College Council agenda

College Council will meet Tuesday, Dec. 5, from 1:30-3 p.m. in the Boardroom. Discussion/action items include: courtesy appointments update, board agenda review, technical planning, academic calendar, and process questions raised by land exchange.

Financial aid application notice

Free applications for federal student aid for 1996-97 will be available from the Financial Aid Office mid to late December. Completed applications can be mailed to the federal processor beginning January 1, 1996. The Financial Aid Office processes applications as they are received for all available funds. However, to be considered for limited funding, a student must apply by February 15, 1996 and list Lane on their application.

In addition, the Financial Aid Office will staff a table in the cafeteria to assist students with completing the 1996-97 application for federal student aid and renewal applications. Staff will be available at the table Jan. 2-4, from 10 a.m.-2 p.m.; Jan. 8-11, from 9:30 a.m.-2:30 p.m.; and Jan. 15-18, from 9:30 a.m.-2:30 p.m. After Jan. 18, anyone needing assistance may stop by the Financial Aid counter.

League for Innovation sponsors student literary contest

English, Foreign Language & Speech is pleased to announce the 1995/96 League for Innovation Student Literary Competition. Categories are: short story, limited to 3,000 words; poetry, limited to 60 lines; and personal essay, limited to 2,000 words. Contestants must be enrolled in credit courses, and entries must have the signature of the sponsoring instructor. Entry forms and a booklet of last year's winners are available in CEN 448. First prize for each category is $500. The submission deadline is Friday, Feb. 23.

Insurance premium rate charts available

New insurance premium rate charts for classified, faculty and management are available in Personnel Services.

United Way Campaign

We're nearing the end of our campaign; we want to thank you all for your graciousness to our United Way speakers and to our loaned executive, David Fredrickson. As always, the need is far greater than the resources, especially with the countywide cutbacks in human services. Your United Way gift may make the holiday season just a little brighter for many, and may save others from grievous harm. If you haven't filled in your gift card yet, please consider doing so soon. If you've misplaced your card or didn't get one, call Lloyd Rain at 2208. United Way volunteer coordinators are Terry Caron, Liz Coleman, Shirlee Ford, Joyce Garibay, and Sandra Jones.

Writing club invites participants

The Lane Writers' Club is reforming in January. Members will write and share poetry and stories. Published writers will describe their experiences. Lane's literary magazine, Denali, accepts work from students and staff. Sign up sheets are available in the Writing Center and CEN 451. Questions? Call Kathleen Shull at 2419.

Writing contest

The Lane Writers' Club is sponsoring an essay contest themed "A Place for me at LCC." Length should be about 750 words and four copies should be submitted by 4 p.m. on Friday, Jan. 26. First prize is $100, second is $75 and third is $50. An additional $50 will be awarded to best international student essay. Participants must be currently registered students in credit classes. Entry forms are available in CEN 448. Questions? Call Kathleen Shull at 2419.

Soroptimist training awards available

The Soroptimist Foundation, a service organization for executive and professional women, is again offering training awards to mature women who are in transfer or vocational/technical programs. Candidates must be heads of household. Applications are available in the Women's Center. Application deadline is Dec. 15, 1995.

It's time to file or change variable annuity with PERS

December is the month to think about filing a Variable Annuity Election form with PERS. You may elect to have 25 percent, 50 percent, or 75 percent of your yearly contributions placed in the program. The form also may be used to stop future contributions to the variable program or to change the percentage of future contributions. All elections take effect January 1 and PERS will not accept forms for 1996 after that date. For further details or to obtain a form, contact Personnel Services.

McAfee virus protection update

Departments that have not responded to the McAfee survey request should send the following information to Chris Russell, Micro Computer Lab, HEA 201, to ensure adequate virus protection information for the 1996/97 school year: the number of current McAfee licenses in use and any additional licenses needed. This also applies to departments that are not current McAfee subscribers and would like to have this protection. Please respond by e-mail or memo.

Appointed

Mary Spilde

Dr. Mary F.T. Spilde, vice president of Instructional Services at Lane, has been reappointed to a four-year term on the Workforce Quality Council. Gov. John Kitzhaber made the appointment and the Oregon Senate confirmed it.

