

THE DAILY

Monday, February 3, 1986

The Daily will be published today and Thursday this week. Deadline for Thursday's Daily is 5 p.m. Tuesday.

Daily editor: ext. 2591

COMMUNITY COLLEGE MONTH This is national Community College Month. Both President Reagan and Governor Atiyeh have signed proclamations recognizing the role community colleges play in education. The number of community colleges in the country has grown from a handful of primarily private two-year colleges at the turn of the century to the 1,221 institutions now listed in the most recent AACJC directory. Close to 55 percent of all postsecondary students in the United States are enrolled in community, technical, and junior colleges -- making these colleges the single largest component of all of higher education.

February is also Black History Month. Watch Thursday's Daily for details about LCC's and KLCC's observance of both.

For details of other activities this week, turn the page.

FACULTY NEGOTIATIONS Both the college and the faculty association received copies of the factfinder's report last Monday. The next step is for them to notify the factfinder of acceptance or rejection. If either side rejects the recommendations, they will resume mediation. As in all such cases, the factfinder is a labor lawyer appointed by the State Employment Relations Board mediator.

BOARD WORK SESSION Wednesday evening the board will meet in a work session. Items on the agenda include: discussion of whether the college wants to help host a regional meeting of the Association of Community College Trustees in 1988; adding a goal to the college plan dealing with international education; proposed administrative changes; and the mid-year attainment of college goals.

PROMOTIONS IN PROGRESS LCC's Training and Development Department currently is running small classified ads to locate unemployed wood products industry workers who would like to train for careers in sales. The same department is promoting a February 21 workshop designed for lawyers who represent dislocated workers. The session focuses on such topics as repossession, foreclosure, and budget counseling. For information about either, call the department at ext. 2223.

AT&T WANTS YOU TO KNOW AT&T has asked us to inform college staff who use phones reached through LCC's 747-4501 number, if you want to reach the campus operator dial 0. If you want to reach an AT&T operator dial 00.

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE Lane Education Service District is inviting interested educators to a workshop titled "International Trade and Oregon's Economy" sponsored by ESD and the Center for Economic Education at Oregon State University and to be held at Lane ESD February 19 from 8:30 am to 4 pm. The cost is $15. To register, call 689-6500 before February 17.

DENALI Denali, LCC's literary/arts magazine, is again accepting submissions of work from faculty and staff. Deadline for the winter issue is Feb. 11. Poetry, short fiction, essays, photography should be taken to Center 479.

-- THIS WEEK AT LCC --

Today, February 3

Representatives from both Southern Oregon and the University of Oregon will be available to talk to students in the cafeteria from 9 am until 1:30 pm.

Baby, a musical directed by Ed Ragozinno, has added a number of extra performances. Tickets are available for Monday through Thursday of this week. Show time is 8 p.m. Ticket price is $8. Call ext. 2202 for information.

Today is the last day to sign up for three staff development activities. Chuck Reich, a licensed tax consultant, will offer a free seminar, "Preparing Your Own Income Tax Return," Feb. 10 and 24 and March 3 from 6 to 8 p.m. in P.E. 205. Doug White of Health Occupations will describe what he learned by working on location at three Oregon companies this summer, February 5, from 2 to 3:30 p.m. in Apprenticeship 216. Staff also can sign up to learn CPR taught by Cecil Hodges. To learn more about these opportunities call Staff Development, ext. 2577, today.

This also is the last day to buy tickets for the Home Economic Department's classical cuisine dinner on campus this Thursday.

Wednesday, February 5

Brown Bag Talk, "How to Set up Your Own Network," with speaker Susan Baxter, president of the Alliance for Career Advancement, noon to 1:30 p.m., Boardroom.

Marty Sundstrom from Smith and Crakes will be available to help management and classified staff with insurance questions and claims, Personnel Services, noon to 1.

LCC's women's and men's basketball teams will play Clackamas here on campus. Women's game begins at 6 pm, men's at 8 pm.

Last day to sign up for the intramural program's Ski Adventure to be held February 7 at Willamette Pass Ski area. Call 2599 for details.

Watch out for scaffolding. Wednesday through Friday, Campus Services will be working to install protective screening to catch bird droppings over the east and west entrances of the Center Building. Campus Services apologizes in advance for any inconvenience caused by the necessary scaffolding.

Friday, February 7

Reception honoring Lin Cook Harpster and Dan White, whose sculptures will be on exhibit in the LCC Art Department Gallery through Feb. 21. Reception is from 8 to 10 pm in the gallery.

Saturday, February 8

LCC's women's and men's basketball teams will play Chemeketa, in Salem. Women's game starts at 6 p.m., men's at 8.

All week KLCC will air comprehensive National Public Radio coverage of the February 7 presidential elections in the Philippines. Tune in to "All Things Considered" weekdays at 4 pm and 6 pm and the Morning Edition weekdays from 5 to 9 am and Saturdays from 7 to 9 a.m.

THE DAILY

Thursday, February 6, 1986

The next Daily will be published Monday. Please submit information by 5 p.m. today.

Daily editor: ext. 2591

COMMUNITY COLLEGE MONTH NEWS In observance of February as National Community College Month, the college is focusing the spotlight on two campus events: the presentation of vocational educator awards next Wednesday night and a February 20 visit from Dale Parnell, LCC's founding president and now president of the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges in Washington, D.C.

Wednesday night's festivities will include a 6 p.m. reception and a 7 p.m. awards ceremony, both in the cafeteria. This year the committee is making a special point of honoring advisory committee members, in addition to LCC's own outstanding vocational instructors. President Turner will speak briefly and LCC board chairman Jim Pitney will present the awards. All staff are welcome. Details about Parnell's visit will be announced later; however, he is expected to announce that he is establishing a collection of his papers about community colleges to be housed at LCC.

VALENTINE SPECIAL Send a Val-o-gram to your sweetheart, friend, favorite teacher, and help the Child Development Center raise money to purchase a video camera and player. Messages will be delivered by costumed delivery person February 13 and 14. Or you can deliver the message yourself. Prices range from 25¢ to $5.50. You can sign up in the cafeteria on Monday, Feb. 10 from noon to 2 p.m, or outside the library on Tuesday, Feb. 11, from noon to 2 p.m. Or call the Child Development Center, ext. 2524, by Thursday.

