A Winning Balance II is a diversity training program to help employees build awareness and skills to succeed in today's workforce. Understanding and then changing attitudes and behaviors are the first steps toward creating a workplace in which everyone succeeds. This program will help employees' personal attitudes toward differences, and show how these attitudes affect interactions with others in the workplace. Most importantly, it will offer employees the skills needed to become diversity change agents in creating a work environment and organizational culture that furthers the development of each and every employee.

This highly interactive training will serve as a foundation for providing Lane staff with a common understanding of the characteristics of a respectful work environment. There will also be an opportunity to engage in conversations and deepen our understanding of diversity at Lane as expressed in our core values and in the Diversity Plan. The training is divided into two sessions, Part A (one hour) and Part B (two hours). You must participate in Part A before participating in Part B. To register, call ext. 5852. #### SLIDE SHOW TELLS STORY OF RED SEA MURALS

Tom Madison and the American Association of Women in Community College would like you to join them for a presentation of "108 Days in the Saudi Sun," a slide show and lecture on the negotiating, planning and execution of 12,000 square feet of murals inside and outside a private aquarium on the Red Sea Coast of Saudi Arabia. The presentation will be held Wednesday, March 3, at noon in Building 19, Room 102. The AAWCC is sponsoring the event and providing refreshments.

Over a two-year period in the late 1990s, Madison traveled back and forth between Saudi Arabia and the U.S. to inspect, negotiate, research, and oversee wall preparation and paint large-scale murals of life-sized, indigenous Red Sea flora and fauna, from clown fish to minke whales. All were rendered in their appropriate habitat at a private aquarium on the west coast of Saudi Arabia. Madison's company, Madison Design, specializes in marine biology illustration. His work with the Oregon Coast Aquarium, the Oregon State University Hatfield Marine Science Center, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Association and other marine organizations paved the way to the mural work in Saudi Arabia. Madison continues to travel to Saudi Arabia on an annual basis to perform maintenance on the existing murals, as well as design new buildings and interiors for the private palace and other ventures spawned from his business there. He also takes a cultural anthropology approach to his travels and has studied Arabic culture and women's rights and Islam, and was a guest lecturer on the latter subject for the AAWCC in the past. For more information please contact Mary Jo Workman, ext. 5411.

TELEPHONE SYSTEM SHUTDOWN

On March 12, 13 and 14 we will be moving all telephone lines to a new telephone switch, on the main campus. Phones for the Public Safety Office, campus emergency phones, KLCC, and the trunk lines to Downtown Center, Wildish, Flight Tech, Cottage Grove Center, and Florence Center will be disconnected Saturday, March 13, at 8 a.m. and should be brought back on line by Saturday at noon.

All other phone lines will be taken down Friday night, March 12, and reconnected to the new switch on Saturday, March 13 and Sunday, March 14. Each line will have to be reconnected individually. There are 1,200 lines to be disconnected and reconnected over the weekend. We would like to identify telephones that need to have high priority besides those listed above. The voicemail system will also be down for most of Saturday due to the move. Please note: This work will not affect ExpressLane or Banner.

We are sorry for any inconvenience this may cause, but it is necessary to take the old system down, move the power supply to the new location with the new switch, before we can start reconnecting phone lines. Thank you. Virginia Brady, ext. 5565

IN MEMORY OF

Lane Community College charter employee German "Chuck" Ellsworth passed away on Monday of this week. Ellsworth was an employee at the Eugene Technical-Vocational School that became the nucleus of Lane. Chuck taught all courses within the Aviation Technician Maintenance Program until he retired in 1996. One of his favorite quotes was: "Airplanes are my first love, but people are more interesting." A memorial service will be scheduled next week: watch for notification in The Daily. Submitted by Betty Svarverud and Ardene Toney.

