

Delue to direct first LCC play

Theatre season premieres December 2

Lane Community College's new theatre season will be spotlighted Dec. 2 when "Comings and Goings" and "One Hundred and First" premiere LCC's new "Contemporary theatre season". Both plays have been singled out by critics for their contemporary relevance.

"Comings and Goings" which Director Norman Delue describes as not a play as a play is usually known, but is simply a "theatre game". It has four actors that use words, body movement, and interpretation rather than sets, costumes and scripts.

Delue said the play will demonstrate the creativity of the actors. An example of this is one scene in which an actor and actress play the part of an electrical plug. In another scene an actor plays an automatic food vending machine.

The actors and actresses change places and parts in rotation. During rehearsals for "Comings and Goings" it soon becomes obvious that the play is like a trampoline for the actors. The play is "fluid" rather than solid in form. It is informal, fun to watch, has sparkle, and is as close to "improvisation" as the theatre can come without being strictly improvisational. "Comings and Goings" is an experiment in human relationships.

Student performers are Sandy Isom, Jackie McClure, Ralph Steadman and Steve Wehmeir.

"Hundred and First" concerns itself with a New York family that just miss out on being listed as the one hundredth "neediest" family in New York City.

It is the story of the trials and tribulations of the down-and-out Stockstill family to try and get into the exclusive top one hundred "neediest" list of the New York Times newspaper.

Mr. Francis Xavier Stockstill, the breadwinner of the Stockstill household, and his wife Ethel are at verbal swords with each other, and Mrs. Stockstill's eccentric mother and the two Stockstill children are all trying to reach the exclusive and coveted top one hundred "neediest" families in New York City.

The exchange of verbal bullets between themselves and anyone that happens into their tenement apartment is one of the high-lights of "One Hundred and First."

Mr. Stockstill's opening line, "My family, my family! What did I ever do to get a family? Well, I know what I done, but Student actors include John Savage as poor Mr. Stockstill, Steve Harper as the teetering Grandma Stockstill, Marquita Clayborn playing young Mary Agness Stockstill, Katherine McCullum as a social worker with good intentions, Twila Abbot as a busybody neighbor, Ed Chambers as a judge, Diane Chambers as court clerk, and Mike Butler as a policeman. Set design and lighting are done by veteran stage designer Dave Sherman.

"Comings and Goings" and "One Hundred and First" will start at 8:00 p.m. Dec. 2-6 in the Forum Theatre.

Tickets sell for $1.50 and no seats will be reserved in the 400 seat Forum Theatre. Tickets may be obtained from the theatre box office in the basement of the Administration Building. If ordered by mail, ticket requests should be accompanied by a check made payable to LCC and a self-addressed stamped envelope, and should be addressed to the Comings and Goings and Hundred and First Box Office, Lane Community College, 4000 East 30th Ave, Eugene, Oregon. Tickets may be ordered by telephone at 747-4501, Ext. 310.

NORMAN DELUE, DIRECTOR that ain't what I mean." "One Hundred and First" is a rollicking farce and social commentary on the social and welfare system in the United States.

Van Orden appointed to park board

Plant Supervisor for Lane Community College, Walter Van Orden, has been appointed to the Board of Directors of the Willamalane Park District.

Mr. Van Orden, who is active in the Lions and Service clubs of Springfield and is a firm believer in civic duty and responsibility, readily accepted the position when it was offered.

The Board of Directors of the Willamalane Park District is formed of similar public minded citizens of Springfield area who meet once or twice a month and determine the policies of the park district.

Lane Board approves bus service

Bus service to LCC will continue to the end of the school year.

The Board of Administration has allocated $3,500 from the Contingency Fund to the bus company to ease the deficit incurred. This is half the cost of running the service for the year.

The service was in danger of being canceled because the number of fares was insufficient.

The Board approved the subsidy because several students could not attend LCC without the service and because the Board felt it was a service to other students in case their normal transportation was unavailable, according to William Cox, Dean of College Services.

A petition with 91 signatures requesting the service had been presented to the Board.

