KLCC reporters win top awards

KLCC reporters will be presented with the following awards at the Oregon Associated Press Broadcasters Association convention at Sunriver on April 30:

- First place for best public affairs for the week-long series, "Water: Thirsting for Tomorrow," produced and edited by Alan Siporin, with reporting by Tammy Rae, Barbara Dellenback, Steve Helwig, and Katrin Snow.
- First place for best treatment of a single subject for "Timber Crisis" by Alan Siporin.
- First place for best use of sound for "Timber History" by Alan Siporin.
- First place for best news writing for "Herbicide Spraying" by Alan Siporin.
- First place for best feature for "KFAT Family Reunion" by Tammy Rae.

Coming soon: Kenya Week

Lane's international students present "Kenya Week" from April 18-23. Activities will include speakers, crafts, and displays. The grand finale will be International Night on Saturday, April 23, at 6 p.m. in the cafeteria, featuring a dinner of international foods, fashion show, and entertainment by international students. Dancing to the live music of the Brothers of the Baladi will begin at 8 p.m. in the main gym. Tickets are $10; for information, call Ext. 2165, or drop by CEN 447 from 8 a.m.-4 p.m. on April 4-8, 11-15, or 18-20.

Urgent payments by purchase order

Recently some departments have been caught short because checks with purchase orders were not processed quickly. When a check is required with a purchase, the appropriate block at the lower left of the PO form should be checked. This will ensure that accounts payable will send a check with the PO on its next normal check run--check runs are done on the 10th, 20th, and 30th of each month. If the payment is urgent and the item is needed immediately, you must place a note on the PO saying so, otherwise the PO will be held until the next check run. POs which need accompanying checks and are marked "RUSH" will be processed the next business day regardless of when the next check run is scheduled. - Lloyd Rain, Purchasing, Ext. 2208

Doctoral program accepting applications

Applications for the Oregon State University doctoral program in community college leadership are due April 15. For details, call Julie Baker, Ext. 2199.

WOULD LIKE TO TRADE a "How to Host a Murder" game, for one I haven't played yet! I have the "Archaeologically Speaking, It's the Pits" episode. It takes place in 1895 at the site of an archaeological dig. Please call Nancy Oster-Courtney at Ext. 2609, if interested. (Have already played Power and Greed and Class of 54.)

MOTHER'S DAY IS NOT TOO FAR around the corner, and what better expression of TLC than to give that special lady in your life a beautiful hanging flower basket. We offer gorgeous specially grown 8" and 10" fuchsias, 8" and 10" ivy geraniums, and a 12" mixed Victorian basket. Prices range from $19 to $25. All proceeds go to the Eugene-Irkutsk Sister City Committee. Orders must be in by late April and baskets will be available for pickup on Friday and Saturday, May 6th and 7th. For more information, call Jana Nelson, Math, ext. 2393 or at home evenings, 689-6846.

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE TO HAVE A (FANTASY) LEAGUE OF YOUR OWN? I came across a simple and inexpensive alternative sponsored by Inside Sports magazine. You just pick one of nine players available for each position, then watch for injuries and slumps. You get monthly updates, and you can make up to 18 roster changes during the season. Points are based solely on offense, and the cost is just $25 per team. We need only six teams to form a league, so if you're interested, let me know and I'll get you the form. You would need to return it to me with your $25/team check or money order made payable to SportsMark Promotions BY FRIDAY, APRIL 8. A grand total of $35,000 in prizes will be awarded to the top scoring teams. Contact Greg Fishwick, Counseling, Ext. 2322.

CHILDRENS BOOKS NEEDED: Our literacy class would enjoy any used low-level reading book you could donate. The students enjoy signing them out for free reading. Diana Nelsor or Karen Irmscher, ABE, Ext. 2917.

LEARN TO GOLF your way to the pros. Beginning and continuing classes available. Registration is underway. Instructor Joe Rauschenberg's Laurelwood classes are listed through Continuing Ed, pg. 21 of the spring class schedule, or call Ext. 2252 for more information. Lorna Funnell, CE.

THE ASLCC CHILD CARE CO-OP is gearing up for its Munchkin Run fundraiser. If you are interested in making any sort of donation, please contact Sue Ferguson at Ext. 2025. Donations of .25 cents and up gladly accepted!

MASSAGE person available at the ASLCC Child Care Co-op on Thursdays from 1-3 p.m. If you are interested in reserving a slot ($7.50/15 minutes), or a 1/2-hour slot, please call Sue Ferguson at Ext. 2025. We'd like to have enough people consistently to make it worth his while!

DUPLEX WANTED! My folks are relocating to Eugene and want to buy a single story duplex in east/southeast Eugene. Do you have one you'd like to sell? Or know of one for sale? Euphoria chocolate for bonafide leads! Call Tamara Pinkas, Co-op Ed, Ext. 2395 or home, 683-6366.

CREATE FUSED GLASS JEWELRY. Join a two-hour workshop on Thursday, April 7 in my home studio to make fused glass pins and earrings. $20 covers all material for this introductory workshop. Questions? Call Cheryl Kempner, Study Skills, Ext. 2844.

LAWNMOWER - runs well. $45. Contact Isabella Cantrell, Career Information Center, 741-2492.

DEADLINE FOR THE DAILY is noon of the working day prior to publication. The publishing schedule is Mondays through Thursdays during fall, winter and spring terms. Demonstrated will be ways to use multi-media in education. Two different software packages that the educator can use with his or her existing computer system will be profiled. Viewers will be able to talk directly with nationally recognized experts in the field of multi-media and will be able to have their questions answered live and on-air. For information contact Cynde Leathers at Ext. 2260.

