College Council report

President Jerry Moskus advised College Council at its April 19 meeting that the community college presidents and the Office of Community College Services have hammered out six optional funding formulas. He said that while the funding formula presents a problem for colleges historically well-funded by local taxpayers like Lane, a bigger problem is no new revenue. "We could be level-funded for years, as salaries and costs increase."

Lane may get less than a 10-year accreditation this year because accrediting agencies are themselves under intense scrutiny from the federal government and expected to be tough, said Julie Aspinwall-Lamberts, director of Research, Planning & Evaluation and coordinator of Lane's accreditation self-study. The agencies have been criticized for inconsistent standards, quality control, and operating as a closed network. She said to expect questions about general educational requirements, effectiveness assessment, faculty evaluation, and funding and resources. Lane received 10-year accreditation twice in the past.

The subcommittee on class and registration fees was not ready to report. The next regular meeting of College Council will be Tuesday, May 3, 1:30-3 p.m., Boardroom.

College Council agenda

The next regular meeting of College Council will be Tuesday, May 3, 1:30-3 p.m., Boardroom. Agenda highlights: restructuring, bond election work session, May board meeting agenda, and the college evening program.

Mexican art exhibit opens

The library sponsors an exhibit of Mexican art by Maria Elena today through May 31. Elena is famous in Mexico for her happy, candid portrayal of the culture. She is best known for her marketplace scenes and her treatment of charming windows and textured walls. She is self-taught and has countless one-woman shows to her credit in Mexico, the U.S., and throughout Central America. Her exhibit is cosponsored by the Phoenix Gallery of Cottage Grove.

Lane student wins art award

"Robe in Red" by Regina Loch-Elvert

Lane student Regina Loch-Elvert has won a third place award in the League for Innovation 1994 Student Art Completion for her watercolor titled "Robe in Red." She will receive $100. She is one of three third-place winners. Other awards were best of show, second place, and four honorable mentions. Delta College, MI, hosted the event. Juror was painter John Torreano of New York who was impressed with "the variety of media and technical differences, as well as a degree of aesthetic sensitivity."

Lane students won first and second place in 1993, third in 1992, and third in the first-ever contest in 1987. Art instructor Craig Spilman coordinates Lane's participation in the annual event. A reception for Loch-Elvert and display of her watercolor will be announced soon.

Schafer nominations wanted

Attached to today's Daily are guidelines for nominations for the Eldon G. Schafer Innovation Awards. Nomination deadline is May 23. For more information, contact the Foundation at Ext. 2810.

Fee dropped for defense class for people with disabilities

The Continuing Education class titled Martial Arts: Self-Defense for Persons with Physical Disabilities, will be offered free on May 14-15, HEA 105. Continuing Education changed the class to no-charge in a gesture of community service. The class is described on page 22 of the spring class schedule. For more information, call Ext. 2252. Preregistration is required.

Check PERS statement for accuracy

Now that PERS statements have arrived, verify them for accuracy. Use the tear-off form for corrections on birthdate, social security number or name. If the beneficiary is incorrect, or you have not designated a beneficiary, call Vicki Ellison at Ext. 2589 for a form. Remember, if you made a change in the distribution between fixed and variable accounts in 1993, it will reflect on the 1994 annual statement that will be sent to you next year. Questions? Call Vicki Ellison at Ext. 2589.

Teleconference offers Internet information

A teleconference, "Internet: A Practical Approach," will be shown Thursday, May 5, in FOR 309, with panel discussion from 9-10 a.m., and the teleconference from 10 a.m.-1 p.m. It's free to LCC staff and students but staff should preregister by calling Ext. 2260. All others will be charged a fee and should preregister with Computer Information Technology at Ext. 2826.

This 180-minute videoconference will provide an understanding of Internet resources and how to use them. If you've lost your way in the Internet, or don't even know where to start, this seminar is for you. Ed Krol, author of "The Whole Internet User's Guide and Catalogue" and "Hitchhikers Guide to the Internet" will present a comprehensive overview. Also presenting will be Scott Yanoff, publisher of two popular on-line Internet resource lists, "Internet Services List" and "Inter-Network Mail Guide."

This seminar is sponsored by the local chapter of Data Processing Management Association and the Computer Information Technology Department.

Classified evaluations should not include new class titles

Managers, when conducting 1993-94 classified employee evaluations, keep in mind that the new class titles associated with the classification study have not been implemented yet. If you have questions, call Judy Ward in Personnel Services at Ext. 2583.

Dental insurance reminder

The maximum amount of dental benefits for eligible classified employees is $1,000, and for management and faculty is $1,500, for covered services for each person covered per benefit year. If you have questions regarding your benefit year, call your insurance carrier (Blue Cross/Blue Shield or OEA Choice). For answers to insurance questions, call Carol Goldsberry, Personnel Services, Ext. 2590.

Vocational scholarship applications available

Applications for the Wayne Shields Endowed Vocational Education Scholarship are now available at the Financial Aid counter, Career Information Center, and through appropriate departments. The deadline to apply is June 3. The goal is to announce scholarship recipients by the end of June.

Classified Council hears about campus clean-up

Julie Baker, from Community and Economic Development, and Lloyd Rain, director of Purchasing Services, visited Classified Council's April 27 meeting. Baker and Rain presented information about a campus clean-up event planned for this summer. Baker says President Moskus wants to use the event as an opportunity to rid the campus of surplus materials and equipment and to clean up any unsightly areas around the campus. Rain says the clean-up will include a public auction and he would like to encourage departments to begin turning in potential auction items now. He says proceeds from items donated by a department will go back to the department. Baker says she will handle publicity for the event and asked for volunteers from the council to serve on a planning committee. Gloria Jarvis, from the Office of Instruction, and Sharon McCarroll, from Adult Basic and Secondary Education, obliged. -by Arlene Houglund for The Daily

Faculty Council reacts to substance abuse proposal

Substance Abuse Prevention Coordinator Mark Harris presented his recommendation for a revision of Lane's current substance abuse policy to Faculty Council at its April 28 meeting. Harris said he is recommending abstinence from illegal drugs, and no use of alcohol during work hours. In his report, Harris provided the council with suggested levels of alcohol to be consumed during nonwork hours when such use would affect work hours. He says the current policy meets federal standards but does not clearly define the word abuse. Harris says he would also recommend using a .04 blood alcohol level as a defined standard of abuse. Some council members felt the revised policy would be too strict and asked Harris to provide more evidence that Lane might have a problem that would warrant the revisions. Harris agreed to research the matter and return to the council at a later date.

In other business, the council discussed sending a memo outlining the council's position on the full time/part-time faculty issue to the Future Faculty Task Force and the Full Time/Part-time Committee of College Council. Joyce Fish, co-facilitator of the Faculty Council, prepared a rough draft summarizing the council's concerns. The council made some revisions, then asked Fish to send the memo. -by Arlene Houglund for The Daily

Future Faculty Task Force selects three areas of focus

The Future Faculty Task Force has decided to start with three focus areas for spring term. Two groups will be: what are we now and what are we becoming: 1) the internal environment; 2) the external environment. The third area of focus is: 3) teachers, teaching and the curriculum. The next meeting will be Thursday, May 5, at 3 p.m. in BUS 203. Committees will be forming and starting their plans. All faculty welcome.

