INSERVICE FOR STAFF BEGINS TODAY

"Where Do We Go From Here" is this year's inservice theme. Lots of exciting activities are planned beginning today and running through September 22. Highlights are the All-Staff meeting on Monday, September 19 at the Eugene Conference Center and the many workshops planned to help staff chart a course into the 1990s. Check the back page of The Daily for a complete listing of inservice activities scheduled this week. Read Wednesday's Daily for an in-depth look at what the All-Staff meeting next Monday is all about.

APPOINTMENTS

President Carter has announced staff appointments to the College Marketing Council. The following staff will join those reappointments who were announced in last week's Daily: Kate Berry, Joan English, Joyce Kofford, Fred Loveys, Sharon Moore, Bill Porter, Tamara Pinkas, Susan Sutton, and Libby Tower. The term is for one year. Marketing Council provides a forum for discussing marketing concerns and for recommending marketing priorities and strategies. The first meeting this year is scheduled for Friday, September 30, 9-10 a.m., in the Board Room.

FALL WELCOME PLANNED

Many exciting activities are planned for the first week of classes to welcome new and returning students.

- An information booth will be located in front of the PE building again this year with free popcorn.
- Ping-pong balls will be dropped from a helicopter over Bristol Square in front of the Center Building. Each ping-pong ball will be marked with a number that corresponds to a prize.
- The Associated Students of LCC will sponsor a "blue-light special"--a cart with free coffee and punch delivered twice a day to different locations around campus.
- Food Services will hold a barbecue lunch featuring chicken, corn-on-the-cob, baked beans and much more.

Departments are encouraged to decorate offices and classrooms. The Student Resource Center has offered to supply banners and posters. Please call Lynn at ext. 2342 or Joyce at ext. 2315 for those.

Staff are encouraged to locate their "Ask Me" buttons and wear them the first couple of weeks of classes.

Watch The Daily for times and places of these events and much more about Fall Welcome.

OF NOTE

- Susan Sutton, Institutional Advancement, won an honorable mention from the Lane Literary Guild for her short story titled "A Man Comes In."

- Diane Prokop, Institutional Advancement, was recently appointed chairperson of the Communications Committee for the Lane County Chapter of the American Heart Association. She will serve a one-year term.

FOR THE CURIOUS

Don't miss the exciting surprise visitor to the Industrial Technology Department on Wednesday, September 14, at 10 a.m. Come to APR 107 for a photo opportunity and to put your curiosity to rest. Call Colleen Cairney, ext. 2843, if you positively cannot wait until then to find out what this is all about.

DAILY SCHEDULE

The Daily will be published on Monday and Wednesday this week and next. It will resume its regular schedule on Monday, September 26. Send all items for The Daily to me via campus mail, electronic mail, or drop them by my office at ADM 210. Diane Prokop, Institutional Advancement, ext. 2591

MARKETING MONEY

This year's marketing budget includes $6,000 for use by departments or services. The money is intended to serve a dual purpose: to help promote specific LCC offerings or services and to help us learn what strategies are effective. We plan to fund at least six proposals this year. Information and applications are available from Diane Dann, Institutional Advancement, ext. 2592. The first application deadline is September 26. Later deadlines are October 31, December 5, January 9, February 6, March 6, April 10, and May 15.

OF NOTE

LCC Board of Education member Mary Unruh has been appointed director of fund development and public relations for the Western Rivers Girl Scout Council in Eugene. She formerly was a financial consultant with Shearson Lehman Brothers.

GOLF TOURNAMENT NETS $6,500

Last week's Uncle Bud's LCC Open golf tournament for the LCC Foundation should net about $6,500 for scholarships, according to Foundation Director Joe Farmer. Some 76 golfers turned out at Shadow Hills Country Club for the highly successful event. About 30 merchants donated prizes and 23 persons sponsored holes. Staff volunteers who helped with the event included: Julie Aspinwall-Lamberts, Carol Beckley, John Bredesen, Sue Colvin, Vicki Ellison, Sally Gover, David James, Joyce Kofford, Cynde Leathers, Dennis Mills, Jason Phipps, Bill Porter, Phil Powers, Carolyn Spector, Dee Stephens, Beth Webb and Jane Wojcik. Sincere thanks to each.

