Tenth Week
THURSDAY
December 1, 1977

TONIGHT--The LCC vocal and instrumental Jazz Ensembles will present a free concert at 8 o'clock tonight in the Performing Arts Theatre. The Jazz Ensemble, directed by Bart Bartholomew, will play a varied program of jazz, including such pieces as "It Only Happens Every Time" by Thad Jones, "Chief's Blues" by Rich Shanklin, and "The Bird" by Charlie Parker. Bartholomew will also direct one of his own compositions, "Heart's Needle." The LCC Vocal Jazz Ensemble, directed by Dan Sachs, will present three numbers: "Somethin's Gotta Give" by Johnny Mercer, "When I Fall in Love" by Victor Young, and "Jazz City Blues" by Bruce Beckwith.

STUDENT BODY FEE--LCC students who register for winter term classes on the main campus will be charged a $1.30 student body fee. The fee was established by a vote of the student body on Nov. 14-16. The fee, which will support student body activities, is mandatory.

REGISTRATION--Returning students will register Dec. 6-9 and 12-13 for winter term. The order for registration is determined by student identification number and is printed in the time schedule of classes. Registration will be from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. in the auxiliary gymnasium. New students, or students returning from other than fall term, will register Dec. 14-16 according to the time appearing on their Notice of Registration Time cards. Registration is offered at the LCC Downtown Center for those classes offered downtown only. Applications for admission to the College and time schedules of classes are available downtown. Classes begin Jan. 3.

DECEMBER HOLIDAYS--Christmas holidays this year will be Friday, Dec. 23 through Tuesday, Dec. 27. Friday will be considered the working day before Christmas, Monday the actual holiday, and Tuesday as the working day after Christmas, since Christmas Day falls on a Sunday. Pay day will be Dec. 22 for all employees, and workstudy students will be paid Dec. 14. Monday, Jan. 2, will be the New Year's Day holiday.

CRAFT FAIR--The American Welding Society, student chapter, will have a crafts fair on the terrace of the Center Building today and tomorrow.

PERFORMANCES--Two performances of Handel's "Messiah" will be presented on Dec. 13 and 14 at 8 p.m. in Beall Concert Hall, University of Oregon, by the Schola Cantorum, Chamber Orchestra, and soloists under the direction of Royce Saltzman. Tickets are $5, $3.50, and $2.50, and may be purchased by calling Barbara Mathewson, ext. 266. Tickets may be purchased from Barbara until Monday, Dec. 5.

DEMONSTRATION--If you want to find out what's current in the Word Processing field, you're invited to attend a free demonstration of Word Processing equipment today in Business 207 at 10:30 a.m. It will be conducted by representatives of Vydec, Inc.

Tenth Week
FRIDAY
December 2, 1977

BROWN BAG FORUM--President Schafer will discuss some of the ways that LCC has stretched the dollar in the last couple of years on Monday, Dec. 12, at noon in the Board Room. It's a repeat of a slide-illustrated presentation which he delivered in recent weeks on both the east and west coasts. It concerns some of the things, such as energy management, that we take for granted but which "blows the minds" of other community college people around the country. Come and find some of the reasons why LCC's national reputation continues to grow.

TONIGHT--The Athletic Department would like to invite you to attend the first men's home basketball game of the season. The game is at 8 o'clock tonight in the gymnasium. The LCC team plays Clark College. Remember that all LCC staff members can get their free All Family Sports Passes now at the Athletic Department.

BEAT THE RUSH--The deadline for course applications and revisions for implementation spring term is Wednesday, Jan. 4. If you are considering a new course, or a revision of a course or program, why not start early? For information or help, call Judy Nelson, ext. 201.

OPEN HOUSE--The Black Student Union of Lane Community College is having its second annual open house and art exhibit on Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 5 and 6, in room 409 of the Center building. Staff and students are invited to drop by for a visit.

