CHILD CARE REPORT AVAILABLE

A report on child care issues at Lane has been produced through the Marketing Council. It is available for reading at the office of Council chair Diane Dann, ADM 209.

The report includes information about how other Oregon community colleges are addressing child care needs and "should provide an excellent basis for continuing discussions," Dann says.

A major recommendation is that a way be found for the various groups working on child care to coordinate their efforts. Participants include the Child Development Center, Office of Instruction, Welfare Reform Task Force, and Marketing Council.

Judith Boler of the Oregon Social Learning Center wrote the report under a commission by the Research Committee chaired by Julie Aspinwall-Lamberts, IRP&E.

The executive summary of the report is reprinted below.

The child care needs of current and potential students are a concern at Lane, as they are at other community colleges throughout the country. This concern is legitimate. An increasing number of community college students have small children and there is good evidence that inadequate child care can be a significant barrier to a student's entering and remaining in school.

Imagine a young mother without a car spending up to three hours a day trying to make the necessary bus connections between home, day care, and school. Imagine how the problems are compounded if the child becomes ill during the day.

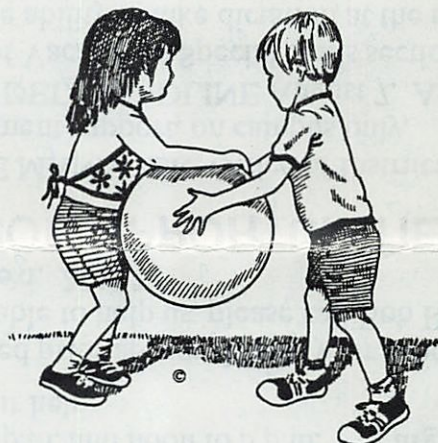

According to a survey conducted at the State University of New York and reported in the Community College Times (May 9, 1989, page 1), adequate child care can be essential to academic success. Parents who have reliable child care are more likely to enroll, perform better in school, and find they can manage larger classloads.

Colleges have tried various approaches to child care, ranging from full-scale on-site day care centers to aiding in the formation of informal cooperatives. Others, like Lane, offer child care in conjunction with an instructional program; however, as at Lane, openings and services are necessarily limited and fees are higher than many low-income students can afford.

Services that address the child care needs of community college students are characterized by

(1) affordability ($1.00 to $1.50 an hour), (2) flexible hours, (3) drop-in care, (4) sick-child care. Finding appropriate and affordable child care is particularly difficult for Lane's low-income students. While there are efforts within our community to offer resource and referral services, no comprehensive referral program currently exists.

At the present time at Lane, there are a number of groups working independently to improve child care for students. The full report describes the work of these various groups, the research that has been done to date on child care needs, and how other Oregon Community Colleges are responding.

RECOMMENDATIONS

This report was not intended to determine how the college should respond to the need for child care. It was intended to help the college move forward on this issue.

We recommend that the college take the following next steps:

1. Acknowledge that the focus of the Child Development Center at Lane Community College is to provide training for Early Childhood students. It cannot and is not intended to be Lane's total response to the child care needs of students.
2. Create a task force that brings together the various people now working independently on the child care issue. This collaborative model would include participants from Student Services, Student Government, the Child Development Center, Office of Instruction, the Welfare Reform Task Force, and possibly the Marketing Council.

The charge to this group would be:

- To determine what child care services are needed by present Lane students, focusing first on meeting the needs of low-income students. See characteristics above.

- To recommend methods for meeting these child care needs, beginning first with the needs of low-income students, followed by methods for meeting the needs of other students and potential students.

- Once we've met the immediate needs, to explore broader child care issues, such as partnerships with businesses or providing assistance and perhaps certification to other providers.