NATIVE AMERICAN WORD FOR THE WEEK

Dr. Don Addison, Native American language instructor at Lane, offers the following Native American word for the week. The Hopi word "Qu-TIM-mua" is used to refer to the dried out husk or corn plant once it has died. This material all dissipates back into the ground. The same word is also used to refer to the dead body of a human. Hopis believe that the corn plant is very sacred because the Hopis eat the corn to sustain life, and this spiritual principle emanates from the "Katsina" or "Kachina" or the "life giving force of Nature." When the corn plant dies and the human body dies, the spirit or soul of the corn and the human live on in another spirit world or existence, or life after death. Hopis believe humans only take with them the good qualities such as generosity, humor, service, humility, respect, reverence, into the next existence or spirit world after we die. The corn feed humans; when we die we leave our breath, and when corn is baked it leaves steam, and that steam and our breath rises to the sky, becomes Kachinas, forming clouds, which bring rain to water the corn and the circular cycle continues indefinitely. When it's about to rain, Hopis say "the Kachinas are coming" and these "beings" are immortalized in the famous Kachina dolls of the great Southwest. Native languages are intimately wrapped up with Native religious beliefs, and the cooperation between humans and all other beings on the planet, as well as art, music, and literature.

CHANGING WITH THE TIDES WORKSHOPS

Classified Staff should plan on attending the "Changing with the Tides" Workshops. The CPDT will present two half-day sets of workshops beginning at 7:30 a.m. on Wednesday, April 7 and continuing all day until 5 p.m. In an ongoing effort to provide increased staff development opportunities both within and outside the main campus, the presentations are designed to provide you with a variety of methods that help manage the levels of stress that you deal with daily. Here are some examples of sessions being offered:

*"Low Carb Foods" - Presented by Greg Winslow

An introduction to the world of carbs. Where they come from, what their functions are and how to menu plan with healthy carbs in mind. In addition, tasting of low and high carb foods will be offered to experience the difference. Emphasis of the class will be based on a balanced and healthy eating style using low carbs and having fun, too! Hope to see you there.

*"Tai Chi" - Presented by David Leung

Tai Chi is an internal exercise that is practiced for improving health, re-aligning posture, developing balance, deepening meditation, and encouraging spiritual transformation. Our presenter, currently a psychology instructor at Lane, has been teaching Tai Chi for the last 30 years in the United States, Europe, and Hong Kong. He presently teaches in his Tai Chi Academy. He has put together a very simple 13-movement routine that takes approximately 10 minutes to perform. Basic principles and postures will be introduced, then arranged into a series for daily practice. These exercises can be modified for people of all ability levels and needs.

Keep an eye on The Daily for the next few weeks for more information regarding the details of this exciting training opportunity for the Classified staff. The workshops are designed so you can pick and choose the presentations that work best for you. Submitted by Dean Middleton, Chairperson CPDT, ext. 5319.

CULINARY AND HOSPITALITY STUDENTS OFFER PASTA FEAST

Culinary arts and hospitality students at Lane Community College will present a pasta feast on Monday, April 5, from 6-10 p.m. at the Center for Meeting and Learning, Building 19. The dinner is a fundraiser for students and the program. The "evening in Italy" theme features a pasta buffet with three sauces including vegetarian marinara, meat, and spicy chicken. A tossed salad of seasonal greens and homemade garlic twists compliment the menu. For a wonderful finish, pastry chefs will prepare tiramisu. The meat sauce will be made from sausage locally produced by student Cameron Garberoglio, a third-generation Italian chef. Chef-instructor Clive Wanstall says, "The sausage is made from an old family recipe with only the finest ingredients. Nothing artificial is added and the addition of red wine and parmesan cheese give it a distinctive flavor." The dinner price is $7.50 for adults; $5 for children ages 6-10; free for children 5 and under. Choice of beverage is included. Tickets must be purchased by April 2. For more information or to purchase tickets call Annie Caredio, ext. 3503, caredioa@lanecc.edu.

TUTOR CENTRAL SAYS "THANK YOU INSTRUCTORS!"

Thank you to Pat Hansen, Annie Paschall, Chris Culver, Kaaren O'Rourke, Eileen LePelley and Sharon Kimble for carving out one hour per week to assist business-accounting students in Tutor Central. Your presence in the center has enhanced student learning and collaboration with tutors who support your students. Your efforts are greatly appreciated.

