Today

- Jim Huntington retirement reception (see below).
- Videoconference, "Adult Numeracy Instruction: A New Approach," 10 a.m.-noon, CEN 10.
- Lane Chorus and Lane Chamber Choir, 8 p.m., Performing Arts main hall.
- Peace Pilgrim II, guest speaker, Jerome Garger's Peace and Conflict Studies class, 12:15-12:45 p.m., CEN 401. Guests welcome.

Retirement reception today for Jim Huntington

The Electronics Department would like to honor retiring electronics engineering technology instructor, Jim Huntington. Jim has been a member of the LCC community since September 1965. His position as second year electronics instructor has had him involved with every aspect of the program over the past 29 years. The Electronics Department truly appreciates the scope, depth and excellent job Jim has done, and we will miss him greatly in the coming years. Please join us for a reception today at 2:30 p.m. in ELC 206.

Students 1, Rose Bowl 0

Rose Bowl ... Yes, Duck fans, winter term classes start Tuesday, Jan. 3, and yes, Lane will follow college policy regarding absences from work. Supervisors are being directed not to approve Rose Bowl-related absences for staff who provide direct service to students. Winter term is short and our students and their education must come first. Go Ducks!

Joe Murphy Memorial Scholarship Fund established

The family of the late Daniel Joseph "Joe" Murphy has given $10,675 to Lane to establish a memorial scholarship fund for helicopter flight training students. LCC Foundation Director Joe Farmer says the gift will provide an annual award of $500 to a full-time, second-year helicopter flight student with a minimum 3.0 grade point average who has financial need. The recipient will be selected by a faculty committee. The first scholarship will be awarded in 1995.

Murphy was the "pilot of choice" among emergency medical technicians charged with rescues in remote logging areas. He completed 117 rescue missions in 21 years as corporate pilot for Bohemia, Inc. He left the company president stranded four times to fly a rescue mission, his first priority.

He received the Helicopter Pilot Safety Award in 1978, the Trimble Memorial Award in 1979, and the Golden Hour Award in 1983. He died on August 28, 1991, during a rescue mission in the Coast Range near Walton, at age 55. A paramedic and an injured logger also died in that accident. The cause of the accident remains undetermined.

Honored

Carol Lynn Morse of Counseling is one of six Oregonians named a "champion of children" by Children First of Oregon, a nonprofit advocacy group. Congratulations!

Curriculum committee to meet

The Curriculum Approval Committee will meet Wednesday, Dec. 7, from 3:15-4:45 p.m. in the Boardroom. The agenda includes a new degree program in computer user support.

Space available on Christmas bus trip

Reserve your place today for the Dec. 3 trip to Portland with Lane friends and families. This year's excursion, the third annual, features a tour of the beautiful Pittock Mansion; a special ride around the Portland International Raceway track, which is bedecked with holiday displays; and shopping (Nordstrom's) in the city. Pay $15 at College Finance and return a copy of your receipt to Julie Baker by Friday, Dec. 2. The bus leaves promptly at 8 a.m. Don't be late!

Canceled

President Moskus' open office hours for Dec. 15 have been canceled. Watch The Daily for future open office hour announcements.

Legislative internships orientations to be held

Lane and the U of O will hold a joint legislative internship orientation for all students wishing to intern with state legislators during the next legislative session in Salem. The orientation will be held on Friday, Dec. 2, from 1-4 p.m., at the U of O, Erb Memorial Union, Ben Linder Room. Internship applications and information are available from Steve Candee, Ext. 2188, CEN 435.

- College Council, Tuesday, Dec. 6, 1:30-3:30 p.m., Boardroom.

DTC lab gets computers from Symantec training

DTC 005, once a basic classroom, now shines as a first-rate computer lab. Eighteen IBM-type computers bought with lottery funds for the Symantec training contract now are available to other students. Some of the software is from Sony training and other contracted trainings coordinated by Business and Industry Services. Campus Services, Continuing Education and Instructional Computing combined funds and talent to further equip and outfit the room. Internet access was made possible by Oregon Public Networking (formerly known as Eugene FreeNet) which has an office in Room 203. DTC 005 hums with mostly contracted trainings during the day, and public classes in the evenings and on weekends, including Internet, Excel, Word, WordPerfect, and networking classes. Photo by Dan Welton.