Sojourner Truth Theater to perform at Lane

A dramatic presentation on African-American history and culture by Sojourner Truth Theater will be given Wednesday, April 6, 2-3:30 p.m. in FOR 310 and 5:30-7 p.m. in FOR 307.

Lane to host fourth annual career fair

"Career Fair '94: Explore the Possibilities," will be held on Wednesday, April 13, from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. in the cafeteria. Local and statewide employers will join forces to share information about their businesses, and career opportunities for students and graduates. Students are encouraged to participate in this special campus event. There is no cost to attend. For more information, call Ext. 2326.

Graduate needs assistance

Lane transfer student to the U of O, Rebekah Shelley, has been diagnosed with a degenerative disease which affects her internal organs. She can be cured through surgery but has no insurance and is not eligible for government assistance. Faculty and students at LCC Performing Arts and the U of O Theater Department are sponsoring a fundraising campaign to help pay for her medical expenses. There will be an Act-A-Thon on Friday, April 8, at 8 p.m. until 8 a.m., April 9, at the Robinson Theater, U of O. To sponsor someone or participate yourself, call Patrick Torelle at Ext. 2209, or Sandra Bonds at 346-4171. If you wish to make a contribution, you can send a check to Pacific Continental Bank, 1450 High St., Eugene OR 97401, Acct. # 1213966.

Student essays highlight community college month

In observation of April as National Community College Month, a student essay contest was sponsored by Institutional Advancement and English, Foreign Language and Speech. Students wrote to the theme, "Quality and Caring: My Experience with Lane Community College." Current and former students were eligible. Coordinating the competition were Sharon Thomas and Julie Baker. Thomas also served as a judge, along with Joan Aschim, Peter Jensen, Ken Zimmerman and Lisa Soverns. First-place winner Gary Hanamoto's essay, "Coming Out of the Woods," is featured on page 37 of the spring class schedule. The essay won him $125.

Today's Daily features the second-place essay by Don Bucholtz, which won the author a prize of $100. Don currently is a free-lance consultant and desktop publisher. He attended Lane from 1985-87 and transferred to the U of O where he received a degree in public relations. He has worked in various public non-profit organizations. "At 39 years old, I have returned to LCC to take courses to advance my personal and professional growth," he says.

"Quality and Caring: How LCC Fed My Mind and My Spirit"

by Don Bucholtz

Second Place, April is Community College Month Student Essay Contest

I attended Lane Community College from the fall of 1985 to the spring of 1987. When first entering the school, I was 30 years old and nervous about going to college. I was also eager to learn. Thankfully, the teachers and staff at LCC gave me everything I needed to go for success. Caring people provided me with assistance and opportunities, and a quality education prepared me for transfer to the University of Oregon. I recently returned to sample a few courses for my professional growth and personal enrichment. To my delight, I discovered the caring and quality that I experienced nine years ago still exists at LCC today.

My first experiences at LCC were with admissions counselors, testing staff and the people in the financial aid office, all of whom eased me into my first year of college. I soon discovered that I had a fantastic and confusing choice of classes to take. Academic advisors helped me pick courses that fulfilled my transfer requirements. The staff's concern for my academic future made an immediate and positive impression on me.

I was also impressed with my instructors, and I remember a few of them with special fondness. Milt Madden taught U.S. history with such flair that I often found myself traveling back in time as he described important events that shaped our country. Bill Burrows made a year of economics interesting and understandable with his unique wit and unconventional teaching aids. English instructors sparked my interest in literature and nurtured my writing. In physics, I had hands-on experience with every class experiment. My science teacher's enthusiasm helped me to appreciate the infinite creation of our universe. My classes were often inspiring and challenging. LCC prepared me well for my transfer to the University of Oregon. During my two years at Lane, I was never disappointed in the quality of my education.

Available and caring instructors greatly enhanced my experience at Lane. Teachers usually had the time to see me and to answer questions about assignments. Instructors provided answers, or the guidance to finding the answers, and encouragement. As an older student, I first felt a little out of place in college. That feeling soon disappeared. Teachers gave me advice on how to achieve my academic best and challenged me with wonderful opportunities to learn. Cooperative Education coordinator Peggy Marston exemplifies the caring attitude of the teachers at Lane. She opened many doors that led to my personal and professional growth. My writing instructors also provided guidance. They encouraged me to tutor other students and to apply my craft professionally. As a result, I have found work and a greater understanding of myself through my writing.

When I returned to LCC a few months ago, I saw many of my past instructors. After all these years, they still care. Teachers greeted me enthusiastically and asked about my life with genuine interest. I felt as if I had returned home. With a sense of nostalgia, I visited Milt Madden's U.S. history class and found he still can transport students to a different time and place. In the middle of his lecture, he began to sing a Civil War song and continued by reading an eyewitness report of the times. His students were rapt with attention, and so was I.

Those students reflect the quality and caring atmosphere at LCC. I see them smile and acknowledge their fellow human beings. I hear them share about challenging classes and express their satisfaction with their education. I look at them and see myself and my fellow students of nine years ago. Clothes and hairstyles have changed some, but the desire to learn remains the same. In my travels around campus, I see that the staff and teachers at LCC still feed the mind and the spirit.

