FORMS AVAILABLE--April 15 seems to be creeping up on some of us even faster than we anticipated. If you need the filing forms for either state or federal tax returns, they are available in the Student Resource Center, second floor, Center.

FROM OCCA DIGEST--Linn-Benton CC has an ad hoc committee studying student government. The ASB president resigned and there are 8 vacancies in the 12-member senate...Clatsop CC has dropped a faculty position in industrial mechanics, cut a business faculty position to half-time, and is mulling a third cutback. The problem is declining enrollment...A Brookdale, NJ, CC prof has won reinstatement with back pay and $10,000 damages after being fired for writing an editorial in the student newspaper accusing the chairman of the board of trustees of a conflict of interest...President John R. Samlin of Kankakee CC Ill, lost his job and has pleaded guilty to felony charges involving bonuses to himself of $14,500..The average taxpayer works until May 11 to satisfy his federal, state and local tax burden, according to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

PERSPECTIVE--Do these names mean anything to you: Cambria Steel, Central Leather, General Chemical, Mexican Petroleum, United Motors? At the end of World War I, they--along with 52 other now defunct corporations--were among America's top 100 industrial companies. -From the Ragan Report of 3-27-78.

GERMS OF INTEREST

from Student Health Services

 SALT AND HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE **

The Oregon Heart Association Newsletter for January 1978 had an interesting article entitled "Hypertension, Genetics and the SALT Connection." This was abstracted from a thesis written by Lot B. Page, M.C., Chief of Medicine at the Newton-Wellesly Hospital, in Newton Lower Falls, Massachusetts. It maintains that we in the United States could control hypertension (high blood pressure) in one generation by raising our children on a low-salt diet. "Two factors are essential for the genesis of hypertension. One is genetic susceptibility, which 15-20% of Americans have, and the other is a high salt intake." He listed many support incidents for this statement. Dr. Page concluded by saying, "The average person requires no more than 200 mg. of sodium per day, or about 1/10 of a teaspoon of salt. . . . "But the average American takes in 25 times as much salt in his regular diet. It is hard to escape the conclusion that hypertension is largely a preventable disease."

We know a local physician who once wrote to a company producing canned soup stating, "Please decrease the amount of salt that you put in your canned soups. Unless you do, we will soon become a nation of fat-ankled and high-blood-pressured people." He was right on the line, wasn't he.

 THE COST OF HEALTH **

From Health Values, Vol. 1, #6, November-December 1977, we have a summary on "the cost of health."

- * The National Health Bill increased from $12 billion in 1950 to more than $139 billion in 1976, rising from 4.5% of the Gross Nation Product to 8.5% last year.
- * Hospital care accounted for 31% of health costs in 1950 to 40% in 1976, while drugs and sundries dropped from 22% to 19% during the same period.
- * Government is now the biggest bill payer for health, footing 40% of the nation's health care costs, followed by direct pay by the patient (33%) and private health insurance (26%).
- * Several indication of individual health are included in the report:
 - Infant mortality rates have steadily declined in the past 10 years for both blacks and whites.
 - A rise in violent deaths, primarily accidents, was as high for young males aged 15-24 as it was 25 years ago.
 - Hypertension is substantially more prevalent among black adults than in whites, and higher in men than in women.
 - More than 1/4 of the 12-13 year old male students and 2/3 of 18-20 year old male high school students were classified as moderate or heavy drinkers in 1975.
 - The percentage of girls and boys 17-18 years old who smoke cigarettes has irsen between 1968 and 1974.
 - The nation's poor and minorities are in poorer health than other Americans.

TUESDAY
April 4, 1978

APPRECIATION--A number of thank-you letters have been received by the college. Leila Snow of Garber's University Nursing Center thanks Adult Ed. Instructor Theresa Chamberlain for a class in exercise and movement...John Gilman of the Small Business Administration speaks glowingly of Adult Ed. Coordinator Bud Proctor's classes for persons operating small businesses.... Rosemary Boss of Lane Transit District thanks those who used 461 tickets during LTD's Dec. 1-Jan. 14 downtown bus promotion...Tugeborg Schraum of W. Germany has praise for Larry Thorpe's advanced class in English as a Second Language. He writes: "Mr. Thorpe is an extraordinary good language teacher who has taught us all a lot and has found very inventive and enjoyable ways of doing it."