Torch correction

Instructors: The Torch published incorrect dates for the final exam schedule in the Dec. 2 issue. Final exam week is Dec. 12-17, not Dec. 5-9. The Torch apologizes to staff and students.

College Council agenda

College Council will meet on Tuesday, Dec. 6, from 1:30-3:30 p.m. in the Boardroom. Agenda highlights: Dec. 14 Board of Education agenda, diversity update, class fee review, and the Ashlane student housing settlement process review.

Classified Council reports

At its Oct. 26 meeting, Classified Council reviewed goals that were developed in 1990. Members discussed training needs for restructuring and heard a presentation by Julie Baker about classified professional development. Facilitators David Schiappa and Carrol Barton described a meeting they had with the accreditation team chair to discuss Classified Council. At its Nov. 9 meeting, Council learned about the Instructional Support Staff Association from facilitator Pam McClelland. In other business, council agreed to take on the sick leave bank project as requested by Julie Baker. - Kimberly Buchanan

Business Department offers new class in customer service

A new hands-on customer service class is great for Lane employees as well as students in all disciplines. The emphasis is on understanding customers' needs, promoting positive outcomes through effective communication, telephone skills, time management, and stress management. Two sections are offered this winter, Tuesdays and Thursdays from 3-4:20 p.m. (registration number 82) and Thursdays from 6-9 p.m. (registration number 83). The instructor is Marcy Schein-Sherman. The course number is BA 299. Call Ext. 2221 for more information.

Appointed

Naomi Soules, Continuing Education, and Carol Lynn Morse, Counseling, have been appointed to the board of the Older Adult Service and Information System. OASIS is a national organization offering classes and activities for adults age 55 and older.

PERS variable annuity election

December is the month to think about filing a variable annuity election form with PERS. You may elect to have 25 percent, 50 percent or 75 percent of your yearly contributions placed in the program. The form also may be used to stop future contributions to the variable program or to change the percentage of future contributions. All elections take effect Jan. 1 and PERS will not accept forms after that date. For further details or to obtain a form, call Vicki Ellison in Personnel Services at Ext. 2589.

Faculty evaluation forms available

If needed, additional faculty evaluation forms and Scantron cards may be ordered from Purchasing Services with an intercampus order (500 per ream). Call Sherry Suchanek or Marianne Kimball at Ext. 2308 if you have any questions.

Four ATLAS kiosks now in Center Building

There are now four ATLAS touch-screen information kiosks in the Center Building, three in the second floor lobby, and one in the cafeteria. Students use the kiosks to obtain copies of transcripts, class schedules, financial aid information, and other information. Many thanks to Computer Services and Campus Services from Admissions, Student Records and Veterans Office for providing the additional kiosks in time for winter term.

Campus Ministry fund drive needs your contribution

The Campus Ministry fund drive is moving along slowly. So far, $1,830 has been raised. Will you help keep this resource available to the people who are Lane Community College? Your contribution will help us reach our goal. Call Marna Crawford at Ext. 2814 or Jim Dieringer at Ext. 2850 for a payroll deduction form or to have Jim speak at a department meeting.

Lane staff contribute to state project

A $200,000 federal planning grant was awarded to Oregon this month to develop a plan for designing and implementing one-stop career centers to coordinate employment and training services. The goal is to create an efficient, streamlined, accessible, and user-friendly system. Lane staff who will serve on the statewide steering committee for the project are Ellen Palmer, Randa Law and Don Patton from Training & Development.

More international students choosing Lane

Mason Davis marks 10 years with the international student program with a few statistics: In 1984/85, Lane had 83 full-time and one part-time international students. This year the college has 280 full-time and 16 part time international students. The average increase is 16.7 percent a year.

New phone number

Sharon Moore has taken on additional duties as registrar and may be reached at Ext. 2693, as well as Ext. 2686. Please make a note of it.

Printing deadline nears

Materials needed the first day of winter term should be submitted to Printing/Graphics by Monday, Dec. 12. Thank you.

Testing, testing...

In 1993-94, the Testing Office administered over 15,000 tests. Of those, 10,545, or 69 percent, were placement tests in reading, writing and math. GED tests accounted for 2,504 subtests taken by 600 people. Pilot and mechanic applicants took 270 exams. Other tests included personality and vocational interest inventories and screening exams for several health career programs. Dan Hodges coordinates the office.

Audrey Razmus named employee of the month

Jerry Moskus reads a list of accolades to Audrey Razmus.

