March 10, 3:30-6:30 p.m., BUS 203

March 13, 3:30-6:30 p.m., IND 201

NURSING PROGRAM REACCREDITED

The nursing program at LCC has been reaccredited by the State Board of Nursing and the National League for Nursing. State accreditation is required to offer licensure exams. The four-year term has been awarded to the LCC Health Occupations program since its inception in 1968. Accreditation by the National League is voluntary bestowed on high quality programs. This is the third consecutive award of the eight-year term of accreditation to LCC.

HIGH SCHOOL RELATIONS PUBLISHES FIRST NEWSLETTER

LCC has released its first issue of Lane Success!, a quarterly newsletter for area high school seniors, their parents and high school staff. The first issue features a senior who chose to attend LCC, transferring credits, admissions, registration, special programs, financial aid, a list of degree programs, and a list of transferable courses. For copies or more information, contact editor Shan Titus, High School Relations Coordinator, Admissions, ext. 2688. Articles and ideas are welcome.

MARIETTA PRIEST PASSES AWAY

Dr. Bill Priest, retired chancellor of the Dallas, Texas, Community College District, wants LCC friends of his spouse, Marietta, to know that she died last Thursday, February 23, 1989. Remembrances may be sent to the Dallas District Foundation to be used for scholarships. Dr. Priest may be contacted at 7210 Twin Tree Lane, Dallas, TX 75214.

MARKETING CALENDAR

The following activities are planned to promote the college prior to spring term. Registration begins March 8 and classes begin March 27.

Promotional messages on KLCC, through March 26.

Radio advertising on KUGN AM/FM, and KSND FM, March 1 - 17.

Television advertising on KMTR, KVAL, KEZI, March 1 - 17.

Cards on back of LTD buses, through March 26.

Spring Term Class Schedule and Report, arrives in homes March 1.

Ad in U.O. student newspaper, March 9 and 10.

Ad in Register-Guard, March 12 and 16.

MARKETING FUNDS DEADLINE

Applications for the next round of marketing funds are due March 6. About $2,000 remains to be distributed to college departments or services for marketing activities. Upcoming deadlines are April 10 and May 15. For guidelines, contact Diane Dann, Institutional Advancement, ext. 2592.

LOVE AND GRATITUDE SENT TO LCC STAFF

Kay Hamill, wife of the late Bob Hamill - former LCC acting president - writes of her "deep sense of gratitude for the overwhelming outpouring of love and prayers." Bob was a fine wood carver and Kay quotes him as saying that he hoped "to apprentice with Michelangelo." She concludes, "Thank you for sharing Bob's life with us. We love you."

DAFFODILS ARE HERE

Daffodils are available for pickup 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Friday, March 3, in the cafeteria. For more information, contact Sally Gover, Institutional Research, Planning & Evaluation, ext. 2576.

TELECONFERENCE LOOKS AT MANAGEMENT PROGRAMS

The "Management Development Programs for the Future" teleconference can be seen Tuesday, March 7, from 12:30 to 2 p.m. in the board room. All managers are invited to attend. The Instructional Cabinet meeting follows at 2 p.m.

The teleconference is a product of the AACJC's Community College Satellite Network and De Anza College. Several presidents from the California Community College System, and Jess Parrish and Bill Stewart of the Presidents Academy, are featured.

THANKS FROM CAROL SMITH

"A special thanks to all my friends at LCC for your support and expressions of sympathy following the recent death of my father. Your many lovely cards, flowers, encouragement, and kindness helped me through this time."

KLCC CELEBRATES INTERNATIONAL WOMEN'S DAY

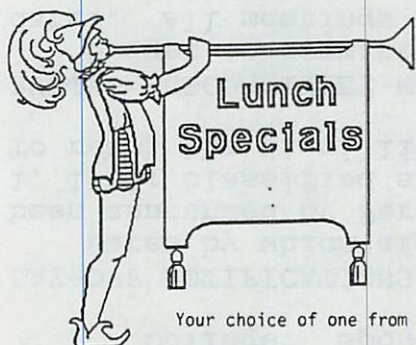

KLCC celebrates International Women's Day March 8 by showcasing the talents of the many women among the KLCC paid and volunteer staff. The entire day will be hosted by the women of KLCC. Listeners will hear the talents of Jenny Newton, Liz Wise, Leslie Hildreth, Mary Klacsan, Barbara Dellenbach, Ava Rosenblum, and others. Programming will include specials on the women of the world.