Full-time/part-time committee to meet

The College Council Full-Time/Part-time Committee will meet Friday, May 6, 8-10 a.m., PE 205.

Limited service

The Student Services branch will hold inservice on Wednesday, May 4, from 4-5:30 p.m. Some offices will be closed and others will have work-study assistance.

Videoconference focuses on diversity in higher education

"Diversity in Higher Education," a free teleconference, will be held Thursday, May 12, from 10-11:30 a.m. in CEN 10. Administrators and educators will learn how to successfully initiate faculty development programs that deal with diversity issues. New strategies currently in use by businesses, social organizations, and other academic institutions will be presented. Learn how to develop a program, get back on track if the it falters, and avoid the pitfalls that have stifled programs initiated by many earnest educators. All staff are invited. For more information, call Cynde Leathers at Ext. 2260.

Lane Community College provides a quality learning experience in a caring environment.

Movers and shakers needed

Watch your mail for a questionnaire to help identify "movers and shakers" on campus to be part of a special cadre to be trained to help Lane move forward with skills needed for restructuring. If you don't receive a questionnaire by Wednesday, contact Julie Baker, Ext. 2199.

Workshop will help you manage change

Don't miss your opportunity to learn how to create your own winning attitude for managing change in your life. The Classified Professional Development Team invites you to attend "Making the Most of Change" with Kelly Catlin Walker, on Tuesday, May 10, at the Black Angus Restaurant, 2123 Franklin Blvd. Make reservations by Thursday, May 5, for either breakfast and the morning session (7:30 a.m.-noon) or lunch and the afternoon session, (12:15-5 p.m.). To make reservations or obtain more information contact Julie Baker at Ext. 2199.

THANKS

- A most deserved acknowledgment to Linda Myers from the entertainment committee and college staff who attended the all-staff dance this past Friday. Linda's outstanding and unselfish dedication of time and energy to solicit financing, coordinate, and provide the organizational skills to make this dance the most successful in recent memory is testimony to her determination. We are most appreciative.
- It takes good people to make a good event. Many thanks to those who helped make the recent Northwest Community College Forensics Championships a success--especially to Ann Whipple, Wendy Westfall, Betty Weese, Vince Jones, Jim Wychules, Della Mathews, Joanne McGillivray, Cynthia Zorich, Jacquie McClure, Bill Woolum, Jeff Osanka, Art Tegger, Mike Rose, Arden Woods, Noble Goss, Buck Arbuckle, and Andrea Pasutti. This term's speech team was able to win second in sweepstakes for the state of Oregon and first in parliamentary debate. It has been an outstanding year for this team. While some move on to four-year schools, we hope that several will return to make next year's program as bright. - Barbara Breaden

- Student Services branch inservice, 4-5:30 p.m.; some offices closed.

Annual employee reception scheduled

The annual employee recognition reception will be held on Wednesday, May 18, from 3-5 p.m. in the cafeteria. If you can bring flowers, contact Laura Tamura in the President's Office at Ext. 2301.

Business Department honors outstanding students

Every year the Business Department faculty nominate and choose students for two awards. The competition for the Outstanding Office Administration Student of the Year Award was so keen that the committee decided for the first time ever to name co-award winners. The winners are Connie Dugdale and Alan Feldmayer. Connie is considering seeking a four-year degree in office administration. Alan plans to "work a little" and continue to pursue a bachelor's degree. Susan Trulock received the Wall Street Journal Award and a free one-year subscription. She is a business management major.

Each winner was chosen for academic excellence, cooperative work experience, second-year standing, as well as for a sense of commitment, positive attitude, and general behavior that impressed the instructor nominators. The nominations were made winter term. Many students were qualified and nominated in this unannounced process and the decision was very difficult.

An informal awards ceremony will be held in President Moskus' office on Wednesday, May 11, at 2:30 p.m. If you are friends of the winners, you are welcome to attend. - Fred Meyer

Limited service

- Personnel Services full-time staff will be at inservice on Friday, May 6, until 2 p.m. The reception, archives and micrographics areas will be open all day.
- Testing will be closed on Monday, May 9, while staff attend a regional assessment workshop.

Printing deadline reminder

Packets and books needed for summer term should be submitted to Printing/Graphics by May 25. Materials needed for the first day of summer term should be submitted by June 13. Thanks !

LaMaster chosen for national leadership program for women

Sarah LaMaster, grants coordinator, will participate in the National Institute for Leadership Development year-long "Leaders" program for women administrators and faculty in higher education. She will attend a workshop May 7-13 that will include discussions with national experts on issues confronting higher education, plus instruction in supervisory and human relations skills, planning and budgeting, and organizational transformation. She also will conduct a strategic planning project that will aid the college and foster individual professional growth under the mentorship of Julie Aspinwall-Lamberts, director of Research, Planning and Evaluation.

LaMaster helped secure grant funding for the chemical dependency counselor training program, two technology access programs for the Oregon Small Business Development Center Network, and the Careers Plus program providing job training for people age 50 years or older.

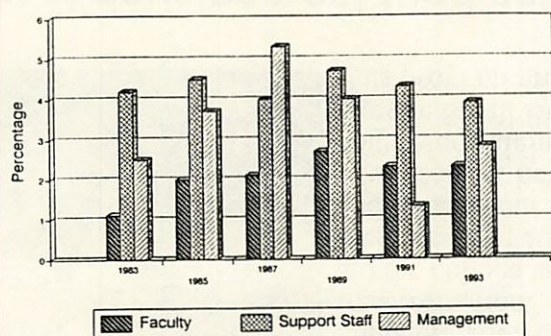

Grant development fund established

The Resource Development Group has established a fund to encourage new grant initiatives. About $12,000 will be available this year to remove barriers to developing a grant proposal. Funds can be used to provide reassignment time for staff to work on grants; hire part-time help to work on grants; hire outside grant writers, readers, editors, or word-processors; and attend workshops about specific grants. Requests for funds may be made at any time. Information packets and request forms are available from department chairs or from Sarah LaMaster, grants coordinator, Ext. 2312.

RSVP to Ext. 2826.

Grants Manual and Grant Writer's Workbook available

If you are developing a grant proposal or thinking about seeking funding for a special project, be sure to get the Grants Manual and Grant Writer's Workbook from Institutional Advancement. These booklets contain helpful information about grant development, grant writing, and the college's grants procedures and timelines. Also, review the grants administrator responsibilities described in Section A-8c of the Business Operations Manual (BOM). Grant developers should keep these deadlines in mind:

- When you first decide to seek funding—
Read the Grants Manual! Review Section A-8c of the BOM!
Complete and circulate Grant Review Form, Part A, Preliminary Approval.
- As early as possible—
Develop draft of proposal. The Grant Writer's Workbook is a good guide.
- No later than 10 working days prior to mailing—
Provide drafts to Financial Services and Institutional Advancement for review.
- No later than 5 working days prior to mailing—
Circulate 1 copy of final proposal and 1 copy of funding source guidelines and Parts A and B of college form to people on list for sign-off.
- No later than 3 working days prior to mailing—
See that final proposal has reached President's Office for signature.

The timeline is designed to allow key players in the grant development and review process time to consider your proposal carefully. By adhering to the timeline, your chances of developing a high quality proposal with strong institutional support are increased. For a copy of the Grants Manual and Grant Writer's Workbook or assistance in developing and processing grant proposals, contact Sarah LaMaster, Grants Coordinator, Ext. 2312.