All instructors are invited to spend time in Tutor Central. You can hold an office hour here. You can drop by occasionally, on your way to the cafeteria. Meeting students in Tutor Central encourages them to walk through these doors for the first time and often provides them with a long term oasis of support. If this won't fit into your schedule, please remember to put the locations of free tutoring on your syllabi for spring term and encourage students to familiarize themselves with the tutoring early in the term. Many students comment that they wish they had used the center earlier in the term. You can help. If you need more sticky notes with locations and subjects, let me know. Thanks and have a great break, when you can finally get there! Submitted by Liz Coleman, Tutoring Services Coordinator, ext. 5783.

FINANCIAL FREEDOM COURSE STRESSES LIFE OVER MONEY

Lane is offering an eight-week community education course called Your Money or Your Life which will focus on getting out of debt, living better on less, and creating a lifestyle that provides the time to do the things that are really important to us. Based on the best-selling book of the same name, this class is for those stuck on the earn more/spend more treadmill, who feel like their finances are out of control, or that they don't have enough time or money. The class is based on a groundbreaking nine-step program for financial freedom and a new way of looking at money and paid employment. Course instructors Dale Lugenbehl and Sandy Aldridge retired in their 40s from their jobs as part-time college instructors after following the ideas in the Your Money or Your Life program. They have taught this class numerous times and have been featured in Kiplinger Personal Finance magazine.

According to Lugenbehl, "Many people find that their jobs almost completely take over their lives, leaving only scraps of their time and energy for everything else. To make matters worse, the jobs that many people have are dulling, tedious, without meaning, and frequently conflict with their deepest beliefs about what is right and wrong. Life often seems like an endless treadmill of working in order to buy things which ultimately do not make us happy. Meanwhile, we have this uneasy sense that the way we are living is destroying the natural world and the health of our environment which keeps us all alive. But life does not really have to be this way."

The class meets Wednesdays from 6-8 p.m. starting Wednesday, April 7 in Building 2, Room 212. Registration is open to anyone and information about the class can be obtained on page 27 of the LCC Spring Class Schedule or by calling ext. 5252. For more information contact instructor Dale Lugenbehl.

CALL FOR SPRING CONFERENCE SESSION PROPOSALS

This is a call to all staff, faculty and managers for proposals for spring conference sessions. A representative group of employees from the unions, faculty professional development, and SLI, along with members of faculty, classified and management, gathered to begin the work of planning this year's spring conference. The conference is designed to provide all employees with the opportunity to learn together and to focus on Lane becoming more of a learning-centered college. Whether you are in the classroom or supporting the learning in the classroom, you are invited to participate. Every session is open to all employees. The title of this year's spring conference is "Learning and working together: privilege, power and difference in our lives." Allan G. Johnson, the author of "Privilege, Power and Difference," will be the keynote speaker and will conduct several sessions in the afternoon. The day is designed to be relevant, thought-provoking, and linked to future activities; activities that build momentum and are sustainable. To assure that the afternoon is filled with diverse learning opportunities, we are asking for proposals for afternoon sessions that are aligned with the theme of the conference. The focus of proposals should be enhancing our awareness of different groups and understanding different perspectives. A proposal form can be picked up at the office of Instruction and Student Services or by calling Anna Kate Malliris, ext. 5120. All managers, classified staff and faculty are encouraged to submit proposals. Proposals can be submitted to Anna Kate Malliris by hardcopy in the office of Instruction and Student Services, Building 3, or electronically, mallirisa@lanecc.edu. All proposals are due by 4 p.m. on Thursday, April 1. Depending on the number of proposals submitted, not all proposals will be accepted. Members of the spring conference planning committee are: Julie Baker, Ellen Cantor, Dennis Carr, Sonya Christian, Tim Craig, Jim Garcia, Amy Gaudia, Dennis Gilbert, Maurice Hamington, Jean Jordan, Patrick Lanning, Elaine Marsh, Anne McGrail, Jerry Ross, Jim Salt, Russell Shitabata, Wendy Simmons, Gloria Vanderhorst, Mark Williams. #### CHANGING WITH THE TIDES WORKSHOPS

Classified staff should plan on attending the "Changing with the Tides" workshops. The CPDT will present two half-day sets of workshops beginning at 7:30 a.m. on Wednesday, April 7 and continuing all day until 5 p.m. In an ongoing effort to provide increased staff development opportunities, both within and outside, the main campus, the presentations are designed to provide you with a variety of methods that help manage the levels of stress that you deal with daily.