TODAY:

FREE CONCERT at Performing Arts at 8 p.m. featuring the LCC Choir, directed by Wayte Kirchner; the LCC Baroque Orchestra, directed by Nathan Cammack; the LCC Chamber Choir, directed by Dan Sachs; and the LCC Symphonic Band, directed by Ed McManus. A highlight of the program will be a French horn solo by McManus, who joins the LCC Choir for a performance of "Reconciliation." McManus performed this piece 20 years ago at Sheldon High School as a student in Kirchner's choir.

TOMORROW:

Child care teleconference, board room, 8:45 to 10:30 a.m.

ENROLLMENT DUE TO U.O. CAP PROBABLY SMALL

Newspaper reports speculating that the University of Oregon enrollment cap may be diverting students to LCC probably are premature. Diane Dann, chair of the Marketing Council, says in a February 28 report that analysis of enrollment doesn't necessarily back up the assertion. There is an enrollment growth in lower division transfer enrollment, but the surge is among part-time adult students rather than traditional younger full-time students. This is not peculiar to LCC; it's a national trend among community colleges. Further, there has been no increase in the percentage of students who indicate their ultimate educational goal as four-year or graduate degrees. LCC does have some students who didn't get into the U.O., but the extent of their presence awaits further investigation. Dann reached her conclusions after consultation with Institutional Research, Planning and Evaluation staff.

FORMER LCC STUDENT HEADS UP NEW SECTION OF THE REGISTER-GUARD

Ann Van Camp, who earned an Associate Degree in Broadcast/Visual Design and Production from LCC in 1986, leads the team that assembles the Register-Guard's new weekly Community section.

The new Community section includes a regular feature on local culture or history; a club calendar; a directory of local services; and wedding, anniversary, and marriage news. The first issue was Monday, February 27.

Van Camp was a reporter, columnist, and features editor for The TORCH while enrolled at LCC between 1983 and 1986. She earned a Bachelor's Degree in Journalism from the University of Oregon in 1988, and also worked part-time for the Springfield News for 18 months.

Several other former LCC journalism students work in county media. The Register-Guard employs Janelle Hartman, covering Cottage Grove; Karen Irmsher, writing the nationally syndicated house design feature; and Terry Rhoads, writing sports news. The Register-Guard recently also employed Ron Goldberg, who joined the Ketchikan Daily News last month. Springfield News employs Val Brown and Vicki Pittaluga as production specialists. Oregon Daily Emerald employs Julie Crist, editing special supplements; Julie was last year's TORCH editor. What's Happening employs Robert Wolfe as a columnist. The Oregonian employs Kathleen Monje as Lane County correspondent. School District 4-J employs Kelly Fenely as public information specialist. Jodi Palmer, The TORCH, ext. 2655.

DOES LCC NEED INNOVATION?

Innovation is responsible for between one-half and two-thirds of the increase in U.S. productivity over the last 40 years. During the last 20 years, innovation has accounted for nearly 40 percent of the growth in the nation's GNP. Those figures come from a Merce & Co., Rahway, N.J., publication and were quoted in the February 20, 1989, issue of The Ragan Report. Elsewhere, it has been reported that more than 90 percent of innovations fail, but that organizations that don't innovate die.

ELECTRONIC SERVICES BECOMES AUTHORIZED PANASONIC SERVICE CENTER

The Electronic Services Department was recently designated a Panasonic Authorized Service Center. The department will repair on-campus industrial video and audio Panasonic equipment. In addition, the department has acquired the final test equipment needed to repair on-campus professional cameras, camcorders and related equipment. These changes will save costs incurred by LCC for outside repair services.

KLCC BEGINS SPRING RADIOTHON

KLCC begins its spring radiothon Thursday, March 9, at 7:30 p.m. The membership campaign takes place every spring and fall, and is the largest source of funding for KLCC. This spring's goal is $65,000.

The pre-radiothon "Thonbuster" campaign is already underway. This is the fifth year of obtaining early donations through the Thonbuster campaign.

All contributors will receive a subscription to the bi-monthly Program Guide. Premiums are available from KLCC, NPR, some of the syndicated programs, and local businesses.

KLCC is the only National Public Radio member station in the Eugene/Springfield area and depends on listener contributions for 31 percent of its total operating budget. LCC, the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, and business underwriters make up the rest of the budget. KLCC has 86,000 watts of power with translators in Bend, Sisters, Cottage Grove, Oakridge, Florence, Newport/Depoe Bay, and Roseburg.

To contribute, call KLCC at 726-2218.

COMPUTER CLASS FOR EDUCATORS

"Spring Studies in Computing for Educators" is offered spring term at 4 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Taught by Fred Beisse, this beginners' course covers the use of spreadsheets in education, such as for class rosters and grades. For more information, contact Fred Beisse, Data Processing, ext. 2464.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT LONG TERM LEAVE APPLICATIONS

Deadline for the 1989-90 school year is April 17, 1989. Applications are available from Pat John, ext. 2439, or Roxanne Flowerday, ext. 2440, in the Study Skills Department.