It may have been the only time in 26 years of ringing up meals for Lane cafeteria customers that Audrey Razmus' flying fingers came to an unexpected halt. It happened on Monday, when President Jerry Moskus came through the line to declare Razmus the Outstanding Classified Employee of the Month for December. Tears brightened her eyes as the president recounted examples of the dedication and quality service that earned Razmus the distinction.

Among the comments made by colleagues and co-workers: "Audrey is efficient in her duties and consistently kind and courteous to her customers." "She's able to deal with multiple transactions at the register and keep them all straight." "Audrey is the first person I interact with every day and I look forward to seeing her." "In our hectic environment, Audrey is a living reminder that some good things do stay constant."

Razmus joined Lane in 1968 when the main campus was under construction. Foodservices then operated out of a Quonset hut where the Mechanics Building now stands. Eight months after she was hired, she was named head cashier. She has served on numerous hiring steering committees and on Classified Council and has taken business classes and many Continuing Education courses at Lane. She will retire in mid-March. "I will miss you all," she says.

Fitness Center offers finals week hours

The LCC Fitness Education Center will be open the following hours Monday through Thursday of finals week: 12-2 p.m., 4-6 p.m., and 7-9 p.m.

New Year's resolutions can begin next week

New Year's resolutions can begin Wednesday, Dec. 14, at noon. The LCC Fitness Center wants you to get a jump start on the new year (winter term) with an early fitness orientation. By registering for Fitness Education PE 170 in the winter term class schedule, you may go through your FEC orientation now and avoid the new year rush. Participants should dress in exercise clothing for this special orientation. The session will include a fitness evaluation/assessment, exercise equipment introduction, proper exercise techniques, and answers to questions on achieving your health and fitness related resolutions. Call Patrick Lanning at the Fitness Education Center at 744-3987 if you have questions.

Retirement reception set for Debbie Daggett

A "charter member" retirement party will be held for Debbie Daggett, who's leaving Lane after 30 years of dedicated teaching in Health and Physical Education. Please join us on Thursday, Dec. 15, from 1-2:30 p.m., in PE 205.

PTK bake sale proceeds will benefit students

Please support Phi Theta Kappa honor students in their activities by buying baked goods and other holiday items at the sale today and Friday, second floor Center Building lobby. Also encourage students to become a member of PTK. Students must be currently enrolled with a GPA of at least 3.5 and have the recommendation of two instructors. For more information about Phi Theta Kappa or for a limited supply of printed information to distribute to potential members, call Velma Jesser at Ext. 2157.

Kudos

If you were among those in the sell-out audiences at the Very Little Theater recently, you saw—or didn't recognize—ESL instructor Demetri Lontos playing the role of the crotchety hermit in George M. Cohan's comedy, "Seven Keys to Baldpate." Demetri's make-up and costume took one hour to prepare for each of 14 performances. Even his students didn't know him at first, but got to practice their listening comprehension skills.

Classified insurance notice

Classified full-time permanent employees are eligible for college-paid full family medical insurance after 24 months of seniority. Classified part-time employees are eligible for college-paid pro-rated (premium contribution is based on the budgeted FTE of the position as of Sept. 30 of each year) family medical insurance after 24 months of seniority. Eligible employees will receive a memo from Carol Goldsberry when they have reached their eligibility date. Be sure to enroll your family immediately or you will need to wait for open enrollment. If you have questions, call Carol Goldsberry in Personnel Services at Ext. 2590.

Faculty Council reports

At its Oct. 27 meeting, Faculty Council discussed the lack of office space for part-timers. As requested by President Moskus, members brainstormed a list of concerns about and suggestions for creating a satisfactory work environment for all faculty. Council agreed it is important faculty be involved in any decision-making about office space. Council also began discussion about the increase of underage students at Lane.

On Nov. 10, council continued discussion on the increase of community college students who are age 15-18. Linda Fossen, Vice President of Student Services, explained how Oregon's education reform plan will require more underage students to attend Lane. Council members expressed concern about the younger students' social maturity and academic readiness. Fossen said the problem "comes to the core of our mission" and that both student access and success are important. - Kimberly Buchanan

Board to discuss bond, more

The Board of Education will hold a work session on Wednesday, Dec. 14, at 4 p.m. in the Boardroom, to discuss construction bond requests. The regular monthly board meeting will convene at 5 p.m., same place. Action items on the agenda include PERS/tax sheltering of contribution, auditor's report, KLCC advisory committee appointments, network sole source award, personal services contract award, 1995-96 budget calendar, and student records policy.