Students are encouraged to use the bus so that the remaining half of its cost can be realized.

Senate okays housing resolution

A resolution to form a new Housing Office jointly with the Student Senate of U of O was passed Nov. 20 by the Student Senate of LCC.

The new office was felt necessary, according to John R. Hill, Chairman of the Housing Bill Committee, because the UO administration Housing Office and the LCC Administration have failed to provide necessary housing information and services to students. At the present time, stated Hill 25% of all rentals in the Eugene-Springfield area are to students and low-income families who, in some cases, pay inflated rents for inferior housing.

The proposed Housing Office will investigate: rental increase patterns in the Eugene-Springfield area and landlord practice and organization. It will act on student rental complaints, coordinate student housing information and work with University and Community Planning Councils to encourage development of the area in terms of student needs.

Funding for the Housing Office would consist of a contingency fund, $200.00 of which would come from the LCC student Budget (Line 781) and $200 from the UO Student Budget. Court costs would come out of the contingency fund.

BSU plans dance

A dance and concert will be presented by the Lane Community College Black Student Union on Saturday, December 6, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. It will be held in the LCC gym, Health Building.

Well known performers such as Wolfman Jack, Bo Diddley, Big Joe Turner, Marvin and the Uptights and the United Six will be featured.

Advance tickets for the dance are available at the Student Activities Office and the Multi-Cultural Room 235 for $3.50 per person. Tickets at the door will cost $4.00.

Three students threaten lawsuit

Three Springfield students of Lane Community College have written a letter threatening legal action against the school unless their student body fees are refunded to them.

The letter contended that the $2.00 fee was taken from them against their wishes after they had refused to pay it, and that they were told they could not go to school unless it was paid. The students alleged that the fee was taken illegally and asked that $6.00 be refunded to them at their joint address.

Attorneys for LCC have advised the students that they feel there is no question about the legality or propriety of the fee since the Board of Education is authorized to establish "tuition rates and fees" under Oregon Revised Statute law.

thinking, views and situations. Dersl believes that "Poetry is the LIVING word. The trouble is keeping it out of the books." He also said that "poetry is a shaping, a teaching trip. Its purpose is to carry information, to get the word out."

Dersl, who has been making a living as a poet since before the Beats, likes to consider himself as "Between the generations." He writes his poetry about himself and his experiences. He says that a poet must do this, to best say what he wants to say and believe it.

For those that missed the first reading, there will be three more appearances by Dersl on Dec. 5, Jan. 9, and Jan. 16 at noon in the same location.

Pickering Enthusiastic About Lane

After almost four months as president of Lane Community College Dr. Robert L. Pickering is still unusually enthusiastic about what he described as "a great institution" in referring to LCC.

Obviously "turned on" to his subject, Pickering went on to elaborate on the qualities of Lane which he thinks make it unique among community colleges in the nation. Among them he stressed the quality of the people at LCC, mentioning students, staff and faculty, and focusing on their "willingness to do something" to help themselves and to solve problems which occur.

Dr. Pickering said that "the kinds of people that are here" help bring an "attitude of openness" into the consideration of mutual problems which is conducive to their solutions. In this connection, he stated that he personally maintains "an open door policy" and is ready to talk to any student at any mutually convenient time.

Dr. Pickering quoted Marvin Feldman, Special Consultant to U.S. Office of Education in Washington, D.C., who summarized his visit to LCC by describing it as "the most open college I've ever visited."

"LCC has the lowest tuition in the northwest". Dr. Pickering said, in mentioning some of the "reduced barriers" to education at LCC. Others are the opportunities for participation for the student in student government, joint student-staff commissions and study groups, joint discussion groups and a cafeteria where the faculty and staff can intermingle with the students.

Dr. Pickering was also proud of the efforts made by both staff and students toward meeting the educational needs of minority students by the formation of a black studies class, the increased hiring of minority race teachers and the establishment of the multi-cultural room.

ASCUS what is it ?