FACULTY OPEN ENROLLMENT

If you are a faculty employee and are interested in changing from one medical insurance plan to another--or adding a dependent to your medical or dental insurance coverage--you may do so during open enrollment from September 1 to October 15. All changes and additions received by Marie Nelson, Personnel Services, by October 15 at 5 p.m. will be effective November 1. Representatives from OEA Choice Trust and SelectCare will be available to answer any coverage questions on Wednesday, September 21, from 9 a.m. to 12-noon in the northeast corner of the cafeteria.

NOW IS THE TIME

All faculty are invited to attend a meeting to develop a Teaching Resource Center. It will be held Thursday, September 15, 3 to 4 p.m. in Forum 308. For information, contact Pat John, Study Skills, ext. 2439. Refreshments will be provided.

JACKSON COUNTY CC TABLED

The proposal to allow residents of Jackson County (Medford, Ashland, etc.) to vote on establishing a new community college has been tabled by the State Board of Education. Residents wanted to ask voters to approve a tax levy of 20 cents per $1,000 of property value. Michael Holland, Commissioner for the Office of Community Colleges, said it would cost at least 65 cents. He declined to recommend a college without assurance of at least minimal local funding.

RE : All Staff Meeting,
September 19, 1988

I realize that there may be some concern with the additional costs involved in moving our annual All Staff meeting to the Eugene Conference Center next Monday, September 19. Perhaps the following information will help to alleviate some of those concerns.

This year, during Inservice, all staff members are being asked to provide input into the Collegewide goals and objectives. This is part of the schedule approved by the Board of Education for establishing the College Plan. As you recall, surveys were sent throughout the College District asking for response concerning educational and training needs of the community to provide direction for the future of the College. Community input was requested during the Community Forum, held in April. Now, as part of the total process, the Board is waiting for a summary of ideas and suggestions from staff prior to their final deliberations and decisions on these issues.

The Board has authorized that the campus be closed on Monday, September 19, until 1:00 P.M. so that all staff can participate in the All Staff session during Inservice. There is no space on campus that can hold the total number of small groups of all staff in the seating arrangement needed for discussion and gathering information. The Conference Center is better suited to the type of work session. Since a continental breakfast will be served, there is no rental charged for the facility. The extra cost (compared with the usual Fall breakfast on campus) of $8-900 did not seem out of line, since this larger facility can be utilized for both the breakfast and the work session.

All staff are encouraged to participate in this important work session from 7:30 - 12:00 on Monday, September 19. Free parking is available in the area. If you are unable to attend, please notify your department chair or supervisor prior to that date.

MEMORIAL SERVICE PLANNED

Friends of Marje Wynia-Takei and Dick Takei are invited to attend a memorial service for Dick's son, Rickie, who died last week in a construction accident. The service will be held Thursday, September 15, at 12-noon at St. Judes Church (4330 Willamette). There will be a gathering following the service at 1165 Barber Dr.

GRATITUDE EXPRESSED

I would like to thank you and express my gratitude for your prayers, support and expressions of sympathy to my family and myself following the recent death of my father. It is times like these that I am reminded how special it is to be a part of the LCC community. For that community is comprised of people who care about and reach out to others when they are going through "tough times." Thank you for being you! Joyce and Verne Whittaker and family

KUGN TO PLAY LCC'S GREATEST HITS

For the next month or so, KUGN-AM radio will feature LCC news on their Thursday "Morning Shows." Tune in to 590 at 8 a.m. this Thursday and you will hear Jim Ellison talk about Weekend College. Next week, Doug White will talk about the upcoming health care conference, and on October 6 President Carter will talk about the tax base election coming up November 8. If you have a special program or event coming up that you would like the community to know about, give me a call. Diane Prokop, Institutional Advancement, ext. 2591

