Student ensemble concerts perform this week

Lane's students of music will complete winter term with four performances. The student chamber orchestra, directed by Ron Bertucci, will perform today, at 8 p.m. in the performing arts Performance Hall. They will perform the Barber of Seville Overture by Gioacchino, Capriol Suite for string orchestra by Peter Warlock, and Piano Concerto No. 23 in A Major by Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart. Tamara Mortensen is the piano soloist. Tickets are $4 for adults and $2 for children, students and senior citizens.

Lane Community Chorus and the Lane Chamber Choir will perform Thursday, March 3, at 8 p.m. Conducted by vocal director, Kimberly DeMoss, the community chorus will perform music from Phantom of the Opera as well as other selections. Among the selections performed by the chamber choir are Mozart's Regina Coelie and Benjamin Britten's Time and Concord.

Lane's Symphonic Band will perform Tuesday, March 8 and the vocal Jazz group, Spectrum and the Lane Jazz Ensemble will perform Thursday, March 10. For information, contact the Box Office, Ext. 2202.

Help needed to locate package addressee

Purchasing Services has received a package from Steve Eddy of Ashland that is addressed to Ms. Sandy Garcia Meyers at Lane. Neither Personnel Services nor Student Records have record of someone by this name. Does anyone know who she is? We would like to get her package to her. Call Steve Evans at Ext. 2453.

shared decision-making news

Classified Council report

The Feb. 23 meeting of Classified Council was held at the Downtown Center. Council members said they gained a new appreciation for the parking challenges that face DTC staff and students. Guest Donald Micken, faculty union president, shared information on the Future Faculty Task Force and asked council to respond to the part-time/full time faculty issue and how support staff are impacted. The council decided to ask for volunteers to serve on the task force which Maxine Frauman is facilitating. Council devoted the remainder of the meeting to the continuing review of staff suggestions. Two-thirds of the submitted suggestions have been reviewed to date. The next meeting will be March 9, 3-5 p.m., PE 205.

Faculty Council report

Betty Vail from Counseling reported on the work of the subcommittee on grades. Vail circulated a memo which contains recommendations to the administration regarding the use of the Y grade. The council decided that the representatives would share the memo with their departments and report back to the council. Vail said the committee will also send a copy of the memo to all department managers. The next meeting will be March 10, 3-4:30 p.m., Boardroom.

English as a Second Language parents need child care

Spanish speaking parents are in need of child care to attend English as a Second Language classes. Lane's ESL program has joined with four other groups to meet that need by sponsoring the English as a Second Language Child Care Project. The project is scheduled to begin in April and will provide child care for non-English speaking families while parents attend Lane ESL classes at Whiteaker School. Donations are needed to pay child care staff. Volunteers to do child care also are needed. Cosponsors are Centro LatinoAmericano, the Child Care Resource Connection at Lane, Head Start of Lane County, and Whiteaker Elementary School. Contributions may be mailed to the English as a Second Language Child Care Project in care of the Lane Community College Foundation.

Congratulations to the Titans

The Titans finished basketball season last Saturday night. The women had a season record of 13-11 and player Kelly Boles was named to the all-Southern Region first team of the Northwest Athletic Association of Community Colleges. The men had a winning record of 18-7. Jon Rider also was named to the all-Southern Region first team.

Foodservices to offer free vegetarian samples

Foodservices will offer free samples of vegetarian foods on Thursday, March 3, at the OSPIRG booth in the cafeteria beginning at 10 a.m.

Faculty professional development leave applications available

Faculty professional development leave applications for 1994-95 are available. Contracted faculty may apply for one, two or three terms of paid professional leave to do research, train for new assignments at Lane, or return to school. Contact Roxanne Flowerday or Pat John at Ext. 2439 for guidelines and applications. Due dates for proposals are May 1, 1994; Oct. 1, 1994; and Feb. 1, 1995.

LCCEF delegate elections and membership meetings

Classified union elections for delegates to attend both affiliate conventions for the Oregon Federation of Teachers, Education and Health Professionals, and AFL-CIO, will be held on Wednesday, Mar. 2, 1994. Elections and membership meetings will be on that date as follows: 8 a.m., DTC 115; noon, FOR 307; 5 p.m., FOR 307. Classified members at locations other than main campus and the Downtown Center should contact a union officer to obtain an absentee ballot. Also at the meetings, a bargaining update will be given with time allotted for questions and answers regarding current wage bargaining and subsequent contract bargaining. Information will be available regarding the national health care plan, the PERS system, and initiatives being certified for state elections.