How many students at LCC know what A.S.C.U.S. stands for? The initials stand for Associated Students for Community Unified Services.

That explanation still does not answer the question, however.

A.S.C.U.S. is to LCC and the community much like V.I.S.T.A. is to the country. Membership consists of students interested in helping other students, the school, and people in the community in any way they can be of service. In this age of "non-involvement" and public apathy, A.S.C.U.S. should be able to find meaning in the word "service."

Past activities of the group at LCC have included service to blind students, guiding of tours during the LCC dedication and as drivers for Lane Human Resources cars.

Future activities planned by the group include the showing of special films three times a week in room 310 of the Forum Building. Admission to the films will be fifty cents. Announcements of weekly attractions will be published in The Torch.

A.S.C.U.S. meets each Tuesday at noon in Forum 305.

GED test given each week

General Educational Development Tests, for persons 18 years and older who wish to obtain the GED Certificate of equivalency, are administered at the LCC Testing Center every Monday and Thursday from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Friday from 5 to 8 p.m.

The GED tests cover five subject areas, including English grammar and usage, social studies, science, literature and mathematics.

These tests are open to any bona fide resident of Oregon, 18 years or older. The actual certificate is issued by the State Department of Education upon successful completion of the GED test. The GED certificate is not the same as a high school diploma. The GED certificate indicates that a person has attained general educational development equivalent to that of most high school graduates. The diploma indicates that the person has completed a prescribed academic program successfully.

LCC is the only GED Testing Center in the Eugene-Springfield area. Other centers are located in Roseburg, Corvallis, Albany and Florence.

A fee of $5 is charged for administering the tests and is payable before the test is taken. An additional $5 charge is requested by the State Department of Education for the issuance of the Certificate of Equivalency.

If a person should fail to achieve a satisfactory rating on one or more of the tests, he may take a re-test after suitable study and preparation. Books are available in the Testing Center on the second floor of the Center Building for persons wishing to review before taking the tests. Preparation studies may also be taken through the Adult Basic Education program at Lane.

For further information about the GED Tests, contact the Testing Center at 747-4501, Ext. 216.

Henning elected chess president

Last Thursday the Knights and Castles (the LCC Chess Club) held an election of officers. The results were: President, Jim Henning; Vice-president, Jihm Norris; Secretary and Treasurer, Linda Bates; Senate Representative, Ed Hoover.

After the election there was discussion about the revision of the club's constitution to fit more closely to club needs. New Chess sets have been purchased and membership cards have been ordered. A tournament clock is also on order.

The club is growing (total membership is now 27) and it has issued a standing invitation to all students and faculty to join.

The solution to last week's chess problem is (and there are two)

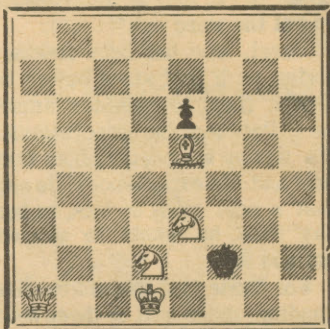

No. 1. Q--KN8; & R--Q2.

No. 2. Q--KN8; & R--Q7.

Did you get it right? If not, try again! This week's problem should be a little easier.

Chess sets are provided at noon in 209 of the Business Bldg., Monday through Friday.

Letter to the Editor

My country . . .

In the last few years, "Right-wingers" and "War Hawks" have monopolized the word PATRIOT, and given this label a negative connotation to those to whom it really belongs, the MODERATES, and given this label a negative those who do not buy the FACISTIC, unthinking, "My country right or wrong" motto. But now this country which is supposed to be the leader of the world, "an example to others," cannot take criticism without calling those dissatisfied with our present course, COMMUNISTS. Why is it, as soon as you disagree with our government you are cast aside and are no longer a "Patriotic," "America loving" citizen? Is this the decay that those of other countries would like to see break up this country?