Technology in instruction presentation open to all

Interested staff are invited to attend the Wednesday, Dec. 14 meeting of the Instructional Services Council from 1:30-3 p.m. in the Boardroom. The meeting will focus on the uses of technology in instruction. Nick Cheshire, Bill Dotson, Craig Spilman, and Doug White will discuss some of the things they heard at the League for Innovation's national conference on information technology last month. Time will be devoted to what people at Lane are doing to change the ways we teach, learn and work. After the meeting, Instructional Services will sponsor a holiday social in the cafeteria.

Payday comes early this month

December's end of month payday is Dec. 22 for all staff, including work-study. - Lorraine Allyn, Personnel Services

Beyond Mail revisited

The Network Task Force Software Committee has scheduled a second demonstration of the Banyan e-mail package, "Beyond Mail," on Thursday, Dec. 15, from 3-5 p.m. in FOR 307. A company rep will demonstrate the program and answer questions. We are getting down to final decisions and strongly urge interested parties to attend.

Extra copy of occupational handbook may be yours

The Library has received an additional copy of the 1994-95 OCCUPATIONAL OUTLOOK HANDBOOK that it did not order. If you ordered a copy of this book and have not received it but perhaps have received billing, please contact Mary Cudney, Ext. 2832/2220. We may have your book.

It's never too late

Finals Week

Edited by Joan Aschim

Today

- Student Activities Open House, 2-4:30 p.m.
- Fitness Education Center open Monday-Thursday this week from 7-9 a.m., 12-2 p.m., 4-6 p.m.

The Daily goes on holiday

The Daily will publish once only next week, on Tuesday, Dec. 20; the deadline for that issue is noon, Friday, Dec. 16.

The following week also will have only one issue, on Wednesday, Dec. 28; the deadline for that issue is noon, Thursday, Dec. 22.

Last week to make insurance changes

Classified and management employees: If you are interested in changing from one medical insurance plan to another, or adding a dependent to your medical/vision or dental insurance coverage, you may do so during open enrollment through Dec. 15. New enrollment forms may be picked up at the receptionist's desk in Personnel Services. All changes and additions received by Carol Goldsberry in Personnel Services by 5 p.m. on Dec. 15 will be effective Jan. 1, 1995.

New coffee

Foodservices is now featuring Farmer Brothers coffee in the cafeteria and snack bar. Stop by and enjoy a quality cup of coffee.

30th anniversary promotional items available

Balloons, napkins, pencils, signs, mugs with coasters, and jewel clocks are available throughout the year from Institutional Advancement for special events or celebrations that departments and committees will be hosting. The balloons, napkins and pencils will be available at no cost. The mugs and clocks can be purchased on an ICO at a cost of $5 each. The jewel clocks have been very popular. If you think you would like to order clocks for your department, please place your order with Angela Miller before Dec. 22. She will be placing a final order for the year on that date. The mugs are also available for personal purchases in the Bookstore. For requests or more information, contact Angela Miller, Ext. 2268.

Surplus property to be auctioned off

Another accumulation of LCC surplus property will go to auction in early January 1995. In our continuing efforts to maximize surplus revenues we have chosen to auction this group through Northwest Auto Auctions in conjunction with surplus property from the City of Eugene, 4J, Springfield School District and other public entities (despite its name, Northwest Auto Auctions is the largest surplus auctioneer in the county). If you have surplus items to include in this auction, have them transferred to Purchasing before January 6, 1995. Please use an ICO to effect the transfer. Our "surplus property loft" will be open for final previewing of the lot from 1- 3:00 p.m. on Wednesday, January 4 and Thursday, January 5, 1995. Thanks. - Lloyd Rain Ext. 2208

Business honored for employing disabled woman

Specialized Employment Services today will award its first Employer of the Year Award to HYDRO-FIT Inc. of Eugene for employing a disabled woman. SES Director Rick Venturi says, "Their success in enthusiastically filling a production position with a student who is legally blind, confined to a wheel chair and also developmentally disabled, makes HYDRO-FIT very deserving of the award."

SES helps people with disabilities find employment and also offers bulk mailing services. HYDRO-FIT manufactures water exercise equipment including a special Rose Bowl edition of webbed gloves with a Ducks logo for fans to do "the wave" at the game.

