First Week
WEDNESDAY
January 4, 1978

WELCOME BACK--The freezing rain didn't deter staff and students from returning to campus for the start of winter term yesterday. Late registration continues through Friday for those students wishing to enroll in winter term classes.

HONOR ROLL--A total of 1,837 students, including 327 with perfect 4.0 averages, were named to the fall term honor roll at LCC. Of the total, 667 are on the President's List (3.5 to 3.99) and 843 are on the Dean's List (3.0 to 3.49). Fall term's honor roll is the first such listing in recent years where the number of students named dropped from the previous year. In fall of 1976, 1,976 students were named to the honor roll -- 139 more than this fall.

STILL NO SETTLEMENT--The LCC Board of Education officially accepted the factfinder's report in the contract negotiations with the college faculty at the Board's Dec. 19 meeting. But the LCC Education Association announced that it had voted to reject the factfinder's recommendation by a count of 157 to 45. LCCEA president Joe Kremers said parts of the report were acceptable but some important items were not. He said the teachers were especially upset with the second year salary formula. Negotiations between the two groups are expected to reopen in the near future.

DEADLINE--Today is the deadline for course and program proposals to be submitted to Curriculum Specialist Judy Nelson. If you have questions, call Judy, ext. 201.

THANKS TO YOU IT'S WORKING--The LCC United Way campaign was a partial success, according to Mark Rocchio. We raised the same monies as last year's campaign with both bargaining units without contracts during the campaign. We had fewer givers but those who gave pledged more than last year. Two hundred eighty-four people gave $7,812 in 1976 ($2,440 from management, $1,752 from classified, $3,620 from faculty) compared with 252 people contributing $7,885 this year ($1,915 from management, $2,260 from classified, $3,710 from faculty). George Alvergue, Bob Way, Mike Convey, and Eva Ashenhurst did a marvelous job considering our non-contracted condition, Mark says.

TAKING HEAT--"The Plant Services staff has requested that all the 'heat' directed at them due to the recent cold buildings situation please be returned to the heating system for reuse. Joking aside, the recent inconveniences are most regretted though apparently not totally avoidable. One heating boiler has a large leak which causes the chemicals in the heating system to dilute to such an extent that the electricity in the boiler won't produce heat. The other boiler has had mechanical problems with the device that raises and lowers the shield inside the boiler. The problem has now been fixed, at least temporarily. In any case, staff should dress warmly and hope these and some other related problems soon are brought under control. Your patience has been most appreciated."
-- Tony Birch, Dean of Business Operations

NOTE FROM FINANCIAL SERVICES--Invoices and receipts turned in for petty cash reimbursement should specify LCC as the purchaser. Those specifying an individual or other vendor as the purchaser will not be honored for reimbursement. They also must be marked "cash" or "paid" by the supplier, not be over $10, and must be materials purchased for use of the College. Services, travel, and meals cannot be handled through petty cash. Those departments without a petty cash fund may be reimbursed from the general petty cash in Financial Services.

SPOT PAINTING--Spot and panel painting jobs are needed for auto paint student assignments. No complete paint jobs will be done and vehicles must be free of any sheet metal damage. Please drive the vehicle to Mechanics 120 on Tuesdays or Thursdays between 10:30 a.m. and noon for appraisal and appointment. Ask for John Haurigan. No phone calls, please.

ART DISPLAYS--Exhibits of sculpture and drawings by two Oregon artists, and 34 award-winning original prints by Northwest artists will be displayed in the LCC Art and Applied Design main gallery tomorrow through Jan. 26. Aholah Arzah, a student at Portland State University, and Susan Nelson, a teaching assistant at the Art and Applied Design Dept., will be honored at a public reception Friday, Jan. 6, from 8 to 10 p.m. in the gallery. In addition to the sculpture and drawings, an exhibit of original prints by Northwest artists will be displayed in the gallery. The prints were selected from over 300 entries in a recent competition held by the Oregon Arts Commission with the cooperation of the Oregon Arts Foundation and the Washington State Arts Commission. The works, available in limited editions, may be ordered for purchase.

PLAN AHEAD--The Renaissance Room restaurant will open Jan. 10 for winter term lunches. Plan to visit the student-operated restaurant this term for an adventure in dining.

PARK AT YOUR OWN RISK--Parking in the unpaved lot areas is at the parker's risk. Security will not help cars stuck in the mud in those areas. And with the recent weather, getting stuck is apt to happen to cars parking in these lots.

