Third Week of Summer Term

THE DAILY

Published for the staff of Lane Community College
Editor: Wendell Anderson, Ext. 2591

CLOSED - The main campus and Downtown Center bookstores are closed for inventory. They'll reopen Thursday, July 5.

HOLIDAY - Enjoy the Wednesday, July 4, College holiday.

HYPERCARD DEMONSTRATION - "Curious about what the Hypercard program is and what it can do on the Macintosh? Two outstanding examples of this program will be demonstrated Thursday, July 5, from 10 a.m. to 12-noon in Center 476. The Magic Flute opera and the National Art Gallery tour combine the Macintosh computer with devices such as interactive video and CD ROM drives to produce some truly dazzling effects." Call Anne Bacon at ext. 2436 for further information.

ANOTHER CLOSURE - Office of Student Activities is closed until Monday, August 20. Inquiries may be directed to Joyce Kofford at ext. 2315. Students wanting photo IDs should be referred to the Library circulation counter on Tuesdays and Wednesdays from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

ENROLLMENT UP - Summer Term enrollment is up five percent for both FTE and headcount, compared to summer 1989. Full-time equivalent students are up 15 to 342.6 despite the fact that only 528 sections (17 fewer than last year) are being offered. Headcount is up 105 over last summer to 2,207 students. Largest growth areas are Industrial Tech, up nine FTE to 17.8; Central Area, up nine FTE to 16.6; and Flight Tech, up 8.4 FTE to 15.4. Biggest FTE generators are Social Science, 43.7; Mathematics, 43.5; and Business, 41.6. Full-time headcount has dropped off 10, while part-time headcount has climbed 115. Evening and weekend enrollment is down slightly because of a reduction in sections offered.

HIGH APPROVAL RATING - Ninety-five percent of Oregonians reached in a recent telephone survey think community colleges should play a significant role in building a competitive work force, ensuring high levels of literacy, and providing people with access to educational opportunities. Eighty-one percent favor greater state support to fund these goals, and 71 percent favor more state support even if it doesn't lower property taxes. The overall job rating was 72 percent, which led all other state systems of education. Eighty-one percent said community colleges meet community educational and vocational needs. Sixty-five percent have taken classes at community colleges and 63 percent plan to take more classes. In rating types of programs, the respondents placed importance on short-term job training (86 percent); one and two-year vocational programs (86 percent); transfer courses (82 percent); and basic skills and remedial courses (80 percent). Oregon Community College Association commissioned The Nelson Report of Salem to call 461 households throughout the state. The survey is considered statistically valid within plus or minus five percent.

ANOTHER CHANCE TO LEARN ABOUT STOCKLESS PURCHASING - A fourth session on the new stockless purchasing procedure for office supplies will be held on Thursday, July 5, at 3 p.m. in Health 269. Please notify Steve Evans at ext. 2453 if you plan to attend.

SHORTER HOURS - Summer hours at the Study Skills Department are 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., Monday through Thursday.

TWO 10 KM. (6.2 MILES) WALKS - Holiday and weekend Volkssport Events: Fourth of July - Woodburn, start 6 a.m. to 11 a.m. (finish by 2 p.m.) at Leion Park. Enjoy Jacee breakfast and nearby St. Paul Rodeo. July 7 and 8 - Sandy, start 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. (finish by 4 p.m.) at Sandy High School Stadium on Bluff Road. Enjoy Sandy Mountain Days Festival. For more details, contact Bill Buskirk, Science, ext. 2446 or 345-1445.

ELECTION DECISION SOON - LCC's Board of Education is expected to decide at its July 11 meeting whether the College will have a money measure on the November general election ballot, and whether it will be a proposed new tax base, an operating levy beyond the six percent limitation, or a serial levy. All were discussed at the June 28 work session. An increase of around $5 million in the base could push the tax rate for LCC up 29-cents to an estimated $2.28. The owner of a home assessed at $80,000 would pay an estimated additional $38 or a total of around $197 a year. Such a base would make almost no cuts necessary, would preclude a need for a tuition increase, would allow for a FTE increase of 245, and would include $700,000 per year for plant maintenance and equipment. But, would voters support such a proposal? Would staff support it? Staff and community input are solicited.

CUTS WOULD HURT - Without additional funding for the 1991-92 fiscal year, and the year following, LCC would have to make big cuts to balance its budget. There has been talk of cutting $1 million in personnel costs (around 18 positions), reducing spending for equipment, allowing no new programs, allowing no upgrading of present programs, capping enrollment, and cutting costs other places to save small amounts. To increase revenue, there has been consideration of a four percent tuition hike to raise about $262,000, along with hopes expressed for additional state support. But a budget has to be in place before the College learns what the Legislature will do in its 1991 session. Staff and community input are welcome.

4-Point Plan on Where to Cut

LIMITATION AGAIN ON BALLOT - The sixth proposed property tax limitation since 1978 will be on the November election ballot. It would trim Eugene's present $20 per $1,000 for school support to $5 by 1995. The state would have to find support to make up the difference for the schools during the implementation of the measure, but there is no implication that the state would continue to be required to do so after 1995. It has been suggested that a sales tax might have to be implemented by the state to find additional needed monies to fund schools. Yes, the measure does include community colleges. The Daily will share additional information on the limitation as it is received. A campaign to defeat the proposal is being organized by The Oregon Committee in Portland, which has used the firm of Pihas, Schmidt, and Westerdahl to overcome limitation measures in 1978, 1980, 1982, 1984, and 1986.