OPEN HOUSE AT COTTAGE GROVE CENTER

LCC at Cottage Grove celebrates its recent "face lift" in an open house on March 8, 1989, from 3 to 8 p.m. Displays, exhibits, refreshments and door prizes are planned.

MAYOR OF COTTAGE GROVE PROCLAIMS MARCH 8 LANE COMMUNITY COLLEGE DAY

Mayor James E. Gilroy has officially proclaimed March 8 Lane Community College Day in Cottage Grove. Gilroy says that LCC at Cottage Grove "has served an average of over 1,000 students per year for many years... offers a variety of programs...has been instrumental in supporting community events and strengthening the knowledge and skill level of our workforce."

HIRING FREEZE ANNOUNCED

Attached to this issue of The Daily is a memo to all staff from President Carter announcing a hiring freeze. The freeze reserves certain vacancies for classified employees whose positions may be cut as part of the projected 1989-90 budget reductions. (See attached.)

BOARD MEETING SET FOR WEDNESDAY

The LCC Board of Education meets Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the board room.

ALL CAMPUS FORUMS

- Perspectives on participatory management, presented by Larry Perry, LCC Board Chairperson; Jack Carter, LCC Interim President; and Bill Mullin, LCC Education Association President; Wednesday, March 8, from 3 to 5 p.m. in Forum 308-309.

- Office of Instruction's recommendations for budget cuts, presented by Dr. Jacquelyn Belcher, Thursday, March 9, 2:30 to 3:30 p.m., Forum 309.

RIGGS ENDORSED

Patty G. Riggs, candidate for the Zone 3 seat on the Board of Education, has been endorsed by the LCC Oregon Education Association, the LCC Employees Federation, and ASLCC President, John Millet. Riggs is competing with Larry L. Mann and Kenneth P. Cerotsky in the March 28 mail-in election.

APPLICANTS SOUGHT FOR INNOVATIONS FUNDS

The LCC Foundation's Eldon G. Schafer Endowment for Innovation Committee is now accepting applications from faculty and staff for the 1989 award funds. In 1988, two people won the monies. Fred Beisse, data processing instructor, received an award to study a computer competency requirement. Carl Horstrup, Industrial Technology Department Head, received an award to look at LCC participation in catfish farming.

The deadline to apply is April 14. For guidelines, forms and other information, contact Joe Farmer, LCC Foundation, ext. 2810.

MALIK TO HEAD COMMISSION ON COLLEGES

A former LCC employee assumes office in July as executive director of the Commission on Colleges of the Northwest Association of Schools and Colleges in Seattle. Dr. Joseph A. Malik was administrative intern in 1967-68 in the office of then-President Dale Parnell. One of his major jobs at that time was to write the prospectus used to sell the bonds which provided money to build the 30th Avenue campus. Malik has been president of Grays Harbor College at Aberdeen, Washington, since 1972. Last year he was named one of 50 outstanding community college presidents in the U.S. As executive director of the Commission on Colleges, he will be in charge of accrediting activities for the colleges in Alaska, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Utah, Washington, and Oregon.

DENTAL INSTRUCTOR PAYS OFF DAUGHTERS

LCC dental instructor Carolyn Blanchard and her husband Dennis paid $500 each to their daughters Jodee, 9, and Kellee, 12, for successfully completing a year without television, as reported in the Thursday, March 2, Register-Guard. The Blanchard daughters were among five Eugene-area girls following a lead set by Ben and Matt Kearney a year ago.

STUDENT DANCE CONCERT WEDNESDAY

The Introduction to Choreography class presents its final dance concert on Wednesday, March 8, at 3:30 p.m., in Physical Education, Room 101. Admission is free.

FACULTY/STAFF DISCOUNT OFFERED FOR SOVIET CELLIST CONCERT

The Hult Center is extending special prices of $13.75 and $10.50 to faculty and staff of LCC and the UO for the Sunday, March 12, 7 p.m., concert by Soviet cellist, Karine Georgian. Georgian will also conduct a master class with three UO music students on Saturday, March 11, at 1 p.m. in Beall Hall, Room 198, open for viewing at no charge.

KLCC PRODUCER GETS FEATURE ON AMERICAN PUBLIC RADIO

A feature on teenagers produced by D. Roberts of KLCC will be aired on American Public Radio. KLCC airs "Waiting for the Great Leap Forward" on the Radio Arts program on Sunday, March 12, at 8 p.m. The feature portrays teens and their attitudes, concerns, hopes, and dreams. Roberts interviewed 150 high school students in Eugene, Portland and Los Angeles for this half-hour special.

