WIND SYMPHONY--The LCC Wind Symphony will present its annual Winter Concert on Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Performing Arts Theatre. Gene Aitken directs the Symphony.

NOMINATED--President Eldon Schafter is one of nine persons nominated to the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges Board of Directors. The election will be by mail with results announced May 15.

RECOGNIZED--LCC's Affirmative Action Workshop was mentioned in the AACJC Memorandum, which is sent to all member presidents.

CANCELLED--The speaker for the Women's Awareness Center-sponsored series held on Thursday has cancelled for this week. The next in the series will be Wednesday, April 7, (the series was rescheduled to Wednesdays to allow attendance at the Affirmative Action follow up discussions on Thursdays).

LCC TO MEET WITH STATE OFFICER--Harold Williams, Affirmative Action Officer for the State of Oregon, will meet with the LCC Affirmative Action Council at 1 p.m. March 10 to discuss affirmative action responsibilities. LCC Deans, Association Deans, Department Chairmen and Chairwomen, and other interested persons are invited to attend. Jonathan West is the LCC Affirmative Action Council head.

SINCE YOU ASK--Laura Oswalt, Student Health Services Director, has this tidbit for the Daily. "The pancreases of 26 steers are required to provide insulin to maintain and prolong a healthy, productive life for a diabetic for one year." She adds that the LCC Student Health Service has diabetic medallions for diabetics to wear on bracelets or neckchains or wrist watches for diabetic identification to give away free.

LAST MINUTE NOTE: If you're housed in Apprenticeship, Industrial Technology, Business, or the Administration building, your water has been cut off. The valve was turned at 7 a.m. this morning so that a backhoe could begin digging in an effort to locate a leak in a water main. The effort could take from 2 to 4 hours. Sorry, but repairs couldn't be delayed because of the water losses and low pressure in lines needed in case of fire.

TOUR YOUR CAMPUS--Campus tours for staff members are being offered March 15 through 19. If you are interested in touring the LCC facilities, please call Jolene at extension 349 to make arrangements.

NEW HOURS--The switchboard is now open from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday, and 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday. There are also four new incoming lines for daily use. At 9 p.m. on Monday through Thursday three additional night lines will be in operation for High School Completion and Adult Basic Education.

SEGUE CONCERT--The Student Segue for this month will be today at noon in the Performing Arts Theatre. This month the concert will be short but diverse with a vocal solo, bassoon solo, and short one-act play with two performers.

AT THE U OF O--Tillie Olson, author of "Tell Me a Riddle," one of a collection of short stories in a book by the same title, will give a reading at the University of Oregon Gerlinger Lounge at 8 p.m. on Friday, March 5. The event is free and open to the public.

CAMPAIGN PAYING OFF--Former Gov. McCall's visit Oregon but don't stay campaign must be working. A California licensed camper had a sign on the rear reading "Cheer Up -- I'm just visiting" as it made its way through the rain and snow on I-105 Monday. We expect, given the weather, the driver was as happy as staunch Oregonians that he was just visiting.

BUDGET REQUESTS COVER INFLATION, INCREASED ENROLLMENT, TECH-VOC TEACHING EQUIPMENT

By Eldon G. Schafer

About a sixth of Lane Community College's 1976-77 operating budget would be met through the proposed property tax levy being placed before voters at the April 20 election.

Exact dollar figures won't be known until March 10 when the College Budget Committee completes its job of reviewing the Administration's total budget proposal for next year. Then the Board of Education will set the exact amount to go before voters.

A typical year's budget is made up of 46 percent state and federal monies, 20 percent tuition and fees, and 34 percent property taxes. Bond repayment and the tax base, approved by voters previously, make up most of the latter. That leaves about a sixth of the total operating budget subject to annual voting.

The Budget Committee is composed of the 7 elected Board of Education members and 7 citizen volunteers appointed by them. The Committee began its work in January with an Administration request that a $2.6 million levy be placed before voters.

