BRAINWORK NEEDED

The class schedule is LCC's most important and expensive way of communicating with students, prospective students, and the general community. We'd like you to tell us what would make it better. A meeting will be held on Monday, February 13, from 2 to 4 p.m. in the LCC Boardroom. Drop in between 2 and 2:30 for refreshments and a look at schedules from other schools. A brainstorming session will follow. Please put this date on your calendar. If you have ideas but can't attend, please send them in writing. Staff input is a critical part of this major review of the schedule's format and content, and we want to hear from as many interested staff members as possible. Larry Warford, President's Office.

OREGON'S VALENTINE: THE COMMUNITY COLLEGES

Governor Goldschmidt recently designated February 1989 as Community College month, citing the role of community colleges in providing opportunities for "education that makes a difference" to over a quarter of a million Oregonians each year. The Governor's proclamation further commends community colleges for helping to build communities and for participating in the state's economic comeback. Larry Romine, Institutional Advancement.

FUTUREWORLD

"Myths, Models, and Realities: Creating a Campus of the Future" is the subject of a national teleconference scheduled for Tuesday, February 7 in the LCC Boardroom. The objective of the teleconference is to demonstrate some information-age applications which can make a difference in learning/teaching/research environments and to show how strategic planning of information-age technologies can result in significant benefits for faculty and students. The teleconference is divided into modules as follows:

- 8:15 - 10 a.m.: The Campus of the Future Project, Models and Experiences Across the Nation, and Strategic Applications of Technology for Institutional Development in the Information Age.
- 10 - 10:55 a.m.: Realities -- Business Partnership Issues.
- 11:10 - 12 noon: Realities -- Applications and the Technology at Work: Campus Learning and Work Environment Improvements and Distance Learning Applications.
- 12:30 - 1 p.m.: Leveraging the Academic Opportunity -- Academic Program Implications.

You may attend all or part of the teleconference. For additional information, contact Judy Dresser, extension 2313.

LOOK WHAT WE'RE DOING TO VALLEY RIVER CENTER

Many departments are coming up with great ideas for their VRC displays. Check it out! Flight Technology will fly several helicopters into the mall area; Study Skills will do on-site computer testing of reading, writing and vocabulary skills; and the Work Activity Center will offer shrink wrap packaging to VRC customers. Joyce Kofford, Student Services, ext. 2313.

TOMORROW

Remember that TOMORROW, February 2, is the day for the public forum on National Welfare Reform. An explanation of the National Welfare Reform Act and its implementation in Oregon will be followed by an opportunity for comments and questions from the audience. For more information, call the Women's Program, ext. 2352.

BIRDS, PART III: THE LIBRARY

Carved birds by Peter Jensen will be on display just inside the main entrance doors of LCC's library throughout the month of February. Included in this year's exhibit is a carving of the extinct Archaeopteryx. Also on display are carved miniature birds by Peter's teacher, Florence Johnson, the "bird lady" of Quisset, Massachusetts. Peter Jensen, English & Foreign Language, ext. 2419.

ARTISTIC LICENSE

Dig out that masterpiece because Denali wants to publish it. Faculty, staff, the general public and students may submit writing, art and photos for the winter issue of LCC's literary/art magazine. The deadline is this Friday, February 3. Submission forms are available at the Denali office, CEN 479D and the Student Resource Center, Center Building Lobby.

THANKS...

The Multicultural Center, Campus Ministry, Student Health Services, and the Women's Center recently donated funds to buy rainbow ribbon to give away on the LCC campus. There were other individual donations as well. We would like to thank all who were interested in our rainbow ribbons and would like to ask all departments to be creative and come up with their own ribbons and/or ideas to combat racism in our community. Connie Mesquita, Multicultural Center, ext. 2276.

Many thanks to the students in the Women's Center and the many staff women who cut out over 250 felt letters to use on banners for the Valley River Center exhibit. Special thanks to Vicki Miller and Dee Dee Daudt for helping to cut a large portion of the 90 banners needed. Your work is more than appreciated. Charlene Blinn, Joyce Kofford and Bill Porter.

SHIRT SHORT

And speaking of Valley River Center, have you ordered your royal blue polo shirt yet? Embroidered with the LCC logo and available in sizes small through extra large, these high-quality shirts cost only $12. Contact Jim Ellison, extension 2360.