Yes, Americans for a Peaceful World are dissenters of the war. But it's not just the Vietnam war, it's ALL wars. We have formed to try to educate ourselves and others to the fact that there can be peace on this earth. But peace isn't easy to obtain. It's going to be the hardest task that has ever been accepted. It has to be done, and it will be done, either by people coming together, or by nuclear war.

Americans for a Peaceful World meets on Monday at 4 p.m. Room 311 Forum. Our business is with life, not death. If this is your bag, we need you.

Tom Wheaton.

Can't see it . . .

There has been a lot of talk about how much money our Student Senate spends and how our Senators don't represent their departments or anything constructive in the Student Senate.

I personally can't see spending so much money as we do in the Senate. I can't see spending $75.00 for a court jester (poetry reading) for a very small group of students to listen to. But I can see spending $400.00 to send our cross country team to Pennsylvania and also spending $200.00 for a lady student whose house burned down, so that she can get something to wear and a place to live.

But do the students ever know about the good things that the Student Senate does for the students at LCC? No! People are more interested in the mistakes the Senate makes, so they can condemn and make fun of it.

It is the students' own fault if the Senate does nothing and just spends all its money on anything, because you, the Student Body, were too lazy or didn't care enough to go to the polls and vote. As a person said, "You made your bed, now lie in it."

So if the Student Senate turns out for the worst, you have no one to blame but yourself. And if you didn't vote, you should not even have the right to complain about the mistakes, because you are to blame that those people are in office, and no one else! At least they had the guts to care enough about the college and that's more that I can say about the majority of the students at LCC.

Stuart Baronti
Soph. Senator (H & P.E.)

West entrance to be exit only

More changes are being made in the traffic patterns of LCC. The newest is a "no left turn" sign at the first entrance to the west parking lot.

This will instead be changed to a one-way exit. This road was never planned as a college entrance and has caused many serious accidents.

According to Bill Cox, "The changing of the road may cause slight trouble getting into the campus, but this inconvenience is better than loss of property, injury and perhaps death."

LCC student wins $800 scholarship

Carolyn Moon, dental hygienist at LCC, is the winner of a scholarship of $800 from the American Fund for Education of the American Dental Association. She says she will use the money to go on to school and possibly become a teacher.

Carolyn was one of 16 students in the nation to receive the scholarship. Awards were made on the basis of grades, ability in dentistry class and need for financial assistance.

Two tournaments to be held in December

The Intramural Dept. will be sponsoring two tournaments during the first week of December.

December 1st marks the beginning date of the I.M. handball tournament.

December 3rd marks the date of the I.M. weightlifting tournament.

Handball tournament will consist of best-out-of-three to 21 games.

Weightlifting medals will be awarded to each first place winner in the seven different body weight classes along with a special trophy for the best lifter of the meet. The "Best Lifter of the Meet" award will be based on the total pounds lifted in ratio to body weight, in order to insure a fair chance to each participant. Also, special mention will be made of the winning teams based on the total pounds lifted by each team member in relation to total body weight.

Sign-up sheets and further information are available in the men's locker rooms and in the Intramural Office.

Trackmen to compete

LCC Trackmen will be competing in indoor track meets this winter. The Titans will be competing in a special small college's division.

Events held in the indoor meets are the 60 yard high hurdles, 60 yard dash, mile and two mile run, joggers mile, 500 and 1,000 yard run, mile, relay, pole vault, long jump, high jump, shotput and triple jump.

Any student interested in participating in these indoor meets should contact track coach Al Tarpenning as soon as possible.

"Raiders" issue

challenge to teams

Ray Hetlage, captain of "The Philips' Raiders", one of the competing weightlifting teams, has issued a challenge to all other teams. "I feel that there is no team on this campus strong enough to compare with what we can do!" he stated. "If you feel differently, prove it on Dec. 3. Good luck - because you're going to need it", he added. "We're tough!"

Turkey run set for tomorrow

Tomorrow (Wednesday, 26) marks the date for this year's Turkey Run.

The event is sponsored by the LCC Intramural Department.

Women students will predict their time over a 1 1/2 mile course. 1st place will be determined by the individual finishing closest to her predicted time.

