THE DAILY

Friday, March 4, 1983

Published for the staff of Lane Community College.
Deadline for contributions 2 p.m. on the day before publication.
Editor: Kelli Osborn, ext. 2201.

Lane Community College is an Equal Opportunity/
Affirmative Action/Section 503/Title IX institution.

OREGON HISTORY - The book discussion group of the Friends of the LCC Library will meet at 3 p.m. today in Center 316 (Library mezzanine). Participants will discuss Oregon history and interests. All are welcome, whether books have been read or not.

KLCC KUDOS - Oregon Associated Press has recognized KLCC radio and reporter Greg Harris for last year's best treatment of a single story (nonmetro). The story concerned the strike at Agricipac Inc. Harris is newscaster for KLCC's early evening "View from the Northwest Corner." In other KLCC news, two of the station's volunteers recently were hired by National Public Radio in Washington, D.C. Debby Dane now is production assistant for "The Sunday Show," NPR's classical music and arts program. Tony Brooks is assistant to John Hockenberry, a newscaster on "All Things Considered" each evening. Hockenberry is another KLCC "graduate."

DANCE NEXT WEEK - The dance performance class begins a new studio tradition next Tuesday, March 8, with a concert at 4 p.m. in the auxiliary gym. The concert is produced, choreographed and performed by students. Donations will be accepted.

JOB TRAINING - HB2373, which would allow unemployed persons attending vocational programs to continue receiving unemployment insurance, has been amended by the Senate Labor Committee to avoid a threatened veto by Gov. Vic Atiyeh. Those speaking in favor of the bill on the Senate floor included Eugene Sen. Margie Hendriksen. Speaking for the bill in the House was Springfield Rep. Larry Hill. Rep. Peg Jolin of Cottage Grove also worked for bill passage. Atiyeh is expected to sign the bill next week.

NEW ADDRESS - If you want to stay in contact with the Lane County Extension Service, note this new address: 950 West 13th Ave., Eugene 97402 (687-4243).

VOLUNTEERS - Nominations are being accepted through March 25 for the Governor's Voluntarism Awards. Any individual or group actively engaged in volunteer activities that benefit the community, state or nation may be nominated. Additional information and nomination forms can be obtained by writing to: Governor's Voluntarism Awards, 160 State Capitol, Salem 97310. To see an example of the nomination form, stop by the Information Window in the Administration Building.

THE ULTIMATE - LCC's Women's Program next week presents the Ultimate Frisbee Open Fun Run and Relay, to celebrate National Women's History Week. Staff are encouraged to participate. Sign up in the Health and P.E. Department (ext. 2215) or the Women's Awareness Center (ext. 2352). The relay event will follow the Ultimate Frisbee exhibition by Dark Star. Each leg of the relay will be about one-quarter mile. Bring a frisbee or obtain one from the P.E. Department at the event. Wear tennis shoes, choose team colors and show up as a team (three women) or single (in which case, a team for you will be found). The event gets started at 3 p.m. on Bristow Square by the Center Building, on Wednesday, March 9.

ENROLLMENT CRISIS - For the next 15 years, colleges will face the birth-death generation, according to President Eldon G. Schafer's report to the LCC Board of Education on "The Coming Enrollment Crisis: What Every Trustee Must Know." President Schafer's memo further notes that the number of 18-year-olds roughly doubled between 1950 and 1980, but a sharp drop will occur between 1979 and 1994 (a 26 percent decline forecast). What do the numbers hold for college enrollment? The competition for students in the "traditional college-age population" will grow stiffer, because recent high school graduates still comprise the bulk of full-time college enrollments. The most promising strategy for boosting enrollment of younger people is to increase retention rates of those already enrolled. Community colleges already have done a good job of enrolling slightly older students, with 27 percent of their students in the 25-34 age group in 1978. Costs will influence enrollment, and growing resistance to tuition and related price increases is expected. President Schafer's report concludes, "Colleges should develop realistic enrollment projections and relate them to costs and revenues, should know the attrition rate from each program and take steps to reduce losses, should review pricing policies and decide whether to relate them to program costs, should review the mission to determine if new clientele groups should be cultivated, should find ways to shift program directions as appropriate to meet changing needs. Community colleges should prioritize programs based on community needs to guide any retrenchment, should endeavor to meet community needs but avoid becoming overextended, and should keep staff aware of possible effects on programs by enrollment declines."

CONCERT TONIGHT - The Performing Arts Department presents a concert tonight on the mainstage theatre. The concert will feature the Chamber Choir, directed by Wayte Kirchner, and the Baroque Orchestra and Percussion Ensemble, both directed by Nathan Cammack. The free performance begins at 8.

SPEAK OUT - What makes a good work environment for you? What doesn't? Complete the sentences below and forward them to Julie Aspinwall-Lamberts, Productivity Center. Results will be shared in the next issue of Focus magazine. (Submit work anonymously.) The sentences: "Things which create a good quality of work life for me are ..." and "Things which prevent a good quality of work life for me are ...". Return your entries today.