DEADLINE--The deadline for payroll action forms to be in Personnel Services this month is Thursday, Dec. 8. Payday will be Dec. 22 for all employees (except work study students who will be paid on Dec. 14). Work study time sheets are due Dec. 5 in Financial Aids.

NOTE TO UPWARDLY MOBILE WOMEN--"Individuals who traditionally have been discriminated against will not automatically take advantage of whatever access to opportunity exists. They can't because they don't know the rules of the game. The critical issue no longer is the lack of legal opportunity, it is gaining equal ability to take advantage of it." The quote is from a review by Michele Bowler in Willamette Week, Nov. 29-Dec. 5, of The Managerial Woman by Margaret Hennig and Anne Jardim, Anchor Press/Doubleday, 1977, $7.95, cloth. The advantage men have, Bowler says, is 5 to 15 years of team-sports experience. Women are "oblivious" of those lessons, she says, which are: "Cooperation to get a job done; that you had to work with guys you wouldn't choose as friends outside the team; how to take criticism from the coach, your peers, the crowd; that you win some, you lose some; that you don't get anywhere without planning; that once you knew the rules, you could bend them and you could influence the referee." Several copies of the book are floating around the campus; it probably should be read by as many men as women, since most men aren't ex-jocks either.

PERFORMANCES--Two performances of Handel's "Messiah" will be presented on Dec. 13 and 14 at 8 p.m. in Beall Concert Hall, University of Oregon, by the Schola Cantorum, Chamber Orchestra, and soloists under the direction of Royce Saltzman. Tickets are $5, $3.50, and $2.50, and may be purchased by calling Barbara Mathewson, ext. 266. Tickets may be purchased from Barbara until Monday, Dec. 5.

Eleventh Week
MONDAY
December 5, 1977

FIRE-FILLED FRIDAY--Two fires within minutes of one another resulted in alarms and fire crews on campus Friday. A motorcycle slipped on the driveway from the west parking lot and fell on its side causing the first fire. The motorcycle, which was owned by an unidentified student, was a total loss, although no one was injured in the accident. As the Goshen Fire Department was responding to the motorcycle fire, a second alarm was sounded in the Apprenticeship Annex (the portables to the south of the Apprenticeship Building). That fire evidently started in the west portable around 11:30 a.m. The two students in the building got help and an unsuccessful attempt to extinguish the fire was made. Goshen was joined by the Creswell, Pleasant Hill, Springfield and Eugene Fire Departments in fighting the fire, which was out shortly after noon. Dean of Business Operations Tony Birch says it is too early to estimate damage to the building, although it will be under $10,000. The loss is insured. The fire damaged a counter, cabinet, and roof of the structure. Windows were broken to gain entry and clear out the smoke. The cause of the fire is under investigation but early reports indicate it may have been caused by spontaneous combustion.

PERFORMANCES--Two performances of Handel's "Messiah" will be presented on Dec. 13 and 14 at 8 p.m. in Beall Concert Hall, University of Oregon, by the Schola Cantorum, Chamber Orchestra, and soloists under the direction of Royce Saltzman. Tickets are $5, $3.50, and $2.50, and may be purchased by calling Barbara Mathewson, ext. 266. The deadline for ticket purchase is today.

INTERESTED IN DISCRIMINATION?--The Personnel Policies Commission reminds you that the presentation on "Discrimination Law and the LCC Employee" given last month by Barbara Caulfield, U of O Law Professor, is available through Information Retrieval. Ask for MV 698. The Personnel Policies Commission will sponsor a brown bag lunch Feb. 7 with Grace Cameron and Anne Stewart using The Managerial Woman as a starting point for the discussion. Put the lunch on your calendar. It will be at noon in the Board Room.

OPEN HOUSE--The Black Student Union of LCC is having its second annual open house and art exhibit today and tomorrow in room 409 of the Center Building. Staff and students are invited to drop by for a visit.

DEADLINE--The deadline for payroll action forms to be in Personnel Services this month is Thursday. Payday will be Dec. 22 for all employees (except work study students who will be paid on Dec. 14). Work study time sheets are due today in Financial Aids.