Living A Simpler Life: Life often seems like an endless treadmill of working in order to pay bills for things which ultimately do not make us happy. Meanwhile, we have this uneasy sense that the way we are living is destroying our health, the natural world and the health of our environment. By choosing to live more simply we can regain control of our lives and have time for the things that are really important to us. Presenters are Dale Lugenbehl and Sandy Aldridge.

Moving Strategies for Weight Management: Trying to lose or manage your weight? Learn how increasing your activity levels can help burn fat and increase your metabolism. Wendy Simons will show you strategies to fit exercise into your busy schedule in a safe and realistic manner. Implementing these small steps can take you far!

Keep an eye on The Daily for the next few weeks for more information regarding the details of this exciting training opportunity for the Classified staff. The workshops are designed to allow you to choose the presentations that are of interest to you. A schedule of the workshops will be sent soon. Submitted by Dean Middleton, Chairperson, CPDT.

Tai Chi is based on the principle of dynamic balance and harmonization of opposites. Tai Chi is a Chinese internal art practiced for health, balance, meditation, healing, and spiritual transformation. In this six-week class, you will learn the 24-movement form from Mainland China. We will emphasize correct posture, breathing, stress reduction, internal energy development, meditation, and spiritual transformation.

The class is easily adaptable to fit people with varying ability levels. The class will meet Mondays and Wednesdays, April 12 through May 19 from 7-7:45 a.m. in Building 5, Room 132. Instructor David Leung has been teaching tai chi since 1970 and is currently a psychology instructor at Lane. He has taught tai chi through his own studio, and in many other instructional facilities throughout the U.S., Hong Kong and Europe. The class is free to all staff. To sign up for this LIFE class, call Wendy Simmons at 463-5551 or e-mail her at simmonsws@lanecc.edu.

The day is designed to be relevant, thought-provoking, and linked to future activities; activities that build momentum and are sustainable. To assure that the afternoon is filled with diverse learning opportunities, we are asking for proposals for afternoon sessions that are aligned with the theme of the conference. #### KLCC SPRING RADIOTHON BEGINS APRIL 2

Public radio station KLCC's on-air campaign for new and renewing members begins Friday, April 2, at 6 a.m. during the NPR's Morning Edition. Spring Radiothon will continue until 5:30 p.m. Thursday, April 8, or until the goal of $255,000 is met -- whichever comes first! The pre-Radiothon "Thon Buster" campaign is now underway. KLCC is the primary NPR affiliate in the Eugene/Springfield area, reaching communities from the Coast to Bend and Roseburg to Salem. KLCC depends on listener contributions for 40 percent of its total operating budget. This fiscal year KLCC must raise a total of $550,000 from the listening audience to sustain current levels of service. Listeners are encouraged to become members of KLCC by becoming a Thon Buster now, or by calling 463-6001 or 800-922-3682 beginning April 2. Submitted by Gayle Chisholm, ext. 6000.

NEWS

REMINDER: THIS IS THE ONLY DAILY THIS WEEK

The Daily publishes today only during spring break week. See complete user guidelines at <http://www.lanecc.edu/cops/daily.htm> or e-mail daily@lanecc.edu.

BUS PASS GOOD THROUGH SUMMER; GET YOUR PHOTO ID MARCH 23, 29 OR 30

The Lane Transit District Board decided at its March 17 meeting that the FastPass, distributed through the LCC Bookstore, will be available through summer term. LTD had originally planned to eliminate that pass at the end of spring term. The LCC bus pass is available to any student taking a credit class on main campus for which they pay the $15 transportation fee. The pass can be obtained by having a photo taken March 23, 29 or 30 and getting a spring term sticker during the week of April 5-9. Both the photo ID card and the sticker are available in Building 19, room 117. For more information about the LCC bus pass, visit www.ltd.org or contact Susan Tatar in Facilities Management and Planning, ext. 5727.