EXTENDED--LCC's participation in the League for Innovation in the Community College's W.K. Kellogg Foundation grant for a project in health instruction has been extended for a second two-year period. LCC was first selected in 1976 to participate in the two-year cooperative project designed to develop, test, and exchange self-instructional materials in selected allied health fields and in areas of consumer education in health. The materials, developed by staff members in League colleges, are now ready for dissemination. LCC will be one of the model dissemination centers with Doug White, LCC Health Occupations Department Head, coordinating LCC's participation in the project.

First Week
FRIDAY
January 6, 1978

DOWNHILL--Winter term enrollment is down -- from last winter term, from fall term, and from winter term two years ago. Registrar Bob Marshall reports that the latest winter enrollment is 1,708 full-time equivalent students (down about 50 FTE from last winter) or about 6,300 actual students (down about 200 from last winter) in on-campus, credit programs. Only Clatsop CC in Astoria and LCC are reported to have a decrease in enrollment for the '77-78 year among Oregon community colleges.

HIGH--In protein, carbohydrates and controversy- that's what the American diet has become. To lower the highs Student Health Services is offering diet and nutrition counseling on Tuesdays from 1-2:15 p.m. Carol Easton, a registered dietician in the Home Economics Department, is available by appointment to discuss nutritional information with staff and students. Stop in at Student Health Services or call ext. 268.

TICKETS ON SALE--Tickets to KLCC's Optimodathon Pledge Concerts are on sale at the station for $5.50 each (this includes a fifty cent discount for LCC employees). The first concert, featuring Gil Scott-Heron, will be Jan. 12 at the Lane County Community Center and the second concert, featuring Woody Herman and his Thundering Herd, will be held Jan. 15 at Churchill High School. Business hours for the station, located in the Forum Building, are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays. For more information call Samantha Gastineau at the Downtown Center, ext. 236.

SPOT PAINTING--Spot and panel painting jobs are needed for auto painting student assignments. No complete paint jobs will be done and vehicles must be free of any sheet metal damage.  LUNG CANCER EPIDEMIC **

Now that the day of the American Cancer Society's Great American Smoke-Out has come and gone (Thursday, November 17, 1977) with it's challenge to not smoke for that one day, it is time to note we are in the midst of a declared epidemic of lung cancer in the United States. Professor Bernard M. Kramer, Department of Psychology, University of Massachusetts at Boston, states, "Convincing evidence has long been available to demonstrate that cigarette smoking contributes a great deal to preventable death and disability. Smokers and nonsmokers are aware of this fact and support action to reduce cigarette consumption in themselves and in the public at large. This support acts as the foundation for federal and state actions already taken to reduce smoking. And, indeed, cigarette smoking has declined since the mid-1960s. At the same time, however, ominous signs tell us that all is not well:

- * A very large minority of the adult population still smokes.
- * The absolute number of smokers has increased.
- * The proportion of heavy smokers has increased among the smoking population.
- * Most ominously, too, smoking among teen-aged women has risen to about the same level as found among teen-aged men. Taking this into account, the American Cancer Society's Task Force on Tobacco and Cancer has placed a high priority on efforts to reduce smoking among teen-aged women.

In sum, the, the paradox is that in spite of the available scientific information and in spite of widespread public awareness the public health movement has been unable to move beyond the incremental reductions characteristic of the 1960s and '70s." Maybe each one who made good on a resolution to not smoke for one day can extend the resolution to an extended time.

 PAIN TREATMENT **

The Portland Pain Center, under the direction of Dr. Joel Seres, offers patients with chronic pain an alternative to surgery. Treatment is provided during a two to three week stay at Portland's Emanuel Hospital. Since the center opened, over 1000 patients, all of whom must be referred by their personal physicians, have been treated. Most patients are injured workmen. The goal is to help patients live as normal a life as their condition will allow without the need for analgesic medications and over-use of medical resources.

ZANY EVENTS--Register-Guard Associate Editor Don Bishoff previewed the year's upcoming news events for those of us too busy to read the newspaper during the next 12 months in his column Sunday. Among the events he foresees is LCC's purchase of other sites to expand its class offerings. Bishoff's column moved LCC President Eldon Schafer to respond: "Dear Mr. Bishoff: I emphatically and categorically deny that LCC plans to buy the Sears building, Big M Shopping Center, Westfir, or the U of O campus. Actually, we have an eye on the R-G building. Sincerely, Eldon Schafer." Touché.