The budget request accommodates a number of needs:

- * It opens the door to a limited number of additional students. Full-time equivalent (FTE) student enrollment would increase 4.5 percent, from 7,314 this year to 7,633.

- * It provides for modest expansion in technical-vocational programs. Long waiting lists of students are seeking admission to such programs as auto mechanics, nursing, welding and machine shop.

- * Some additional support is allocated to remedial programs. More than a third of students in credit programs in any year need help in mastering such basic skills as reading, writing and mathematics. These skills are mandatory for success in both tech-voc and college parallel areas.

- * Some $400,000 is provided for the purchase of such items as tech-voc teaching equipment. This is the same amount as last year. Students need hands-on experience with equipment of the type they'll use when employed.

- * It provides for inflation-caused cuts in purchasing power. An 11 percent increase is applied toward this year's expected 9 percent loss, plus 2 percent toward prior years' losses.

- * It takes into account possible reduced federal funding. Some 42 employees are now paid through the federal Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA). That money runs out July 1 unless Congress acts to extend the program.

- * It meets requirements of collective bargaining contracts. Labor contracts hold the College to increases in faculty and classified salaries based on the Portland Consumer Price Index (CPI). We have an inescapable cost increase for salaries of at least 6.3 percent built into the budget.

- * It provides that students pay their fair share of increased costs. The Board of Education last month raised tuition in accord with its policy that students should pay approximately 20 percent of the cost of the College's operating budget. That increase, the first in two years, is less than the sum of the inflation of 12 percent two years ago, 11.3 percent last year, and 7.6 percent this year.

- * It holds spending within the ability of the community to support LCC. The region seems headed out of the recession; there is reason to be optimistic about improvements in the economy.

- * It takes into account a Board of Education directive to accelerate staff productivity at all levels. Credit class size is being increased this year at least 9 percent, staff development funds are being channeled into projects that specifically improve efficiency, development of courses that accommodate additional students without cost increases is being expedited, and rapid refinement of fiscal control procedures is underway.

FRIDAY
March 5, 1976

BUDGET COMMITTEE RESULTS--LCC's Budget Committee is looking at the possibility of holding the college's property tax rate for next year at or below this year's $1.61 level. It means cutting a half million to a million dollars out of the Administration's proposed $14.7 million operating budget for next year. The Budget Committee Wednesday night told the staff to come up with ways to make the cuts and to have them ready by next Wednesday night, when the Committee is supposed to wind up its review. Potential cuts could come in materials and services, proposed new staff positions, and maybe in jobs funded this year by CETA.

REGISTRATION SCHEDULE--Spring term registration begins March 16 for returning students and March 24 for new students. Evening students who are returning from winter term and whose entire class schedule was after 5 p.m. will be able to preregister for night classes March 13 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the cafeteria. More registration information will be published in the Spring term class schedule Monday in the Register-Guard.

BIGFOOT BROWN BAG--Ed Ragozzino will talk about the things you didn't see in the locally-made movie about Bigfoot during a Brown Bag Forum Monday at noon in the Board Room.

RETIREMENT QUESTIONNAIRE--All employees who have received a long Public Employees Retirement System questionnaire from Personnel Services are urged to complete and return the form as soon as possible. Monthly PERS contributions are mandatory following completion of a six-month probationary period and must be repaid from later earnings if the employee is not enrolled in the Retirement System on time. Without this questionnaire, enrollment may be delayed. For more information, call Celia in Personnel Services.

BUDGET AND BOARD MEETINGS--The Board of Education will convene at 7 p.m. tonight in Administration 202 and begin its agenda before the scheduled Budget Committee meeting at 8 p.m. The Budget Committee is expected to make a final decision on the proposed 1976-77 budget. The Board of Education will then reconvene to consider the budget and call for a budget election April 20.

FOOD SERVICE SCHEDULE--The last day of operation this term for the restaurant will be Friday, March 12. The cafeteria will operate through Wednesday, March 17. Only the snack bar will remain in operation the week of March 22 through 26. All food service operations will resume Monday, March 29.

