Wednesday, April 20 TORCH

Vol. I No. 5

LANE COMMUNITY COLLEGE, 200 N. Monroe, Eugene, Oregon 97402

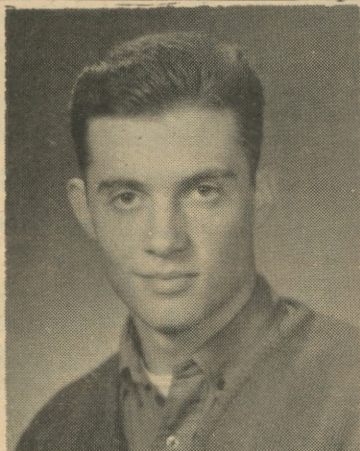

April 18, 1966

Bob Wimberly

"I am truly interested in the functioning of student government and if elected will do my absolute best to see that the good work of this year's council is continued and possibly bettered," says Bob Wimberly, candidate for president of the Lane student body.

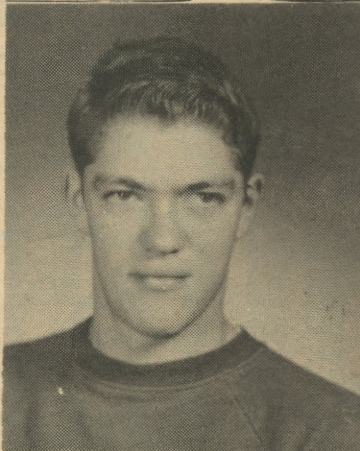

Bob would like the student body of LCC to function as a single organization, even though classes are now held on "two-plus" campuses. In order to achieve this goal, he feels that there must be an active student council that will be responsible, with help from the student body, for establishing increased scholastic, civic and extracurricular activity. There must be healthy student participation in government by voting, serving on non-permanent committees and visiting student council meetings. Better council-student communication can be achieved, he feels, by council representatives making better reports to their divisions.

Darrol Gesh

Darrol, technical drafting major, would like to succeed himself as second vice president on the council.

"More students need to take a more active part in the student government and in student activities," says Darrol. "I would like the opportunity of continuing to be of assistance in hopes of further unifying the student body and making LCC a better school for all."

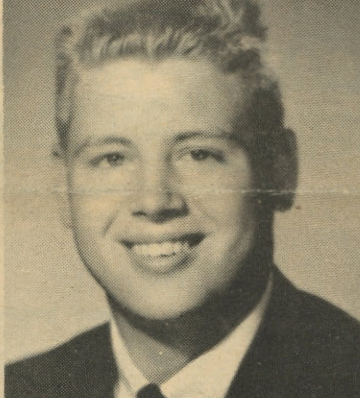

Jerry Wolfe

Jerry Wolfe of Horton, A&I student, is a candidate for vice president of the student body. "In running for this office I plan to support the wishes of the majority of the students and promote a better student government," is Jerry's campaign statement. He graduated from Triangle Lake High School and attended Oregon College of Education before coming to LCC.

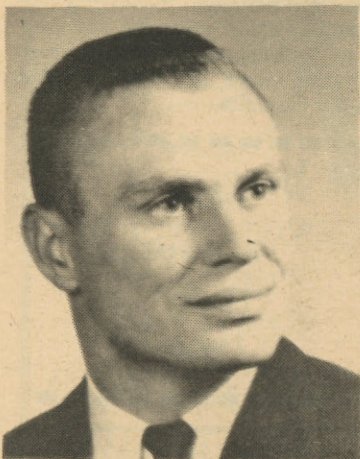

GiGi Gamble

Gi Gi Gamble, who served this year on student council as student body treasurer would like to continue her student council career next year as a representative of the social science division. "I have a deep interest in student government and would like to help in the further development of the LCC system," says Gi Gi Gamble. While in high school at Junction City, Gi Gi was active in Pep club, and has been on both the temporary council and the permanent one this year at Lane.