OF NOTE IN MASS COMMUNICATIONS

- Michael Hopkinson, instructor in the Mass Communication Department, was named co-Broadcaster Educator of 1988 by the Oregon Association of Broadcasters. He will receive the award at its annual fall meeting in Portland. Hopkinson was cited for the quality of his teaching and for his contributions in helping to prepare students for the business and art of broadcasting.
- Scott Douglas, a Broadcasting/Visual Design and Production (B/VDP) major in the Department of Mass Communication, was awarded an $800 Oregon Association of Broadcasters scholarship for the 1988-89 school year. Douglas hopes to earn his Associate of Applied Science Degree in B/VDP by June, 1989.
- Former Mass Communication student Steven Bauder recently accepted a position as director of a community cable access station in Worcester, Massachusetts which is about 25 minutes from Boston. Bauder will design and equip the entire facility with a start-up budget of $400,000.
- If you find yourself in the new EWEB building make sure you check out the information video that is playing continuously in the lobby. Former Mass Communication student Fleetwood Bernstein produced the video that explains the major conservation features that went into the building's design.
- Mass Communication instructor David Joyce has been chosen from hundreds of artists nationwide to provide artwork for the newly remodeled Mahlon Sweet Airport. His life-size photographs will portray people in flight and will hang from the ceiling.

If your department has some good news to share with the rest of the campus, give me a call. Diane Prokop, Institutional Advancement, ext. 2591

FAIR AND OPEN HOUSE

The LCC Siuslaw Area Center in Florence will host a computer fair and open house on Thursday, September 22, 1 to 7 p.m. Special focus will be on computers and software for home and business. Guest speaker Wes Doak, Oregon State librarian, will talk about on-line searching, CD-ROM and more. Visit with staff, enjoy refreshments and win a door prize. Everyone is invited.

DEADLINE APPROACHES

If your department is planning to order any equipment or services with a dollar value over $10,000 for award at the November 9 Board meeting, specifications must be to Purchasing Services by September 23. Bob Cudmore, Purchasing, ext. 2571

FALL REMINDER

A variety of publications are available to staff to help with student recruitment or to share with friends and neighbors: the "Go for Success" brochure describes the College, its programs, philosophy, services and costs; the cluster brochures are a series describing LCC programs which could lead to employment in various fields; the 1988-89 college catalog and, of course, the quarterly class schedule and report. All of these publications are available in the Admissions Office. Susan Sutton, Institutional Advancement, ext. 2593

Jane Wojcik talks about the upcoming Health Care Challenges conference

WHERE, OH WHERE?

Where on campus can you go for first aid, to buy a newspaper or bus tokens? Where should you direct the student who stops you on campus to ask a question? What about the neighbor who assumes you know everything about LCC? We all want to provide students the best experience possible, but it's tough if we don't have the information to help them. The "Where to Find It" sheet attached to this Daily has a lot of the answers. It was prepared by Counseling and is being brought to you by the Marketing Council and marketing budget. Please read it over and keep it for reference. You probably will find information here of interest to you as well as to students. Diane Dann, Institutional Advancement, ext. 2592

BE PART OF 'PROJECT GOOD NEWS'

You've no doubt, over time, read in The Daily and heard, seen, and read in the mass media a continuing series of good news items about LCC and its people. We're grateful to all who have tipped us through the years about the positive achievements going on throughout the College. Your help is invaluable in our effort to share news about your good work. We're formalizing this effort a bit more at this time to see if we can get an even larger share of the media spotlight. We invite you to continue to call with news tips, story and feature ideas, picture possibilities, etc. In addition, we'd like to have a person appointed in each department as "volunteer reporter," as an extra dimension. We would plan to meet with the reporters to answer questions about media requirements and explain what extra coverage we might expect. Soon, we'll be sending copies of most print media stories out to departments, to show what's happening--at least with the 30 percent of LCC coverage that's printed. We hope this extra activity can motivate an accelerated stream of good news about our College traveling in the direction of prospective students, prospective donors, voters, and friends. With your help, it can happen. Please consider being part of Project Good News. If you would like more information or would like to be a "volunteer reporter," call me. I'm at ext. 2591. Diane Prokop, Institutional Advancement