Peruvian visitor on campus

Dr. Edison Ledesma of Peru is visiting Mark Harris today at the Recovery Center in APR 215A. Dr. Ledesma is part of a Peruvian non-governmental think tank on substance abuse and human rights.

Peter Sorenson to speak

Peter Sorenson, Oregon state senator from the 20th District and chair of the LCC Board of Education, will speak in Jerome Garger's Peace & Conflict Studies class on Tuesday, May 10, from 7:15-8:15 p.m. in APR 216. His topic: "Oregon's Future." Guests are welcome.

Board of Education considering possible bond election

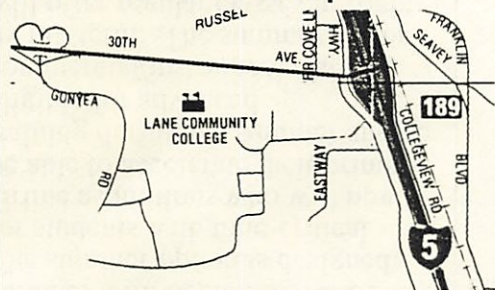

The Board of Education will meet Wednesday, May 11, at 7:30 p.m., in the Boardroom. The agenda includes items to prepare for the possibility of a bond election discussed by the board in an April 30 work session. A formal board vote is required to hold a bond election. Other items on the 7:30 p.m. agenda are education reform and contract awards for parking lot paving and annual paper supplies.

Prior to its regular meeting, the board will meet at 5 p.m. for an executive session on collective bargaining issues, and the Budget Committee will meet at 6 p.m.

Restructuring to be kicked-off with a celebration

Last fall, President Moskus began calling for a restructuring of Lane to enable the college to achieve its mission in a time of change. He sought comment from across campus and refined his vision. The result is more a new way of doing business than a change in reporting procedures, he says. The "new" Lane will be officially introduced with a celebration on Tuesday, May 17, from noon-1:30 p.m. on Bristow Square. All staff are invited. Plans so far include refreshments, the president's speech, and a performance by the Restructuring Choir. Be there and find out more.

K-12 school to be built near main campus

Oak Hill School, a new private K-12 school, will be built by Ed King, president of King Estates Winery in Lorane, at 86397 East Way Drive on a 70-acre hillside site near Lane, according to the May 4 Register-Guard.

Student election results

Students approved a $5 increase in student fees to fund athletic programs in the May 2, 3 and 4 election. They defeated a $.50 fee for The Torch. An initiative to allocate 5 percent of the first $5 of the student activity fee to the Native American Student Association passed, but a similar 5 percent allocation for Denali failed. Jason Rackley and Sarah Holmberg take office today as student government president and vice president.

Call for art

The Women's Center calls all women artists at Lane, whether employees or students, to submit their artwork for the Second Annual Women's Center Art Show. All artwork (photography, drawings, paintings, sculpture, poetry, textiles, etc.) needs to be ready to hang and must be submitted to the Women's Center by Thursday, May 12. Include a brief biography with your work. The art show will be May 16-26. Please announce in your classes.

Flight Tech offers summer option for pilot instruction

Flight Technology Department Chair Bob Farrand advises that professional pilot instruction will be available summer term beginning June 20. The summer option is designed for students with time-critical airline aspirations who will now be able to accelerate their primary training during the summer and be eligible for advanced commercial/instrument training by fall term. The summer option will offer regular classes in flight theory and cockpit procedure. In addition, students will be scheduled to fly at least four-and-one-half hours per week.

Flight Technology students learn to fly in a fleet of more than a dozen late-model and fully-equipped Cessna and Piper aircraft owned by the college, supplemented by an AST300 flight simulator. All flights are dispatched from the LCC Flight Technology Center at Eugene Airport. The program is accredited by the Federal Aviation Administration, the Oregon State Board of Higher Education, and the Veterans Administration.

Interested students should contact LCC Flight Technology at 689-2021 for an application and additional details.

THANKS

Thanks to Ed Humes and students Gary West, Justin Mitchell, Bruce Rogers and Ken Hickman from the Fabrication 3 class, for their work in constructing a new plywood storage rack. It will serve our students well by helping alleviate our storage problem in the ITD workshop. Nice job. We all appreciate it! - Ann Noble

- Sen. Peter Sorenson presentation, 7:15-8:15 p.m., APR 216.

Managers Forum to meet

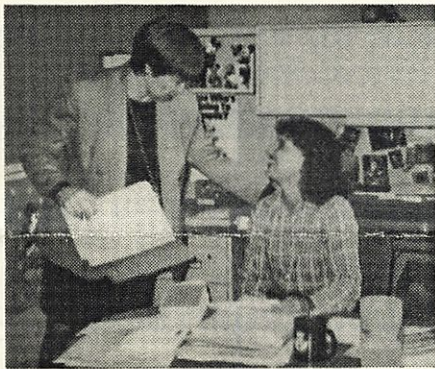

Managers' Forum will meet Friday, May 13, from 8:30-10 a.m. in FOR 309. The meeting will begin promptly because of a full agenda, including presentations from the Transition Team, a group proposing some new managers' incentives, and two departments that have launched major TQM projects this year.

Note: Manager's Forum meetings will be held the third Friday of each month effective July 15.

Network group to meet

The Network Task Force will meet Wednesday, May 11, at 1:30 p.m. in PE 205.

Carol Sirois named outstanding employee

Linda Fossen gives a deserved pat on the back to Carol Sirois.

The quietly hard-working Carol Sirois last week was named Outstanding Classified Employee of the Month for May. She is an admissions specialist, having started out at Lane as a clerk in 1975.

Winning Carol the award was initiative, follow-through, cheerfulness, and problem-solving skills, to name a few of the attributes listed by her colleagues. She's also known for being calm and positive under stress. "I don't know Carol's secret in dealing with stress, but I wish she would publish it so we could all learn!" said one admirer. Her front-line public relations skills are evident in all areas of her work. Coworkers testify: "Student feedback consistently reflects that Carol has students' respect--they know somebody cares" and "good representative for the college... projects an extremely positive image to the community." Carol helped Campus Ministry start its recycling program, and volunteers for Lane's booth at the Lane County Fair.

After hours, Carol is active in her church, and plays softball. She's a community college success story herself, with an associate of arts degree from Fullerton Jr. College (1969) and a bachelor of arts degree from California State University at Long Beach (1974).

Insurance reminder

For faster, more efficient and accurate processing of insurance claims, carry your identification card with you at all times. You will need the group number and ID number (social security number) from that card in the doctor's office and hospital when filling out your insurance papers. If you have lost or misplaced your card, call Carol Goldsberry in Personnel Services at Ext. 2590. She can arrange for a replacement.

High school counselors meeting good place to get info

The High School Relations Advisory Committee will meet at Lane on May 18. If you'd like to meet with the committee or place an item on the agenda, contact Shan Titus at Ext. 2688. This is a good opportunity for feedback, information or advice from district high school counselors about your programs, department or services.

Outstanding business students to be honored

Business Department faculty have named Connie Dugdale and Alan Feldmayer as co-winners of the 1994 Outstanding Office Administration Student of the Year Award, and Susan Trulock winner of the Wall Street Journal Award. Connie is considering seeking a four-year degree in office administration. Alan plans to "work a little" and continue to pursue a bachelor's degree. Susan is a business management major. An informal awards ceremony to honor these outstanding students will be held in President Moskus' office on Wednesday, May 11, at 2:30 p.m. Friends of the winners are welcome to attend.

