the first public radio marathon in New York in 1965 and has helped stations in other cities throughout the country with marathons ever since.

AND FIELD STRIP YOUR CIGARETTE BUTTS TOO---You may not believe this, but some people are sending dirty dishes through the intracampus mail to food services. Helma Olson asks that it please stop.

USE OF HEALTH SERVICE INCREASES---Student use of the student health service rose for the third straight year in 1974-75, according to a report released by health service coordinator Laura Oswalt. Patient visits totaled 11,302 last year, up from 9,965 in 1973-74 and 7,902 in 1972-73. The average visits per day also increased, from 63 a day in 1973-74 to 71 last year. In 1972-73, the health service saw 55 patients a day.

CAMPUS TOURS FOR STAFF MEMBERS---Staff members who have not had an opportunity to see what the rest of this place looks like are invited to attend one of five guided tours scheduled for next week. Tours will be from an hour to an hour and a half long, starting at 1:30 p.m. on Oct. 7, 9, 16, 21 and 23. If you're interested, call Jolene Bowers at ext. 349. Or, if you're interested but can't make it at the above times, call her and she will set up other tours that fit your schedule. Old timers who took tours years ago are welcome, too.

NEW ORDERING SYSTEM TO START---Effective immediately, foodservices will be using a new, numbered order form for ordering food and supplies. The forms may be obtained from foodservices. The procedure for ordering food and supplies will be as follows:

1. Fill out order form with your food request. Before order can be processed, it must be signed by the department head or other authorized individual and the account number to be charged must be filled in on the bottom of the form. The originator keeps the second, yellow sheet for their file.
2. The Foodservice secretary will price your order and send you the first, white copy. Keep both the yellow and white copies for your departmental file. The balance of the form will be sent to the Business Office at the end of the month for automatic fund transfer.
3. If you have any questions regarding your food order, call Foodservices, ext. 203, and refer to the Foodservice number at the top of your order form.

RATIFICATION VOTE TODAY---Members of the faculty and classified bargaining units will vote today to accept or reject two-year contracts that have tentatively been agreed to by the Board of Education. Faculty members vote from 3-6 p.m. in the Forum. Absentee ballots are available from Charles Bentz. Dues-paying members of the LCC Employees Federation vote in the cafeteria from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 2:30 p.m. today, and on breaks and lunch hours during swing and graveyard shifts. If the contracts are ratified, they will be sent to the Board for action.

BENEFIT CONCERT SCHEDULED---Works by Beethoven, Brahms, Liszt, Bizet, Mozart and Gershwin will be performed by four local women Oct. 10 in a benefit concert for the LCC music scholarship fund. The concert is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the performing arts theatre. Tickets are $2 each and all seats are reserved. You can purchase tickets now at the box office, or you can order them by calling 747-4559.

Performers are solo pianists Barbara Myrick and Pamela West-Mann, and duo-pianists Frances Baum Ragozzino and Patricia Whelan Nash. All but Mrs. Nash are from Eugene. She lives in Creswell. Dr. Myrick is an LCC instructor, holds a Doctor of Musical Arts degree from the University of Oregon, and was a founder of the UofO Chamber Ensemble. Pamela West-Mann, also an LCC instructor has a Masters of Music degree from the University of Texas and has studied with concert pianists Robert Goldsand, David Bean, and William Doppmann. Mrs. Nash and Mrs. Ragozzino have performed as duo-pianists in all of Oregon's larger cities, as well as in Palm Springs, Calif. Both hold degrees in music and are members of the Oregon Music Teachers Association.

SEND UNITED WAY CONTRIBUTIONS TO---Margaret Knutson. Classified staff members who have received a message urging them to pledge the money previously deducted for insurance ($1.40 a month) to United Way can do so by returning the attached pledge card to Margaret in Records Management/Archives. Doing so would send about $18 to United Way during the year. Should you prefer your donation to go to a specific UW user, say so and Margaret will make sure it gets there. She says the agency, in turn, will send you a card of thanks.

XEROX READINGS DUE---Call Carol Beckley.

DUCK DOPE FOR SALE---Duck Dope, the coupon book which offers discounts on things like records, books, clothes and even a weekend for two at the coast, is on sale today and tomorrow on the second floor of the Center Building. SPAF users (The Torch, athletics, health services and ASLCC) are doing the selling. Of the $3 purchase price, they get to pocket $1. Each books contains about $10 in free goods and about $150 in discounts.

THANKS FROM DICK NEWELL---Here is what Health and PE department chairman Dick Newell has to say about last week's efforts at writing the health science course for ACCESS: "Thanks to everyone who assisted the health and PE department in hosting the first national meeting held at LCC (Sept. 25-26) for the development of the health science course for ACCESS. The meetings were excellent and the project is moving ahead rapidly. I am in the process of summarizing the results of those meetings and will distribute copies to interested people on campus. If you would like a copy call me."

FACULTY RATIFIES CONTRACT, CLASSIFIED TOTALS NOT IN YET---Faculty members approved their two-year contract yesterday, 158 to five. The contract will now go to the Board for ratification, probably at its Wednesday night meeting. As of 8:15 this morning, ballot counting had not been completed on the classified vote. Results will be announced when they come in.

DUE TO POPULAR DEMAND---The cafeteria will open from 8-10:30 a.m. for coffee, juice, donuts and so forth...starting Monday.

KLCC NEARLY HALF WAY HOME---As of yesterday at 3:30 p.m., KLCC had received cash and pledges totalling $4,135 from supporters listening to its "Buckawatt" marathon. The station is trying to raise $10,000 to purchase a 10,000 watt transmitter; it broadcasts over a 440 watt transmitter now. The crew, which includes New York broadcaster and writer Steve Post, vows it will stay on the air until the full amount is pledged.

RELEASE TIME FOR TOURS---Anyone who wants to take a campus tour, but thinks he or she has to take it on his or her own time, listen up: supervisors will be happy to let you off to take the tours...and if Jolene Bowers' schedule doesn't fit with yours, she will work something out. The scheduled tours are at 1:30 p.m. Oct. 7, 9, 16, 21 and 23. All tours leave from the Board Room in the administration building. Call Jolene at ext. 349 for details.

FLU SEASON NEAR---Health services coordinator Laura Oswalt sends along this advice concerning protection against the flu: "The U.S. Public Health Service is recommending flu shots for high risk groups, such as people with chronic diseases, those over 65, or those providing community services. Do not take influenza vaccine if you are allergic to egg protein. Shots should be obtained from your private doctor between now and Nov. 15."

HELP NEEDED FOR CROSS COUNTRY MEET---If you would like to help officiate at the state high school cross country championships Nov. 15, give Bob Radcliff a call at ext. 277. About 600 young runners will be here for the meet.

SPEAKING OF CROSS COUNTRY---The LCC team hosts the LCC-Oregon Track Club Invitational. Time: 11 a.m. And the Lane soccer team travels to Oregon City for a 2 p.m. Saturday contest with Clackamas Community College.