FOODSERVICE RATING--A survey conducted the week of November 21 shows that the majority of people returning questionnaires rate the foodservice as average or above. Areas rated average and above include variety of food (84 percent), temperature of food (78 percent), cleanliness of facilities (69.8 percent), and attitude of personnel (83.9 percent). The overall foodservice rating showed 79.4 percent of respondents rating the foodservice operation as average or above.

THE NEW AGE--Inner Space Travel Agency, an LCC student organization, will present a free public lecture on "The Dawning New Age" by John Baughman on Thursday at noon in Apprenticeship 214. Baughman is a speaker, former LCC psychology teacher, and author of The New Age, "a book about our inner states of consciousness where a realistic perspective of our unique purpose and place in life is seen."

RENAISSANCE ROOM--Have lunch today in the Renaissance Room for $3.50. They are serving spinach salad, beef bourgignon over homemade noodles, orange frozen yogurt souffle. Walk-in guests are welcome but reservations are preferred. Please visit the restaurant between 11:30 a.m. and 12:15 p.m. Call ext. 207 for reservations.

STAFF INVITED--There will be a free throw shooting contest at Friday's basketball game between LCC and SWOCC for staff members' children 15 years old and younger. Free cokes for everyone who enters, and great prizes for the first and second place finishers in each category. Sign up with Shirley, ext. 277, or at the door Friday night. The contest will begin at half time of the women's game (LCC versus Oregon College of Education JVs at 6 p.m.) and will conclude at half time of the men's game (game time at 8 p.m.). Join the fun at LCC's third home basketball double header.

BOARD MEETS TONIGHT--It could be a relatively short meeting, although the practice has been that short meetings sometimes take longer. The big item could be the 1976-77 audit and its implications for this and next year. In a nutshell, we should be all right this year in spite of an enrollment drop that could cost us $240,000 and salary increases in excess of what was budgeted. But, next year could be another story unless some money is found to carry over and more tax money is approved. Other items on the agenda: upgrading of computer system; reports on facilities work, foodservices, repair of fire-damaged portable; bid award on college catalog; budget preparation calendar; advisory committee appointments. The meeting starts at 7:30 p.m. in the Board Room.

RATIFICATION VOTE TODAY--All faculty are invited to attend a union meeting in Forum 301-2 at 4 p.m. today to hear a presentation on the tentative contract agreement. A ratification vote will follow. Faculty and Administration bargaining teams reached tentative agreement in a nine-hour mediation session Monday night and into Tuesday morning. Personnel Director Hank Douma characterized both sides afterward as "equally happy and equally disgruntled." The tentative agreement, which may be considered by the Board of Education tonight, gives the faculty about one percent (perhaps $40,000) additional pay to divvy up next year beyond the factfinder's recommendation. The personal development leave fund goes up $1,000 and teachers can decide for themselves whether they want to be paid over 10 or 12 months. Improvements in the dental program will be delayed until March 1 and there would be no retroactive pay for those who left the college's employ prior to contract settlement.

COMING YOUR WAY--LCC's mobile classroom is expected to be on the road this week, according to Facilitator/Driver Barbara Stout of Special Training Programs. The bus will serve the outlying communities of Blue River, Leaburg, Marcola and Oakridge, offering both credit and non-credit classes. It will make available a wide variety of information on programs and activities concerning LCC. The unit will feature four video viewing carrels, two typewriters, a calculating machine and a CB unit. The bus has its own 1500 watt gasoline-powered generator. Students will have access to 1200 audio and video programs from the Information Retrieval System. Non-credit programs include Adult Basic Education and HELPS for Homemakers. Credit classes include Business, Mathematics, Science. Registration will take place on the bus when students come for the first class. Daily hours for the bus are 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

BUDGET PICTURE--The college budget looks OK for this year, Dean of Business Operations Tony Birch told the Board of Education Wednesday night. But, revenue next year could be, "very roughly," short by $1.1 million dollars. Firmer figures should be available for the February 8 Board meeting. Meanwhile, as the college goes into the annual budget process, Board Chairman Catherine Lauris says she wants to approach the process "as if we were not going to have an election."

On the other hand, there was some good news. Probable increases in Community Education enrollment this year may partially offset the drop in credit programs enrollment. LCC won't generate the 7,633 FTE budgeted for, but we could reach 7,500 FTE. That's a drop of only 133 FTE below the budgeted amount instead of the expected 300.

And the Board approved a contract settlement with the LCCEA. The faculty voted Wednesday afternoon 151 to 3 in favor of ratification. The negotiation process took 10 months and 25 days, noted LCCEA President Joe Kremers.