MONDAY HAPPENINGS Janet Anderson will present her slide show about citizen diplomacy and her summer 1985 trip to the Soviet Union in Jerome Garger's noon class on Monday. Anyone who is interested is invited to Apprenticeship 223...The Women's Center is sponsoring an art show of work by LCC women students all next week in the Center and the Mezzanine Gallery in the library. They will have an open house on Wednesday, Feb. 12 (with refreshments) from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

BLACK HISTORY MONTH Throughout February, KLCC is featuring programming in observance of Black History Month. Today at 12:30 p.m., the station will air excerpts from historic speeches delivered during the Civil Rights Movement by the Reverend Martin Luther King and others. Next Thursday, Feb. 13, at the same time, KLCC will present profiles of Civil Rights Movement activists. Throughout the month, the station will air five minute modules featuring musicians reminiscing about their performances with Count Basie. The "Basie Dozen" will air at 3:30 p.m. today, tomorrow, and next Monday through Sunday.

HOW TO QUIT SMOKING The Oregon Research Institute will present two meetings on campus about How To Quit Smoking on Your Own. The first is today, Feb. 6, at 4 p.m. in Health 269. There will be another meeting on Monday, Feb. 10, at noon in PE 205.

Also, if you're thinking about quitting, why not enter the campuswide Tame Your Habit quit-smoking contest? If you're at the DTC come to the conference room today between 3 and 3:30 p.m. If you're on campus, come to Health 246 Monday between 4 and 5 p.m. The three steps to winning are: 1. Sign up. 2. Quit on February 12...the campuswide quit smoking day. 3. Verify your abstinence once a week to be eligible for weekly prizes and a grand prize weekend for two at Black Butte. For information, call Kurt Schultz, LCC Wellness Task Force, ext. 2263.

PURCHASING REMINDER Purchases that total over $10,000 must be put out to formal bid by the Purchasing Department. This applies to materials, services, and equipment. A formal bid transaction takes approximately five weeks to process before a purchase order can be issued: one week to prepare and advertise bid, two weeks for vendors to respond, and two weeks for the LCC board to award the bid. Please contact Purchasing as far ahead as possible for bid transactions.

SELF DEFEATING BEHAVIORS Do you have behaviors or attitudes that get in the way of you being the person you'd like to be? Register for "Eliminating Self-Defeating Behaviors," a workshop to be offered by Counselor Julia Poole, next Tuesday, February 11, from 3 to 4:30 p.m. in Apprenticeship 216. Call Staff Development by the end of the day tomorrow, Feb. 7, to register.

NEW EMPLOYEE ORIENTATION More than 50 employees hired since July 1 joined President Turner, the Vice Presidents, and other staff members at Tuesday's New Employee Orientation session in the Boardroom. The program included a showing of LCC's slide show, a campus tour, refreshments, and a prize drawing. Val Stone, Financial Services, won two tickets to Baby; Vicki Miller, Public Relations, and Karen Schwartzrock, Financial Aid, won lunches at the Renaissance Room; Bob Vogel, Electronics, won a gift certificate from the Bookstore, and Dan Forbess, Electronics, Darlene Thomasec, Health Occupations, and April Carey, Bookstore, won teeth cleanings by LCC students at the LCC Dental Clinic.

NAME THE FAIR CONTEST Feedback from last winter's Academic Fair was very positive, but there were suggestions to change the name. The Counseling Department is planning another fair for March 3 and 4 and wants your suggestions for a new name. Send suggestions to Charlene Blinn by Tuesday, Feb. 11. If you like the current name, let her know that, too. If the name is changed, the winner will get two free lunches in the Renaissance Room.

LEAP MOVES The Life Experience Assessment Program office has moved from campus to the Downtown Center. New extensions for LEAP staff are: Joanne Payne, 2947; Rick Burkhart, 2938; Twyla Long, 2939. The main number is 2939. Extension 2293 no longer exists.

THANKS I want to express my appreciation to all my friends and co-workers who dropped in to wish me well in my retirement. I also enjoyed seeing and visiting with all of you. Thanks, Edna Berdnt.

Daily editor: ext. 2591

BOARD MEETING SET FOR WEDNESDAY - The LCC Board of Education will meet this Wednesday for its regular monthly meeting. The public meeting will begin at 7:30 in the Board Room. On the agenda, under old business, are: budget committee appointment, presidential inauguration, and a proposal that LCC host the 1988 Association of Community College Trustees Pacific Region Seminar. On the agenda, under new business, are: advisory committee appointments and administrative changes. Staff reports will cover winter term enrollment, the current college budget, investments, safety and accidents, and other issues.

ART LECTURE - Dan White, the LCC art instructor whose work is on exhibit in the LCC Art Department gallery, will give a slide show/lecture on metalsmithing Tuesday, at 11:30 a.m. in the gallery.

FACULTY EVALUATIONS - Faculty comprehensive evaluations and 1986-87 contract recommendations for all probationary faculty employees are due in Personnel Services by noon Friday, Feb. 28. If you've misplaced your list of probationary faculty employees, or if you cannot meet the Feb. 28 deadline, please notify Lee Sowers in Personnel, ext. 2583, so that notices of intent not to rehire won't be sent any employees by mistake.

ART SHOW AND OPEN HOUSE - This Wednesday, the Women's Program is holding an open house in Center 217. There also will be a reception, 1 to 2 p.m., for artists participating in the women student art show - going on this week in the library's mezzanine gallery.

BASKETBALL - Watch for home games this Wednesday and Saturday with the LCC Titans. Women's games begin at 6 p.m. both nights, men's at 8 p.m. For information, call ext. 2215.

BOOKSTORE NOTE - The Bookstore announces a Valentine drawing on Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. You need not be present to win and, while you're entering the drawing, take a look at Valentine's Day goodies the Bookstore is selling. In other news, the Bookstore is selling hot, fresh popcorn on Wednesdays in February.

RASMUSSEN TO RETIRE - Gerald Rasmussen, LCC's vice president for Instruction and one of the college's earliest employees, will retire June 30 after 21 years with Lane. Rasmussen was hired in 1965 as a history instructor and Social Science Department head, became associate dean of instruction in 1967, dean of instruction in 1974, and vice president two years ago. "I've looked at my life," says Rasmussen, who will be 60 in July, "and it's time for me to retire."

Rasmussen was among the handful of Board of Education members and staff who in late 1965 toured California community colleges and then came back to create the educational plan which since has guided the development of this college academically and architecturally. Rasmussen's retirement plans include some research and writing in history, an active role in the Danish-American Heritage Society, and some paid part-time instructional projects - possibly in foreign countries.