Spilde joined Lane in September 18 after 15 years at Linn-Benton Community College. She co-leads Instructional Services along with Dr. Larry Warford. Spilde was dean of business, health and training at LBCC. While there she also was assistant to the president, directed community education, and taught.

She earned a law degree in 1972 and a bachelor's degree in business and social systems in 1974 from the University of Edinburgh, Scotland. She completed a master's in adult education in 1982 and a doctorate in post-secondary education this year at Oregon State University. She speaks French and Spanish in addition to her native Scottish-accented English.

She, her husband, a 12-year-old son and 7-year-old daughter will be moving soon from Albany to Eugene. - photo by John Bauguess

College Council report

The proposed academic calendar for 1996/97 posed two issues at the Dec. 5 College Council meeting. One dilemma was whether to begin fall term on Monday, Sept. 23, which is Yom Kippur, or to delay classes until Tuesday in respect for the religious holiday. The other problem was that no break occurs between summer session and fall in-service. Council did not reach consensus. Members will share their opinions with Vice President Linda Fossen for forwarding to the president and Board of Education. The board is set to approve the calendar on Dec. 13.

A land exchange between Lane and McDougal Brothers Investments would improve main campus boundaries for future expansion, Campus Services Director Paul Colvin told council. Lane would receive 100 acres to the southwest and give up 100 acres to the southeast. The value of the exchange would be $515,900, the appraised value of Lane's parcel, which McDougal would match with 53 acres it purchased from Northwest Christian College for $176,670, 47 acres it acquired for $53,440, and a cash payment of $285,790.

In other business:

- Council noted a management agreement will go to the board for approval next week allowing managers frozen at the top of the salary scale to earn advancement to a tenth step.
- Some members expressed concern that council will not have a chance to review the president's report on hiring and promotional practices going to the board next week.
- A discussion of courtesy appointments was postponed.
- A report on technology committees at Lane was presented by Bob Barber.

Dick Reid retiring

Classified Council report

At the Nov. 29 Classified Council meeting, members discussed council's role and its relationship to the LCCEF. Council compared its mission and goals statement to a similar document drafted by Faculty Council. Alen Bahret from Computer Services and president of LCCEF brought his view of the relationship between the LCCEF and Classified Council. He said he tries to keep the roles separate, noting that he does not have a seat on Classified Council. He explained that bargaining related issues are always resolved through the LCCEF. Council reiterated that it is okay for members to discuss, research and make recommendations on bargaining related issues such as affirmative action, but the group does not have the authority to seek administrative action on such issues.

Council will host a Winter Holiday Celebration at the next regularly scheduled meeting on Dec. 13. Marie Matsen, vice president of College Operations, will be the guest speaker. There will be an hour long meeting beginning at 3 p.m. with the holiday event beginning at 4 p.m. The celebration is open to all classified staff. Those attending are asked to bring a can of food to donate to the ASLCC food drive.

Classified Council's Dec. 27 meeting has been canceled. - Kimberly Buchanan

Coordinator hired for TTT

The Faculty Professional Development Team is pleased to announce the appointment of Wen Harris as Teachers Talking About Teaching coordinator. Harris is a part-time instructor in Social Science with a master's degree in college level teaching. He brings enthusiasm and extensive experience in planning faculty workshops and educational programs.

International committee announces funding support

The International/Intercultural Committee invites Lane staff and students to submit proposals for advancing international awareness and knowledge on campus. The committee has $3,000 to support such endeavors and will use the following criteria for selection: The event/activity is international/intercultural in its purpose and content; the event/activity has an educational purpose; the design of the event/activity enables the widest influence of college students and staff; and sharing of a resource with another institution to minimize cost is encouraged. Submit proposal to Tom Reimer in the Math Department by January 24. For more information, contact Mason Davis, 2239.

Diversity Team offers assistance to departments

Diversity Team members are available to assist departments, committees, and various other campus groups that deal with diversity issues. The team's goal is to affirm the college's commitment to diversity. For the assistance of a team member or for more information, contact Sandra Jones or Meg Frost at 683-8043.