HEARTY THANKS EXTENDED

LCC will present "Health Care Challenges: Igniting Issues and Ideas" on October 13 and 14 at the Eugene Hilton. I would like to extend a hearty thanks to all individuals who have helped with the publicity and promotion of the conference: Diane Prokop, Diane Dann, Larry Romine, Gary Anderson, Edna Kennel, Trish Weeden, Beth Webb, Loreta Pritchard, Jacquée Belcher, Jane Wojcik, Shannon Kracht, Sheila Early, Larry Murray, Vicki Ramsey...the list goes on. Thanks again for a job well done! Doug White, Health Occupations

LCC JOINS UP

The College has decided to join the new national consortium on institutional effectiveness being organized by Mt. Hood CC president Paul Kreider. The Daily will share details as the organization is formed and LCC staff get involved.

SHORTS

- If you have LCC lawn signs, please turn them in to Dick Hillier (Administrative Services) or Larry Warford (Office of the President) as soon as possible.

- Don't forget to wear your "Ask Me" Buttons during the first two weeks of classes. If you don't have one, call Joyce Kofford, ext. 2315--she has a few extra.

TASK FORCE UPDATE

Thanks to all our staff who attended the inservice session on Monday at the Eugene Conference Center. Your participation and enthusiasm were wonderful! The Planning Task Force will provide periodic feedback to staff through September and October as the results are examined. The Task Force will use your input to identify key areas of focus for the coming years. These will be recommended to President Carter for his adoption. The identified areas will be used to guide departmental planning and budget allocations. Thanks again for your involvement. Stay tuned for the next steps! Julie Aspinwall-Lamberts and the Planning Task Force

LCC REPS NEEDED

If you know of students who would be good representatives of LCC to visit local high schools to promote the College, please call Shan Titus in Admissions, ext. 2688. We're looking for students within five years of high school graduation who are articulate, attractive, and positive about their LCC experience. CWE credit, work study and free transportation available in exchange.

TUITION WAIVER PROCESS

To take advantage of the tuition waiver benefit, fill out a Tuition Waiver form, get the proper signature from your supervisor, then forward to Personnel Services for authorization. Personnel will return waivers to the submitting department and it is the employee's responsibility to turn waivers in to Financial Services. Carol Woodman, Personnel Services, ext. 2847

INTERESTED IN LOSING WEIGHT?

Are you interested in losing weight before the holidays? If enough people are interested, we will conduct a "Weight-Loss" contest this term. Please indicate your interest by calling Trish Kocher, Personnel, ext. 2283, or leave a message at the Personnel Services Office, ext. 2211.

CLASS FOR STAFF

Wayte Kirchner, Performing Arts, invites staff and students to sing in the noon-hour chorus. Christmas melodies from the year 1582 will be used as well as ten carols by Anders Ohrwall. All singers are welcome. Register for Chorus, seq. #1168.

LEADERS PROJECT APPLICATIONS INVITED

President Jack Carter is inviting classified, faculty and administrative women at LCC to apply for leadership development training. The Leaders program is sponsored by the Council of American Association of Women in Community and Junior Colleges.

Minimum qualification is a master's degree or a bachelor's degree for an employee in an administrative/supervisory role. Former recipients of this national opportunity include: Mabel Armstrong, Julie Aspinwall-Lamberts, Julie Baker, Diane Dann, Judy Dresser, Helen Hunter, Sandra Ing, Linda Loft, Marie Matsen, Sharon Thomas, and Laura Weaver.

For information and applications, contact Helen Hunter, ext. 2360, one of the other leaders, and/or attend a brown-bag discussion meeting in the Board Room on Friday, September 30, 12-noon to 1:30 p.m. Applications are due to Helen Hunter, FOR 301, by Wednesday, October 19.

WHERE, OH, WHERE...

Well we asked that you let us know about errors and thank goodness you did. The "Where to Find It" list attached to Monday's Daily listed the ClassLine number incorrectly. Fortunately, most students rely on the Class Schedule for that number. It should have been 747-0644. We hope you kept your copy for reference. Please make this change. Charlene Blinn, Counseling

SHOULD COLLEGE LEASE HECETA HOUSE?