FEDERAL GRANT DEADLINES

Following are some federal grant deadlines that may be of interest to faculty and staff:

April 1: Higher education in the humanities summer seminars for secondary teachers (directors). (M73)

Informal science education. (N3)

INDUSTRIAL TRAINING IN THE INFORMATION AGE

Albert Rowe, Industrial Technology Welding instructor and CWE coordinator, recently attended a Society of Manufacturing Engineers conference in Ann Arbor, Michigan. With over 200 educators from two-year, four-year, and post-graduate programs nationwide in attendance, the conference addressed educational programs and curriculum in Computer Integrated Manufacturing (CIM) and Automated Manufacturing. Albert believes the ideas and methodologies introduced at the conference can be easily integrated into LCC's Industrial Technology program. He expects that sharing the information with his students will encourage and stimulate them to welcome the new technology as they encounter it on the job. Finding that the conference "relit a fire" in him, Albert gives credit to the Industrial Technology Department for providing these kinds of opportunities for instructional staff to upgrade their skills and knowledge.

WOMEN IN BUSINESS SEMINAR

There is still space available in the Central Oregon Coast Women in Business Seminar to be held Friday and Saturday, February 10th and 11th, at Driftwood Shores in Florence. Participants may choose from six modules offered during these two days of intensive learning, sharing and discovery: Owning Your Own Business, Marketing Yourself, Time Management, Stress Management, Resume Development, or Investing. Seminar fee of $65 includes two lunches, banquet dinner, tuition, fees, and materials. More information is available from LCC's Siuslaw Area Center in Florence, 997-8444.

ROLE MODELS

Jacquee Belcher, Vice President for Instruction, will be the featured speaker at a Girl Scout fundraiser next Tuesday, February 7, from 5:30 to 7 p.m. at the Town Club. This year's fundraising theme is "Seeds for Success," and a limited edition poster featuring quotes which address this theme will be unveiled at the fundraiser. Quotes from both Jacquee and Julie Aspinwall-Lamberts, Director of Institutional Research, Planning, and Evaluation, were selected for inclusion in the poster and a brochure. Asked to provide advice to girls and young women on achieving success, Jacquee said, "Destiny is choice, not chance." Julie's quote reads, "Embrace learning as a lifelong process of self renewal." Jacquee and Julie also are featured in a slide show presentation designed to demonstrate that membership in the Girl Scouts can sow "seeds for success." For more information or to arrange for a presentation of the slide show, call Mary Unruh, LCC board member, at 485-5911.

MR. PRESIDENT!

KLCC's news director Tripp Sommer has been elected 1989 president of the Lane Press Club, an organization of sixty professional and teaching journalists in Lane County. As president, Tripp will organize interactive seminars on topics of local and regional interest to journalists and will also be responsible for coordinating social activities for area journalists. Tripp has been part of KLCC's news department for eight years and was named news director eight months ago. He is a graduate of the University of Oregon and winner of the 1988 Associated Press Award for best use of sound in a feature story.

FEDERAL GRANT DEADLINES REVISITED

For those of you who, like I, found the information on Federal grant deadlines in the last Daily somewhat cryptic, a clarification: The "three-ring notebook" in which the grant information is compiled is called the Guide to Federal Assistance. It is located in the Grant Resource Library of the Learning Resource Center. My descriptions of the grants were followed by numbers in parentheses; these are the page numbers in this notebook where further information can be found. Cheryl Alonso, Daily editor, ext. 2591 (no yelling).

VALLEY RIVER CENTER--HERE WE COME!

More great ideas from those who will be at the Valley River Center open house on February 11 and 12: Financial Aid will offer that much-needed assistance in completing financial aid forms for the 1989-90 academic year; Health Occupations will test for pulmonary function and measure height and weight; and Agriculture Industrial Technology will roll in a tractor. Will you be joining in the fun? If you have time to spare, Charlene Blinn is still looking for volunteers for the general information booth. Call her at ext. 2204. Joyce Kofford, Student Services, ext. 2313.

LCC's Board of Education meets TONIGHT in the LCC Boardroom (ADM 216). Possible name changes for the Florence and Cottage Grove Centers will be considered.

An awards ceremony honoring the vocational educator(s) of the year and the outstanding advisory committee member is TONIGHT in the LCC Boardroom. Reception outside the Boardroom begins at 6:30 p.m.; awards will be presented as part of "special focus session" from 7 to 7:30 p.m. For more information, contact Bill Porter, Vocational-Technical Education, ext. 2100.