BOARD MEETING--THE SETTING OF a tax base election tops the agenda of the Board of Education at its 7:30 p.m. session Wednesday in ADM 216. The Administration is suggesting that voters be asked May 23 to hike the tax base by $784,194. Less taxes not collected, that would produce an estimated $705,775 toward next fiscal year's budget of $16,818,840. The increase in the tax levy would be 19.9 percent, from $5.6 to $6.7 million. Cost per $1,000 true cash value would go up from $1.35 to $1.42. For the owner of a house assessed at $50,000 property taxes for LCC would climb $3.50 -- from this year's $67.50 to $71.00 next year. Reason for the increase: Personnel and payroll expense. The Board also is being asked to set a June 27 election for the same amount of money outside the 6 percent limitation. If voters approve the tax base increase on May 23, the June 27 election would be cancelled. In other business Wednesday night, the Board will consider appointing a person to fill the Zone 3 Board position between now and June 30, and will review a number of staff reports.

TUESDAY--Archie Zarewski is due on campus today at 2 p.m. to handle insurance problems or requests for information. Call Lorraine Dillon in Personnel Services, ext. 258, for an appointment.

HONORED--Leila Matheson of the Math Department's downtown branch is Ms Downtown for April. Selected by the Eugene Downtown Association, she gets a trophy from Rubinstein's, flowers from Mr. Plant and nice things said about her in the Eugene Downtown News. Ray MacIver, EDA manager says Leila was selected because she is "a mover and shaker in ther element." Congratulations!

ART DISPLAY--One of Oregon's foremost women artists, Betty LaDuke (professor of Art at Southern Oregon University), has an art display in AAD Gallery - now through April 19. She will also be holding a workshop on April 11 at 10 a.m. in the Art Gallery and at 11:30 a.m. a slide lecture in Forum 311.

MANAGEMENT PROGRAMS--LCC's programs for small businesses and farm operators are finding great acceptance, reports Dean Gerry Rasmussen. Small Business Management has 24 businesses enrolled in the first year and 17 in the second year. About 35 types of businesses are represented. There is a waiting list of about a dozen and a half. Farm Business Management has 45 farm families enrolled in 3 classes. Both programs operate through the Special Training Programs Department of Community Education.

Second Week
THURSDAY
April 6, 1978

BOARD ELECTION--Incumbent Catherine Lauris led the vote-getters in Tuesday's LCC election getting 61% of the vote to win the Zone 5 seat on the Board of Education. She beat John Hanks 10,751 to 6,785. Leslie Hendrickson gathered 43% of the votes in the race for the at-large seat, ousting incumbent Richard Freeman. The power of the press was demonstrated in that contest; the Register-Guard's candidate ran last. The results: Hendrickson 7,627; Freeman 4,980; Len Wassom 2,822; Bill Watkins 2,279. Former Board member Charlene Curry won the Zone 3 seat with 33% of the vote. Health Occupations Bookkeeper Jane Wojcik proved the value of name familiarity as she finished second in spite of withdrawing a day or so after filing. The results: Curry 5,512; Wojcik 3,092; Alan Scott 2,717; Lawrence Wheeler 1,896; Ron Farmer 1,544; Fran Summers 951; Dan Bosch 717; Jerry Sirois 331.

VOTING TIME--Voters at the May 23 primary election will be asked to hike LCC's tax base by $784,194. The Board Wednesday night approved an 8 percent increase in the college budget for next year. Virtually all of that would go toward personnel costs. In terms of impact on the property tax payer, the ballot proposal would mean an increase in the tax rate per $1,000 of true cash value from this year's $1.35 to an estimated $1.42 next year. The owner of a house assessed at $50,000 would pay about an additional $3.50 in LCC property tax for the year. On top of that would be the cost of any increase in additional assessed value. The proposed $1.42 tax rate is a penny less than the average LCC rate over the last 11 years. It would produce about 35 percent of the college's proposed $16.8 million budget for 1978-79. The remainder would come from state support, tuition--which the Board already has raised for next year--and miscellaneous fees, interest, and so on. The budget would accommodate a small increase in the student body, which this year includes more than 27,000 individuals. If the May 23 proposal is turned down by voters, the Board agreed to put an equal levy on the June 27 election ballot. In other business, the Board appointed Charlene Curry of Springfield to represent Zone 3 on the Board through June 30. On July 1, she begins the 3-year term which she won at Tuesday's election.