THANKS

Thanks to all Womenspace supporters. I collected over $430 with half that amount coming from LCC staff members! If you haven't sent in your check, please do so to me. Thanks again! - Kay Gidley, Athletics

College Council report

Tuition may be low, but what about fees?

Even if a $4 tuition increase kept Lane tuition low compared to other two-year Oregon colleges, would it be such a bargain if fees were counted? President Jerry Moskus put that question to College Council on March 1. Last month the LCC Board of Education indicated a preference for a $4 tuition hike to avoid program cuts in balancing the 1994-95 budget. The Tuition Committee has since recommended a $5 increase.

A majority of council members favored the $4 increase. They said most students say they'd rather pay higher tuition than lose a program. But Moskus warned that even while a $4 or $5 increase would keep Lane's tuition relatively low statewide, fees at Lane may be quite high. Administrators have been unable to find a reliable comparison of statewide fees because colleges define and account for fees differently. However, at least one study cited by Moskus figured the state average to be $9, compared to Lane's $45. Council members expressed a diversity of opinions as to why this is, how accurate it is, whether fees are needed, and how fair they are. Moskus said he will recommend to the board appointment of a committee to review all class fees. He also will recommend the $4 increase plus program changes in manufacturing technology and conversion of cabinet and furniture making to noncredit; as well as a policy to set out-of-state/international tuition rates at 1/45 of the estimated average cost per FTE (one FTE equals 45 credit hours annually) to allow out-of-state/international tuition to rise or fall with changes in the total college budget.

A $4 increase would bring 1994-95 tuition to $30 per credit hour for in-state. Other tuitions would be $105 per credit hour for out-of-state/international, $48 per high school credit for Adult High School, and $50 per 30-hour class for noncredit. The traditional 50 percent discount for in-state senior citizens would be maintained.

In other news and business:

- Council selected meeting facilitation and management as its first training topic.
 - ASLCC is preparing ballot initiatives that would increase student fees. The initiatives would require board approval by April for a student vote in May.
 - Faculty Council still has no representative to College Council.
- The next regularly scheduled College Council meeting is set for March 15.

Dance and casino night coming April 29

The Management, Classified and Faculty Professional Development Teams invite staff and guests to the all-staff dance and casino night on Friday, April 29, from 8-11 p.m. in the main gym. The event will feature a 1950-60s country and western band, dance instructions, food, casino games and roulette, entertainment, and a no-host bar, all for only $3 a person. Tickets will be on sale starting March 28 and must be purchased by April 26. Watch The Daily for ticket sales information. The following committees need help: decorations, Joyce Godels, Ext. 2617; ticket sales, Sandra Jones, 683-8043; dealers, Patty Holme, 683-8043.

Here comes the bus

The Classified Communications Committee, in conjunction with the Classified Professional Development Team, would like to plan another fun and rewarding excursion of staff, family and friends on a chartered bus. The following options may be available:

- Oregon Coast--Florence to Cape Arago, Bandon cheese factory tour, return via Elkton and Drain.
- Oregon Caves--Southern Oregon highlights, spelunkers delight.
- Sternwheeler on the Columbia--travel to Portland for an afternoon excursion down the mighty river.
- Bend/Sisters--Lava beds, shopping in Sisters, and High Desert Museum in Bend.

We welcome your response to the above choices. Please respond via intercampus mail to Julie Baker in Institutional Advancement.

- Lane Symphonic Band and Thurston High School Freshman Band concert, today, 8 p.m., Performance Arts main theater.

JOINT CLASSIFICATION STUDY

Appeals heard

As of March 1, the Joint Review Committee had heard and decided by consensus 36 appeals of job class assignments, under provisions outlined in the classified union contract. Sixteen employee's job class allocations changed as requested, including six who were assigned to one of the newly developed job classes. Two employees dropped their appeals.