WORLD VETERANS TO RUN

Seven 10-kilometer cross country finals races will be run this Thursday, August 3, at Lane as part of the world veterans' championships. Some 1,350 women and men will compete, starting at 8 a.m. and ending after 5 p.m. The schedule: 8 a.m.- women ages 35-39, 40-44, and 45-49; 9:15 a.m.- women 50-54, 55-59, 60-64, 65-69, 70-74, 75-79, and 80-up; 10:45 a.m.- men 60-64, 65-69, 70-74, 75-79, 80-84, 85-89, 90-94, 95-up; 12:15 p.m.- men 55-59, 1:30 p.m.- men 50-54; 2:45 p.m.- men 45-49; 4 p.m.- men 40-44.

Bus shuttles from the University of Oregon will be moving in and out of the west parking lot all day. Assembly, orientation, first aid, and other race support will be in the track area. Lane staff are urged to help make the competitors feel welcome; a number of employees are helping conduct the races. The Daily hopes to run their names next Tuesday.

SCHAFER DRIVE CLOSES

Eldon Schafer Drive will be closed to traffic on Thursday, August 3, from 7 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. to accommodate the WAVA Cross Country Meet.

BOOKSTORE SELLS CHOCOLATE MEDALLIONS

Euphoria milk chocolate medallions to celebrate the World Veterans' Championships are available at the Lane Bookstore for $1.75 each. The Euphoria Chocolate Company will direct a portion of the sale price of each piece to the World Veterans' Championships to support this event.

SUMMER CLOSURES ANNOUNCED

- The Bookstore will be closed from August 14 to September 15.
- Disabled Student Services will be closed from August 8 to September 4.

CLOSED CAMPUS SCHEDULED AUGUST 19-20

Electricity and water will be shut off campus-wide on the weekend days of August 19 and 20 for electric and water maintenance operations.

TAYLOR RECEIVES THANKS

"Thank you to Tom Taylor, Electronic Services, for solving our long-term terminal problem. You are wonderful! We appreciate your knowledge, ability, and concern in resolving the problem.

You are an asset to the college. Again, thank you."

- Twila Lovaas and the Bookstore staff, ext. 2256.

MATSEN COMMENDED

Clifford G. Dawdy, Director of the Learning Resource Center, commends Marie Matsen for her work helping the LRC develop a complete automation plan and "for being the catalyst that enabled the LRC staff to look for workable answers to our needs, both in automation and in goal planning."

SEVIER TO MARRY

Paula Sevier of Campus Services (ext. 2567) will marry Mr. Joel Slavin on August 4, 1989.

BOARD TO MEET TWICE IN AUGUST

The Board of Education will meet via telephone conference call on Wednesday, August 9, to discuss a helicopter bid award for the Flight Technology Program. The Board will meet in closed Executive Session on August 23, beginning at 6 p.m., in the Renaissance Room, Center Building, followed by an open Work Session at 7:30 p.m. in the Board Room.

CT&D FUNDS AVAILABLE

Classified Training and Development funds ($250) are still available for August 1 through September 30, 1989 activities. Submit CT&D forms to Sue Colvin in Personnel Services as soon as possible.

ERROR FOUND IN WELL, WELL, WELL

Many health conscious Lane staff members noticed that Karvonen's Formula in the August issue of Well, Well, Well is incorrect. Bob Radcliff, H&PE, offers a cardiovascular fitness formula based on what is most often found in health literature, to find your target heart rate during exercise: 220 minus your age, multiplied by .85 for the upper end of your target range, or by .70 for the lower end of your target range. Twenty minutes of exercise at your target heart rate four or five times per week is recommended for fitness. Always check with your physician before commencing strenuous physical activity programs.

TWITTY OFFERS THANKS

"Special thanks to all my LCC friends: thank you so much for your flowers and cards during my recent surgery. I'm hoping to get well enough to join all of you again soon." - Marie Twitty, Switchboard

OLANDER INVITED TO SPEAK

Dr. Joseph Olander, president of Evergreen State College at Olympia, has been invited by President Jack Carter to speak at both a morning in-service session for staff and an evening meeting for the community on Thursday, September 21. A noted presenter with futurist leanings, Olander will talk about education challenges and changes coming up in the next quarter century.