HEALTH CAREERS - Learn about practical and associate nursing and about dental hygiene as careers. The Career Information Center today sponsors career talks with Anne O'Brien, coordinator of LCC's Nursing programs, and Sharon Hagan, coordinator of the Dental Hygiene program. O'Brien will speak at 2:45, Hagan at 3:15. The talks will be in Center 219.

WOMEN - Bev Behrman, director of the LCC Women's Program, has a weekly, five-minute show on KOZY, channel 4. It airs at about 10:45 on Thursday nights. Each week, a person is interviewed regarding issues in women's lives, and announcements are made about upcoming events. The show is "Women."

WEEK OF ACTIVITIES - Women's History Week continues with activities planned at LCC today and Friday. Here's a fact: In 1972, only 16 women in this country were presidents of chief executive officers of two-year colleges. At the end of last year, women occupied these positions in 73 two-year colleges. A calendar of events follows:

THURSDAY, MARCH 10, 1983—WOMEN IN THE ARTS DAY

Wednesday's frisbee demonstration and relays were cancelled due to inclement weather. Both may be rescheduled later.

RAFFLE ON - Phi Theta Kappa, the student honorary, is holding a raffle to raise money to defray the costs of student delegate participation at a national convention in Kansas City and the costs of running a candidate for national office. The raffle is scheduled from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the cafeteria, and will continue through April 30.

MASS - Mass for Lent continues at noon on weekdays through the end of this week.

Special thanks to Edna Kennel, Printing & Graphics, for designing KLCC's new log. The logo can be seen on KLCC T-shirts, on the front of four LTD buses this month, and on billboards throughout the Eugene-Springfield area. Edna, you did a fine job!
--Paula Chan Gallagher and KLCC staff

INNOVATOR OF THE YEAR - The League for Innovation in the Community College has created an award that will be given for the first time this year. The recognition is to be known as the Innovator of the Year Award. The award will be given annually to one individual from each of the 18 league member college districts. Any current LCC employee, part-time or full-time, may be considered for the award. The deadline for nominations is March 30. Selection criteria include quality, efficiency, cost effectiveness, replication, creativity and timeliness. Direct questions about the award to Larry Warford, President's Office, ext. 2302.

NOTABLE WOMEN - In a speech on the Senate floor last year, Oregon Sen. Bob Packwood recognized a number of women who contributed to the state's history. From the March 4, 1982, Congressional Record: "Among them are Tabitha Brown, a 66-year-old partial invalid, who led a wagon train through a disastrous shortcut - chosen by the train's male leadership - and brought it to a new life in the Oregon territory. Then in 1848, at the age of 71, this remarkable woman founded the Tualatin Academy, which is now known as Pacific University....Governor Chamberlain's secretary, Mrs. C.B. Shelton, became the first woman to govern Oregon when, in the early 1900's, he took a seat in the Senate and left her in charge of State affairs....Margaret Jewett Bailey wrote the first novel printed on the Pacific slope, and Dr. Bethenia Owens-Adair had to receive a second medical degree, when her first was discredited, to become Oregon's first women physician."

ACTIVITIES FOR WOMEN'S WEEK - Among activities winding up Women's History Week are the following:

FRIDAY, MARCH 11, 1983—WOMEN AND WORK DAY

- A slide show of the History of Women in Labor—Kate Barry, Women's Stories Instructor, LCC.
11:30 a.m. to Noon—LCC Board Room—Administration Building
- "Past, Present, and Future Trends of Women in Work"—a panel (Joan Acker, Kate Barry, Jan Brandstrom, Renee Lo Pilato, Jean Names).

8 p.m.—1236 Kincaid, next to U of O Bookstore

WHY A SERIAL LEVY? See for yourself on Monday at noon in the Board Room (Administration 216). Paul Colvin, Facilities, will show a 30-minute slide presentation which graphically depicts the deterioration occurring all over campus, from roofs clear down to the tunnels.

TUITION DECISION POSTPONED - It was getting late and only four LCC Board of Education members still were in the room Wednesday night when the issue of raising tuition for next year was considered. So, the matter was carried over to the April 13 meeting. The administration proposal is to hike in-district credit tuition $11 a term to $198 for a full-time student, and to raise Community Education tuition by $2 to $27 for a 30-hour course. The move would raise an additional $245,000 in revenue for next year's budget. Board member Larry Perry said he opposes the increase because tuition and cost of books are rising faster than student income.

CLOSING - The Library will be closed from March 21-25. Instructors wanting to place books on reserve for spring term should contact Jeremy Gunn in the Library, ext. 2273, by March 18.

PLANNING FOR INSTRUCTIONAL QUALITY -

The Quality of Instruction Planning Session participants identified the following nine priorities to emphasize in assuring the continuance of quality of instruction at LCC. A hearing will be held in the Board Room on Tuesday, March 15 from 3:00 P.M. to 5:00 P.M. for all persons who would like to comment on these or suggest ways in which they can be incorporated into LCC's planning and curriculum. Note that three of the nine are conceptual in nature, while the remaining six are objectives which can be matched with performance objectives.