LCC is again providing me with sustenance. The college offers a tremendous choice of appealing classes, particularly in continuing education. An admissions advisor helped me pick a suitable course, and my teacher, who is well qualified, has imparted valuable information. Having tasted the menu, I will return for another helping. Lifelong education is important to me for my personal growth and professional advancement. The instructors and staff at LCC are also important to me, for they gave me what I needed nine years ago. I am pleased they are still here for me today. ■

In memory

Shermaine Swearingen died March 30 from complications of progressive supranuclear palsy. She was 58. Shermaine worked as a nurse practitioner in Student Health Services from 1977 until she retired in 1992. She received a bachelor's degree in health and physical education from the University of Oregon in 1958 and an associate degree in nursing in 1973 from Lane. She also was certified as a women's health care nurse practitioner from the University of Colorado and as an adult nurse practitioner from Brigham Young University. She will be missed by her coworkers here and by all the students she helped during her 14 years in Student Health. Memorial contributions may be made to the Easter Seal School and Treatment Center or to the Relief Nursery.

Titans off to a good start in track and field

The Titans competed at home on Saturday against Clark, Mt. Hood and Southwestern community colleges. The Lady Titans dominated all events and won the meet with 74 points over Clark's 51. The men came in second and only 2-1/2 points behind Clark. You can catch many of the Lane athletes in action at the Oregon invitational meet on April 16 at Hayward Field.

Banner missing

The "April is Community College Month" banner (about 2'x 30') is missing from "the cage" storage area in the Industrial Technology Building. If you know where it is, call Julie Baker, Ext. 2199.

Summer youth employment program accepting requests

The Summer Youth Employment Program has youth available for jobs on campus. Tentative dates for the program are June 28 through August 19. Dates for youth attending summer school in Springfield will begin on June 30 and end August 26. All youth are required to receive safety and accident prevention education on their first day at the reception desk in Personnel Services. Deadline to submit request forms is April 15 in Personnel Services.

Librarian to help Coquille tribe

Don Macnaughtan, reference librarian at LCC Library, has been hired as a consultant by the Coquille Indian Tribe to create a tribal research library. The library will occupy the ground floor of a $5 million, 70,000-square-foot tribal retirement center in Bandon which will house 86 residents and provide 29 jobs. Don will be responsible for the furnishing, automation, policies, and the research collection of the library, which is expected to open in the fall. The Library will be the first tribal research facility on the West Coast.

Kenya Week coming soon

"Kenya Week" is coming to main campus April 18-23, sponsored by the International/Intercultural Committee. A variety of speakers and activities is planned. International students will host International Night at the end of the week on Saturday, April 23, at 6 p.m. in the cafeteria, featuring dinner, a fashion show, entertainment, and dancing to the Brothers of the Baladi. Tickets are $10. For information, call Ext. 2165, or drop by CEN 447 from 8 a.m.-4 p.m. on April 4-8, 11-15, or 18-20.

Portland sculptor showing in Art Department Gallery

David Fish of Portland is showing mixed-media sculpture in the Art Department Gallery through April 21. The show consists of 14 bio-mechanical constructions. Fish will lecture on his work on Thursday, April 21, at 10 a.m. in the gallery.

Lane Community College provides a quality learning experience in a caring environment.

Videoconference on bandwidth and public policy

A videoconference, "Bandwidth and Public Policy Information," will be held on Thursday, April 14, from 9:30 a.m.-12 noon in FOR 309. There is no charge to Lane staff and students; however, all others will be charged a fee and will need to call CIT at Ext. 2826 to preregister. Lane staff should call Telecourses at Ext. 2260 to preregister. This videoconference was designed to provide a deeper understanding of how the telecommunications infrastructure, the regulatory/policy environment, the provider mix, and telecommunication services are rapidly changing. Panelists will define and demystify the "information superhighway" and its impact on telecommunication providers and consumers. This event is sponsored by the local chapter of Data Processing Management Association and the Computer Information Technology Department.

Saturday Circus to hold conference

Saturday Circus, the parent education program at Lane, will celebrate its 35th anniversary on Saturday, April 16, with a day-long conference. The event will begin at 9 a.m. in Performing Arts main theater. Three morning speakers and 17 afternoon workshops will be featured. Lunch is included and a reception will be held from 5-7 p.m. The registration fee is $40. Academic credit is available from Lane and the University of Oregon. Early registration is important as seating is limited. For a brochure and information about child care and academic credit, call Carol Lynn Morse, Counseling, Ext. 2232.

Week 2 of Spring Term

Edited by Joan Aschim

Budget meeting date changed

The second meeting of the Budget Committee subcommittee for the Office of Instruction has been changed from today to Tuesday, April 12, at 7 p.m. in the Boardroom.

Alen Bahret honored as employee of the month

Jim Ellison and Alen Bahret.

It's just one honor after another for Alen Bahret. The programmer analyst was named Outstanding Classified Employee of the Month for April last Friday. In January, Alen was elected president of the classified employee union. In 1992, he was named Volunteer of the Year by the Lane County Sheriffs Office, for which he is a reserve deputy, and the same year received a Volunteer Award for 1,000 hours of service to the Eugene Department of Public Safety.

Alen has both studied and worked at Lane. In 1983 he earned two associate of science degrees here, in computer programming and in computer operations. That same year he was hired as a computer lab assistant and later became programmer analyst. In 1987 he earned a bachelor of science in business management from the U of O. Currently, he serves on the Classified Professional Development Team and College Council.

Here are just a few of the comments from his nominators for this month's award: "As a computer programmer, Alen's expertise is invaluable... looks at varied perspectives of a problem and thinks through possible solutions and scenarios before recommending a choice... looks at issues from an organizational, federation and individual perspective... delegates well... empowers others and challenges them to reach their potential...." He is noted for follow-through, meeting deadlines, and a light-hearted sense of humor which puts people at ease.