Lane Community College provides a quality learning experience in a caring environment.

Fair offers technical and trades careers info for women

The "Women in Technical Careers & Trades Fair" will be held on Saturday, May 21, from 8 a.m.-4 p.m., in the cafeteria. Some workshop topics include sexism, entrepreneurship and apprenticeship. Participants may try their hands at aircraft sheet metal, robotic and plastic welding and other skills. Keynote speaker will be Margaret Hallock, director of the Labor Education and Research Center at the University of Oregon. Major sponsors of the fair are U.S. Women's Bureau of Labor, Oregon Tradeswomen Network, Lane ESD Vocational Consortium, Eugene Water & Electric Board, and Lane Community College. The fair is open to the public with free admission and parking. Free child care may be arranged in advance by calling Linda Myers at Ext. 2883 by May 18.

Mr. Sommer goes to Washington

KLCC news director Tripp Sommer attended a media day at the White House on April 28-29. Presenters included President Bill Clinton, First Lady Hilary Clinton, Health and Human Services Secretary Donna Shalala, Secretary of Labor Robert Reich, and Budget Director Leon Panetta. Tripp, president of the national Public Radio News Directors Inc., also attended a ceremony with the president and Native American tribal leaders while in Washington.

Lane's student employee of the year wins state award

Lane student Deb Harvey was named Student Employee of the Year for Oregon by the Western Association of Student Employee Administrators in April. She will receive a $50 savings bond. Harvey was named Student Employee of the Year at Lane in March.

Harvey, who plans to major in psychology, came to Lane in the fall of 1992. Since that time she has worked in the Women's Center and with the Transitions to Success program as a teaching assistant and co-facilitator of a support group. Women's Center coordinator Jill Bradley says, "Deb has a thorough knowledge of student services, and with her excellent people skills, she is a real asset to us."

Becky Patrick, federal work study coordinator, says Lane's selection committee was impressed with Harvey's poise when they interviewed her. "We thought she really expressed the college's mission, to provide a quality learning experience in a caring environment." Harvey says of her work, "I love helping women students adjust to school. It's some of the best stuff I have ever done."

Classified Council agenda

Classified Council meets today from 3-5 p.m. in PE 205. Facilitator will be David Schiappa, Ext. 2405. The main topic of business will be responses to staff suggestions. Next meeting: May 25.

Management personal development fund notice

The Management Personal Development Committee will begin accepting applications on May 16 for the period July 1-Dec. 31, 1994. New applications are available from Personnel Services. Applications for the period June 1993-June 1994 are still available--for these forms, send your name and mailing address to Bob Vogel in the Electronics Department on or before May 18.

Next TTT session will free your mind

TTT: Teachers Talking about Teaching, will be held Tuesday, May 17, at 3 p.m. in CEN 401. Topic: fun, dramatic techniques for freeing the mind, body and images. Simple formats for the classroom will be demonstrated by Sparky Roberts and Kathryn Offen. Goodies from the Renaissance Room, plus a door prize. For information call Sharon Thomas at Ext. 2145.

Art students hold annual show at LCC

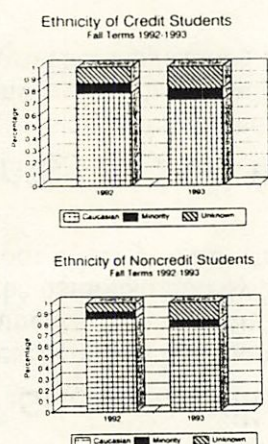

Student art will be exhibited in the Art Department Gallery May 16-June 3. A reception and awards ceremony will be held Wednesday, May 18, at 1 p.m. in the gallery. Gallery hours are 8 a.m.-10 p.m. Mondays-Thursdays and 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Fridays. Admission is free.

Legislative team to meet

The Legislative Action team meets Thursday, May 12, from 7:30-9 a.m., in the Board Room.

Women's art entries due

The Women's Center calls all women artists at Lane, whether employees or students, to submit their artwork for the Second Annual Women's Center Art Show. All artwork (photography, drawings, paintings, sculpture, poetry, textiles, etc.) needs to be ready to hang and must be submitted to the Women's Center by Thursday, May 12. Include a brief biography with your work. The art show will be May 16-26. Please announce in your classes.

Check PERS statement

Now that PERS statements have arrived, verify them for accuracy. Use the tear-off form for corrections on birthdate, social security number or name. If the beneficiary is incorrect, or you have not designated a beneficiary, call Vicki Ellison at Ext. 2589 for a form.

Remember, if you made a change in the distribution between fixed and variable accounts in 1993, it will reflect on the 1994 annual statement that will be sent to you next year. Questions? Call Vicki Ellison at Ext. 2589.

Student Health summer hours

Student Health Services announces the following hours for the first eight weeks of summer term. Limited service will be provided. Appointments will be necessary and can be made in person or by calling Ext. 2665. Hours from June 20-Aug. 11, Monday-Thursday, 9 a.m.-12:30 p.m.

Financial Aid schedules student loan exit interviews

Federal regulations require that students receiving a Federal Stafford Loan or a Federal SLS Loan while attending Lane must attend an exit interview during their last term of attendance. The exit interview outlines financial planning, disclosure statements, repayment procedures, how to correspond with the lender, secondary markets, loan consolidation, options for making payments, and the consequences of default. The schedule of student loan spring term exit interviews follows. Sessions will begin on time and latecomers cannot be admitted. Each session will last approximately 50 minutes.

Week 7 of Spring Term

Edited by Joan Aschim

Today:

- Faculty Council, 3-4:30 p.m., Board Room.
- Performing Arts faculty jazz concert, 8 p.m., Blue Door Theater.

Faculty Council agenda

Faculty Council meets today from 3-4:30 p.m. in the Boardroom. Agenda highlights: grade option report, full-time/part-time issue. Council's last meeting this term will be May 26.

Apprentice wins national contest for the second time

Lane apprentice Jeff T. Burgin of Springfield won first place for fourth-year apprentices in the 22nd Annual Sheet Metal Apprentice Contest held in Minneapolis from April 27-May 1. The 26-year-old won first place for third-year apprentices last year, making him the first local winner in 10 years, said Perry McGill, program director of the Southwestern Oregon Sheet Metal Workers Training Trust.

The contest required a written test, hands-on metal project, drafting project, and working with blueprints and specifications. Burgin won by two-thirds of one point, illustrating the intensity of the competition. Contestants came from around the United States and Canada. Sponsors were the Sheet Metal Workers International Association and the Sheet Metal and Air Conditioning Contractors National Association.

Burgin works full-time for Commercial Metal Products of Springfield. He pursues his five-year apprenticeship program at Lane on Saturdays. He has an associate of applied science degree in welding from Lane. Apprenticeship training at Lane is offered through the Industrial Technology Department. For more information, contact department chair Carl Horstrup at Ext. 2843.

Technical and trades fair telephone number changed

Free child care for the "Women in Technical Careers & Trades Fair" to be held on Saturday, May 21, on main campus may be arranged in advance by calling the Women's Center at Ext. 2353 by May 18. Disregard previous numbers for child care arrangements. The fair will be held from 8 a.m.-4 p.m. in the Center Building cafeteria and offers information, workshops and hands-on opportunities.

