30TH ANNIVERSARY Celebrating lifelong learning LANE COMMUNITY COLLEGE

October 19 is the 30th anniversary of the day the college was voted into existence. We're celebrating with a party from 2-3:30 p.m. on that day (Wednesday) in the cafeteria. Come prepared for nostalgia—old photos, vintage music, refreshments, and a special dance-through-the-ages demonstration coordinated by the college's dance program and student leaders. Wear your 1960s garb. (P.S. If you didn't receive a commemorative bookmark/“invitation” at the all-staff meeting, call Institutional Advancement at Ext. 2268. The durable plastic bookmark also serves as ruler and straightedge.)

Speaker

Allison Brossia from the University of Oregon Multicultural Center will speak in Jerome Garger's Peace and Conflict Studies class on Thursday, Oct. 6, from 11:45 a.m.-12:50 p.m. in CEN 401. Her topic: “The True Meaning of 1492.” Guests welcome.

Sojourner Truth coming

Sojourner Truth Theater will perform skits and music about African-American culture and history in the Cultural Diversity class on Wednesday, Oct. 5, 2-3:30 p.m. or 5:30-7 p.m., APR 223. Everyone's welcome. For more information, call Vicki Levine at Ext. 2074.

Kudos

The following staff received Pat-On-The-Back certificates from the Eldon G. Schafer Endowment for Innovation at the all-staff meeting on Sept. 19.

- The team of Dennis Clark, Kathy Rile, Joy Wells, Marie Coonradt, Linda Mooney, and Bob McCorkle for improving Adult High School orientations and course scheduling.
- The team of Barbara Delansky, Rich Freund, Susan Sutton, and Ginger Yamamoto for developing a student handbook.
- Bob Creed for establishing the Fitness Education Center.

Deadline nears for Reno

Payday has come; now's the time to sign up for the fun-filled trip to Reno on Veteran's Day weekend. The deadline for reservations is Oct. 17. To date, 29 people have expressed interest. We need at least 40 to make the trip. See one of the green flyers distributed during inservice for more information. To confirm your reservation, call Alan Bahret at Ext. 2247. Sponsored by the classified union and professional development committee.

Popcorn fund available

Reminder to faculty: The college provides a "popcorn fund" for faculty to purchase food for a special activities for their classes. The purpose of the fund is to encourage activities which build a sense of social bonding and community and improve student retention. In the past, faculty have used the fund to provide treats during a special class, host students in their homes to watch a special relevant film, host students in a local pizza parlor for a study session, go on a special outing, go out for ice cream, or go out for breakfast before midterms. Call Pat John at Ext. 2439 for preapproval.

Workgroup computing teleconference

A teleconference, "Workgroup Computing: Technology Update," will be held on Thursday, Oct. 6, from 10 a.m.-noon in FOR 308. Panelists will provide up-to-the-minute information on efforts to create standards for the integration of groupware technologies. This program is the first of three in the 1994-95 Information Technology Series from Public Broadcasting Services. Open to staff and students. - Cynde Leathers, Ext. 2260

The President's Poem

President Jerry Moskus recited an original epic poem at the Sept. 19 all-staff meeting in honor of the college's 30th anniversary, complete with slides and a video. Guest Dale Parnell, Lane's founding president, called it "one of the best opening day presentations" he had ever seen. Here's the poem:

*Heroic verse I shall today recite
In praise of you who raise up Learning's light,
Whose arms are tired from holding up the torch,
Who'd rather be at home upon your porch,
Than listen to another first day speech
Made by a president. And you who teach,
Will see my humble verse for what it is,
No better than a bucket of warm fizz.*

*I sing today of Lane, I sing her praise,
I sing about the early, early days
When giants roamed our halls and taught our classes,
When none of us were gray and none wore glasses.
I sing of Dale Parnell and Marvin Stegner,
Bert Dotson, Debbie Daggett, and Art Tegger.
I use the strange conceit of river rafting
To show my cleverness and skill in crafting
A first day speech the like of which has never Been heard before in any such endeavor.*

*Oh come, Sweet Muse, and guide my teeming brain
And help me tell the wondrous tale of Lane.*

*We launched our rafts in nineteen sixty five
Upon a river smooth and blue and rive
With buoyant hopes and care'fly thought out schemes
To help Lane County folk achieve their dreams.
They held us up, these always noble visions,
And guided all our day-to-day decisions.
Our early rafts were sturdy, simple things,
No seats or phones, no roofs, no mylar wings.
Each raft was guided by a brave and bold
Heroic figure. To the course we'd hold,
That Parnell set, who, out in front each day
Made rafting down the canyon seem like play.*

*Oh, Muse, can you bring forth those early years
When most of us were wet behind the ears?*

*And then the middle years, the middle course.
The water riled a bit, we shouted, hoarse,
At Vietnam and drugs and Watergate.
Oh blind to truth! We learned to separate.
Like flotsam on the sea of discontent,
Like wayward youth their sep'rate ways they went,
But down the river swift we floated proud
(Though none of us would dare to think out loud).
And people lined the banks to praise our powers
As in our wakes they sprinkled gifts of flowers.*

*Our fame spread wide like thistles in the breeze,
As innovations piled around our knees.
And at this time we built upon our vessels,
All sorts of things, like towers, bells, and whistles,
Until they grew so high into the air
That workers feared to climb them for repair.*

*The eighties riled the waters even more,
Our rafts moved even faster than before.
Enrollment fell. Our spirits flagged a bit,
But still we fought the fight and would not quit.*

*The trees thinned out as down the stream we flew,
Sometimes in water deep, sometimes in dew.
At times we lost our hope, at times our hair,
But always for the people we were there.*

*The nineties found us clinging to a rock
While Oregon voters blithely sold our stock.
The local voters, on the other hand,
Played quite a different tune. Strike up the band
For our Lane County friends who at the polls*

*Supported all our noble plans and goals!
We gathered all our rafts in one big jam,
Ignoring rumors of a downstream dam,
And started once again upon our trip,
But this time with a slightly different script.*

*Oh, Muse, will you help paint the wondrous scene
That waits around the bend? Let down the screen!*
[video presentation]

*Where once our leaders, only, looked for rocks
As down the stream we flew (none watched their clocks),*

*We'll all see rocks, and when we see them shout
For all to hear, "A rock ahead! Look out!"*