Daily Mass for Lent will begin TODAY, Ash Wednesday, starting at 12 noon in PE 214. Contact Marna Crawford, Campus Ministry, ext. 2814, for more information.

STORMY WEATHER

When LCC is closed due to inclement weather, the closure applies to most staff as well as students. President Jack Carter says that closure announcements will mention that staff are to report in those rare instances when that may be appropriate. Larry Romine, Institutional Advancement, ext. 2303.

CALL FOR BLOOD DONORS

Lane Memorial Blood Bank's mobile unit will be on campus Friday, February 10, from 12 noon to 3 p.m. It will be parked in a new location on the north side of the cafeteria across from Bristow Square (the grassy area). The ice and snow of the past week have strained our community's blood supply, and your donation is badly needed. For an appointment, call Student Health, ext. 2665.

BLACK HISTORY MONTH

KLCC began a series of four specials celebrating February as Black History Month last Sunday at 8 p.m. The program for Sunday, February 12, will be "Black Wordsmiths: Zora Neale Hurston." Hurston was a black folklorist, anthropologist, and novelist. Scheduled for Sunday, February 19, is "Conversations in a Black Barbershop." Spend an evening in a black barbershop where the discussion focuses on a wide range of subjects. The program for February 26 will be announced later this month. All of these specials air at 8 p.m., Sundays on Radio Arts Programming. Other special programs will also be featured at times during the month on KLCC's news shows. Gayle Chisholm, KLCC, ext. 2484.

OUR CLASSY CLASS SCHEDULE

Ideas are needed for the class schedule, LCC's most important and expensive way of communicating with students, prospective students, and the general community. Come to a meeting on Monday, February 13, from 2:30 until 4 p.m. with your suggestions for what would make it better. Drop in between 2 and 2:30 p.m. for refreshments and a look at schedules from other schools. A brainstorming session will follow. Please put this date on your calendar. If you have ideas but can't attend, please send them in writing. Staff input is a critical part of this major review of the schedule's format and content, and we want to hear from as many interested staff members as possible. Larry Warford, President's Office.

TIE A STRING

Be sure you have the retirement reception honoring Mildred Holly, Curriculum Specialist in Curriculum Approval, on your calendar for this Friday, February 10, from 1 to 2 p.m. in the LCC Boardroom. Mildred has been hiking the stairs at LCC since 1975 and will continue the tradition with a little hiking in New Zealand after her retirement. Bill Porter, Vocational-Technical Education, ext. 2100.

TRAINING OPPORTUNITIES

Portland State University is offering two seminars that may be of interest to LCC faculty and staff:

- * The New Supervisor/Manager is designed for persons who have recently assumed responsibilities as supervisors and managers. Paul Kenmoen will conduct the seminar on Wednesday, March 15.
- * Office employees who wish to increase their productivity may find Getting Things Done At The Office beneficial. This seminar is scheduled for Monday, March 27, and will be conducted by Dr. Barry Shane.

Both seminars will be presented from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. in Eugene at the Holiday Inn. The fee for either seminar is $85 per participant or $80 per participant if four or more from the same organization attend. Early registration is suggested. For additional information and registration forms, contact Trish Kocher in Personnel, ext. 2583.

AN OFFER YOU CAN'T REFUSE

Faculty members: graduation plans are underway. Students have expressed how special they feel when their instructors attend their graduation. This year's graduation ceremony will be held on Friday, June 2, at 7:30 p.m. in the Exhibit Hall of the Lane County Fairgrounds where there's lots of room for everybody! But you need to make plans early to share in your students' special day. Contact the Bookstore before April 15 to order or reserve your cap, gown, and hood. Sally Meadow, Student Activities, ext. 2336.

SINCE YOU ASKED....

Adults and children who visit the Mathematics Department's booth at Valley River Center this weekend will be challenged to use objects to solve math problems of varying complexity. Health and Physical Education will be displaying white water rafting equipment and dispensing Fitness for Life advice. And your best opportunity for immortality may be to follow Mass Communication's roving camera around the mall; they'll be recording the event on videotape. Joyce Kofford, Student Services, ext. 2313.

CHEAP STUFF

Printing and Graphics has added a large supply of scratch pads in various sizes and colors to its inventory. This is a deal that's just too good to pass up--check out the prices!

One dozen.....$1.20
Two dozen.....$2.00
Three dozen.....$2.70

Submit a Printing and Graphics order form and then just sit back and wait for delivery.