Thompson selected as AAWCC liaison

Miriam C. Thompson of Student Services has been selected as Lane's liaison with the Oregon Chapter of the American Association of Women in Community colleges. Miriam will provide information for the state newsletter regarding Lane activities, distribute state mailings, and generally act as a liaison for information exchange. Miriam replaces Julie Baker who has filled this role for the past three years. Thank you to Julie and congratulations to Miriam.

Farewell reception

An open house farewell reception for Valerie Reed from Training & Development will be held on Thursday, Dec. 14, from 3-5 p.m. in Training and Development, Room 156. Valerie will be leaving the college after seven years to work at her dream job, managing a Friesian horse farm. Please stop by, even for a few minutes, to say "see ya".

THANK YOU

A special thank you to those in the Continuing Education Department for covering my duties so I could travel to Washington to be with my mother during her illness and subsequent death. Many thanks for the kind words, cards and donation to San Juan Senior Center in my mother's memory. - Doris Sinclair

Faculty Council report

Faculty Council met Dec. 7 and discussed "achieving a substantially full-time faculty" recommendations in the Future Faculty Task Force report. Members agreed to support the recommendations, noting they have discussed the task force report with their respective departments and have received positive feedback. Council will send a letter to instructional vice presidents Mary Spilde and Larry Warford stating council's approval and requesting administration's response to the recommendations.

Council also discussed the low number of faculty on the Curriculum Committee. Only two faculty serve on that committee. Council will invite Spilde to a future meet to discuss that and summer school issues.

In other business, Carmel DeCroos presented a proposal on the Faculty Professional Development Team to implement "dedicated staff learning/training time." She said the college will be asked to schedule classes to allow large blocks of time for professional development. She has prepared a faculty questionnaire on the proposal.

Council's next meeting will be Jan. 25, 1996. - by Kimberly Buchanan

It's time to file or change variable annuity with PERS

December is the month to think about filing a Variable Annuity Election form with PERS. You may elect to have 25 percent, 50 percent, or 75 percent of your yearly contributions placed in the program. The form also may be used to stop future contributions to the variable program or to change the percentage of future contributions. All elections take effect January 1 and PERS will not accept forms for 1996 after that date. For further details or to obtain a form, contact Personnel Services.

OSPIRG offers guides to toys, banking

The Oregon Student Public Interest Research Group Consumer Project has released two informational guides this fall which are available free of charge to staff and students. The "Dangerous Dozen" Toy Safety Survey lists twelve dangerous toys on the market this holiday season. The survey was prepared, in part, by two students who are completing internships with OSPIRG through the Lane co-op program. The other guide is the "Eugene Banking Survey," a survey of rates and fees of local banks. Stop by the OSPIRG office in the basement of the Center Building for a free copy. - Kristin Lee, OSPIRG campus organizer, 2166.

McAfee virus protection surveys due

Departments that have not responded to the McAfee survey request should send the following information to Chris Russell, Micro Computer Lab, HEA 201, to ensure adequate virus protection information for the 1996/97 school year: the number of current McAfee licenses in use and any additional licenses needed. This also applies to departments that are not current McAfee subscribers and would like to have this protection. Please respond by e-mail or memo.

Welcome Donna Koechig

Dr. Donna Koechig (pronounced kay'-kee) began work Nov. 1 as Director of Counseling. She attended department planning retreats this summer before moving from Kansas City, Missouri. Koechig says Lane's reputation for quality and innovation convinced her to apply and the friendliness and professional ability of the staff affirmed her interest.

Before joining Lane, Koechig provided organizational development, professional development and counseling services to public and private organizations. She has worked in the Philippines and Cuba as well as Missouri. She has written numerous professional articles and presented widely. She also has teaching experience and is a licensed clinical social worker.

Koechig earned a doctorate's degree in educational and counseling psychology in 1993 and a master's in social work in 1980, both from the University of Missouri-Columbia. She completed her predoctoral internship at the University of Oregon in 1992/93. She has a bachelor's in social work/psychology from Southeast Missouri State University. - photo by John Bauguess

Florence center weathers the storm

LCC at Florence had "that windblown look" after Tuesday's storm with tree limbs down, said Denice Ambrosio, but all was well and classes resumed the next morning. The campus closed at 11 a.m. when the power went out. No damages or injuries were sustained. All other Lane campuses closed at 3 p.m. as the storm moved inland. The strongest gust was recorded at 120 mph at Sea Lion Caves north of Florence.