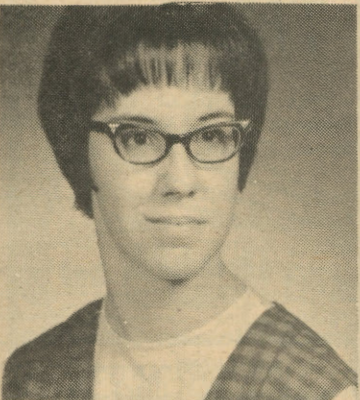

Dan McGregor

A Cottage Grove High School graduate, where he participated in all sports, Dan McGregor, technical drafting student, is a candidate for student body treasurer. He attended Boy's State at Oregon State University in 1964 and feels his high school activity experiences have qualified him for the position he seeks on the council.

Gary Keen

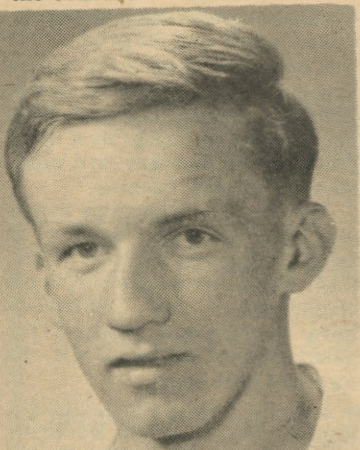

Gary Keen, candidate for treasurer of the student body, would like to see LCC publish an illustrated bulletin to show others what our school has to offer. He feels the intramural athletic program should be expanded to include other sports such as bowling and golf. "This is a very fine school, and we should give it recognition so it will attract more high quality students," was Gary's statement. He has already graduated from Oregon State College in Mechanical Technology in Agriculture, and came to Lane last fall to take the A&P course so he can go into aircraft mechanics. At OSU he was a member of Ag Engineers and was on the Ag Exec. Council for two years there. In high school he was active in FFA, and earned a state farmer degree. At OSU he was a 3-year letterman in crew. He was a member of the OSU Flying Club for two years and is now assisting in the formation of the new Flying Titans at Lane.

Phillis Booth

From sunny California comes the candidate for corresponding secretary, Phillis Booth. She graduated from Lassen Union High School, Susanville last June and is now living in Eugene. She is a Liberal Arts major.

In high school she was very active, holding offices in the Future Teacher's Club, Spanish Club, and History Club. "I want to take a more active part in the progress of this school," says Phillis.

John Taylor

John A. Taylor Jr., first year aircraft and powerplant student and 4-year U.S. Marine Corps veteran, is running for representative of the mechanics division. A native of Maine, where he graduated from Unity High School in 1960, John has travelled widely throughout the United States. After he finishes the A&P course in 1967, he plans to return to Pennsylvania or somewhere in the northeastern part of the U.S. In his few spare hours outside the A&P course he works for Cuddeback Veneer Co. in Eugene. He has been active at Lane in the formation of the Flying Titan Club.

Councilmen Direct Spring Elections

This is Campaign Week at Lane Community as evidenced by the posters and signs advertising candidates. Associated student body officers for 1966-67, will be elected Wednesday, April 20. Election polls will be staffed by student council members from 10:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. Vice president Dennis Ryan, is in charge of the elections.

The Spring Convention of Community College Student Body Officers will be held at Pendleton, April 29, and 30. About nine of Lane's officers and council representatives will review the year's council activities and exchange ideas with officers from colleges such as Treasure Valley College in Ontario Oregon and Portland Community College.

Student council sponsored five pigeons in the Kiwanis Club Pigeon Race for the benefit of a Children's hospital. The race was held in conjunction with the White Water Boat Parade, April 17.