1. Expand the teaching improvement program
2. Keep student learning as our top priority.
3. Concentrate more effort on how people learn.
4. Teach all teachers content of Study Skills' Effective Learning class so they can teach students these techniques (e.g., mnemonics).
5. Maintain an environment in which we can practice self-renewal.
6. Support risk taking by reducing hazards of doing so.
7. Emphasize use of business and industry teacher training.
8. Expand the concept of professional development leave.
9. Recognize that the underlying prerequisite for quality is an environment of freedom.

MORE BOARD BUSINESS - Dean of Administrative Services Bill Berry and Dean of Instruction Gerald Rasmussen presented priority lists for expenditures, if the serial levy on the March 29 ballot is approved. Berry cited roofing, parking lot repair, exterior painting, and some carpet replacement as his leading priorities. Roofing of the Health, Forum, Science and Electronics buildings would get first attention next year. Rasmussen gave high priority to teaching equipment totaling some $402,084 for 20 instructional departments. Mechanics, Business, Data Processing, Special Training Programs and Flight Technology would get the largest allocations in the first year, based on pressing needs.

NIOSH REPORT - Arvin Apol, industrial hygienist, and Steven Helgersen, M.D., from the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH), were on campus Wednesday to present their formal report on their investigation of the Health Building. They conclude that "no detectable concentration of substances potentially capable of producing peripheral neuropathy existed in the environment on the days and under the conditions the sampling was conducted" and that "neither the pattern of reported symptoms nor the results of the nerve conduction velocity tests suggested that a neurotoxic substance had been responsible for the symptoms." They made 10 suggestions for improving the building ventilation system and work practices. Copies of the report are available for reading by those interested. Contact the office of the Dean of Administrative Services.

PRODUCTIVITY FACULTY/IDEAS NEEDED - If you're willing to be part of this summer's national productivity workshop at LCC, please bring your ideas to a meeting on Wednesday, March 16, in the Board Room. Conference chairman Larry Warford and program leaders Casey Fast and Julie Aspinwall-Lamberts will be there to accept input and recruit volunteers to help out in all facets of the conference activity. About 100 people from around the country are expected to attend the July 25, 26 and 27 conference, which will be offered in association with the League for Innovation in the Community College, the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges, and the University of Oregon.

WORD PROCESSING ADVANCEMENT - Word Processing has been working with Phil Powers of Media Services to successfully complete communications between the Apple Computer and the NBI 3000 word processor. The Apple uses a Pie Writer word processing program with a Hayes Micromodem and Datacapture communications program. The two departments will continue working to refine the process to allow them to transmit material of a more complex nature than straight text. For more information, call Susan Watkins in Word Processing, ext. 2304.

IT'S AT 10:30 - That meeting on the national productivity conference, which was mentioned in Friday's Daily, will be held from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. on Wednesday, in Administration 216. Leaving out the time provides another chance to invite you to attend to share ideas on how the conference can be most effective, and to allow you to volunteer to be on the faculty or a member of various organizing committees. Interest is growing among national AACJC (American Association of Community and Junior Colleges) leaders, reports conference chairman Larry Warford. One or more might even be present.

READ THE FINE PRINT -

The Quality of Instruction Planning Session participants identified the following nine priorities to emphasize in assuring the continuance of quality of instruction at LCC. Tuesday, March 15, 1983

Published for the staff of Lane Community College.
Deadline for contributions 2 p.m. on the day before publication.
Editor: Keli Osborn, ext. 2201.

Lane Community College is an Equal Opportunity/
Affirmative Action/Section 503/Title IX institution.

INSTRUCTIONAL QUALITY HEARING - A hearing on instructional quality is planned for 3-5 p.m. today in the Board Room, Administration 216. Planning session participants identified priorities on which staff are invited to comment.

SUCCESS - LCC's vocal jazz ensemble, Crosswind, performed at the Soundsation Invitational Jazz Festival this past weekend and received an award for outstanding performance. Vocal soloist Shirley Andress and pianist Vickie Brabham received National Jazz Education Association awards for their individual performances. Crosswind, directed by Dan Sachs, was in Lynnwood, Wash., for the weekend.

MEETING - Classified employees take note: The LCC Employees Federation will hold a general membership meeting at 5:15 p.m. Wednesday, in Apprenticeship 223-224.

INSURANCE - Sharon Smelley, the college's agent-of-record representative, will be in Personnel Services from noon to 1 p.m. Wednesday.

RENEWAL - Do you feel a need for renewal in the classroom? The Staff Development office encourages faculty to participate in the Teaching Improvement Process. This voluntary and strictly confidential system of peer counseling is directed at identifying and improving classroom skills. The process involves a one-on-one interchange between faculty members and takes one full term to complete. During the term, the teaching consultant uses interviews, classroom observations, student questionnaires and videotapings to help the faculty client come to a better understanding of her or his own teaching techniques. To participate this spring term, call Nita Bunnell(ext. 2439) or John Loughlin(ext. 2392) during exam week.