LCC's lease on Heceta House on the coast is up for renewal. Since there are a number of costs that go with the place, the College is wondering if it can afford to keep the facility. If you have feelings for or against and want to feed them into the decision-making process, send your opinion to Dean Larry Warford in the Office of the President.

WELCOME

- Please join Personnel Services in welcoming Michael Ridderbusch as the records management/archives specialist. Michael has a bachelor's degree in music from Western Washington University, as well as an M.M. and M.L.S. from the University of Washington. For the past year he has been project archivist at the U of O library. Michael's hours will be 8 a.m. to 12-noon, Monday through Friday.

-Michele Reniff has been hired by the CWE Department as a secretary for the Proficiency Skills: Injured Workers Retraining Program which, according to Michele, is "an excellent program that gives injured workers the opportunity to take LCC classes and be retrained through CWE." Michele is a former CWE student, an LCC honors graduate from the Office Administration program, and the recipient of the 1986 LCC business "Student of the Year" award. Michele enjoys working with the people here and thinks that "LCC offers many opportunities for educational and experiential advancement because it is at the forefront of the market."

- Lynne Wolters has recently accepted a temporary assignment in CWE as administrative assistant, following Judy North's decision to take a 10-month leave of absence to pursue her education at the U of O. Community college life is a familiar environment for Lynne. She recently left an administrative assistant position at Mt. Hood Community College where she worked with the associate deans of business and computer technology and engineering and industrial technology. "As a former CWE student, I know the value of a positive work ethic. A guided work experience is a win-win situation for the student, the employer, the college and the community at-large. I am pleased to be a member of the CWE team and look forward to making many new acquaintances at LCC."

FAREWELL PLANNED

Join us in saying farewell to Vonnice Ross of Study Skills on Friday, September 30, 2 to 3 p.m., CEN 468. Call Barbara Hasbrouck for details at ext. 2420.

GO FOR SUCCESS

Two LCC departments had surprise visits from interim President Jack Carter last Friday when he presented the College's marketing award to Ginger Yamamoto, High School Relations, and Sally Gover, Institutional Research, Planning and Evaluation. The purpose of the award is to recognize staff who go above and beyond the call of duty in supporting LCC's marketing activities. Ginger, whose responsibilities include leading campus tours and representing LCC at off-campus events, was recognized for being "unfailingly cheerful and courteous" and always ready to help with LCC's efforts to welcome high school students and visitors. Sally Gover, who is secretary in the planning office and who maintains the marketing library, was recognized for providing critical secretarial support for many marketing and marketing research activities. Diane Dann, Institutional Advancement

MANAGEMENT UPDATE

At its meeting last Friday the management group decided to elect two representatives to the Presidential Search Committee with one representative from Instruction and one from Student Services/President's Complex/Administrative Services. There will be a major time commitment for those persons selected. It may involve traveling to the home campuses of the finalists. If you are a manager and would like to serve, please contact me by Friday, September 30. Sandra Ing, Specialized Student Services, ext. 2666

CHILD CARE AVAILABLE

Child care is available to students enrolled in evening classes beginning this term. The program is open to children ages three to five from 5:45 to 8:15 p.m., Monday through Thursday. The cost is $3 per child per night and includes a hearty snack for each child. For more information, call 747-4501, ext. 2519 between 8 a.m. and 12-noon, Monday through Friday.

-JOB OPPORTUNITIES-

Secretary III, Electronics, closes October 6.

Box Office Supervisor, half-time, Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., Performing Arts, Clerk IV, closes October 6.