*We'll help each other row, each other grapple,
And after work we'll stop and have a Snapple,
And say, "I hope your ride today was calm
And never rocked your raft or caused you qualm."*

*We'll care about each other's working day
So much that work will come to seem like play.
The space between our rafts will grow so small
That none of us can falter, none can fall.
Alumni'll line the banks and cheer and clap
At how, together, we avoid mishap.*

*And everyone will see that we pass muster
As down the stream we go in our team and cluster.*

*Our precious cargo, students, we'll hold fast
Until their destination's come and passed:
And we will send them out into the world
Secure that every one's a flag unfurled
To fly above the crowd and tell our story,
Examples for Lane's everlasting glory.*

*From time to time we'll stop awhile and rest.
But always we'll arise, resume the quest
For quality learning and perfect work
And a light to lead us through the murk
Of Measure 5. And when our journey's ended
And all of us get PERS, having ascended
On clouds of light to atop the salary schedule,
We'll miss the cafeteria that always fed you well,
The groundskeepers who made our days so bright,
The electricians who daily chased away the night,
The housekeepers who nightly spiffed up our day,
The secretaries who helped us find our way,
The people who carefully painted our sills,
The managers who always approved our bills,
The accounting folks who kept track of our money,
The badminton player who called me "sonny,"
The librarians who were happy to look
For that unique, important, and nameless book,
The counselors who helped our students find direction,
The security staff that prepared for insurrection,
The teachers who gave their all to learners
And quickly turned them into lifetime earners.
And those of you whose job this verse omits
Should know that without you this college sits
And does not move. Your hard-learned craft
Propels and steers and saves our priceless raft.*

*This raft, this wondrous thing, that Parnell launched
To make sure learning's flame is never stanch'd,
This place called Lane will outlive food and drink;
This raft called Lane, in fact, will never sink.*

*A part of us is woven in her hides,
It is our breath that fills her bulging sides;
Our words will echo after we are gone
And what we've given students will live on.*

Confidential diploma program geared to mature adults

Mature adults seeking a high school diploma may find the solution in a new program at Lane. Called the External Diploma Program, participants go through a confidential interview process to assess academic skills based on life and work experience. A high school diploma from LCC Adult High School is awarded upon completion. Average completion time is six months. Participants can begin at any time. EDP was developed by the American Council on Education. For more information, call Adult Basic and Secondary Education at Ext. 2253.

Enrollment update

Monday's reports show credit headcount enrollment down 2 percent and noncredit up 4 percent over a year ago at the same time. Registering for credit classes were 9,453 students, compared to 1993's 9,652, and registering for Continuing Education classes were 5,371 people, compared to 5,162 last year. Some of these students registered for both credit and noncredit courses. Unduplicated headcounts will be available later in the term.

Food and drink in classes governed by policy

Reminder: The Administrative Services Operations Manual, Section F-14: Food & Drink in Classes, states: "The consumption of food and drink in classrooms and class laboratories creates an undue workload on custodial staff and frequently results in damage to the facilities, especially carpeted areas. For these reasons, food and drinks are not allowed in any instructional spaces except those classes that involve their use for instructional purposes or for other college functions that include the serving or consumption of food as a part of that activity." - Paul Colvin

Humor wanted

In celebration of LCC's 30th anniversary, The Torch is looking for amusing stories about things that have happened at the college over the past 30 years. We want to print a very short feature every week focusing on campus humor. It will be similar to the one in Reader's Digest. Interested faculty and staff can send their humorous stories to The Torch through inter-campus mail. We would also be interested in current stories. For more information contact Arts & Entertainment Editor Mary Klacsan at Ext. 2014.

No tsunami at Florence

More worry than wave showed up in Florence on Tuesday following an early morning earthquake near Japan that resulted in a tsunami warning for Oregon and other Pacific states. The warning was canceled that afternoon. Nonetheless, Siuslaw school district closed early. LCC at Florence kept in touch with authorities and stayed open all day, but attendance was down, said Director Bill Porter.

Faculty internship opportunity

Do you want the opportunity to explore the impact of your teaching activities, to share strategies and successes with other faculty, and to see how your students apply their learning to real life? The Classroom and Student Outcomes Assessment Project is a chance for faculty to work together as a committee and learn more about student outcomes assessment and classroom research. This committee will look for opportunities to share this information through professional development activities and by providing seed money for classroom and outcomes research. We need one or two faculty members to coordinate the activity. If you're interested please send a memorandum to Julie Aspinwall-Lamberts in Research and Planning by October 31 which addresses: reasons for your interest in the project; your qualifications for this project; and your supervisor's support for your internship. - Julie Aspinwall-Lamberts

Visual presentations topic of first TTT meeting

Teachers Talking about Teaching will meet on Tuesday, Oct. 18, from 3-4:30 p.m. in CEN 420. Peter Boldon of 3M national consumer relations will present "The Art of Effective Visual Presentations." This is a seminar, not a sales promotional. All those interested in sampling the latest technology for creating visual aids are urged to attend. Of course, we hope you will join us for good food and great company. - Pat McLaughlin, Ext. 2419

Caterpillar/Pape' gifts total $150,000 to diesel tech

Randy Pape', Bill Rambo, Jerry Moskus, Ted Kotsakis

Pape' Bros. Inc. of Eugene and Caterpillar Inc. of Peoria, Ill., have donated $50,000 in cash and in-kind donations to the diesel technology program at Lane Community College for the third year in a row, bringing the total value of donations to $150,000. Caterpillar District Manager Bill Rambo presented a $25,000 check from the Caterpillar Excellence Fund to LCC President Jerry Moskus on Sept. 27 for student scholarships, faculty development, curriculum development and equipment purchases. Pape' Bros. Inc. pledged a matching $25,000 in cash or materials. Pape' has donated engines, electronic test equipment, and engine component pieces over the last two years. - photo by John Baugess

Change of status of dependent children

Dependent children should be deleted from medical, vision and dental insurance coverage when they no longer qualify as dependents. A dependent child is defined as one who is unmarried, under age 25 or 23 (for Oregon Dental Service), residing with you, and reported as a dependent on your income tax statement. When you delete children from insurance coverage because they are no longer dependent, the college will offer them the option to self-pay for coverage for a period up to 36 months. If you have questions about the dependent insurance coverage and/or continuation, please call Carol Goldsberry in Personnel Services at Ext. 2590.