RETENTION TIP - Instructors: When students have problems in your classes, you should request an appointment with them. Don't wait for them to contact you; too often they simply will fade away, thinking they can't catch up with missed classes or assignments when that may not be true. With your encouragement, they'll be more likely to stay in class.

--Retention Committee

FORMER LCC STAFFER DIES - A graveside service was held last Friday for Roger J. Houglum, a member of LCC's first faculty and a pioneer in local radio. Houglum, 74, died Feb. 4. He is survived by his wife, Ladelle (née Mobley), daughter and son, and sister and brother. Houglum was on the original staff of the Eugene Vocational School and in 1965 became a member of LCC's first faculty. He remained here until his semi-retirement in 1976, and kept office hours until poor health forced his retirement a few months ago.

Houglum established KRVM, the first public FM radio station in the Pacific Northwest, in 1947. He formed public radio station KLCC in 1967, and assisted in the development of public radio station KWAX in 1951.

WELLNESS SPACE - Do you know that Wednesday, Feb. 12, is a campuswide quit-smoking day? For those of you who have quit and want to make it permanent, there's "Preventing Relapse: How to Stay Off Cigarettes" on Thursday, Feb. 13, from 12 noon to 1:30 p.m. (Health 105) or Tuesday, Feb. 18, from 4 to 5:30 p.m. (Health 269).

--Wellness Task Force

TELECONFERENCE ON TERRORISM - For insight into international terrorism, plan to attend a teleconference happening on the main campus this Wednesday afternoon. "International Terrorism: Is the U.S. Next?" is being coordinated by students Rob Ward and Stephan Langdon of the Associated Students of LCC. Teleconference panelists include Earouf Sayed Abdul El Reedy, Egyptian ambassador to the United States, and Lauri Milroy, Harvard University Center for Middle East Studies. The teleconference is planned from 3 to 5:30 p.m. in Forum 309. For information, call ext. 2330.

PLEASE NOTE - The graduation committee is meeting this Friday, Feb. 14.

LCC RECEIVES UNITED WAY GOLD AWARD - During the United Way Campaign Celebration (Jan. 31), LCC was presented with a Gold Award, "In Recognition of Superior Achievement in Support of United Way of Lane County." LCC campaign workers Sue Kangas (classified), George Alvergue (faculty) and Bill Porter (management) were individually recognized. Thanks again to all LCC staff members who contributed so generously to the human service needs of Lane County residents. --Bill Porter, Office of Instruction

RETIRED DEPARTMENT HEAD IN HOSPITAL - Darwin (Mac) McCarroll, former head of the Electronics Department, is at Sacred Heart General Hospital, recovering from a stroke. He needs to hear from and see his LCC friends. To give him encouragement, you may reach him at 341-3185 or room 585 of Sacred Heart.

THANKS - The Industrial Technology Program wishes to thank Nan Poppe and her entire Dislocated Worker Program staff for their assistance in placing people in our various programs. The welding staff, in particular, wishes to commend them for screening and helping these people. The students are enthusiastic and hard working. We really appreciate your dedication. --John Shuster and Welding Staff

IMPRESSIVE STATISTICS - What happens to High School Completion students? Well, graduates of that program continued to enroll in 9,454 college classes between 1981 and 1985. A total of 882 High School Completion graduates entered our credit programs. (Thanks to Chuck Lamb of Data Processing for these statistics.)

CANDIDATES ON KLCC - Alan Siporin, host of KLCC's "Blue Plate Special" at noon on weekdays, will present in-depth interviews with the three announced Democratic primary candidates for U.S. Rep. Jim Weaver's seat. Today, Siporin will interview Peter DeFazio, currently a Lane County commissioner representing Springfield. On Tuesday, Siporin will talk with State Sen. Margie Hendriksen of Eugene. On Wednesday, he'll interview State Sen. Bill Bradbury of Coos Bay. Interviews with Republican primary candidates are planned.

IT'S TODAY - Representatives from Linfield College will be in the cafeteria from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. today.

ANSWER

The ANSWER program gives you an opportunity to ask questions about fringe benefits, working conditions, management decisions and policies, salaries and anything else that affects how you feel about LCC.

The ANSWER program keeps your identity strictly confidential, and forwards your questions to appropriate administrators and supervisors.

To take advantage of ANSWER, look for the ANSWER questionnaire in your work area or call ext. 2591.

THE UN- DAILY

Don't forget: Next Monday is Presidents Day.

Tuesday, Feb. 11, 1986
It's Black History Month!

CAREER TALK THIS WEEK - To learn about LCC health occupations training programs and programs at other Oregon colleges, plan to attend a career talk this Wednesday at noon. Doug White, head of the LCC Health Occupations Department, is the featured speaker. The talk will take place in the Board Room. Tell your students about this opportunity to learn about health care trends and their impact on jobs.

PHONE BOOKS - The 1986 Pacific Northwest Bell telephone directories are available from Property Control. Because of limited staffing, department representatives are asked to bring their old books in for exchange on a one-for-one basis. Departments will be allowed the number of books on telephone listing at Property Control. Additional directories may be obtained from our supply of International Publishers directories. PLEASE try to exchange books between 10 a.m. and 12 noon and 2 to 4 p.m. For more information, please contact Bob Cudmore at ext. 2571. Thank you.

CLOSING FRIDAY - Student Records will close at noon on Friday, Feb. 14, for inservice.

VALENTINE'S PARTY ON - The Community Education Valentine's Day party is ON for Friday, Feb. 14, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the Red Lion Motor Inn, 3280 Gateway. The cost is $5 per person, which includes hor d'oeuvres and a chance for a door prize (dinner for two). Such a deal! Everyone is invited. Call Debra Carroll at ext. 2923 by Wednesday, Feb. 12, if you'll be joining the fun.

NIGHT LIFE AT LCC - The spring term issue of LCC's Evening Edition, a quarterly newsletter for evening students, is in the works. The publication features information of interest to students attending classes on the main campus at night, including news about activities outside the classroom (club meetings, cultural events). If you have some ideas for brief news items that would appeal to evening students, please pass them on to Vicki Miller, Public Relations, ext. 2268, by Friday, Feb. 14.

THE IDEA EXCHANGE - The Idea Exchange provides staff an opportunity to make suggestions for improving the way LCC operates. The Idea Exchange Committee which considers staff suggestions, and recommends awards for those accepted, is off and running. You should be hearing more about the program as time goes on. Members of the committee are: Steve Barton, KLCC; Jodee Crilley, ASLCC; Hank Douda, Employee Relations; Cecil Hodges, Health & PE; Jessica Overturf, Training and Development; Kristina Pahle, ASLCC; Bill Porter, Office of Instruction; Penny Schlueter, Social Science; Dee Tipping, Student Services; Shan Titus, Admissions; and Betty Vail, Counseling. Julie Aspinwall-Lamberts, Sue Jordan and Sally Gover are providing staff support from the Productivity Center. Please contact any of these committee members for information, and to pass on questions and concerns about The Idea Exchange program.