The computer will get hardware to increase main memory, disk storage and tape drives. To avoid a budget increase, the computer purchase will be refinanced and paid off in 7 instead of 3 years....The boathouse at Christensen's Resort on Siltcoos Lake south of Florence has been renovated at a cost of about $3,000 for materials. Plant Services fixed the wiring, lighting, ceiling, handrails, and put in a window and did some painting. The Science Department uses the facility almost weekly for field trips. Restoration of the old store building next to the boathouse may no longer be the burning issue it once was. Leaders of the restoration group reportedly have moved from the area....Foodservices expects to break even this year in spite of holding the line on price increases in the face of rising costs of food materials. If you hadn't noticed, they started serving bagels this week....Next year's catalog will cost $8,975--about 8 percent more than this year....All in all, a rather progressive, constructive meeting.

FREE LECTURE--Inner Space Travel Agency, an LCC student group, presents "The Dawning New Age" a free public lecture by John Baughman this noon in Apprenticeship 214. Baughman, a former LCC psychology teacher, is author of The New Age, "a book about our inner states of consciousness where a realistic perspective of our unique purpose and place in life is seen."

THANKS FOR THE MEMORIES--(Most of them, at least.) Your Daily editor is leaving LCC for a job in public relations with Pacific Northwest Bell in Eugene. Instead of taking complaints about the Daily, I'll probably start hearing my share of complaints about the telephone service. I'll have to come up with a whole new list of excuses. Goodbye--

Second Week
FRIDAY
January 13, 1978

WORKSHOP SCHEDULED--A free workshop on current labor laws and practices will be held next Tuesday, January 17 in the Board Room from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The session will be taught by representatives of the Oregon Bureau of Labor and the U.S. Department of Labor. It will focus on state and federal minimum wage and over time regulations, recordkeeping, employing minors, and wage agreements and employer policies.

DISCOUNT TICKETS--Today is the last day to get discount tickets to the Woody Herman Concert presented by KLCC. The concert is scheduled for Sunday, January 15, at Churchill High School. The first show starts at 7 p.m., the last show starts at 9:30 p.m. Proceeds will go toward the purchase of an optimod, which helps clear the station's signal and reduces static. Tickets may be purchased at the station located in the Forum Building during regular business hours.

STAFF INVITED--There will be a free throw shooting contest at tonight's basketball games for the children of staff from LCC and SWOCC. Children 15 years and younger are eligible by signing up with Shirley at ext. 277 or at the door. Free cokes for everyone who enters, and great prizes for the first and second place finishers in each category. The contest will begin at half time of the women's game which pits LCC against Oregon College of Education JVs at 6 p.m. and will conclude at the half time of the men's game which begins at 8 p.m.

CURRICULUM COMMITTEE--A reminder of the change in the curriculum committee calendar. The committee will meet January 31, at 2 p.m. in the President's Dining room (Center 107) to consider program revisions and course applications. Program and/or course developers or a department representative should plan to attend. For further information call the Curriculum Specialist, ext. 201.

MORE FROM THE BOARD MEETING--Suzanne Treaguesser of Head Start was appointed to represent LCC on the local Community Schools Coordinating Committee. The term runs till 1981.... Management contracts were approved for three people: Nancy Cheffings as payroll input assistant, Judy Bagby as secretary to replace Nancy Jolly who is taking maternity leave, both in Personnel Services; and for Pat Williams as assistant to the director of Development.

COMPETITION--How'd you like to have the proprietary schools bidding for the right to offer your courses or program? Eugene Montrose, executive secretary of a proprietary schools organization, reportedly criticized public institutions--particularly community colleges--heavily at the December meeting of the State Post-Secondary Education Task Force. He wants state-funded programs put out to bid. Will it happen? Not likely.

Third Week
MONDAY

WOMEN'S WORKSHOP TODAY--The first of three Women's Workshops scheduled for the Downtown Center during January and February starts today. The workshop is designed for women who want to explore new directions and interests in their lives and will be offered in two daytime sessions, January 16-20 and February 20-24, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and one six-week evening session on Tuesdays, beginning January 24 from 7 to 10 p.m. The daytime sessions are geared toward women who are not presently in the work force and the night session is designed for those who are working, but are considering making changes in their life situation. Cost of the workshop is $21.80. Registration is limited and interested students may register with Margie Holland, ext. 214.

ROTC REPS COMING--Representatives of the Air Force ROTC Program will be on campus tomorrow for student visitation and information. They will meet with interested students in the Business Conference Room between 1 and 3 p.m.