THANKS

Just a note of thanks and appreciation to all the wonderful people across campus who participated in and shared with me one of the most meaningful days of my working life. The Outstanding Classified Employee of the Year Award is indicative of the character of all of you—staff, students and community members. Thank you for all your support. - Carol Sirois shared decision-making news

College Council report

- Wiring for the collegewide network is underway and will take a year and a half to complete, Linda Loft told College Council on Oct. 4. One connection in every office and classroom is planned. Current mainframe users are already wired. The network task force is shopping for an E-Mail package and hopes to have one in place for testing in November.
- Voice mail is on the Oct. 12 Board of Education agenda for approval. Paul Colvin said installation and orientations should begin in November. Voice mail will be available to all users of the main phone system but departments will have the option not to use it.
- A proposal to change pay for noncredit instructors from $12-$14 an hour to $15 an hour is on the Oct. 12 board agenda.
- Noncredit transcripts are now available, said Larry Warford. He said transcripts show value in the product and have long been requested by students and employers.
- A $1.9 million five-year settlement tagged for student housing should be offered as rent stipends, in the opinion of the Facilities Management Committee, said Linda Fossen. She asked the committee for its recommendation after a community-based task force failed to reach consensus. The settlement resulted from the failure of developers to honor a student housing agreement with Lane and other colleges in the 1970s.
- Evening and weekend college contact person is John Winkvist, Jim Ellison reported. Council's next meeting is set for Nov. 1.

Teleconference: disability law and distance learning

A free, interactive teleconference, "Federal Disability Law and It's Impact on Distance Learning," will be offered Wednesday, Oct. 12, from 10 a.m.-noon, in CEN 10. We're ready!

Lane's accreditation team arrives Wednesday for a three-day evaluation. After two years of work and serious self-study, we're ready. At risk of forgetting some important people, I would like to express my appreciation to these folks for their special efforts:

- Jerry Moskus for his continuing support and confidence;
- Accreditation Steering Committee for liaison efforts with departments;
- Diane Dann and the Editorial Committee for a readable, complete self-study;
- Trish Hamar for her incredible formatting of individual self-study reports into one document;
- Susan Sutton and Printing/Graphics for a handsome, professional-looking document;
- Campus Services for grounds clean-up and tireless efforts to improve our inside and outside environments;
- Terry Caron, Marianne Kimball, Tracy Simms, Miriam Thompson and Tara Worman for serving as team hosts;
- Culinary program faculty and students, and Foodservices staff, for their food support;
- Tara Worman for her high quality work on self-study tables, team room exhibits, and team fruit baskets.

Finally, thanks to the hundreds of staff who prepared self-studies and worked in so many ways to make our visitors feel welcome. Truly, this was a total college effort. For a "look but please don't touch" tour of the accreditation team room (PE 205) stop by today from 4-4:30 p.m.
- Julie Aspinwall-Lamberts

THANKS

Faculty and staff training sessions on the use of the Internet, held in August and during September in-service, would not have been possible without the assistance of many individuals on campus. I would like to thank Chuck Reid, Randy Lindstrom, Norm Kirtley, and Dave Hensley of Campus Services for their hard work in setting up the necessary tables and chairs in our training room, Virginia Brady of Campus Services for facilitating the phone lines, May Fogg of the Library for arranging passwords, Lorina Johnson of CIT for fielding what must have been hundreds of phone calls, Dick Rickets of CIT for assistance with equipment set-up and take-down, and Linda Loft of CIT for overall guidance and planning assistance. Thanks also to those individuals who loaned computers and hardware: Bill Dotson, Roger Ebbage, Vicky Levine, Ron Little, Don McNair, Jerry Nehring, Don Patton, and David Shellabarger. Finally, thanks to all those who participated and apologies to those for whom there wasn't enough room. Hopefully we'll have additional sessions in the not-too-distant future! -Bob Barber, Computer Information Technology

Welcome accreditation visitors!

An evaluation team from the Northwest Association of Schools and Colleges visits Lane today through Friday. In order to determine Lane's ability to achieve its goals and meet accreditation standards, team members will interview Lane faculty, staff, students, and community members, as well as examine various records and materials. Through this process, Lane renews its commitment to its students and continual improvement. Contact Julie Aspinwall-Lamberts, Ext. 2576, for further information. - Jerry Moskus

Lane awarded grant for substance abuse program

Mark Harris

Lane has received a two-year $162,870 grant from the U.S. Department of Education, Fund for the Improvement of Postsecondary Education (FIPSE), to fund an institution-wide multicultural substance abuse prevention program for students. The grant is one of 75 awarded nationally this year to colleges and universities and one of only 15 awarded to a community college.

The program is unusual in that it will make substance abuse prevention an integral service of eight departments with unique user populations. Most colleges and universities depend upon a single prevention office. At Lane, prevention services will be available in Athletics, Adult Basic Education, Campus Ministry, Disability Services, the Dislocated Workers Program, the Multicultural Center, the Native American Program, and the Women's Program. The services will be tailored to the unique population of each department.

"For example," says project coordinator Mark Harris, "in the past, say Athletics would call me in to give an hour presentation on substance abuse prevention. That would be it. How far do you think that really goes? Now, prevention will be an ongoing service in those departments that serve ethnic minorities, women, people with disabilities, underage youth, dislocated workers, and other culturally diverse populations."

Harris will form a network of staff knowledgeable about abuse problems and solutions to develop culturally appropriate strategies for each participating department. Grant funds will be used to design a curriculum and train staff in its use. The program is expected to be a national model, says Harris.

Accreditation exit interview

Lane's accreditation evaluation team will conduct an exit interview Friday, Oct. 14, at 1 p.m. in the Boardroom. The team will present initial, institution-wide findings, including commendations and recommendations. All interested staff are encouraged to attend. For further information, contact Julie Aspinwall-Lamberts, Ext. 2576. - Jerry Moskus

Dislocated Worker Program gets national publicity

The New York Times covered Oregon's thriving economy in a front page story in this week's Tuesday, Oct. 11, issue. The story includes information about Lane's successful Dislocated Worker Program. The story led to a visit by CBS News Sunday Morning yesterday (air date to be announced).