The JRC has proposed creation of two new job classes as a result of the appeals and is recommending that two previous job classes be reinstated. The additional job classes are instructional coordinating specialist, instructional support specialist, offset press operator, and production copier operator.

Copies of the proposed job classes are available in Counseling, Personnel Services, LCC at Cottage Grove, LCC at Florence, Flight Technology, the Downtown Center, and from the classified union. Open hearings on these classes will be held at 9 a.m. on Tuesday, March 15, and 1 p.m. on Thursday, March 17, both in the Boardroom. All classified employees and supervisors are invited to attend. Memos will be sent with more information on open hearings.

Faculty Council agenda

Faculty Council will meet on Thursday, March 10, from 3-4:30 p.m. in the Boardroom. Council will discuss what action to take on the part-time to full-time faculty ratio.

Hearing to be held on degree requirements

The Degree Requirements Committee will hold an open hearing on Thursday, March 10, at 3:30 p.m. in PE 205. The purpose of the hearing is to discuss whether Lane should continue to require certain sequences and groups of courses for the associate of arts Oregon transfer degree which are no longer required by the state.

Canceled

The Resource Development group will not meet March 10. The next meeting will be Thursday, April 14, from 2-3:30 p.m. in PE 205. Questions? Call Sarah LaMaster at Ext. 2312.

Grant workshop offered

A workshop on developing grant budgets and understanding college grant policies will be held on Wednesday, March 16, from 1:30-3 p.m. in PE 205. Anyone who has ever struggled to create or administer a grant budget will benefit from the workshop. Department chairs, administrative assistants and grant developers are encouraged to attend. Participants will receive the Grant Writer's Workbook and be guided through a sample budget for a federal grant. The workshop will be presented by Bill Kyker, Grants/Contracts Fiscal Manager (Ext. 2607), and Sarah LaMaster, Grants Coordinator (Ext. 2312).

KLCC gets best-ever ratings

KLCC has received its best-ever ratings in the fall 1993 Arbitron survey. The station ranked sixth overall in the Lane County market but tied for second for persons 25-to-54 years old. KLCC maintained its strong showing in Lincoln, Linn, Benton, Douglas and Coos counties. The ratings are subject to the limitations of Arbitron reports.

Lane Community College provides a quality learning experience in a caring environment.

Events feature women's history, diversity

■ March is Women's History Month. Drop by the Library mezzanine to see an exhibit with photographs from the early 20th century by Lewis Hine. Another women's history exhibit is on display in the Cafeteria. Both exhibits are sponsored by the Women's Program.

■ International Women's Day will be celebrated on Friday, March 11, from 11 a.m.-1 p.m., at LCC at Florence, Rooms 105-106. The diversity of women will be celebrated through music, dance, art, speakers, and refreshments. For more information call Janet Daschbach at Ext. 2090.

Week 10 of Winter Term

Edited by Joan Aschim

Today:

- "Understanding Food Allergy" teleconference, today, 10:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m., CEN 12.
- CED Cabinet, today, 1:30-3:30 p.m., Boardroom.
- Classified Council, today, 3-5 p.m., PE 205.
- Lane Board of Education, tonight, 7:30 p.m., Boardroom.

Restructuring update

Executive Cabinet is still in the process of reviewing input from staff regarding the college reorganization. This, plus spring break schedules, has prompted a decision to move the official implementation until early in spring term. Stay tuned.

Automotive technology program receives donation

Hutchins Imported Motors of Springfield has donated nearly $40,000 in automotive parts to the Lane automotive technology program. The donation will reduce department spending on parts and enhance learning opportunities for students, according to instructor Bill Jones. "This kind of industry support makes training future automotive technicians much easier. These parts will give students more opportunities for hands-on experience. Because we won't have to spend as much money on parts, we'll be able to purchase more tools and equipment."

Eric Hinson, Hutchins parts manager, helped coordinate the donation. He says, "The industry needs well-educated automotive technicians, and this is our particular way of supporting the fine training program at Lane Community College."

Among the donated materials are fenders, alternators, exhaust systems, brake components, and other items.

Grant awarded to LCC at Florence

The Western Lane County Foundation has awarded LCC at Florence a grant of $650 toward the purchase of 10 modems. The modems will enhance the new innovative computer bulletin board classes being spearheaded this term by the Florence campus. The classes enable Western Lane County residents to participate via their home computers.