ACCREDITATION NEWS - The process for an institutional self-study has begun, in response to requirements for LCC's continued accreditation status and to provide the college with information for planning. Almost every unit on campus will be involved in extensive study efforts during the 1983-84 academic year. Steering committee members and the areas with which they'll be working are: Karen Ault - general student services, Admissions, Financial Aid; Charles Bentz - Division of Instructional Services; Paul Crouse - Facilities; Jim Ellison - finance, Personnel Services;

MORE ACCREDITATION NEWS - Helen Hunter - institutional objectives, governance; Bob Maxwell and Dick Reid--Community Education; Dick Newell - orientation, Counseling, placement; Phyllis Ryan - Division A, team visitation; Dwight Miller - health, housing and Foodservices, Bookstore; Susan Watkins--Athletics, Student Activities; Dick White - Division I, total educational program. The self-study will be coordinated by Julie Aspinwall-Lamberts. After completing initial planning efforts in April, the steering committee members will contact department heads for their areas to begin efforts at the unit level.

LIBRARY - The Library will be closed next week. Instructors wishing to place books on reserve for spring term should contact Jeremy Gunn at ext. 2273. Deadline is March 18.

PRODUCTIVITY MEETING - An ideas meeting for a productivity conference at LCC in July will be held Wednesday at 10:30 a.m. in the Board Room. Conference chairman Larry Warford and program leaders Julie Aspinwall-Lamberts and Casey Fast will be on hand to accept input and recruit volunteers to help in all facets of the conference.

OUTSTANDING - Nominations are being accepted for the LCC "Outstanding Instructor of the Year" award. Deadline is March 31. All present LCC staff and students are eligible to nominate one instructor currently teaching at LCC and employed by the college for at least one year. The selection committee will include previous winners, one associate dean, one department head, one instructor and one student. Obtain nomination forms from the Office of Instruction, second floor of the Administration Building.

UP IN COUNSELING - Staff of Counseling and the Productivity Center are combining forces to study efficiency and effectiveness in the Counseling intake area. They have been conducting time-motion studies to determine what functions are currently performed in the area. Next, they hope to reorganize - moving microcomputers into the area and creating a new computer-assisted academic advising center.

FUNDRAISING - The LCC student honorary, Phi Theta Kappa, is holding a fund-raising raffle to defray the costs of student delegate participation at a national convention in Kansas City and of running a candidate for national office. The raffle is being held in the cafeteria, 10 a.m. - 2 p.m., through April 30.

DAILY SCHEDULE - In response to the many inquiries...The Daily will continue its regular publication schedule this week, and run on Tuesday and Thursday of next week. The usual deadlines apply.

Thursday, March 17, 1983

Published for the staff of Lane Community College.
Deadline for contributions 2 p.m. on the day before publication.
Editor: Keli Osborn, ext. 2201

Lane Community College is an Equal Opportunity/
Affirmative Action/Section 503/Title IX institution.

PART-TIME TEACHERS - Members of the LCC Part-Time Teachers Association should vote today on ratification of the 1983 contract. Vote from 2-5 p.m. in Center 454.

PAYROLL NOTE - Payroll verification sheets will be distributed Friday, and should be returned Monday at Personnel Services.

CLOSING - Student Health Services will close for spring break at noon Friday. In case of emergency, call Security at ext. 2558 and, if necessary, call for ambulance assistance at 344-2211.

NO FOUR-DAY WEEK - Rumors that LCC may have a four-day week during summer term are false. The idea was considered earlier but rejected.

DIRECT DEPOSIT - LCC may move to direct deposit of paychecks on May 31 or Aug. 31. Employee pay can be sent to one of a couple dozen banks or SELCO, or even through a clearinghouse to a bank in another state. Watch for additional details from Financial Services.

NEW PRESIDENCY - Ray LaGrandeur, associate dean at LCC in the late sixties and early seventies, leaves the presidency of Spokane Community College to become president of College of the Canyons on May 1. His new district is at Newhall, near Los Angeles.

MORE ACCREDITATION NEWS - The 1983-84 Accreditation Self-Study already has involved a number of LCC staff members. In addition to those serving as steering committee members, Z. Joyce Hopps is consultant to the project and Diane Dann, Nancy Fausone and Larry Romine serve on the editorial committee. Ron Mitchell and Beth Webb are associate members of the steering committee. Their areas of focus are the specialized accreditation and studies occurring on their Fire Technology and Dental programs respectively. The planning committee for the 1983-84 study is composed of members of the Administrative Council and College Cabinet. The planning committee began its work in 1981-82. Having many LCC staff members involved in this vital study clearly will help produce a report that will be useful internally and to the Northwest Association of Schools and Colleges.