FUTURE OF SMALL BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT GRANT CLARIFIED

Sandy Cutler, State Director of the Oregon Small Business Development Center Network headquartered at the LCC Downtown Center, responds to recent negative media about the future of federal grants for the program. "The Reagan administration proposed elimination of the SBDC program every year for the last eight years, yet the program continued to receive funding due to strong congressional support." Cutler expects this trend to continue during the Bush administration.

RE : Hiring Freeze for Classified Positions

In order to reserve on-campus vacancies as transfer options for Classified employees whose positions are cut as part of the projected 1989-90 budget reductions, the College is imposing a hiring freeze on all vacant, Classified positions effective immediately. The only exceptions will be:

1. Positions advertised on-campus or in-department only.
2. Positions for which an emergency need for replacement exists and which cannot be filled through temporary reassignment of duties or employment of temporary employees.
3. Positions that were advertised or approved for advertising prior to announcement of this freeze.

Requests to post positions meeting either of the first two criteria should be processed, as usual. For more information about the recruitment process or the hiring freeze, please contact Rose Holeman, in Personnel, ext. 2584.

LCC SPEECH STUDENT WINS TOURNAMENT

Veasna Chan Yun won first place in persuasive speaking at the District Qualifier for the National Individual Events Tournament. His speech on the trade imbalance between the U.S. and Japan will take him to national competition at North Dakota State University in April.

LCC was the only community college in the entire Northwest Forensic Conference competing with the four-year colleges and universities at last week's tournament.

LCC RECEIVES $4,500 GRANT TO DEVELOP COMPUTER NETWORK

LCC Electronic Services has received a $4,500 grant from NOVELL, Inc. for the installation and development of a computer network system. Next term, 30 existing computers in the Business Department lab will be linked by the NOVELL system. Electronics Services Chair Bob Vogel says he hopes to expand to a 50-computer network. Networks enable all linked personal computers to share data and software, saving the cost of purchasing duplicate programs for each user.

INNOVATOR OF THE YEAR AWARD NOMINATIONS WANTED

The League for Innovation in the Community College is seeking nominations for its annual Innovator of the Year Award. The award is given to one staff member at each League college who has designed and implemented a significant innovation during the past year. Any current LCC employee, part-time or full-time, may be nominated. The deadline for nominations is April 21. Past winners include Tom Wayne (1987-88), Linda Riepe (1986-87), Daniel Hodges (1985-86), Bill Mullin (1984-85), Velma Jesser (1983-84), and Arden Woods (1982-83). To make a nomination, contact Larry Warford, Institutional Advancement, ext. 2302.

BUSINESS TEAMS UP WITH LCC TO TEACH ASBESTOS COURSE

Northwest Envirocon, Inc., and LCC will offer a three-day, full-scale asbestos abatement training course March 21-23, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., in Apprenticeship 107. One college credit and state and federal certification are offered. The cost of $380 includes equipment and workbooks provided by Northwest Environcon, which conducts similar workshops throughout the Northwest. To register, contact Linda Myers, IT, ext. 2883.

FACULTY FORUM ON GRADES AND STANDARDS LISTS KEY ISSUES

Five issues are being pursued as a result of the winter term faculty forum on grades and standards: 1) Allowing the instructor to give a Y grade to students who sign up as an audit but do not attend or otherwise warrant an audit; 2) The possibility of plus/minus grades; 3) Clarification on the use of the Y grade; 4) The possibility of a new grade option of NC for no credit; and 5) Organizing an inservice session on grades and standards.

The faculty forum plans to bring these issues with recommendations to Vice President for Instruction Jacquelyn Belcher, later this month.

Minutes of the faculty forum are on reserve in the library.

For more information, contact Jill McKenney, Math, ext. 2392; Loretta Plaa, IT, ext. 2525; or Richard Null, Science, ext. 2446.

NOT A COLLEGE ENDORSEMENT

A March 6 report on the three-candidate race for the Zone 3 (Springfield school district area) seat on the LCC Board of Education stated that a candidate had been endorsed by some LCC organizations. The Daily did not intend to imply, through the printing of the item, that either the publication or the College was endorsing the candidate. Candidates include Kenneth P. Cerotsky, Larry L. Mann, and Patty G. Riggs. The March 28 election is being conducted by mail-in ballot.

PERFORMING ARTS PUTS ON FREE JAZZ CONCERT

The LCC Vocal Jazz Ensemble, directed by Dan Sachs, and the LCC Jazz Ensemble, directed by James Greenwood, will be featured in a free concert on Thursday, March 9, 8 p.m., in the Performing Arts Department main theater. John Workman, part-time piano instructor, will make a special guest appearance.