WANT TO TALK WITH ARCHIE?--Persons wanting to talk with insurance rep Archie Zarewski may call ext. 412 to make an appointment. He will be on campus at 2 p.m. today.

HONORED, WE THINK--LCC recently received an Energy Conservation Award for "responding to a nation-wide appeal to conserve energy by adopting the Department of Commerce Business and Industry Energy Management Program." The award came addressed to Lane County Community Company. Business Operations has been unable to trace where the award application was made and, given the name to which it was sent, they are beginning to wonder if Lane Community College and Lane County Community Company are one in the same.

VISIT CANCELLED--Harold Williams, Affirmative Action officer for Oregon, is ill and will not be at LCC at 1 p.m. today as planned.

THURSDAY BUSY--Two activities are planned for noon Thursday and a choir concert will be presented in the evening. The Special Projects Commission of the Human Awareness Council is sponsoring "The Hidden Dimension -- Who Are the Handicapped" in Health 102 from noon to 1:30 p.m. and the Women's Awareness Center is sponsoring a discussion "Abortion -- A Medical Process." The discussion will be in Center 221. At 8 p.m. the LCC Concert Choir will join with the OSU Choir to perform in concert in the Performing Arts Theatre. The LCC Concert Choir, under the direction of Wayte Kirchner, will perform "Catulli Carmina" by Carl Orff.

VISIT EUROPE--LCC staff members are invited to attend "An Evening in Europe," a color slide preview of the sixth annual Heart of Europe tour sponsored by the Oregon Credit Union League. Coffee and dessert will be served on Thursday, March 18, at 7 p.m. at the Colonial Inn, 1626 Willamette. For more information and reservations, please call Maurine Bayes, 343-2883.

BUDGET RATE TO GO DOWN--The LCC Budget Committee cut over $500,000 from the proposed 1976-77 budget last night before sending it to the Board of Education for approval. The Board approved the $14.3 million proposed budget which will go to the voters April 20. LCC district residents will vote on the levy of $1.9 million outside the six per cent limitation. While the proposed levy is up from the amount of $1.5 million this year, the tax rate is expected to drop to $1.50 per $1.000 true cash value of assessed valuation from the current rate of $1.61 -- an 11 cent decrease. The cuts in the proposed budget came in the areas of expected inflation and accompanying payroll fixed costs, and the contingency fund.

BOARD ACTIONS--In addition to approving a budget levy, the Board last night asked the administration to investigate the possibility of hiring an independent consultant to evaluate LCC's telephone system.

And, as a result of other action, letters of intent to rehire will be delivered to department chairpersons for distribution to all contracted faculty. Undelivered letters will be sent by certified mail.

TODAY--"The Hidden Dimension -- Who Are the Handicapped" will be presented at noon today in Health 102 by the Special Projects Commission of the Human Awareness Council. The Women's Awareness Center is sponsoring a discussion "Abortion -- A Medical Process" at noon in Center 221.

CONCERT TONIGHT--LCC's Concert Choir and the OSU Choir will perform at 8 o'clock tonight in the Performing Arts Theatre. The LCC Concert Choir, under the direction of Wayte Kirchner, will perform "Catulli Carmina" by Carl Orff. "Catulli Carmina" is a selection of poems by the Roman poet Catullus, set to music by Orff. The OSU Choir will sing the "Gloria" from J.S. Bach's "Mass in B Minor." The program is free.

FOOD SERVICE SCHEDULE--The last day of operation this term for the restaurant will be tomorrow. The cafeteria will operate through next Wednesday. Only the snack bar will remain in operation the week of March 22 through 26. All food service operations will resume Monday, March 29.

INTERNS--Paul Malm reports some good and bad news about his political science class. The good news is that students Jon Wallace and Darlene Walhood will be working Spring term as volunteer interns in Democrat Congressman Jim Weaver's Eugene office. The "bad" news: Prof. Malm is a loyal Republican.