YOUR RESPONSE IS WELCOME - Board of Education-assigned goals and objectives for President Jerry Moskus for 1990-91 are being developed. All items in a first draft relate to the present College Plan. Staff and community suggestions on changes are welcomed. The approach reflects the new President's style of openness and consultation.

"TO ALL MY LCC FRIENDS - My husband for years has dangled retirement in front of me. Now that I have finally grabbed the golden carrot, I reminisce about my delightful career at LCC and my many friends, you who touched me with a helpful hand, favored me with your kindness, and blessed me with love and friendship. I gratefully extend my sincere Thank You!" - Georgia Henrickson, Bookstore.

TODAY

LCC Foundation Golf Tournament Committee meeting, 8 a.m., La Salsa restaurant, 7th and Willamette.

LCC Foundation Investment Committee meeting, 4 p.m., Board Room.

BOARD MEETING TOMORROW -- At tomorrow night's meeting, the board will discuss tax base options and be asked to take action on an interim child care recommendation. (See item below.) Also on the board agenda: swearing in of new board member Larry Mann; election of board chair and vice chair for the year; presentation about the state funding formula for community colleges by community college commissioner Mike Holland; bid awards for P.E. clothing and supplies for the dental hygiene and assistant programs; discussion of the use of mediation in resolving disputes; advisory committee appointments for the year; and approval of a prioritized list of construction and remodeling projects to be submitted to the state. The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. in the Board Room, Administration Building.

CHILD CARE -- Following review of a college Child Care Task Force report, President Moskus is asking the board to approve $6000 to $7000 in contingency funds to hire a consultant to help the college develop a plan to address the child care needs of students. In a memo to the board, the president describes the complexity of the child care issue and the need to develop a coordinated and cost-effective approach. The consultant would work up to half time for six months and report directly to the president.

CORRESPONDENCE -- To the Board from Jerry O.Holloway, Teacher, 4J Opportunity Center High School: "I would like to take this opportunity to bring to your attention the excellent dental services being rendered to our students by Sharon Hagan and the staff and students of your dental lab. From last October to this June over forty of our students have been treated...most have never had their teeth cleaned, so it was doubly important that their first dental experience be a good one."

This year there are two sponsors -- Uncle Bud's Mazda and Bit-by-Bit Computer Rentals. Possible prizes for a hole-in-one include $5,000 or a new Mazda RX7. Bring a potluck dish to share. -- Julie Baker, ext. 2544.

ASK ABOUT GENERIC DRUGS -- Ask your pharmacist if a generic drug (one without a brand name) can be substituted for the one your doctor has prescribed. Or ask your doctor if there is a generic substitute for the drug he or she recommends. Always tell your doctor about any other drugs you may be taking. Shop around. Some pharmacies charge considerably less than others. Remember, that shrinking health care dollar is yours. It's in your power to spend it wisely. -- Marie Nelson, Benefits Assistant, Personnel.

HAZARDOUS WASTE WORKSHOP -- A hazardous waste reduction workshop for printers will be held on the main campus Tuesday, July 31, from 2 to 5:30 p.m. The workshop is being presented by ERM-Northwest Inc. of Bellevue and co-sponsored by LCC's Small Business Development Center, the Eugene Chamber of Commerce, and the Oregon Department of Environmental Quality. In the meantime, the President's Office will poll staff and meet with community groups to learn their views of such an election. A survey will be mailed to contracted faculty at their homes and to all other contracted staff at work with a request to return the surveys by July 26.

OTHER BOARD BUSINESS -- Also at its July meeting, the board seated new member Larry Mann; elected Jim Pitney chair and Pat Riggs vice chair for the 1990-91 year; appointed Cindy Weeldreyer to serve as the college representative to the Oregon Community College Association board and Pat Riggs to serve as the college representative to the Lane Council of Governments board for 1990-91; appointed 452 community members to the college's 43 advisory committees; approved $6,000 to $7,000 from contingency to hire a consultant to develop a child care plan for the college; and approved a list of construction priorities for state funding. The board agreed by consensus that the college explore membership in the National Association of Mediation in Education and consider holding a mediation day on campus. Webster Dictionary defines mediation as "friendly or diplomatic intervention, by consent or invitation, for settling differences between persons or groups."

The board awarded bids totalling $26,336 for Health and P.E. athletic clothes to Durham Hosiery Mills, Team Athletic Supply, Champion Products, and Portland Athletic Supply and bids totalling $35,800 for Health Occupations dental assisting and dental hygiene equipment to Biddle and Crowther, Burkhart Dental Supply, Durr-Fillauer Medical, Hu-Friedy Mfrg., JB Dental Supply, Kent Dental, Tag Dental, and Thierman Products.

BIG PLEDGE RECEIVED - A couple who chose to give anonymously have pledged $1.2 million to LCC for student scholarships. The money will be received after their deaths and will go into an endowment to fund scholarships for students from the eight Eugene-Springfield high schools. Each recipient would receive $3,500 yearly for up to four years, with the first two years to be at Lane. "This is the largest pledge LCC has received," says LCC President Jerry Moskus, "and we are thrilled. We like to think of Lane as a bridge between education and the community and between people's aspirations and their success, and this gift is a wonderful example of both--a partnership including a local family, the College, and future LCC students." Joe Farmer, Foundation director, said the couple want to help local students who may not be able otherwise to afford school, and they want the money to go to students rather than to taxes.