SUMMER WORKSHOP OFFERED--A summer workshop in social studies and related subjects is being offered through the University of Oregon's Geography Department and participants can receive up to 15 graduate credits. The program will run June 20 through August 11 and will center in Guatemala City. Interested staff should contact Joe Searl, Social Science, ext. 241.

IT'S A BOY--Garrett Raymond Braun arrived at 3:57 a.m., Friday, January 13. He weighed 7 lbs. and 5 oz. and is 19" long. Proud parents are Phyllis and Larry Braun. Phyllis is a secretary in Counseling. Garrett joins two-year old Traci at home. And let's not forget the proud grandmother, Penny Burtraw, pantry worker in Foodservices. This is Penny's first grandson.

WORKSHOP REMINDER--A free workshop on current labor laws and practices will be held in the Board Room tomorrow from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The session is sponsored by the Oregon Bureau of Labor.

OLÉ--The Renaissance Room goes Mexican tomorrow with guacamole dip and chips, empanadas, zucchini and pumpkin mousse. All for $2.75. Call ext. 207 for reservations now. Restaurant hours are 11:30 a.m. to 12:15 p.m.

NEW STUDY--A lengthy report titled "Campus Construction Program" has been completed by the Academic & College Planning Division. It offers a thorough review of campus planning, construction and funding through the college's history. Available resources on hand or due from the state total $2.3 million. Presently identified needs total $4.4 million. All but a million of that is earmarked for the aquatic complex. The remainder would finance remodeling of such areas as the LRC, Downtown Center, Health Building, and Administration upper floor.

Third Week
TUESDAY
January 17, 1978

WIDER RAMIFICATIONS--The Department of Health, Education and Welfare apparently wants to make a class action out of the civil rights complaint of Veterans Office Clerk Carol Stiles. Now on a one-year maternity leave, Ms. Stiles complained to HEW that LCC didn't cover maternity in its insurance benefits. An Oregon law requiring such coverage went into effect October 4, 1977, and LCC then added the benefit. Ms. Stiles had a baby on December 19 and thus will receive monies from the insurance carrier and the college. HEW, however, wants LCC to pay for employee pregnancies back to July 20, 1975, when it adopted regulations requiring pregnancy benefits based on Title IX legislation. It might cost LCC about $25,000 and would set a precedent that could result in Oregon schools and colleges paying out as much as $1 million in back benefits. College attorney Ed Harms advised the Board of Education last Wednesday night to do nothing for the present. He says HEW is applying legislation to employees which was intended only to affect students. Three federal district courts have agreed. The college, says Harms, has no legal authority to pay. He criticized HEW for "the attitude that the end justifies the means" and for an "excess of zealotry." Trying these cases represents, he said, "a staggering expense to the public."

FACILITIES REPORT--That fire in the portable classroom building last month will cost about $9,000 to repair. All except $1,000 will be met by the insurance carrier. Everything should be back in operation by the end of the month....Rain has slowed progress on the P.E. addition, but the builder expects to complete the project in 10 instead of 12 months....Women's restrooms in the mechanics' area are substantially completed...A Math Resource Center has been built in the basement at the Downtown Center....Leaky pipes between the furnace and the water storage tanks will be replaced soon....Framing work progresses on the Community Education office building being erected by Construction Technology students to the south of the portables.

APPLICATION DEADLINE--Monday, January 30, is the deadline for submitting workshop applications for spring implementation. For additional information or questions call Judy Nelson, curriculum specialist, ext. 201.

CONFERENCE SCHEDULED--The Oregon Student Public Interest Research Group (OSPIRG) is sponsoring a two-day conference on water policy and management at Portland State University on Friday and Saturday, January 20-21. The aim of the session is to educate citizens on water policy in the Northwest and the allocation of regional water resources. For further information contact Student Activities, ext. 231.

REMINDER--Faculty are reminded to notify Personnel Services of their choice of retro-active pay option not later than Friday, January 27. The options were explained in a recent circular distributed by the LCCEA through intra campus mail. If you have questions or did not receive a circular contact Joe Kremers, LCCEA president, ext. 241.

PROJECT AWARENESS--LCC's Human Awareness Council is sponsoring Project Awareness, a workshop on discrimination, February 1, 2, 3, at the Valley River Inn. The workshop is aimed at defining discrimination, discussing its effects, and exploring strategies for ending discrimination. The Wednesday session will begin at 2:30 and end at 9 p.m. and the Thursday and Friday sessions will run all day beginning at 9 a.m. A registration form and the workshop's agenda are printed on the back side of today's Daily. For further information please contact Lisl Fenner, ext. 334 or Gina Ing, ext. 316.