KLCC DOES IT, RAISES $10,000---KLCC's listeners came up with the last of ten thousand dollars being sought by the station in its "Buckawatt" marathon yesterday afternoon, about seven hours ahead of schedule. The money will be used to buy a new transmitter (the 10,000 watt variety) to replace the current 440 watt transmitter KLCC has been using for years. Tom Lichty says the new transmitter is the first step toward KLCC's becoming totally listener-supported. If the marathon was any indication, the listeners and the support are both definitely there. Congratulations to the whole staff and all the friends of KLCC.

AS YOU MAY HAVE READ---The classified staff easily ratified its contract, which will now go to the Board of Education for approval. The Board is expected to act on the contract when it meets Wednesday. Also on the agenda: the faculty contract, approved Thursday 158-5. The classified vote was 120-9.

DISTRICT 19 EMPLOYMENT SPECIALIST AND HER FILM TO BE HERE---Roma Cleveland, an employment specialist for vocational information placement in Springfield's school district #19, will be on campus tomorrow at 10 a.m. to speak and show portions of her video tapes on career education that are being circulated throughout the state. Ms. Cleveland uses the film in career search classes--it shows students in unrehearsed interviews with local businesspeople discussing what employers look for when hiring. Copies of the film have been made and are also being used by the state employment office and the state department of education. Place: Health 209. All are welcome.

DIRECTORY ASSISTANCE COSTS $$$---Starting Wednesday, telephone operator directory assistance requests will cost the college 20 cents each. Mark Rocchio, director of campus support services, asks that numbers be looked up in the directories.

VOLUNTEER SPEAKERS AND PERFORMERS---The 1975-6 speaker list is in preparation. If you are willing to have your availability announced to service clubs and other community groups, notify College/Community Relations now. C/CR guarantees to tell every group it can reach of your willingness to speak or perform free, though it can't guarantee you'll be asked. Those with subjects which pique the interest, however, usually find audiences. This kind of community service is important to the college's long and short range support. Thanks.

IF THE PHONE JUST KEEPS RINGING, RINGING, RINGING...---It's because Language Arts and Communication Skills is to be closed all day Friday so all the people can attend a conference. Back to normal on Monday.

NOW THAT YOU ASK---Here is an update on construction and remodeling: At the Siuslaw Skills Center, the roofing has been completed and the siding installed. All fixed windows are in and the job foreman says the college should be able to start moving in in December; the remodeling of the art department is going along fine and will be completed with the installation of the dust collector system and the wire cage; the sprinkler system has been installed on the ballfield; and Heceta House is being painted. The work is being paid for by the Forest Service.

ROMA CLEVELAND HERE TODAY---Roma Cleveland, the Springfield educator who helped develop video tapes that will help students and the unemployed find work, will be on campus today to discuss and show her films. Time and Place: 10 a.m. in Hea. 209.

ENROLLMENT UP EVERYWHERE---At the end of the first week of classes, 97,000 students were enrolled in Oregon's 13 community colleges. This is a 12 percent increase over a year ago. Portland CC, with an enrollment of about 30,000, is the largest post-secondary school in Oregon.

ART SHOW SCHEDULED ---A Washington artist and LCC art instructor Joyce Kommer will have an exhibit of their sculptures and paintings starting Oct. 16 in the main gallery in the art department. The show is scheduled to run for three weeks. The exhibit will consist of ceramic sculptures by Seattle-born artist Tad Riste and landscapes done in oil by Joyce. A free public reception in the gallery is scheduled for 8-10 p.m. Oct. 17.

Riste is a former instructor at Mills College in Oakland, Calif., has a bachelor or arts degree from Central Washington State College, and now resides in Roslyn, Wash. Joyce is a native Eugenean and a graduate of the University of Oregon. He received a bachelor of science degree from the UofO in 1956 and a master of fine arts degree in 1960. He has been at LCC since 1971.

DIRECTORIES AVAILABLE---1975-76 directories are available at the information counter, first floor of the administration building. Department secretaries can pick up a supply (one per employee, please) anytime, starting this morning. Corrections and additions may be announced in the Daily; some changes will be necessary because the directory had a very early deadline for copy and various personnel changes have occurred since. Special thanks to Vicki Diaz of the President's Staff for typing and organizing this year's book.

MA BELL REPRESENTATIVE ON CAMPUS TODAY---Gloria Anderson, a representative of the phone company, will be here today to make two film presentations on phone usage, particularly heavy usage. Anyone whose job requires heavy use of the phone is invited. Time and Place: 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. in the Board Room.

SPEAKING OF THE PHONE COMPANY---Today is the day when directory assistance junkies start going through withdrawals...Ma Bell starts charging for information. For the college, that means 20 cents for each call to directory assistance. Mark Rocchio asks that you use the directory.

CLASSIFIED UW GOAL AT HALFWAY POINT---Margaret Knutson reports that the classified staff has gone past the halfway point in its 1975 United Way fund drive. Anyone who has not yet donated to United Way may send his or her contribution to Margaret in Archives/Records.

SEXISM CONFERENCE SCHEDULED---A conference on sexism in the schools will be held Friday and Saturday at Roosevelt Junior High School in Eugene. Keynote speaker will be Shirley McCune, director of the National Resource Center on Sex Roles in Education. She will speak at 9:30 a.m. Friday. Admission is free to the speech, or $5 for the entire conference. Call Anne Stewart, ext. 224, for details.

DID YOU KNOW---That it costs a grand total of 22 cents to light up the parking lots that surround LCC for one hour?

HUGE BACKLOG CAUSES P&G SCHEDULE CHANGE---What you see below is a press schedule for Printing & Graphics through Oct. 17. P&G has such a huge backlog of work, it will be spending the bulk of each working day on that. CONTRACTS RATIFIED---As expected, the LCC Board of Education ratified contracts for the college's staff last night, then went on to tell the administration that escalating costs were going to have to stop, and the college has until February to tell the Board how it will stop them. The two year contracts call for about 8.5 percent increases in everyone's salaries, plus about two and three quarter percent in fringe benefits and professional growth, for a total of about 11.34 percent. The contracts will be printed up soon and be available for inspection. In addition, highlights of all the agreements will be printed in the Daily over the next couple of weeks.

Board chairman Al Brauer, a Florence physician, also proposed a set of guidelines that, in his words, would help keep "costs from escalating through continued innovative and creative means." He said "the Board's only acceptable solution to this fiscal dilemma is to direct the college to implement increased efficiency measures in a specific attempt to stabilize the cost per student ." His motion, which passed five to two, directed the college to hold costs down by finding innovative and creative ways to teach more students without increasing costs; increasing average class size this year by at least nine percent; and increasing efficiency in the classified and administrative areas. The administration was directed to report on how all this will take place by Feb. 9, 1976.