SEVEN WAYS OF PLAYING SAFE . . . WITH HOLIDAY CANDLES

It wouldn't be a holiday season without candles. But keep safety as well as romance in mind! The National Candle Association would like to share some tips:

A candle is an open flame . . . treat it with respect. When you light the decorative candles in your home this holiday season, remember:

- * When self-starting candles are used (these are usually round shaped and pillar shaped), they should be burned in a holder or container which will give them good support and catch drippings if there are any.
- * Candles should be burned so that they are not in a direct line with drafts from open windows, warm-air heating systems, or air conditioning.
- * When using candles of an inch or less in diameter (tapers, spirals slenderites, birthday candles), remember there are no completely dripless candles in all situations . . . drafts and/or very warm rooms can cause ordinary dripless candles to drip and smoke. So protect surrounding areas.
- * When candles are used with plastic candle rings or floral items or other decorations, extinguish the flame when the candle(s) burns down to three inches.
- * Never burn candles in the middle of or in conjunction with a dried flower arrangement . . . or cut pine, balsa, or holly. Candles can be burned in these settings if a hurricane-type shade covers the candle or if the candle is contained within a glass. Do not allow the flowers to touch the glass. For even greater safety, arrangements of this type can be set in a fire place with the damper open.
- * If there are young children or pets in the home, do not place candles on low tables where they can be knocked over or where the flame or hot wax can burn inquisitive little fingers.

Eleventh Week
TUESDAY
December 6, 1977

BEGINS TODAY--Returning students will register today through Dec. 9 and Dec. 12-13 for winter term. The order for registration is determined by student identification number and is printed in the time schedule of classes. Registration will be from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. in the auxiliary gymnasium. New students, or students returning from other than fall term, will register Dec. 14-16 according to the time appearing on their Notice of Registration Time cards. Registration is offered at the LCC Downtown Center for those classes offered downtown only. LCC credit students who register for winter term on the main campus will be charged a $1.30 student body fee, as approved by a vote of the student body last month. The fee, which will support student body activities, is mandatory.

PORTLAND DANCE THEATER--The Portland Dance Theater will make its Eugene debut at the LCC Performing Arts Theater Friday at 8 p.m. PDT, a modern dance company center in Portland, is now in its eighth season of performing and touring throughout the West. Tickets are $4 for adults and $2.50 for students, and may be purchased at Backstage Dancewear, Albert's Hosiery, and the LCC Box Office. All seats are reserved. On Saturday, The Portland Dance Theater will perform in "Ear Heart...Flights, Formations and Starry Nights" at the LCC Performing Arts Theatre at 8 p.m. The production features a script by Tom Robbins, author of bestselling novels Even Cowgirls Get the Blues and Another Roadside Attraction; music by Gordon Mumma, internationally known composer, and sets by David Cotter, sculptor. The performance is rich with the artistry of dance, sculpture, music and prose. Tickets are $5 for adults and $3.50 for students, and are available at the Backstage Dancewear, Albert's Hosiery, and the LCC Box Office. Both events are sponsored by the ASLCC.

POTTERY SALE--LCC art students and staff will present their annual Christmas Pottery Sale on Wednesday and Thursday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the LCC cafeteria.

OPEN HOUSE--The Black Student Union of LCC is having its second annual open house and art exhibit today in room 409 of the Center Building. Staff and students are invited to drop by for a visit.

PAYCHECKS--An unusually short payroll processing period coupled with the demands of on-line registration make it impossible for Personnel Services to process and for Data Processing to produce separate payrolls for classified and faculty employees this year. For this reason, all employees (except work study students) will be paid Dec. 22. If you are leaving town as soon as classes are finished and would like to have your check deposited in your absense, please leave a deposit slip with either Nancy Jolley or Nancy Cheffings in the Personnel Services Office and your check will be mailed to your bank on pay day.