-ADS-

FOR SALE - Twenty-five foot Lancer sailboat, shoal draft keel, Honda outboard, tandem trailer, d.s., sleeps six, and many extras. Excellent condition. Paula Chan-Gallagher, KLCC, ext. 2224 or 484-7103

FOR SALE - Beautiful computer terminal. It is smaller so takes less desktop space. The ergonomic display is brighter and easier to read. It works well with the LCC mainframe. Can replace your HP terminal. Its display is 14" and it tilts/swivels and can show characters in green, highlight, reverse video, underline, blink and even 132 columns. The keyboard has a two-height adjustment, calculator keypad, separate cursor keys, multiple function keys and is flex-cord connected to the display. The device is fast--more than 38,000 bits per second with the mainframe and over 19,000 bits per second with a printer. (Yes, it handles a printer.) The unit can be setup to emulate any of several terminals making it easy to work with the mainframe currently in use or one likely to be used in the future. This machine retails for $400, however it is available to an LCC department at a much lower cost. Jim Cox, ext. 2368 or 2393.

FOR SALE - Beef, 1/4 or 1/2, cut and wrapped to your specifications, $2 per pound, will deliver. Ron Mitchell, Social Science, ext. 2430

FOR SALE - Conn theatre organ, model 642, with bench - $1,800. Emily Rasmussen, Financial Services, 683-9039 or 746-0384 after 5 p.m.

HELP A FREEZING ARTIST - Need a small woodstove to heat studio. Tripp Sommer, KLCC, ext. 2222 or 345-7760

NEEDED - I'm looking for a reasonable, centrally-located space which could be used as a simple woodshop. It doesn't need to be fancy but it does need to be dry and secure. A garage or small outbuilding would be ideal. David Joyce, Art/Mass Communication, ext. 2416 or 2474

SURVEY SHOWS STRONG WEEKEND POTENTIAL

Nearly 30 percent of Eugene-Springfield residents planning to take LCC classes would prefer weekend classes. Interest in weekend classes was highest among people 25 to 49, and there was more interest in Saturday classes than Friday night classes. These are a few highlights from LCC's portion of a survey conducted recently by Mar%Stat marketing research firm. LCC introduced a Weekend College this fall. The survey also yielded information about interest in telecourses and other LCC alternatives. The results will be summarized and routed to various college units soon. In the meantime, interested staff can read the full report in either the research (first floor ADM) or marketing (ADM 209) offices. The survey was paid for with marketing money. Julie Aspinwall-Lamberts chairs the research subcommittee of the Marketing Council. Diane Dann, Institutional Advancement/Marketing

DISCOVER YOURSELF

Join the "Fit For life" conditioning class for staff. Discussion, activity instruction, and physical testing sessions will give you a good start toward developing your personal exercise program. Attend the first meeting on Tuesday, October 4, at 11:30 a.m. in HEA 269. For more information, call Kurt Schultz, ext. 2545.

NAME THE NEW DELI

The Work Activity Center is sponsoring a contest to name the new deli at the downtown center. The deli is used as a training center for the developmentally disabled. Entries will be accepted until October 14. The winner will receive two free lunches. Direct entries to Howard Bird at the Work Activity Center.

THANKS

We want to thank Dave Loos and Kay Tschetter for the time and effort they put into the recent four-day white-water raft trip. The trip, which was a fundraiser for the women's basketball team, was really great! The planning and preparation, the scenery, the weather, and the staff and friends that participated made it one fantastic adventure! Carol Beckley, Colleen Cairney

COPYING COSTS REDUCED

Costs of using copier machines placed by Printing/Graphics have been reduced 28 percent to .039 cents per copy. P/G Director Gary Anderson says the reduction will show up in departments' September billings. His mandate has been to charge enough to generate income to buy and place 10 new copiers around campus and to overhaul and place several additional used machines. That has now been done and the price reduced to produce only enough income to cover operating expenses and purchases of new machines as the present ones wear out.

WE'VE MOVED

The Telecourse Department has moved into CEN 235 located in the back left corner of the library. Cynde Leathers can still be reached at ext. 2260.

Audiovisual Services has relocated to the basement of the Center Building, CEN 15D. Phil Powers can be reached at ext. 2370.

FRIDAY

- "Affinity" (fusion rock), 12-noon to 1 p.m., Bristow Square

- Food Service BBQ, 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.,

- Ping-pong ball drop, Bristow Square, 12:15 p.m.

Don't miss the exciting ping-pong ball drop. Over a thousand balls will be dropped from a helicopter. Prizes will be awarded when the balls are captured and turned in at the prize booth.