Staff can access Internet via Library

The Library's Internet account is available for general staff use. If you would like to try your hand at the features of Internet, such as Telnet, electronic mail, or FTP, see the reference librarian. If you would like to receive electronic mail, you may receive mail at this account, however, because it is a general account, privacy of your mail cannot be ensured.

Reminders to managers

- ✓ If you have not RSVP'd to the president's invitation to attend a conflict resolution workshop on Friday, May 27, from 8:30-10:30 a.m. at the Downtown Athletic Club, please call Ext. 2200 and let us know whether you'll be able to attend. - Tracy Simms
- ✓ Managers' Forum meets Friday, May 13, from 8:30-10 a.m. in FOR 309. The meeting will begin promptly. The agenda includes presentations from the Transition Team, a group proposing some new managers' incentives, and two departments that have launched TQM projects this year. Note: Manager's Forum meetings will be held the third Friday of each month effective July 15.

Downtown Center open house

The Downtown Center will hold an open house on Friday, May 20, from 11 a.m.-5 p.m., and Saturday, May 21, from 9 a.m.-3 p.m. Instructor talents in the arts, gardening and outdoor programs will be showcased. Everyone's welcome!

Grants workshop will clarify year-end close process

A workshop called "Grants and Contracts--The Year-end Close Process," will be held Thursday, May 19, from 1:30-3 p.m. in HEA 102. Primary focus will be on grants and contracts which end June 30, 1994 or carry over into the ensuing fiscal year. Significant year-end issues such as deadlines will be addressed by Bill Kyker from Financial Services' grants and contracts area. See you there.

Lane Community College provides a quality learning experience in a caring environment.

Trainers needed for quality improvement programs

Candidates are sought for participation as "trainers" in a grant-funded program to advance the quality improvement initiative for businesses throughout Oregon. Lane is an active participant in this statewide program. The college and the Lane Regional Workforce Quality Committee have started multiple quality improvement projects locally including the "Consortium for Team Training in Quality Improvement" project. One goal of this project is to increase the number of local, qualified trainers in quality improvement principles and techniques. Lane seeks candidates for the role of trainer in the following areas: customer service, teamwork, strategic planning, process management, ISO 9000, statistical process control, systems improvement, and foundations of quality improvement. The first "train the trainer" program will be held in June. Interested individuals should contact Dave Oatman at Ext. 2924 for more information. The deadline to apply is May 31.

International students now accepted in noncredit ESL

Foreign students may get an international student visa by enrolling in Lane's noncredit English as a Second Language program for a fee. Previously, foreign students could get the visa only by being accepted into credit classes. In 1993-94, 35 international fee-paying students were served through this program. Tuition and fees from this program funded additional ESL classes for all non-native speakers of English. ESL classes are free to any immigrant to the U.S. International students and tourists may take ESL classes but must pay tuition and fees. If you have overseas acquaintances who may be interested in this opportunity, have us send them a brochure and other information. If you have any questions, contact Norm Johnson, Coordinator, International ESL Program, Ext. 2916, from 10 a.m.-noon or 1:30-3 p.m., Monday through Thursday.

Double kudos to Stephen Hamilton

Congratulations to Stephen Hamilton in the Business Department for passing his oral defense for his doctoral degree at the University of Oregon. His dissertation studies the utilization and treatment of part-time faculty in Oregon community colleges. He will graduate in June. Stephen also received one of three graduate service awards for his work on committees to help U of O students and faculty.

Nominates due for League-sponsored technology program

Attached to today's Daily is a description of the Houghton-Mifflin Partners in Technology Program sponsored in conjunction with the League for Innovation in the Community College. The program honors and rewards faculty for innovative work integrating technology into the curriculum. Nomination deadline is June 1. For more information, contact the Office of Community and Economic Development at Ext. 2120.

Special Restructuring Issue

Edited by Joan Aschim

Tuesday's celebration will usher in the "new" Lane

College restructuring will be celebrated on Tuesday, May 17, from noon-1:30 p.m. on Bristow Square. All staff are encouraged to attend. The agenda for this special event:

- 12-12:30 p.m. Networking and food
- 12:30 p.m. Restructuring Choir performance
- 12:40 p.m. Ribbon cutting and address by President Jerry Moskus
- 12:50-1:30 p.m. Socialize, finish food

Restructuring highlights

Last week, President Jerry Moskus distributed a May 11 all-staff memo describing the vision for restructuring. If you didn't get one, call Ext. 2200 for a copy. The memo offers complete information, plus drawings of the new structure. As the college's newspaper of record, The Daily offers a few highlights.

The need for restructuring is to keep Lane strong and responsive to change. Change has occurred in the environment, technology, political climate, leadership, and increasing demand for service. Some examples: Measure 5, education reform, changes in technology, a turnover in leadership, and a shift to shared decision making.

Guidance was provided by the vision statement, mission statement, unifying principles, various planning documents and research, and by staff feedback from across campus.

Some characteristics:

- quality
- dedication to the learner
- teamwork
- broad employee participation in decision making and problem solving
- management by coaching, advising, facilitating
- free exchange of information
- employee training
- use of technology--in the classroom, in the office
- vision, not bureaucracy

The new structure replaces the traditional administrative branches with four groups: Instructional Services, College Operations, Executive Services, and Student Services. Within the four groups are clusters of similar departments. Departments have retained their identities.

Instructional Services combines what was formerly Instruction and Community and Economic Development. Because of its size, it will be led by two vice presidents. This group has 10 clusters, six of which are based on the Certificate of Advanced Mastery strands adopted by the State Board of Education as part of education reform.

College Operations replaces Administrative Services and will be led by a vice president for whom a search process is underway. The group exists to provide quality services to staff and learners.

Executive Services is based on the former President's Office branch. It will lead and facilitate the new structure.

Student Services, the same name as the former branch, exists to provide quality services to learners.

Unifying Principles

- Respect the individual.
- Provide quality learning experiences.
- Commit to excellence.
- Promote a sense of achievement.
- Ensure a participatory environment.
- Communicate openly.
- Manage with goals.
- Connect with our community.
- Develop a sense of community ownership.

Quotes from "Vision for Restructuring"

"The college must change to adapt to a new and highly dynamic environment."

"The vision outlined here requires changes in fundamental values, changes in the way we work and in our work relationships, and training for all employees."

"Success ... will depend on our combined commitment to ... staff training; examining our internal policies and procedures, changing those that hinder service to students; and changing our reward systems to encourage behaviors that support the values of teamwork, quality, and service."

"In place of bureaucratic rules we must establish guiding visions."

"We must examine each of our processes to ensure that they are meeting learners' needs. We must work as efficiently as possible."

"The most important activities at Lane are teaching and learning."

"Above all, we must care-- about quality instruction, about Lane, about learners, about each other."

shared decision-making news

Board report

The Lane Community College Board of Education took preparatory steps towards a possible November bond election at its May 11 meeting. Approved by unanimous 6-0 votes were agreements to retain Seattle-Northwest Securities Corporation as bond investment banker and Ater Wynne Hewitt Dodson & Skerritt as bond legal counsel. Fee payment is contingent upon voters approving the bond issue. The board also approved a resolution allowing the college to reimburse itself for pre-election expenses from bond proceeds, in the event of election success. Chair Peter Sorenson emphasized that these actions did not constitute a decision to go for a bond election. "The discussion is open," he said. Board member Jim Pitney was absent.