CLASSES OF INTEREST--Two Spring term classes may be of interest to LCC staff. The Health and Physical Education Department is offering "Self Concept: Origin and Change," taught by Dr. Sterling Ellsworth. The class (HE 199, TLN 2008-01) will be held on Tuesdays from 6 to 9 p.m. in room 301 of the Forum Building. "Rebels and Redcoats" is a Bicentennial-inspired Social Science course. Twenty-one different topics, ranging from the geography of the Colonies to the performing arts of the times, will be taught in the elective from 7:30 to 10 p.m. on Tuesdays in Room 223 of the Apprenticeship Building.

REVIEW--Paula Lutz, anthropology professor, is the author of a review of The Sphinx and the Megaliths in a recent issue of Man magazine, the leading anthropology periodical of Great Britain. She says John Ivimy's book is similar to Chariots of the Gods in its "appeal to racism, bigotry and the quasi-scientific intellect." Ivimy ties the start of civilization to reincarnation, a demigod and a dynastic race.

BOOK DONATION--LCC Board member Catherine Lauris has donated two copies of "Girls Are Equal Too" by Dale Carlson to the library. Mrs. Lauris made the donation during the Affirmative Action Workshop. The books are now in the library under call number HQ/1154/C335/1973.

STAFF TOURS--Campus tours for staff members are being offered March 15 through 19. If you are interested in touring the LCC facilities with the knowledgeable guidance of Jolene Bowers, Jerry Sirois or Krista Chamberlin, call Jolene at ext. 340 to make arrangements.

FOODSERVICE SCHEDULE--The last day of operation this term for the restaurant will be today. The cafeteria will operate through next Wednesday. Only the snack bar will remain in operation the week of March 22 through 26. All foodservice operations will resume Monday, March 29.

TOURNAMENT--The Women's Basketball team is participating in the Northwest Tournament for Community Colleges through Saturday at Highline CC in Seattle.

EMPLOYMENT UP--The 1976 Endicott Report from Northwestern University indicates employment trends are up -- slightly -- for graduates of the nation's colleges and universities. The survey of 225 companies indicates that about ten per cent more holders of bachelor's and master's degrees will find jobs this year.

SIUSLAW DEDICATION--Dedication ceremonies for the Siuslaw Area Skill Center, LCC's only off campus, college-owned facility, will be Sunday, March 28, at the Center, located at 3149 Oak Street in Florence. The $450,000 facility, which was completed in January, will be dedicated at 2 p.m. with comments by Albert Brauer of Florence, Chairman of the LCC Board of Education; Eldon Schafer, LCC President; Don Bowman, Mayor of Florence, and Glenn Butler, Supt. of Siuslaw School District 97J. Following the formal dedication, the public may tour the facility until 5 p.m. and attend a short program in the portable planetarium set up at the Center. The planetarium is a cooperative project of the IED, U of O, SWOMSI and LCC. Al Owens is coordinator of the Siuslaw Area Skill Center.

CANDIDATES--The deadline for filing for LCC's two seats on the Board of Education was Tuesday. Board seats from Zone 1 and Zone 4 will be up for election on April 20. Candidates in Zone 1 are Edward Cooper of Veneta and Charles Nugent of Westlake. Dr. Albert Brauer of Florence currently holds the Zone 1 position. He is completing his twelfth year on the LCC Board and did not file for re-election. Candidates in Zone 4 are Stephen Reid of Fall Creek, incumbent, and Frank M. Long of Cottage Grove. Reid was appointed to the Board in 1971 and elected to a 4-year term in 1972. Other members of the 7-person board include James Pitney of Junction City, Zone 2; Jim Martin of Springfield, Zone 3; Catherine Lauris of Eugene, Zone 5; and Richard Freeman of Eugene and Larry Perry of Eugene, at-large representatives.

PREPARATION FOR APRIL 20 ELECTION

Informational activities are being focused in the main on 22 historically supportive precincts (up from 14 last year). A mailer to go to 20,000 voters is at the printer. Telephone numbers are being readied for a get-out-the-vote calling effort on election day. A folder of facts about the College is at the printer and should be ready for distribution in a week to such groups as the U of O faculty and county school district teachers. Pledges of assistance in such work as telephoning have been received from both campus unions. Voter registration on campus is underway.