Videodiscs now available for classroom use

Lane faculty now have the opportunity to use videodiscs as a teaching tool. The media library of the Lane Education Service District, already a major source of films and videos for LCC, has begun adding videodiscs to their rental collection. To see the list of nearly 50 videodisc titles in the collection, or for assistance in locating and scheduling films or tapes, contact Daniel Moret in the library, Ext. 2318.

Child care co-op kids to hold art show

Twenty-four young artists, children at the ASLCC Child Care Co-op, will hold their first annual art show and a meet-the-artists ceremony on Wednesday, April 13, from 10:45-11:30 a.m., at the Student Resource Center, second floor Center Building. Activities will include People's Choice Awards. Punch and cookies will be served. The show is in celebration of the National Week of the Young Child.

Don't miss the career fair

"Career Fair '94: Explore the Possibilities," will be held on Wednesday, April 13, from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. in the cafeteria. Local and statewide employers will join forces to share information about their businesses, and career opportunities for students and graduates. Early advising begins this week

The Counseling Department offers early advising for fall 1994 beginning this week and continuing through spring term. Early advising is available to continuing students currently enrolled or who have been enrolled in summer or fall 1993 or winter 1994. The purpose of early advising is to promote student success by helping students plan their programs for fall 1994 and beyond. Students who have a clear educational plan are more successful. Students may pick up information about the program and schedules of sessions in the Counseling and Advising Center. The first 3,000 students to participate will receive an early registration time for fall term and will be allowed to register on Aug. 31, Sept. 1 or Sept. 2. For more information, call Rich Freund at Ext. 2435 or Jan Brandstrom at Ext. 2443.

Board agenda

The Lane Community College Board of Education will meet Wednesday, April 13, at 6:00 p.m., in the Boardroom. Action items on the agenda:

- student initiatives and referendums
- board policy on student publications
- cabinetmaking program revision
- contract with ASLCC attorney
- contract with college legal counsel
- printing of 1994-95 college catalog
- extension of worker's comp contract
- appointment of board rep to Oregon Community College Association
- election canvass
- budget transfer
- retirement of Larry Brown from Research, Planning & Evaluation
- retirement of Jim Brooks from Aviation Maintenance

Information items include the governor's budget, monthly financial report, LCC Foundation report, and accreditation self-study.

Future Faculty Task Force seeks broader participation

Attached to today's Daily is an invitation from the Future Faculty Task Force. Don't miss it.

Classified Council report

Classified Council invited Maxine Frauman, ESL instructor, to its meeting on March 30. Frauman told the council about her work on the Future Faculty Task Force and the subcommittee that College Council has formed to look into the part-time/full time faculty ratio issue at Lane. Frauman said the committee consists of three full-time faculty, two part-time faculty, two classified employees, Vice President Larry Warford, Vice President Jim Ellison, and two department heads. "The issue is a complex one, and there are no easy answers, but I am impressed with the thoughtful way this committee is approaching the subject," says Frauman. - by Arlene Hougland for The Daily

Writing software to be demonstrated

Teachers and others who work with students are invited to a workshop on Tuesday, April 12, from 2:30-3:30 p.m. in CEN 478B, the Mac lab classroom. Paul Hagood of WritePlace Software will introduce "Writing Coach" which will be installed on a trial basis in the Mac labs. According to Hagood, "This software is designed to help students across the curriculum with their writing. It helps students get over writer's block, use critical thinking strategies, organize their writing, and revise." Because it works within standard word processing programs, students will be able to learn the program quickly. For more information, contact Sharon Thomas at Ext. 2145.

Accreditation self-study report draft out for review

Copies of Lane's Accreditation Self-Study Report were sent to the Board of Education, Executive Cabinet, Classified Council, library reserve, College Council, Faculty Council, and department heads. Additional copies are available at Research, Planning & Evaluation (x2576).

Seven meetings will be held to receive feedback on the report:

April 12: Open Hearing, 2:30-3:30 p.m., Boardroom

April 13: Classified Council, 3 p.m., PE 205

April 13: Board of Education discussion

April 14: Faculty Council, 3 P.M., Boardroom

April 18: Open Hearing, 5:30-6:30 p.m., Boardroom

April 19: College Council, 3 p.m., Boardroom

April 20: Open Hearing, 9:30-10:30 a.m. DTC 202)

During this review process, we seek your feedback on:

- * major omissions, errors or inconsistencies.

- * changes to the summary section on collegewide strengths and recommendations.

We hope you will attend a meeting or submit written comments. Written comments should be sent to Julie Aspinwall-Lamberts (Research, Planning & Evaluation, ADM 117) by Friday, April 29.

Kenya-born playwright, scholar to visit Lane

The keynote speaker for "Kenya Week" coming to main campus April 18-23 is Dr. Micere Githae Mugo. She is an associate professor of African American studies at Syracuse University. She also is a noted playwright, poet and spokesperson for African women's rights. She was born in Kenya and is a citizen of Zimbabwe. Attached to today's Daily is a schedule of Kenya Week activities, including Dr. Mugo's itinerary. The week is sponsored by the International/ Intercultural Committee.

Classified Council agenda

Classified Council meets today from 3-5 p.m. in PE 205. Kay King, Ext. 2619, will facilitate. Agenda highlights: accreditation, staff suggestions.

Managers' Forum agenda

Managers' Forum meets Friday, April 15, at 8:30 a.m. in FOR 308. The vice presidents will lead a brainstorming session on the future of the college. Information gathered will be used as input to planning issues being addressed by Executive Cabinet. Managers should come prepared to share their ideas regarding these questions: 1) What should Lane look like by the turn of the century? 2) What will it take to get there? 3) What are the external opportunities and challenges? 4) What are our strengths and weaknesses?