Bid awards for parking lot repaving and purchase of annual paper supplies raised concerns.

On the first issue, Chair Sorenson questioned spending money on parking lot repaving while having rejected a student bus pass. "We're getting a major transportation problem and we need to do something. Let's do more than pave a lot." Other board members agreed, but recalled rejecting only the price and terms of the last bus pass offer, and still seek an affordable pass. In the meantime, parking lots need to be maintained. The board awarded a repaving contract for $317,000 to Wildish Construction Company with a 6-0 vote.

On the paper supplies bid, board member Roger Hall said the college should purchase only recycled paper. The recommended contract included a large quantity of virgin paper. The board postponed the contract award and directed staff to collect more information on recycled paper and its cost compared to the total college budget.

In other business:

- Florence property donated to the LCC Foundation was transferred to general college ownership for educational use, such as a science field lab.
 - Jason Rackley was welcomed as the new president of ASLCC. Outgoing president Steve Cheeseman was commended for his service.
 - LCCEA president Donald Micken introduced president-elect Dennis Gilbert.
 - The final restructuring document was distributed, along with an announcement that the search for a vice president of college operations was drawing to a close.
 - A report on education reform was given by Vice President for Instruction Jim Ellison.
- The next regular board meeting will be June 8.

Grants workshop will clarify year-end close process

A workshop, "Grants and Contracts--The Year-end Close Process," will be held Thursday, May 19, from 1:30-3 p.m. in HEA 102. Primary focus will be on grants and contracts which end June 30, 1994 or carry over into the ensuing fiscal year. Significant year-end issues such as deadlines will be addressed by Bill Kyker from Financial Services' grants and contracts area. See you there.

Bag ladies invite staff to meeting

Staff are invited to a Bag Ladies of the World (BLOW) meeting on Wednesday, May 25, from 12-1 p.m. in the Boardroom, sponsored by the Lane chapter of the American Association of Women in Community Colleges and the Lane Women's Program. The BLOWs represent women from all backgrounds who have formed a support group that will endure into old age. They have received national attention in New Age magazine and various newspapers. This is an idea whose time has come. The meeting will be followed by a brief AAWCC annual meeting. All staff are welcome. For more information, call Lynne Swift at Ext. 2503 or Charleen Maclean at Ext. 2840.

Downtown Center open house

The Downtown Center along with other downtown businesses will be participating in "Rediscover Downtown Days." This activity is cosponsored by Lane and Downtown Eugene Inc. The event will be on Friday, May 20, from 11 a.m.-5 p.m., and Saturday, May 21, from 9 a.m.-3 p.m. Information and displays will be available on art, gardening, outdoor programs, business, English as a second language, adult basic education and more. Refreshments will be provided.

Lane Transit District has donated free ride coupons for people who want to attend the "Women in Technical Careers & Trades Fair" on Saturday, May 21, from 8 a.m.-4 p.m. in the cafeteria. The coupons are available in the Women's Center. The fair offers information, workshops, and hands-on opportunities for women interested in technical and trades careers.

Printing deadline almost here

Packets and books needed for summer term should be submitted to Printing/Graphics by May 25. Materials needed for the first day of summer term should be submitted by June 13. Thanks !

Movers and shakers wanted

Thanks to those who have returned the "Movers and Shakers" form to Julie Baker. If you have yet to return yours, please do so. The Organizational Development Team is looking to build a cadre of 30-50 people to train and then become trainers to help in the restructuring. Make your voice heard. Submit the names of people you've worked with strengths in these areas: getting things done, working with others, meeting facilitation, and conflict resolution. Need a form? Call Ext. 2199.

Grant development fund established

The Resource Development Group has established a fund to encourage new grant initiatives. About $12,000 will be available this year to remove barriers to developing a grant proposal. Funds can be used to provide reassignment time for staff to work on grants; hire part-time help to work on grants; hire outside grant writers, readers, editors, or word-processors; and attend workshops about specific grants. Requests for funds may be made at any time. Information packets and request forms are available from department chairs or from Sarah LaMaster, grants coordinator, Ext. 2312.

Council learns more about network, bond

Requests for proposals for a collegewide computer network have been issued, Linda Loft reported to College Council at its May 17 meeting. A planning committee hopes for a December installation start date. All campuses are in line to be on-line. Surveys show people want all offices and classrooms wired. Loft predicted that the network would foster major use of E-Mail, sharing of software, and use of services like Internet. She said that school district 4J Internet usage went from 30,000 packets a day to 1 billion packets a day in nine months. A packet is a unit of information. Finally, Loft said, all-staff training on the network will be imperative.

Council discussed a possible bond election in November to finance facilities and equipment needs. President Jerry Moskus said the idea originated from the board and has been accelerated by two things. The accreditation self-study report points out many needs, and a statewide initiative headed for the November ballot called "Son of 5" would require voter approval of any fee increase by any state institution and also would prevent schools and colleges from asking for a bond for two years. Although the board has not yet actually voted to go out for a bond election, it has directed staff to get ready for that possibility. That means identifying facilities projects and equipment needs in a very short time, said Moskus. The board needs data and a dollar recommendation in order to take an informed vote. Board action is expected in August to meet a Sept. 5 deadline to get on the November ballot. Architects would need to be involved by mid-June. Facilities needs with an eye to the future must be documented by then. Although the accreditation self-study, construction priorities list from the Facilities Management Committee and other information already exists, staff should be asked for additional input, council members agreed. Kate Barry suggested taking input as well as giving information at an all-staff meeting on Monday, May 23, from 3-4 p.m., in Performing Arts main hall, called by Executive Cabinet. Council will review a list of project selection criteria from Executive Cabinet at a special meeting on Tuesday, May 31, from 3-5 p.m., in PE 205.

Special College Council meeting scheduled

College Council will meet Tuesday, May 31, from 3-5 p.m., in PE 205, to review project selection criteria for the possibility of a bond election.

Some space left for conflict resolution workshop

A presentation on conflict resolution and agreement facilitation with national expert James C. Melamed, J.D., will be held Friday, May 27, from 8:30-10:30 a.m., at the Downtown Athletic Club. A continental breakfast is included. A limited number of seats are available. If you would like to attend, contact the President's Office at Ext. 2200 by Friday, May 20. Parking is limited and carpooling is encouraged.

Richard Quigley drawing selected for prestigious exhibition

Continuing Education art instructor Richard Quigley's drawing of a cenote at Chichen Itza, Mexico, has been accepted into a juried international colored pencil exhibition. Only 100 artists were selected from 700 contestants from the United States, Canada and France. The exhibit will be at the Lake Oswego Festival of Arts, Lakewood Center, Lake Oswego, from June 23-July 16.

Volunteers need for German delegation

A delegation of educators and political leaders from the Lower Saxony region of Germany is coming to Lane on June 1. The visit is part of a sister country exchange and a 14-day Oregon seminar that will explore our professional-technical education system and its cooperative relationship with business and industry, as well as other issues. A planning group is currently working on preparations for the visit. Watch The Daily for additional information. At present, three volunteers (one driver and two passengers) are needed to transport the group to Grants Pass on the afternoon of June 1. Lane vans have been reserved. Please contact John Lloyd in Training & Development at Ext. 2892 if you can volunteer.