LANE OFFERS HEALTH RECORDS TECHNOLOGY

Lane is offering a new Health Records Technology one-year certificate program. Classes are filled and 18 students are scheduled to start in the fall. The program will prepare students for employment in the health care field, or to apply

Contact David John Marotta in Computer Services for a complete price list and ordering information. All staff and students are eligible for these discounts.

WATCH FOR ERRORS IN MEDICAL BILL

When you get your medical bill, check it over thoroughly. Mistakes can happen. Check the accuracy of your name, address, group and identification numbers. Look at the services or supplies on the bill to see that you aren't billed for services or supplies you didn't receive. For example, you may have been charged for x-rays or lab tests that were ordered but later cancelled. It is not unheard of for one person to be billed for services that another has received. Finally, add up the figures yourself to make sure there are no mathematical errors. If you do find a mistake, let your doctor or hospital know about it right away. If they agree, they can either send you a corrected billing, or you can cross out the incorrect item, and indicate on the billing that it is an error with your signature or initials beside the incorrect item. Then resubmit the bill to your insurance carrier for payment. If your doctor's office or hospital does not agree, you can call the claims department of your insurance carrier for assistance.

- Disabled Student Services will be closed from August 8 to September 4, reopening on September 5.

GOLF TOURNAMENT PRIZES INCLUDE CAR

The Lane Foundation invites registration for the Seventh Annual LCC Open on September 8 at the Eugene Country Club. This benefit golf tournament features two chances at a hole-in-one with two terrific prizes. Get one and win a brand new Mazda Akita. Get another and split $10,000 in cash with the Lane Community College Foundation College Fund. The tournament includes a pre-game clinic with golf pro Jerry McDermott, dinner after the game, and awards. To register, call Joe Farmer, Director, LCC Foundation, 747-4501, ext. 2810. The tournament is sponsored by Uncle Bud's Mazda of Cottage Grove.

SEDC COUNSELS BUSINESSES

Lane's Small Business Development Center has introduced a new counseling service for people just starting or thinking about starting a small business. The "Getting Started Counseling Session" is a two-hour meeting every Thursday, from 3 to 5 p.m. in the SBDC Library, Room 214. Participants will learn the basics of starting a business and where to get small business assistance in Lane County. Preregistration is required.

ORIENTATION SHOWS ENROLLMENT CLIMB

A record number of students attended Lane's first day of new student orientation last week, indicating a continuation of last year's climb in enrollment. Director of Admissions Sharon Moore said nearly 400 more students have enrolled for fall term than at this same time last year.

Enrollment climbed three percent in 1988-89, the first increase in eight years. A total of 7,774 FTE (full-time equivalent) students was counted, compared to 1987-88's 7,541 FTE. The all-time high was 9,520 FTE in 1980-81.

President Jack Carter attributes the increase to Lane's strong marketing effort, improved services such as registration by telephone, and a turnaround in the economy.

Vice President for Student Services Bob Marshall said more people are attending school full-time, which increases FTE count, and that community colleges statewide are experiencing similar increases.

WARFORD THANKS BROILER VOLUNTEERS

To George Alvergue, Kathy Bates, Charlene Blinn, Joyce Kofford, Martin Lewis, Bob Marshall, Larry Perry, Bill Porter, Chuck Reid, Pat Riggs, Larry Romine, Jerry Sirois, Cindy Weeldreyer, Ginger Yamamoto

"Thank you for your part in making a 'Lane Community College presence' at the Springfield Broiler Festival. We particularly appreciate your willingness to help with our booth on such short notice.

"I think we all agree that having Lane Community College represented at community activities such as this is very positive.

"Thanks, again, for your good help."
- Larry Warford, Executive Dean

RADCLIFF THANKS WVC VOLUNTEERS

"Thanks to over 50 volunteers! Your help made the World Veterans Championships Cross Country meet on August 3rd a great success. The many positive comments we received from spectators and competitors was very appreciative of the college staff. You made me and our department proud to be a part of it all because of your outstanding effort."