Lane wins national awards

◆ Lane was one of four colleges nationwide to receive an AACC/IBM College Business/Industry Partnership Award at the American Association of Community Colleges annual meeting in Washington D.C. on April 8. Lane won an honorable mention for developing custom employee training programs for Symantec Corporation and Sony Corporation of America, which helped attract the companies to Eugene-Springfield. Dr. Larry Warford, vice president for Community and Economic Development, accepted the award on behalf of the college.

The other winners: Florida Community College at Jacksonville, FL, honorable mention for building a resource center for the workforce training needs of employers; Hinds Community College, Raymond, MS, top award for developing a mobile learning lab for workplace literacy training; and Piedmont Technical College, Greenwood, SC, top award for developing a council for excellence in cooperation with local industries.

◆ The Eugene 1993 Airshow won two awards for Lane in the annual National Council for Marketing and Public Relations Paragon Awards competition. Airshow publicity won a gold in the "Media Success Story" category. The airshow poster won a bronze in the "Poster II" category for posters of three or more colors. The airshow was coordinated by LCC Foundation Director Joe Farmer to raise funds for aviation maintenance program expansion. Local artist John Stahr created the poster.

Lane shared honors for a silver Paragon Award in the "Special Events" category for a group entry of the "Roads to Opportunity" statewide flag relay commemorating April as Community College Month last year. All 16 state community colleges participated in the event. Institutional Advancement communications specialist Joan Aschim contributed the idea and co-chaired the event.

NCMPR is an affiliate of the American Association of Community Colleges. The Paragon Awards were announced at the annual NCMPR conference on March 22 in Atlanta, Georgia. Over 1,300 entries were judged in 30 categories.

Sandy Cutler appointed to area economic development group

Sandy Cutler, state director of the Oregon Small Business Development Center Network headquartered at Lane, has been appointed to the Eugene-Springfield Metropolitan Partnership Board.

Lane Community College provides a quality learning experience in a caring environment.

PERS statements on the way

Week 3 of Spring Term

Edited by Joan Aschim

Today & Friday:

- Resource Development Group, today, 2-3:30 p.m., PE 205.
- Faculty Council, today, 3-4:30 p.m., Boardroom. Accreditation will be discussed.
- Managers Forum, Friday, April 15, 8:30-10 a.m., FOR 308.

Kenya Week notice

The complete schedule for "Kenya Week" coming to main campus April 18-23 is attached to today's Daily. Yesterday's attachment was missing the second side.

Deadlines loom

- The Summer Youth Employment Program has youth available for jobs on campus. Tentative dates for the program are June 28 through August 19. Dates for youth attending summer school in Springfield will begin on June 30 and end August 26. All youth are required to receive safety and accident prevention education on their first day at work. Position request forms and more information are available at the reception desk in Personnel Services. Deadline to submit request forms is Friday, April 15.
- Nominations for Outstanding Classified Employee of the Month for May are due Friday, April 15, to Community and Economic Development.
- The League for Innovation "Innovation of the Year Award" nominations are due April 22. Nomination instructions are available from Community and Economic Development, Ext. 2120. One individual from each of the League's 18 member colleges will be honored for designing and implementing a significant innovation during the past year. Last year, construction technology instructor Hal Davis won the award for the American Dream Program which allows students hands-on opportunities to build housing for low-income families in partnership with the St. Vincent de Paul Society of Lane County and Centennial Bank.

TTT topic: at-risk students

Practical classroom tips on identifying and helping students at risk will be offered by Helen Park, instructor in Lane's Adult High School, on Tuesday, April 19, from 3-4:30 p.m. in CEN 401, as part of the TTT (Teachers Talking About Teaching) program. Come enjoy meeting people and sampling delights from the Renaissance Room. Call Sharon Thomas at Ext. 2145 for more information.

Early childhood education staff present at conference

Nine staff from the Early Childhood Education program presented workshops at the Oregon Association for Early Childhood Education spring conference on April 9 held at Willamette High School. Presenters and their workshops were: Heidi Stalder, "Magic Mixtures for Fun and Learning" and "Science in the Preschool;" Linda Riepe, "Managing Parents: The Good, the Bad & the Ugly;" Linda Pompel and Lorna Hickerson, "Importance of Play in Learning;" Crystal Baker, "Power Struggles! (No I Won't, Yes I Will);" Jeanne Stone, "Creative Cooking & Mouth Watering Menus for Daycare;" Karen Hall and Betty Johnston, "Developmentally Appropriate Infant/Toddler Curriculum and Environments;" and Crystal Baker and Michele Freeman, "Creative Dynamics." In addition, Julianne Stermer was in charge of arrangements for the conference. Over 1,500 people from around the state attended.

Upcoming meetings

- The Inquiry Group on Cooperation and Collaboration in the Classroom will meet Monday, April 18, 3-4 p.m., CEN 401. Topic: Managing groups--setting the roles and responsibilities for group work.
- The College Council Committee on Part-time/Full-Time Issues will meet Wednesday, April 20, 8-9 a.m., Boardroom.

Classified Council report

Classified Council heard an accreditation update from Julie Aspinwall-Lamberts of Research, Planning & Evaluation at its April 13 meeting. She said the self-study report draft will be revised and finalized in June or July. Written comments may be sent to her until April 29. The final report will be sent to a 14-member accreditation team that will visit the college in November.