ARCHIE'S COMING--Insurance agent Archie Zarewski will be on campus tomorrow at 2 p.m. in Personnel Services to answer questions on staff insurance. Please call Personnel Services, ext. 258, if you want to see him.

KLCC SOAPBOX--Maggie Bierne, of the International Secretariat of Amnesty International, will speak on the status of the world's political prisoners. Soapbox is broadcast daily at 12:30 p.m. on 90.3 FM.

LET US KNOW--If you watched the TV news last night, you may have seen the coverage about LCC's legally blind diesel student. A story and photo are tentatively scheduled for tonight's Register-Guard. Howard Dull, Mechanics Department head, tipped the Community Relations office to the story. If you think you've got some newsworthy students in your department, please let us know. We'll do the rest.

RENAISSANCE ROOM--Reservations are being accepted for a Thursday luncheon in the student operated restaurant on campus. Call ext. 208. The menu includes marinated zucchini salad, teriyaki steak on rice, broccoli and almond cheesecake. The price is $3.

ONE TEACHER'S VIEW--Oregon Teacher of the Year Joy Lindner of Tualatin Elementary School says in the December Edu-Gram that: "The best public relations a school district can have is a dedicated and efficient teacher." She's right, of course. But, can school districts survive without public understanding and support? There can be no good PR without good performance, but that performance must be publicly acknowledged and appreciated.

BLOOD UNIT COMING--The Lane Memorial Blood Bank's mobile unit will be on campus on Monday, January 23 between 1 and 4 p.m. Staff and students willing to donate should contact Sharon Shorey, Science Department, ext. 381, for an appointment. Kim Wilson, an LCC student, is in and out of Sacred Heart with leukemia and uses 8 units of platelets a day. At present, she is 90 donors behind, but can accept donors regardless of blood type. The Blood Bank will also be here Feb. 13 on a special campaign for Kim. LCC needs at least 25 donors for each visit.

STAFF DIRECTORY--The staff directory is nearing completion and the Community Relations staff needs to know how many directories to distribute to each office or department. Secretaries are asked to call Kathy Dave, ext. 340, with a count of directories needed for their office.

MORE FIGURES--"Ya pays yer money and takes yer cherce." A release out of the State Department some weeks back indicated that the statewide community college enrollment is up a little this year, though Clatsop and Lane are down slightly. That had to be based on FTE figures. Now comes a release from OCCA, which talks about headcount, and it says that Fall Term enrollment at the 13 colleges was up 11½ percent. The headcount was 101,678 compared with 91,158 a year earlier. Umpqua was up almost 31 percent, Lane was up 26 percent; and Rogue was up 14 percent. The largest numerical increase was 3,134 at Portland. Treasure Valley was down 8 percent and Clatsop dropped 5 percent. Wasco Area Education District at The Dalles had 529 students; it's new this year. LCC during Fall Term is reported to have had 2,111 more individuals than a year earlier. And LCC's total headcount for the 1976-77 year was reported to be 27,441. Portland had 55,540; Chemeketa, 26,532; Clackamas, 20,494; Mt. Hood, 19,162; Linn-Benton, 16,193; Umpqua, 7,990; Central Oregon, 7,294; Southwestern, 7,254; Clatsop, 6,571; Rogue, 5,925; Blue Mountain, 4,515; Treasure Valley, 3,044.

LEAVE REPORTS--Because December leave reports were submitted with payroll worksheets on December 14th last month, you may have overlooked leave taken after December 14. Such leave should be reported on the January worksheets.

PAY OPTIONS REQUESTED--All faculty should notify Personnel Services of their choice of retroactive pay option not later than Friday, January 27. The options were explained in a circular distributed by the LCCEA in intra-campus mail. If you have any questions or did not receive a circular contact Joe Kremers, LCCEA president, ext. 241.

WORKSHOP CANCELLED--The workshop on current labor laws and practices scheduled by the State Bureau of Labor for Friday January 25th has been cancelled.

PAYROLL WORKSHEETS DUE--Payroll worksheets and leave reports (including Dec. 14-20) for this month should be turned in at Personnel Services no later than 5 p.m. today. Marion Hines, payroll supervisor, is now a part of the Personnel staff so worksheets should be taken to Personnel Services, instead of Financial Services.