PHENOMENAL PHOTOGRAPHY

Nontraditional approaches to photography will be explored in "New Directions in Photography," a show which opens Monday, February 13, and runs through March 10 in the Art Department Gallery. Current works of the following Oregon artists will be featured: Jeff Baldwin, Andrea Benson, Ron Finne, Craig Hickman, Mary Ann Johns, Susie Morrill, Byard Pidgeon, Dan Powell, Terri Warpinski, and Carol Westlake. Susie Morrill is an instructor in the Mass Communication Department. For these artists, the photographic image is only the starting point from which exciting new directions are sure to evolve. Gallery hours are 8 a.m. to 10 p.m., Monday through Thursday, and 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday. David Joyce, English and Foreign Language/Mass Communication, ext. 2416 or 2474.

TORCH SONG

The University of Oregon's Emerald Board has donated approximately $15,000 in computer equipment to The Torch. This equipment is similar to that used by weekly newspapers and is providing excellent training for students and Torch staff. For more information, contact Pete Peterson, Staff Advisor to The Torch, ext. 2474 or 2655,

Sneak Previews

Although we've all been a little chilly lately, LCC's Valley River Center open house promises to be HOT. If you will have some time this weekend, join other volunteers at the community information booths. You will assist the public by answering general questions and giving directions to exhibits and demonstrations. Your help, smile and enthusiasm will be appreciated. If you can work a two-hour time block, call Charlene Blinn, Counseling, ext. 2204.

Sneak previews of some more exciting exhibits: KLCC will challenge visitors to test their knowledge of the station; new computer technology that our present and future mechanics will be using will be on display in the Mechanics Department's booth; the public will have an opportunity to peer at live specimens through a microscope at the Science Department booth; Admissions will assist people in completing LCC applications; Counseling will administer computer career testing; and there will be live performances in the Gazebo all day long. Joyce Kofford, Student Services. ext. 2313.

ALL THE NEWS THAT'S NEWS FROM KLCC

The people at KLCC have been busy making changes and additions, including:

* Significant changes in their program schedule. Some shows have been moved and others have undergone name changes. New shows include:

**Sunday Brunch, a new call-in show highlighting family issues, hosted by KLCC volunteer, John Glassburner; and

* Plans for a new 3000-watt noncommercial FM station at Otter Crest near Newport. KLCC currently serves Lincoln County with a translator. Because of the transmission limitations of translators, KLCC has decided to improve service to the coastal region by providing a full-service transmitter. The station has applied for a grant from the National Telecommunications and Information Administration. If received, the grant will fund 75% of the project. The remaining cost will be funded from a variety of sources including other grants and fundraising in Lincoln County.

* Installation of a translator in the Sisters/Black Butte area. This translator will serve a population of about 5,000. Listen in on 90.3 FM if you are traveling east.

* The addition of issue-oriented news coverage from Salem while the State Legislature is in session. KLCC and the members of the Consortium of Public Radio in Oregon are funding this public radio bureau with business underwriting. Reporter Stephanie Nutt has been hired to operate the bureau on a part-time basis, supplying consortium member stations with daily reports and weekly wrap-ups. KLCC is providing equipment for the capitol coverage.

It has been reported that a larger percentage of people in Lane County and parts of Douglas County listen to public radio than in any other part of the nation. Nine percent of all radio listeners are tuned in to KLCC and KWAX in Eugene and KSOR in Ashland at any given time. Program Director Don Hein reports that the KLCC usually has about 30,000 to 33,000 people tuned in. In making the numerous changes highlighted above, the station is endeavoring to persuade listeners to stay tuned longer and to tune in more often.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION AWARDS

Two LCC instructors and a local businessman were recognized for their contributions to vocational education in an awards ceremony on February 8. Named as outstanding vocational educators for 1988-89 were Dixie Maurer-Clemons, CWE coordinator in the Science Department since 1973; and Kelly McGean, a lead instructor in the Small Business Development Center. Larry Stegall, chairman of LCC's Diesel Technology Advisory Committee, was honored as outstanding advisory committee member for 1988-89. Enthusiasm, creativity, initiative, and contributions to the promotion of vocational education were among the factors considered in making these selections. Bill Porter, Vocational-Technical Education, ext. 2100.