Bond project decision making on committee agenda

The Facilities Management Committee will meet today at 3 p.m. in the Boardroom. Agenda topics include the bond projects decisionmaking process, Health & PE concerns, Steelcase for Center 015E, and the construction priorities list. All interested students and staff are invited to attend.

Barbara Breaden publishes speech text

Lane speech instructor Barbara Breaden has published a text, "Speaking to Persuade," with Harcourt Brace. The text "offers an appropriate balance between theory and practice," she writes in the preface. As an instructor, she found that other texts were receiver oriented and she wanted students to have practical skills from both delivery and receiver perspectives. Her text also covers critical thinking, memory, predicting arguments, ethics, organization, and language sensitivity.

The publisher predicts Academic Award nominations for the book. A promotional flyer describes the book as "an avant garde public speaking text."

Breaden worked on the book over the last few years while sustaining a five-classes-per-term teaching load. In the acknowledgments she credits co-Lane faculty Jack Robert and Patty Hammons for their inspiration.

The text is available in the LCC Bookstore and other stores nationwide.

Space available for Portland excursion

To date, 36 Lane staff and friends have registered for the annual holiday bus trip to Portland. There's still time to sign up; reserve your spot by paying $15 at College Finance. See the Nov. 16 flyer distributed with The Daily or call Gloria Jarvis at 2308 or Alen Bahret at 2247 for more information. You can also look up information on OMSI on the Internet at <http://www.oms.edu/>. For those traveling on this Saturday's Portland Express, the bus leaves from the northeast parking lot (behind Performing Arts) at 9 a.m. Don't be late!

Faculty training questionnaires due

Faculty questionnaires on dedicated staff training time are due by Friday, Dec. 15, to Carmel DeCroos, faculty professional development coordinator. "Faculty input is needed now to guide planning for a trial period," she says. She adds that support for the idea is growing as instructional managers find value in the concept.

Food drive still accepting contributions

The food drive organized by OSPIRG and ASLCC ends Friday, Dec. 15. There's still time to bring your canned food or monetary donations to the OSPIRG office in Center basement, or to the food barrel in the cafeteria.

Daily holiday schedule reminder

The Daily will publish once only next week on Tuesday, Dec. 19, and not at all the week of Dec. 25. The first issue of 1996 will be Tuesday, Jan. 2.

Two 286 loaner computers available

Purchasing Services still has two "286" computers available for loan to any college staff. Call 2208 for more information.

Financial aid application notice

Free applications for federal student aid for 1996-97 will be available from the Financial Aid Office mid to late December. Completed applications can be mailed to the federal processor beginning January 1, 1996. The Financial Aid Office processes applications as they are received for all available funds. However, to be considered for limited funding, a student must apply by February 15, 1996 and list Lane on their application.

In addition, the Financial Aid Office will staff a table in the cafeteria to assist students with completing the 1996-97 application for federal student aid and renewal applications. Staff will be available at the table Jan. 2-4, from 10 a.m.-2 p.m.; Jan. 8-11, from 9:30 a.m.-2:30 p.m.; and Jan. 15-18, from 9:30 a.m.-2:30 p.m. After Jan. 18, anyone needing assistance may stop by the Financial Aid counter.

HOLIDAY SCHEDULE CHANGES

- Bookstore will close at 3 p.m. on Thursday, Dec. 21, and reopen on Jan. 2. Textbooks will be available beginning Jan. 3.

THANKS

A special thanks to those who were so generous in their contributions of food, toys and money for student families this holiday season: Campus Ministry, Financial Aid, Corinne Meehan of Counseling, Barb Delansky of Student Activities, Oregon Small Business Development Center Network, the LCC Latino Club, Women's Program, RSVP, and Emporium Stores. - Jill Bradley, Women's Center

Edited by Angela Miller

This week:

- Instructional Services, Wednesday, Dec. 20, 1:30-3 p.m., Boardroom.
- "Open Door", Thursday, Dec. 21, 2-4 p.m., President's Office.