Due to the frequency of visitors during student council meetings every Tuesday afternoon in the KRVM Studio, a visitation committee was formed. Penny Shields, Gary McNabb, and Jim Bard formulated a visitor's rule guide. The following rules were established: a. Visitors are welcome to all Student Council meetings. They are also welcome to bring forth any ideas or questions, and to discuss freely any motion put on the floor. b. Visitors may serve on committees, and they have the right to be a chairman of such committees. c. A visitor may not make a motion but can present it through a Student Council member who will, in turn, put it on the floor for discussion. d. A visitor also may not second or vote on any motion or amendments, but is free to discuss any amendments.

The results of the Dress Code opinion poll were as follows: 192 yes votes opposed to 59 no votes favored men wearing bermuda shorts to classes, 182 yes against 71 no favored women wearing slacks to classes, and 236 yes votes against 14 no votes favored wearing shorts and slacks to college-sponsored athletic and extracurricular activities.

The voter registration committee consisting of Karen Moe and Nancy Wendt reported that 90 persons were registered during the voter registration campaign.

Student council has accepted the Christian Student Fellowship constitution and the Flying Club constitution. The Geography Club's constitution is now being reviewed. Second vice-president Darrol Gesh has drawn up a charter which each recognized LCC club will possess.

Patricia Norris

The candidate for recording secretary is Patricia Norris, Liberal Arts major, who has been on THE TORCH staff since its beginning both as business manager and reporter. A graduate of North Eugene High School, Pat has been active on the LCC campus all year.

Students Plan Astoria Trip

A coming event at LCC is the voluntary field trip to the Astoria area which is currently being planned by the history and geography departments. It will be a two-day bus trip Saturday and Sunday, May 7 and 8. The Astoria region will be the main point of concentration, with the purpose of visiting the national monument at Fort Clatsop, the Columbia River Maritime Museum, Fort Stevens, and the area around the mouth of the Columbia River.

Informal contact has been made with the students and administration at Clatsop College for informal entertainment by their students Saturday evening. It is hoped that this event might lead to other similar get-togethers among students of Oregon community colleges enabling all two-year students to have a chance to see most of the historical and geographical points of interest in Oregon before they graduate.

Students participating in the field trip will stay overnight in Astoria, possibly at Hotel Elliot, the overnight home of the river pilots waiting to take ships to Portland.