FORUM--Grace Cameron, Student Records, and Leslie Rasor, Womens Programs, will discuss workshops which they attended recently. The session will begin at noon, today, in the Board Room. All interested staff are invited.

NOTICE--The Mechanics Department will be moving more heavy equipment into the lower parking area at the East end of the Auto Technology Building. Unauthorized vehicles will be ticketed daily. We hope that you appreciate our need for this space.--Howard Dull

Also, the automotive lab will no longer be open between 12 p.m. and 4 p.m. as no second year automotive classes are scheduled during these hours. Staff or students needing assistance from this area in the Mechanics Department should call ext. 360 before noon.

Second Week
FRIDAY
April 7, 1978

MORE ON THE BOARD MEETING--Joe Kremers, LCCEA chairman, reported that the union executive committee had rejected the factfinder's report and wishes to begin post-fact finding mediation. Personnel Director Hank Douda, contacted Thursday, said the fact finder apparently recommended less than what the 4 dozen Adult Basic Education-High School Completion teachers hoped for. The fact finder favored continuation of pay by the hour instead of contracts, suggested only a small workload cut, and recommended prorated rather than full health insurance coverage. The two sides will be getting together to search for a compromise position. In other business, the Board approved a one-year leave without pay for Ted Romoser, Language Arts, who becomes president of the Oregon Education Association on July 1; and accepted the resignation of Helen Haynie, President's secretary, effective April 20.

COLLEGE VISITATION--Representatives from Warner Pacific College will be on campus Monday, April 10 in the cafeteria foyer to talk with students who might be interested in transferring. The visitation is from 9 a.m. to noon.

INPUT SOUGHT--Reductions of resources provided to the various Business Operations' departments in order to balance next year's budget will likely cause the reduction or elimination of one or more services provided by these departments.

To assist in identifying these potential service reductions or eliminations, discussions are being scheduled with the IMAC and the directors of Student Services and Academic and College Planning. As an aid in further obtaining advice and input, we are setting aside two different times in the Board Room (ADM 216), April 11, 10-11:30 a.m. and April 12, 3-4:30 p.m., where individuals may meet with me and provide input on what services Business Operations might be asked to reduce and what services should not be reduced. Alternatively, your ideas may be submitted in writing to the Business Operations office. Hoping to hear from you--Tony Birch, Dean of Business Operations.

STATEMENTS OF APPOINTMENT--Signed Spring Term Statements of Appointment are due in the Personnel Services Office on or before April 13th. Statements of Appointment received without all authorizing signatures will require an additional 3 to 5 days for processing. Instructors whose signed Statements of Appointment have been received by April 13th will be paid in three equal payments beginning April 28.

RECITALS--The Performing Arts department announces two recitals this week. Today at 4 p.m. a faculty recital will feature Performing Arts instructors Roberta Russell on flute, and Joyce Cameron on the piano assisted by Karen Bartholomew. This recital will be in the lab theatre on the lower level of Performing Arts. Sunday, April 9, Guest Performer Peter Iverson will hold a piano recital at 4 p.m. in the choral room of the Performing Arts Building. There will be no charge.

LEARN TO KNIT--There is still room in the Beginning Knitting class offered through Adult Education. Just bring yarn and knitting needles to room 205 of the Math Building, Monday at 6 p.m. The instructor is Betty Cook of Data Processing.

Third Week
MONDAY
April 10, 1978

ROBERT HUDSON DISPLAY--The Library is currently featuring a display of oil paintings by Robert Hudson, a self-taught realistic landscape painter. Hudson began painting in 1967 while in the Air Force and has committed himself to recording the Northwest in oils. Hudson relies heavily on his early training as a photographer to bring home scenes he later translates on to canvas. He avoids any specific school or method and uses the techniques of the old Masters, painting slowly, layer by layer. The fine detail and special effects preclude fast showy work. The show will run through the month of April. The Library is open from 7:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Fridays.

WEBB ELECTED PRESIDENT--Beth Webb, coordinator of the Dental Assistant Program, was elected president of the Oregon State Dental Assisting Association last week at that group's 1978 Convention in Portland. She accepted the gavel from the immediate past president Marcia Allen, another LCC dental instructor. Webb, who was program coordinator for the event, says they registered around 800 students, staff and working dental assistants at the convention. Webb's main goal as president will be to actively promote dental assisting in Oregon. She and her colleagues will work with both state and federal legislative bodies concerning dental programs.