Real-time broadcast of class openings tested

Move over, MTV. Yesterday morning, Lane began a test broadcast of selected winter term class listings on TCI Cable educational access channel 12. The lists are like those in the printed class schedule except they're on-line and in real time. In other words, as people register by telephone, the number of available seats changes before viewers' eyes.

The test will continue until Monday morning. Random lists of classes will be broadcast around the clock except from midnight to 3 a.m. Staff will convene on Monday to discuss the test and how to proceed. There won't be time to broadcast all classes, says Vice President for Instructional Services Jim Ellison, so decisions will have to be made about which ones to show, such as high-demand classes, new classes, one-time offerings, etc.

Tutors needed

The Writing Center needs tutors for winter term. If you have any promising students who have earned an "A" in Writing 121 or who exhibit comparable writing skills and who relate well to people, would you please suggest that they contact Sharon Thomas or Sara Baz in English at Ext. 2145? This is an opportunity for students or community members to earn a free class. It is also a work-study position. Those who have an interest in other cultures will find this especially rewarding as about half the students who use the Writing Center are international students.

League sponsors student literary contest

The League for Innovation is sponsoring a Student Literary Competition with cash prizes of up to $500. Categories include short story, poetry and personal essay. The college deadline is January 20 and may be extended a few days, but time is needed to read the entries and submit by the first week of February. Please publicize in classes at the beginning of the term so students will have a chance to participate. Entry forms will be available in the Writing Center. - Sara Baz, Ext. 2419

Surplus property to be auctioned off

Another accumulation of LCC surplus property will go to auction in early January 1995. In our continuing efforts to maximize surplus revenues we have chosen to auction this group through Northwest Auto Auctions in conjunction with surplus property from the City of Eugene, 4J, Springfield School District and other public entities (despite its name, Northwest Auto Auctions is the largest surplus auctioneer in the county). If you have surplus items to include in this auction, have them transferred to Purchasing before January 6, 1995. Please use an ICO to effect the transfer. Our "surplus property loft" will be open for final previewing of the lot from 1- 3:00 p.m. on Wednesday, January 4 and Thursday, January 5, 1995. Thanks. - Lloyd Rain Ext. 2208

Board report

Board plows partway through proposed bond project list

The Lane Community College Board of Education began reviewing a tentative list of construction bond projects in a Dec. 14 work session. Chair Roger Hall said, "This is the most important thing we as a board will do because it will set the tone for what the college does, or may not do," and invited comment from anyone interested over the next couple of months so that the board gets all the information it needs to shape a final list for voter approval.

Proposed projects including major maintenance, energy improvements, health tech building remodel, instructional equipment and ADA access improvements met with general conceptual approval. Most discussion centered on whether to build a shop for welding classes. Currently, welding classes occur in the lower level of the Apprenticeship Building and have been associated with creating air quality problems in offices and classrooms on the upper level. The board prefers moving welding to the Air Tech building by moving remaining aviation maintenance to the airport, but that plan is dependent upon federal funding and is more expensive. Vice President Larry Warford said federal funds are easier to get if matching funds can be offered. The board decided to offer the new shop funds as matching for federal money to move the aviation lab, but agreed to build a welding shop if federal funding proves unlikely.

The board also expressed concern about whether the proposed list included enough or too much classroom space. Campus Services Director Paul Colvin said the proposal included 30 new classrooms and 132 new offices, a 10 percent increase, not including offset space. Staff pointed out that future needs will be met through distance learning and using buildings more in the evenings and on weekends, as well as through new space.

Yet to be discussed are a technology center, workforce quality center, child care facilities, student services facilities, and community learning centers. Hall and President Jerry Moskus repeated that the list is conceptual and all suggestions are welcome.

For a copy of the current list, contact the President's Office at Ext. 2200.

Board acts to tax shelter employees' PERS payments

Employees who must make their own PERS payments under Measure 8 will not have to pay taxes on the contribution, thanks to a resolution unanimously approved by the Lane Community College Board of Education at its Dec. 14 meeting. The tax-sheltering move was authorized by a state attorney general's opinion issued within the last two weeks, said legal counsel. On another related matter, current part-time employees who are eligible for PERS but are not represented by a bargaining unit or contract will also continue to have the college provide their PERS contribution as long as they are continuously employed.