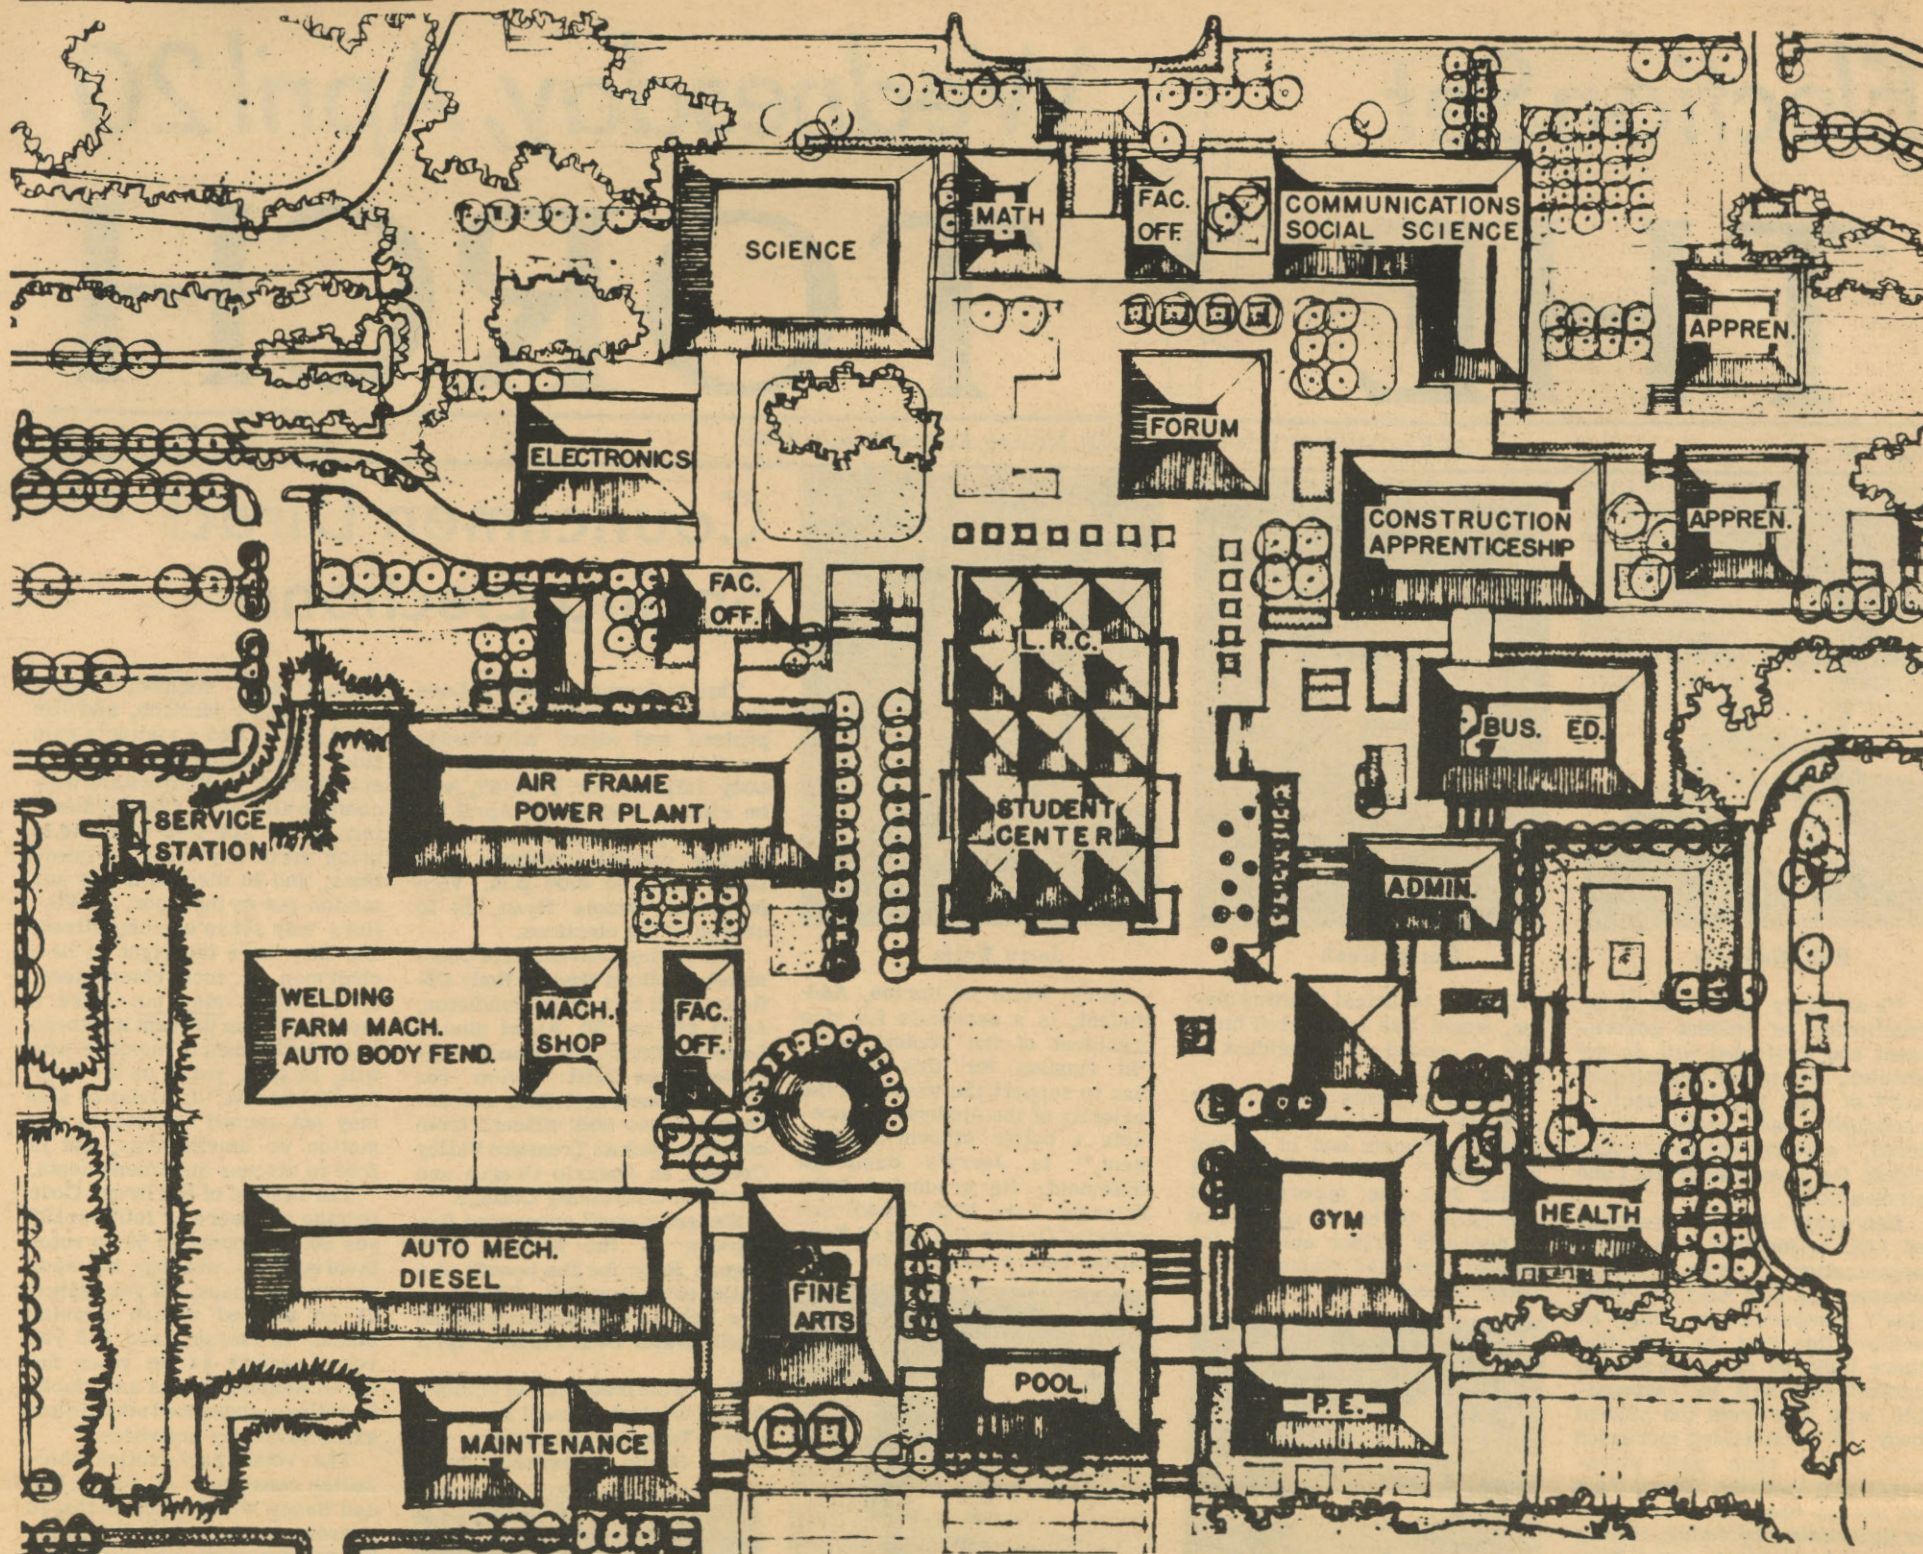

The cost of the field trip will be paid for by the participating students. Although the trip is primarily designed for history and geography students, if there are any vacant seats on the bus these will be available to other interested LCC students.