CHRISTMAS CONCERT--LCC's annual free Christmas Concert will be Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Performing Arts Theatre. Directed by Nathan Cammack, the Brass Choir will open the program with three works, including Henry Purcell's "Symphony from the Fairy Queen." Cammack will then direct the Baroque Orchestra in compositions by C.P.E. Bach and Giuseppe Torelli. Three pieces for concert choir will follow, directed by Wayte Kirchner. An arrangement of "Silent Night," featuring a bass solo by Quannah Combs, is included. Finally, the choir and orchestra will join to perform "Gaudete" ("Rejoice") by Anders Ohrwall. (Under a new policy of LCC Department of Performing Arts, children under six years of age are not allowed in the theatre for concerts or plays.)

GOOD NEWS IN TIME FOR CHRISTMAS--Members of the classified employees union agreed to ratify the 1977-80 working agreement at an afternoon session yesterday. The vote was 163 to 13. It is anticipated the agreement will be ratified by the Board of Education at its Dec. 14 session. Some highlights of the agreement include: a 6 percent cost of living increase for all classified employees; step increases for eligible employees (separate from the cost of living increase); and a three year contract with a cost of living increase of 6 percent the second year and a reopening of negotiations the third year on salaries, the salary schedule and insurance coverage. The agreement is retroactive to July 1, 1977, and the retroactive salary and insurance payments will be made on the Dec. 22 paycheck. One down two to go...

TONIGHT--LCC's annual free Christmas Concert will be at 8 o'clock tonight in the Performing Arts Theatre. (Under a new policy of the LCC Performing Arts Department, children under six years of age are not allowed in the theatre for concerts or plays.)

TICKETS STILL AVAILABLE--Tickets may still be purchased at the Backstage Dancewear, Albert's Hosiery, and the LCC Box Office for the Portland Dance Theater performance Friday night, and "Ear Heart...Flights, Formations and Starry Nights" Saturday night. Both events are sponsored by the ASLCC.

LAST DAY--Today is the final day of the annual Christmas Pottery Sale in the cafeteria. The sale, sponsored by LCC art staff and students, is from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

ELECTED--Jonathan West, LCC's Equal Opportunity Advisory and a member of the District 4-J School Board, was elected Nov. 18 to a one-year director's term on the Oregon School Boards Association Executive Board. He served as an ex-officio director on the Executive Board last year.

ACCESS NOT AFFECTED--The death Wednesday morning of Peter C. Goldmark in an auto accident near New York City apparently will not affect the ACCESS Project. Dr. Goldmark, 71, has been working on the technology needed for video instruction (among other projects) since retiring as CBS vice president. He invented the long-playing phonograph record, the first practical color television, and the Mars-moon-earth communications system. He visited the LCC campus several years ago.

MEMORIAL FUND--Last week Steven John, chemistry instructor, received word that his brother, Kenneth, had been fatally injured in an auto accident in Australia. A private memorial service is planned this week. Kenneth was teaching disadvantaged and handicapped children in a rural area. He had done part of his teacher training and had volunteered additional time at the Pearl Buck Center. The family suggests that in lieu of flowers those who wish to make a contribution may do so in his memory with a gift to the Pearl Buck Center directly, or by contacting Charles Bentz, Science, ext. 381.

Eleventh Week
FRIDAY
December 9, 1977

BROWN BAG FORUM--President Schafer will discuss some of the ways that LCC has stretched the dollar in the last couple of years on Monday at noon in the Board Room. It's a repeat of a slide-illustrated presentation which he delivered in recent weeks on both the east and west coasts. It concerns some of the things, such as energy management, that we take for granted but which are envied by other community college people around the country. Come and find some of the reasons why LCC's national reputation continues to grow.

COURSE APPLICATIONS DEADLINE--The deadline for applications for new courses, revised courses, or program revisions for implementation spring term is Wednesday, Jan. 4. If you need information or help with your proposal, call Judy Nelson, Curriculum Specialist, ext. 201. Developers are encouraged to submit applications in advance of the deadline if possible.