In other business, the board unanimously:

- accepted the resignations of Delpha Daggett and Richard Eno
- appointed Addie Lou Willis as executive secretary in Instructional Services
- appointed Marilou Good as computer information technology instructor
- appointed Bill Morrisette, Shirley Valentine, Jean Reeder and Alan Stavitsky to the KLCC Advisory Commission for three-year terms
- approved purchase of an operating system to continue installation of a collegewide network to the local Banyan Systems distributor, A-Net of Eugene, a division of Alpha Exchange
- approved the 1995-96 budget calendar
- approved the student records policy
- accepted the auditor's report

The Lane Council of Governments wants to raise Lane's membership fee from $500 to $2,500 a year to put it on a par with member school districts, said board vice chair Cindy Weeldreyer. She represents the college on the agency board. Lane has received full services under a discounted membership fee. However, there was some question if the new fee was truly equitable. The board advised Weeldreyer to oppose the increase if it was inequitable but otherwise to support it.

A school-to-work consulting contract was withdrawn from the agenda, and a discussion on board development was postponed. The next meeting will be January 11 at 6:30 p.m., preceded by an executive session on the classified contract at 5:30 p.m.

Holiday mail procedure

Due to the Christmas holiday, main campus staff are asked to bring their outgoing and intercampus mail to the Mailroom on Wednesday, Dec. 28 between 12-3:30 p.m. Staff are asked to pick up their incoming mail as well. The Downtown Center will receive usual service. Thank you. - Mailroom staff, Ext. 2575

Grades will not be mailed

Don't forget about Student Information Line (Telegrade). Grades will not be mailed out. Effective December 22, students must call 747-0076 or long distance, within Oregon, 1-800-541-8484 to hear their grades.

Marketing Grants

The following staff were awarded marketing grants this fall. The next grant deadline is January 19. Application packets are available from Angela Miller, Institutional Advancement, ext. 2268.

- Debra Lamb, Continuing Education, $320, to advertise classes and programs that help people to prepare and look for work; and, $700, to mail information to homes in Harrisburg/Junction City and Oakridge/Westfir to inform them about classes being held in those areas.
- Harold Hoy, Art and Applied Design, $672 to advertise Lane's art shows and artist lectures.
- Eilene LePelley, Business Education Center, to advertise evening and weekend computer classes.

Library makes a call for exhibits

The Library's Mezzanine Gallery is accepting proposals for exhibits during winter and spring terms. The gallery space includes abundant wall space and three locking display cases. Exhibits are normally on display for one month. If you have an exhibit of artistic works or informational materials, contact Daniel Moret at the Library, Ext. 2318.

Japanese sculptor to lecture at Lane

Mr. Kazutaka Uchida, a sculptor from Japan will be presenting a slide lecture on his work in stone sculpture on Thursday, Jan. 5, at 10 a.m., in the Art Department Gallery. His work has been shown worldwide including a recent exhibition at the University of Oregon Art Museum. The lecture is sponsored by the Associated Students of Lane Community college. All students, staff and the public are invited to attend.

Clark Community College visits Lane

Calls continue to come in from around the United States requesting information about Lane's ATLAS computer system. Several schools have arranged for KIOSK demonstrations at Lane. Beth Murphy, assistant registrar of the Oregon Institute of Technology, visited Lane on December 7. Thirty-six staff members from Clark Community College, Vancouver, Washington visited Lane Friday, Dec. 16 to witness ATLAS in action. Jim Keizur from Computer Services and Sharon K. Moore from Admissions and Student Records gave them a two hour presentation which not only covered the KIOSK, and also included Telegrades and touch-tone registration.

Keizur and Moore are giving a joint presentation at the Student Success Strategies Conference in Portland on February 2 where they will cover the KIOSK, SPEEDE, Telegrades, and Lane's new televised class lists. Moore's proposal for the Student Success Project, CAPS, will be featured at the conference.

Voice mail training offered

Over the next three weeks (Dec. 19-Jan. 6), Campus Services office staff will contact departments to set up training times for all staff who will have voice mail. Each class will be one hour long. If you have any questions before you are contacted, call Virginia Brady at Ext. 2565.