COMMUNITY RESPONDS TO LCC

Several letters of tribute have been sent to LCC from people in the community. Among them: Valley River Center's Marketing Director, Judy Cerkoney, sends thanks to all LCC staff responsible for the LCC open house last month. Nancy Mulheim, Eugene Chamber of Commerce, sends thanks for a luncheon and tour of the communications and health departments. Lane County, represented by Steve Cornacchia, Chair, Board of Commissioners, and Jim Johnson, County Administrator, thanks LCC for its contribution to the county-wide Human Service Planning Project.

PERFECT RECORD SET BY SIUSLAW AREA CENTER STUDENTS

All students who recently completed the EMT-1 class at the Siuslaw Area Center have passed the state examination for employment as Emergency Medical Technicians, says coordinator Al Owens. "It is a rare accomplishment that a 100 percent pass rate can be achieved in programs of this nature and we are proud that a class from the Florence center can fulfill that honor." Owens credits instructor John Carnahan for doing an excellent job.

TELECONFERENCES ON VIDEOTAPE

Videotapes of two teleconferences recently shown at LCC, "When We Care for Children", and "Management Development Programs for the Future," are on reserve at the LCC library.

LCC CELEBRATES 10 YEARS OF TELECONFERENCES

Spring term marks the 10th anniversary of telecourse education at LCC. One of the first community colleges in Oregon to offer telecourses, LCC drew 24 enrollees to its first course. This spring, about 800 enrollees are expected in 18 courses. Social Science instructor George Alvergue taught the first course, Consumer Education.

TEACHING EXCELLENCE AWARD TO BE GIVEN TO RIEPE

Linda Riepe has been nominated by President Jack Carter for an award from the Community College Leadership Program (CCLP) at the University of Texas at Austin. Riepe will receive her award when she attends the eleventh annual Conference on Teaching Excellence to be held in Austin on May 21-24. She will also be included in a book to be published by the CCLP next year. CCLP surveyed about 900 community college teachers across the nation to gather information for the book.

NATIONALLY ACCLAIMED ARTIST TO VISIT LCC

LCC will hold an exhibition by nationally renowned Boston artist and University of Massachusetts art professor, John Grillo, from March 27 - April 14, at the Art Department Gallery.

Grillo will conduct a slide-lecture on Monday, April 3 at 1 p.m. in Forum 308. A reception follows at 3 p.m., in the Art Department Gallery, sponsored by the ASLCC.

Art instructor Harold Hoy says Grillo is probably the most established artist ever to visit LCC. Grillo has 19 museum collections, nine corporate and foundation collections, 42 group exhibitions, 28 one-man exhibitions, and four awards and fellowships to his credit.

The LCC exhibit includes watercolors and black and white charcoal drawings. Many of the drawings are mural size, measuring 60 by 80 inches. About 17 pieces will be exhibited.

The visit was arranged by art instructor Satoko Okito, who studied with Grillo at the University of Massachusetts between 1983 and 1985. "I really admire him as an artist," says Okito. "What's really exciting about this show is that some of the pieces are from the forties and fifties when he was part of the American expressionist movement in New York. His slide-lecture will show his progression from abstract to representational, or figurative, work."

Students and staff are invited to attend the exhibition, lecture, and reception. Harold Hoy, LCC Art Department, 747-4501, ext. 2412.

BASIC WORKPLACE SKILLS IDENTIFIED

Seven basic skills are required in today's workplace, quotes the Oregon Community College Association from reports by the American Society for Training and Development and the U.S. Dept. of Labor. Those skills are knowing how to learn; reading, writing, math (the three "R's"); listening and oral skills; problem solving; personal management; interpersonal skills; and leadership. "Knowing how to learn is the foundation to all other skills," says OCCA.

LCC's Study Skills and Learning Center offers courses and counseling to improve reading, writing, spelling, vocabulary, basic math, and study skills. The Center also conducts testing, and serves blind and hearing impaired students.

BUSINESS EDUCATION CONDUCTS "2+2 PROGRAM" TEST

The Business Department will field test the latest version of the so-called 2+2 program this spring when BE 2+2 DB (Business Education 2+2 Database) gets underway in some area high schools, says instructor Greg Harpole. Participating schools will be announced next week.

2+2 is a generic name for all programs that connect vocational-technical education in high schools and community colleges. LCC's 2+2 efforts are coordinated by Bill Porter and include classes in business, medical terminology and welding.

BUDGET SUBCOMMITTEE MEETS TOMORROW

The LCC Budget Subcommittee hearing for Instruction will meet tomorrow, March 14, 3:30 to 6:30 p.m., CEN 478. This is the first hearing. Times and dates of subsequent hearings have not been set and will be published when confirmed.