TIME MANAGEMENT - Do you need a little help managing your time? Most people's problems with time are really decision problems. If you'd like to learn ways to make the most useful decisions about the way you use those 24 hours a day we all share each day, plan to attend "Time and Time Again," a two-session workshop offered by Pat John and Bonny Ross of Study Skills. It begins Wednesday, Feb. 19, and continues the following Wednesday, from 2 to 3:30 p.m. in Center 420. This activity will provide you with some hands-on techniques you can take right back to your office and try. Please be a sweetheart and preregister before 5 p.m. Friday, Feb. 14, by calling Staff Development at ext. 2577.

Don't let time
take control.

LCC is an equal opportunity/- affirmative action institution.

Deadline for submissions to The Daily is 5 p.m., two days before publication.

A-V USE AT DTC - Personnel re-assignments at the Downtown Center have made necessary a change in procedures for obtaining audio-visual equipment for use in the Downtown Center (and an increase in lead time to one week!). Instructions and forms are available from Joyce Kofford, Learning Resource Center, ext. 2220, or F. Lynn Richmond, Downtown Center, ext. 2900.

TAX TIME - Federal tax forms and instructions are available in the Learning Resource Center (library). These materials are kept near the reference desk.

FOR THOSE WHO HELP DISLOCATED WORKERS - Lane County has been hit hard by the economic recession. Many area residents have been affected by plant closures and are not prepared to deal with the problems of financial distress. In response to this need, LCC, Lane County Legal Aid Services, Inc., and the National Consumer Law Center are offering a one-day seminar for attorneys, counselors and social service personnel who are committed to providing representation for unemployed, displaced workers. The seminar will take place at the Valley River Inn on Friday, Feb. 21, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The $25 cost includes lunch. For information, contact Training and Development at ext. 2223.

MASS FOR LENT - Campus Ministry announces the mass schedule for Lent:

PE 205 - Feb. 12, 12, 14, 18, 19, 24, 27 and 28; March 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 10, 11, 12, 13 and 14.

Science 121 - Feb. 20, 21 and 26. Each mass will begin at 12:10 p.m.

STAFF DEVELOPMENT ACCEPTS ADVICE - The Staff Development Advisory Committee soon will begin planning training and development activities for fall inservice. If you have any ideas you'd like to see implemented, contact Staff Development (ext. 2577, Administration 114) or any of the following committee members: Jo Anderson, Flight Tech, ext. 689-2021; Kent Gorham, Counseling, ext. 2204; Dan Hodges, Testing, ext. 2324; Jay Jones, Student Activities, ext. 2336; Sue Jordan, Productivity Center, ext. 2580; Duane Mick, Campus Services, ext. 2568; Ron Mitchell, Social Science, ext. 2427; Dick Reid, Performing Arts, ext. 2647; Jerry Sirois, Counseling, ext. 2329; Sharon Thomas, English and Foreign Language, ext. 2419; Darlene Turpin, Personnel Services, ext. 2586; and Peter Watt, Industrial Technology Programs, ext. 2504. By the way, one more manager from the instructional departments is needed to provide effective campuswide representation on the committee. Committee meetings are held on the second and fourth Mondays of the month, from 3 to 4:30 p.m. If you're interested in serving, please contact Barbara Mathewson at ext. 2577.

THANKS - Thanks, again to all of you, from the Valley River Rotary Club, for the many cancelled stamps you have provided for our program to help children in underprivileged countries. The response has been terrific! Our program, however, is now ended, so no more cancelled stamps are needed.

Thanks!

--Jack Carter, Student Services

The Daily: published for LCC staff
Editor: Keli M. Osborn, x2591

STAFF, ADVISORS RECOGNIZED FOR VOC ED CONTRIBUTIONS - Congratulations to those recognized Wednesday evening for their outstanding contributions to vocational education.

The LCC staff honored were Brenda Jennings, an instructor in the Office Administration program for 14 years; Linda Riepe, coordinator of LCC's Early Childhood Education program since 1974; and Kimberly Hayes, a vocational education trainer in LCC's Work Activity Center for almost 13 years.

Jennings has played a leadership role in integrating word processing into LCC's keyboarding curriculum, and she's been heavily involved in developing three one-credit word processing courses. Riepe teaches, oversees three development centers (including a new one for infants), and coordinates curriculum for the Early Childhood Education program. Hayes works with clients - mentally retarded/developmentally disabled, young adults - at the Work Activity Center. She was cited for building esteem among clients and staff.

This year, the college also made a special point of honoring members of lay advisory committees - recognizing Roger Noah, a member of LCC's Small Business Management Advisory Committee, and Larry Cummings, a member of LCC's Appliance-Refrigeration Advisory Committee.

Noah is a certified public accountant with Jones and Roth, P.C., of Eugene. He has been actively involved with LCC's Small Business Management program since its inception and has provided strong leadership in his role as chairperson of that program's committee for the past seven years.

Cummings owns and operates Broken Appliance Service of Springfield. Working with the Whirlpool Corporation, he's helped LCC acquire appliances for student use. He's described as a real "brush beater" for the college.

Congratulations to all!

(And thanks to those who organized the recognition process and awards ceremony.)

COLLEGE CATALOG UPDATE - Personnel Services recently asked faculty and staff to provide information about their employment credentials for use in LCC's college catalog. Personnel will continue to update its files and urges those who received forms to correct and return them. However, there is not enough time to compile the information for use in this spring's catalog as originally planned. Thanks for your cooperation.

IT'S COMMUNITY COLLEGE MONTH - February has been proclaimed National Community College Month by President Ronald Reagan and the U.S. Congress. Oregon Governor Vic Atiyeh also has given February the nod for community colleges, as has the LCC Board of Education. For some telling facts about two-year colleges, watch The Daily. Here's one fact:

Colleges have estimated that for every $1 of tax support provided, they return $4 to the economy.

INEXPENSIVE JUSTICE - On Thursday, Feb. 27, LCC will host a nationwide satellite teleconference, "Inexpensive Justice: Using the Small Claims Court." The conference is planned from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Board Room. The cost is $65, and preregistration by Feb. 21 is required. The conference should be of special interest to business owners and managers looking for a way to solve business problems dealing with collections on bad debts and property claims. For information, call Adult Education at ext. 2252.