The council approved Institutional Advancement representative Angela Miller's recommendation that Cindy Veldhuis of the Women's Program replace her as the council's representative to College Council. Miller says she will be leaving the council at the end of her term. Council's next meeting is April 27 from 3-5 p.m. in PE 205. - by Arlene Hougland for The Daily

In sympathy

Please express sympathy to James Easley, security officer, for the passing of his father on April 13 in Kennewick, WA.

Photographer loose on campus

John Bauguess, photographer and instructor at Lane, will be photographing around campus for the college catalog and for the ACCESS program during the next month or so. He will be contacting some instructors and some students to set up times and also may appear with camera in hand, hoping to photograph in your classroom or lab. Please welcome him when you can and make other arrangements when you can't. Call Susan Sutton, IA, Ext. 2593, if you have questions or ideas.

Save the 29th for dance/casino night

A dance and casino night for all employees and guests will be held on Friday, April 29, from 8-11 p.m. in the main gym. Music from the 1950s and 1960s, and country and western music, will be featured. Also planned are dance lessons, food, casino games and roulette, entertainment, and a no-host bar, all for $3 per person.

Tickets are available from Julie Baker at Ext. 2199 or Vicki Ramsey at the Downtown Center at Ext. 2904. Tickets must be purchased by April 26. This all-staff event is sponsored by the Classified, Faculty and Management Professional Development Teams.

Faculty Council report

At its April 14 meeting, Faculty Council heard the results of a grading policy survey conducted among faculty and some students by counselor Betty Vail and math instructor Jill McKenney. The survey listed four options: Replace the Y grade with a NC for no credit, add no credit with Y, retain Y and limit the conditions under which it can be used, and eliminate the Y and don't add NC. Most faculty favored the first option. Council will ask The Torch to print council's recommendation that the first option be implemented. Council also will hold an open forum on the issue at its April 28 meeting. Vice President Jim Ellison said a change could be implemented as soon as fall term. He asked Vail to check with admissions, financial aid, and veteran services to see if the grading policy would meet federal standards.

After a brief discussion of the part-time full time faculty issue, math instructor Joyce Fish suggested the council write a draft of its concerns and forward it to the Future Faculty Task Force. Fish said this would allow the council to bring some closure to the matter and to move onto other issues. Fish will draft the document for council and bring it to the next meeting for review.

In other business, council heard an accreditation update. The next meeting will be April 28 from 3-5 p.m. in the Boardroom. - by Arlene Hougland for The Daily

Teleconference is annual secretaries briefing

The 7th Annual Secretaries Briefing, an annual American Management Association teleconference, will be shown Wednesday, April 27, from 9:45 a.m.-noon in FOR 308. It's free. Topics will be of importance to administrative and support staff professionals. Participants will:

- Learn how technology, economic changes and teamwork are creating opportunities.
- Help organizations recognize and capitalize on the talents of support staff.
- Develop new skills for a new age, including team dynamics and managing conflict.

Refreshments will be served and surprises are in store for participants. All employees are welcome. Sponsored by LCC Staff Development. Call Ext. 2260 to register before Friday, April 22.

Don't miss out on Medicare

Medicare becomes available at the beginning of the month in which you become age 65, whether you are retired or still working. You apply for Medicare automatically when you apply for social security benefits. If you plan to retire after age 65, you should apply for Medicare separately. When you enroll in Part A (hospital insurance) of Medicare, you also automatically enroll in Part B (supplementary medical insurance) unless you tell the Social Security Administration that you don't want it. If you enroll in Part B at the earliest opportunity, you pay monthly premiums, which are normally deducted from your social security benefits, if you get them. If you enroll late, you may have to pay higher premiums. If you have questions about Medicare, call the SSA at 1-800-234-5772. If you want to enroll, you need to go to the Eugene office located at 377 Pearl Street.

Evaluations due

Classified annual evaluations and faculty performance evaluations are due in Personnel Services by June 1. If you have questions, please contact Judy Ward at Ext. 2583.

Lane Community College provides a quality learning experience in a caring environment.

League offers reward for technology in the curriculum

The League for Innovation seeks nominations for the Houghton Mifflin Partners in Technology program. The program honors and rewards faculty for innovative work in integrating technology into the curriculum. Rewards include $1,000, a travel stipend to the next League convention, a bundled package of hardware, software and books, and an honorary plaque. Nomination deadline is June 1. Partners will be announced Sept. 1. For information, contact the Office of Community and Economic Development at Ext. 2120.

Wanted: Student Service Associates

The Counseling Department is searching for a few good students to work during the 1994-95 academic year as Student Service Associates. The associates staff the Career Information Center and provide other direct services to students and community members. Please help us to reach individuals who are helpful, outgoing, have good communication skills, and who would like to work part-time next year. Applications are due May 2. To obtain more information or to refer candidates, contact Julia Poole, Ext. 2512, or Ann Clark, Ext. 2234.

Workshop to explore non-traditional careers for women

"Access," a one-day workshop for women interested in exploring non-traditional careers, will be held on Saturday, April 23, from 9 a.m.-4 p.m., in PE 205. Participants will be able to meet women who are working in non-traditional fields, understand apprenticeship training, explore myths and stereotypes about "women's work," match interests with career options, and develop a career plan. One credit is available under registration No. 694. Call Ext. 2382 for more information.

The review will encompass all class or service fees assessed a student and/or the public but does not include the ASLCC fee. If interested in serving on the task force, call Carol Beckley at Ext. 2363 by April 28.