COUNTING UP--The state's community colleges enrolled about 1 percent more students fall term than they did a year ago, according to the State Department of Education. The FTE is 14,648 and that could represent around 100,000 students. Lower division enrollment is off 2 percent, but voc-tech enrollment is up 4 percent. LCC has an enrollment second only to Portland CC, as has been the case since our first year of operation. The other colleges, in order of size, are: 3) Mt. Hood, 4) Chemeketa, 5) Linn-Benton, 6) Clackamas, 7) Umpqua, 8) Rogue, 9) Southwestern, 10) Central Oregon, 11) Blue Mountain, 12) Clatsop, and 13) Treasure Valley. The top three generate 55 percent of the state's enrollment.

KLCC JOINS CONSORTIUM--KLCC is a member of a new organization, the Non-Commercial Radio Consortium of Oregon. During a Dec. 2 meeting in Salem, 13 of Oregon's 17 non-commercial radio stations established the need for such a statewide consortium. A sub-group then agreed upon the following goals and purposes: 1) facilitate program exchange and development, 2) represent the common interests, 3) act as an information-sharing agency, 4) sponsor professional development seminar, and 5) encourage the extension of the audience for non-commercial radio in Oregon. The establishment of the organization is the result of both a recommendation of the 1976 Telecommunications Advisory Committee and a priority task for the present committee. The Oregon Educational Coordinating Commission is assisting in the establishment of the consortium. KLCC Station Manager Tim McCartney represented LCC at the Dec. 2 meeting as well as an earlier planning session.

TONIGHT--Tickets may still be purchased at the Backstage Dancewear, Albert's Hosiery, and the LCC Box Office for the Portland Dance Theater performance tonight, and "Ear Heart...Flights, Formations and Starry Nights" Saturday night. Both events are sponsored by the ASLCC.

FIRE SAFETY INSPECTION--Ken Johnson, custodial day shift manager, and Paul Chase, manager of security and communications, have been appointed to conduct fire safety inspections in all College buildings to identify hazards and potential problems. Try to be of help to them when they visit your area of the campus.

Finals Week
MONDAY
December 12, 1977

OPEN HOUSE TOMORROW--A Christmas tree trimming contest, featuring three teams headed by state political representatives, will highlight the morning activities at the LCC Downtown Center open house on Tuesday. The tree trimming event, which begins at 11 a.m., features teams headed by State Senator Ted Kulongoski, and Representatives David Frohnmayer and Nancie Fadeley. Activities culminate in a 7:30 p.m. reception, hosted by Phi Theta Kappa, for Senator Mark Hatfield. Other activities scheduled for the day are demonstrations by Lane's Adult Education instructors. Staff members from LCC will serve as hosts and tour guides for the Center. A reception honoring retired LCC employees is planned for 2 p.m., and a Senior Citizen Reception is scheduled from 2:30 to 4 p.m. LCC staff are encouraged to visit the Downtown Center during the open house, which lasts from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. A complete schedule of activities is printed on the back of today's Daily.

BROWN BAG FORUM TODAY--President Schafer will discuss some of the ways that LCC has stretched the dollar in the last couple of years today at noon in the Board Room. It's a repeat of a slide-illustrated presentation which he delivered in recent weeks. It concerns some of the things, such as energy management, that we take for granted but which are envied by other community college people around the country. Come and find some of the reasons why LCC's national reputation continues to grow.

PAYCHECK CHANGES--Due to the contract settlement, classified employees who are eligible for the negotiated pay increase (those designated as members of the bargaining unit and who are regularly scheduled half-time or more) will see multiple changes reflected on the December paycheck. If you don't understand the amounts, go ahead and cash the check but contact the Personnel Services Office after the Christmas holidays. Any necessary corrections can be made at that time.

PERSPECTIVES AVAILABLE--The latest issue of the Public Employees Retirement System newsletter, "Perspectives", is available for pickup on the counter under the stairs in the first floor of the Administration Building. Two articles of interest are on participation in the variable annuity fund, and beneficiary designations.