BY THE WAY---Classified staff members have a choice as to whether they want their retroactive pay (back to July 1) in one lump sum or spread out in three equal payments. A form is being circulated at this moment. Should you wish your payment in one lump sum, disregard the form. However, if you wish to have it in separate payments, fill out the form and return it to Gail Eckhoff in Personnel Services by Oct. 13. If you're not sure which is best, Gail will figure out which of the two options is best for you, IRS-wise.

ON THE MOVE---Language arts instructor Ted Romoser will chair an affirmative action conference for the NEA this weekend in San Francisco. He'll do the same job on the other coast at Atlanta Oct. 24-26. Ted is on the move these days in his role as representative of the 50,000 higher education members in the NEA. His official title is chairman of the Higher Education Council, an office to which he was elected at the NEA convention at Los Angeles in July. His job is to let Congress know where his constituents stand on higher education issues. In recent months he's met with President Ford, Secretary of Labor John Dunlop, Energy Advisor Frank Zarb, and HEW Secretary David Matthews and Undersecretary Virginia Trotter.

FIRST CORRECTION---Out only one day, the Staff Directory already has one correction: Grace Cameron reminds that while Student Records is listed along with Admissions, it is actually an entity of its own, with offices located in the southern portion of the Admissions office. Besides Grace, the staff consists of Mary Potwin, Connie Stuart, Nikki Brazy, and Amanda Meadow. They can be reached at ext. 238 or 239.

LCC TO HOST CONFERENCE---The college's language arts department is host to the Oregon Community College Language Arts conference, scheduled for this Friday and Saturday at the Valley River Inn. On the program are panel discussions on "Back to Basics" (with a panel that includes State Sen. Wallace Carson and Associate State Superintendent of Public Instruction Mary Hall), "Science Fiction", "Writers as Teachers" and "Women in Literature", to name a few; plus dinner/theatre, tours of LCC, and silent movies.

THIS IS---Immunization Action Month, reports health services. Everyone is urged to make sure families have been immunized against such diseases as polio, measles, mumps, Rubella, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough, flu and so forth.

SAY HELLO TO THESE NEW FACES---The following list contains the names of new staff members hired this year at LCC. If you're new, and you're not on the list, please call the Daily. Stephanie Athens, mathematics; Marcia Allen, paradenal/paramedical; Donna Bateman, paradenal/paramedical; Clarice Bates, nursing; Robert Broderick, bookstore; Charlotte Brown, nursing; Alan Cahn, bookstore; Susan Canale, nursing; Mildred Cox, nursing; Jeremy Donley, art and applied design; Brian P. ANSWER ANSWER

October 10, 1975

ANSWER is getting questions. In the ten (working) days since it officially started ANSWER has accounted for 17 questions from staff members who want to know such things as whether the college carries liability insurance on health professions students (it does), policy on classes for part-time employees, and why there is "firewood" stacked up in the basement of the Center Building.

Most of the questions have dealt with finances and facilities, with personnel practices running a close third. Nearly all questions submitted so far have been answered promptly and in a straightforward manner; questions still in the hands of supervisors will probably be returned to ANSWER early next week and in the mail to those of you who sent them in the same day they are received.

If you would like a question answered, but you don't have one of the bright yellow ANSWER forms, please call ext. 340 and we will send you all you need. By the way, permanent displays containing ample supplies of the forms will start appearing in work areas by the end of the term.

Here's a sample of some of the questions and answers received so far:

Q. "Why is the construction and remodeling of the first floor of the administration building at a standstill? When will it be completed? Is the proposed floor plan public information?"

A. "First of all, the remodeling of the first floor of the administration building is not at a standstill. Since the proposals for this area involve several different organizational units, it has been quite time-consuming to arrive at total agreement concerning the overall plans. This process is still underway, though, and we hope to have these issues resolved in the near future. Hopefully, the actual construction can be started sometime this fall with a tentative completion sometime in the winter.

"There is no floor plan, really, for the remodeling. There are several feasibility and schematic studies which have been completed, but it would be premature to assume that any of these represent the final design. The design for this project will probably not be made public until after all the directly-affected staff members have had an opportunity to participate in the planning process."

Q. "What precisely and explicitly are Dr. Schafer's reasons for his statement that not more than one faculty member from a given department shall attend an out-of-state discipline conference. Many conferences are so diverse that a single person could not possibly get to all sections." (Requested Dr. Schafer to answer)

A. "Dr. Schafer never said 'that not more than one faculty member from a given department shall attend an out-of-state discipline conference.' I did comment to the dean that, in light of short travel funds, I questioned the practice of sending several members of one department to national meetings. It would seem appropriate to share the limited funds among as many faculty as possible."

(over please)

Q. "Why is there all that firewood in the storeroom by the south elevator on the basement of the Center Building?"

A. "This wood is hardwood that has been cut and dried and will be used by the sculpture class for wood carving. It is stored in the old warehouse on a temporary basis. It will be removed when remodeling takes place in this area."

Q. "What benefit will LCC receive from the $200,000 that KVAL gave to OEPBS in our name?"

A. "Some of the benefits are (1) LCC has first priority on scheduling programs to be transmitted for educational or informational purposes; (2) the mass communication students have the opportunity for working in a 'live' studio for training purposes; (3) the college will be able to schedule time for production in the KVAL facility."

Q. "Why was the printshop closed down in late August and who made the decision? This service has come to be extremely important to the institution; now it's undependable."

A. "The decision to close the areas of instructional operations, which include all of the areas of the Division of Learning Resources, was made by the dean of instruction. In the future the print shop will remain open and operating unless the total college closes down. We recognize the importance to the institution, and are trying to resolve the existing problems as best we can on a limited budget."

Q. "Why can full-time employees take classes for free and part-time and half-time employees must pay full tuition costs to take classes?"

A. "Full-time employees may take classes tuition free. In the case of classified employees they may take more than one class tuition free as long as attendance by the employee does not conflict with regular working hours. If they are employed for half time or more the number of classes that they may take without paying tuition is prorated in terms of the percentage of time that they work.

"If the college specifically requests that a person take a class it may be taken during the regular working schedule of the employee. Faculty employed half time or more may take one class tuition free which again does not conflict with their regular working schedule. The proration of this benefit is, however, subject to minor fluctuations. See Page eight, ARTICLE XII of Fringe Benefits in the 1974-75 Classified Agreement." (A member of the AFT negotiating team says the language of that section has not changed in the new agreement.)

BITS AND PIECES ON (BLAH) MONDAY...

...There will be a workshop on interviewing and selection tomorrow at the University of Oregon. Sponsored by the UofO Affirmative Action office, the workshop features presentations by Harold Williams of the governor's affirmative action section, and Lee Moore, who is head of the Civil Rights Division of the state Department of Labor. Anyone interested in attending should call Jonathan West.