FAREWELL PLANNED

Join us in saying farewell to Vonnie Ross of Study Skills on Friday, September 30, 2 to 3 p.m., CEN 468. Call Barbara Hasbrouck for details at ext. 2420.

RECEPTION FOR ARTISTS FRIDAY NIGHT

A public reception for the Art Department faculty whose exhibit opened this week will take place Friday, September 30, 7 to 9:30 p.m., at the Art Department Gallery. The exhibit, which runs through October 21, includes works by 20 faculty members. Regular hours for viewing the exhibition are Monday through Thursday, 8 a.m. to 10 p.m., and Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

LITTLE SHOP OF HORRORS RETURNS TO LCC

The hilarious, award-winning musical "Little Shop of Horrors" returns to the LCC stage September 30, October 1, 7 and 8. It's a zany romp through a world where women sing fifties sha-la-la on street corners, the hero just might get the girl, and a jive-talking plant with a very unusual diet steals the show. Tickets are available at the LCC box office, or at Marketplace Books in the Fifth Street Market. For more information, call 726-2202.

MEMORANDUM

TO : LCC Women
FROM : Jack Carter
Interim President
RE : LEADERS PROJECT

I would like to encourage you to consider applying for the Leaders Project--an outstanding leadership program for community college women that is conducted by the National Institute for Leadership Development of the Maricopa Community College system and co-sponsored by AAWCJC and the League for Innovation.

Lane Community College has benefitted from having several of our employees attend the Leaders program over the past several years, and we want to make certain that we continue to encourage women at LCC to take advantage of this opportunity.

LCC participants in the Leaders Project have been: Vivian Frelix-Hart, Anne O'Brien, Julie Aspinwall-Lamberts, Joyce Hopps, Mabel Armstrong, Anne Stewart, Diane Dann, Laura Weaver, Helen Hunter, Julie Baker, Linda Loft, Sandy Ing, Judy Dresser, Sharon Thomas, and Marie Matsen.

I would like to share some of their perceptions about how the program has helped them as a way of encouragement to you:

"The opportunity to meet women from across the country through the Leaders Project was fantastic. For me, it was especially powerful to combine two deeply held "loves": my interest in women and women's issues and my devotion to community colleges. Sharing community college experiences with other women and exploring professional commitments provided one of the finest professional development experiences I have known. Being a "Leader" has opened magical communication doors throughout our sister institutions and reaffirmed my deep commitment to women in community colleges." -- Julie Aspinwall-Lamberts

"I encourage you to apply to the "Leaders Project." It is an excellent opportunity to explore your career horizons and to network with an exciting group of women from across the nation." -- Sandy Ing

"My experience as a "Leader" this year has been one of great personal and professional growth, arising from a challenging on-campus project and a very stimulating week-long Leaders' workshop in Kansas City. As a classified employee, I have particularly benefitted from practicing leadership and decision-making skills as part of my on-campus project. The Leaders Project would be of great value to any woman needing a boost in self-confidence and more incentive to become an effective college administrator." -- Marie Matsen

"After attending the Leaders' training session in Pensacola, Florida, in February of this year, I came away thoroughly impressed with the program. We did in fact, as promised, learn ways to strengthen our leadership and management skills, and we did become aware of important educational issues facing community colleges. But more importantly, we were given the sense that we could make a difference in what happened on our own college campuses. We all felt renewed as we felt the deep respect of the organizers and trainers: these wonderful women had total confidence in each person's ability to meet challenges and relayed to us their personal concern for us. I left the conference uplifted and excited about reaching new and higher goals and willing to try out the new skills I had been taught. I urge faculty women to apply for this opportunity--the experience can change the way you see yourself and can change your life." -- Sharon Thomas

Please consider this opportunity. You can get more information from any of the Leaders alumnae listed above or from Larry Warford, League Representative, or Helen Hunter (ext. 2360) who is coordinating this year's Leaders Project.

Applications and information will be available at a Brown Bag session on Friday, September 30, 12 noon, in the Board Room.