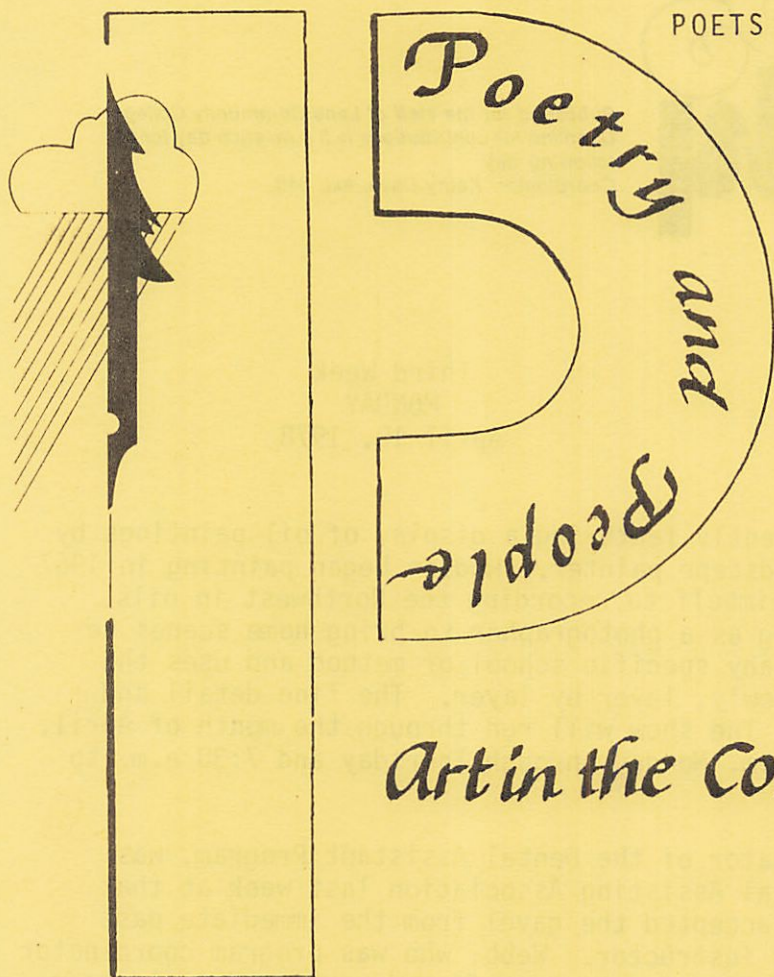

BLOODMOBILE HERE--Staff interested in donating blood to the Lane Memorial Blood Bank can still make an appointment with Science secretary Sharon Shorey at ext. 381. The mobile unit will be on campus today between 1-4 p.m.

BOSS OF THE YEAR--Mark Rocchio, director of Campus Support Services, was named Boss of the Year by the Cascade Chapter of the American Business Women's Association at its meeting last week. Mark was nominated by Warehouse employee Mary Gay. He received a plaque from the group.

PAYROLL DEADLINE NEARS--April 13 is the deadline for submitting payroll changes to the Personnel Office. All changes should be sent to Marion Hines, payroll supervisor.

BOOK SALE--The Talisman Chapter of the Future Secretaries Association is holding a used book sale today and tomorrow from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the entrance to the cafeteria in the Center Building. All staff are welcome.

Third Week
TUESDAY
April 11, 1978

COLLEGE VISITATION--Representatives from Willamette University in Salem will be on campus Thursday to talk with students interested in transferring at the end of Spring Term. The visitation will be held in the cafeteria foyer from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

MOVING UP--President Schafer was elected vice chairman of the board of directors at the AACJC meeting Sunday at Atlanta. This gives him a second year on the four-member executive committee. He presently serves as chairman of the Panel on Association Vitality, which is responsible for the focus and direction of AACJC. New board chairman is Jess Parrish, president of Shelby State Community College at Memphis.

CURRICULUM DEADLINE--April 14 is the deadline for applications for new courses, revised courses, and revised programs for summer and fall term implementation. If you need information or assistance with your proposal, call Mary Jeanne Jacobsen, curriculum specialist, ext. 201, or stop by her office on the Library Mezzanine.