...Tomorrow is the last day that classified staff members can notify the personnel office that they prefer to receive their retroactive pay in three separate payments, rather than in one lump sum. Those who wish to get their pay in one lump sum--don't do anything. But if you prefer the three-separate-payments route, notify Gail Eckhoff by the end of working hours Tuesday. And if you're not sure, check with Gail and she may show you which of the two options is the more beneficial.

...George Alvergue and some of his students have been praised by the Lane Council of Governments for their work with L-COG in compiling the second annual review of the Metropolitan Area 1990 General Plan. L-COG planner Galen Howard said that "Mr. Alvergue and LCC students Eleanor Kelly, Mikal Anderson, and Micahel Roche provided a great deal of assistance in the design and analysis of a survey of the general public conducted as part of the Review. Meeting weekly for nearly 12 months, the group went through the many-times frustrating experience of questionnaire design, pre-testing, re-design, distribution, coding and anyalysis."

...Here are a couple of deadlines for you: For the HEW financial assistance for environmental education projects--Dec. 1; and for the ethnic/heritage studies program--Dec. 3. Call Lisl Fenner for details.

...The performing arts schedule for the rest of fall term includes the play "To Be Young, Gifted and Black", Nov. 21,22,28,29 and 30, and a Christmas concert on Dec. 11 featuring the Baroque Orchestra and Brass Choir, directed by Nathan Cammack, and the Concert Choir, directed by Wayte Kirchner.

MUNCH YOUR LUNCH, SHARE YOUR HOBBY, VACATION---Slides of China with Paul Malm, Abraham Lincoln with Sid Austin, the filming of "Big Foot" with Ed Ragozzino: just three examples of the informal programs you can enjoy during the noon-hour Brownbag Forums that will get underway later this month and will continue until the end of the school year. In October, for instance, you can join Paul Malm, who will show slides Oct. 21 of his visit to the Republic of China last summer, and Kay Anderson, who will show slides Oct. 28 of Europe. Future Brownbag Forums will have Ray Nott with his collection of old bottles (November), Sid Austin with his collection of antique ink bottles and pens (December) and Abraham Lincoln memorabilia (February), Bill Wright and his program on wildflowers (January), Ed Ragozzino and the filming of "Big Foot" (March), and Lew Case with a lapidary show featuring opals (April). May's program is unscheduled.

Each Brownbag Forum starts at noon, although the programs will not start until 12:10 to give everyone a chance to settle in with a cup of free coffee and lunch. Paul's slide show will be in Center 011 (the basement), while Kay's program is scheduled for Center 222/223. Anyone else who would like to share an experience, hobby or interest with the rest of us should call Jolene Bowers at ext. 349. She will arrange a date and place for you.

CHESS TOURNAMENT HERE THIS WEEKEND--A five-round tournament for rated chess players will be held this weekend in the LCC cafeteria. The tournament, scheduled to begin at 9 a.m. Saturday and Sunday, is for players rated 1,700 and above in the open division and 1,699 and below in the reserve division. Entry fees are $8 in advance for the open division and $7 in the reserve division, but change to $10 and $9 respectively if paid at the door. Players can pay the cheaper rates by sending checks to John Loughlin in the math department. John is director of the tournament and is the LCC Chess Club advisor. About 50 players are expected to compete for $250 in prize money, awarded by the sponsoring LCC and Eugene Chess Clubs.

ROSE CHAIRMAN---Mike Rose has been elected chairman of the Faculty Council for the 1975-76 school year.

PLEASE CLAIM---If your department is missing a first aid kit, it is probably in the student health service. The health service staff has a kit that was brought in last spring for restocking, but the label has since worn off and no one knows who it belongs to. Call ext. 268 if it is yours.

MRC OPEN TO ENROLLMENT NOW---The Math Resource Center, which has been filled to overflowing since school started, is now able to accept some more students. John Loughlin reports that of the 950 students who signed up originally, about 15 percent have dropped out, leaving room for more students. Please announce in your classes.

AS YOU PROBABLY ALREADY KNOW---There is no longer a "411 Information Line" at the phone company. To get directory assistance, you have to dial 1-555-1212, even if you are calling from work. And since we cannot dial "1" without going through the switchboard, and since our operators must take about the same amount of time in making an information call as they do in making a long distance call, and since each directory assistance call after the first five costs your department 20 cents (is that enough "and since's?"), please use your directory. Local and out-of-town directories are located in the library.

REPORT AVAILABLE---A copy of the first LCC report on external funding will be delivered to every department or office on campus by Oct. 15. Extra copies of the report will be available from Lisl Fenner.

DID YOU HEAR THE ONE ABOUT---The Turkish dentist who put up a sign that read "American dentist, second floor--teeth extracted by latest Methodists." No, huh.

LCC CO-SPONSORS CHRISTMAS SERIES---A series of five free programs for persons planning a do-it-yourself Christmas start today at the Far West Federal Savings office at 96 E. Broadway in Eugene. The series is sponsored by Far West Federal and LCC, and features instructors from our home economics and community education departments.

Starting with "Bake Ahead for Christmas" today (taught by Dyna Besse), the series continues with programs in "Gifts for Children" (taught by HELPS aides Cynde Leathers, Fran Bristow, and Barbara McFerron), Oct. 22; "Making Your Own Christmas Cards", (taught by John Canfield of community education), Oct. 29; "Glamor for the Hostess", (taught by Vivian Day), Nov. 5; and "Decorating Your Home for Christmas", (taught by a commercial florist), Nov. 12. All programs are from 10 a.m. to noon in the Eugene Community Room at Far West Federal.

VISION, HEARING TESTS START TODAY---Vision and hearing screening tests will be available for all students starting today at the Student Health Service. Students can make appointments by calling ext. 268 or showing up at the health service, liea. 217. Please announce to your classes.

BENEFIT NETS $1,064---Last Friday's benefit concert for the music scholarship fund brought in $1,064 in ticket sales and donations. About 350 persons showed up for the concert, and about half of them stayed afterward for coffee and conversation with the artists.

YMCA BOOK FAIR STARTS TOMORROW--Nearly 10,000 hard and soft-cover books go on sale tomorrow at bargain prices on the first of the annual three-day book fair at the Central Lane Family YMCA. Proceeds from the books go to the YMCA's International World Service fund.

Books have been separated into about 40 categories, including sections of older books, magazines and possibly some first or signed editions. Prices start at a nickel, but generally range from 15 cents for soft cover to 25 cents for hard cover. Hours are 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. tomorrow and Friday, and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday.

WEEKEND SPORTS--Soccer against Warner Pacific in Portland, 2 p.m. Saturday; field hockey at Willamette against EOC and Willamette, Saturday; cross country against Linn Benton CC and Central Oregon CC in Albany, Saturday.