Document management system to be demonstrated

shared decision-making news

Classified Council

At Classified Council's May 11 meeting Cindy Veldhuis from the Women's Center shared some highlights of the Glaser training sessions she is attending as next year's council representative to College Council. Veldhuis feels the training is very effective and suggested that Classified Council consider a similar training next year.

The next scheduled Classified Council meeting is Wednesday, May 25.

Faculty Council

Betty Vail, Counseling, reported on the grading option issue at Faculty Council's May 12 meeting. Linda DeWitt from Financial Aid spoke to council regarding the expense and time involved to implement a change of the Y grade to No Credit. After discussing the grading policy, council decided to recommend that the grading policy remain the same and request that clearer grading policies be outlined for the future.

With regard to the full-time/part-time faculty ratio issue, council decided to gather more information about funding alternatives for equal pay and discuss these options at the next Faculty Council meeting.

Schafer innovation awards nominations due

Nominations for the Eldon G. Schafer Innovation Awards are due today. For more information, contact the Foundation at Ext. 2810.

Required student loan exit interview schedule

Federal regulations require that students receiving a Federal Stafford Loan or a Federal SLS Loan while attending Lane must attend an exit interview during their last term of attendance. The exit interview outlines financial planning, disclosure statements, repayment procedures, how to correspond with the lender, secondary markets, loan consolidation, options for making payments, and the consequences of default.

The exit interviews will be held Tuesday, May 24, 10 a.m. in FOR 309; 2 p.m. in FOR 310; 6 p.m. in FOR 307 and Wednesday, May 25, 9 a.m. in HEA 269; 1 p.m. in HEA 105; 4 p.m. in HEA 105. The sessions will begin on time and latecomers cannot be admitted. Each session will last approximately 50 minutes.

Trainers needed for quality improvement programs

Candidates are sought for participation as "trainers" in a grant-funded program to advance the quality improvement initiative for businesses throughout Oregon. Lane is an active participant in this statewide program. The college and the Lane Regional Workforce Quality Committee have started multiple quality improvement projects locally including the "Consortium for Team Training in Quality Improvement" project. One goal of this project is to increase the number of local, qualified trainers in quality improvement principles and techniques. Lane seeks candidates for the role of trainer in the following areas: customer service, teamwork, strategic planning, process management, ISO 9000, statistical process control, systems improvement, and foundations of quality improvement. The first "train the trainer" program will be held in June. Interested individuals should contact Dave Oatman at Ext. 2924 for more information. The deadline to apply is May 31.

Science Department leads campus-wide contest

Leading in the men's division of the Spring Fitness Quest is the two-person team known as "Science Prose". They have taken an early lead in the spring 5K (3.1 mile) rowing event and the 5000 ft. stair climbing event. The team of Steve John and Mike Mitchell both completed their respective events without the need of additional oxygen or Student Health's wheel chair service.

Volunteers needed for German delegation

A delegation of educators and political leaders from the Lower Saxony region of Germany is coming to Lane on June 1. The visit is part of a sister country exchange and a 14-day Oregon seminar that will explore our professional technical education system and its cooperative relationship with business and industry, as well as other issues. Week 9 of Spring Term

Edited by Joan Aschim

Today:

- Classified Council, 3 p.m., PE 205.
- Budget Committee, 6:30 p.m., Boardroom.
- NSD document management system demonstration, 10:45 a.m., FOR 308.
- Women's art show reception, 3-4 p.m., Women's Center.
- Bag Ladies of the World and AAWCC, 12-1 p.m., Boardroom.
- Teleconference: "Demystifying Multimedia," 1:30-3 p.m., CEN 10. Call Ext. 2260 for details.

Building speaks for itself

As if in agreement with the idea of a bond election to finance facilities needs, the Center Building dropped a sheet of siding Monday, minutes after an all-staff meeting on the issue. President Jerry Moskus, board member Larry Mann, and others witnessed the panel fall from the west side upper level. "It was pretty shocking," said the president. "I'm grateful no one was hurt." Campus Services cordoned off the area and will be inspecting all the building panels.

Moskus had just told about 100 employees that available funding will not meet facilities needs identified in existing studies, the accreditation self-study, and other sources. Under Measure 5, the college can't ask for another tax base, but can ask for a bond to meet those needs. Bond funds may be spent on construction, equipment, furniture, or land.

Also driving the question are board member Larry Mann's plan to improve outreach by building or equipping facilities throughout the district in cooperation with other public agencies, loss of funding under statewide equalization, and the so-called Son of 5 initiative which would require voter approval on all state fee increases and prevent schools from asking for a bond for at least two years.

A board decision is expected in August to make the deadline for the Nov. 8 election. Projects must be identified now. A May 20 memo to department managers lists possible projects. Moskus asked staff to work through departments and clusters to make sure nothing important has been left off the list. Additions should be forwarded to Campus Services Director Paul Colvin by June 3. Executive Cabinet is discussing project selection criteria and will ask College Council to do the same.

The president asked employees for their support. "There are three things you can do," he said. "Think of needs not already on the list, think of strategies for identifying the most important ones, and become informed." He cautioned that Oregon law prohibits public employees from advocating for or against an issue while at work, but allows the dissemination of neutral information.

Larry Mann, Jerry Moskus and Paul Colvin survey fallen panel.

Cindy Weeldreyer elected vice president of OCCA board

Cindy Weeldreyer of Cottage Grove, vice president of the Lane Community College Board of Education, has been elected vice president of the Oregon Community College Association Board of Directors. She will serve a one-year term from July 1, 1994-June 30, 1995.

In other news, Weeldreyer will run against Austin Colcord for the East Lane seat on the Lane County Board of Commissioners in the Nov. 8 election.

Weeldreyer has served on the Lane board since 1989 and on the college Budget Committee since 1988. She is executive director of the Greater Cottage Grove Community Center and is a contributing writer for the Cottage Grove Sentinel. She was assistant to former county commissioner Marie Frazier. She served as community college advisor to the Oregon State Board of Education in 1985-86.

Weeldreyer has an associate degree from Lane and a bachelor's degree from Oregon State University.

Annual flight tech open house to be held

The Flight Technology Department will hold an open house on Friday, June 3, from 11 a.m.-3 p.m. Awards will be presented from 1:30-2:30 p.m. Tours of the facility and aircraft line and a video of vocational aviation training will be featured, plus refreshments. For more information, call 689-2021.

Clarification: Faculty Council position on grading policy

Faculty Council will recommend to the vice president for instruction that the "Y" grade be redefined as "no credit given" in place of the current definition of "no basis for grade." The Daily's report on the May 12 council meeting was unclear--editor's apologies.

College Council to review criteria for bond projects list

College Council will hold a special meeting on Tuesday, May 31, from 3-5 p.m. in PE 205 to discuss criteria for the selection of projects for a possible bond issue.

Peer coordinators for international student program needed

The International Student Community Program is searching for two good students to work during the 1994-95 academic year as peer coordinators. Peer coordinators should be good English-speaking communicators, willing to help others, outgoing, and eager to work on special projects throughout the year. Duties include greeting, meeting and assisting other international students during the school year. The peer coordinators staff the office with other international students and the program coordinator. This is strictly for international students. Applications are due May 31. For more information and applications, contact Mason Davis at Ext. 2239, or Pat Williams at Ext. 2165.