Campus mail service not for political use

With many issues of interest on the November ballot, staff need to be particularly aware of the proper use of campus mail service. Campus mail service is for college business only and should not be used in any way to advocate for political candidates or positions on ballot measures or to raise money for advocacy purposes. Using campus mail to disseminate information about issues and candidates without taking a stand is permissible. - Marie Matsen

Athletic Hall of Fame seeks nominations

The Lane Community College Athletic Hall of Fame seeks nominations for its second annual induction. Ceremonies will be held in January. Individuals and teams must be nominated by official nomination forms available from Athletics, Ext. 2215. - Jim Boutin

Board report

The Lane Community College Board of Education approved 10-year supplemental contracts with management, faculty and classified employees at its Oct. 12 meeting stating that Lane will pay 6 percent of salaries toward retirement. Individual employees will be responsible for reimbursement if the agreement is found unenforceable. Other issues such as grievance procedures are also addressed in the contracts.

The board opposed ballot measures 5, requiring voter approval of new or increased state or local taxes and fees; 8, requiring public employees to pay 6 percent of their salaries toward retirement; 12, repealing the prevailing wage requirement on public works projects; and 20, replacing all current taxes with a single 2 percent on all sales transactions.

Board Chair Roger Hall on Measure 20: "It's the vilest snake ever to be dragged down the Oregon Trail."

Approved were: a meeting with the local NAACP regarding diversity and affirmative action at Lane; purchase of a voice mail system with US West Communications for $94,310; appointment of Lee Construction to build the aviation maintenance hangar for $1,334,700 and purchase of a building control and security system from Honeywell for $100,875; purchase agreement with Liuski International for Electronics Department computer components; and a purchase agreement with Smith Brothers Office Environments for office partitions and furniture.

Personnel actions approved were a $15 per hour pay rate for continuing education instructors; and appointments of Joe Berney as director of Lane Regional Workforce Quality Committee; David Rothgery as English instructor; Frank Marshall as associate director of Financial Aid; Janice Lyon as English as a Second Language instructor; Matthew Luke as Spanish instructor; Fredric Beisse as computer information technology instructor; Noble Goss as English instructor; and Philip Martinez as economics instructor.

All votes were unanimous at 7-0. Board vice chair Cindy Weeldreyer was absent. The next regularly scheduled meeting is Nov. 9.

Daily notice

The Daily will not be published tomorrow, Tuesday, Oct. 18. In addition, the Wednesday, Oct. 19 issue will be an anniversary special.

College receives Carl Perkins grant funding

The college has been awarded $546,354 Carl Perkins grants funds for the 1994-95 fiscal year. The funds will be used to improve the success of targeted population students in professional technical programs. Thirteen Lane programs have received awards:

- Instructional Computing Lab – hire lab staff to assist special population students;
- Office Administration – purchase video mouse software and hire faculty to assist students at the Business Education Center;
- LCC at Cottage Grove – hire classroom aide/tutor and provide software training for faculty;
- LCC at Florence – hire classroom aide/tutor;
- Study Skills – hire classroom instructor to support special sections of Math 20;
- Women's Program – produce recruitment materials/displays, hire recruitment specialist;
- Criminal Justice/Counseling – purchase software for identifying high-risk students, hire faculty for curriculum modification, hire tutors;
- Business Management – hire faculty to modify customer service curriculum.

Carl Perkins grant administrator's meeting to be held

A meeting to assist all Carl Perkins grant administrators with monitoring the grant is scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 20, from 10-11:30 a.m. in the Boardroom. All individuals involved in administering the Carl Perkins grant would benefit from this meeting and are welcome to attend. Everyone's input is important to the grant's success. Please RSVP to Carol Woodman, Ext. 2509, if you would like to attend.

Carl Perkins grant internships available

The college has set aside $48,848 of Carl Perkins funds for staff internships during the 1994-95 funding period. Applications for the use of these funds are being taken and are due in the Cooperative Education office by Nov. 4. Applicants will be notified by Nov. 15 of their award status. Contact Bob Way for additional information, Ext. 2509.

Florence open house

LCC at Florence instructor Bruce Jarvis, center director Bill Porter, and college Board of Education member Cindy Cable enjoy the center's open house on Sept. 22. Hundreds of community members came by to see the displays, have refreshments, and pretend to be Elsie Sea Otter. Lane administrative assistant Janet Daschbach sang a couple of songs with The Jetties brass band who played for the event.

TV news topic of presentation

Nanci LaVelle, media arts instructor, will speak in Jerome Garger's Peace and Conflict Studies class on Thursday, Oct. 20, from 11:45 a.m.-12:50 p.m. in CEN 401 on "Screening the News: TV Journalism." Guests welcome.

Lowell High has a new address

If you send mail to district high schools, please note Lowell High School's new address is: P.O. Box 430, Lowell, OR 97452-0430. Mail sent to the former address will not be forwarded.

Theater students to perform "Buried Child"

Performing Arts theater students will present Sam Shepard's Pulitzer Prize-winning play, "Buried Child," on Oct. 21, 22, 23, 29 and 30. It's about guilt and family. Call Ext. 2202 for tickets and more information.

Staff suggestion update

Classified Council's Staff Suggestion Project has moved into a new phase. When the project was implemented last year, Council received about 30 suggestions and assessed them using the college goals as criteria. Council then forwarded qualified suggestions to the appropriate department for consideration. Recently, council received replies to some of the suggestions and is happy to announce that at least one staff suggestion has been implemented (see next item).

A file of staff suggestions, council recommendations, replies, and college mission and goals are on reserve in the Library. The call number (listed in the Reserve System Library as a "professor") is PW2997. All staff are encouraged to read the file.

Classified Council is still accepting staff suggestions. Suggestions should facilitate the improvement of services and efficiency using existing resources and should be in accord with college goals. Mail suggestions to Institutional Advancement or drop in the suggestion box in the Library.

Council will review any new suggestions and/or replies at each meeting. Upon review of a reply, council will decide whether or not to take further action on a suggestion that has not been implemented as a result of the initial staff suggestion process. Suggestion originators may choose to pursue suggestions the council does not. Replies that announce changes due to a staff member's suggestion will be published in The Daily. - Kimberly Buchanan

Staff suggestion success

Suggestion: "With work orders always have originator make sure they are legible including corrections made to white copy be made on all copies. Each should also list a contact person and a phone number."