COLLEGE VISITATION--Representatives from Southern Oregon State College will be on campus Tuesday, January 24, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the cafeteria. Interested students and staff are invited.

COMING SOON--On Monday, the Downtown Center Math Annex will open with five courses available by individualized study, open entry/open exit, and variable credit. The courses: Math I, fundamentals; Math II, calculator, metrics, introduction to algebra; Math III, designed for voc-tech majors; Elementary Algebra; Intermediate Algebra.

SPEED CHESS TOURNAMENT--The LCC Chess Club is sponsoring a speed chess tournament tomorrow (Saturday) at 10 a.m. in the northeast section of the cafeteria. There will be two sections, one for beginners, with a ten-minute time limit and another for advanced players, with a five-minute limit. The beginner's section will have no entry fee and the advanced section will cost $1.50 for entry. For more information call Bob Blucher, Research and Planning, ext. 255.

PERSPECTIVE--In all the talk that we're not likely to reach this year's budgeted FTE of 7,633, someone forgot to mention that we still are expected to have more FTE students this year than last. We now expect 7,500 FTE this year, compared to 7,362 last year, and that's up almost 2 percent. Anybody still wondering why the parking lots seem so full this year? We park by headcount rather than FTE, and the headcount Fall Term was up 26 percent.

ANOTHER ADDITION--Nancy and Craig Jolley announce the birth of their daughter Shannon Rose, on January 18. Shannon is the Jolley's first child. Nancy, now on a year's leave, is a secretary in the Personnel Office.

Fourth Week
January 23, 1978

DONORS STILL NEEDED--There are still 11 openings available to donors for the Lane Mobile Blood Bank visit this afternoon. Contact Sharon Shorey, Science, ext. 382. The Blood Mobile will be on campus from 1 to 4 p.m.

IT'S PARTY TIME--Circle Friday, February 10 on your calendar and plan to spend a gala evening dining and then at the theatre. LCC's Foodservice and Performing Arts Departments join to bring LCC employees this great evening at reduced rates. The evening will begin with a pre-dinner social hour at 6:15 p.m. followed by a buffet dinner at 6:45 p.m. The menu will include your choice of baked ham or Baron of beef plus tossed salad, fruit jello mold, potato salad, broccoli spears, oven-browned potatoes, rolls, and assorted desserts. Also, your choice of red, white or rose wine. At 8 p.m. the Performing Arts Department will present "The Real Inspector Hound", a comedy by Tom Stoppard, who also wrote "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead." Here's how it works. The entire evening costs $5.50 per person, or if you prefer, you may attend only the dinner for $3.50 each or attend the play only for $2 (one third off the regular price). Tickets for both events are available at the Performing Arts Box Office from 9:30 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. weekdays. Theatre tickets must be purchased by Friday, January 27. Dinner tickets may be purchased through Friday, February 3.

EVENTS--A calendar of on-campus events for Winter Term is on its way to you via campus mail. C/CR put it together and Printing/Graphics designed it and printed it. If such a calendar proves needed and wanted, we'll probably be doing one ahead of each term. C/CR would appreciate reactions and suggestions for future calendars. What did we miss?

BOOKS AVAILABLE--The new 1978 Pacific Northwest Bell telephone books are available just outside the mailroom in Campus Support Services. Bring your old books to be recycled and pick up the new ones.

INSURANCE--Archie Zarewski will be on campus again tomorrow in the Personnel Services Office at 2 p.m. Call Lorraine, ext. 258 if you need to see him.

PAY OPTIONS DUE--Faculty have until this Friday to notify Personnel Services of their choice of retroactive pay options. The options were outlined in a circular distributed by the LCCEA earlier this month. If you did not receive a copy of the circular or if you have questions contact Joe Kremers, LCCEA president, ext. 241.

Fourth Week
TUESDAY
January 24, 1978

BOARD ELECTION--Board of Education members Catherine Lauris and Richard Freeman will seek reelection April 4. Lauris, present Board chairman, represents Zone 5, the Eugene school district. She was appointed to the Board in 1970, elected a few months later, then reelected in 1974. She's the U of O catalog editor. Freeman has an at-large seat on the Board. He was elected in 1970 and reelected in 1974. He owns and operates the El Don Motel in Eugene. Deadline for filing is February 28. Candidates must live in the geographic zone they wish to represent. Filing costs $10, or a candidate can circulate a nominating petition and get the names of at least 25 persons who are both registered voters and residents of the college district. Petitions are available at the Lane County Elections Division office, 175 W. Eighth.