Introducing

ASCHIM NEW COMMUNICATIONS SPECIALIST

Joan Aschim, public relations director for the Lane County Chapter of American Red Cross, becomes LCC's news release/Daily editor on February 22. She succeeds Diane Prokop, who transferred to Computer Services. The position has been filled in the interim, first by Vicki Miller, who accepted a permanent position in Printing/Graphics; and of late by Cheryl Alonso, formerly with KLCC. Continue to send your Daily items to Cheryl through February 21. Joan will be on campus on a part-time basis to handle media relations beginning today and will assume full-time duties on February 22. Larry Romine, Institutional Advancement, ext. 2303.

SHE'S GOT AN APPOINTMENT

Linda Riepe, instructor and CWE/program coordinator in LCC's Early Childhood Education Program, has been appointed by Governor Neil Goldschmidt to serve on Oregon's Commission on Child Care. Linda will serve a two-year term as one of 21 commissioners. As a commissioner, she will administer grant monies and advise the administration and the state Legislature on childcare matters. She recently testified before the Oregon Senate Labor Committee, urging lawmakers to pass the new minimum wage bill. Linda makes regular appearances on KMTR's Oregon At 5, reporting on child care issues and offering advice to parents. You can catch her on February 22, March 8 and March 22.

NOT TAKEN FOR GRANTED

U.S. Reps. Peter DeFazio and Ron Wyden will be present during a ceremony on February 14 when the Small Business Administration grants the Oregon Small Business Development Center Network (OSBDCN) $741,000 to continue its small business programs. Twenty OSBDCN centers operate in Oregon--one at each community college and the others at state colleges--to provide business counseling, training, information, and referrals to Oregon's small businesses. Vice President for Instruction Jacqueline Belcher will accept the award on behalf of the centers in Room 202 of the Downtown Center Community Conference Center. The ceremony is scheduled for 10 to 11:30 a.m.

DR. WARFORD, WE PRESUME

Executive Dean Larry J. Warford earned the right to call himself "Dr. Warford" after successfully defending his Ph.D. dissertation at the University of Oregon last week. His topic was contract training at community colleges. He based it on a Delphi survey of members of the League for Innovation in the Community College.

THE BUDGET

In a February 14 letter to staff, Interim President Jack Carter says LCC must cut $1 million from its budget for the year beginning July 1. About $750,000 will come from direct instructional budgets, and the other quarter million from instructional support, Administrative Services, Student Services, and the President's Office. Options to cutting back do not appear viable at this time. A full copy of his letter is attached.

As part of the budget process for FY89-90, budget managers were asked to submit program adjustment requests. This is money that would be used to meet the higher costs of present activities or to enhance them so as to get the job done more adequately. The requests totaled $2.4 million. The amount available for allocation is expected to be $250,000. Larry Romine, Institutional Advancement, ext. 2303.

LCC BOARD OF EDUCATION MEETING REPORT

Richard Romanek of Electronics and Edward W. Seabloom of Mathematics, both 21-year LCC faculty members, will retire at the end of the college year. Each helped shape both the institution and their respective departments. LCC's Board of Education accepted their resignations during the board meeting on February 8 and commended them for their service.

In other business, the Board approved a $50,000 loan from the Bookstore to Food Services so that the latter can buy 18 vending machines and take over that service from a nonperforming vendor. Profits will be used to repay the loan. Name of the Cottage Grove and Florence outreach centers were changed to Lane Community College at Cottage Grove and Lane Community College, Siuslaw Center at Florence. Hufford Construction of Portland won a $99,425 contract for building beam repair in the Auto/Diesel building. Pepsi-Cola of Eugene will sell soft drinks to Food Services at $7.50 a case. Computerland of Portland won a $34,445 contract to supply computer equipment and software to Printing/Graphics. Student Tiffeney Ross was appointed to the Graphic Design Advisory Committee. New member on the LCC Budget Committee is ex-ASLCC President Cindy Weeldreyer of Cottage Grove. Larry Romine, Institutional Advancement, ext. 2303.

WE'VE GOT THOSE OL' WINTER TERM UPS AND DOWNS

Enrollment this winter term, compared to winter 1988, is up 16% in Art and Applied Design, 12% in Science, and 9% in Business. It's also up in lesser amounts in Health & PE, Mathematics, Flight Technology, Central Area Center, Health Occupations and Industrial Technology. Small decreases occurred in Mechanics, Data Processing, and Mass Communication. In a report on Weekend College enrollment dated January 23, total enrollment is up for winter term. Six-hundred sixty-seven students were registered for 25 sections during fall term; 718 students are registered this term in 34 sections. Larry Romine, Institutional Advancement, ext. 2303.