PE FORUM HERE TOMORROW---Lane County's first open forum on physical education programs for exceptional students will be held here tomorrow afternoon in the auxiliary gym. Physical education specialists and teachers of the handicapped will gather from 1-4 to discuss how to accomodate the student who "is slow, who has inadequate motor skills, who has a different appearance, and who may present a hazardous situation with a wheelchair." Some of the session leaders include physical therapist Judy Drews, Joan Kelly, coordinator of Adapted Physical Education of the Easter Seal School and Treatment Center, Molly Cole, PE and Recreation Coordinator of the Pearl Buck Center, and Jim Dunn, who teaches the visually handicapped for District 4-J. The workshop is scheduled for 1-4 p.m.

OPEN HOUSE---The Mental Health Association and Harmony House will hold an open house Friday at 1893 Garden Avenue, Suite 4 (Mental Health Assn.) and 1897 Garden Ave. (Harmony House). Time: 1-5 p.m. LCC members on the Mental Health Assn. Board include Marje Wynia, Margie Holland, and Laura Oswalt.

JONATHAN WEST SELECTED FOR CONFERENCE---Equal Opportunity Advisor Jonathan West will appear in one of Ohio State University's mini-conferences on career education this year--the Nov.21-22 conference on "Career Education for Minority Groups". Jonathan was selected by Ohio State's Center for Vocational Education from a list of educators across the country nominated by the National Education Association, the 50 state coordinators of career education and last year's mini-conference participants. He is one of 12 selected for the November conference. Ohio State is sponsoring 25 such conferences this year.

OREGON STUDENTS SCORE WELL---Last year's Oregon college-bound seniors scored higher than the national and regional averages on all seven college board acheivement tests. The average on all tests for Oregon students was 578. That's 47 points higher than the national average and 53 better than the performance of the eight western states.

IF YOU HAVE NOT DONE IT YET---Please update your "emergency information" card at the health service. Carol Tedder reports that there are still about 50 staff members who have information on file that is more than two years old.

RECEPTION TONIGHT---There will be a free public reception tonight to honor Washington artist Tad Riste and LCC instructor Joyce Kommer, whose two-man show of ceramic sculptures and oil paintings opened yesterday in the main gallery. The reception starts at 8 p.m.

PICK UP WORKSHEETS---Payroll worksheets should be picked up at the financial services office at 2 p.m. Tuesday, and should be returned to the same office the next day.

AUDITIONS SCHEDULED--Auditions for the Stephen Sondheim musical, "A Little Night Music", will be held Oct. 28 in the LCC laboratory theatre. Auditions begin at 7:30 p.m. and are open to any adult in the community. Directed by Ed Ragozzino, the show has parts for singers, actors and actresses. Persons trying out for singing parts should prepare a song of their choosing. Accompaniment will be provided, and scripts and scores may be checked out at the performing arts department. "A Little Night Music" is scheduled to be performed in the LCC theatre Jan. 30, 31, and Feb. 4-7.

ELEVATOR TO CLOSE TEMPORARILY---The south elevator in the Center Building will shut down Oct. 23 from 1-4 p.m. for re-keying. All disabled students and staff members with offices on the upper floors of the building may exchange their current keys for new ones at the circulation desk in the library this morning or on Tuesday. Please announce in your classes.

OSU REPS---Oregon State University recruiters will be on campus Oct. 29 to talk to prospective students. They will be available for interviews from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the cafeteria.

DONORS WANTED--- An organ transplant can often save someone's life, but before you can have a transplant operation, you have to have the organ to transplant. You can help--and possibly save someone else's life someday--by carrying a donor card with you at all times. The cards are available in the student health service. They're easy to fill out and will fit in any wallet.

FIRST BROWNBAG FORUM TOMORROW---Paul Malm's slides of his visit to Nationalist China will kick off the first of a series of lunch hour programs tomorrow. The programs, called Brownbag Forum will allow anyone with a hobby or special interest to share it with his or her fellow staff members. Paul will begin showing his slides at 12:10 p.m. in Center 011, in the basement of the Center Building. He spent a month in the Republic of China this summer as a guest of the Chinese government, which provided Paul's round trip plane ticket and one week's room and board. The next three weeks, Paul toured the country with assistance from the government speaking to military, business and government leaders. He also came back feeling it was the most beautiful country he has ever seen.

Future Brownbag Forums include Kay Anderson's slides of Europe (Oct. 28), Ray Nott's collection of old bottles (Nov.), Sid Austin's collection of antique ink bottles and pens (Dec.), and his Abraham Lincoln memorabilia (Feb.), Bill Wright's wild flowers (Jan.), Ed Ragozzino's thoughts on the filming of Bigfoot (March), and Lew Case's lapidary show (April). Come, and bring your lunch. Free coffee will be provided.

EFFICIENCY TOPIC OF FACULTY COUNCIL MEETING---Efficiency and productivity, as outlined in the directive from the Board of Education at its last meeting, will be discussed tomorrow at a 3 p.m. meeting of the Faculty Council. Dean Rasmussen has been invited to discuss the Board's 10-point request. Should you have questions relating to the Board's proposal, or know of any instructional problems that could result from implementation, be sure to show up or give your questions to your representative. Other issues you want covered should also be mentioned to your representative or to Mike Rose at ext. 313. Place: Cen. 124.

PICK UP WORKSHEETS---Payroll worksheets should be picked up at the financial services office at 2 p.m. tomorrow, and should be returned to the same office Wednesday.

IF YOU WANDER PAST THE MAIN GALLERY---You will find a new art exhibit. Featured are oil paintings by LCC instructor Joyce Kommer and ceramic sculptures by Washington artist Tad Riste.

WHAT?---An examination of noise pollution reveals that urban noise is rising by one decibel a year. Should it continue at this rate, well-informed scientists project that everyone will be stone deaf by the year 2,000.

NO HEPATITIS RISK TO THE REST OF US---Food services director Ken Brownell is confined to his home today with hepatitis, diagnosed Sunday. But, Lane County Health Department epidemiologist Jeannette Bobst said this morning that Ken's illness represents "no risk" to the general LCC community. She said that the college food service operation can continue as usual.

Ken apparently touched uncooked food only once in the contagion period, that on Oct. 8 when he served the LCC Board of Education and a few others. About a dozen people were involved.

Results of a blood test will be available early Tuesday, Ms. Bobst said. That should determine if it's infectious and whether those at the Oct. 8 dinner will need inoculations.

Meanwhile, says Ms. Bobst, everybody should wash hands well after using the bathroom. That, she reminds, is the main protection against contacting the disease.