Ken Hennrich

Ken Hennrich, A&P major from Portland, is running for representative from the mechanics division. He attended Jefferson High School from 1957-60 and served four years after that before attending Portland Community College and transferring to Lane. "I would like to contribute as much as possible to the success and expansion of Lane Community College," Ken says.

First Plans For New Campus Released

Planning is moving ahead rapidly in the development of the Lane Community College permanent campus, with plans for eventual housing of 6,500 daytime students. Anticipated daytime enrollment will reach 3,200 students by the fall of 1968, target date for opening of the first stage of the new campus.

The challenge of planning a new campus entails not only meeting the immediate program objectives of the College, but planning a campus that will meet the needs of programs in the 1980's and 1990's. Pictured above is the proposed campus layout. Not all buildings shown on the layout will be constructed at one time; the campus will be built in two or three stages, with the first buildings placed around the site in such a way that there will be little feeling of incompleteness before later building is begun.

Center of the campus will be the Library-Learning Resources Center and the Student Center building. Students will be interested in knowing that 4,800 parking spaces are planned for the 6,500 daytime enrollment.

The administration wishes to actively involve LCC students in the detail planning for the new campus in the months ahead. We invite comments regarding the campus from students and faculty, and opportunity will be given in the future for expression of such opinions.

More Women at LCC

Things are shaping up around Lane Community College.

The shapes are girls and the figures are getting better. Such figures as one girl to every four boys are better than one to six, as it was last term.

Along with those figure changes are other significant totals which have changed. Mr. I. S. Hakanson, dean of students said the spring term enrollment has "exceeded all expectations," and "the student body of Lane Community College now consists of approximately 1500 day, im 1500 daytime students."

The number of new and transfer students stands at 260; however, the number of transfer students is less than last term. The increase is also partly due to the 230 MDTA (Manpower Development Training Act) students who are starting new courses.

Registration went very smoothly this time, according to Dean Hakanson. He also stated that many of the sections are full, which may partially be because of fewer drop-outs last term.

Dean Hakanson encourages girls who wish to enroll in radio, television, drafting, and other such classes to do so.

"Don't allow shyness to overcome talent," is his advice to the girls. "There is a wide field open to female draftsmen."

Since the odds are getting better even as far as figures go, the girls may yet prove that in addition to being better cooks, they are just as capable as the men in repairing TV sets. By Tom Black

Counselor's Column

There have been questions asked concerning the presence of and the qualifications for scholarships given to Lane Community College students. The staff feels that these questions to Mrs. Howard and her answers will clear up many of your queries.

Are there scholarships available for students enrolled at Lane Community College? Yes, there are a limited number. Some organizations and individuals have contributed money for scholarships which will be awarded next year.

How do I apply for a scholarship? LCC has regular application forms which can be obtained in the counseling office on either campus. A student desiring a scholarship should ask for an application and submit the completed form to the Dean of Students' office.

On what basis are scholarships awarded? They are most often given on the basis of grades or scholastic achievement and need. Oftentimes other factors such as activity record or a student's major are considered because some scholarships may be earmarked for a vocational student, one majoring in education, etc.

What is the monetary value of most scholarships? Usually they are for tuition only, but occasionally they cover additional school expenses such as books.

Who is most likely to receive a scholarship? To date, most of the scholarships at LCC are awarded to incoming students to encourage them to continue their education beyond high school; however, the school is expanding its program to gather funds so more and more scholarships will be available to sophomores.