PERSONNEL ITEMS FROM BOARD MEETING - The LCC Board of Education met Wednesday night and okayed the following hire, resignation and retirements:

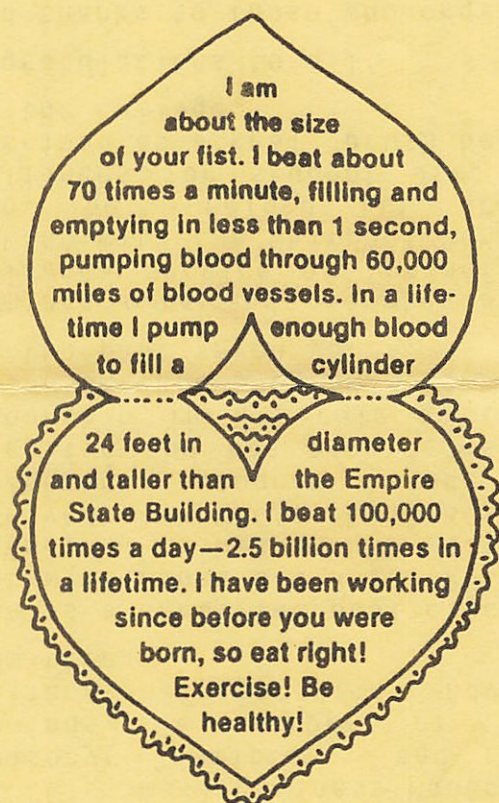

Kay L. Malmberg has been appointed operations supervisor for Financial Services. Bruce Bibby will resign in June as designer/technical director in Performing Arts.

Yesterday's Daily has been updated for today.

Published for Lane Community College staff.

ALL-FACULTY MEETING - Faculty are asked to attend a meeting scheduled at 4 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 20, in Forum 308. The topic: bargaining impasse and what step comes next.

PARNELL TO VISIT THIS WEEK - LCC's founding president, Dale Parnell, is scheduled to visit the college this Thursday. A 10:30 a.m. meeting will take place in the LCC Theatre. Parnell will speak on "The National Agenda for Community Colleges" -- connecting high schools and community colleges, promoting the associate degree and creating partnerships with employers. Also planned Thursday is the announcement that the LCC library will house the Dale Parnell Archive.

BOARD MEETING REPORT - Here's a late-breaking report on last Wednesday's LCC Board of Education meeting.

Enrollment: The board learned that the actual number of students attending LCC this year has not changed significantly since last year, but more of these students are attending part time -- which affects a budget built on full-time-equivalent enrollment.

Budget: The college is planning about $600,000 in cuts during the remainder of this school year, because of the currently projected shortfall of about $552,000. The Office of Instruction is slated for about $300,000 in cuts. Vice President Gerald Rasmussen says there will be no involuntary staff reductions. About $200,000 of the instructional cuts will come through reducing the number of part-time teachers in light of the projected enrollment decrease spring term. Other budget cuts are planned in Student Services, the President's Complex, Administrative Services and capital outlay.

Presidential Inauguration: There will be no presidential inauguration, as had been suggested and initially considered by LCC board members.

BOARD MEETING REPORT, cont. - The board approved most of President Richard M. Turner's proposed administrative changes, including the addition of a fourth dean and restructured assignments of current deans in the Office of Instruction. However, the board asked the president to explore alternatives to hiring full-time legal counsel.

SPREAD

Classes are not to be cancelled, but interested employees should be allowed the opportunity to attend Parnell's talk.

CAMPUSWIDE COFFEE - Join Student Services for fun, food and prizes at the College Coffee Hour planned this Thursday, from 3 to 4 p.m. in the Center Building's second-floor lobby.

CONGRATULATIONS - Congratulations to Esther Eno, Business, and Alice Kaseberg, Math, for their election to the SELCO Board of Directors. The election took place Wednesday, Feb. 12, at SELCO's annual meeting. Both women will serve on the board for three years. SELCO is the School Employees of Lane County Credit Union.

MORE CONGRATULATIONS - Al Owens, coordinator of LCC's Siuslaw Area Center, was named a Paul Harris Fellow by the Florence Rotary Club. Paul Harris was the club's founder. "In our club, when we need something done, we can always count on Al," says Paul Skinner, editor of the group's newsletter.

MULTICULTURAL CENTER OPEN HOUSE - The Associated Students of LCC and the Multicultural Center are holding an open house for the center this Thursday, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. On the agenda: Indian drums, 10:30-11:30; cafeteria; skit with LCC counselor Bjo Ashwill, 10:30-11; John Klobas and accordion music, 11:15-12 noon; international slide show, 1-1:30; origami demonstration, 1:30-2; more slide shows, 2-4. All events in the Social Science lobby, fourth floor Center, unless otherwise indicated. Refreshments will be served in Center 409, from 1 to 3.

WELLNESS SPACE - You nonsmokers may not have heard, but you also are eligible to win weekly prizes in the campuswide Tame Your Habit contest. All participating quitters in the contest are encouraged to nominate each week a nonsmoker who has been especially supportive to their quitting efforts. These nominees are eligible for a Good Buddy drawing each week.

What makes a good buddy? If you're an ex-smoker, you probably remember what was helpful and what wasn't when you were quitting. Some tips: Notice when your quitter isn't smoking. Give that person verbal encouragement. Offer your ear when your quitter is fighting an urge. Avoid criticism, skepticism, nagging and other negative, nonsupportive behavior and talk.

LCC IN THE LEAGUE - The college's membership in the League for Innovation in the Community College has been renewed.

FACULTY-COLLEGE NEGOTIATIONS - On Friday, the LCC Education Association held a press conference to discuss the collapse of contract talks with the college. The impasse came after about six hours of mediation and bargaining last Thursday. Two weeks ago, faculty approved -- and the college rejected -- a factfinder's report with recommendations for faculty workload, salary increases and early retirement. Bargaining is suspended for now. But the mediator has tentatively scheduled a Feb. 27 meeting between the two sides, according to Hank Doua of LCC Employee Relations. If you read Saturday's Register-Guard, you know the earliest legal strike date for faculty is March 10.

CANDIDATE SPEAKS - Candidates are visiting campus again, and the ASLCC sponsors a visit this Thursday by Ed Fadeley, who's a Democrat running for Oregon governor. His talk will begin at 1 p.m. in Forum 309.