Schafer awards nomination deadline extended

Nominations for the Eldon G. Schafer Innovation Awards have been extended to June 10. The awards committee will select recipients on July 12. For details, contact the Foundation at Ext. 2810.

Retirement reception for Mary Lou Ficker

Financial Services cashier Mary Lou Ficker will retire May 31 after more than 10 years of service to Lane. Staff are invited to stop by the department that day from 1-3 p.m. to wish her a happy retirement.

The Germans are coming!

A delegation of vocational educators and political leaders from the Lower Saxony region of Germany will be visiting Lane. Volunteers are needed to drive and escort them to Grants Pass on June 1. To volunteer, contact John Lloyd at Ext. 2892.

Year end purchase order process

Please review your purchasing requirements for 1994-95 now. If you have purchase requisitions which need to be processed early in July (blanket POs, service agreements, leases, rentals, etc.), begin formulating them now and pass them through the signature process. Be sure to clearly mark each such PO with a note showing FY 94/95, preferably in red, at the top.

As we close out this fiscal year, Purchasing Services will, as always, do its best to accommodate your needs; however, please be aware of these changes and constraints:

- 1) We will be unable to issue purchase orders between June 20-30, except in emergencies; please have all remaining POs for FY 93/94 in our hands by the close of business on Monday, June 20;
- 2) All current open POs (also known as blanket POs) will be automatically closed at the close of business on June 30; new open POs for FY 94/95 will have to be issued to replace those which are closed;
- 3) There will be no deferred PO system this year; purchase orders for FY 94/95 which absolutely must be issued before July 1 will be issued (reluctantly) with a separate set of PO numbers. All other matters on these POs, including account codes, will be normal.

We apologize for any inconvenience these restrictions may cause. Thanks for your understanding.
- Lloyd Rain, Ext. 2208

New phone books are here

New US West phone books have arrived at Purchasing. Please bring your old phone books to the warehouse, deposit in the large recycling bin at the front door, and pick up your new phone books. Questions? Call Steve Evans at Ext. 2453.

Tax sheltered annuities available

Tax sheltered annuities are available through Personnel Services. Contributions are tax exempt until you withdraw the funds. For more information and a current list of agents, call Arlene Kinley at Ext. 2811.

Reception scheduled for student artist

A reception for Lane student Regina Loch-Elvert will be held on Tuesday, May 31, at 2 p.m. in the president's office foyer. Loch-Elvert won third place award in the League for Innovation 1994 Student Art Completion for her watercolor titled "Robe in Red."

Faculty funds available

1993-94 funds for faculty professional activities have been allocated. The committee will consider proposals for 1994-95 funds (activities taking place July 1 or after). Next application deadline is June 6. The committee does not meet during the summer break. For applications and guidelines, contact Roxanne Flowerday or Pat John, Study Skills, Ext. 2439.

Volunteers needed for county fair booth

Volunteers are needed to put in a few hours at Lane's booth at the Lane County Fair Aug. 16-21. After your stint, enjoy the rest of the day for free. To volunteer, call Jeannee Beauchaine at Ext. 2330.

Videoconference tapes available

Missed a videoconference? No problem. The following videoconferences were recorded and are available for check out from the library on a two-day loan. The date listed to the left is the actual date of the videoconference. Call for a complete list.

THANKS

- "To all the people who helped facilitate my professional development mini-grant Internet training workshops, I would like to say Thank You! To Virginia Brady and Darrell Allyn of Campus Services for arranging the connection of live phone lines in the classroom, to Jerry Nehring of Computer Services for rounding up modems and cables at the last minute, to May Fogg of the Library for loaning a modem and arranging the availability of extensive reference materials, to Lorina Johnson of Computer Information Technology for taking dozens of phone messages and arranging refreshments, to Dick Ricketts Computer Information Technology for assisting with equipment and logistics, to all faculty and staff who participated and taught each other, and finally to the professional development team for sponsoring the training in the first place. In addition, thanks to Debra Sorenson of the 4J school district for her patient efforts to facilitate our access to modem connections which enabled us to get into the Internet itself." - Bob Barber, Computer Information Technology
- Continuing Education student Marie Holm writes: "I wish to express my appreciation for the valuable information I received from the grantwriting workshops held in April [through Continuing Education]. Barbara Koser, the instructor, did an excellent job teaching the technique of writing proposals. She took us through each step necessary in obtaining a grant. I gained a lot of confidence in myself for approaching the task of helping various organizations seek grants. I feel that Barbara's guidance was very helpful."

Staff can contribute to bond projects list

Campus Services Director Paul Colvin is leading an effort to identify projects for a possible bond election. A bond election to finance facilities needs is under consideration by the Board of Education for the Nov. 8 ballot. Bond funds may be spent on construction, equipment, furniture, or land. Employees concerned that a particular project be considered should ask department managers for a May 20 memo listing projects already identified by existing studies, the accreditation self-study, and other sources. If you think something's been left out, work through your department or cluster to notify Colvin by June 3.

Students to deliver commencement addresses

Student Nancy Chapman of Junction City will deliver the commencement address at the Lane Community College 29th graduation ceremony on Friday, June 3. Student Glen Wood of Eugene will speak at the Lane Adult High School graduation on Thursday, June 2. Both events will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the Hult Center in Eugene.

Chapman, 41, graduated from Junction City High School in 1972 and enrolled at Lane in 1991. She will graduate with an associate of arts degree and transfer to Oregon State University. "My first year was one of adjustment and exploration," she says. "After all, it had been 21 years since I'd been in school. My last two years have been spent fulfilling undergraduate requirements for a direct transfer to OSU in speech communications this fall." Chapman participated on Lane's award-winning forensics team.

Wood, 31, left South Eugene High School 10 years ago without graduating. This spring he completes a diploma from Lane's Adult High School program. His classmates voted him Student of the Month in April. He will continue at Lane as a first-year college student this fall. Wood served on student government this year as an appointed representative for AHS students. He won election as a senator for 1994-95.

Graduation committee chair Barb Delansky says the college wanted to honor students by selecting student speakers for commencement. Also speaking will be Sen. Peter Sorenson, chair of Lane board of education, Steve Cheeseman, outgoing student body president, and Jean Geiger, business instructor and faculty representative. Vice President Jim Ellison will present the Outstanding Instructor of the Year Award, and President Jerry Moskus will present the Oregon Scholar Award. Moskus then will confer degrees, diplomas and certificates. Name readers will be English instructor Margaret Bayless and nutrition instructor Beth Naylor. Interpreters for the hearing impaired will be Cathie Reschke and Andrea Dahl.

The graduation program begins at 7 p.m. with music by The Arnus Quartet rhythm and blues band, followed by the processional at 7:30 p.m. Sen. Peter Sorenson will deliver a welcome, followed by Steve Cheeseman.

How do I get from here to there

Have you been stopped by harried students or visitors looking for a particular classroom or office? Are you tired of giving the same directions over and over again?

Campus Services and Institutional Advancement are conducting a study of signage of Lane's main campus in an effort to make the campus more "user friendly." Students, staff and visitors are being surveyed to identify the specific problems that exist and to solicit suggestions to address the problems. If you are aware of problem areas, please contact Therese Picado at 465-1399 by Friday, June 3, with input and suggestions.

Faculty Council sets meeting dates for 1994-95