EXECUTIVE DEAN WARFORD SELECTED FOR LEADERSHIP INSTITUTE

Executive Dean Larry J. Warford is among 30 educators in the nation chosen to attend an Executive Leadership Institute which trains persons considered potential community college presidents.

The training is sponsored by the League for Innovation in the Community College, Los Angeles; University of California at Berkeley; and University of Texas at Austin. This year's institute will be held July 16-21 at Newport Beach, California.

VICE PRESIDENT BELCHER APPOINTED TO HUMAN RIGHTS TASK FORCE

Vice President of Instruction Jacquelyn Belcher was appointed to a human rights task force by Eugene Mayor Jeff Miller last week. The task force will study how the city can best meet its human rights needs, including determining whether to continue five separate human rights commissions.

PURCHASING DIRECTOR SMITH JOINS CITY OF EUGENE

Purchasing Director Carol Smith has accepted the position of Director of Purchasing for the City of Eugene. Bob Cudmore will serve until a new Purchasing Director is selected. A search committee is being formed from members of various branches of the college. Richard Hillier, V.P. for Admin. Services, ext. 2311.

MARCH BOARD MEETING REPORT

Charlene Curry retired from the LCC Board of Education at its March 8 meeting, three months before the end of her term in the Zone 3 seat. She said that she would like whoever is elected on March 28 to begin serving at the next board meeting. "I'd like to say good-bye tonight. It's time. I'm confident that a good person will sit in this seat." Board Chair Larry Perry replied, "It's a surprise, and then again it isn't, as you're often a surprise." Curry has served 12 years on the board.

The next Presidential Search Advisory Committee meeting was set for Wednesday, March 15, 6:30 p.m., in the board room. Reports will be heard but no action is expected, said Perry.

Six new courses were approved, including four math classes below the 100 level. Vice President for Instruction Jacquie Belcher said the new classes will enable non-math oriented majors to meet associate degree requirements. She said this group has been discouraged by higher level classes, and the new classes should improve retention. The credits will not be transferable, but 100-level classes remain transferable. The other two courses approved are High Speed/High Altitude Flight and Review of Nursing Process.

Director of Vocational Technical Education Bill Porter said the 2+2 programs, or those that articulate high school and college classes, should include most vocational-technical classes by the end of spring term.

Coopers and Lybrand delivered a clean, no-qualifications audit of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1988.

Hillsboro Helicopter was awarded the purchase of one helicopter.

HOW TO USE EMPLOYEE TUITION WAIVER

Carol Woodman in Personnel reminds employees that to take advantage of the tuition waiver benefit, fill out the form, get your supervisor's signature, and forward to Personnel Services. Personnel will return the waivers to the submitting department; it is then the employee's responsibility to turn in waivers to Financial Services. Volunteer staff should use the Courtesy Appointment form for this purpose.

RED CROSS SENDS V.P. BELCHER ON SPECIAL ASSIGNMENT

Vice President of Instruction Jacquée Belcher has volunteered to set up meetings between representatives of the American Red Cross and United Way on behalf of the Lane County Chapter of the American Red Cross when she visits Washington, D.C., next month. The Lane County Chapter is seeking to change part of its required payment to the national organization that includes certain local United Way donations. Belcher is a member of the local Red Cross board.

EUGENE LIBRARY DISPLAYS ESL STUDENT INFORMATION

Students from about 60 different classes have enrolled in the English as a Second Language (ESL) program this year, says instructor Maxine Frauman. Information about the students, their countries, goals, and their impressions of America can be found in a display called "We Are The World" at the Eugene Public Library during March. The display is downstairs in the periodicals section of the library.

FUNDS ALLOCATED

Classified employees should note that all training and development funds have been allocated for 1988-89 activities that take place before July 1, reports Personnel Services.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT APPLICATIONS SOUGHT

Deadlines for both short-term and long-term professional development for the 1989-90 school year are approaching. The next deadline for short-term applications is April 3, with two more deadlines following in May. The last deadline for long-term development applications is April 17. Contact Pat John, ext. 2439, or Roxanne Flowerday, ext. 2440, in the Study Skills Department.

TODAY:

Presidential Search Advisory Committee Work Session, 6:30 p.m., Board Room.

COTTAGE GROVE OPEN HOUSE A SUCCESS

Nearly 300 people attended the Cottage Grove Open House on March 8, reports Coordinator Don Strahan. It was a major success in reaching nonstudents; approximately 65 percent of the people who attended the function were not LCC students.

The Center received the "Looking Good Award" for improvements to the facility from the Cottage Grove Downtown Restoration Association. LCC Board Chair Larry Perry accepted the award on behalf of the College.