BROWN BAG THIS WEEK - This Thursday, from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Board Room, the Women's program sponsors speakers from FLAG -- Federation of Parents and Friends of Lesbian and Gay Children. They'll discuss issues for parents in understanding and accepting their gay and lesbian children. For information, call ext. 2353.

EXPANDING HORIZONS - LCC is one of the sponsors for Expanding Your Horizons, a conference for young women, grades 7 through 12, planned at the University of Oregon this Saturday. The conference is designed to increase participation of women in mathematics, science and nontraditional careers. For information, call Alice Kaseberg or Jill McKenney at ext. 2392, or Mabel Armstrong at ext. 2446.

FACULTY COMPREHENSIVE EVALUATIONS - Faculty comprehensive evaluations and 1986-87 contract recommendations for all probationary faculty employees are due in Personnel Services by noon on Friday, Feb. 28. If you've misplaced your list of probationary faculty employees, or if you cannot meet the Feb. 28 deadline, please notify Lee Sowers in Personnel, ext. 2583, so that notices of intent not to rehire won't be sent to any employees by mistake.

NETWORK WITH UO ADMINISTRATORS - LCC women interested in networking with women in administrative positions at the University of Oregon are invited to bring lunch to the Renaissance Room this Friday, from noon to 1:30 p.m. For information, call Kate Barry at ext. 2264.

IDEA EXCHANGE - When submitting ideas to The Idea Exchange Committee, please remember to make your ideas as complete, concise and clear as possible. Provide details, because the committee must have an accurate and clear picture of your idea for proper evaluation. Submission forms are available through the Productivity Center, ext. 2576.

ANSWER - When submitting your questions to ANSWER, please include your name and an address to which your answer can be sent. The ANSWER coordinator doesn't know what to do with notes left on her desk, and would like to help ANSWER work for you. Call ext. 2591 if you need information or an ANSWER form.

ALTERNATIVE PLAN UNDER DISCUSSION

- In a Tuesday afternoon meeting with instructional department heads, President Richard M. Turner III presented an alternative plan for organizing the Office of Instruction. Under this new proposal, he would eliminate the fourth dean position in favor of a new, second staff assistant to the vice president for Instruction.

(In a Jan. 23 all-staff meeting and Feb. 5 work session with LCC board members, the president had proposed the fourth dean to oversee curriculum development and evaluation of all LCC credit programs. The LCC Board of Education, during its regular meeting of Feb. 12, endorsed the president's administrative changes.)

The president cites the following features of the alternative plan (staff assistant, not fourth dean):

1. Department heads report directly to the vice president for Instruction.
2. The fourth dean -- dean of Arts, Sciences and Technologies -- is eliminated.
3. Rather than a line administrator, who supervises the department heads and reports to the vice president for Instruction, provision is made to add a lower-paid staff administrator when the specific need is determined by the new vice president.
4. Stated concerns of some department heads about the number of administrative levels are addressed and more direct communication is provided.
5. Administrative costs are minimized, resulting in greater institutional efficiency.

After getting reactions from department heads Tuesday, Turner asked them to return to faculty and staff for input that will in turn be forwarded to him before a final decision is made.

PARNELL REVISITED - Bad timing, bad weather and a lack of communication resulted in the poor advance notice of Dale Parnell's talk on campus Thursday morning. We apologize to staff. For those who missed the talk, here are some highlights:

PARNELL REVISITED, cont. - Introduced by President Turner as "the community college man of the '80s," Parnell launched into a discussion of the national agenda for community colleges. There are three things we should do, he said:

1. Reach out to the high schools.
2. Promote the associate degree.
3. Develop better partnerships with employers.

Parnell said community colleges must take care of the new three Rs -- recruitment, retention and resource development -- or end up spending efforts on retrenchment.

Parnell discusses this "national agenda" in his 1985 book, "The Neglected Majority." For information on the book, call ext. 2591 or ext. 2303.

On another note: The visit of Parnell -- LCC's founding president and current president of the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges -- provided the opportunity to announce the establishment of the Dale Parnell Collection at LCC. Our library will house the papers of Parnell (and, possibly, others) on the community college movement.

COMMUNITY COLLEGE FACTS - It's still National Community College Month. Here are a few facts:

The number of community colleges in the United States has grown from eight in 1900 to more than 1,200 today. Ninety percent of Americans live within commuting distance of a community college. About 30,000 different people take one or more classes at LCC each year.

PROGRAM GRADUATES FIFTEEN - Fifteen students will graduate from LCC's Office and Accounting Skills Training Program in a ceremony set for Monday night, Feb. 24, on the LCC main campus. The ceremony, which will begin at 7:30 in Forum 309, is open to the public. Refreshments will be served. For information, call Training and Development at ext. 2223.

(next column)

WELLNESS SPACE - Space still is available for the cross-country ski weekend for LCC staff and friends at Blue Lake Lodge Feb. 28 through March 2. For only $30 a person, participants receive wonderful skiing, ice skating, warm cabins, outstanding food and transportation. The group will leave LCC at about 5:30 p.m. next Friday and return at about 6 p.m. on Sunday. Call Rick Burkhart at ext. 2938 for reservations.

EXCHANGE PROGRAM DEADLINE NEARS - It's that time of year again...time for students to submit their applications for exchange with Nagasaki Wesleyan Junior College. March 31 is the deadline for applications, which can be obtained from Mason Davis, international student counselor. For information, call him at ext. 2239.

PROMOTIONS IN PROGRESS - If you missed it, take another look at Sunday's Register-Guard for a large display ad placed by the LCC Foundation. The ad was published to recognize the hundreds of community residents who volunteer time to our advisory committees. ...A couple of events are coming in March, and promotional efforts are underway. One is the Kidsfood Faire, sponsored by the LCC Home Economics Department and dental programs, as well as numerous local groups and agencies. The event will feature food tasting, films and displays about such issues as teeth care, food and behavior, picky eaters, eating disorders and more. The other event is a visit from dancer/choreographer Bill Evans, who'll give workshops at LCC. He'll also give a free lecture/demonstration on March 12. The Health & PE/Athletics Department sponsors. Stay tuned....Naomi Soules of Adult Ed is leading a five-day trip to EXPO 86 in British Columbia this July. The trip, which includes lodging and transportation, is being promoted.