USE COMPLETE NAME AND DEPARTMENT--The mailroom has requested that all staff and students sending intra campus mail use both the first and last name, plus the name of the office or department of the addressee and the addresser. This helps ease the confusion and allows the mail to go through more quickly.

MORE ADDITIONS--Five more names have been added to our list of Ten Year Employees. They are: Sam Blackwell, Language Arts; Jack Powell, Language Arts; Dave Roof, Counseling; Jerry Sirois, Financial Services; and Bill Solomon, Warehouse.

STAFF INVITED--The Downtown Center Adult Education staff is having a cake and coffee hour honoring Bud Proctor, adult education coordinator, who is leaving LCC to go into real estate management. Stop by the Center between 12-2 p.m. this Thursday to wish Bud well. Bud has been at LCC since 1969.

WELL REPRESENTED--Dental assisting instructors were not the only representatives LCC had at the Oregon Dental Assistants Association Convention last week in Portland. Both dental hygiene and dental assisting students from Lane presented table clinics on dental health at Wednesday's session. The dental assistants also presented a video tape of their puppet clinic which was a great success. The students will present the puppet show and table clinics in tray set-up instrumentation and study model preparation at the Valley River Inn Friday, for secondary health occupation students of Oregon at their spring convention.

ELECTED--Ken Hills, director of Counseling, has been elected vice president elect post secondary of the American School Counselor Association.

COLLEGE VISITATION--Representatives from Willamette University will be on campus tomorrow from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the cafeteria.

FROM OCCA DIGEST--Funding election results show Clackamas, Clatsop and Chemeketa winning and Umpqua and Blue Mountain losing. Clackamas won a rate-based serial levy, which means they won't have to vote again until 1981. Six colleges will vote May 23: Central Oregon, Mt. Hood, Southwestern, Blue Mountain, Umpqua, and Lane. All except SWOCC and LCC will be voting for the second time this year....Blue Mountain's faculty and Board have concluded bargaining which provides for pay hikes of 6% this year, 7% next year, and a cost of living adjustment not to exceed 9% in the third year....Beginning July 1, contributions by community colleges to the state Public Employees Retirement System (PERS) will increase to 8.75% of the employees gross salary from the present 7.60 percent. And, as of July 1 of each succeeding year, the contribution rate will go up .9 percent to an ultimate rate of 11.44 percent from July 1, 1981 through the year 2005. This is the result of changes in the rate made by the 1977 Legislative Assembly to keep the system solvent. It will of course cause a significant rise in "fixed costs," as did the Social Security contributions mandated by the Congress last year.

RENAISSANCE--The menu for the Renaissance Room for tomorrow is tomato-vegetable soup, sauteed red snapper, peas ala francoise and lemon meringue pie. The cost is $3.

APPLE BOOTH--Today's apple booth topic is exercise and fitness. The booth will be at the North end of the cafeteria.

KLCC SOAPBOX--Today on Soapbox, a discussion on rolfin' by Kate Tracy, a local woman involved in the practice of rolfin' and dance movement. Rolfin' is a deep fascia work incorporating goading the muscle and skeletal systems. Soapbox is broadcast daily at 89.7 on the FM dial.

The Excess Property program is in the process of selling some of its surplus property. The items listed below are for sale through the Purchasing Office. Third Week
THURSDAY
April 13, 1978

SEMINAR SCHEDULED--"Aside From Teaching English, What In the World Can I Do?", is the topic of an informal seminar on job prospects for English and other liberal arts majors next Tuesday, April 18 at 10 a.m. in Forum 301. Seminar Leader Dr. Dorothy Bestor is probably more widely known as the author of a book with the same title. Dr. Bestor has compiled information from a nationwide survey of both employers and employees and transferred her findings into handbook form for easy reference to job seekers. She has successfully used the techniques she will present in creating a job for herself in an already crowded market. The seminar is free and open to all staff and students. It is sponsored by the Language Arts and Cooperative Work experience Departments. For more information contact Peggy Marston, CWE coordinator, ext. 362.

SLIDE PRESENTATION--President Schafer has a 10-12 minute slide presentation on ways that LCC is trying to save money and increase productivity. Call his secretary at Extension 331 if your club or organization has room on its program for some eye-opening information. Eldon promises not to turn the presentation into an election pitch.