BOARD REPORT MARCH 2004

ASLCC ballot measures for the student election to be held May 10, 11 and 12 were approved by 7-0 vote at the March 10 Lane Community College Board of Education meeting. There are seven fee measures: $5 for athletics and recreational sports; $1 for the child care co-op; $1 for a child care subsidy; $1 for student clubs and organizations; $1 for the international student program; $1 for the women's program; and $1.44 for ASLCC.

In other action, the board approved purchasing the Electronics Annex modular buildings currently under lease.

Second readings of board policies on college governance, parliamentary procedure, and global board-president relationship were approved, and first readings were held on board policies on delegation to the president, and contractual authority.

President Mary Spilde said feedback on the college governance proposal includes concerns about workload impact, release time, decision turn-around time, and others. The final governance document will be presented for board approval in April.

Updated budget projections show a reduction in tuition revenue due to enrollment trends, reported Vice President Marie Matsen. While the projected bottom line for this year and next still looks good, Matsen cautioned against complacency because state funding is still the college's major source of revenue.

Other reports covered outcomes from the board's strategic conversation with school district superintendents; cash flow; and accreditation standards.

Under Statements from the Audience, several people advocated for reinstating baseball; and several others encouraged the board to allow the ASLCC financial ballot measures to go to the students for a vote.

A benchmark on employee headcount showed decline from budget reductions, vacancies, and substantial completion of bond construction.

The meeting adjourned at 9:28 p.m. The next regular meeting is set for Wednesday, April 14, at 6:30 p.m. in the Boardroom, Building 3. Submitted by Joan Aschim.

FOUNDATION SEEKS DISTINGUISHED ALUMNI NOMINEES

The Lane Community College Foundation is seeking nominees for four Distinguished Alumni Awards in celebration of the college's upcoming 40th anniversary. The awards will go to one alumnus from each of the past four decades who completed at least 30 credit hours at Lane or earned an associate's degree. Nominees should have demonstrated achievement in their chosen profession, service to the community, or outstanding contribution to the college. The awards will be presented at the Foundation's annual Harvest Dinner on Friday, October 29.

Lane acknowledged outstanding alumni for its 25th anniversary, including John Lively, Sue Prichard, David Spriggs, and Sid and Hank Voorhees.

Voters overwhelmingly approved the establishment of Lane Community College by a 5-to-1 margin in an election held October 19, 1964. Today, Lane is recognized as one of the top community colleges in the country by the League for Innovation in the Community College. Lane is one of only 20 board member colleges in the 700-member association, the only League college in Oregon, and one of only 12 Vanguard Learning Colleges designated by the League to recognize excellence. Nomination forms for the Distinguished Alumni Award are available at <http://www.lanecc.edu/foundatn/alumni.htm> or by calling the Foundation office at (541) 465-5135. ## NATIVE AMERICAN WORD FOR THE WEEK

Dr. Don Addison, American Indian Languages instructor at Lane, offers the following Native American word for the week. The Choctaw word "TEEK-EEN-ha-SHEE," pronounced with vocal stress or accents on the syllables in capital letters, and a nasalized sound for "EEN," literally means "Women's Month." This reference illustrates that as the vernal equinox moves the calendrical cycle into spring, March 21 or 22 is a sacred season bringing forth a new year; concurrent with that is the implicit belief that women are regarded as sacred and must be treated with respect, because they bring new life into the world. In their traditional Choctaw calendar, "TEEK-EEN-ha-SHEE" designated approximately what we now call March-April, and among the first fruits of this new year are the mulberries, whose name is subsequently used for the month of May, "ha-SHEE-BEE-hee," or "mulberry month." In the AIL 100 Foundations of American Indian Languages course this spring term, students will explore Native views of gender and how sacredness is not only attached to the land, but also to the whole female population and their ability to bring forth new life, which is also observed in nature, by the eventual appearance of the mulberries which feed the people. This springtime "new year" seems much more logical than the Gregorian January 1, in the middle of winter.