RENEWAL - Do you feel a need for renewal in the classroom? The Staff Development office encourages faculty to participate in the Teaching Improvement Process. This voluntary and strictly confidential system of peer counseling is directed at identifying and improving classroom skills. The process involves a one-on-one interchange between faculty members and takes one full term to complete. To participate this spring term, call Nita Bunnell(ext. 2439) or John Loughlin(ext. 2392) during exam week.

INNOVATORS - The League for the Innovation in the Community College has created an award that will be given for the first time this year. The recognition is to be known as the Innovator of the Year Award. The award will be given annually to one individual from each of the 18 League member college districts. Any current LCC employee, part-time or full-time, may be considered for the award. Nominations may come from anyone inside or outside the college. Recipient of the Innovator of the Year Award will receive a plaque from the League for Innovation. The plaque will be presented at an appropriate local gathering. The award winner also will be featured in the League publication, Jottings, and may be invited to give a presentation at the annual League conference (usually in the fall). Deadline for nominations is March 30. For information, call Larry Warford at ext. 2302.

MOVING AHEAD - On April 23, LCC is sponsoring a one-day, all-day workshop-- Moving Ahead: Options for Unemployed Workers. Volunteers are needed from all areas of the college. More information and volunteer signup sheets are forthcoming. Please help.

ERIC WANTS YOU - To help keep the ERIC document collection comprehensive and current, you can send to the ERIC clearinghouse any recent, unpublished materials that would be of interest, value and use to two-year college educators. What is ERIC? The Educational Resources Information Center is a national information system dedicated to the dissemination of educational research reports, practitioner-oriented materials, and other documentary sources of information that can be used to develop more effective educational methods and programs. First established by the U.S. Office of Education in 1966, ERIC now is administered by the National Institute of Education, U.S. Department of Education. Documents processed by the clearinghouse are made available to the educational community on microfiche (4x6-inch film). The majority also are available in paper copies. Send two copies of any materials you wish considered for inclusion in ERIC to:

Documents Coordinator
ERIC Clearinghouse for Junior Colleges
96 Powell Library Bldg.
University of California
Los Angeles, CA 90024

At least one of the copies must be camera-ready - clear, sharp photocopies, offset, or original typescripts are acceptable. High contrast between print and paper is important. Colored inks, dark-colored paper, very small type, blue ditto, and foldouts present reproduction problems and may prevent the processing of a document. The Copyright Revision Law requires written permission for any document to be reproduced and disseminated by ERIC, whether copyrighted or not. When materials are submitted without explicit authorization for reproduction, the clearinghouse will respond with a reproduction release form for the contributor's signature. This limited reproduction release is granted solely to ERIC and the users of the ERIC system; the author retains copyright and is free to publish the materials elsewhere.

PEACE BOOKS - The Peace Foundation is sponsoring a book drop this week. You may deposit books that will be lent students denied financial aid for failing to register for the draft. Books will be accepted in the Student Resource Center. For information, or to make donations, contact the Peace Foundation at P.O. Box 2081, Eugene 97402, or leave a note in the book drop.

WHAT'S A HOSA - Oregon Health Occupations Students of American had a two-day conference at LCC earlier this month. More than a hundred high school students from throughout Oregon attended, competing in skills events and electing officers. In a letter to Doug White, Health Occupations Department head, Fay Storme of Oregon HOSA extended thanks to LCC staff for their coordination of the events. "We would particularly like to let you know what a pleasure it was to work with Jane Wojcik," Storme wrote. "She was well-organized and dedicated to making the conference a success."

LIBRARIES HELP YOU GROW - The annual Friends of the LCC Library booksale is scheduled for May 3, 4 and 5. All proceeds from the sale will be used to supplement the Library's budget. You can help by donating books you no longer want; bring them to the Library reference desk. You can help conduct the sale by contacting Joe Freeman for task assignments. And you can become a friend of the Library and get into the preview booksale on May 2. For information, call Freeman at ext. 2204 or ext. 2395, or call Kathy Wiederholt at ext. 2355 or ext. 2825.

WHAT'S THIS CONFERENCE? - Planning is underway for a July 25-27 conference in Eugene, "Focus on Productivity." It will focus on doing more and better with less through 1) quality circles and verteams, 2) microprocessors in instruction and administration, 3) instructional television, and 4) human resource management. The University of Oregon is cooperating with LCC, and will make graduate credit available to those who want it. Sponsoring the conference with the college are the League for Innovation in the Community College and the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges. Larry Warford, assistant to the president, is conference chairman.

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS - Bill Porter, assistant to the dean of instruction, has been promoted to colonel in the U.S. Air Force Reserve....Casey Fast of the Productivity Center recently assisted a quality circle at SelectCare. "Not only did Mr. Fast educate us on the theory and purpose behind Quality Circles, but more importantly he helped us renew our enthusiasm for and commitment to our Circle," says Beth Steinberg, operations manager of SelectCare....Last month, Milt Madden of the Social Science Department gave an "unusual presentation of slides" at the meeting of the Oregon Genealogical Society. "It was most meaningful to many of us who have ancestors who made the journey to Oregon over this trail," according to Irene H. Fee.