KLCC ADVISORY BOARD--The KLCC Advisory Board will consider three policy matters at its meeting at 7:30 tonight in the Board Room. On the agenda are proposed policies on announcers' use of the airwaves to voice personal opinions on controversial subjects, accepting news copy from organizations outside the station's public affairs department, and audience fund-raising. The meeting is open to the public.

PEOPLE ON THE MOVE--Associate Dean of Instruction Jim Piercey has returned from Atlantic City where he was installed President of the National Council of Local Administrators, a group of the American Vocational Association. The National Council is a 5200-member organization dedicated to the support of vocational, technical, and practical arts education at all levels of training. Dean Piercey has been a leader in the AVA for the past 15 years. ...Electricians Darrel Allyn and Bob Upp returned Dec. 2 from an "Energy Conservation in Buildings" workshop for Delta computer owners. The workshop was at the Honeywell Commercial Training Center in Bloomington, Minn.

TUESDAY

December 13, 1977

DOWNTOWN CENTER OPEN HOUSE--Staff and students are encouraged to visit the Downtown Center during the open house today from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Highlights of the activities include a Christmas tree trimming contest, featuring three teams headed by state political representatives, at 11 a.m., and a reception at 7:30 p.m., hosted by Phi Theta Kappa, for Senator Mark Hatfield. Other activities scheduled for the day are demonstrations by LCC's Adult Education instructors, and tables staffed by various instructional departments, including Home Ec., Health and P.E., Social Science, Health Occupations, Study Skills, Math, Language Arts, Art, Performing Arts, and KLCC. The Women's Awareness Center, RSVP, and the Student Health Service Apple Booth will be at the Center. At 2 p.m., a reception will be held for retired LCC employees, and they will be joined from 2:30 to 4 p.m. by area Senior Citizens for a reception. Staff members from LCC will serve as hosts and tour guides for the Center. Take a few minutes to stop by the Center, 1059 Willamette, and celebrate its "official" opening.

WANT TO VISIT CHINA?--Delta College in Michigan, in cooperation with the League for Innovation, is working up a visit and travel to the Peoples Republic of China for approximately three weeks during the summer of 1978 (or possibly 1979). Between 20-25 participants (full-time faculty and administrators) selected from League colleges only will be eligible. Funding is not guaranteed at this point, however work is underway to have this underwritten. Any interested and eligible person should contact League representative Bert Dotson, ext. 332.

RECITAL--A free public recital by Maggie Moore, soprano, will be held Thursday at 8 p.m. in the laboratory theatre of the Performing Arts Building at LCC. Maggie's program will include a group of French songs by Gabriel Faure and Camille Saint-Saens, the "Kinder-Totenlieder" of Gustav Mahler, and a half-dozen settings of poems by Emily Dickinson.

SAFETY SEMINAR--One of 21 special aviation programs presented in Idaho, Washington and Oregon by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration will be held at the LCC Flight Technology Building on Dec. 15 at 7:30 p.m. Calvin Pitts, project officer for the NASA Research Center at Moffet Field in California, will present the program which includes slides and discussion of life sciences, crashworthiness test programs, and NASA research. For more information, call Terry Hagberg, Flight Technology, 689-2021.

PEOPLE ON THE MOVE--Associate Dean Joyce Hopps has returned from a seminar for Community College Administrators on the Management Development Training Program for Colleges and Universities. It was sponsored by the Higher Education Management Institute at Dallas County Community College District in cooperation with the League for Innovation. She also attended a Management Workshop for College and University Executives related to planning, productivity, and the management imperative in higher education....Dick Newell, Health and P.E. Department Head, and Grace Cameron, Supervisor of Student Records, have been chosen to serve on a special team of consultant/trainers for the workshop titled "Implementing Title IX: Achieving Sex Equity in Education." The workshop will constitute the first major opportunity for post-secondary institutions to receive comprehensive technical assistance in implementing Title IX. The Council of Chief State School Officers and the Northwest Project Office for Educational Services at Portland State University are sponsoring the workshop through a contract with the U.S. Office of Education. The workshop will be held Jan. 22-24 in Portland. Two workshops, one for elementary/secondary and one for post-secondary, will be held concurrently as a part of a national program of twenty regional workshops. Each workshop will host approximately 200 participants.