ELECTRONIC EXTRAVAGANZA

In its third annual celebration of electronic music, LCC's Performing Arts Department will present "Electronic Artistry '89" next Friday and Saturday, February 24 and 25. Two nationally known guest artists, Jill Fraser and Don Muro, will perform and present workshops. Workshops will be held on Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. A multi-media concert will be presented at 8 p.m. on both Friday and Saturday evenings. For more information, contact the Performing Arts Department, ext. 2209.

NATIONAL VOCATIONAL EDUCATION WEEK--IT'S NOW!

This week is National Vocational Education Week. The vocational education awards ceremony last week and the open house at Valley River Center gave LCC an opportunity to showcase our institution, ourselves, and our programs. Almost 16 million Americans are enrolled in public vocational education programs in more than 26,000 institutions that prepare two million workers each year for the marketplace. Let's hope our continued visibility in the community will keep LCC's enrollment climbing in both vocational/technical and academic programs!

A JOB WELL DONE!

Now that the Valley River open house is behind us, I want to take a moment to acknowledge the efforts of the people in Printing and Graphics. I'm sure that I was not the only one asking for things for Valley River during the week prior to the open house. I received total cooperation from everyone in that office in spite of a number of other projects hitting them at the same time (such as the spring schedule). Thanks to Gary and everyone else for doing a SUPER JOB under a great deal of pressure. Don Strahan, Cottage Grove Center, 942-8328.

TELEPHONE BOOK EXCHANGE

The 1989 Eugene-Springfield telephone directories have arrived and will be available for departments to pick up over the next two weeks (February 13 - 24). The books will be available afternoons at the Warehouse, as will a recycling bin for your old books. For more information, contact Donna Morgan, Campus Services, ext. 2565.

FAREWELL TO FRAN

Frances Summers will be leaving LCC as of the end of February. She began working for the college in July 1969 as a clerk in Purchasing Services and transferred to Financial Services in early 1976 as an accounts payable bookkeeper. Although her official last day of work is February 28, Fran will be enjoying her last couple of weeks as an LCC employee by taking vacation leave. She requested that a campus-wide farewell reception not be held, and Financial Services has honored her request. We would, however, like to thank Fran for her years of service to LCC and to wish her the best.

For the time being, the accounts payable section of Financial Services will be staffed by Debra Houts and Zendra Haga. Zendra will be handling vendor accounts falling in the alphabet between A and H, in addition to processing all staff travel, Senior Companions, classroom training, and RSVP reimbursements. Debra will handle all vendor accounts between I and Z. Kay Malmberg, ext. 2594.

FUNERAL NEXT WEEK

John Langan, father of Carol Smith, Director of Purchasing, died on Monday, February 13. Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a.m. next Monday, February 20, at the Lane Memorial Gardens Funeral Home.

SPEECH AND WRITING CONTEST

Due to a lack of submissions, the Martin Luther King essay and speech contest has been reopened. The deadline for submissions is now Tuesday, February 21, at 5 p.m. in CEN 479. First prizes of $50 and second prizes of $25 will be awarded in both categories. A short mention by instructors to their students would be appreciated. For further information, contact Michael Stewart or Randy Brown, ASLCC, ext. 2335.

SMALL BUSINESS GRANT MAY BE THE LAST

The $741,000 federal grant awarded to the Oregon Small Business Development Center Network (OSBDCN) based on LCC's Downtown Center will be the last if the Bush administration budget passes, according to comments of U.S. Rep. Ron Wyden during the grant presentation ceremony on February 14. "(Bush) zeroes out the SBDC program; but dollar for dollar, it's the best economic development tool in Oregon," said Wyden. Both he and U.S. Rep. Peter DeFazio are fighting to overturn the budget recommendation. This year's grant was the sixth consecutive award by the federal Small Business Administration to the OSBDCN. Joan Aschim, Inst. Advancement, ext. 2591.

CHANGE OF SCENERY FOR USAA

The national headquarters of the United States Apprenticeship Association (USAA) will soon move to Eugene from Madison, Wisconsin, as Carl Horstrup, department head for LCC's Industrial Technology Programs, becomes the association's executive secretary. The USAA is a private membership organization set up to promote apprenticeship training opportunities nationwide. Among other duties, Carl will publish a monthly newsletter for members and maintain a conference speakers' list. For more information, contact Carl Horstrup, Industrial Technology Programs, ext. 2843.