Staff and Faculty will predict their time over a 2 mile course. 1st place will be determined by the individual finishing closest to his/her predicted time.

Men students will run a straight race of a 2 1/2 mile course.

Each division 1st place winner will receive a 15 lb. turkey and 2nd place, a 10 lb. turkey.

Participants will meet at 4:00 p.m. on the LCC track, directly behind the tennis courts.

Soccer team defeats U of O, 10-1

With three offensive players leading the way, Lane's soccer squad remained undefeated as they soundly thrashed the University of Oregon Canvasbacks 10 to 1 last Tuesday.

While Garbis Kataroyan, Fernando Seminario, and Ghazar Estefanian were making shreds of the Canvasback defense, Lane's defense, especially goalie Abdullah Sedairi, was able to watch the intramural football game on the next field.

Center forward Kataroyan got Lane's offense untracked when he scored midway through the first half. Seminario then concluded the first half scoring as he scored two quick goals. Lane enjoyed a 3-0 lead at the half.

Halfback Estefanian opened the second half scoring and quickly followed with a penalty kick which left the Canvasback goalie with his feet stuck in the mud.

Kataroyan and Seminario then took turns scoring goals as Lane piled up a 9-0 lead against the out-manned Canvasbacks.

Finally, late in the second half, Oregon did manage to get a goal on a shot which hit the goal post and bounced in.

Seminario ended the game's scoring with an unassisted break-away goal. He took a pass at midfield, dribbled down the field, faked out the Oregon fullback, and fired a left-footed shot past the goalie.

PCC takes meet

Portland Community College taught the LCC soccer team a lesson as they shut out the Titans 6-0 last Thursday. It was the first loss of the season for Lane.

With only one American in their entire starting line-up, Portland controlled the game both offensively and defensively. Using amazing quickness and pinpoint passing, they were able to keep Lane's defense busy all afternoon. PCC led 3-0 at half-time.

Portland scored with a variety of goals; everything from a 35 yard chip shot to a line drive which struck the goal post and bounded in.

Perhaps the most discouraging part of the day for Lane was the number of injuries. Two front-line starters were injured. Garbis Kataroyan was kicked in the ankle midway through the final half and was forced to sit out the remainder of the game. Team captain Bob Henderson suffered a cut over his right eye late in the game and also left the game.

Defensive standout Jack Johnson was also injured. Playing the game with a broken toe to begin with, Johnson injured both knees and had to leave the game early in the second half.

Braille typewriter donated to LCC

A new Braille typewriter, the first of its kind in the state, has been donated to Lane Community College by the Emerald Council for the Blind and the Eugene Lion's Club.

As the regional training center for the blind, LCC has developed a study section in the library for the visually handicapped, which the typewriter will supplement.

Presently, tapes are made of texts student request or the tapes are dispersed to the students by the State Commission for the Blind. With the use of the new Braille typewriter, however, texts can be translated more rapidly. Two secretaries from the Study Skills Center will be trained to type textbooks, class lectures and other material on the typewriter. In addition, persons from the community will have access to the typewriter from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. during Monday through Thursday and 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Friday.

The Braille typewriter appears no larger than a regular typewriter, but the characters are in braille rather than alphabet. Howard Bird, Director of Development Education, feels it will be of tremendous help to Lane's 16 blind students.

Senate joins rental project

The November 20 meeting of the Student Senate resolved to form a joint ASLCC and ASUO Housing Office for the purpose of improving rental conditions in the Eugene - Springfield area.

Other Senate business included the resolution of a tie vote between Barry Barney and Deanna Bergerth, candidates for Freshman Senator of the Language Arts Department, authorization of telegram, costs, a discussion on the LCC promotional film, the allocation of money for the Miss Eugene Pageant, a donation of $100 to OMSI, Senate information, and a vote on the constitution for SAPS (Student Anarchy Prominent in Senate).

Barry Barney was officially voted into office for Freshman

Senator of the Language Arts Department. Barry had a tie vote with Beanna Bergerth in the student elections, but because Deanna had not been present in the Senate meetings, she was disqualified.