Tuesday, March 22, 1983

Published for the staff of Lane Community College.
Deadline for contributions 2 p.m. on the day before publication.
Editor: Keli Osborn, ext. 2201.

Lane Community College is an Equal Opportunity/
Affirmative Action/Section 503/Title IX institution.

INSURANCE VISIT - Sharon Smelley, the college's agent-of-record representative, will be in Personnel Services from noon to 1 p.m. Wednesday.

ORIGINAL SCIENCE FICTION - KLCC, KWAX and the Eugene Downtown Association are sponsoring a contest for original science fiction radio scripts. The contest is being held in conjunction with the broadcast of "The Empire Strikes Back," which will air Saturdays at 6 p.m. on KWAX(91.1fm) and at 7:30 p.m. on Thursdays on KLCC(89.7fm). Three scripts, one from each of three age categories, will be produced and aired on both KWAX and KLCC. Scripts must be 5-7 minutes in length, and no longer than 7 minutes air time. Characters and situations must bear no resemblance to "The Empire Strikes Back" or "Star Wars." Judging will take place in three categories: 11 years and younger; 12-18 years; and over 18. One winner will be selected in each category, and winners will receive a poster and gift certificate. Submit finished scripts to KLCC or KWAX by April 1.

FRIDGIDAIDE - A refrigeration class in the Electronics Department will be accepting freezers and refrigerators for repair during spring term. Contact Wilson Smith, ext. 2463, from 9 a.m. to noon next week.

LoHoma Reyes Simmons, Student Health Services, has a one-woman show of her paintings and drawings at the Oregon State University Honors Gallery. They're on display through April 1.

PROGRESS - Word Processing has been working with Phil Powers of Media Services to successfully complete communications between the Apple computer and the NBI 3000 word processor. The Apple uses a Pie Writer word processing program with a Hayes Microdem and Datacapture communications program. The two departments will continue working to refine the process to allow them to transmit material of a more complex nature than straight text. For information, call Susan Watkins at ext. 2304.

LADD - Lane's Automatic Direct Deposit will go into effect at the end of May. With LADD, your net pay is automatically deposited to your account when you are sick, on vacation, traveling, or at work. It saves you trips to the bank(s) on payday. Under LADD, you'll receive your regular statement of earnings and deductions on payday, by mail. LADD is optional, and you'll receive more information about it at the end of this month.

INNOVATOR - The League for Innovation in the Community College has created an award that will be given for the first time this year - the Innovator of the Year Award. It will be given annually to one individual from each of the 18 League member college districts. Any current LCC employee, part-time or full-time, may be considered for the award. Deadline for nominations is March 30. Selection criteria include quality, efficiency, cost effectiveness, replication, creativity and timeliness. For information, and to make nominations, contact Larry Warford at ext. 2302.

DEADLINE - The deadline for Thursday's Daily (the only other out this week) is 2 p.m. Wednesday. The Daily will resume a regular publication schedule next week.

NEW NAME - On March 1, Blue Cross of Oregon and O.P.S. Blue Shield of Oregon merged to form a new corporation. It is known as Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Oregon. # THE DAILY

Thursday, March 24, 1983

Published for the staff of Lane Community College.
Deadline for contributions 2 p.m. on the day before publication.
Editor: Kelli Osborn, ext. 2201.

Lane Community College is an Equal Opportunity/
Affirmative Action/Section 503/Title IX institution.

MICRO - "Meet a Micro" is a two-week mini-class designed to offer novices hands-on experience and an introduction to microcomputers. Learn the jargon, physically operate an Apple II, copy and run programs, discuss careers, and take a field trip. The Industrial Orientation class will meet on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, 12-2 p.m., from March 30 to April 13. Classes will be held in Apprenticeship 217. For information, call Renee LoPilato at ext. 2802.

COMING UP - LCC is sponsoring a one-day, all-day workshop April 23. It's "Moving Ahead: Options for Unemployed Workers." Similar workshops at other Oregon community colleges have drawn hundreds seeking information about coping with their unemployed situations. Volunteers will be needed to execute the workshop at LCC. More information and sign-up sheets are forthcoming.

SERIAL LEVY - Don't forget that LCC's serial levy is on the ballot Tuesday, March 29. The three-year levy would raise $1.3 million in each of the years, after allowing for uncollected taxes. Its estimated annual cost per $1,000 true cash value is 20 cents. The estimated annual cost for the owner of a $60,000 home is $12 in each of the years. None of the money would be used for operating budget expenses or salaries. The money would fund campus maintenance projects and restore state-of-the-art, high technology teaching equipment to classrooms. Information sheets outlining examples of maintenance projects are available at the Information Window (ext. 2201).