- Bob Radcliff, H&PE, ext. 2269

ABE/HSC THANKS CAMPUS SERVICES STAFF

"The staff from the on-campus ABE/HSC area would like to thank Chuck Reid, Norm Kirtley and Jerry Langdon for all the help they gave us in moving our office furniture and equipment. They not only came once to assist us, but even came back when we decided to rearrange some of the things they had just moved!

"Lucille Lambreaux and Pat Turanski of the ABE DTC area offer their thanks to Mike Ruiz and Robert Atkins for coming to hang shelves for them. They made a special effort to build and hang the shelves before the summer program concluded."
- Pauline, Margie, Debora, Mary, Lucille, Pat; ABE/HSC, ext. 2214

LANE HOSTS PRE-EMPLOYMENT WORKSHOPS

Over 180 individuals will participate in week-long pre-employment workshops at Lane for Springfield Forest Products, a new Springfield employer. The orientation was developed by the Training and Development Department in conjunction with the Southern Willamette Private Industry Council, and shows Lane's participation in and contribution to the economic development of the community. Workshops will be held over the next three weeks in the Apprenticeship Building, with lunch provided on campus. Please help these visitors feel welcome.

POOL OF OUTSTANDING PRESIDENTS SMALL

As Lane nears the time when a new president will be selected, the executive director of the League for Innovation in the Community College reminds us that there "is not a surplus of outstanding presidents" from which to choose.

Terry O'Banion, writing for a coming issue of ACCT Advisor, cites studies which indicate about two thirds of community college faculty surveyed describe their sitting presidents as "autocratic" and only fair or poor as administrators. A Carnegie study by Kerr (1984) found many leaders saw community colleges as relatively unattractive institutions in which to work.

O'Banion advocates that college boards work hard to keep a peak-performing president when they get one, pay around $100,000 salaries, provide generous benefits such as housing, and surround them with ample, outstanding administrative staffs that make leadership possible.

SUMMER CHANGES ANNOUNCED

- Art and Applied Design will be closed from August 14 to September 5.
- The Campus Ministry will be closed from August 10 to September 5.
- The Computer lab, Center Building, has new hours from August 14 to 25: 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Thursday.
- English, Foreign Language, and Speech Communications will be closed August 18.
- Health Occupations will be closed on August 17.
- The Library will be closed from August 14 to September 15.
- The Scheduling and Curriculum Office will be closed from August 14 to August 21, reopening August 22.

CAMPUS CLOSES AUGUST 19-20

Electricity, water, and telephone service will not be available campus-wide on the weekend days of August 19 and 20 for electric and water maintenance operations. This also means that buildings will not be cooled (or heated) and air systems will be shut off. It is advised that all staff stay away from campus this weekend, except, of course, the maintenance staff.

LEAVE APPLICATIONS SOLICITED

The Professional Development Leave Committee has two unfunded terms of leave left for 1989-90. Applications for winter or spring term will be accepted until September 15. Questions? Call Pat John, Study Skills, ext. 2439.

GOLF TOURNAMENT OPTION SUGGESTED

"You may have reservations about playing in this year's LCC Open Golf Tournament at the Eugene Country Club because the club discriminates against women (i.e., does not allow women to join). If so, we urge you to make a donation to the foundation and play golf on September 8 on a different course of your choice."

- Jim Ellison, Weekend College, ext. 2361, and Julie Aspinwall-Lamberts, IRP&E, ext. 2576.

BOARD WORK SESSION TONIGHT

Informal discussion regarding collective bargaining, shared governance, and a possible new maintenance and equipment serial levy to succeed the one we have now, is scheduled for the Board of Education meeting at 7:30 p.m. tonight in ADM 216.

MARKETING GRANTS AWARDED

The marketing fund received nine applications with requests totalling more than $11,000 by the August 1 deadline. The following were funded: Terry Hagberg, Flight Technology, to test relative effectiveness of small display and classified ads, $500; Floyd Weitzel, Science, to develop a prototype mailer and distribute fall term, $170; Al Owens, Siuslaw Center, for September 14 Siuslaw Center open house, $750; Larry Murray, Community Education, for November 14 National Community Education Day open house at the Downtown Center, $750; and Tom Wayne, Science, to promote weekend science classes, $250. Approximately $3,600 remains in the fund for this year. The next application deadline is September 29.