ON TEACHING AND INFORMATION

The "Campus of the Future" national teleconference that was picked up on February 7 by LCC included a number of interesting ideas and comments--among them these:

On the teaching role: People make teaching/learning happen; technology is only a tool. Technology will convey much of the information. Faculty members will help students analyze, interpret, and think about how to apply it.

On information: The key word is networking. Information is broad-based and very complex. It's a college-wide resource not owned by individuals. Its successful use depends on openness, sharing, and being public.

Larry Romine, Institutional Advancement, ext. 2591.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS TO VISIT

About 100 area high school students will visit LCC on Tuesday, February 28, to learn what day at college is like. Judith Gabriel, College High coordinator, is arranging the visit by some of the students enrolled in winter term college transfer classes conducted at various high schools. Larry Romine, Institutional Advancement, ext. 2591.

POTATO FLAKE PROFITS AND YOU

Miles Willard will deliver a brown bag talk entitled "Profiting From Innovation" on Monday, February 27, from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at the Downtown Center. Willard invented potato flakes for instant mashed potatoes and all the snack products for Keebler's. He will focus on how to use creativity to make a small business more profitable. For more information or to register, contact the Small Business Development Center, ext. 2255.

February 13, 1989

Dear Bill, Joyce & Charlene:

I just wanted to take the time to thank each of you, and the staff at Lane Community College for a job well done. I couldn't have been more pleased.

Your open house, I believe, was a success. One that all of us can be proud of. We are still getting comments on all your efforts, and the crowds were favorable for everyone.

I would like to meet with you in the near future to discuss the overall event and see what we can do to make it better.

Congratulations to everyone for a very successful weekend.

PRESENTERS SOUGHT FOR LEAGUE CONFERENCE

The League for Innovation seeks applications from possible presenters for its October 29 - November 1 conference in St. Louis on "The Community College and the Computer: Celebrating Innovations in Instructional, Administrative, and Telecommunications Applications." Seventy one-hour forums are being scheduled. Those who might want to talk about exemplary programs and practices are invited to contact League Representative Larry Warford in the President's Office, ext. 2302.

Good News

* Eugene Butler, music instructor at Johnson County Community College in Overland Park, Ks, requested permission to visit LCC's electronic music program, which, according to his letter, has "garnered the admiration of schools all over the country."

* John Gallagher, Eugene station manager for Horizon Air and board chair for Le Petit Adret, wrote in praise of this international study program. "...I believe that this program adds another exciting dimension to the LCC offerings...(and) that we have only begun to recognize (its) potential...."

* Alice Kaseberg, LCC instructor in Science and Mathematics, reports that for the second time in the past two years, a community person has passed the Engineering Fundamentals Examination based upon coursework completed at LCC and self study rather than completion of a standard, four-year engineering program. She notes: "This again reminds us how important our pre-engineering work at Lane is to both college transfer and community people."

SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS

Congratulations to Judith Hadley and Sandy Farber, practicum students in the Counseling Department. Both were recently honored by the Oregon College Counseling Association (OCCA) for outstanding performance in the area of college counseling. Judith was the winner of the Jim West Memorial Scholarship, an award of $300 given to one graduate student in Oregon whose major focus is college counseling. Sandy was a runner-up for the same award. Both Judith and Sandy are working as counselors-in-training at LCC this year, providing career, academic, and personal counseling to LCC students. Rich Freund, Counseling, ext. 2204.

SUPER EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

The Social Security Administration is opening a new facility in Auburn, Washington, 20 minutes south of Seattle. There are 400(!) contact representative positions and 50 clerical positions available. ## CURRY GOES TO WASHINGTON

LCC Board of Education member Charlene Curry is a member of the Oregon community college delegation that travels to Washington, D.C., February 26-28 to update Oregon congressional representatives on what's happening at community colleges. The delegation includes about a dozen community college board members and presidents from around the state. The activity is sponsored by the Association of Community College Trustees as part of its National Legislative Seminar.