Some media exposure is planned. Two releases have been sent; a third will go out in mid-April. The President has met with the media and will participate in a half-hour KVAL program next week. Editorial support will be solicited. The Spring Term Schedule of Classes had a page devoted to budget needs.

Regular year-round activities on behalf of public understanding continue. These include the President's monthly letter to friends and opinion leaders, a continuing series of coffee hours for adults with the President, Bunch for Lunch, campus tours for adults and prospective students, staff presentations in the community, representation at chambers of commerce and other groups, and related activities.

The philosophy behind this work is that of Phillip Piele of the U of O and John Hall of Arizona State U. Their research, much of it done in Eugene, suggests that major campaigning tends to polarize public opinion and bring out negative voters. They suggest that thin resources be spent on identifying friends and encouraging their support. This was the approach used last year at the June 17 election.

BOARD OF EDUCATION--In an hour and one-half meeting last night, the Board of Education agreed to continue exploration of an energy management system which includes the installation of storage tanks, piping, controls, and a converter to utilize condenser waste heat. The Board agreed to further explore such an energy conservation system and any future alternatives to save fuel. President Schafer suggested that numerous avenues for funding such a program be investigated before the Board take any final action.

Also during the meeting the Board approved expenditure of $5,000 to finish development of plans to remodel the Center Building to house the Student Health Services. Moving SHS to the Center Building would allow better access for ambulances and also create more space for Nursing, Parental and Home Economics in the Health Building.

FELLOWSHIP--The Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation has initiated a program of support for doctoral candidates who wish to base their dissertation on "research about women on such topics as the evolution of women's role in society, and particularly contemporary America; women in history; the psychology of women; and women as seen in literature." Winners will receive grants of $500 to $1,000 to be used for research connected with the dissertation. Closing date is April 1. See Lisl Fenner for more information.

TV SHOW--Presents Schafer, Boyd, and MacVicar discuss higher education on KVAL-TV, Channel 13, this Sunday, March 28, at 6 p.m. The U of O and OSU chiefs say some nice things about LCC.

LEAVE APPLICATIONS--It has been determined that there is $1,900 available in the Professional Development Fund for the current academic year. The Professional Development Committee will be considering applications for short-term leave during the week of April 5. If you are interested in applying for these funds, please contact the Office of Instruction for the guidelines and application blank.

VISIT THE SIUSLAW CENTER--Dedication ceremonies for the Siuslaw Area Skill Center will be Sunday, March 28, at the Center, located at 3149 Oak Street in Florence. The ceremonies will be at 2 p.m. with tours of the facility following talks by dignitaries. Spend a day at the coast and visit LCC's new facility.

TUNE IN MONDAY--Items for today's Daily could of filled up two pages. Many were held until Monday. Stay tuned, same time, same station.

EVENING CHILD CARE--An evening child care service for LCC night students and staff will be offered for the first time Spring term at the Women's Awareness Center. Registration will be in the Women's Center (221 Center) from 6 to 7:30 p.m. during the first week of classes (March 29 through April 2). A maximum of 30 youngsters a night, ages 3 to 6 years, will be accepted in the program which will be offered from 7 to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday throughout Spring term. A cost of 80 cents an hour will be charged.

APPOINTED--President Schafer has been appointed to serve on the Commission on Colleges of the Northwest Association of Schools and Colleges. Robert Coonrod, Academic Vice President of the University of Idaho at Moscow and Chairman of the Commission of the NASC, appointed Dr. Schafer to fill an unexpired term. Dr. Schafer will serve until December when he will be nominated for election to the Commission. The Commission decides which colleges will be accredited in Alaska, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Nevada, Utah, and Montana.

ANATOMICAL GIFT--If you wish to donate some part of your body, if medically acceptable, to help others should you die, the Uniform Donor Card, wallet size, is available at the LCC Student Health Service. It is not enough to designate upon your driver's license that you wish to do so. The card, properly completed, must be in your wallet in case of sudden death in order for your wishes to be carried out.