GRADUATION SPEAKER--Social Science Instructor Joe Searl will be the guest speaker at his high school alma mater this June when he addresses the graduating class of 1978 at Valsetz High School. Joe graduated in 1949 in a class of 10. This year the graduating class will again be 10. Joe says he was only a mediocre.

CURRICULUM DEADLINE--Tomorrow is the deadline for applications for new courses, revised courses, and revised programs for summer and fall term implementation. If you need information or assistance with your proposal call Mary Jeanne Jacobsen, curriculum, ext. 201.

PROCTOR LEAVING--Tomorrow is Bud Proctor's last day as an adult education coordinator. Today, the Community Education division is honoring Bud at a coffee hour from 12-2 p.m. Drop by the Downtown Center and say "so long." Rumor has it that cake will be served, too.

KLCC SOAPBOX--Broadcast daily at 12:30 p.m. on 89.7 FM. Today's session is a discussion by two women deeply involved in the Equal Rights Amendment. One of the two supports the passage and the other is opposed. Names of the speakers were not released to the Daily editor.

POETRY AND PEOPLE--John Ashbery, one of the most eminent contemporary poets and Pulitzer Prize winner for Self-Portrait in a Convex Mirror, will read selections of his poetry Tuesday, April 18 at 11:45 a.m. in the Performing Arts Theatre. Ashbery is the second in a series of five poets scheduled to read their works at LCC and the U of O this month. The sessions are sponsored by the Willamette Writers Guild. Admission is $1; however students may attend free.

JOBS SEMINAR--A seminar on job prospects for English and other liberal arts majors is scheduled for Tuesday, April 18 at 10 a.m. in Forum 301. Dr. Dorothy Bestor is the seminar leader and last year authored Aside From Teaching English, What In the World Can You Do?, a book about various job opportunities and how to expand them. The seminar is sponsored by the Language Arts and Cooperative Work Experience Departments. Contact Peggy Marston, ext. 313 for further information.

COPYRIGHT INFO--Several months ago Librarian Don Ownbey ask for space in the Daily to help simplify the new copyright laws which became effective January 1, 1978. Here is his introductory statement concerning the law and its interpretation.

The new copyright law has created a great deal of uncertainty as to what can be copied and what cannot be copied. The new law, effective January 1, 1978, has already had its influence at LCC--the Printshop and Word Processing have had to refuse jobs because of possible copyright violations, the Library is putting only one copy of a copyrighted article on reserve, and Library copy machines now have disclaimer notices on them. We will be putting information in the Daily periodically and if anyone has a question about copyright, please send them to Don Ownbey in the Library. Keep in mind that definitive answers may not always be possible since the law contains many ambiguities.

We have a limited number of copies of the Guidelines for 'Fair Use'. These guidelines are not the law itself but an agreement which came out of Congressional hearings and are designed to assist in compliance with the law. Anyone interested in a copy should contact Don Ownbey, ext. 211.

FOURTH WEEK
FRIDAY
April 21, 1978

ENVELOPES BEING RECALLED--The mailroom recently received a new shipment of intracampus envelopes and some are printed incorrectly. Envelopes that are a deeper shade of yellow have the addressee heading (TO:) on the right side of the envelope and the addressor heading (FROM:) on the left side of the envelope. This is very confusing to the mail sorters because they are trained to look for the addressee on the left. If your department or office has received some of these envelopes please return them to the mailroom so they can be replaced. Thank you.

APPLICATIONS AVAILABLE--Guidelines and applications for requesting professional development leave are now available from Shirley Pearson in Instructional Operations. Applications must be returned to the Office of Instructional Operations during the first week of May to be considered by the Committee for Professional Development Leave for Fall and Winter Terms.

SIX MORE TENS, AND ONE MAKES IT 11--Five staff people from the Science Department have been added to the 1978 Ten Year List. They are Lab Technician Helen Rose, and Instructors Hayden Hodges, Steve John, Jay Marston and Wendell Pepperdine. Also added, is Dick Eno, Business instructor. And, the one that made it 11 years is Jerry Nehring of Data Processing. Apparently Jerry's name was overlooked on last year's List.