Fifteen local merchants donated door prizes. Winners from LCC staff were Larry Brown, Paul Colvin, Cecilia Combest, Patty Edwards, Marie Reid, and Mari Reed.

"Thank you to all LCC employees and Board members who joined us for the occasion...and to the people in Campus Services who were involved in the various projects that resulted in a facility that is now a visual asset to the community," says Strahan.

TARGETED MARKETING FUNDS ALLOCATED

Several staff members and departments have received funding to implement targeted marketing activities, says Associate Director of Institutional Advancement Diane Dann. Jerry Seifert has been allocated $529 to promote the Performing Art Department's Summer Musical Theatre Project to high school students. Velma Jesser has received $100 to help fund a Downtown Business Education Center reception for representatives from business and education. Kate Barry, Bill Porter, and Joyce Kofford have received $400 to support LCC's involvement in KPNW's Working Women's World Fair at the fairgrounds April 2. About $1,200 remains to be allocated to departments this spring. The next application deadline is April 10. Contact Diane Dann, Institutional Advancement, ext. 2592.

CELEBRATE LCC'S 25TH IN 1990

You are cordially invited to attend a celebration of LCC's 25th anniversary on Friday, April 27, 1990, at 4 p.m. in the cafeteria. President Jack Carter announces that the College will be closed from 4-5 p.m. to enable all staff to attend. Food, drink, entertainment, and a short program are planned. Founding President Dale Parnell, now president of the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges, Washington, D.C., will speak. College departments are invited to set up displays showing the evolution of their areas through the years, with prizes to be awarded. Jolene Bowers, Student Records, is chairing the event. Committees include Margaret Knutson and Helen Haynie, flowers, decorations, guest book; Ken Johnson and Chuck Reid, facilities; Bob Tegge and Willie Kealoha, refreshments; Dick Reid and Jim Greenwood, entertainment; Bob Prokop and Jim Dunne, slide show; Larry Warford and Larry Romine, program and awards; Marilyn Pepple and Charlene Blinn, department displays. If you'd like to work on any of the committees, contact Jolene Bowers at ext. 2693.

DATE CHANGED

The 25th Anniversary Steering Committee will meet Thursday, March 16, 3-5 p.m., in ADM 216. Disregard prior notice. The meeting is open to all interested.

'INTELLIGENT USE OF EMPLOYEE INTELLIGENCE'

In recent campus discussions of participative management, some people have suggested that no one knows what it is. One view is that participative management is simply being employee-centered, which implies the intelligent use of employee intelligence. Larry Romine, Institutional Advancement.

TRANSITIONS OFFICE CLSOED FOR SPRING BREAK

The Transitions to Success program in the Displaced Homemakers/Single Parents Program will be closed for spring break next week.

LCCEF MEETING

The LCCEF general membership meeting will be tomorrow, March 16, 5:15 p.m., Forum 308-9. Agenda includes voting on dues increaes and selecting delegates to the OFT convention.

TODAY:

- 25th Anniversary Steering Committee meeting, 3-5 p.m., ADM 216.

IT'S A YEAR AWAY

The April 27, 1990, party to celebrate the College's 25th anniversary is NEXT year. The headline and story in Wednesday's Daily both said "1990", but some people called Jolene Bowers, party chairperson, to tell her that April 27 is on a Thursday. It is this year, but in 1990 it's on a Friday. The 25th committee appreciates the extra publicity, however, so thanks for calling.

HELP AVAILABLE FOR INTER-CAMPUS ORDERS

The accounting staff in Financial Services is available to answer questions from staff who fill out and sign inter-campus service orders (ICO's). All ICO's must have the proper budget authority signature, a dollar amount, two account numbers, and a brief but complete description. Some specific reminders:

- Corrections of errors need a copy of the order attached.
- Meals on campus must include the names and reason for the meeting, as well as the date, and should include a receipt.
- Meals off campus may be recorded on a travel request form.
- Only Personnel staff can move salary and wage expenses on a Personnel Action Form (PAF).

Questions regarding equipment purchase or replacement accounts should be directed to Purchasing. Other ICO questions should be directed to Gloria Varner, ext. 2516; or Emily Rasmussen, ext. 2609.

DEFAZIO SPEAKS AT SMALL BUSINESS FORUM

Congressman Peter DeFazio will discuss federal programs affecting small business through the 1990's and will answer questions at a forum on Wednesday, March 29, 7-8:30 p.m., at the LCC Downtown Center, Room 302. The forum is sponsored by the congressman and the SBDC.