SCHEDULE DISTRIBUTION NEARS

If you're asked, the fall term schedule of classes should be delivered to college district residences by mail on or around Wednesday, August 30.

OPEN ENROLLMENT BEGINS SEPTEMBER 1

Open enrollment for faculty begins September 1. If you are interested in changing from one medical insurance plan to another, or adding a dependent to your medical or dental insurance coverage, you may do so during open enrollment from September 1 to October 15. All changes and additions received by Marie Nelson, Personnel Services, by 5 p.m., October 15, will be effective November 1. Representatives from OEA Choice Trust and SelectCare will be available to answer any coverage questions on Wednesday, September 20, from 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. in the northwest corner of the cafeteria.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT OF EXCELLENCE

Christine Strahan, Admissions, worked overtime and off campus Monday to extend help and hospitality to a new student. The foreign student had just arrived, and had no place to stay. After 5 p.m., Christine personally accompanied the student through the American how-to's of getting lodging in a local motel, and gave him enough advice to get him off to a good start the next day. Only then did she end her day for Lane.

SEVIER THANKS CAMPUS SERVICES

"Thanks to all the people in the Campus Services Department who threw a surprise bridal shower for me on August 1. It was very sweet of you and I have enjoyed all the presents I received."

- Paula Sevier, Campus Services, ext. 2567.

CONDOLENCES DUE

Our deepest sympathy is offered to Larry Brown, IRP&E, on the recent death of his mother in Portland.

ANNIVERSARY UPDATE

In preparation for anniversary activities, the steering committee has ordered a variety of colorful items in the anniversary colors: white, silver, blue, and purple. Silver pencils, balloons, name tags, stickers, and napkins will be available free in limited quantities for anniversary related events. Colorful pens and high quality mugs with matching coaster/lid will be available at a discount in the bookstore. The theme for the celebration is: Lane Community College, 25 years of building successes.

SEPTEMBER PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT APPLICATIONS AVAILABLE

September Professional Development (short term) applications are available from Vicki Doughty in the Counseling Center, Center 206. Proposals should be submitted to Vicki by September 5. The 1989-90 forms are grey; there are changes in the format and guidelines. The blue 1988-89 forms should be recycled.

SBDC OFFERS PACKAGING /TAX INFO

Lane's Small Business Development Center is offering a workshop called Packaging Strategies for Specialized Food Businesses on September 12, from 7 to 10 p.m. Subjects discussed will include the importance of packaging in the food industry, basic elements of attractive designs, and points of sales promotions. Another workshop, Basic Record Keeping and Tax Information for Self-Employed People, is offered September 19, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Participants will learn why and how to keep a set of financial records, which expenses on a tax return are most likely to be audited, how recent tax legislation effects deductible business expenses, and more. To register or for more information, call the SBDC, ext. 2925.

"VOCATIONAL" TERM CRITICIZED

Use of the word, "technical", in place of the word vocational in describing community college education is advocated by Dale Parnell, president of the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges and founding president of Lane. The term "vocational" education has developed a negative connotation nationally, Parnell says in the August issue of CTJC Times. Such courses are those taken "by somebody else's kid," he says. Parnell's view is echoed by Sen. Christopher Dodd, D-CT, who says, "I don't know what it is exactly, but we almost have a Pavlovian response to the term" in Congress. He supports a name change in the law to the Perkins Technical (instead of vocational) Education Act. Around Lane, some people are using the generic "career" education to designate all courses taught. "Career" education, according to surveys done in Lane County, gets the most positive response when compared to vocational, technical, transfer, and like terms.

SUMMER CHANGES ANNOUNCED

- Counseling, Testing, and the Career Information Center will be closed on Thursday, August 24, and Friday, August 25, for inservice. Information services will be available at the Counseling Center and by telephone.