CHANGES IN LOCATIONS--There have been some changes in the locations of the Student Resource Center's paper-recycling bins. The bins at the Business Building are now located on the east side just outside room 103 on the lower level. The bins from the basement of the Center have been moved to the Health & Physical Education Building in the area near the pay phone on the upper level. And the bins that were located by the Student Resource Center outside the second floor Center, have been moved inside the second floor near the Xerox machine outside the Library. Please help cut down on waste, use the bins and recycle. If you have questions about the recycling program, call Elaine Kempenich, Student Resource Center, ext. 230.

Fifth Week
MONDAY
April 24, 1978

THANKS--Despite one of the heaviest rainfalls of the year to date, last Thursday's triangular track meet with the College of Southern Idaho, the Oregon Track Club and LCC was a success. When it was all finished, the Titans were on top with 109½ points, CSI was second with 58½ and OTC had 20. The Athletic Department wants to thank all staff and students who helped with the meet and supported the team. If you are still suffering from frostbite stop by Health Services.

NO PARKING--Starting today, Monday, April 24, there will be no parking in the dirt lots at the south west edge of the campus. Plant Services will be gravelling these lots during the next two weeks. There will be no parking signs and barricades posted to remind staff and students of the work being done on the lots. Thank you for your cooperation.

AND FOR LUNCH...Today in the cafeteria, meatballs with tomato sauce, chicken and dumplings, Rueben sandwiches; Vegetarian, spaghetti and mushrooms; Snack Bar, breaded veal, corn dogs. Tuesday, beef & bean burrito, stuffed peppers, old fashioned beef stew; Vegetarian, cheese enchiladas; Snack Bar, fried chicken, egg roll and fried rice. Tomorrow's menu for the Renaissance Room is Spanish cold tomato soup, seafood entree, brussels sprouts, and almond cake from Buferia. Price is $3.00.

VISITORS--A special delegation from Western Nevada Community College is on campus today to tour the campus and gather information on programs at LCC. WNCC selected Lane for the visitation because of our reputation as one of the best community colleges in the nation. To the WNCC delegation, welcome to Oregon and to Lane Community College.

ENVELOPES STILL ON RECALL--The mailroom is still recalling the shipment of intracampus envelopes that was printed incorrectly. If your office received some of this shipment please return them to the mailroom today. Thank you.

CAN YOU HAVE YOUR DIET AND MC DONALD'S TOO?

The trouble with a scoop of Rocky Road ice cream is that it's a particularly rocky road to travel if you're on a diet. Still, the calorie count (204) might not be quite as high as you suspected - and it looks almost dietetic compared the the count for McDonald's Big Mac (557). These and other fast food calorie counts (approximate) below, may or may not confirm your worst suspicions.

BASKIN-ROBBINS: One 2½ oz. scoop with sugar cone: Chocolate Fudge - 229, French Vanilla - 217; Rocky Road - 204, Butter Pecan - 195, Jamoca Almond Fudge - 190, Chocolate Mint - 189, Jamoca - 182, Fresh Strawberry - 168, Mango Sherbert - 132, Banana Daiquiri Ice - 129.

BURGER KING: The "Whopper" - 606, the "Whaler" - 744, large shake - 332, hot dog - 291, bag of french fries (2 ¾ oz.) - 214, hamburger - 252, cheeseburger - 305.

CHICKEN DELIGHT: Average adult portion (½ chicken, 4 pieces) - 625

COLONEL SANDER'S KENTUCKY FRIED CHICKEN: 15 piece bucket - 3300, drumstick - 220, 3-piece special - 660, "dinner" (with 3 pieces of chicken, cole slaw, mashed potatoes, gravy, roll) - 980.

DAIRY QUEEN: Average banana split - 547, "Super Brazier" - 907, chicken snack - 342.

DUNKIN' DONUTS: Hole-in-the-middle "cake" donuts: plain cake - 240, plain honey-dipped 260, plain with white icing - 265, plain with chocolate icing - 235, chocolate cake - 240, chocolate honey-dipped - 250. "Yeast raised" donuts have jelly, custard, or cream fillings: sugared - 205, honey-dipped - 225 (add 40-50 calories for filling).

FACULTY COUNCIL--A reminder that all staff are invited to a presentation by Dr. Schafer on "The Role of the Community College in the 1980's", this afternoon at 3 p.m. in the President's Dining Room.