HEPATITIS CASE WILL NOT CLOSE CAFETERIA---In case you missed yesterday's special edition of the Daily, and/or you did not see last night's Register-Guard, there is no danger that LCC's food service will be closed because of a case of hepatitis diagnosed Sunday in food service director Ken Brownell. County Health Department Jennette Bobst said that because Ken did not touch raw food (with one exception) during the contagion period his illness represents "no risk" to the general LCC community. The one exception came Oct. 8 when Ken prepared and served a meal to the Board of Education. Results of a blood test will show today whether Ken's hepatitis is viral or serum; should it be viral, the persons who attended the Board dinner (about a dozen) will probably have to be inoculated. Meanwhile, Ken is confined to his home for several weeks. Cards of encouragement can be sent to him at 1450 W. 26th Ave., Eugene, 97405.

SOCIAL SCIENCE REACHES UNITED WAY GOAL---Joe Kremers reports that the social science department has passed its United Way goal for 1975-76, with plenty to spare, and therefore becomes the first department to meet its goal. Staff members donated $306, or 25 percent above last year's total.

"FAST PASS" SALE HOURS LENGTHENED---Lane Transit District "Fast Passes" will now be on sale throughout the work day at the bookstore, but the price is going up 50 cents each. The passes had been available only during certain hours, but beginning Oct. 25 they can be purchased anytime. If you have questions, call Jay Jones, ext. 231.

CORRECTION---The Faculty Council will meet Thursday at 3 p.m. instead of today as reported in yesterday's Daily. Place: Cen. 124.

MALM'S SLIDES TODAY---Paul Malm will show slides of his month-long visit to the Republic of China today, starting at 12:10 p.m. in Cen. 011 (the basement). Paul's show is the first of a series of Brownbag Forums designed to allow staff members to share hobbies, interests and vacations during their lunch hour. Free coffee will be served; bring your lunch and please try to be seated by 12:10 so Paul can begin promptly.

PAY WORKSHEETS DELAYED---Due to the heavy load of payroll changes this month, payroll worksheets won't be available until after 2 p.m. Wednesday. They should be completed and returned to the office of financial services on Thursday, Oct. 23.

TICKETS ON SALE---Tickets for the professional tennis match between Dennis Ralston and Marty Riessen will be on sale starting today in the health and PE department. Prices are $4.50 for courtside seats; $3.50 for first balcony seats; $2.50 adult general admission; and $2 child general admission. Money raised will go to the UofO tennis program. Date: Nov. 7. Time: 7:30 p.m. Place: McArthur Court.

NEW PHONE NUMBERS---You can reach Anne Stewart at ext. 345, and the Women's Awareness Center at ext. 391. The Center, by the way, is still being set up but Anne says anyone is invited to drop in for a cup of coffee and to look the place over. IT'S HARD TO CATCH---Dr. Larry Glass of the LCC student health service says that your chances of getting Ken Brownell's type of hepatitis are virtually zero. Ken was diagnosed as having Type B serum hepatitis, as opposed to Type A infectious hepatitis. But, Dr. Glass cautions, wash your hands after using the bathroom.

BOARD TO MEET---Revision of Board policy and possible selection of election dates will be the topics of discussion tonight when the Board of Education meets at 8 p.m. The administration has recommended that the college attempt a budget election outside the six percent limitation April 20, which is one of eight dates set aside by the state for school elections. The Board will also discuss whether capital outlay requests should be included in the budget election or sought in a separate serial levy, and whether LCC should go for a change in its tax base at the primary or general election. Place: Adm. 202.

FORUM "MARBLEOUS"---LCC's first Brownbag Forum for staff was a great success Tuesday noon. Ten more than the room holds showed up for Paul Malm's slide tour of the Republic of China. Paul showed a slide of a bridge faced with marble and couldn't resist calling it "marble-ous", thus coining a term also appropriate for his presentation. Among the gems: Paul reported that professors have unusually high status and get special low rates at a beautiful resort on Sun Moon Lake. When people discovered he is a professor, they asked for his autograph.

IN CASE YOU ARE WONDERING---The biographical forms many of you are receiving in the intracampus mail are coming from College/Community Relations. When completed, they will be added to our resource file which has been a valuable back-up for the office for several years. Unfortunately, during the past three or four years it has become hopelessly out of date, with many staff members not even included. Your cooperation is most appreciated, but remember, participation is strictly voluntary. You don't have to fill out one of those forms if you don't want to.

SPRING FORWARD, FALL BACK---Daylight Savings Time ends at 2 a.m. Sunday. Be sure to set your clock back one hour.

CORRECTION---Yesterday's article about the social science department's success in the United Way drive was not completely accurate. Staff members did donate $306, but that total did not mean an increase of 25 percent over last year. What should have been said was this: the social science staff donated an average of $14.50 each, which was 250 percent above last year's average of about $4.

LITERARY SUPPLEMENT TO START IN TORCH---"Reflections", a new literary supplement to be seen in the Nov. 11 issue of the Torch, welcomes art work, poetry, short stories, photos and so forth. All material must be submitted by Oct. 25--Saturday. For details, call "Reflections" editor Mary Boyce at the Torch office, ext. 234. Staff contributions welcome, too.

SPORTS EVENTS THIS WEEK---Field hockey, Thursday at 3:30 p.m., at Thurston High School; soccer Saturday at 2 p.m. at Southern Oregon; and cross country, Saturday, the OCCAA championships at Roseburg. Time: 11 a.m.

INTRAMURALS TO START---Anyone interested in "Drop-in" volleyball should sign up in the gym lobby before Oct. 27. Play will be from noon to 1 p.m. MWF in Gym #1, starting the 27th. "Three Man (or Woman) Basketball" also starts Oct. 27. Games will be held between 5-6 p.m. Monday through Friday.

COULDN'T RESIST THIS---Do you realize that if Bert Dotson had attended the infamous Oct. 8 Board of Education dinner (he didn't), and had eaten ahead of everyone else so he could hurry back to set up the Board Room for the meeting, and if, in eating, he had contracted Ken Brownell's hepatitis before anyone else did, he could be known as the Early Bert Who Caught the Germ?

ELECTION DATE SET, BOARD SUPPORTS KLCC REQUEST---Lane Community College will seek a levy outside the six percent limitation April 20, which is one of eight dates the state allows school districts to hold elections. In a unanimous vote last night, the Board of Education gave the administration the go-ahead to start developing a budget that the lay budget committee can start dealing with after the first of the year. The budget that will be developed will have capital outlay funds built in, should, as President Schafer suspects, there be no attempt at a serial levy this year. President Schafer told the board that he fails "to sense a great enthusiasm among the Board and staff for a serial levy for long range needs," but, he said, he is not completely discarding the possibility. The college may also go for a change in the tax base, regardless of the results of the levy election, at either the May primary or November general election.

In other business, the Board voted to support KLCC's application to the FCC for a wattage increase (to 10,000 watts), approved five new members of the RSVP advisory committee (John Craig, Richard Freeman, James Larson, Clifford Jones, and Mildred Kubler), and, except for a couple of modifications in the 3000 series, approved the revisions in Board Policy 2000 series (administration) and 3000 series (business and non-instructional operations).