Vision care benefit explained

If you need to see a vision care specialist for an eye exam, be aware of the following:

- Classified employees are covered by Blue Cross/Blue Shield and are eligible for an exam every 12 months and for glasses every 24 months for members 17 and older; and once every 12 months for members under 17.
- Faculty employees are covered by Blue Cross/Blue Shield and are eligible for an exam and glasses every 24 months.
- Management employees are covered by Blue Cross/Blue Shield and are eligible for an exam and glasses every 12 months.

When you receive services from a participating provider, you will normally receive full coverage under these plans. Certain services are not covered. When you receive services from a non-participating providers, coverage will be based on a percentage of cost or a defined amount.

If you have any questions, call Carol Goldsberry in Personnel Services at Ext. 2590.

Career Fair on the way

"Career Fair '94" will be held on Wednesday, April 13, from 10 a.m.-2 p.m., in the main campus cafeteria. Local and statewide employers will share information and discuss career opportunities. Last year, 52 employers participated. This year, planners hope to attract 60 employers. Admission is free. For details, call Joan Adams, Job Placement Office, Ext. 2326.

In memory

Ron Van Scoyoc

Ron Van Scoyoc, treasured friend of many and counselor at the Downtown Center and Florence campuses since 1989, died Tuesday following cardiac arrest. He was 60 years old. He had not been ill and his death was sudden and unexpected. A memorial service will be held on Saturday, March 12, at his cabin on Siltcoos Lake, from noon to 4 p.m. The cabin is at the end of Buckskin Bob Road in Dunes City; a map is available from the Counseling Department, or by calling 997-6528. Donations in lieu of flowers are being accepted in the Counseling Department for distribution to the many educational and environmental concerns that he supported.

Ron joined Lane in 1989. He discovered the college while on exchange from Orange Coast Community College and liked Lane so much that he moved here.

League program accepting applications

"Expanding Leadership Diversity in Community Colleges," sponsored by the League for Innovation for ethnic minorities, is accepting applications for 1994-95. Deadline is March 12 1994. For more information, contact Julie Baker, Ext. 2199

University changes will affect transfer students

Several Lane staff attended a University of Oregon workshop last month explaining changes in its admissions, advising and curriculum. The university has changed credit assignments in over 750 courses from three to four credits and has removed 200 courses from its catalog. Various U of O departments are accepting Lane three-credit courses differently, making advising more detail-oriented.

Elected

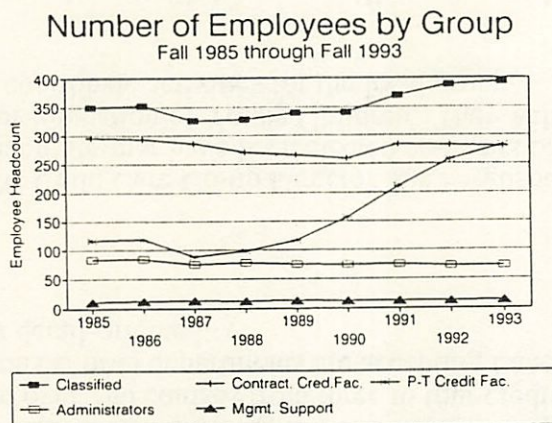

ASLCC Child Care Co-op Director Sue Ferguson and Early Childhood Education Instructor Juliann Stermer have been elected co-chairs of the Lane chapter of the Oregon Association for Education of Young Children. They will represent the county at statewide meetings and coordinate activities for the local group.

shared decision-making news

Board report

Tuition increased by $4

The Lane Community College Board of Education voted 6-0 in favor of a $4 tuition increase at its March 9 meeting. Jim Pitney was absent. The increase fills a $1.3 million projected deficit in the 1994-95 budget without eliminating programs.

The vote came after two failed motions and an off-track discussion of the cabinet making program. Failing first was a motion to adopt the Tuition Committee's recommendation of a $5 per in-state credit hour increase. Failing next was a motion was to amend international/out-of-state tuition to $95 to reflect a dollar-for-dollar increase rather than a percentage increase. International student counselor Mason Davis advocated a dollar-for-dollar increase as more humane than a percentage increase. Protests by three students invited discussion about a proposal to change the cabinet making program to noncredit. The proposal was not up for vote but included in documentation as one of many changes to be considered in further budget planning.