Reply: "Thanks for this excellent suggestion. I have amended the new order for ICOs accordingly." -Lloyd Rain, Purchasing Suggestion for all: "Please inform colleagues of information/service needs at the earliest possible time. Do not wait until the last minute to request services or information--such action puts a TQM oriented office/department/individual into a bind--drop everything to serve or explain that it will take some time to fulfill the request...which may jeopardize a project."

Magna Cadre signed

Organizational Development Cadre team members sign the Magna Cadre as an expression of their commitment to model the training they received this summer that will aid in the facilitation of Lane's restructuring process instituted last spring. Fifty people serve on the cadre team.

Watch CBS "Sunday Morning" this week

CBS "Sunday Morning" staff visited campus last week to follow up on the Oct. 11 New York Times story about Oregon's economy and the Dislocated Worker Program. The report should air on Sunday, Oct. 23, 8 a.m. (KVAL-TV Channel 13/Cable 8).

Discussion will feature Instructor of the Year

Terri Herbert, Instructor of the Year for 1993-94, will be guest of honor at a discussion on Wednesday, Nov. 2, at 4:30 p.m. in APR 214. She will talk about her philosophy of teaching and how she creates a "student friendly" atmosphere. The discussion format will allow others to share their own success tips and ask questions of Terri. Please join us for a lively and informative discussion. The meeting also will be videotaped. For more information, contact Pat McLaughlin at Ext. 2419.

Lane now has its own Internet address

The college has received its official internet name - LANECC.EDU - and the Network Task Force is developing a scheme for individual staff and faculty addresses to be distributed in a couple of months. If you were planning to have business cards printed with your current address via Edlane, consider that you'll soon have a new address via Lane, and may want to delay printing until then. Thanks! - Network Task Force

ASLCC registers over 800 to vote

ASLCC has registered over 800 students this fall, the best showing among a statewide student government-led registration drive. Credit goes to Jason Rackley, Sara Holmberg and Tom Lee, and to all the instructors who have cooperated in this effort.

LANE COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Lane news, 30 years ago

Lane's first staff newsletter was called the Roundup. It was a weekly. (Ah, those were the days!) Here are some excerpts from the first four issues. Spelling and punctuation have not been altered.

- Sept. 24, 1965. Governor Mark O. Hatfield will make a formal presentation of the Lane Community College charter to the school the evening of October 22nd at North Eugene High School. The program will begin at 7:30 in the NEHS auditorium. Students, Staff and the public are invited.
- Sept. 24, 1965. Another name was added to Oregon's growing list of community colleges when the 9th Area Education District was formed recently. Mt. Hood Community College will open in the fall of '66 to serve residents in East Portland, Gresham, Troutdale and vicinity.
- Oct. 1, 1965. LCC's Radio Station KRVM returned to the air on Monday, September 27th, with a varied schedule of music, news and public service programs. Of special interest is a daily news program beginning on Monday, October 4th, at 12:00 noon, which will be devoted exclusively to LCC staff and student news. Tell your friends and relatives to keep up with LCC events by tuning FM Channel 91.9.
- Oct. 1, 1965. Men students far outnumber women students at Lane Community College according to latest figures on registration. As of Wednesday night 1031 men students had completed registration as compared to 287 women. Of the 1318 total registered students, 1170 live within 30 miles of the Campus; 26 live from 30 to 50 miles from the Campus; 19 live more than 50 miles away. To date we have 87 out of District students, 2 out of State students, and 1 foreign student registered. Registration ends October 8th.
- Oct. 1, 1965. Students and staff are asked to cooperate in keeping the parking area in front of the Springfield Campus building free for "mobile staff" and visitor parking. Adequate student parking is available in the fenced-in parking lot. The entrance to this parking lot is located on Quarry Street one block above the faculty house. Student parking is also available in Mark's parking lot nearest the Springfield Campus.

Community news, 30 years ago

On Oct. 19, 1964, voters went to the polls. The only thing on the ballot was formation of a community college. The next day's headline and lead paragraph in the Register-Guard went like this:

Voters Okay College 5 to 1 New Board Already Faces Organizational Fund Lack

by LARRY ROMINE
Of the Register-Guard

It has neither operating expense money, a name nor a president, and only the promise of a campus and student body. But a community college exists today in Lane County.

Voters overwhelmingly approved establishment of the college Monday by nearly a 5-to-1 margin. Preliminary tallies showed 5,944 votes for and 1,282 against the college.

More from the Roundup

- Oct. 8, 1965. LCC Board of Directors met Wednesday, October 6, on the Eugene Campus. Among many items of business considered were the following:
 - Received a report of tentative approval of a National Defense Education Act grant of $10,000 for increased guidance and counseling services.
 - Adopted a policy regarding staff travel as stated in the staff handbook provided it is within budget limitations.
 - Directed the Administration to pursue the possibilities of obtaining State and Federal grants for programs and buildings, and Federal loans for students.
 - Authorized the Administration to make application for membership to the Northwest Accreditation Association. This will make transfer of credits less complicated.
- Oct. 15, 1965. A student is expected to be in attendance at all times in classes, laboratories, and assemblies unless there is a compelling reason for absence. "Cuts for recreational purposes are not permitted. Instructors will set an attendance policy for each class, and it is the student's responsibility to know and comply with each one...."

A student voice, 30 years ago

Student Katherine Stout in 1971 resorted to poetry to describe the registration experience. An archival photo confirms her point of view. (ClassLine started in 1987.)

TO THE POWERS THAT BE AT LCC

by Katherine A. Stout

*I've just had a morning I'd hate to repeat--
Crushing crowds and stomped-on feet,
Youngsters and oldsters, hippy and straight,
Everyone early, nobody late,
Trying to enter the portals of learning
To grow, to improve, to fulfill a yearning.*

*We followed the rules--papers in, fee paid.
Were greeted by staff, completely dismayed
At the numbers of students who all wanted in.
Truly, I've never heard such a din!
We were cheerful at first, but the air grew thick,
And one after another began to get sick.*

*Those in the front could only say, "Pity!"
Many remarks were thought to be witty.
Wet towels were passed over heads as swirl--
We'll never be sure if they got to the girl.
We know she was standing, "out" on her feet
Because there wasn't the space for even a seat.*

*Control of the crowd was sadly lacking.
Planning would make LCC less nerve-wracking.
For instance, two lines, one for old, one for new,
Separate, rigid, with labels in view.
The hall must be open, with air and some space.
Today just wasn't fit for the human race.*

*A fire-trap, bottle-neck--there must be a way
To enter the college with less of a fray.
A crush at the start, but at least we could breathe
At the end where we ended up paying our fee.
Please, someone, THINK, there must be some way
To make registration a happier day.*

Pat Langan named Employee of the Month

Pat Langan shares a laugh with Linda Fossen during a surprise visit to present the award.