NEW GALLERY--Copies of documents pertaining to the formation of the Union are on display March 29 through May 10 in the new Mezzanine Gallery on the mezzanine floor of the Library. The Gallery is a Bicentennial project developed in conjunction with the LCC Bicentennial Committee, the Library and the Archives, with the Development Fund supplying lucite frame protectors. Any group wishing to use the Gallery may contact Del Matheson, ext. 211, or Randy Mafit, ext. 284, for information.

SERVICE--Dr. Al Brauer, who is completing nearly 12 years on the LCC Board of Education, has spent about a year of that time serving the College. Bert Dotson, assistant to the President, used his trusty calculator to estimate that Dr. Brauer has spent 1,296 hours in Board meetings, 720 hours in traveling to and from meetings (43,200 miles), and the rest of the "year" attending conferences on behalf of the College Board and in reading the usually voluminous Board mailings. Whew! And thanks, Doc.

AWARD-WINNING--KLCC, LCC's FM radio station, won an award for excellence in promotion at the 1976 Public Radio Conference held in Washington, D. C., March 16. The award, given by the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, was one of five given to public, non-commercial radio stations for outstanding on-air and print promotion. KLCC's award was in the category of Best Fund-Raising Spot or Series of Spots. Tom Lichty, KLCC program director, produced the winning spot and accepted the award at the CPB Awards Luncheon.

MISCELLANY--Robert Zajonc of the University of Michigan believes that intellectual achievement is related to birth-order, with the eldest child tending to be more intelligent than those who follow. He attributes the decline in average SAT and ACT scores to an unusually low proportion of first-borns on campus at present....According to an article in the Archives of General Psychiatry, male chauvinism is now certifiable as a psychiatric illness....A "Cemeterian" is a member of the National Association of Cemeteries....Last year, American school children committed 270,000 acts of burglary against their schools and 294,000 aggravated assaults against their teachers and each other....The Critic magazine says these words are offensive to males: maniac, manure, one-upmanship. --From the Ragan Report. 3/22/76

HOSPITALIZED--Social Studies Department Chairman Paul Malm was hospitalized Thursday following a heart attack. He was to have been moved Monday from the intensive care unit to the progressive cardiac unit. Card addressed to Paul at Sacred Heart will reach him.

GARDENING TIPS--LCC Grounds Manager Gary Washburn will present a Brown Bag Forum Wednesday from noon to 1 p.m. in the Board Room on tips for getting your yard shaped up for summer.

ENROLLMENT--Registrar Bob Marshall reports that enrollment for spring term has reached about 6,000 students. He added that he expects it to climb to about 6,800 before registration is completed.

SUCCESSFUL ASCENT--The unofficial LCC climbing team (Mike Mitchell, Bud Proctor, Casey Fast, Steve John and Julia Hass) has returned from a successful ascent of Mt. Shasta (el. 14,161 ft.) Steve was definitely the hero of the trip for two reasons. He saved Casey's toes from frostbite by using a complicated scientific technique and he cooked the most magnificent dinner of split pea soup, vegetarian spaghetti and raspberry cobbler.

MEDIA MEETING--The Media Commission will meet Thursday at 4 p.m. in the Mezzanine Conference room to discuss selection of a Torch editor for next year.

SPRING EXHIBIT--Three former LCC students--Jeremy F. Donley, Dan Dykes and Jim Denney--will present the first exhibit of spring term April 2 through 22 at the LCC main gallery. The show will include paintings, furniture and sculpture. The artists will be the guests at a public reception Friday, April 2, from 8 to 10 p.m. in the gallery.

POETRY READING--The Women Poets of Eugene, a newly organized collective of local women poets, will give a poetry reading at the Women's Awareness Center on Wednesday, April 7. The reading will be at noon. Following the group's presentation, there will be an open reading for anyone wishing to share their poetry.

BATTER UP--The LCC Baseball team will meet Concordia on Tuesday and Oregon College of Education on Wednesday at LCC. Both games are at 1 p.m.