Norman Solomon to speak

Journalist, author and media critic Norman Solomon will speak on Tuesday, April 26, from 7-9 p.m. in the Blue Door Theater, and on Wednesday, April 27, from 12-1:30 p.m., in the Boardroom. The lectures are free. Solomon co-authored, "Unreliable Sources: A Guide to Detecting Bias in the News Media" (1990) and "Adventures in Medialand: Behind the News, Beyond the Pundits" (1993). He wrote "The Power of Babble: The Politician's Dictionary of Buzzwords and Doubletalk for Every Occasion" (1992) and "False Hope: The Politics of Illusion in the Clinton Era" (1994). His nationally syndicated column appears in The Register-Guard.

His visit is sponsored by the Office of Instruction; English, Foreign Language & Speech Department; Social Science Department; Media Arts and Technology Department; and The Torch. For more information, contact Jerome Garger at Ext. 2162.

shared decision-making news

Board report

Student referendums and initiatives

At its April 13 meeting, the Board of Education approved for student vote proposals to increase the mandatory student activity fee by $5 for sports and recreation and by $.50 for The Torch. The board took no action on two initiatives to allocate portions of the existing student activity fee to Denali and the Native American Student Association, since the initiatives would not increase fees. The board denied a referendum for an $8.75 group bus pass, indicating a better price and terms should be achieved. All votes were unanimous at 6-0. Board member Jim Pitney was absent due to travel. The student vote will be held May 2, 3 and 4.

Cabinetmaking program to go noncredit

The board voted 6-0 to change the status of the cabinetmaking program from credit to noncredit. Students currently enrolled in the credit one-year certificate program will be able to complete the program. The shift is expected to save the college money and still allow students the opportunity for cabinetmaking classes.

Approved unanimously

- Retirement of Larry Brown from Research, Planning & Evaluation.
- Retirement of Jim Brooks from aviation maintenance program.
- Reappointment of Ed Butler as ASLCC attorney.
- Reappointment of the firm of Harold & Leahy as college legal counsel.
- Approval of contract with Oregon Lithoprint Inc. of McMinnville to print the college catalog.
- Approval of contract with SAIF Corporation of Eugene for workers compensation insurance.
- Appointment of Pat Riggs-Henson to the Oregon Community College Association board.
- Acceptance of the March 22 election results confirming Cindy Cable to the Zone 1 seat, Michael Dubick to the at-large seat, and Peter Sorenson to the Zone 5 seat.
- Approval of annual budget transfers (zero effect on the budget total).
- Approval of board policy on student press and publications.

Future meetings

The next regular board meeting is May 11. A Budget Committee meeting also will be held that evening. The board will hold a work session in Florence on April 30. There will be no August meeting.

Artist to lecture

Sculptor David Fish will lecture on Thursday, April 21, at 10 a.m. in the Art Department Gallery.

Change of marital status on insurance

When you have a change in your marital status due to death, divorce or legal separation, you will need to delete your spouse from medical, vision and dental insurance coverage since they no longer qualify as a dependent under these plans. Change of status forms can be completed in Personnel Services. Remember: When you delete a spouse from insurance coverage because they are no longer a dependent, the college will offer them the option to self-pay for coverage for a period of 36 months or longer. If you have questions, call Carol Goldsberry at Ext. 2590.

New in the Grants Library

The Grants Library has received the 1994 editions of the Foundation Directory and the Foundation Directory Part 2. The two books combined provide information on over 10,700 foundations with annual giving programs in excess of $50,000 each year. Over 400 grantmakers are listed for the first time. The reference books are indexed by subject field, grant type and geographic location. The Grants Library is located near ADM 209. - Sarah LaMaster, Ext. 2312

Award established in memory of Norma Stevens

The LCC Foundation is accepting contributions to the Norma Stevens Creativity Award "to continue the tradition she demonstrated in devising ways to make teaching and learning fun and exciting." Teaching and nonteaching staff in the Family and Health Careers Department are eligible for the $100 award. Stevens was a long-time faculty member at Lane who recently passed away. For more information, contact Joe Farmer at Ext. 2810, or Jerri Adler at Ext. 2617.

Larry Warford awarded national honor

Dr. Larry Warford, vice president for Community and Economic Development, has received the 1994 National Leadership Award for professionals in the field from the National Council on Community Services and Continuing Education. NCCSCE President David Wells said, "Warford was selected for this award by his peers nationwide due not only to his contributions nationally, but his strong leadership at the local level where Lane Community College has become a major force in economic development."

Warford's doctoral research at the University of Oregon on workforce training led to the development of the national Business and Industry Services Network and a policy paper for the American Association of Community Colleges now being used as a national leadership tool in workforce training. Warford encouraged the League for Innovation in the Community College to establish the national conference, Workforce 2000.

Warford joined Lane in 1978. He was adjunct professor at the University of Oregon in 1993. He has a Ph.D. degree from the University of Oregon. He has a master's in education administration and a bachelor's in business education from the University of Northern Iowa. He is a 1960 graduate of Ellsworth Community College, Iowa.

Marketing grant applications due

Applications for the next round of marketing grants are due April 28. Money awarded at that time will be available July 1. The next application deadline will be in the fall. For details, call Angela Miller in Institutional Advancement at Ext. 2268.

Student essays highlight community college month

The following essay by student Elaine Wigget concludes The Daily's observation of April as National Community College Month. A student essay contest was sponsored by Institutional Advancement and English, Foreign Language and Speech. Students wrote to the theme, "Quality and Caring: My Experience with Lane Community College." First-place winner Gary Hanamoto's essay was published in the spring class schedule. Second-place winner Don Bucholtz's essay was printed in the April 5 Daily.