BOARD OF EDUCATION--The LCC Board of Education will meet at 7:30 tonight for its regular meeting. Items on the agenda for the public session include asking the Board to declare an emergency so that repairs can be quickly completed in the fire damaged areas of the Apprenticeship Annex, and approval of the academic calendar for 1978-79.

SUCCESS--The opening of the LCC Downtown Center was a busy success yesterday, from the 11 a.m. tree trimming contest to the 7:30 p.m. reception for Senator Hatfield. Many LCC staff members visited the Center during the open house, as did people from the community and employees at downtown businesses. All seemed to go well and those who took time to visit the Center seemed to enjoy it. If you haven't had a chance to go to the Downtown Center, plan to visit it in the near future.

LCC -- WHERE YOU BELONG--A series of free public service announcements aimed at showing the diversity of programs and students at Lane Community College are currently being aired by KVAL and KEZI. The 30-second and 10-second spots were produced by College/Community Relations and Media Productions, and will run at various times of the day for the next 60 days when a second series will begin.

VOTE ON FACTFINDER'S REPORT--The Friday meeting of the faculty to vote on the factfinder's report has been moved to the Performing Arts Theatre. The meeting will start at 10 a.m. The ballot box will be available in the Performing Arts Theatre from 10 a.m. to noon. From noon until 2 p.m. the ballot box will be in the Social Science office (Center 413). The votes will be counted at 2 p.m. Proxy forms are available from members of the negotiations team or the executive council.

DAILY SCHEDULE--The Monday, Dec. 19, Daily will be the last one until after the Christmas holidays. The regular Daily schedule will resume with the Wednesday, Jan. 4, Daily. And speaking of holidays, Christmas holidays this year will be Friday, Dec. 23, through Tuesday, Dec. 27. Friday will be considered the working day before Christmas; Monday, the actual holiday, and Tuesday, the working day after Christmas, since Christmas Day falls on a Sunday. Monday, Jan. 2, will be the New Year's Day holiday.

CURRICULUM DEVELOPMENT PROPOSALS FOR FUNDING--In addition to other objectives given in the Nov. 30 memo from Deans Rasmussen and Case, proposals to review existing course materials or new programs for race and/or sex bias and damaging stereotypes will be eligible for curriculum development funding. Such proposals, however, must demonstrate that the work cannot be done without special funding.

Finals Week
THURSDAY
December 15, 1977

BOARD OF EDUCATION--The LCC Board of Education met for an uneventful session last night with most of the evening's business centering on financial housekeeping matters -- awarding bids, transferring funds, and the like. Following the main business meeting, the Board adjourned to executive session and then reconvened the meeting to accept resignations from Patricia Hickman, Counseling; Jim Snow, Mathematics; and Leroy Tranberg, Mechanics. Barbara Myrick, Performing Arts; Nancy Jolley, Personnel; and Jack Robert, Mass Communications, were given leaves of absence without pay. The Board then voted to officially accept the classified contract for 1977 through 1980 (the first year of the contract represents a package increase of 10.9 percent above last year's level); okayed the management working agreement for the 1977-78 year (that package represents an increase of 9.07 percent above last year's level), and extended the President's contract through June 30, 1980.

FACULTY VOTE ON FACTFINDER'S REPORT--The Friday meeting of the faculty to vote on the factfinder's report has been moved to the Performing Arts Theatre. The meeting will start at 10 a.m. The ballot box will be available in the Performing Arts Theatre from 10 a.m. to noon. From noon until 2 p.m. the ballot box will be in the Social Science office (Center 413). The votes will be counted at 2 p.m. Proxy forms are available from members of the negotiations team or the executive council.