W-2 FORMS READY--Department heads or department secretaries may pick up W-2 tax information for staff members in the Personnel Services Office beginning today, January 24, for distribution within their departments. All unclaimed W-2's must be returned to Personnel no later than 1 p.m., Friday, January 27, for mailing.

PURCHASE REQUEST NECESSARY--Recently a number of LCC classified ads have been placed in the Eugene Register-Guard without benefit of a purchase request. Because of the problems in payment this causes, the Guard will no longer accept any LCC classified ad without a purchase request. If your office or department has an outstanding ad that is not paid for, please send a purchase request to the Purchasing Department. Personnel does not pay for ads used to recruit classified or faculty employees.

FACULTY COUNCIL--The Thursday, January 26, meeting of the Faculty Council will feature a discussion about a teaching resource center. Faculty interested in helping this concept become a reality at LCC are urged to come and discuss the possibilities with Jo Wallin, instructional technologist, and Tito Balducci, coordinator of media productions. The Council will meet at 3 p.m. in Center 107.

PACKETS STILL AVAILABLE--Students interested in entering a Health Occupations program in the Fall of 1978 can pick up application packets in the Admissions Office. Students applying for the Dental Hygiene and Respiratory Therapy programs have until March 1 to complete and return the packet to Admissions. Deadlines for completion of application for other Health Occupations programs are: Associate Degree and Practical Nursing, March 31; Dental Assisting, April 28; and Medical Office Assistant, May 19. Even though selection is not made on a first come/first serve basis, picking up the packets early allows students sufficient time to complete the required tests and request needed transcripts. Enrollment in all Health Occupations programs is limited. For information call Health Occupations, ext. 266.

FUNERAL WEDNESDAY--Clarence Pitney, who led LCC staff to the glacial erratic rock now displayed on the Bristow Square, died Friday at Junction City. The rock apparently came out of Canada above Spokane and was carried during an ice age to what was to become a pasture between Junction City and Cheshire. Pitney, 88, was a retired farmer who devoted recent years to writing historical reminiscences and poetry. His son, Jim, is a member of the LCC Board of Education. The funeral will be at 1 p.m. Wednesday at Junction City United Methodist Church.

GERMS OF INTEREST

from Student Health Services

This is the season of warm wood fires in stoves and fireplaces. Along with the dangers of fire, be alert to the problem of carbon monoxide poisoning. The Communicable Disease Summary from Oregon State Health Division for December 24, 1977 printed the following information:

CARBON MONOXIDE POISONING, PORTLAND

A six-year-old boy got up in the middle of the night because he felt nauseated and ready to vomit. His father heard a noise in the bathroom and went to find his son unconscious and unarousable on the floor. The mother then got out of bed, fainted and fell down every time she tried to stand. The father then took his wife and son to a local hospital emergency room (it was 3:55 a.m.), and he also felt nauseated. He blamed their illness on venison which they had eaten for supper. All three were admitted to the hospital for observation. Physical examination was unremarkable. All three had severe headaches and nausea but no diarrhea.

Investigation by the county sanitarian revealed additional history. Just before retiring the night before, the father had extinguished a presto-log in the fireplace with water and closed the flue. The fire had apparently continued to burn for some time afterward. All three family members sleep on the first floor. The son's room opens out into the living room where the fireplace is.

A carboxyhemoglobin level was then drawn on all three patients about 36 hours after the onset of their symptoms. Father and mother both had less than 0.5% saturation (normal for non-smokers is less than 0.8% saturation). The son, however, had 3% saturation which strengthens the diagnosis of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Editorial Comment

Carbon monoxide poisoning has very characteristic signs and symptoms which are closely correlated with blood carboxyhemoglobin (COHb) concentration:

COHb Concentration

Less than 10%
10-20%
20-30%
30-40%

40-50%
50-60%
60-70%
70% and over

Signs and Symptoms

Usually no symptoms (chronic smokers often live with 3-8%)
Frontal headaches
Severe headaches, dyspnea on exertion
Very severe headaches, nausea, vomiting, weakness, dizziness, dimness of vision, possible collapse, cherry red skin and mucous membranes
Ataxia, syncope, collapse, tachycardia, tachypnea
Coma, intermittent convulsions, Cheynes-Stokes respiration
Deeper coma, clinical shock, possible death
Cardiorespiratory collapse and death

Because of the insidious nature of the early symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning and because of the unrecognizable properties of carbon monoxide gas, it is imperative that we bank our fires and tend our flues with care - then enjoy the fire!