IMPACT OF NATIONAL WELFARE REFORM TO BE DISCUSSED

National welfare reform laws passed by Congress in 1988 and Oregon's response will be discussed at a forum on March 31, 1-3:30 p.m., Forum 308. The guest speaker is Sharon McFarland of Adult and Family Services, State of Oregon. McFarland is manager of the Oregon Job Opportunities and Basic Skills (JOBS) program, which is charged with putting more welfare clients into training and support services. The College Times states that the JOBS program will encourage "welfare recipients to seek community college training in substantial numbers" and that each state will decide "whether college becomes a training option". McFarland will take questions following her presentation. This forum was originally scheduled for February 2 but was postponed due to weather. The forum is sponsored by the Women's Program at LCC.

CWE STUDENTS SUCCESSFUL

Shawn Wylie, former CWE student, has been hired by the Lincoln County assessor's office. Wylie and another CWE student, Ron Card, have been working in the assessor's office for the past year as part of the "Proficiency Skills: Injured Worker Retraining Program" offered by LCC. Both men were recently cited in a local Lincoln County newspaper for commendations from their supervisor.

SYMPHONY CLASS OFFERED TO STAFF

How to use Symphony will be taught in a class for staff who need to use the computer program but have little or no previous experience. CS 112, Microcomputer Integrated Systems Applications, covers the Symphony word processor, spreadsheet, graphics, data manager, communications, and data transfer features. It is a three-credit class, sequence number 250, and meets from 1-2:30 p.m., Tuesdays and Thursdays, M&A 241. For more information, call Fred Beisse, Data Processing, ext. 2464.

INTRODUCTION TO COMPUTERS CLASS FOR FACULTY

The Data Processing Department is offering a spring term course designed specifically for LCC faculty who have little or no previous computer experience. The course demystifies computer jargon, introduces personal computer software tools, and describes resources available to faculty to make computers useful, instructional course management tools. CS 199, Special Studies in Computing for Educators, three credits, sequence number 255, 4-5 p.m., Tuesdays and Thursdays, M&A 245. Fred Beisse, Data Processing, ext. 2464.

GRILLO EXHIBIT OPEN

Mural-size black and white drawings of Boston artist John Grillo are on display at the LCC Art Department Gallery through April 14.

WELFARE FORUM CANCELLED

The public forum set for Friday, March 31, on national welfare reform with Sharon McFarland has been cancelled.

MEMORIAL SERVICE TO BE HELD

A memorial service for Beverly Cleeton, Carol Beckley's mother, will be held on Wednesday, March 29, 3 p.m., at Central Lutheran Church, 1857 Potter, Eugene. Cleeton passed away on Friday, March 17. Carol has requested that in lieu of flowers, donations be made to American Diabetes Association, Gales Creek Scholarship Fund, Eugene, OR, 97401, which helps children with diabetes attend a summer camp where they learn about diet and exercise helpful in controlling diabetes.

USERS TELL HOW TO IMPROVE CLASS SCHEDULE

In March, small focus groups of students and others were asked to help LCC improve its class schedule. The focus group study, conducted by an independent research firm and funded with marketing money, included a number of useful recommendations.

Suggested things to change: convert from a loose page newspaper format to a stapled magazine format; make the cover more appealing; include a better table of contents and an index; make costs clearer by putting the actual cost by each class; have a tearout registration worksheet; and reduce or eliminate news and feature stories.

Suggested things to continue: have separate credit and noncredit sections; describe noncredit classes, but not credit classes; mail to all residents; and distribute for free.

A report of the study has been distributed to the president, vice presidents, and executive dean. Copies are also available on reserve at the LCC library and in the Office of Institutional Research, Planning and Evaluation. Diane Dann, Institutional Advancement.

DRUG FREE WORKPLACE REQUIRED FOR GRANTS AND CONTRACTS

The federal government now requires any organization seeking federal grants or contracts to certify that it maintains a drug-free workplace. LCC has a committee working to ensure compliance. If you are working on a federal grant or contract now and would like more information, contact Diane Dann, Institutional Advancement, ext. 2592.

ADDING DEPENDENTS TO INSURANCE

Dependents may be added to your insurance coverage within the first 30 days of marriage, birth, or adoption. If they are not added at that time, you must wait until open enrollment. If you have any questions, contact Marie Nelson, Personnel Services, ext. 2590.

KLCC MAKES $65,000 GOAL

KLCC thanks its listeners for pledging $65,000 during the Spring Radiothon in 11 days. Over $14,500 came in from the Thonbuster campaign before the Radiothon even began, followed by pledges from 1,300 listeners.

Thanks also go to phone volunteers and staff who worked day and night, businesses who donated premiums, and restaurants that provided meals for the station throughout the week.

"KLCC strives to be a valuable community resource, and it is great to see the community reach out with the financial support necessary to sustain it. Thank you," says Marketing Director Gayle Chisholm.