The complete tuition package approved:

- $30 per in-state credit hour, up $4 from $26 in 1993-94.
- $105 per out-of-state/international credit hour, up $14 from $91.
- $48 per Adult High School credit, up $6 from $42.
- $50 per 30-hour noncredit class, up $7 from $43.
- The 50 percent discount for in-state senior citizens remained unchanged, meaning they will pay $15 per credit hour.

The new tuitions will be incorporated into the continuing budget process. The process includes college budget subcommittee meetings between March 28 and April 15, and Executive Cabinet decision making on staff project budget requests. The full Lane Community College Budget Committee will meet on May 11, 18 and 25. The committee will hold a public hearing and adopt the budget on June 22.

In other business:

- ASLCC President Steve Cheeseman distributed a draft of student referendums and initiatives which will be up for board approval in April in order to be put to student vote in May. ASLCC will ask students to approve a $5 increase in student fees to reinstate or enhance existing athletics programs, plus another $8.75 increase to subsidize a bus pass. Lane President Jerry Moskus warned against overburdening students through fees, and cautioned the board about allowing program decisions to be made by student vote rather than board decision making.
 - Coopers & Lybrand won continuing appointment as the college auditor.
 - Board policy revisions were adopted excluding a few still under review.
- The next regularly scheduled meeting is April 13.

Videoconference looks at multiculturalism on campus

A videoconference, "Improving Communication on the Culturally Diverse Campus-- Racial/Ethnic Communication: Approaches to Positive Interaction," will be shown on Friday, March 18, from 9-10:30 a.m., in CEN 10. It's free. This live interactive videoconference will feature Dr. Terry Jones and Dr. Gale Auetta, co-authors of Confronting Diversity Issues On Campus. For more information, contact Cynde Leathers at Ext. 2260.

Harvard institute accepting applications

Applications to Harvard University's Institution for Educational Management are due April 1. The conference will be held July 10-29. For details, contact Julie Baker at Ext. 2199.

Interested in improving your teaching?

Contracted and continuing part-time instructors are invited to participate in Lane's term-long Teaching Improvement Process (TIP). You will be observed by and will consult with a non-threatening trained consultant, be videotaped, receive a computerized analysis of student responses to your class, and get many new ideas. Apply for spring term by calling Sharon Thomas at Ext. 2145.

Safety tips

The Women's Program offers these personal safety tips for campus:

- At night, walk in pairs or groups to the parking lots and escort one another to your cars.
- Stay in well-lit areas near other people.
- Call Security for an escort to your car if you are especially concerned.
- Stay in pairs or groups on the walking trails.

Daily schedule changes

Today's Daily is the only issue this week. The only issue during spring break will be Tuesday, March 22. During the first week of spring term classes, The Daily will publish on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The regular Monday through Thursday schedule will resume April 4. Thanks for your patience with these schedule changes.

Spring Break

Edited by Angela Miller

In memory

Jay Marston

Jay Marston, biology instructor at Lane since 1968, died at home of cancer on March 19 at the age of 52. Jay grew up on a ranch 60 miles from the nearest town in the "Big Sky Country" of Eastern Montana. "Feeding cows in the frigid winters and running fence in the blistering summers of Montana wasn't my idea of a great life. I wanted to go west and explore the Pacific Coast," he once wrote.

He earned a bachelor's degree in biology and served as student body president at Eastern Montana College in Billings. He taught high school for four years at Moses Lake, Washington, and then received a National Science Foundation fellowship to complete a master's degree at the University of Oregon. Jay came to Lane in the fall of 1968, the first term that classes were held on the present campus. He called his new post a "plum of a job ... where I was allowed to pursue my interest in coastal and field biology."

Jay developed the core program for biology majors.