Instructors In Midwest

During the past week Mrs. Ellene Goldsmith and Mr. Cecil Hodges, LCC staff members visited the Middle West for the purpose of viewing facilities and programs of junior colleges in that region and acquiring information which will be helpful in planning for the new Lane campus. Some of the colleges on their itinerary were Chicago City Junior College, Delta College in Saginaw, Michigan and St. Mary's Junior College in Minneapolis. Mr. Hodges planned to visit the Air Force Academy in Denver. Mrs. Goldsmith will be investigating nursing and home economics courses and Mr. Hodges will survey health and physical education offerings.

Variety of Sports Offered This Term

Track, softball, tennis and golf will conclude this year's LCC intramural program. All activities are to begin within the next few weeks. Anyone with questions pertaining to these sports should contact his regional manager or Athletic Director Cecil Hodges.

Softball

Softball competition this spring will be conducted as basketball was last term. Regional teams will be formed and play a round-robin schedule, with the two top teams contending for the league championship at the close of the season. Standout players include Bill Ford from Corvallis, Harvey Dolan from Finn Rock and Dave Gibson from Thurston. Anyone who wishes to play ball should contact his regional manager for more information.

Track and Field

This year's track program will feature good competition in all 17 events. Three to four meets are tentatively scheduled with all athletes urged to enter open meets, competing unattached, or forming their own track clubs. Individual standouts include: shot put, Karl Leuthe, 52'8", Junction City; discus, Jerry Cartright, 139'8", Springfield; javelin, Rick Benjamin, 182'11", Springfield; high jump, Bob Jones, 6'0", Eugene; long jump, George Momb, 21'3", Waltherville; 100-yd. dash, John Hull 10.4, Buffalo, N.Y.; 220-yd. dash, John Hull 21.9, Buffalo, N.Y.; Dick Robertson, 2:07.6, Seaside; mile run, Bart Brewer, Springfield; 2-mile run, Dan Weber, Springfield.

Golf

The LCC Intramural golf program should offer good competition in all phases of the game. Individual standouts include Leonard Olson from Sweet Home and O. Jay Omlid from Springfield. Olson is holder of every golf record at Sweet Home High School and has won many amateur tournaments. Omlid has been playing golf for 12 years and shoots in the low 80's. His father owns and operates Omlid Golf Way in Waltherville.

Diver Enters Florida Meet

Tom Speight, liberal arts major, spent the week of April 4 in Tampa, Florida, competing in the nation swimming and diving championships. The only contestant from Oregon in a group of 62 students from all over the United States, Tom took 28th in the semi-finals in 3-meter diving competition.

Asked about the weather in sunny Florida, Tom remarked that he saw a tornado. He plans to attend the summer nationals swimming and diving this year in Nebraska.

Yearbook Due About June 1

Lane Community College's first year book, THE TITAN, will be available to the students the last of spring term.

Two hundred yearbooks had to be sold before the project was financially feasible, so staff members spent the first three weeks selling subscriptions. This left only six weeks for taking pictures, writing copy and pasting up the pages of the book. The staff worked weekdays, nights and Saturdays to meet the deadline, but were able to mail the completed copy to the American Yearbook Company in California two days ahead of the deadline.

U.S. History Instructor From Pioneer Lane Family

Gerald Rasmussen

By Ardythe Tym

Professor Gerald Rasmussen, history instructor at Lane Community College, has an interesting biographical history which dates back to the time when his grandparents arrived in the United States. Three of them immigrated from Denmark, and one came from the Faroe Islands which are located in the North Atlantic. His father was born in Colorado, and when he became eleven years old his family moved to the northwest and settled in Junction City, Oregon. Later his father married a Junction City girl, and they started a new home.

Mr. Rasmussen was born on this new home. He spent his boyhood days in Junction City, and then in 1944 he joined the United States Navy. He served in the Navy for two years which included a nine-month assignment in Japan immediately after the end of the war. Afterwards he began his college education at the University of Oregon. He also studied at Grandview Junior College in Des Moines, Iowa. In 1948 he traveled to Europe and there attended the Askov Folk College in Denmark. There he met a Danish girl, Sigrid Pedersen, who became his wife in 1949. The couple returned to the United States, and Mr. Rasmussen completed his undergraduate work at the University of Oregon.