KLCC SPRING RADIOTHON BEGINS APRIL 2

Public radio station KLCC's on-air campaign for new and renewing members begins Friday, April 2, at 6 a.m. during National Public Radio's Morning Edition program. Spring Radiothon will continue until 5:30 p.m. Thursday, April 8, or until the goal of $255,000 is met -- whichever comes first! The pre-Radiothon Thon Buster campaign is now underway. Listeners are encouraged to shorten Radiothon by mailing donations to KLCC before Radiothon begins. Every dollar received at KLCC by 5 p.m. April 1 reduces the Radiothon goal. Listeners can contribute on-line from the KLCC web site at www.klcc.org. KLCC is the primary NPR affiliate in the Eugene/Springfield area, reaching communities from the Coast to Bend and Roseburg to Salem. KLCC depends on listener contributions for 40 percent of its total operating budget. This fiscal year KLCC must raise a total of $550,000 from the listening audience to sustain current levels of service. Listeners are encouraged to become members of KLCC by becoming a Thon Buster now, or by calling 463-6001 or (800) 922-3682 beginning April 2. Submitted by Gayle Chisholm, ext. 6000.

FACULTY TO TEACH ENERGY MANAGEMENT WORKSHOP IN BEIRUT

Two energy management instructors at Lane will teach energy efficiency and renewable energy technology to faculty from the American University of Beirut, the Jordan University of Science and Technology, the Palestine Polytechnic University, and Birzeit University, at a workshop in Beirut, Lebanon, April 26-30.

Roger Ebbage and Mike Hatten are instructors in Lane's two-year energy management associate degree program. They also train and certify professionals through the program's Northwest Energy Education Institute. They participated in a similar workshop last year in Cypress.

The workshop is funded by a grant from the U.S. Department of State. The AUB is coordinating the workshop, part of a larger project to improve the region's educational capacity in the areas of energy efficiency and renewable energy technologies. "The initial challenge to the energy sectors in each of the countries of the region is to improve operational efficiency to minimize the energy sector's financial impact on national budgets, and to reduce negative impact on the environment," says the AUB. The region also needs to "reform and restructure its energy sector," and values the "American experience in performance testing, efficiency certification, alternative fuels, energy codes and norms, management practices, and financing mechanisms."

Ebbage and Hatten will conduct an energy audit on the AUB campus as well as contribute to program development discussions for the universities.

For more information, contact Ebbage at ext. 3977.

REMINDER: CALL FOR SPRING CONFERENCE SESSIONS PROPOSALS

A representative group of employees from the unions, Faculty Professional Development, and Strategic Learning Initiative, along with members of faculty, classified, and management, are planning this year's spring conference. The conference will provide all employees with the opportunity to learn together and to focus on Lane becoming more of a learning-centered college. Whether you are in the classroom or supporting the learning in the classroom, you are invited to participate. Every session is open to all employees. The title of this year's spring conference is "Learning and Working Together: Privilege, Power and Difference in Our Lives." Allan G. Johnson, author of "Privilege, Power and Difference," will be the keynote speaker and will conduct several sessions in the afternoon. The day is designed to be relevant, thought provoking, and linked to future activities; activities that build momentum and are sustainable. To assure that the afternoon is filled with diverse learning opportunities, we are asking for proposals for afternoon sessions that are aligned with the theme of the conference. The focus of proposals should be enhancing our awareness of different groups and understanding different perspectives. All managers, classified staff and faculty are encouraged to submit proposals to Anna Kate Malliris by hardcopy, at the Office of Instruction and Student Services, Building 3, or via e-mail at mallirisa@lanecc.edu . All proposals are due by 4 p.m. on Thursday, April 1. Depending on the number of proposals submitted, not all proposals will be accepted. The spring conference planning committee: Julie Baker, Ellen Cantor, Dennis Carr, Sonya Christian, Tim Craig, Jim Garcia, Amy Gaudia, Dennis Gilbert, Maurice Hamington, Jean Jordan, Patrick Lanning, Elaine Marsh, Anne McGrail, Jerry Ross, Jim Salt, Russell Shitabata, Wendy Simmons, Gloria Vanderhorst, Mark Williams. Submitted by Tim Craig.

2003 PERS STATEMENTS TO BE DISPURSED IN SEPTEMBER, NOT APRIL

It has been announced by PERS that the annual statements, normally received on campus in April, will not be disbursed for 2003 until approximately September. Many reasons exist for the delay including legislative changes and pending legal suits. Submitted by Vicki Ellison, ext. 5113.