He became involved with other faculty developing the biology emphasis courses, a new concept for introductory biology in Oregon community colleges. Jay was well known for his innovative courses in Poisonous and Edible Plants, Medical Botany, and Plants and People which attracted attention far beyond Lane's campus. He developed a personal style of involved interactive teaching with a focus on practical, hands-on experience. Characteristic of this approach were his courses in the Biology of the San Juans, in which instructor and students bicycled through those islands learning the flora and fauna, and Coastal Field Biology, a course taught exclusively while backpacking with the students along the Oregon and Washington coast. At one time this program involved four different instructors integrating coursework on their trek along the Olympic national seashore, perhaps Lane's first coordinated studies program. Jay won Lane's Outstanding Instructor of the Year Award in 1979.

Jay played a role in numerous community activities, including the Mt. Pisgah Arboretum Society, and gave talks and wrote articles on ethnobotany. He helped establish the present council governance structure at Lane based on shared decision making. He served for two years as president of the Lane Community College Education Association. A favorite hobby was exploring the beaches of the Gulf of Mexico.

When he learned he had terminal cancer in October 1993, he established the Jay Marston Endowment Fund to provide scholarships to science students who need financial help. His estate provided a matching incentive of $5,000. The fund has reached $9,102 to date. Donations may be made to the Jay Marston Endowment Fund in care of the LCC Foundation. Jay is survived by his wife Krystyna, children Joanna and John, and stepchildren Dagmara and Konrad.

College Council report

Proposed student ballot measures

Two ASLCC ballot measures for the 1994 student election were presented in draft form to Council at its March 15 meeting. ASLCC is proposing an additional $5 fee per student per term be accessed to provide expanded sport and recreational programs that would include recreational offerings for all Lane students and their families. In addition, ASLCC is asking for an $8.75 increase in student body fees for the first year followed by an approximate three percent increase the second year, allowing for inflation, to provide a universal bus pass through LTD to all ASLCC members. After language revisions, both ballot measures will be presented to the Board. Harland Yriarte, Athletic director, was available to address questions and concerns about the enhanced recreational program. Council expressed concerns about the availability of space for the sport and recreation program and potentially negative effects on enrollment due to increased fees.

Other business

A framing committee was appointed to develop objectives for an expanded committee that will deal with income credit program (ICP) fees.

The next regularly scheduled meeting is April 5.

Faculty Council report

At its March 10 meeting Faculty Council continued to discuss the role of council in the full-time/part-time faculty issue. Council made a list of faculty concerns and will continue the discussion at future meetings in order to create a definite position statement.

The next regularly scheduled Faculty Council meeting is set for April 14.

Classified Council report

Barbara Dumbleton, representing classified staff on the full-time/part-time faculty subcommittee, approached Classified Council at its March 9 meeting for information on how part-time faculty affects classified staff. Council recommended that classified representatives to the subcommittee gather classified staff concerns campuswide to get an accurate account of the impact of part-time faculty with regard to classified staff.

Council continued to review staff suggestions.

The next Classified Council meeting is Wednesday, March 30, 3-5 p.m. in PE 205.

Budget subcommittee meetings scheduled

The following budget subcommittee meetings have been scheduled:

- Office of Instruction, Thursday, March 31 and April 7, 7 p.m. in the Board Room.

Community service grants workshop scheduled

Learn about the roles for higher education in the grant programs offered by the Corporation for National and Community Service at a workshop on Monday, April 4, 10-11:30 a.m. in the Board Room. These include the AmeriCorps program, Learn and Serve program, and Summer of Safety. The programs fund community service activities, and in some cases, provide college education funds and stipends for participants. Sarah LaMaster, Grants Coordinator, will present information about the grant programs. Participants will share ideas about ways in which the college might respond to these varied grant opportunities. Call Sarah LaMaster, Ext. 2312, for further information.

Lane to host third annual career fair

Career Fair '94: Explore the Possibilities will be held on Wednesday, April 13, from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. in the cafeteria. KLCC spring radiothon reaches goal

KLCC's spring radiothon came to its conclusion at 9:17 a.m. on March 16 during Fresh Tracks. The on-air fundraiser began at 5 a.m. on March 3, lasting 13 1/2 days, with 1,140 people calling to pledge their support. Over 550 "Thonbusters" mailed in their donations before radiothon even began, giving the station a $30,000 head start. Phone pledges contributed the remainder for a grand total of $95,130.

Over half of KLCC's budget comes from the listening and business community. The continuous and generous support proves KLCC is a vital source of news and music to its audience. The station has never failed to meet a radiothon goal.