NO POWER--Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 26 and 27, the campus will be without power while normal maintenance of the high voltage equipment is being completed. Those days are scheduled vacation days for all faculty and staff. If you were planning to sneak back to campus and catch up on some work, be prepared to find no heat, lights, or electricity.

CALENDAR--If you'd like your activities or events noted in the new, soon-to-be-published college calendar for January-February-March, notify College/Community Relations today or tomorrow at the latest (so you'd best not procrastinate). So far, C/CR has dates from Performing Arts, Health and P.E., the Board of Education, and Academic Calendar.

TODAY--Insurance representative Archie Zarewski will be on campus at 2 o'clock today to help with your pre-holiday insurance problems. Call Lorraine, ext. 258, for an appointment.

RETURN TO MAILROOM--Any department with a surplus of intra-campus envelopes is asked to please return them to the mailroom. The mailroom is completely out of the envelopes and is unable to supply other areas of the campus.

PEOPLE ON THE MOVE--Mathematics instructor Jim Snow has resigned, effective Dec. 16, to be the director of math programs at Whatcom Community College in Bellingham, Wash. He has been at LCC since June of 1966....Dick Newell, Health and Physical Education Department Head, and Al Tarpenning, cross country coach, were praised by the Oregon School Activities Association for their efforts in the 1977 Boys and Girls Cross Country Meet held at LCC. Bud Lewis, assistant executive secretary of the OSAA, says "we felt everything was well organized and with your outstanding facilities I am a firm believer that this meet is the outstanding cross country meet in the United States." The OSAA has already reserved the LCC facilities for the 1978 meet.

Christmas Vacation
THE WEEKS OF
DEC. 19 - JAN. 4

BOARD OF EDUCATION--The Board of Education will meet for a special session at 6 p.m. today in the Board Room. The Board will consider the factfinder's report on the LCCEA and College negotiations, and personnel items. The meeting is open to the public. The LCC Education Association voted on the factfinder's report Friday but would not release the results of that vote until the Board makes its decision. No information about the factfinder's recommendations were made available.

LAST DAILY--Today's is the last Daily until the Wednesday, Jan. 4, edition. Enjoy the Christmas and New Year's holidays. Staff will have Friday, Dec. 23, through Tuesday, Dec. 27, and Monday, Jan. 2, as holidays this year.

FOODSERVICES SCHEDULE--Foodservices will open at 7:30 a.m. and close at 3:30 p.m. daily from now until Jan. 3. The Snack Bar will not be open again until Jan. 3.

RETURNED PACKAGE--United Parcel Service tried to deliver a package from Columware Co. of Lynnwood, Calif., to LCC, Attention: Bob, last week. There was no purchase order number and a $23.07 COD charge was attached. Bill Solomon of the Warehouse was unable to locate "Bob" so he sent the package back. If it was your package, you'd best get in touch with Columware Co.

THANK YOU--The LCCEF negotiating team wishes to thank the LCCEF membership for its support during negotiations and to express its gratitude for the gifts given to team members by the membership. The negotiating team and executive board wishes the members a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

BEAR SKIN RUG--Ray Nott, Electronics instructor, will soon have a black bear skin rug to lay in front of his fireplace. He shot the 225-pound bear about a month ago -- with a bow and arrow.

COURSE APPLICATION DEADLINE--The deadline for applications for new courses, revised courses, or program revisions for implementation spring term is Wednesday, Jan. 4. If you need information or help with your proposal, call Judy Nelson, Curriculum Specialist, ext. 201. Developers are encouraged to submit applications in advance of the deadline if possible.

NO POWER--Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 26 and 27, the campus will be without power while normal maintenance of the high voltage equipment is being completed. Those days are scheduled vacation days for all faculty and staff. If you were planning to sneak back to campus and catch up on some work, be prepared to find no heat, lights, or electricity.

AND FINALLY--"We wish you a Merry Christmas, we wish you a Merry Christmas, we wish you a Merry Christmas, and a Happy New Year."