BOARD ELECTION BY MAIL THIS TIME - For the first time, many area voters will be voting by mail ballot in the LCC's Board of Education election March 25. In Lane County, ballots due to arrive in homes March 10 are to be returned to Lane County Elections by 8 p.m. on election day, March 25. Voters in Linn, Douglas and Benton counties will vote by paper ballot at precinct locations on March 25.

Four candidates are in the LCC board races. Incumbent Mary Unruh is running unopposed for the Zone 5 seat, which represents central Eugene south of the Willamette River and east of City View Street. Unruh is a financial consultant with Shearson Lehman/American Express.

In an at-large race, there are three candidates: Robert Bowser and Martin E. Lewis of Eugene, and Gordon Wahto of Springfield. Bowser, owner of A.E. Associates, an engineering and construction management company, is the incumbent. Lewis, a second-year student at LCC, is a member of the Rubicon Society, director of the ASLCC's Student Resource Center, and former intern with state Rep. Mary M. Burrows of Eugene. Wahto, an orthopedics specialist at Sacred Heart General Hospital, has a strong interest in career education.

WELLNESS SPACE - The TAME YOUR HABIT contest is underway, and we have winners! As you know, if you've been reading this column for the last few weeks, the Wellness Task Force is sponsoring several events this term to encourage and help LCC employees to quit smoking. These events are put together by the Oregon Research Institute.

LCC employees who quit smoking during the time specified by TAME YOUR HABIT contest rules are eligible for drawings for valuable prizes, so long as they stay off cigarettes. The first drawing for "Quitter of the Week" was held last Friday and Diane Engle's name was drawn. The Counseling Department staff member has been off cigarettes for nine days. Engle won two tickets to the LCC production of "The Taming of the Shrew" and a gift certificate for dessert for two at the Excelsior Cafe. All quitters were encouraged to nominate for a separate award a supportive nonsmoker. Duane Mick of Campus Services won the first "Good Buddy" award. He was nominated by Sharon Mastin of the Downtown Center Business Education Center. Mick won a gift certificate for a free pie from Marie Callender's. Congratulations to Diane Engle and thanks to Duane Mick.

Drawings for prizes will be held weekly until March 12. The grand prize of a weekend at Black Butte will be awarded March 12 to one quitter who has stayed off cigarettes for the entire month. For information about the contest or efforts to help smokers quit, please call 484-2123, ext. 130.

FREE CONCERTS THIS WEEK - The LCC president and several faculty members will perform in concert tonight. The free concert begins at 8 in the Blue Door Theatre. The program will include: Julie Harlow, harpsichordist, and Nena Couch, dancer, in Baroque dances; Larry Brezicka, oboist, and Barbara Myrick, harpsichordist; Wendy Zaro-Fisher, soprano; Raymond Mitchell, guitarist, and Myrick, flutist; Alice Burke, flutist; and Connie Dolan, soprano, and Chela Newton, pianist. The concert will conclude with a performance on two pianos by Myrick and Richard M. Turner, III.

Another free concert is set for Thursday night, at 8 in the Blue Door Theatre. Several small, student ensembles will perform pieces, including three originals by student Rico Perez. A performance of Mozart's Piano Quartet in G minor will include musicians on the piano, violin, viola and cello.

TELL STUDENTS ABOUT JOBS - Crater Lake Lodge and Oregon Caves representatives will be on the main campus this Wednesday, interviewing for summer resort positions. Individuals should contact the Student Employment Service for an application and interview appointment.

CAREER TALK - Career opportunities through Army, Air Force and Navy ROTC will be discussed in this Wednesday's career talk, sponsored by the Career Information Center at noon in the Board Room.

CLOSING - Financial Services will be closed from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. on Thursday.

PUBLIC INPUT SOUGHT FOR MT. PISGAH PLAN - The University of Oregon Landscape Architecture Department is helping Lane County Parks produce a recreation master plan for the Buford Recreational Area at Mt. Pisgah. Public input concerning the future of the park is welcomed and will help the planning. Please send your comments and suggestions by Friday to: Mt. Pisgah Master Plan, Department of Landscape Architecture, University of Oregon, Eugene 97403. You also may attend public meetings of the Parks Advisory Board on the fourth Wednesday of every month at the Department of Public Works, 3040 N. Delta Highway in Eugene.

ACADEMIC FAIR COMING RIGHT UP - The Academic Fair is set for next Monday and Tuesday, March 3 and 4, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. both days in the cafeteria. Twenty departments are scheduled to participate, so students should be able to obtain lots of good information that will help them prepare for spring term. The purpose of the fair is to take information about programs and courses directly to students. There will be videos, exhibits, handouts, and helpful staff on hand.

COFFEE PRIZES ANNOUNCED - Congratulations to the following staff members who won door prizes at last Thursday's College Coffee hosted by Student Services: Jill Bradley, Women's Program; Joan English, Personnel Services; Mildred Holly, Curriculum Approval; George Maumary, Disabled Student Services; Dee Tipping, Student Services; and Judy Ward, Health & PE/Athletics. Enjoy!

OTHER RECENT PRIZES REVEALED - The following participants won prizes at January's College Coffee: Dan Murphy of Food Services took home a jar of jelly beans, while Marjorie Bassett, Health & PE, and Ann Barrett, Media Productions, received certificates for free teeth cleaning from the Dental Clinic. Tarley Barber of Health Occupations won another contest, with Shirley Pearson of the Office of Instruction and Paul Colvin of Campus Services following close behind. All three received gift certificates for the Renaissance Room. Cindi Tedder of Mass Communication won a box of truffles, while Paul Colvin, Tarley Barber and Jim Bacon of English and Foreign Language received family sports passes.

The Bookstore rewarded the following participants in the Valentine's Day drawing: Susan Middleton for her sweetheart, Jim Middleton; Ben Nabos for his sweetheart, Mary Quiambao; and Steve Lange, Archives, for his sweetheart, Vickie Radek.

FACULTY COMPREHENSIVE EVALUATIONS DUE - Friday, Feb. 28, is the deadline for submitting faculty comprehensive evaluations and 1986-87 contract recommendations for all probationary faculty employees. For information, contact Lee Sowers in Personnel Services, ext. 2583.

OFF-CAMPUS WORKSHOPS - The Bright Wings Cancer Support Center is presenting two March workshops of possible interest to LCC staff. On March 1, the center offers Getting the Most Out of Life. On March 15, it's My Friend Has Cancer. What Can I Do? For information and preregistration, call Bright Wings at 342-6053.