Pat Langan, funded projects accountant in College Finance, has been named Outstanding Classified Employee of the Month for October.

Colleagues say Pat's work exemplifies "one stop shopping" for grants administrative financial support. She is known for problem-solving, a positive attitude, and courtesy towards all customers. She is the "glue that holds our workgroup together," said one co-worker. She teaches herself computer skills and consequently handles more than twice the dollar volume in grants than she did five years ago. She maintains monthly a grant report tracking system of the more than 120 annual projects of $11 million in budgets, which made it possible for Lane to not miss a required report in the past eight years. Among her responsibilities are accounting for the Family Support Act contract and the Carl Perkins grant. Both exceed $600,000 annually. The Perkins grant includes transforming an eight-part state Department of Education budget into more than 30 individual budgets at Lane involving 10 departments and 240 individual accounts.

Pat joined Lane in 1986 as a bookkeeper and became an accountant in 1987. Before Lane she provided accounting services to several private firms including Callahan & Co. CPA.

When not at work, Pat enjoys traveling, antique and classic cars, and doll making and collecting. Her greatest love is family.

Non-traditional careers for women focus of workshop

A one-day workshop, "Access," featuring non-traditional careers for women, will be held on Saturday, Oct. 22, from 9 a.m.-4 p.m., in PE 205. Topics will include how to match personal interests with a career, myths and stereotypes about "women's work," training opportunities available at Lane, apprenticeship training, and how to develop a career plan. Women working in non-traditional fields will be available for questions. The workshop is available for one college credit, registration No. 771. For details, call Ann Clark at Ext. 2382.

Graphic design artists showing at Lane

A unique exhibit of graphic design works by some of Oregon's best professional designers is now showing at the Art Department Gallery through November 4. A reception for the artists will be held on Friday, Oct. 21, from 7-9 p.m. in the gallery. Artist Greg Holly will discuss the exhibit on Tuesday, Nov. 1, at 1 p.m., in the gallery. Guests welcome at both presentations. Holly's talk is sponsored by the Associated Students of Lane Community College.

The exhibit is sponsored by the Portland Chapter of the American Institute of Graphic Arts (AIGA). Displayed are posters, book designs, logo and stationery designs, brochures, annual reports, and packaging. Among the design firms represented are Nike Design, Principia Graphica, Group Z, Sandstrom Design, and Johnson and Wolverton.

Part-time faculty handbooks available

Part-time faculty handbooks are now available in Personnel Services. Department secretaries, please contact Arlene Kinley at Ext. 2811 with the number of part-time credit instructors in your departments.

Theatre ticket discount offered to staff this weekend

Staff and guests may see the play "Buried Child" by Sam Shepard for $4 each this weekend only, Oct. 21 and 22 at 8 p.m., or Oct. 23 at 2 p.m., Performing Arts main hall. The play also runs Oct. 28 and 29 for $6. Call Ext. 2202 for tickets

Class schedules needed

Counseling and Advising has a shortage of fall term class schedules. If you have extras, contact Ginger Yamamoto at Ext. 2660.

Video camera missing

Did you borrow the portable video camera from the Social Science Department? It's missing and we need it. Please call Ron Mitchell Ext. 2430 if you have it or know who does.

Telephone users, beware

We are starting to see some 1-800-XXX-XXXX calls that are not toll-free. These include some "info lines." US West warns everyone when getting these numbers from ads to be sure and read the fine print. If you have questions, call Virginia Brady in Campus Services at Ext. 2565.

Daniel Quinn to speak at Lane

Author, philosopher, futurist, and poet Daniel Quinn will speak to Jerome Garger's Peace and Conflict Studies class on Thursday, Nov. 10, from 11:30 a.m.-12:50 p.m., and to the public from 7-9 p.m., both in FOR 308. Faculty and staff are welcome at both events. Quinn is on a West coast tour from Seattle to San Francisco. His visit at Lane is his only stop in Eugene.

Author of Ishmael, and more recently, Providence: The Story of a Fifty Year Vision Quest, Quinn won the $500,000 Turner Tomorrow Fellowship in 1991. The fellowship was established to encourage authors to seek creative and positive solutions to global problems.

Ishmael is "designed to give people a new way of understanding our presence on this planet," says Quinn. The book has been used as a text for high school and college level courses in the sciences and humanities. Providence is an account of Quinn's own spiritual voyage, and an exploration of animism. People are urged to read Ishmael. It's available in the Bookstore and on reserve in the Library.

Jolene Bowers to retire after 26 years with Lane

Jolene Bowers will retire December 31 after 26 years of service to Lane. She came to Lane from the City of Eugene in 1968 to serve as secretary in Dale Parnell's office with Dick Eymann and Bob Hamill. Later she worked for Bob Marshall and Larry Murray in the Manpower Development Training Act program, followed by Counseling and teaching for the Business Department. From 1976-82 she worked in public relations including overseeing the president's "Bunch for Lunch" program, recruiting at district high schools, and representing Lane at service groups throughout the county. She became director of Student Records and Veterans Office in 1982. She chaired Lane's 10th and 25th anniversary event committees. She was chosen Outstanding Vocational Educator of the Year in 1980. Jolene has served on numerous other college and civic committees.

Dr. Jim Ratcliff to speak

The Future Faculty Task Force and the Professional Development Team will be meeting with Dr. Jim Ratcliff on Wednesday, October 26, from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. in Bus. 203. Dr. Ratcliff, a national expert on teaching and learning in higher education, will be discussing faculty issues at the community college. All staff are invited to attend. Seating may be limited, so arrive early to ensure a space.

News from archives

- ❖ Thanks to Jeannee Beauchaine of Student Activities for identifying the cake-eating gentleman as Jon Reigles in the "Date With a Dream" dance photo displayed at the 30th anniversary party last week. He apparently attended the same junior high as Jeannee.
- ❖ "LCC in the 60's," a display of clippings and photos, quaint to significant, will be on display in the cafeteria, north bulletin board, until the end of the month, to celebrate the 30th year of the college.
- ❖ The "LCC Archives and Records Management Handbook," a document outlining services and procedures, will be distributed to campus departments and offices shortly.