A motion to pay for costs of telegrams sent to various dignitaries in the U. S. Government was passed after several minutes discussion over the authorization of those costs.

Paul Nobsch, President of OCCSA, discussed a promotional film for LCC which is near completion. The Senate agreed to pay extra expenses over the already-allotted $600 for additional costs to the director of the film, Hohn Haugse of the Art Department.

The Senate, which had donated $100 for the purpose of putting up an LCC girl in the Miss Eugene Pageant in a previous meeting, decided that up to 10 girls could represent LCC in the contest. Each girl would receive $10 necessary for entrance into the contest on the assumption that the girl will then have a separate sponsor for additional costs.

It was resolved that a 35mm projector, costing $100, will be donated to the Oregon Museum of Science and Industry. A plaque will be affixed to the projector stating that it was donated by LCC students.

Bill McMurray, Freshman Senator from the Electronics Department, proposed that all major resolutions which are to be voted on in the Senate and which will concern the students be put in the Senators and Representative's boxes not less than three days prior to voting. This will give the Senators a chance to contact their constituents before voting on the issue.

A new club constitution called Student Anarchy Prominent in Senate (SAPS) was defeated in the Senate.

Eugene Jaycees to host session

The Eugene Jaycees, sponsors of the Miss Eugene pageant will host the second in a series of information sessions for new entries and potential contestants November 24 at 7:30 p.m., downstairs in Harris Hall. The meeting, which is open to any interested young lady and her parents, will provide an opportunity to ask questions and learn details of the pageant experiences. Entry blanks will be available at the meeting, or before then at the Eugene Chamber of Commerce, Fennell's Mens Wear, the Study and Skill Center at Lane Community College, and all high school administration buildings.

Circle K discusses drugs at meeting

SGT. CARLEY spoke to Circle K members on drugs at the meeting last week. Photo by Hewitt Lipscomb

Drugs and their abuse was the subject of the Circle K meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 19. Sgt. Carley of the Eugene Police Public Relations Department, was the guest speaker.

Sgt. Carley covered a wide range of the more common drugs used. His first topic was marijuana. This drug, he pointed out, is not physically addictive, but can be addictive psychologically. Eighty per cent of the users of hard drugs started on marijuana, he emphasized. Also, recent studies have indicated that "pot" damages internal organs, especially the liver.

Sgt. Carley spoke further on such hallucinogenic drugs as LSD, DMT, and STP. He stressed the severe effect on the brain and chromosome make-up if these drugs are used. Amphetamines, barbituates, and glue sniffing were also discussed.

During his talk, Sgt. Carley showed the club members various drugs which his department had confiscated in the Eugene area. The display included a kilo of marijuana, a sample of LSD, "reefers," and various devices for the smoking or injection of drugs.

The Circle K Club has asked the Administration to hold a convocation with Sgt. Carley as the

THE DEPARTMENT OF PERFORMING ARTS OF LANE COMMUNITY COLLEGE ANNOUNCES ITS
1969-1970 THEATRE SEASON

2 CONTEMPORARY PLAYS

THE HUNDRED AND FIRST and COMINGS AND GOINGS
A rollicking farce and an experiment in communication.
Directed by Norman Delue
December 2, 3, 4, 5, 6

Norman Delue, directing his first production at LCC, is perhaps best known for his work with the Carnival Theatre and for the immense success of his recent production of THE OWL AND THE PUSSYCAT. The 33-year old Delue took his masters in drama at St. Louis University and is presently finishing work on a doctorate at the University of Oregon.

All seats are $1.50 each. Since the Forum Theatre seats only 400 persons, we urge you to order your tickets now. Seating in this intimate theatre is excellent. No reserved seats will be offered for this production.

Please send self-addressed stamped envelope with your check or money order, payable to Lane Community College to: Box Office, Lane Community College, 4000 East 30th Avenue, Eugene, Oregon, 97405. Telephone 747-4501, extension 310.