TICKETS GO ON SALE---Tickets for the LCC production of "To Be Young, Gifted and Black" go on sale to the general public Nov. 10, but staff members can get the jump on everyone else by buying tickets any weekday starting Tuesday, Oct. 28. Tickets are $2.50 each, and all seats are reserved. The play is directed by George Lauris and is the story about black playwright Lorraine Hansberry, who, at 29, won the 1959 New York Drama Critics' Circle Award for Best Play of the Year for "Raisin in the Sun". Performances are scheduled for Nov. 21, 22, 28, 29 and 30.

VETERANS' DAY NOV. 11---While everyone else in the country observes Veterans' Day on the fourth Monday in October, Oregon's public schools and community colleges have to hang around until Nov. 11 before they get the day off. The November date, which is the real Veterans' Day anyway, was selected by the state legislature. Lots of folks, however, will still observe Vets' Day on Oct. 27--like the University of Oregon, for instance.

FIELD HOCKEY SCORE---The LCC field hockey team beat the OSU JVs 2-0 Tuesday, to bring its record to 1 win, two losses and a tie.

CLASSIFIED DONATIONS NEAR GOAL---Classified staff donations to the United Way drive are nearing their goal, reports Drive chairwoman Margaret Knutson. The average donation so far is $16.50, which is an increase of a whopping 312 percent over last year's average of about $4.

FLAGS MISSING---An American and a state flag are missing from the Board Room. If you know where they are, please return them or give Helen Haynie a call. As one fellow worker said, you can't miss them: one is red, white and blue, and the other is blue and gold with some ships and cows and wagons and an eagle drawn on it.

FORE STUDY OUT, SUPPORTS COMMUNITY COLLEGES---A two-year study of Oregon's community colleges by the Foundation for Oregon Research and Education (FORE) has been released, and it is highly supportive of the state's 13 two-year colleges. FORE is a privately funded group composed of business and professional leaders from around the state.

Among its 40 conclusions, the study recommends:

- * avoid or eliminate ranking for community college instructors, i.e. full professorship, assistant professor, associate professor;
- * that local community college boards of education monitor programs and drop courses when enrollments fall below an established minimum, priorities shift, or occupational opportunities diminish;
- * closer cooperation between community colleges and four-year schools to make credits earned at the two-year schools more freely transferrable within the state system of higher education.
- * retention of the present funding formula of 50 percent state general fund, 30 percent district property taxes, 20 percent tuition.

Chairman of the study's steering committee Lawrence L. Rennett, who presented the report to superintendent of public instruction Verne Duncan, said that "as the study progressed over the past two years, and particularly as (the committee) visited the 13 campuses, (it) became impressed with the high quality and dedication of these community college administrators and their staffs." He said the committee was also impressed "with the diversity of the 13 colleges and of the importance of keeping the fine line between independence and state leadership which seems so eminently successful." FORE recommended the present decentralized form of governance for the community college system be continued, giving the schools local autonomy within broad state policies under the direction of a local board.

IF YOU'RE THINKING OF STAYING HOME MONDAY---Forget it. Monday is not Veterans' Day. Well, it is Veterans' Day for a lot of people, like federal workers, and for department store sales, but for state and local workers, Veterans' Day is Nov. 11, which is the real Veterans' Day anyhow.

NO KIDDING, THIS IS THE LAST GOOD NEWS/BAD NEWS JOKE YOU'LL HEAR HERE---The environmental engineer began his talk by saying that he has good news and bad. "We'll all have to drink recycled sewage!" The audience asked for the good news. "That was the good news," he replied, "the bad news is that there won't be enough."

SECOND BROWNBAG FORUM TOMORROW---Kay Anderson's six-week trip to Europe last summer has been captured on film and will be shown tomorrow at noon in Cen. 222/223. Kay's slide show is the second Brownbag Forum, an informal series in which anyone on the staff can share his or her interests, hobbies or experiences with anyone else over tuna sandwiches and free coffee (you supply your own sandwiches). The actual slide show will begin promptly at 12:10 p.m.

Kay, who has spent the last eight years teaching composition and American literature in the language arts department, moved to Oregon from Illinois (where she earned her bachelor degree) to study for her masters, earning it at the UofO in 1968. She has been a resident of Eugene for 27 years. Besides golf, her other hobbies are traveling and amateur photography.

AND IF YOU MISSED IT THE FIRST TIME---Paul Malm will show his slides of Nationalist China again Wednesday at 2 p.m. in Cen. 011 (the basement). Paul's slides were shown during the first Brownbag Forum last week, but so many people missed seeing them that Paul will be happy to oblige all the callers and show them again.

LEARN TO MAKE CHRISTMAS CARDS---The third in a five-part Do-It-Yourself Christmas series will focus on making your own Christmas cards this Wednesday at Far West Federal Savings in Eugene. Adult education instructor John Canfield will teach the free class, scheduled to start at 10 a.m. in the Eugene Community Room at 96 E. Broadway. The series is co-sponsored by LCC and Far West Federal.

TICKETS GO ON SALE---Everyone else has to wait until Nov. 10, but LCC staff members can buy tickets to the production of "To Be Young Gifted, and Black" starting tomorrow at the box office. Tickets are $2.50 and all seats are reserved.

SPORTS EVENTS THIS WEEK---Soccer, today at 4 p.m., vs. Sheldon, at home; Nov. 1, at 2, at Mt. Angel; field hockey, tomorrow, at Portland State (no time avail.); Oct. 31, Willamette Valley Tournament, at Willamette (no time avail.); Nov. 1, same thing; cross country, Nov. 1, Region 18 championships at Roseburg, 11 a.m. The cross country team won the state championship for the umpteenth time Saturday, and goes into next week's regional competition as defending champion, also.

LCC STUDENTS QUESTION "FREEDOM TRAIN" ADMISSION---Apparently a few LCC students have protested the $2 admission charge to the traveling Freedom Train, and, according to a Springfield official, may attempt to disrupt the train's visit to the city next month. City Manager Thomas Cochran phoned the college yesterday to say that some LCC students had protested the admission charge and apparently planned to make their feelings known in public when the train stops in Springfield Nov. 19-22. It will be located between Second and Third Streets, south of Centennial.

Cochran did not know the students, or whether they represented an organized group. He said they were under the impression that the Freedom Train, which is a traveling museum containing about 500 artifacts, is tax-supported, and therefore should be open to the public free of charge. Cochran, and later a local Freedom Train committee member, said he wished to let the students and anyone else concerned about the issue know that the train is not tax-supported, but is financed by a private, non-profit foundation called the American Freedom Train Foundation. Local committee member Bill Ford said that most of the train's $17.5 million budget comes from grants and from admission fees. The fees are $2 for persons aged 10-64, $1 for persons 3-12 and over 65, and free to toddlers.