Teleconference series looks at school-to-work programs

A school-to-work implementation forum will be held via teleconference on Oct. 31 from 8:45 a.m.-4 p.m. in CEN 10. (Remember to set your clocks back on Oct. 29!) It's free. Sessions are Implementing School-to-Work Programs, 8:45 a.m.; Workplace Learning: A Business, Labor, and Education Partnership, 10 a.m.; Involving Young Women in School-to-Work Programs, 11:15 a.m.; The Role of Business in Educational Reform, 12:45 p.m.; The Oregon School Reform Plan, 1:45 p.m.; and The Boeing Student Internship Model, 3 p.m.

This is the first collaborative effort between the Midwest and Northwest regions of the country on a school-to-work satellite program. The teleconference will be transmitted live via satellite for viewing at the "Work Now and in the Future" conference sponsored by the Northwest Regional Educational Laboratory in Portland, and the "Great Lakes leadership Conference on Education for Work" sponsored by the University of Wisconsin-Madison in Milwaukee. The first three sessions are from Washington, DC, and the final three sessions are from Portland. All staff are invited. For more information, call Cynde Leathers at Ext. 2260.

Leadership institute for women accepting applications

The American Association of Women in Community Colleges is accepting applications for the 1995 National Institute of Leadership Development. Applications are available from Carol Beckley, ADM 202, and are due Nov. 9. For more information, call Beckley at Ext. 2363.

E-Mail demo today

The Network Task Force Software Committee has scheduled a demonstration of another E-mail package, "Microsoft Mail and Schedule Plus," for today from 3-5 p.m. in FOR 307. A company rep will give the demonstration. Interested persons are strongly encouraged to attend as the task force wants maximum input on selection of a campuswide E-mail system.

Network Task Force to meet; interested staff invited

The Network Task Force invites individuals who attended the fall inservice Technology Think Tank session to get together. The task force meets the second and fourth Mondays of every month from 1:30-3 p.m. in PE 205. That makes the next meeting Wednesday, Oct. 26.

DeFazio to address students

Congressman Peter DeFazio will speak to Steve Candee's American Government class on Wednesday, Oct. 26, at 10 a.m. in CEN 402. Guests are welcome, but seating is limited.

Larry Warford named Oregon liaison for workforce project

Vice President Larry Warford has been named Oregon liaison for the national Community College Workforce Development State Liaison Network formed by the American Association of Community Colleges in September with a one-year grant from the U.S. Department of Labor. The network will promote the workforce training services of community colleges, foster partnerships among community colleges and businesses, and improve information exchange among colleges and the AACC regarding workforce issues. Warford is among 57 people from 48 states named to the network.

Grant funds will help Lane link to Internet

Lane will soon have a direct link to the Internet with the help of two federal grants and the college's own $1 million investment to develop an in-house network. A grant of $25,300 from the National Science Foundation under the NSFNET Connections program will be used over a two-year period to pay for a portion of hardware and communication services.

Lane also is one of 15 partners in a $525,000 grant from the National Telecommunications and Information Administration (NTIA) of the U.S. Department of Commerce for a project headquartered at the University of Oregon. The award is one of 100 made nationally this year. The project is to develop the Lane Education Network, a high-speed "network of networks" serving Lane County. At Lane, the NTIA project will develop two electronic classrooms and will provide Internet access to the community at large. Lane will use the network to enhance distance learning and to teach students and staff how to make full use of the Internet. Other partners in the project are local school districts, city and county government, Sacred Heart Hospital, communications and computer businesses, and community-based non-profit organizations.

Instructor of the Year to speak

Science instructor Terri Herbert, Instructor of the Year for 1993-94, will speak on Wednesday, Nov. 2, at 4:30 p.m. in APR 214. She will describe her teaching philosophy and how she creates a "student friendly" atmosphere. The discussion format will give others a chance to share their own successes. For more information, call Pat McLaughlin at Ext. 2419.

30th anniversary promotional items available

Anniversary balloons, pencils, signs, napkins, mugs with coasters, and jewel clocks are available throughout the year from Institutional Advancement. The items are suitable for special events hosted by departments or committees. Balloons, pencils and napkins are free. Mugs and clocks can be purchased on an ICO at cost. The mugs are available for personal purchase in the Bookstore. For more information, call Ext. 2268.

Here's one way to combat negative peer pressure

Alice Kaseberg reports sharing voter registration information in classes: "One negative sigh or comment can discourage others from asking for a form. A brief announcement followed by passing around a stack of forms was more successful. The stack was smaller at the end, allowing me to positively acknowledge that a number of people were interested in the material."

Nominations sought for state AAWCC leadership award

Nomination forms for the Oregon Chapter of the American Association of Women in Community Colleges Leadership Award are available from Julie Baker, outside ADM 209. The award will be presented at the annual conference banquet on December 1 to an AAWCC member who has made an outstanding contribution in the development, growth and advancement of women in community colleges in Oregon.

Oregon AAWCC to hold conference

The Oregon chapter of the American Association of Women in Community Colleges will hold its annual conference at the Red Lion Hotel in Portland on Dec. 1 and 2. This year's theme is "Connecting for Change: Transition in the Workplace." Presenters will include LCC Business Development Center Director Jane Scheidecker. Conference applications may be picked up from Julie Baker, outside ADM 209. Registration by November 24 is $99.

Marketing applications due

Marketing grant deadlines for this year are Nov. 8, Jan. 19 and April 20. Money awarded in April will be available July 1, 1995. Grants are available to help departments and other college units promote their programs. To receive an application and guidelines, call Ext. 2268.

Sample book of college publications available

If you're promoting Lane in the community and would like to distribute the appropriate literature, consult the Sample Book of College Publications now located in Student Activities and Institutional Advancement. The book includes where to get copies of the brochure, flyer or other publication you want. For more information, call Institutional Advancement at Ext. 2268.

Road closure

Eldon Schafer Drive, the east entrance to main campus, will be closed on Saturday, Nov. 5, from 9 a.m.-3 p.m., for the OSAA High School State Cross Country meet. Gonyea Road, the west entrance, will remain open, but ticket sales will be held at that site. If you are working or attending class, notify the ticket seller at the entrance. Thanks for your patience and cooperation.