"Quality and Caring: My Experience with LCC"

by Elaine Wigget

Third Place, April is Community College Month Student Essay Contest

When I first came to LCC I was experiencing changes in my life which made functioning normally quite difficult. I was separating from my husband, and it was necessary for me to abandon all my belongings and my home. I had no income, no address and no phone, but at least for the present we had transportation. I knew that to support my four children I would have to update my computer skills. With this in mind I approached LCC.

Everyone I spoke to was helpful, informative, and sincerely caring. I was even loaned the money to pay the processing fee then required by financial aid. I was assisted in selecting a major based on my work experience and interests.

I began my first term feeling like a child again. I visited the school before the term started to locate all my classrooms so I wouldn't look lost or be late for any classes. When the term began, all my instructors were enthusiastic about their subjects and imparted in me what someone described to me once as an insatiable thirst for knowledge.

I remember the first two weeks of school, I would sit in front of the computer and not know if I wanted to communicate in BASIC, get into WordPerfect, or goodness, maybe I should be over at a Mac! Needless to say there were some very calm and knowledgeable lab employees that helped me every step of the way.

My problems were far from over, though. Without a reliable address, communications to me were delayed resulting in a delay in my financial aid. As I couldn't pay for the term just completed, I couldn't enroll in the next term. Unfortunately, I needed the second part of a class that term which would allow me to sit for a state licensing exam. A wonderful instructor allowed me to attend the class event though I wasn't officially enrolled and even switched me to another class when my car decided to stop running and transportation became a problem. Approximately two weeks before the end of the class, my financial aid for the previous term came through clearing up that term and allowing me to enroll in the class I had been attending in the current term.

I now had the problem of paying for this course. Once again some really helpful people assisted me in obtaining a courtesy appointment and another problem was solved. I also passed the State Licensing test, my first accomplishment at LCC.

In every class I have attended there have been students with a drive to learn and to do their best. There have also been instructors willing to impart not only knowledge but enthusiasm. Subjects were presented in a way that transcended the classroom to the "real world." With these people around me it wasn't hard to do my best. I would have been content with that, but an instructor encouraged me to investigate and apply for scholarships. I have now obtained some scholarships and met some very interesting people because of it.

The caring and kindness of the staff has even extended to my family. Staff at the campus have located me when my children have become sick or needed me. Instructors have allowed my children to sit in class with me when they had no school, and child care was not an option. When one of my children was hospitalized last year, I was able to keep in touch with all of my instructors by phone and keep on top of all my work.

I have also been able to work at one of Lane's outreach campuses because of the work study program. One of the greatest rewards of that job is to be able to help students and even to assist instructors. There's a sense of family there. I sense the same feeling at the business department on main campus where I've spent most of my time at Lane.

Every class I have attended has given me more knowledge, more enthusiasm, and more confidence. My only regret is that my time left at Lane is growing short. I will miss being here. I can only hope that, wherever I go, I will meet people with the same caring, enthusiasm, pride and professionalism as I have during my time here at Lane. I take with me pride and confidence that has been bestowed on me through the quality and caring of my experience with LCC. ■

Bring daughters to work tomorrow

Remember: National "Take a Daughter to Work" day is Thursday, April 28. Tomorrow is a day that parents and others take girls to work with them to learn about the realities of work, employment opportunities, and the education and training jobs require. The president asks that you get your immediate supervisor's approval. Call the Women's Center at Ext. 2353 for more information.

Business and industry internships available

Business and industry internships may be available to staff through the Lane County Professional Technical Education Consortium and the Workforce Quality Council. These internships are for 15 days to be done during summer 1994 and are to be reimbursed at $90 per day, less PERS costs. The opportunity is open to all Lane instructors and counselors after county middle and high schools fill as many of the 40 available slots as they choose. An orientation meeting will be held Thursday, April 28, from 5-7:30 p.m., at the OEA Building on Coburg Road. For more information, contact Marv Clemons, Lane ESD, 689-6500 Ext. 275, or Judith Gabriel at Ext. 2699.

Continuing Education lengthens its reach

Continuing Education's strategy to take classes into the community continues to enjoy success:

- Emerald Job Center - 7 noncredit classes, 91 students
- Thurston High School - 7 noncredit classes, 1 credit class, 120 students
- Willamette High School - 10 noncredit classes, 2 credit classes, 188 students

The department plans to offer classes at the Emerald Job Center this summer, and all above locations next fall through spring. Oakridge will be the next extended learning site, then Harrisburg.

Survey rates business center services

Independent researchers in the U.S. and Canada have found small business development centers to be highly effective. Some highlights from the 1990-91 economic impact survey:

- Established SBDC clients had 7.78% sales growth rates vs. the average U.S. business rate of 1.13%.
- Pre-venture clients benefiting from counseling averaged $161,185 in sales in 1991.
- Established clients employment growth was 6.49% vs. the average U.S. business rate of 0.58%.
- 3.19 new jobs were created by each pre-venture SBDC client.
- SBDC services led to over $85 million in new tax contributions from established clients and $203 million from pre-venture clients due to sales and employment increases.
- Tax revenues generated by established businesses were over three times as large as the portion of the budget devoted to them.
- Tax revenues generated by the pre-venture clients returned $1.84 for every dollar expended by all SBDCs in the U.S.

In addition, Oregon surveys from last year also show that sales increased by 19 percent, net profits increased by 35 percent, payroll increased by 19 percent, part-time employment rose by 21 percent, and full-time employment rose by 16 percent.

The first SBDC program was established at Lane in 1984 and became a nationwide model. Lane is home to the Oregon Small Business Development Centers Network, headquarters for the state's 20 SBDCs. Edward (Sandy) Cutler directs OSBDCN.