The train is currently on a 17,000 mile trip around the country displaying several hundred items from America's past and present. Included in the exhibits, which are viewed while standing on a moving floor that rolls along at 1/6 walking speed, are JFK's rocking chair, an old fire wagon, and even Kareem Abdul Jabbar's tennis shoes. Anyone--students or staff--who would like to know more about the train and/or its policies, can call Ford at KUGN during working hours. Any group wishing to know more about the train can also call Ford, who can arrange for a speaker from the local committee to address your organization at its next meeting.

BROWNBAG FORUM TODAY---Kay Anderson's slides of Europe will be shown today starting at 12:10 in Cen. 222/223. Bring your lunch (free coffee will be served) and take a look at the photographic results of Kay's six weeks in Europe last summer.

AND AT TWO---Paul Malm repeats his slide show of the Republic of China, in Cen. 011. Paul's show was the first Brownbag Forum, last week.

REMINDER TO MANAGERS---Administrative training sessions will be held again tomorrow at Valley River Inn. Attend either the 8:30 a.m. or 1 p.m. session.

BITS AND PIECES ON THE DAY BEFORE THE DAY BEFORE TGIF...

...Lane County veterans can get information on jobs, training, benefits and services Nov. 14 at a "Veterans' Information Day" in the LCC cafeteria. Representatives from the Veterans' Administration, veterans' organizations, the Red Cross, the state employment service, the National Alliance of Businessmen, National Guard and the vocational rehabilitation division of the VA will be on hand starting at noon. Free coffee and donuts will be served from 11 a.m. to noon. The information day is sponsored by the LCC veterans' affairs office.

...Copies of the Board policy revisions of the 4000 and 6000 series are now available in the library at the reserve desk. The Board revised those policies Oct. 6.

...If you stood outside Center 011 at 2 p.m. yesterday waiting for Paul Malm to show up with his slides of China, you realize by now exactly how wrong Tuesday's Daily was. Paul will in fact show his slides of a four-week tour of the Republic of China today at 2 in the same place, Cen. 011. All are welcome.

...Administrative training sessions will be held again today at the Valley River Inn. Managers can attend either the 8:30 a.m. or 1 p.m. session.

...Anyone wishing to talk about the National Organization of Women's observance of "Alice Doesn't Day", an attempt by NOW to dramatize how much of the country's daily operation depends on women, can talk informally about it during the lunch hour today in the Women's Awareness Center. There will be a march leaving from the Center concourse at 12:45 p.m.

..."The copyright bill is a can of worms," said columnist Art Buchwald at a recent Washington meeting. "I've spoken to the senators and representatives who are working on it and they all have one thing in common. None of them understand it."

NEXT BROWNBAG FORUM IN TWO WEEKS---Actually, about three weeks. Ray Nott will share his bottle collection Nov. 18 in Cen. 222/223...again, coffee will be free, the program will start promptly at 12:10 p.m., and you should bring your own lunch. Future Brownbag Forums will include programs with Sid Austin in December and February, Bill Wright in January, Ed Ragozzino in March, and Lew Case in April.

CHANGE IN "ANSWER"---Starting today, Joyce Nichols will become coordinator of Answer. Speaking of Answer, in its first month it has received 24 questions, mostly concerning finances, personnel practices and fringe benefits. Joyce said she will put out another sampling of Answer questions in a day or so. For details on the program, you can call her at ext. 444.

CAMMACK TO PERFORM (JEAN SHAFFER'S SON, TOO)---Nathan Cammack will play the violin and Robert Specht the cello in a string quartet performance tonight at Gerlinger Hall at the University of Oregon. Robert is the son of Jean Shaffer. The quartet, which also includes Lorie Boris, violin and Sharon Gordon-Low, viola, will perform Strykekvartett No. 4, Op. 56 and Quartet No. 1, Op. 18, and Quartett, Op. 6. The performance begins at 8 p.m. In lieu of tickets, patrons will be invited to contribute to the Committee for the Performing Arts Piano Fund.

TEACHER OF THE YEAR FIANLISTS NAMED---Five finalists for the 1976 Oregon Teacher of the Year have been selected. They are Grace Blancard, a remedial reading teacher from Fleming J.H.S. in Grants Pass; Helen Cornelius, home economics, Hamlin J.H.S. in Springfield; Nola Coval, health education, Raymond A. Brown J.H.S. in Hillsboro; Franklin Fitz, biology, McKenzie River High School, Finn Rock; and Ruby Sharman, fifth grade, highland School, Reedsport. The winner will be announced in December.

ADIEU---"Tom's most well now, and got his bullet around his neck on a watch guard for a watch, and is always seeing what time it is, and so there ain't nothing more to write about, and I am rotten glad of it, because if I'd 'a' knowed what a trouble it was to make a book I wouldn't 'a' tackled it, and ain't a-going to no more. But I reckon I got to light out for the territory ahead of the rest, because Aunt Sally she's going to adopt me and sivilize me, and I can't stand it. I been there before."

DUES INCREASE & ELECTION OF OFFICERS---Those are the agenda items for Tuesday's meeting of Employees Federation Local 2417. It's at 5 p.m. in the Board room. Evelyn Tennis encourages all classified employees to attend.

ELECTION DATE---Tuesday's Cabinet Meeting will focus on future serial levy and budget election dates. The Board of Education has scheduled an election for April 20, but various people have indicated to President Schafer that they'd like to discuss it further. Those interested are invited to attend the 3 p.m. meeting in the Board room.

AS FOR WINNING THAT ELECTION---A meeting of all interested people will be held Thursday at 3 p.m. in App. 219. President Schafer will preside at an idea session.

HOW TO LOSE VOTES---A letter has been received from a rural lady who agreed to an interview with two LCC students conducting a survey. She says they rudely made it clear that she was a non-person. "You get the picture, don't you," she writes. "It was tacitly understood by all, except me, that if there were opinions in this household, the ones worth listening to would come from the lips of Him." The letter goes on about the students' questionable manners and concludes: "My HUSBAND will be glad to receive any and all students who are interested in adult opinions. I will not. I will shoot every third one and the first two just left."

DAVID HAS DEPARTED---That excerpt from Huck Finn in yesterday's Daily was David Butler's way of closing out his editorship of this publication and assorted media duties for LCC. He starts Monday as PR guy for the Lane Intermediate Education District. Wider responsibilities, more pay.

OOPS---It happened at Willamette University, where they have a president named Lisensky. They were planning to serve Cornish game hen at a campus function. But, when somebody called to ask what would be served at the meal, a secretary replied: "Polish game hen."

WHAT'S HAPPENING?---If your office/department/group is doing something that others should know about so they can understand your goals/mission/activities, send The Daily a note about it. For instance, Jolene Bowers and people from counseling and admissions, etc., met with counselors from 22 of our 23 high schools yesterday afternoon to brief them on what LCC can offer their students. Very successful; the guests loved it and discovered information they need to know. So, what have you been doing lately?