MODELS FOR GROWTH - LCC's Business Assistance Center next week presents a seminar for women in business (and women considering business careers). The $10 seminar will be held Wednesday night at the Eugene Conference Center. On a panel presenting insights and reflections will be Kimberly Murphy, president and general manager of Fall Creek Bakery Inc., talking about employee relations; Catherine Harris, owner and manager of Peralandra Books and Records, talking about buying and operating a retail store with limited capital; and Theresa Ripley, associate professor at the University of Oregon and co-owner of New Directions (counseling and human relations training), talking about starting a new business. In addition to the panel presentation, workshops on developing business potential are planned. Facilitators will be Jean Names, a Small Business Management Program instructor at LCC, who will speak about assessment and business planning; Justine Heavilon, a psychologist, who will discuss balancing personal and professional commitments; and Jacquie Bonner, director of the Educational Opportunities Program at the U of O, who will speak about "networking." For information about registration, contact the Business Assistance Center at ext. 7525.

DEADLINE EXTENDED - Applications to LCC's Dental Hygiene program will be accepted until May 13, 1983. Admission packets for all Health Occupations programs are available at the Admissions office.

ORIGINAL SCIENCE FICTION - KLCC, KWAX and the Eugene Downtown Association are sponsoring a contest for original science fiction radio scripts. The contest is being held in conjunction with the broadcast of "The Empire Strikes Back," which will air Saturdays at 6 p.m. on KWAX(91.1fm) and at 7:30 p.m. on Thursdays on KLCC(89.7fm). Three scripts, one from each of three age categories, will be produced and aired on both KWAX and KLCC. Scripts must be 5-7 minutes in length, and no longer than 7 minutes air time. Characters and situations must bear no resemblance to "The Empire Strikes Back" or "Star Wars." Judging will take place in three categories: 11 years and younger; 12-18 years; and over 18. One winner will be selected in each category, and winners will receive a poster and gift certificate. Submit finished scripts to KLCC or KWAX by April 1.

THE DAILY

Monday, March 28, 1983

Published for the staff of Lane Community College.
Deadline for contributions 2 p.m. on the day before publication.
Editor: Kelli Osborn, ext. 2201.

Lane Community College is an Equal Opportunity/
Affirmative Action/Section 503/Title IX institution.

CURRICULUM - The Curriculum Approval Committee meets at 3 p.m. Tuesday in the Board Room, Administration 216. On the agenda are consideration of a new course, Building Construction Surveying, in Special Training Programs; and a proposed revision of a Language Arts course, Shakespeare: Film Review. The revision would allow students to take the film course without taking a traditional Shakespeare class simultaneously.

SEEKS REELECTION - Nile Williams, who retired in January as associate dean for Community Education, is on Tuesday's election ballot. He seeks reelection to a third term as a member of the Lane Education Service District Board.

NEW STATEMENT - The U.S. Department of Education has instructed us to revise the affirmative action statement that must appear on all LCC publications. The new, amended and required statement is reproduced below. The Department of Education has asked that we use this statement in all new publications and that we insert it in all existing publications, particularly applications and brochures that relate to employment or student recruitment. Copies of this statement that can be inserted in existing publications are available from Printing/Graphics.

the new statement: Lane Community College does not discriminate in employment, treatment in, admissions to, or access to its programs, activities and services on the basis of race, color, age, sex, national origin, handicap, or otherwise as proscribed by applicable state and federal laws and regulations including Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 (sex) and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (handicap). Inquiries regarding the application of these laws and regulations may be directed to Larry Warford, Assistant to the President, Lane Community College, 4000 East 30th Ave., Eugene, OR 97405 (phone: (503) 726-2200) or to the Office for Civil Rights, U.S. Dept. of Education, Seattle, WA.

COMMITTEE MEETS - The Curriculum Approval Committee meets at 3 p.m. today in the Board Room, Administration 216. On the agenda are consideration of a new course, Building Construction Surveying, in Special Training Programs; and a proposed revision of a Language Arts course, Shakespeare: Film Review.

ELECTION DAY - LCC's serial levy is on today's ballot. The three-year levy would raise $1.3 million in each of the years, after allowing for uncollected taxes. Its estimated annual cost per $1,000 true cash value is 20 cents. The levy would fund campus maintenance projects and restore up-to-date teaching equipment. Also on today's ballot are two uncontested LCC board races - Larry Perry (at-large position; he's a Eugene teacher) and James Pitney (zone 2; he's a dairyman from Junction City) seek reelection. A retired LCC employee - Nile Williams, who retired in December as associate dean for Community Education - also seeks reelection. He's running for a seat on the Lane Education Service District. Polls are open until 8 p.m.

SUMMER YOUTHS - The Lane County Summer Youth Employment Program, operated by Looking Glass Youth and Family Services, is seeking summer projects and jobs for persons aged 14-21. Those departments which participated last summer have been sent position request forms from the Looking Glass office. Other departments which wish to provide jobs may contact Rose HOLEMEN in Personnel Services, ext. 2283. Request forms must be returned to the Looking Glass office by April 22 for first-priority consideration.