After graduating from the University of Oregon Mr. Rasmussen taught for five years in the public schools of Oregon and was a graduate assistant in the department of history at the university for one year. In 1957 he began teaching American history and government at Grandview Junior College. He lived in Des Moines, Iowa, where that college is located, for six years. During that time he completed his graduate study, and in 1960 he received the MA degree in American History.

In 1963 he received a Full-bright teaching grant from the federal government. This enabled him to teach American history, government, education, and church history in Danish colleges. During the one year program he made guest appearances and lectured in Esbjerg College of Education, Norre Nessum College of Education, and Ribe College of Education. All three colleges lie on the western part of the Peninsula of Jutland.

He comments about his teaching experience in Denmark by saying, "One of the best ways of gaining perspective of one's own country is to teach about it in a foreign country."

Mr. Rasmussen now resides with his wife and family in Junction City, Oregon. His four children attending school are one boy age nine and three girls ages eight, eleven and thirteen.

TO THE FAIR SEX OF LANE

HEY GANG!

It's only a short stroll down the hill or down our new blue and white stairs to Alexander's. To Alexander's, to Alexander's for our new spring toggles among them Gay Nineties blouses. Fritzie of California has revived granny or flaring leg-of-mutton sleeves, trimmed them with tiny mother of pearl buttons and stitched them to cotton blouses in daring red and blue prints. Only $3.98 in a large assortment of sizes.

Whether or not you're partial to Herb Alpert's brand of "Whipped Cream", you'll love Fritzie's whipped cream blouses. You'll be pert and pretty in a polka dotted blouse in navy blue trimmed with white cuffs, scoop neck, and detachable white ties. Klopman, the fabric you can lean on, has whipped up a handy travel fabric. Would you believe, so wrinkle resistant you can pack it in a suitcase or handbag without worry? Only $5.98.

To Alexander's, to Alexander's for a "Safari" of slacks in price-dyed, novelty homespun rayon and cotton. The latest on the campus scene... tapered tapestry print slacks with unabashed daisies lounging on a navy, fern green, or indigo blue background. Or if you prefer, belted stovepipe slacks in "Desert Dune," a crisp and sunlit new fabric created in California and made of rayon, acetate, and cotton. What colors? Oh yes, colorfast cornflower blue, dandelion yellow, and gold-colors to light up Omar Khayjams face.

Yipes, stripes! Alexander's got 'em. Striped turtle-neck shells to wear with your "Desert Dune" slacks or the other sportswear you plan to buy at Alexander's. Yellow, orange, lime green, baby blue, navy, or pink stripes on backgrounds of antron, dupont-nylon, the fabric with a soft sheen. $4.98. in sizes 34-40.

Or top your slacks with a poor boy for the mod look great with the wide belts of Alexander's stovepipes.

For the astute student, Lill of Irvington Place has created paisley suits. Sophisticated and sassy little suits with straight tailored man collars, cutaway jackets, and A-line skirts. The same suit comes in pink or yellow printed cotton. Yours for a modest $18.00. Other suits by Barry Casuals and Glenora Juniors Ltd.

For your "Midsummer Night's Dreams", snuggle up in a granny nightgown. Red and blue prints with a v of lace and velvet down the front. Tuck you curls into a matching authentic dusting cap!

Maybe you thought you'd outgrown them, but Alexander's has rompers in your size. Yes, rompers, brief cotton with elasticized legs, trimmed in passion pink or frothy lime green. $3.98.

To Alexander's to Alexander's for.....HEY GANG! WAIT FOR ME! Sue, Mary, Carol, (hey, quit pushing!) Watch out for Sandi! She's a cripple. Hop! Hop! Hop! Oh, well, those stairs will only hold so many kids at a time!

Yours,
Karen