Nancy Oster-Courtney leaving

Goodbye and good luck to Nancy Oster-Courtney who is relocating to Crane, OR, due to her husband's employment. Nancy's last day at Lane will be Friday, Oct. 28. College Finance will hold a reception for her that day at 10 a.m. in the department breakroom. Feel free to stop by and give Nancy your good farewell wishes.

Presentation materials available

The first meeting of the year of Teachers Talking About Teaching was a smashing success. Peter Boldon of 3M National Consumer Relations demonstrated the latest in presentation technology and donated two 3M books to the soon-to-be-reestablished teaching resources library: How to Run Better Business Meetings and Mastering Meetings. The books and a videotape of Boldon's presentation are in the Library on reserve. For more information about this and future TTT offerings, contact Pat McLaughlin at Ext. 2419.

Ooops!

The survey attached to Tuesday's Daily has conflicting directions. When marking the individual fall inservice sessions, please use the scale shown immediately above each number: 1 = not useful, 3 = average, 5 = very useful, and 6 = didn't attend. Thank you for helping in correcting the error! - Julie Baker

Grant Development Fund available

The Grant Development Fund has $15,000 available for grant development assistance in 1994-95. The fund was established last spring by the Resource Development Group and the Executive Cabinet to remove barriers to developing new grant initiatives. Funds can be used to provide re-assignment time for staff to work on grants; hire part-time help to work on grants; hire outside grant writers, readers, editors, or word-processors; and attend workshops about specific grants. Requests for funds may be made at any time. Last year funds were used to support two grant development efforts, including the college's successful FIPSE institution-wide Substance Abuse Prevention Program grant. Information packets and request forms are available from department chairs or from Sarah LaMaster, grants coordinator, Ext. 2312.

Teleconference on teaching and learning to be held

A teleconference, "Teaching and Learning in Non-Traditional Settings," will be held on Thursday, Nov. 3, from 11 a.m.-1 p.m., in CEN 10. It's free. The conference focuses on adult and part-time students. Topics include how to determine off-campus program locations; which delivery modes work best, what faculty development opportunities are needed; how to provide support services, which recruitment strategies work best, and how to integrate off-campus programs within the institution. For more information, contact Cynde Leathers at Ext. 2260

College Council agenda

College Council will meet on Tuesday, Nov. 1, from 1:30-3:30 p.m. in the Boardroom. Agenda highlights: November Board of Education agenda, student housing settlement, and education reform.

Flowers and gifts placed at tree honor former student

The flowers and gifts placed at the base of a tree on the Gonyea Road median strip honor former Lane student Toshiya Ikegami. Toshi died in an automobile crash at that site early Saturday morning, Oct. 22. The placing of flowers and gifts at such sites or at burial sites is traditional in Japanese and many other cultures. Toshi's friends will continue to place gifts at the site throughout this year on significant anniversary dates. The gifts are items that had special meaning for Toshi in his life and are intended to comfort and sustain him in spirituality if not reality.

In visiting the site, staff and students are encouraged to park in a lot and walk back to the site, rather than stop in the roadway next to the tree.

A memorial fund has been established in Toshi's name to provide emergency loans for international students. Contributions may be directed to the LCC Foundation, ADM 204, Ext. 2810.

[Editor's note: Thanks to Mason Davis, Vicky Goss, Naoko Miura, and Pat Williams for contributing information for this item.]

Classified and Faculty Councils hear restructuring opinion

At Classified and Faculty Council meetings on Oct. 12 and 13, members heard a short version of the workshop, "Restructuring From a Faculty Perspective" that LCCEA President Dennis Gilbert and LCCEA Secretary Katie Morrison-Graham originally presented during in-service.

At Classified Council's Oct. 12 meeting, Dennis outlined the expected results of restructuring and how it can be beneficial to all of Lane's employees. As part of the workshop at Faculty Council's Oct. 13 meeting, members held group discussions on restructuring issues that affect faculty. They brainstormed thoughts and ideas about lead faculty and about how to run a campaign for "best" or "effective practices." Both councils are looking at options for meeting facilitation training. - Kimberly Buchanan for The Daily

The Classroom and Student Outcomes Assessment Project seeks faculty to work together as a committee and learn more about student outcomes assessment and classroom research. This committee will look for opportunities to share this information through professional development activities and by providing seed money for classroom and outcomes research. We need one or two faculty members to coordinate the activity. If interested, send a note to Julie Aspinwall-Lamberts in Research and Planning by October 31 which describes your interest, your qualifications, and your supervisor's support for your internship. - Julie Aspinwall-Lamberts

Turn back your clocks

Remember to set your clocks back on Saturday night, Oct. 29.

Reminder: School-to-work teleconference is Monday

A school-to-work implementation forum will be held via teleconference on Monday, Oct. 31, from 8:45 a.m.-4 p.m. in CEN 10. It's free. For more information, call Cynde Leathers at Ext. 2260.

Staff suggestions available for review in the Library

Staff suggestions focusing on ways to improve customer service at Lane have been solicited by Classified Council over the past year. These suggestions are no longer classified information. During a celebration of Classified Council's history and accomplishments in August, President Jerry Moskus presented a compilation of the suggestions and the responses to Barbara McCall, circulation supervisor for the Library. The staff suggestion compilation is available from the Library's reserve section under call number PW2997. Updates will be filed as replies to suggestion responses are received and new suggestions appear in the staff suggestion box, also housed in the Library. Those suggestions that can be implemented will be recognized in The Daily.

Classified Council thanks all staff for their suggestions and encourages the submission of new suggestions.

Daniel Quinn to speak at Lane

Author Daniel Quinn will speak to Jerome Garger's Peace and Conflict Studies class on Thursday, Nov. 10, from 11:30 a.m.-12:50 p.m., and to the public from 7-9 p.m., both in FOR 308. Faculty and staff are welcome at both events. Quinn is the author of Ishmael. Lane is Quinn's only stop in Eugene on a West coast tour from Seattle to San Francisco. People are urged to read Ishmael. It is available in the Bookstore and on reserve in the Library.

Special ticket price for "Wings"

A special ticket price for Lane faculty, staff and guests of $6 each is being offered for the production of "Wings", a play written by Arthur Kopit.