CHILD CARE TELECONFERENCE FEATURES V.P. BELCHER

An interactive national teleconference on childcare issues can be seen Friday, March 3, from 8:45 to 10:30 a.m. in the LCC Boardroom. Live from Grossmont Community College near San Diego, California, Vice President of Instruction Jacqueline Belcher joins a distinguished panel of educators and national leaders to discuss the economic development issues of providing adequate, affordable childcare for our nation's families. Key issues include community colleges' role in childcare provision and training, childcare as an economic investment for communities, the role of business and industry in providing childcare for employees, and pending federal and state legislation. LCC Board member Mary Unruh will address the audience at 8:45 a.m. and facilitate questions for an open phone line after the presentation. For more information, contact Cynde Leathers, 726-2260; or Jan Sprague, Health Occupations, ext. 2617.

THANKS GO TO STAFF OF VALLEY RIVER CENTER OPEN HOUSE

President Carter writes, "I want to give my belated thanks to staff who were involved in the Valley River Open House. I regret very much that I was out of town and was unable to attend on either day. The enthusiastic response and positive comments are coming in every day, which should be gratifying for your efforts. I did have an opportunity to see a 10-minute video prepared by students in the Mass Communications Department. Your presentations and the total Open House were very well done."

SOC PRESIDENT LAUDS VALLEY RIVER CENTER OPEN HOUSE

President Robert L. Barber of Southwestern Oregon Community College visited the LCC Valley River Center Open House last week. "I was very proud to be a member of the community college family," he wrote in a letter to President Carter dated February 17. "Your staff should be commended for the superior job they did in representing all community colleges."

MORE THANKS

Joyce Kofford thanks all staff who participated in the Open House. "We received lots of good feedback from Valley River Center. It was their biggest weekend since Christmas. Nearly everyone I talked with from LCC felt good about the weekend. Some people learned about programs we have here at LCC and others met people they hadn't seen for a long time and also met new people. We presented ourselves in a highly professional manner and let the public know what an excellent opportunity awaits them here at LCC. Thanks again."

CLASS SCHEDULE REVIEWED

More than 30 staff members attended the class schedule review meeting on February 13. Schedules from other schools were reviewed and suggestions for improvement were noted. ## HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT VISIT CANCELLED

Tomorrow's campus visit by area high school students in the College High Program has been cancelled due to staff illness. The visit will be rescheduled for spring term.

KLCC INSTALLS TRANSLATOR TO SERVE SISTERS AREA

KLCC FM has recently installed a translator to rebroadcast its quality programming to listeners in the Sisters area. The translator, located southwest of Black Butte Ranch, will serve Sisters, Black Butte Ranch, and areas in between.

KLCC will be broadcasting at 90.3 FM with 10 watts of power, the legal FCC limit for translators. The Sisters translator may eventually serve as a relay to a future Mt. Grizzly translator to serve the Redmond, Prineville and Madras areas.

The new translator at Black Butte may incidentally improve the signal to listeners in Bend, who pick up KLCC at 88.9 FM. KLCC is committed to serving areas in Central Oregon that were previously unable to hear the quality programs it provides.

THEFTS NOTED

Thefts of credit cards, money, and other items from personal work areas have occurred during the last six months, says V.P. for Administrative Services, Dick Hillier. "It's unfortunate this message has to go out," he adds. "Please secure your valuables."

STATE COMMUNITY COLLEGE ENROLLMENT GROWING

Full-time equivalent (FTE) enrollment at Oregon's 16 community colleges this academic year is projected to total 55,412. That's 4.8 percent higher than last year, and is the highest enrollment in seven years and the third consecutive year of growth. The historical peak enrollment occurred in 1980-81, when the total FTE was 57,667. Interestingly, the FTE for the Oregon State System of Higher Education was reported to be 53,500 during fall term of this year. Sources: Office of Community College Services of State Department of Education, and the Portland Oregonian.

APPLY NOW FOR REMAINING FUNDS

Only $700 remains in the classified training and development fund for activities to take place April 1 - June 30. Applications for funds should be submitted immediately, as they are expected to go quickly. Contact Trish Kocher, Personnel Services, ext. 2283.

CURRICULUM MEETING REMINDER

The Curriculum Approval Committee meets tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. in the Board Room to discuss new courses and course revisions.

ADULT ED AT LANE COUNTY HOME AND GARDEN SHOW

Demonstrations of wok cooking, gardening, sewing and other subjects taught in Adult Education classes will be performed by instructors at the Lane County Home and Garden Show March 9-12 at the fairgrounds. Adult Ed participates in both the spring show and the fall Home Improvement Show every year. The half-hour demonstrations usually draw a large crowd and promote LCC, says Coordinator Shannon Kracht.