LCC Staff Development has information on other workshops, which include: Time Power, March 11 in Portland; Leadership and Supervisory Skills for Women, March 18 in Eugene; Achieving Excellence, March 21 in Corvallis; Communication and Image Skills for Today's Business Woman, March 26 in Portland; Interviewing People, March 27 in Portland; and Professional Development for Secretaries & Administrative Assistants, April 25 in Portland.

TIME AND TIME AGAIN - The time management workshop, Time and Time Again, scheduled to begin last Wednesday, will be held this Wednesday. You'll recall that LCC was snowed out last week. There's still room in the workshop for participants. It's scheduled in Center 420 from 2 to 3:30 p.m. Call Staff Development by 5 p.m. today to reserve your spot.

RESOLVE WORK CONFLICTS - Attention managers and assistants: If you'd like some tips on how to work as a team to resolve conflicts in our work area, plan to attend Battleground or Common Ground. The workshop will be offered Wednesday, March 5, from 2 to 3:30 p.m. in Apprenticeship 216. Presenters Doug White and Jane Wojcik of Health Occupations will share their insights. Reserve your spot by Monday, March 3, by calling Staff Development at ext. 2577.

FACULTY MEETINGS - An LCC Education Association strategy committee meeting is planned at 3 p.m. this Wednesday in Science 122. On Thursday, an all-faculty meeting has been called. It will begin at 4 p.m. in Forum 308. The meeting will include a report on bargaining and straw votes on possible action.

PROMOTIONS IN PROGRESS - Radio stations KDUK and KUGN will be airing advertisements for LCC over the next couple of weeks. These are timed with the arrival of the spring class schedule, due to arrive in area homes around March 7. In addition to these paid ads, we'll have two interviews each on KDUK and KUGN. Listen for your colleagues on Monday and Tuesday mornings on the KUGN Morning Show, bright and early after 7 a.m. The timing of the KDUK interviews isn't yet known.

THANKS - Thanks to the staff of Printing/Graphics for their enormous help throughout this term. They've really bent over backwards on several projects. Thanks to Loreta Pritchard, Gary Anderson, Edna Kennel, Darlene Wilson, Ram Rattan and Pauline Mullins.
--David Wienecke, Campus Services

LCC STAFF PRESENTERS AT CONFERENCE - What are the odds of one program having four of its instructional staff of five being accepted as presenters at a national conference? Four instructors -- Kristin Bach, Maxine Frauman, Norman Johnson and Annick Todd -- from the English as a Second Language program will be presenters at the national TESOL conference in Anaheim, California, during the week of March 3. TESOL is Teachers of English to Speakers of Other Languages. Because of budget constraints, the college is only able to underwrite expenses for one instructor. The others have demonstrated unusual professional commitment and have paid their own way in order to attend.
--Sherry Ferlaak, ESL

CLASSIFIED NOTE - Classified staff who are concerned about their role in the event of a faculty strike or other action should know that the LCC Employees Federation is watching the situation closely. LCCEF President Joyce Kofford reports she will send out an informative flyer, if and when it is needed.

ACADEMIC FAIR - Faculty and staff are asked to tell students about the Academic Fair set for Monday and Tuesday, March 3 and 4. This will be students' opportunity to ask questions and obtain information that will help them register for classes spring term. Twenty departments are participating. Watch for the fair in the cafeteria.

FREE CONCERT TONIGHT - Performing Arts offers a free concert at 8 tonight in the Blue Door Theatre.

CLOSING TODAY - Financial Services will be closed from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. today.

FACULTY MEETING TODAY - The LCC Education Association has called an all-faculty meeting for this afternoon. It will begin at 4 in Forum 308.

STUDENT ART SHOW CONTINUES - The Multicultural Center's recent open house was so successful that its student art show has been extended through the end of this week. Drop by Center 409 to see sculptures, paintings and American Indian beadwork done by LCC students.

CURRICULUM MEETING TODAY - The Curriculum Approval Committee will meet at 3:30 p.m. today in PE 205. On the agenda are discussions of proposed nursing courses, a course revision for a legal secretarial class, and a proposed workshop in anatomy and physiology.

WILDLIFE AND WESTERN ART IN LIBRARY - Wildlife and western acrylic paintings by local artist Ken McClellan are on display in the mezzanine gallery of the Learning Resource Center (library) through March 28.

FACULTY EVALUATIONS DUE THIS FRIDAY - Faculty comprehensive evaluations and 1986-87 contract recommendations for all probationary faculty employees are due in Personnel Services by noon on Friday. For information, call Lee Sowers at ext. 2583.

INSURANCE VISITOR - Marty Sundstrom of Smith & Crakes is scheduled to be on campus next Wednesday, March 5, to answer your questions about insurance. Sundstrom will be in Personnel Services from noon to 1 p.m.

WOMEN'S HISTORY WEEK IS NEXT WEEK - The LCC Women's Program is spearheading activities on campus to celebrate Women's History Week and International Women's Day. All interested staff are invited to a March 7 luncheon. In addition, the Women's Program will show special films next week, including the following on Monday: "Rosie the Riveter," 11 a.m. in Forum 307; "With Babies and Banners," noon in Science 121; and "Union Maids," 2 p.m. in Forum 309.

Series of Workshops Planned

Survival Skills for Non-"Management" Employees

Even though they may not be a member of the management bargaining group, many classified and faculty employees are responsible for the assignment of work to other employees or students (work-study, CWE, etc.)

In an effort to increase the skills of employees in this category, Staff Development sent a survey earlier this year to approximately 100 staff members, asking about the kinds of problems encountered and the kinds of assistance or training needed.

Response to the survey was very good. We've now categorized the ideas for training into four general areas: changing problem employee behaviors, effective discipline, how to motivate employees, and conflict resolution in the workplace.

We're happy to announce that the first workshop in this series, "Changing Problem Employee Behaviors," will be presented by Tom Birkenhead on Tuesday, March 11 from 2-3:30 in BUS 203. Workshops on the other three topics will be scheduled during spring term. Please call Staff Development at ext. 2577 by 5 p.m. Friday, March 7 to pre-register.

Conflicts...Conflicts...Everywhere!

\ Especially recommended for supervisors & their assistants!*

Life is full of conflict--some healthy, some not-so-healthy. If you're involved in the latter in your work area, come and find out some ways to improve things. Doug White and Jane Wojcik of Health Occupations will offer "Battleground or Common Ground: Interacting With Employees and Co-Workers Effectively" on Wednesday, March 5, from 2-3:30 in APR 216. Call Staff Development at ext. 2577 by 5 p.m. Monday, March 3 to pre-register. You won't be sorry. This'll be a goody!