CWE RECEIVES ENDORSEMENT - The Cooperative Work Experience program received a letter of endorsement last week from KVAL's director of news and public affairs, John Doyle. He wrote, "Cooperative Work Experience at LCC has been a good experience for us. We've had the opportunity to study various individuals and their work habits to see how they fit into our organization. Several of these people have moved into permanent positions in our News department. We plan to continue with this productive program and recommend CWE to other employers." Doyle's statement will be used in promotional material targetted to businesses currently uninvolved with CWE.

FOOD - The Renaissance Room will open Wednesday, March 30, for your dining pleasure. Relax on campus for lunch - Monday through Thursday, 11 a.m.-1 p.m. Reservations are recommended; call ext. 2697.

We at LCC are among the fortunate. We have jobs. Ten to fifteen percent of our population are not so blessed. They are unemployed. LCC is planning to assist these people. We need your help.

On April 23, LCC has scheduled a one-day workshop, Moving Ahead: Options for Unemployed Workers.

The event will present speakers, workshops and educational displays designed to assist the unemployed in coping with their situations during these economically troubled times. Similar conferences at Mt. Hood and Linn-Benton community colleges recently drew between 500 and 1,000 participants. Conferences are planned by other community colleges throughout Oregon. Almost all of the "help" has been volunteer. Won't you volunteer to make this day at LCC a successful event?

The conference is free to the unemployed. Free transportation will be provided by the Lane Transit District, to and from the conference. A free lunch will be served, and free daycare will be provided. (A tentative schedule is listed below.)

We need volunteers for tasks listed below. Please indicate area(s) in which you are willing to help. If you have questions, call Dick White, Counseling, ext. 2241, or Naomi Soules, Adult Education, ext. 7518 or 7519.

THE DAILY

Thursday, March 31, 1983

Published for the staff of Lane Community College.
Deadline for contributions 2 p.m. on the day before publication.
Editor: Kell Osborn, ext. 2201.

Lane Community College is an Equal Opportunity/
Affirmative Action/Section 503/Title IX institution.

OUTSTANDING INSTRUCTOR OF THE YEAR - Nominations for Instructor of the Year will be accepted until 4 p.m. today in the Office of Instruction. All instructors currently teaching at LCC, who have been here for at least one year, are eligible. Nomination forms can be obtained at the Office of Instruction.

RETIRING - A retirement reception is planned today for Wes Hayes, the day shift assistant custodian manager in Plant Services. Hayes has been with the college for about 10 years. The reception begins at 2:30 p.m. in Campus Services 230.

THREE PASS, FOUR FAIL - Community colleges had a so-so in Tuesday's elections around the state. Chemeketa in Salem won a one-year operating levy which did not increase the tax rate. Clatsop in Astoria won a one-year operating levy which raised the tax rate from 97 cents to $1.34, but which featured a rate below the average of recent years. Blue Mountain in Pendleton won a one-year operating levy which increased the tax rate by a nickle. None of the three has a tax base. In addition to Lane, losers included Linn-Benton at Albany, which had both A and B measures on the ballot; Treasure Valley in Ontario, which lost a B proposal; and Southwestern in Coos Bay, which lost A and B measures.

REELECTED - Steve John, Science, was reelected to a second four-year term on the Pleasant Hill School Board in Tuesday's election. He chairs Pleasant Hill's budget committee this year and last year chaired the school board.

RATIFIED - Karen Locke, Language Arts, reports that members of the Part-Time Teachers Association have ratified a 1983 contract.

COMEDY - Comedy-Rorschach Test, a comedy troupe starring LCC faculty members Bjo Ashwill of Counseling and Gary Russell of Math, performs an all-new show Friday. It will begin at 8 p.m. at the Condon Magnet Arts Elementary School. The cost is $2 at the door.

NUCLEAR NEWS - KLCC next week will air The Most Dangerous Game, three programs dealing with the nuclear arms issues. On Wednesday night, April 6, the station will air "Soviet Perspectives on Nuclear War" at 7:30. On Thursday, "Nuclear Face-offs in Europe" will be on at 8 p.m. And on Saturday, National Public Radio will assemble world experts (via satellite) for a roundtable discussion on nuclear war. That program will begin at 11 a.m. KLCC is at 89.7 on the fm dial in the Eugene-Springfield area.

RUNNER REMINDER - The first annual "Fools Run in the Rain" is slated for Saturday at 9 a.m., with one-mile and three-mile races starting at the Downtown Mall fountain (Eugene). Proceeds from the race will be used for scholarships to assist disabled individuals participate in community recreation activities. Entry forms are available at the Information Window (first floor, Administration Building) and from Dolores May in Counseling. The fee is $5, $6 on the day of the race. You can register at Eugene Parks and Recreation community centers or main office, 858 Pearl St. in Eugene.