FASTPASS UPDATE

The Lane Transit District Board decided at its March 17 meeting that the FastPass, distributed through the LCC Bookstore, will be available through summer term. LTD had originally planned to eliminate that pass at the end of spring term. Submitted by Susan Tatar.

EVENTS

NEW EXHIBIT IN ART GALLERY

You are cordially invited to attend a show of "MEM: Memory-Memorial/#3 Earth" by installation artist Naomi Kasumi from March 29-April 22 in the Lane Community College Art Gallery. An artist's lecture will be given Thursday, April 1 at 3:30 p.m. in Forum Building 17, Room 309. A reception will follow from 5-7 p.m. in the Art Gallery. Submitted by Mary Jo Workman.

WOMEN'S CENTER FRIDAY VIDEO

CHANGING WITH THE TIDES WORKSHOPS

Classified staff should plan on attending the Changing with the Tides Workshops. The CPDT will present two sets of workshops beginning at 7:30 a.m. on Wednesday, April 7 and continuing all day until 5 p.m. In an ongoing effort to provide increased staff development opportunities, both within and outside the main campus, the presentations are designed to provide you with a variety of methods that help manage the levels of stress that you deal with daily.

Keynote address: "Lower Your Stress by Strengthening Your Funny Bone." Do you consider Roloids a pizza topping? Does your inner child want to be adopted by someone less stressed out? Do you chew other people's fingernails? Let Leigh Anne Jasheway-Bryant teach you how to find the funny in everything life throws at you (including organically-grown tomatoes). You'll leave with your smile muscles thoroughly massaged, giggling a new mantra, and ready to face stress head on.

Afternoon workshop: Yoga. "My name is Verna and I will be presenting the workshop on yoga in the afternoon. My intention in this class is to present to the staff several ways of using yoga techniques during the day. The outcome is to have people gain enough understanding about breathing, posture, movement, and focus so they can intercede physically when energy dips or body tension escalates; anytime, anywhere, especially at work. Wear loose, comfortable clothing and don't have lot of food in the stomach."

Keep an eye on The Daily for more information regarding the details of this exciting training opportunity for the classified staff. The workshops are designed for you to choose the presentations that work best for you. Please let us know when you plan to attend, a.m. or p.m. or both by sending an e-mail to cpdt@lanecc.edu or call ext. 7775. Submitted by Dean Middleton, Chairperson, CPDT.

The more hands-on the better, and students are encouraged to participate. Call Deborah Reedal, ext. 3509 to confirm your participation and/or place at this special event. #### CESAR CHAVEZ CELEBRATION IN SPRINGFIELD

Springfield's second annual celebration of the life of Cesar Chavez is scheduled for Thursday, April 1, and Latino students at Springfield High are busy rehearsing to present a Luis Valdez play, "Los Vendidos" ("The Sell-outs"). Performers are members of the SHS Ganas Club and their adviser, Juan Cuadros. The 7 p.m. program will take place one day following the birthday of Cesar Chavez at Springfield High (in the auditorium), 875 North 7th. The event is hosted by the high school MEChA group and sponsored by Springfield Alliance for Equality and Respect. Luis Valdez, one of 10 children in a farmworker family, was the founder of the El Teatro Campesino. The Teatro began as a theater for striking farmworkers and their union. During the April 1 event, Jose Chavez, Lane faculty in English, Foreign Language and Speech, will talk briefly about the significance of the Teatro Campesino. The evening will include discussion with the young performers, music by Jim Garcia, Lane Diversity Coordinator, and Jorge Navarro, refreshments, and presentation of a SAfER Human Rights Leadership Award. The event is free. This year's celebration follows closely the naming of a new Eugene school for Cesar E. Chavez, an effort in which youth were leaders. Now Springfield youth from immigrant families are stepping forward and inviting the community to join them in honoring the great co-founder of the United Farm Workers union. SAfER is a community-based group promoting human rights. It is a program of Community Alliance of Lane County (CALC). For more information, please contact Marion Malcolm, 726-7377 or 688-0195, or Juan Cuadros, Multicultural Liaison at Springfield High, 954-9798. Submitted by Jim Garcia, Diversity Coordinator.