TAI CHI MASTER FROM CHINA—Master Yu, featured regularly in Tai-Chi Magazine, will be in Eugene December 28 through January 2. Weekend workshop: Dec. 31-Jan. 1, 9:30 a.m.-3:30 p.m.; $75/weekend; $45/day; 10% discount of LCC staff. Weekend drop-in and Chi Kung classes also available. David Leung, Soc. Sci., Ext. 2427 or 686-6286. THE CENTENNIAL CAR CAMP is back in operation. There are approximately 20 families in residence at this time. The Car Camp provides an opportunity for stability for these homeless families. Because they can stay for up to 90 days, this allows them a chance to improve their lives, but they need our help. They are lacking in the basic necessities such as personal hygiene items, warm clothing and bedding. If you can help this holiday season, please bring your donations by Dec. 21 (or after winter term begins) to the OSPIRG office in the basement of the Center Building. For a list of specific items needed, contact Tanya Pierson, OSPIRG or Debbie Bernhard, ABSE, Ext. 2214. DINING ROOM SET: Butcher-block style table, birch, natural finish, 6 feet by 3 feet, 6 matching cane-back chairs (two arm-style), like new condition. Sacrifice at $450. Gayle Smith, Math, Ext. 2398; evenings 689-3135.

WOMEN'S 2-PIECE "ADOLFO" SUITS, new, charcoal gray, size 12 only, just 4 left. Normally retails for $175. Asking $50. Pat Morelli, Library. Call 995-1071.

College Council rescheduled

The January 3 College Council meeting has been rescheduled for Tuesday, Jan. 10, from 1:30-3:30 p.m. in PE 240.

Holiday mail procedure

Due to the Christmas holiday, main campus staff are asked to bring their outgoing and intercampus mail to the Mailroom today between 12-3:30 p.m. Staff are asked to pick up their incoming mail as well. The Downtown Center will receive usual service. Thank you. - Mailroom staff, Ext. 2575

Wildish Building donated to Lane

Earlier this month, Lane accepted the donation of a 12,500 square foot, two-story building at 1445 Willamette in Eugene from Norm and Evelyn Wildish. The Wildish Building is valued at $787,200 and its donation is part of an annuity agreement. According to Joe Farmer, the LCC Foundation will lease the building back to the college and affiliated tenants for $5,000 per month for five years. The cost will have negligible effect on the college general fund, which already accounts for the cost of floor space, and will alleviate crowding at other college sites.

"We're very grateful for this generous contribution to the college," said President Jerry Moskus. "It addresses one of our greatest needs, which is space." The Wildish family has made generous gifts of cash, materials and supplies, and volunteered labor to Lane for many years, said Farmer.

The building offers a convenient downtown location, good parking, and the Eugene Chamber of Commerce next door. Current tenants include Lane's Senior Companion Program and the Workforce Quality Council, of which Lane is a member.

Winter term class schedule lists incorrect college address

Don't use the address that appears in the winter class schedule! At the request of the Post Office, the P.O. Box belonging to College Finance was used. Now, the Post Office says we should change it back. The college is now, once again, officially located at 4000 E. 30th Ave., Eugene, OR 97405-0640. - Susan Sutton, Institutional Advancement, Ext. 2593

Student Success Conference forms available

Registration forms for the Student Success Strategies Conference to be held February 1-3 are available. You may request a form from Sue Ferguson, Ext. 2025 or Miriam Thompson, Ext. 2315. Please make your room reservations at the Jantzen Beach Red Lion Inn no later than January 10. In order to receive the reduced rate for your accommodations, please make reference to the conference. Also please complete your travel expense form, with signatures, and return to Ferguson or Thompson by January 13 for processing. Lane will be well-represented this year. All of Lane's 15 proposals for presentations were accepted.

Quigley selected as faculty to Egypt

Richard Quigley, Continuing Education Art instructor at Lane for the past 18 years, has been selected as the faculty escort for a TravelLearn tour to Egypt. Faculty escorts are selected from 260 universities and colleges in 43 states and four countries that participate in the TravelLearn Program. Quigley's education, expertise and experience resulted in his appointment as faculty escort for the January 3-20 trip to Egypt. Quigley has previously guided classes throughout the Western United States and the Yucatan Peninsula.

Grades will not be mailed

Don't forget about Student Information Line (Telegrade). Grades will not be mailed out. Effective December 22, students must call 747-0076 or long distance, within Oregon, 1-800-541-8484 to hear their grades.

Voice mail training offered

Over the next three weeks (Dec. 19-Jan. 6), Campus Services office staff will contact departments to set up training times for all staff who will have voice mail. Each class will be one hour long. If you have any questions before you are contacted, call Virginia Brady at Ext. 2565.