- Financial Services is closed today for inservice. Minimal cashier service will be available from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., and from 12 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

- The Flight Technology Office will have limited office hours from August 25 through September 1. A part-time clerk will be answering phones from 12 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. on these dates, with partial service during the morning hours.

- The Study Skills Office is currently closed, and will reopen on September 5.

SIUSLAW CENTER HOLDS OPEN HOUSE

An open house at Lane's Siuslaw Center is planned for Thursday, September 14, from 2 p.m. to 7 p.m. Presentations and discussions will include a computer lab, art demonstrations, health care, parenting skills, banking/finance/estate planning, and more. Community people can talk with instructors, counselors, financial aid personnel, and register.

THE SEARCH IS ON

Ann Romine in Institutional Advancement is trying to locate the Associated Student body presidents over the last 24 years. Anyone who knows a phone number or address of one of these people is invited to contact Ann at ext. 2591. Larry Romine is trying to discover who the Instructors of the Year were during the 1960s and 1970s. Tip him off at ext. 2303. Thanks. All this sleuth work is being done in connection with 25th year observances. The 25th year started July 1 and runs through June 30, 1990.

NO HOLIDAY FOR US

House Bill 2705, passed by the recent legislature, establishes the third Monday in January as a legal holiday for K-12 schools in honor of Martin Luther King, Jr.'s birthday. The law doesn't apply to community colleges.

Week 11 of Summer Term

THE DAILY

Published for the staff of Lane Community College
Editor: Joan Aschim, Ext. 2591

Guest Editor: Ann Romine

THE DAILY CHANGES EDITORS

Beginning next week, Joan Aschim, of Institutional Advancement and the Daily editor, is moving to the Small Business Development Center at the Downtown Center. Wendell Anderson, of the SBDC, will take Joan's place in IA and take over the Daily. Both staff changes are a result of budgetary reductions-in-force.

SPECIAL THANKS TO ANN ROMINE

"Volunteer editor Ann Romine leaves the Daily this week to return to full-time university study. She has done an outstanding job with the Daily, from journalistic writing to high-tech desktop publishing. We'll all miss her, so let's not say adieu, let's say au revoir -- perhaps she'll volunteer again. Good luck, Ann!"

- Joan Aschim, former editor

TITUS THANKS FAIR VOLUNTEERS

"I'd like to thank all those who contributed to the success of the LCC Lane County Fair Booth this year. Our booth was really a hit, looked very professional, and received many compliments. Because of all of you, we made contact with tens of thousands of potential, past, and current students of the College. Thanks to all the booth volunteers: Mary Ann Zalewski, Charlene McLean, Jacquee Belcher, Susan Fletcher, Donna Gavin, Dal Haverland, Marilyn Pepple, Joyce Kofford, Edna Kennell, Lois Frictl, Cherrill Hemminger, Pam Murphy, Karen Ault, Debra Coelho, Maggie Collingwood, Diane Engle, Larry Brown, Jane Wojcik, Betty Vail, Colleen Cairney, Vicki Ramsey, Bob Marshall, Cindy Weeldreyer, Elaine Matchett, Paula Chan, Wendell Anderson, Debbie Daggett, Jack Hart, Carol Beckley, Nancy Martin, Morgan Soderberg, Mary Anderson, Randy Rawson, and Pat Riggs.

I'd especially like to thank those who worked more than one shift: Bettee Dorris, Ginger Yamamoto, Sharon Moore, Lorna Funnell, Jerry Sirois, Shirley Lukacs, Izetta Hunter, Carol Turnbull, Carol Workman, Christine Strahan, John Bernham, and Martin Lewis. Kudos also to Sandy Ing and her blood pressure crew, and the custodians, carpenters, and painters who constructed, transported, and assembled the booth." - Shan Titus, Admissions

KLCC LISTENERS GET A LIVE WIRE

Alan Saporin, former host of Blue Plate Special, will debut his new talk show Live Wire on September 5. Live Wire will follow NPR's All Things Considered, and give listeners a chance to comment on, discuss, and debate the top news stories of the day with Saporin, each other, and experts that will be brought in on another line. Listeners will hear human rights forums, sports commentary with KVAL's Walt Fox, and segments on the history of women and minorities.