FROM OCCA DIGEST--Voting on funding issues May 23, with LCC, are Mt. Hood, Central Oregon, Umpqua, Blue Mountain and Southwestern Oregon. Treasure Valley, Clatsop, Chemeketa and Clackamas have already passed levies. Portland, Linn-Benton and Rogue have tax bases sufficient to meet next year's needs....The OCCA salary study lists the average full-time faculty member's salary at $17,006. This is based on 1,545 full-time faculty salaries, the lowest being $9,070 and the highest $26,232....Clackamas and Portland report declining enrollment this spring. Portland's budget will drop from this year's $25.1 million to $24.3 million next year to support 12,240 FTE students. They will cut part-time teachers and clerical people. PCC's personnel expenditures amount to 82.5% of the budget, compared to 76 at LCC....Chemeketa held a high school journalism workshop with Charles Kuralt of CBS Evening News (the "On The Road" host) as guest speaker.

LCC DISTRICT GROWING--Apparently the College District is seeking new horizons according to Jean Shaffer, Admissions supervisor. The Admissions Office regularly sends catalog information and admissions applications to local high school students who tour the campus through the high school relations program. High school relations specialist Jolene Bowers says she stays "pretty much" within the district in recruiting; however, one request recently turned over to Admissions by Jolene from a "local" tour group listed a Newark, Delaware return address.

NEW STAFF--Lynn Jones is the new coordinator/instructor of the Farm Business Management Program at LCC. He succeeds Rod Rood who resigned to take a position in Washington state. The Farm Business Management program is available to area farmers and ranchers, and is offered through the Special Training Programs Department.

FUTURE FARMERS--LCC's Agricultural & Industrial Equipment program hosted a shop skills contest for the Upper Willamette District of the Future Farmers of America yesterday in the agricultural area of the Machine Technology Building. Five high schools participated in the nine-category contest. The first place award in the overall competition went to Lebanon High School; second place, South Albany; third place, Creswell; fourth, West Albany; and fifth place went to Scio. Harvey Kelm, agricultural equipment instructor at Lane said more than 125 youth in grades 9-12 participated. Dave Rutherford, Lebanon, was the individual high scorer for the contest.

Fifth Week
FRIDAY
April 28, 1978

FIDDLER--"Fiddler on the Roof" opens tonight in the Performing Arts Theatre to a full house. Directed by Ed Ragozzino, the eight-night run, has been sold out for several weeks. The Performing Arts Department has scheduled a virtual "rerun" of the production July 7, 8 and 10-15, when Ed Ragozzino will direct "Fiddler" with essentially the same cast of performers for Summer Theatre '78 at Lane. The box office for the summer production will open June 12 for LCC staff and June 19 to the general public. If you missed a chance to see the spring production plan to get your tickets early for the summer show.

MORE FROM OCCA DIGEST--A third federal judge has ruled that Title IX applies only to students. In Portland, Maine, a district court judge ruled that pregnant teachers weren't due paid sick leave. Two federal judges in Michigan and Seattle earlier issued the same ruling. HEW says it will appeal all three adverse decisions....The Oregon Court of Appeals upheld the decision of a Douglas County judge who had ruled that Umpqua CC had immunity in a suit alleging that the college had misled a student. The student took some welding courses and alleged that the catalog had led him to believe that this would make him a welder. The jury agreed and awarded the student $12,500. But the judge overruled the verdict on the grounds that the Oregon Tort Claims Act makes the college immune from such suits. Also, the Appeals Court noted that the catalog made it clear that those taking the program had to take all, not just some, of the required classes.

IN THE NEWS--Pat Freeman, coordinator for the Central Area Outreach program, was a panelist at the Spring Conference of the Oregon Community Education Association last week. Topic of discussion was community schools/community college cooperation. The theme for the conference was "Beyond Competition." Laird Prouty, son of LCC Oakridge representative Gyneth Prouty, was named President-Elect of the Association at the conference.

PHOTO CONTEST--All prints submitted to the Torch Photography Contest must be turned into the Torch office by 5 p.m. Monday, May 1. Six prizes are being awarded to winning photographers. The contest is open to all LCC staff and students. For additional information please call the Torch, ext. 234.

COLLEGE VISITATION--Representatives from Portland State College will be on campus Monday to meet with students interested in transferring to that institution. They will have an information table in the cafeteria from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.