Board report

Discussion of hiring and promotional practices consumed more than an hour of the Board of Education's time at its Dec. 13 meeting, with about 50 people in attendance. President Jerry Moskus responded to concerns and recommendations raised by English instructor William Powell at prior board meetings. He reiterated his and Lane's commitment to affirmative action and recounted progress made in that direction while acknowledging that there is much work still to do. In a written report he concluded, "Our essential challenge, as I see it, is to remain flexible and responsive to community needs while accelerating our progress in addressing the need for affirmative action." That report and a "recommendations/response" report are available from the President's Office. Powell and others in the audience stated concerns and views. Powell challenged certain details in the president's statement and said, "If this board is serious about dealing with hiring and promotional practices, as well as other discrepancies, it will recommend that a committee be created to look into these and other allegations...." The board will continue discussion next month in executive session.

In other business, the board:

- tabled action on the proposed exchange 100 acres of land with McDougal Brothers;
- approved the academic calendar for 1996/97 with a 4-2 vote, Cable and Hall opposing;
- unanimously approved a management agreement allowing managers frozen at the top of the salary scale to earn advancement to a tenth step;
- unanimously approved the appointment of Sally Weston to the Budget Committee;
- unanimously approved the budget calendar for 1996/97;
- unanimously authorized routine budget transfers;
- unanimously approved a pool of trainers for Zenger Miller leadership training;
- unanimously endorsed the Metro Sports Commission's area sports plan;
- unanimously approved advisory committee appointments;
- and unanimously approved TBG Architects for Mechanical Technologies reroofing design.

In personnel action, the board unanimously:

- accepted the resignation of Mechanical Technologies instructor James Mathews;
- accepted the resignation of Mechanical Technologies instructor Wayne Workman;
- appointed Habte Woldu as instructor in the Fast Forward program;
- and appointed Cheryl Kempner as instructor in Study Skills.

The board's next regularly scheduled meeting is set for Jan. 10.

Board candidate interviews set

The Board of Education will conduct interviews of applicants for appointment to the Zone 4 seat on Jan. 9 and 16. Board Secretary Tracy Simms said at the Dec. 13 board meeting that six people have applied. The deadline to apply was Dec. 15.

Mainframe down through Christmas break

The mainframe computer will be down for software and hardware upgrades Friday-Tuesday, Dec. 22-26. ClassLine and information kiosks will be down as well.

Fitness Center open to staff this week

The Fitness Center will be open through Thursday, Dec. 21, 11 a.m.-2 p.m. for all staff.

Employee Wellness Surveys due

The LCC Wellness Survey has been a great success. The feedback and return rates show great support and interest for improving the health and wellness of Lane's employees. If you have not returned your survey, please do so before December 20. If you have questions or have not received a Wellness Survey, contact Patrick Lanning at 2552.

Bond update

A new bond projects user group to identify outdoor physical education facility needs will be established, the Facilities Management Committee decided at its Dec. 14 meeting. The other 29 groups have been meeting with college architects to identify specific facilities needs. Their work should be done by late January. Then, if the cost of meeting all needs exceeds funds, campuswide discussion will be held to prioritize and scale back projects. The goal is to have an updated master facilities plan by spring 1996 and to begin the design of new facilities in the fall. Paul Colvin, chair of the facilities committee, agreed to requests to write up the basic steps and timelines of the planning and decision process for the user groups.

In other bond news:

- Parking lot paving is substantially complete.
- Cottage Grove Center construction documents are being completed.
- Florence Center architect is still collecting data for a center master plan.
- Instructional equipment purchase plans are being developed by the Office of Instructional Services. To date, only a flight simulator has been purchased.
- Area high schools are jazzed about becoming outreach centers of the college, Vice President Larry Warford reports.
- Wildish Building remodel plans have been formulated.
- Energy conservation upgrades have begun with initial lighting system upgrades.
- Disability accessibility improvements have begun with upgrade of the fire alarm system at the Downtown Center. The ADA Review Committee will set overall priorities in January.
- Auto and Mechanical Technology Buildings reroof design work has received board approval and the job should be bid in early spring.