LANE OFFERS LAB TECH ORIENTATION

Lane invites people interested in becoming lab technicians to an informal meeting with faculty and professional technicians on Monday, September 18, from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. in Science 122. Science instructor Mabel Armstrong will describe Lane's new course, "Orientation to Laboratory Technology," other courses recommended for the two-year curriculum, and the wide variety of local job opportunities.

Armstrong says Lane has developed the new curriculum in response to requests from area employers. "We've had contact with food processors, lumber companies, crime labs, vineyards, and research labs who've expressed interest. One five-year-old chemical production organization said it now employs 80 people and expects a 30 to 40 percent growth each year for the next few years. The majority of these positions will be technicians."

PSU OFFERS PERSONNEL LAW SEMINAR

"Basic Personnel Law" is a seminar designed for supervisors, managers, and others who are interested in understanding the fundamentals of personnel law. Items on the agenda include race and sex discrimination, affirmative action, responsibilities concerning employee organizing, and the Fair Labor Standards act. The seminar will be led by Portland attorney Michael Tedesco on Wednesday, September 13. For more information, call Portland State University, University Seminars, 464-4800.

GOLF TOURNAMENT PRIZES INCLUDE CAR

The Lane Foundation invites registration for the Seventh Annual LCC Open on September 8 at the Eugene Country Club. This benefit golf tournament features two chances at a hole-in-one with two terrific prizes. Get one and win a brand new Mazda Akita. Get another and split $10,000 in cash with the Lane Foundation College Fund. The tournament includes a pre-game clinic with golf pro Jerry McDermott, dinner after the game, and awards. To register, call Joe Farmer, Director, LCC Foundation, ext. 2810. Entry deadline is September 7. The tournament is sponsored by Uncle Bud's Mazda of Cottage Grove.

SHORTFALL FORECAST FOR SCIENTISTS, ENGINEERS

The number of jobs requiring a graduate degree will increase dramatically by the 21st century, yet:

- Less than 50 percent of high school juniors and only 33 percent of high school seniors actually enroll in a science course.
- The number of 18 to 24-year-olds in the population is expected to decline 19 percent by the year 2000.
- If trends continue, the United States will experience a shortfall of as many as 560,000 scientists and engineers by the year 2010.

Traditionally, science and engineering are white male professions.

- Women are now 51 percent of the population and 45.5 percent of the workforce, yet they comprise only 11 percent of all employed scientists and engineers.
- While blacks make up 9 percent of college freshman, in 1987 they received just 2.6 percent of the bachelor's degrees and 1.8 percent of the doctorates awarded in science and engineering.
- However, just 15 percent of the workers entering the workforce in the year 2000 will be white men.

Student interest in science careers in the U.S. is declining rapidly.

- The number of undergraduates with science majors dropped 15 percent in the decade between 1975 and 1985.
- While U.S. citizens comprise 90 percent of engineering undergraduates, they make up only 45 percent of the 3,000 Ph.D.'s awarded in this country each year.
- 400 out of every 10,000 people in Japan are engineers, compared to 70 of every 10,000 in the U.S. Conversely, the U.S. has 20 lawyers to every one in Japan; 40 accountants to Japan's three.

Strong job growth is predicted for Oregon, but if current trends continue, the work force of the year 2000 will be employed in non-technical, low-paying, part-time jobs.

- By the year 2000, more than 178,000 new jobs will be created in Oregon, but almost 95 percent of the new jobs will be created in the non-manufacturing sector, primarily in trade and service-related industries.
- In 1985, the Oregon State System of Higher Education instituted new requirements for entering college freshmen: three years of science and three years of math. While these upgraded standards are starting to produce results, still 1/3 of all students registered in freshman math fail or drop out.
